Jeshua Speaks about: THE NEXT LEVEL

Beloved one, now we will speak about where you are and where you are going. In one of our previous sessions, we spoke about the Light. We spoke about how there is now in the world a seeming darkness and how the world seems to be getting darker, how the events and what you have in the various political groupings seems to be so heavy and so dichotomized, separated, split apart into a warring atmosphere with each other, some being very much of the Light, wanting to move forward in the Light, and others wanting to hold the status quo and keep where it has always been, or perhaps even to take it a bit backwards into past history.

We spoke about how there seems to be a lot of darkness, and yet we spoke that truly the reason why it is looking dark is because there is more Light shining upon it, bringing out the dark corners and showing up the dark corners; whereas before when things were all of a neutral gray color, the Light was not as great as it is now, and you were not seeing such a contrast.

So what is happening is all in perfect divine order, as you have decreed, to bring forth the Light that you are and to shine it into all of the dark places seemingly outside of you and within as well. Because there are places within you that are still holding fear, still holding the feeling of “what if.” That is why I often tell you that you are safe, because truly there is a small piece still within the psyche that says “there could be something that would hurt me, harm me; not only the body—yes, the body seems to be vulnerable—but also even the spirit of me; I’m not quite sure.”

Now I am again saying to you that truly you are safe, and you are bringing forth more and more Light into this plane that has for a long, long time forgotten its origin, has forgotten the Light from whence all creation has come.

So that little piece of fear which resides deep within is coming up to be looked at, to be examined, to be felt, and to be understood that truly it is an old fear. It has come about as there was attachment to the form, to the body or whatever form that you were choosing to be because, again, as we have spoken many times, you have played with all different kinds of forms. You have been the whales, the dolphins, the birds. You have been everything that you can imagine and even more.

You wanted to know, “How would it feel to be the creation that I have just made?” So you spent what you would call now lifetimes being whatever you had created in order to experience all, everything that you could create. Out of that has come the feeling of separation, separate from your Source, separate from that Energy which creates.

ADVANCE NEWS

Wow! Have you ever tried to put together a gathering when most of the aspects were fluid, changing from day to day? It is fun (?). It keeps one living in trust that all of the marbles will find their perfect place, day and time!

We now have great news to share: the meeting facilities at Peaceful Garden are not ready for the Advance, BUT we have been led to the perfect and beautiful meeting space very near to the Peaceful Garden so that we can have our meetings and workshops at the new space AND visit the Garden from time to time to walk the grounds and revel in the amazing views.

The new meeting space comes with beautiful kitchen facilities, so that we will be able to have light evening meals together. Last summer at our Advance in Boulder, Colorado, we experienced the bonding which happens when ones share meals together. It was an added bonus to the time we spent together, so that we wanted to replicate the experience this year. The meals will be provided at no extra cost to you.

The workshops and their presenters are shaping up to be exciting and varied, from Crystal Bowls, to Niobe Weaver’s music, to Michael’s Pre-incarnation Planning, to Eva’s Experiencing Your Divinity, to Mark’s lecture and slide show on Crop Circles—and more! And, of course, Jeshua, Joseph, Mother Mary and Mary Mag-

And yet you are the extension of the one Mind, the extension of the one Creator; not even as you would speak of being the Child of Father/Mother/God/Goddess/All That Is, but the extension; not separate as you think of the child being separate from the parent or the one who gives birth. You are the extension, come here to once again create and experience.

What is happening now is a most wonderful fulfillment of a decree that you made a long time ago—as you measure linear time—that said, “I want to experience everything. I want to know the Light, I want to know the darkness, I want to know the shadows, I want to know everything that I can create, and I want to call it good,” as you have written in your holy writings.

The gods, which is you, created everything—or as your holy biblos says, “God”—and called it good. And it is. It serves the divine purpose of the one Creator wanting to know, “What can I create?” So given the unlimitedness of you, being the creative One, you have created everything, everything from the place where you knew that you were totally loved and safe, to the place where you knew that you were not totally loved and safe, and everything in between.

That is your power, and that is what I want to speak about now: moving to the next level of understanding your power, understanding that truly the Light now is shining on all of the dark corners, all of the dark places, and showing them up to be just that: darkness which then dissipates when the Light is shone upon it.

So you go forward. You interact with the brothers and sisters. Sometimes it feels good, sometimes it feels questionable, sometimes it feels downright like you want to get out of that space. That is okay, because what you are doing is neutralizing everything with your Light, bringing it to the zero point of no fear, the zero point of healing, where you look upon the bodies and see them to be perfect.

You look upon the occupations that you are doing, and you see that they are places of experience where you can bring more Light into whatever you are doing, whoever you are interacting with.

Sometimes when it seems like things are the darkest and you do not like anyone—“I don’t like anyone; no one likes me”—and you are in the place which feels very unloved, unloving, stop, take a deep breath and ask, “How can I see this differently?” You can, and you will, because you are beginning to realize you are the power which creates everything you see and feel.

If you like joy in your life, if you like cake and ice cream in your life, who says you cannot have it? Only that old little voice in the back of your head from other lifetimes or perhaps earlier in this lifetime that says, “Well, maybe it’s not really for you. Other people can have it, but you can’t.” But where does that voice come from? It comes from you as you are creating. It is an old thought, and it is no longer true. It never was true.

So you are now at a very exciting place, because the door is opening; not only opening, but it is full open, where you can come through it, where you can be who you truly are and be happy with yourself. You can be in joy in what you really want to do, because that is what you are putting together now. You are taking hold of your life. You are taking hold of possibilities, and you are saying, “Where do I want to be in twenty-five years from now, and how would that person twenty-five years older speak to me as I see myself now? What would that person say to me?”

It opens up all kinds of possibilities. Even for ones who feel that they have lived the greater portion of the life and there may not be too much left of it, there is always life. You knew, in what seems to be a long time ago, how to live the three hundred, four hundred, five hundred years, linear years like you measure them now—no, there was no magic that it was just a figment of collapsing time, but you actually did live that long, because you wanted to create some more, you wanted to know some more, and you knew it was possible, because you were the one creating.

So you kept having experiences until finally you said, “Well, let’s trade all this in and go somewhere else, perhaps another planet somewhere, perhaps another star system.” Perhaps; and that perhaps is wide open.

This is what you have done. So now you look at the age span and you say, “Well, ones are living longer now.” This is true, but you can live even longer, as long as you want to. As long as you are having fun with it, if it is good and you are enjoying it, why trade it in? This is what you have known and what you have done.

All power in heaven and on Earth is given unto you. Now, if you take that to heart...that is a good place to take it—to the heart; not to the mind, because the mind is going to pick it apart, but take it to the heart, to the place of feeling, the place of power which knows that really truly you can do all of this and more.

This is what I said unto you as my disciples. “All that I have done, you may do, and even more.” Some have actually understood that and lived as masters for a long, long time, because they wanted to. All power is given unto you.

The next level is realizing—making real in your awareness—your power, the power of the Light which is dawning upon the consciousness, individually and collectively. There is more Light now on this plane than there was fifty or even ten years ago. Ones are becoming enlightened. More and more of your brothers and sisters are asking, “Why am I here? What is this all for? What is this about?”

There have been the ripples upon the pond. There has been an enlightenment which is moving very quickly through the collective consciousness, coming to the place where it is showing up the dark places and coming to where the next level is knowing the Light and coming alive in the Light.

That is where you have decreed you want to be: in Light, alive, in joy, in a place that knows, “I am okay. I am made of good stuff, and it doesn’t matter what others might say.” That does not matter. It does not touch you. You are in charge.

So if you are looking to do something that seems really exciting, go for it. Sit with pencil and paper and work out what the steps are, and see what you need to be doing. Then go for it.

“Well, it’s maybe a little too soon. I think there are other things that have to come into place first.” Well, so be it. But if you say, “I think I’ve waited long enough; I think perhaps I can go forward with some of this; maybe it’ll be a little bit strange, and I may have to put a few pieces together that seem a little bit different,” then go for it; go for that part.

There is nothing that says you have to stay in the same rut—nothing. In fact, everything points to the fact that whatever your heart desires—not the mind, but the heart—you can have. You just set about doing what pleases you; not in a way that is harmful to another one, but in the way that allows more Light to come into the collective consciousness, more Light into your life, more joy.

There is no one, no great referee up in the heavens somewhere, saying, “Oh, well, he didn’t do that right. She’s got to have sixteen more lifetimes to make it right.” The only referee is you.

If you allow the mind to point out all of the difficulties, that is what you are going to be seeing. But if you say maybe at first, “Well, you know, this is really what I’d like to do. I’m going to go and do it even if the golden coins are not there for me,” and then you prove yourself to be indispensable, the golden coins start to come in. You start to do what you appreciate doing, and as you do that, others may see your appreciation, and the golden coins come.

You will always—take this to heart; this is true—you will always be taken care of. You have my word on that. You will always be taken care of; wherever you are, always; even if you seem to be in a place as some of my brethren were, in a place that is called the dungeon, the prison where they were thrown into, a very small place—yet the spirit was free and did not stay in the dungeon. They knew themselves to be more than just the body, more than what was imprisoned, and they allowed the spirit of them to soar. You have their writings even in this day and time.

So take heart. Know that truly you are moving to the next level. Know that truly the Light is being ushered in at a great pace; not a slow one anymore. What you would see as you measure the linear time of two hundred, three hundred, five hundred years ago, there was even then an awakening. But now there is what I will call a full bloom blossoming of Light.

You find writings. You find voices. You find the messages coming from everywhere that speak of hope, that speak of Light. More and more in every geo-political grouping there are ones living in the Light and letting their Light shine. There is no place on holy Mother Earth that you can go where you will not find someone of like mind—hear that well. You may have to let your Light shine a little bit to attract the ones of like mind, but it is true. Anywhere you will travel on holy Mother Earth in this day, you will find ones of the Light. That was not so true in earlier times; they were of the Light but did not realize it, because there was too much emphasis upon the body and keeping the body alive. The consciousness was narrowly focused.

But now the blinders, the ones that had you looking in just a certain direction, are being taken off so that you can see much more of the Light that is out there. You are doing that for yourself. You are speaking, you are allowing other ones to know that there is hope. You are doing it with a certain opening of the soul, allowing the soul to flourish.

Take heart. You are living in a very wondrous time. That is why you agreed to be here at this time. You have been here other times when there was a “turning of the age,” and that is what this is now. The next level is a turning back to the Light, understanding the power of the Light, and welcoming the dawn of a new Age.

So be it.

JESHUA Q&A

THE ETHICS OF WORKING FOR THE WAR MACHINE

I work for a company which manufactures billions of dollars’ worth of weapons. The weapons were manufactured to fight the war. Now wars are made to manufacture the weapons. I just attended a weeklong conference where top companies were in attendance, and they are all building trillions of dollars’ worth of weapons. They are very excited to sell. Any news about terrorism was greeted with great joy.

In January 2015 the U.S. Government put aside billions of dollars of public money for acts of terrorism. Anything that has to do with terrorism is big business now—at the airports, everywhere. I’m really appalled at how my fellow humans are not able to understand what’s happening, what’s being fed to them. People are just totally believing what they see on Fox News and CNN. They are not able to see what is exactly happening in the background. Can you tell me a little bit about this and how long the situation is going to last?

Yes, as it is seen now, it is going to endure for some time yet, because brothers and sisters now, as it was two thousand years ago, feel that the golden coins are power, and the separated ego wants to have power, feels that it must have power to defend itself. It is not a conscious thought, for the most part, but the separated ego feels it must defend itself at any cost. So therefore they have to be ready to defend.

They have seen, as you have discerned, that the best way to defend is to go on the offense and to manufacture reasons why they have to be ready to defend. It is a self-propelling energy that rolls on and on and on, so it is going to continue for some time. However, there are ones who are awakening. There is one that my beloved friend and teacher will show you, where all of a sudden it has dropped out of the ethers into his mind to provide gardens of peace where ones can catch hold of peace, where peace can be valued. This idea is coming from ones who feel that it comes out of the ethers somewhere. It comes all of a sudden from inspiration. It is happening.

You have looked at providing The Peaceful Garden for ones to come and to feel peace. You are one among several right now who are providing places of peace, because you have awakened to the fact that war is not the way to go. So, yes, the machine of war is going to keep on rolling on for some time. It is a self-propelling machine. It feeds off of itself, as you have seen.

However, there are ones who are waking up, and this is what you will need to be fed, you and the brothers and sisters, to see that there are ones who all of a sudden say, "Enough already." On the writings on your web, there are more and more ones writing that war is not the answer. Now, they are in a minority, and they are not yet being listened to, but it is happening. That is what the good news is. That is what I have come to tell you.

That is why I speak to ones individually and in groups to say, "Try peace. Try it. You might like it." I say this to individuals. That is why we have quite a few points of light around that are teaching the various techniques of meditation, of once again coming to that place within that knows peace. It is happening.

More and more are catching the vision, the desire. And yes, they are not as big as the war machine yet. They will put themselves out in front of it sometimes and get run over by it, quite literally. But it is happening. It is an idea whose time has come, it is growing, and you are part of the growing answer. It is not especially easy, but as you have determined, everything that is worthwhile is worth putting energy into—I will not say fighting for, but putting energy into it. And it is happening, so take heart.

Yes, you are earning the golden coins that you need by listening to the other side, and yet you are not on the other side. You do not have to worry that you are giving energy to what you feel to be in opposition to what you feel the importance of life is. You are not. You are not going to be doing this employment for the rest of your life. It is serving a purpose meantime, so you take the golden coins and you say thank you.

You do your job to the best of your ability, because that is how your honor shows forth. But you also take heart that it is not going to be for all time, and it is not; it cannot be. You are going to be joining with more and more of the rising wave of ones who want to know peace, who want to have compassion for the ones who feel displaced.

There are ones who are speaking out now to let us take in the lost ones, the ones who are seeking refuge somewhere to get away from the violence. And you are going to be finding more and more of the brothers and sisters who feel this way, that they want to open their hearts and homes to ones who are suffering, because you have been there in other lifetimes. You have been the one who sought refuge from all of the elements, all of the warring factors.

Now you are making it possible that you can take in ones and share with them your love. It is a good work that you are doing. It is a beginning work, and in the beginning there is much of the winnowing that has to take place. So when you have your group meetings from now on, remember the object that you are working towards.

It is for everyone to come together and share their talents in whatever way they can; not to shut them down at this point, because they are going to come in with reports of different things. It's okay. Let them have their say. And then come to the place of, "Okay, now how do we go forward together?" If they do not want to go forward together, they will come around later, this lifetime or another lifetime.

HOW LONG WILL THE WAR MACHINE CONTINUE?

Could you give us a probability regarding this war machine? Do you think it may go on for another five years, another ten years?

As it is seen now, there will be traces of it that go into even the next lifetime; in other words, it is a seed that has been well-planted and nurtured for many generations, so it is going to take what you see to be a long time to weed it out. However, the good news is, there are forces, Christ forces, working to bring about peace instead of war. There are ones who have had enough. They are complete with it.

It may be a long time; you may not even see it in your lifetime, but you will come back and you will see it. It is going to change. Ones are getting tired of suffering. They are going to say, "Is there not another way?"

And so there will be change. I always preface what I say as a prophecy by saying that things can happen sooner or later, depending on the improv that everyone makes. But as it is seen now, it will be a bit of a longer time. There will not be a quick fix.

Despite what we keep reading on the internet, that all these good things are just around the corner...

Well, they are, but it depends where your corner is.

HOW DO YOU LOVE A TERRORIST?

I have somehow gotten my mind hooked into a certain Bible story, I think it's related in the book of Matthew, where you're out on the street talking to people, and one of the crowd is a lawyer who challenges you and wants to know what is the most important law. You replied to love the Lord your God with all your heart and all your soul and all your mind, and the second most important is to love your neighbor as yourself. The word neighbor is interesting, and I take it to mean anybody who is along for the ride on this planet; everybody; love them.

Yes.

So among us are these terrorists who commit these horrible atrocities. How do you go about loving that in the context that is just right in our faces. I don't see how you get up the juice to love.

Right. It is very difficult to love one who is out there somewhere. The separation gets in the way, even the psychological separation. But if that one is sitting next to you, and that one asks of you, "What is important to you?" and you ask of them what is important to them, it will come down to just a few aspects that truly you do share, aspects that are common to both of you. When that is understood, the separation falls away, and then it is easy to see the brother rather than the terrorist. That is how you do it.

Now, if you cannot bring them to sit next to you, you go into meditation and you invite them to join you in the meditation. At first it may be difficult to do, because the habit of separation jumps in quickly. But you keep on keeping on with it until you form in the meditation in your mind a form of that being, whether it be male or female or maybe even the small one who is growing up and being molded and shaped into a certain way of thinking.

Sometimes it is easier to speak to the small one and to say, "Share with me why you think like you do." And they will say, "Well, my family thinks like this; my father has said this, or the leaders of my tribe." You talk with them in a way that you can understand some of the small ones that you can relate to in families here. You picture that one in your meditation and you dialog with them.

It will be surprising to you what comes forth. A lot of the wall that seemingly has to be put up for defense crumbles into a no-thing, because you begin to understand where they are coming from, what has molded and shaped them, and then you begin to love them with a true love, as you would do if they were your small one.

So I take it as an article of faith that there is motivation, that there is a whole story, that there's a little background that, if I knew it, I would be compassionate and say, "There but for fortune goes me."

Right, exactly. You have the understanding; right there you have it, because you understand that the other one is not setting out to do this just on a whim. There has been what they feel is evidence that propels them in this direction, whether they are the small one being "trained" in it or the older one, taller perhaps. They have been molded and shaped by what they feel evidence to be.

Maybe there has been in their extended family some terror, some judgment, some pain and horror in that. They have seen it, and they have said, "I have to fight back first." They do not have a chance, as they feel it, to have a new way of thinking. But you understand where they are coming from, and then perhaps you say, "Well, what they have done, or what they are planning to do, is not good. It is not healthy for anyone around there, including them, because many of the terrorists who brought forth these acts did the suicide, where it took their body away.

So you see, they believe very strongly that it was necessary to do this, and they could quote to you evidence of why they felt this way. The ones who have done the suicide act are very much still here, and you can talk with them and ask them, and they will, as you extend the open door, share with you what their "evidence" has been. Then you may still say, "You know, what you chose to do was not the highest and best," but at least you understand and you are a bit softer in your judgment.

But behind it all is the fact that these are souls that are acting to advance all of us, all of our consciousnesses (Yes) Alright, thank you.

Another person's comment: I'm excited, because the process that you described, going into meditation and sitting with just one person and extending love and listening and talking to each other as you would a child, if each one of us did that every day for a year, it would be over 4,000 people, and if this became natural for us, you could do it quickly in an hour, and this would change the world.

It would transform the world, yes.

It would be a wave of love, and it would be very real.

It is very real, and it will transform. Thank you for asking that. Thank you for grasping the import of it, because truly it sounds like a very simple exercise to do, and yet it is very powerful, because at the meditative level you are all joined. So go there often, and put into it the positive love that you are. Speak with whoever turns up in your meditation, and ask them, "Who are you? What is your background? What are you working with?" It will be most revealing, and it will change your world.
