Jeshua Speaks about: PREDICTIONS 2018

Beloved one, as you have been asking to know what may be around the corner in your new year, we will set out for you various parameters of so-called prediction. As I have said to you many times, I do not prophesy, because as soon as I put it out there, you turn around and change it. You are very good at doing that. You look at what has been said or prophesied and you say, “Oh, well, I think I can improve on that.” Then you set about changing things. (Smile)

But meantime we will speak about various patterns. You had a number 2012, which was supposedly the end of the old world, and the new thinking would be coming in. Ones did not know what this was going to look like, because it had not been written. So you have been writing. You have been taking some clues and then working on, “Okay, what would I like to see in what is called my life and my future?”

You have made great strides, although you are saying, “Well, it looks like everything is topsy-turvy with the geo-political decisions that are being made. It looks like everything is topsy-turvy with the weather patterns. It looks like everything is topsy-turvy with the personalities on the global front with ones saying, ‘I’m going to disrupt everything you have ever known, because I have the power to do so.’”

You have been surfing. Know you surfing? You are riding the wave, and you are hoping to stay on top of it. You are going to come through some of the exciting waves and some of the energy that seems to be enough that it would throw you off of the surfboard and perhaps let you take a tumble into the water. But you are doing well riding the waves. You have been finding in this year that the energy is stronger. The waves, the currents are stronger, and you are balancing as best you know how and wondering, “Where are we all going?”

I am riding this wave. You are joining me on the wave, and we are keeping our head above the water—preferably the whole body and the surfboard—balancing throughout all of it. And you will balance. You will keep riding the wave. However, you are in for quite a ride.

I would suggest certain methodologies, certain things that you will want to be doing starting on the morrow. Yes, that soon, in the morning, to take five minutes and go out of doors with the bare feet. (Continued Page 2)

JESHUA APPEARANCES

Now that we have moved into our new location and have somewhat unpacked and settled in, Jeshua is starting to make plans for being with some of the Heart Family in various locations. His first upcoming appearance will be at someone’s Hallowe’en party, which He greatly enjoys and approves of. He says He very much enjoys a Holy Eve party, and says to keep your eyes open to look for Him...

On a more serious note (but maybe not very serious) Jeshua will be appearing at a workshop on Sunday afternoon, November 12th, from 1 - 3 p.m. at Everett Unity Center for Positive Living, 33rd & Colby, Everett, WA, and on Monday evening, November 13th, at the Oneness Group, 2804 Grand Avenue, Room 311, Everett, WA, from 7 - 9 p.m.

Later in November, He will again meet at Lynne and Gerry Cox’s home in Port Coquitlam, British Columbia, Canada, on the evening of November 25th at 7:30 p.m. This meeting has become a yearly tradition. Thank you, Lynne and Gerry, for hosting.

Plans are now being made for an Easter visit to the Cathedral of Light in Farmers’ Branch, Texas, during Easter weekend next Spring. Details later.

Even if you feel the water droplets coming down, five minutes; the rain will not hurt you, you will not shrink. It will work in your favor. Go out of doors and stand on the grass. Allow yourself to draw in the energy of holy Mother Earth. It will make a difference in the whole day.

Now, I know that some of you are already doing this. Make it a practice for every day, starting on the morrow. I know you have things that you have to do tomorrow. It is going to be a busy day. There is a lot you have to get up and do. You are accountable, supposedly, to ones to be in certain places at certain times and to do certain tasks. You can fit it in. I guarantee that you are going to wake up five minutes before you usually wake up. It is guaranteed. I am going to come around and tap you on the shoulder or on the head, perhaps.

Go out of doors for five minutes, breathing deep breaths, exhaling old energy; five minutes by the clock. Take a clock with you. Do not just go out and say, "Okay, three breaths, five minutes," and then back into the house. Five minutes by the clock. Breathe. Feel the energy of Mother Earth. Feel your energy as One with Mother Earth.

You will enjoy it, and it will bring to you remembrance of lifetimes when you were in the monastery, or when you were in the cave on your own, times when you knew your Oneness with holy Mother Earth.

Then if you want to come back in and switch on the news—which is not really new—you will have a different perspective. Between you and me, I would suggest that you put only five minutes into the news, and that is all. Make it equal. Now, I know your newscasters like to go on and on; however, you can get enough in five minutes, and then go about your daily activity, what you need to be doing.

On your geo-political front you are going to see a most wonderful drama playing out in the next year. 2018 is going to be a year of changes; you have already seen this. You have seen the handwriting on the wall. So have the ones involved in it; they have seen the handwriting on the wall and are wondering, "What do I do about this? How do I do about this?" And it will come to pass. It will come, and it will pass.

Truly, the energies right now are bouncing around. You have felt that. There has been a time of wonderment, "How are we going to put the divisive factors into a place of love, a place of acceptance? How are we going to heal what seems to be a great rift opening up?"

You are going to heal it by seeing it differently. You are going to heal it because you are healers. You are healers because you are open and willing to see things differently, to see things in a healing light. And then, beloved one, because you are seeing things in a different light and you are understanding that all of this is working to clear out what needs to be cleared out, you are going to feel a rush of energy which allows you to smile, which allows you to speak to the brothers and sisters who have not spent their five minutes out of doors, the ones who are caught up in all the activities and the woes of the world, to say to them what you know to be true, what you know with the mind and especially the heart, that truly everything is in order, in its divine order of atonement, at-One-ment.

That is the underlying message that I want to give to you every time we speak: to know the Awakening, to be in joy with your life. You are living it. No one else is living it. No one else truly dictates to you. They may make suggestions, and they may make those suggestions in a way that it sounds like you do not have choice. But you do. In every moment you have choice.

This next year, what is called 2018, is going to be a year of choices. It is going to be a year of changes. It's going to be a year of riding the wave.

That is why I have used that example of being on the surfboard and riding the wave. You are going to be experiencing more of what you are beginning to see with the weather patterns. Yes, the climate has been changing. Yes, you have brought about changes, more energy in the weather patterns.

You have brought this about in order to see your creative power, and it is right there in front of your face, a Category 5 storm. Pretty soon you are going to have Category 6 and 7, perhaps even more, because you have set in motion an energy to prove to yourself how creative you are, how creative the brothers and sisters, as the One, can be.

Do not worry about the bodies. Some will be let go, but very soon there will be the reincarnation of ones coming back.

As I said to the disciples when you were with me before, "What is that to thee?" The body—what is that to thee? "Follow thou me," the Christ. Find the Christ of your being. That is what you are going to be doing in those five minutes. Can it be done in five minutes? Yes, if you believe it.

Don't Forget!

Ask of me when you are out of doors standing on the grass for your five minutes; ask of me, "Be with me. Let me know the Christ of my being. Let me know the upliftment of the Christ of my being. Let me feel the Energy; not the energy of the world which speaks of all the troubles and the problems and the things that have to be overcome, but let me feel the power of the Christ."

Know you how you will know that feeling? It will be because there will be great laughter. It will start with a small rumble of a chuckle, and then there will be the open mouth, open heart, belly laugh, like, "Oh, my God, I thought this life was serious. It's actually humor, it's joy, it's creative joy. Wow! And I was missing it all."

I want to see you doing that. I want to see you coming truly alive. You have for many incarnations been alive in the mind. You have known all the right things to contemplate, all the right things to say, all the right things to perhaps try to feel. Now, this lifetime I want to see you return once again to the Christ of you, the Christ that is the little child who says, "What is this all about? Wow! I can play with the rainbow. I can play with the drops of water. I know that the water is H<sub>2</sub>O; isn't that great? I know. But heck, how does it feel? Okay, it feels great."

Allow yourself to get really in love with life. Then you are going to find that more and more of the brothers and sisters are coming to you, because they want to know, "What secret have you found? How come you're so happy? You are surrounded by this Light, and I feel you are light-hearted. What happened? What kind of diet are you on?"

And you will say, "I'm on the diet of joy. I'm on the diet of innocence. I'm on the diet of being in love with life."

Know you how great it feels to be in love with life? And you are going to make the love energy grow even more, to the place where it cannot be contained. You are going to find yourself laughing, and ones are going to say, “Well, haven’t you heard the news? Everything is going to you-know-where in a hand-basket.”

And you are going to say to them, “That’s not how I see it. In fact, I don’t see it at all. I feel it; I feel alive. Look at this. Look at me. I’m alive, yes, and I’m having a whale of a time riding the surf. I am alive, alert, joyous, and enthusiastic about life.” That is a good mantra.

Hello, Cloud. How does it feel to be truly alive?

“I want to know how it feels to be truly alive.” This is what you are going to be saying in the five minutes outside. You can ask of the clouds, ask of the sky, “How does it feel to be truly alive? Wow!” I will be watching. I will be cheering you on, and I will be waiting for the laughter that comes when you realize, “This is all for my enjoyment.”

You are going to see most wondrous advances in your technology, because, again, this is part of your creativity. You have asked that you want to feel right away the ease of being One with another one, so you have brought forth the technology that you hold in your hand, and you can be connected with ones.

You are going to come to the place where the technology—now it is small enough to fit into your pocket—in this next year there are going to be devices that are maybe one-tenth the size, that you do not have to have the heavy purse to carry around, or the big pocket. And the miniaturization of your technology is going to impact your medical field.

On the physical front, the bodies are going to be larger. You have had the quite tall mammoth bodies; you have had smaller bodies which were like the small ants now. You have tried out all the various sizes, shapes, contours, colors. You have played with, “How creative can I be?”

This next year is going to be one of changes—on the world front, and also for you if you want to make changes. As there are things in your life that you would change, you will change, because you are free to change.

You have lived by someone else’s rule up to this point. Now, in the five minutes that you spend out of doors each morning, you are going to be connecting with the true Self of you.

When you go out of doors for the five minutes, clear the mind. You can do it. Focus on the breath. Focus on a blade of grass. Ask of the grass, “How does it feel to breathe of the morning air?” Does grass breathe? Yes, it does breathe. Ask of the tree, “How does the warmth of the sun feel on your leaves?”

Have fun with it. After a while, when you give yourself permission, you may decide that you want to feel the expression on one foot. “Aha, I’m going to do it on one foot.” Or you may do this back and forth from one foot to the other foot fifty times.

Play; that is the bottom line. Allow yourself to be as the small child once again. The world does not tell you that. The world says you have to shape up, you have to be the adult from the time that you are little. All of you have been squeezed into a mold by what the world says you have to be.

Allow yourself to feel in the rhythm of holy Mother Earth. You are going to find—I guarantee this; maybe not the first day, maybe not the fifth day, but at some point not far into it, you are going to have this idea. “I am really, really happy. And I don’t know why I’m happy. This is so great. I have to go tell somebody about this.”

So be ready for ones to be calling you as they feel changes and saying, “Guess what happened this morning. I was out there looking at the tree, and this leaf spoke to me.” You will know. The rose bush spoke to you. It bloomed for you, and you admired the color and the shape. Everything that you create, everything is for your enjoyment, to be in joy with it.

I tell you this now, ahead of whenever the New Year comes in, so that you can start preparing to keep your balance, your Christ self, your equanimity when everything goes crashing down around you; not you, but what the news is telling you. The world, everything you thought was for real...for real? The Christ of you, the joy of you, the innocence of you, that is for real. The world, that is not real. That is drama. Enjoy it as drama.

If ones are suffering and there is something you can do about it, do it. If you have the golden coins and you want to send it to ones who are needing to purchase something to make their life come back together again, do it. If ones come knocking on your door and they need something that you have, give it to them. It will be replaced in your life. You do not need to worry about, "Oh, then I won't have enough." Yes, you will. You have already experienced having more than you knew what to do with, so that you have boxes of stuff that, "I just might need some day," but you do not.

Give. You have more than what you need. Even if you only own a small bit according to what you think you are owning, I guarantee that if you take the shirt off your back and give it to someone, very soon you will find another shirt. It will be by the roadside, a friend will give it to you; it will be replaced.

Do not worry about the foodstuff. "Well, I have to store up food, because...." Store a small bit, if it makes you feel better, but store it up so that you can give it. Allow it to be in circulation. Allow it to move. Give. And when you have given everything you can give, give more, and more will be replaced.

Remember these words when your New Year comes in and the world says how bad everything is. That is what you will be hearing in the next year, how bad everything is. It is not true. How creative everything is, yes. How powerful you are in making drama and having it reported back to you, but that is not where you live. You live with the creative being inside of you that beholds everything that you bring forth and calls it good, because everything that you call forth is good, has a good side to it.

Your world, your news has, out of habitual training, focused mainly on what is wrong with everything; the, "Oh, my, how bad it is." But you, because you are awakening, you say, "No, that's not really the truth of it. The truth of it is, I am powerful. I am the creator of love, of goodness, of giving. I am the one who surfs all of the world's ups and downs. I do not fall off my surfboard," because you are making that surfboard, and you say, "Well, what happens if I lose my surfboard?" You look to the feet, and you see that they are big, and they become your surfboard. What else? You know? Get creative. Think, how can this be better?

You will not go under. I know the world says to you, "You have to watch out for everything. There's going to be a financial crisis. The gasoline is going to be in short supply. Because climate change is happening, the foodstuff is not growing the way it normally would. Prices are going to be really, really high for things. This kind of disease is going around; watch out, you may catch it."

You have—the collective; not just you, the collective—you have come to the brink many, many times. You have gone over the brink sometimes, and there is the remembrance deep within the recesses of the mind of how it feels to destroy what you were walking upon just a few moments before. We have spoken earlier about Maldek, the planet that is now the asteroid belt, because you said, "Let's see what happens when we mix this and that together," and poof: asteroids.

I will share with you something that is not written in your history. After you did the great experiment—and there have been many of those—with the asteroid belt, you asked, "How would it feel to live upon an asteroid?" And you did. That is not written in your books, but it has been part of your history.

I want you to awaken to how great you are, how creative you are, and to call everything good, because everything is in process, process of being established to know its fruition and to return once again to the dust of an idea; not with sorrow, but with joy. Our Father looks upon everything with joy. He does not see anything to be sorrowful about. He, by the way, is not a He. She is not a She. It is a most wonderful creative space that flows through you. Even as you sit and worry about something, the creative process is flowing through you.

That is how wonderful you are. That was my message two thousand years ago. I knew, I proved it to myself that this reality—lower case "r"—is of my creation. I knew that I could change it. There were times when I made the body invisible and slipped from the crowd when it seemed like it might be a good thing to do, to be out of there.

I knew that the body is energy. I knew that it could be changed and re-formed, and I did that, because I grasped hold of looking through the window. This is what I want you to think about, feel, in the five minutes that you are out of doors, to know that truly you have before you a window. Look through it. Do not just look at the glass and say, "Oh, well, this is only as far as I can go."

Look through it. Know that you are creating it moment by moment. Know that you can re-create, moment by moment, and that everything is in your experience to be accepted and played with in innocent joy.

If someone comes up to you and says, "You know, you are just so stupid. You believe that this table is not real. Look. When I knock on the table, it's hard." And you say, "Yes, right now it is, but in my knowing, I can change that. I can walk through a wall." What is a wall? It is energy that has been brought together. What are you? You are energy. Okay, you make the energies compatible and walk through the wall. You expand the molecules.

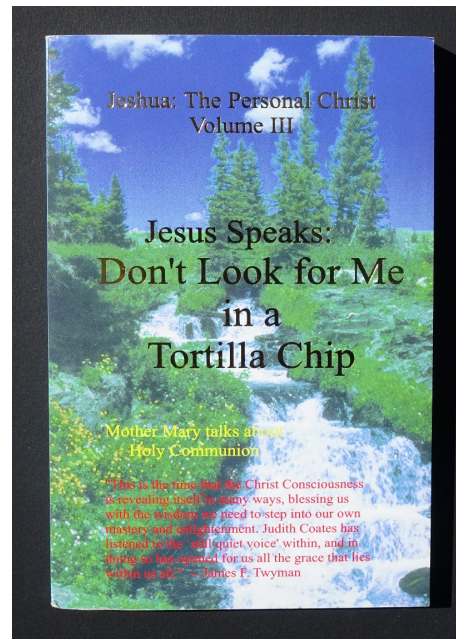

So, you will find ones who will come up to you and say, "You're crazy." And you will say, "Yes, but I'm having fun with it." That is the answer. "Yes, but I am having fun with it."

Choose you this day whom you will serve. That is why I am suggesting the five minutes every morning, so that you can choose anew, so that you can go out and play with the deer, you can play with the squirrels, you can play with the hummingbirds, you can allow yourself to know, "I am One with everything I create."

So, choose you well. Create happy. Good motto; I like that: Create happy.

Predictions: Change, creative change in all fields. Look for the Light. You are the Light of a thousand sunrises. So be it.

MINISTRY TO SELF

Do not be afraid to share with them [the brothers and sisters] information about gatherings, workshops, places you have gone where you have found upliftment. Invite them to come with you to a group where they can partake of the love, the companionship, the communion of the one Self, a gathering where they will be welcomed and where they will have opportunity to remember our Father's Love.

Now, you may invite, and they may not choose. They may have yet what they see as completion to do. But at least you will have put the choice in front of them. They will at least know that there is something available. If they say, "No, I cannot come yet. I must go and finish" whatever..., at least they will know that there is a place where they can come and be nurtured by being in the presence of ones such as you.

Do not hold back, for in holding back you are judging. You are in a place of fear which says, "What if I suggest that perhaps they would like to come to a certain gathering or read a certain book? And what if they say, 'No.' What if they think that I'm strange? What if? What if?"

What is the bottom line of that? It is judgment of self, your judgment of yourself that says, "Perhaps they will not see what I have to offer as being good enough. Perhaps they will not see me as being good enough. Perhaps I will see myself as not being good enough." You have habitually attributed the judgment of your value to someone else outside of you. But, at the bottom line, the evaluation abides with you, and it is judgment, however subtle. And it is the fear which comes from that judgment which keeps you in a place of saying, "Well, I couldn't mention that to my neighbor. I know he's going through a lot right now. I've talked with him a little bit and I might offer an idea to him, but he would probably say, 'No.' Maybe I'd better not say anything."

You have all been in the place of holding back. Allow yourself now to move beyond that place, to step out in the ministry of Self, to be courageous. What does it matter if they say, "No." In Truth, it is not a judgment of you they have made, although typically you have heard it as a judgment of you. When they say “No,” it is because they are choosing to complete whatever they feel they need to complete, to be wherever they feel they need to be and to do whatever they see at that time to be necessary to do. It is not a judgment of you. And do not judge them.

So if you make a suggestion and they say, “No, not yet,” in truth, that is what they are saying: “No, not yet.” For in time, in time, the holy Child will choose to awaken and come Home. But the choice is a free choice as to when in time. You do not know another’s path, nor do you know what on their path they yet feel needs to be completed.

Offer your truth freely, and if it is not received, that is okay. You will then take your truth somewhere else and offer it to someone else, as I did with my ministry. The disciples and I, when we walked into a village, if ones were receptive we stayed and we shared. We taught and we healed. If they were not receptive, we blessed them and knew that in time, such as what you see now this present time to be, they would come with a hungering and a thirsting within and would want to know. But meantime, in that life, I shook the dust off my sandals and walked to the next village.

So if there is one who refuses your gift, say to them, “Okay,” and go to the next one. No judgment of self or of the other one. Allow your gift to be freely offered.

Freely you have been given from the Father, Life, the true being of you. Freely you have been given your divine birthright of joy. Freely offer it to the brothers and sisters. In Truth, everyone you meet has invited you to be in their presence. Nothing happens by accident. Everything happens by invitation.

Therefore, share with Self the good news. Share with Self the path of the ministry that you are on: Ministry to your own awakening.

I bless you in your ministry to the one Self, for as you have chosen the path of awakening and the path of ministry to Self, you have chosen to minister unto me, the Christ. It is a choice not taken lightly, and yet it is always taken in Light.

JESHUA Q&A

CONCERN FOR HURRICANE PARTICIPANTS

The human part of me does still worry about the family that's in Tampa and the friends that are in Tampa and all. Just wanted to put extra safety for my friend and her mother, if they will be okay.

They will be okay. I want to bring up a small point, now that you mention it. When you worry about other ones (I send them love instead of worry) Good. But when ones get into a place of feeling that there could be the possibility of something happening, you are in that moment not believing in their Christ Self. So it is okay. It is a habit born of many lifetimes where you needed to watch out for each other. There was the tribe that you were with or the village that you were with, and sometimes there could be a seeming danger coming, and it was important that you all band together in your strength, in your power. But now it is good to understand that when you feel the least bit of needful energy to send to them, you are doing that for yourself, because in truth, their Christ Self is looking after them. They are as strong as you are, and heaven help them if you do not feel very strong—you have heard that saying. So, on the heels of knowing that there could be a clear and present danger to them, then you affirm their Christ Self and their power, the Isness of their being, and the peace then descends.

You are doing well with this, but I wanted to make this point for many who do toil and worry about other ones of family and friends. What they are doing at that point is saying that they do not believe that the family members or the friends are strong enough; they are not in their Christ Self. So it is a good place to stop and take stock and say, "Oh, what am I believing? I know that their Christ Self can take care of anything that they create." Good point. You are the teacher, so therefore you bring up the points that are good to be spoken about. (Thank you)

WALKING THROUGH WALLS

Down to a little bit of the how-to, you know, when you talked about the energy, being able to walk into the wall or put our energy through it. I know that that can be done, but it's just like, just beyond how to do it.

It is not yet time for it. When it is time for it, when, as they say in your world, push comes to shove, then you will know it. Then you will feel it. You will be able to do it. I knew, the same as you, that it would be possible for me to walk through a wall, that it is energy, I am energy, I can expand the molecules, and I can walk through it. Did I walk through it the first time I thought that? No. Did I bounce off of it? Yes.

But when it came to the point where it was most necessary that I no longer be visible to the ones who wanted to take hold of me and do some mischief, there was great motivation. And that great motivation, as you have noticed even with yourselves, was enough to allow me to see things differently, momentarily, and I walked through the wall and disappeared.

So did you walk into a different dimension when you did that?

You would call it that, but I did not stay there. In other words, it was a momentary change of energy, and you can call that another dimension or whatever you want to call it, but yes.

We've been talking about the glimpses that you keep giving us of the powers that we know that we have had, that have been in other lifetimes, but we seem to have forgotten or deliberately made a contract not to remember it in this lifetime, but it's so tantalizing when you talk about it, like the youthing. You've given us pieces of how to do that, with the breath and connecting with Mother Earth, with positive thinking, all of those pieces. But I understand that in this flow that we're in, or what the scientists are calling morphic field, it helps to have someone to show how it is done or to experience it. I know you did it two thousand years ago, but are there people that are doing it now who can help us with the practicality of that?

In truth, there are ones who are studying it, yes, but the crux of the matter is the need to do it; in other words, it was needful that I go through the wall and escape from the view of the ones who wanted to interrupt what I was teaching. So it was needful, and that is the crux of the matter. There are many—well, not so many, but there are a good number of ones who are studying energy and who understand, the same as you are saying, "I understand it with the mind, how it could be, but how does one actually do this?" That is what you are asking. When you get to the point where you actually do it, you are not going to be asking, "How do I do this?" You are just going to do it, because it is needful at that moment. Just trust that you can do it, and that if the opportunity comes up where it is seen to be necessary, and the motivation is strong enough, you will do it.

Well, like you had told us before, you know, there's always the door; we don't have to go through the wall (Right, exactly; make it easy for me) But the other things that you had talked about, being able to see the energy fields and being able to work with the energy fields, that's the part I'm curious about, and know that that is possible.

Right, and it is being studied and measured, but the actual doing of it is only on a need-to-know basis. You have heard that. It is on a need-to-know basis. If you need to know something, you will know it. You will do it. And then you will find yourself on the other side of the wall, and you will say, "Oh, well, okay." So you decree it may be.

POLITICAL CHANGE

You've also tantalized us with all of the change possibilities for next year, especially on the political level.

Right, on the global level, because it is not just this geo-political grouping that is going to be experiencing quite a bit of the need for surfing. So remember that you are on the surfboard, that you are standing upright, you are powerful. And everything comes in order to pass.

It's sometimes hard to see.

It is hard to see when it is right here up against the nose, and it is hard to see the bigger picture. But that is what you will be doing in your five minutes—and longer, if you want to make it longer. You will be taking the broader picture of things and knowing that this, too, serves. The so-called leader that you have at this point is most wonderfully placed to bring every issue up in front of everyone. He is not doing this on purpose. At a higher level it has purpose, yes, but he is putting out in front of you, “What happens when I say, ‘Well, we’ll get rid of that.’”

And then ones say, “But hey, you know, there’s good in it. We don’t want to get rid of it. It has been serving.” Then ones rise up and state their truth of what they want.

So he is serving a very good purpose of being the catalyst for ones coming to a place of, “What do I truly believe? What do I truly wish to see with my brothers and sisters?” And there is a very good energy that is rising up in ones that up until maybe a decade or two ago did not feel necessary to even think about such issues.

But now it is right up in front of their face, and they feel that, “Hey, that’s not the way I want to treat my brothers and sisters. That is not the way I believe things can and should be, or could be.” So they are getting clear in their mind what they believe, what they will stand up for, and that is a very good thing.

He is serving a very good purpose. He was most surprised when he was selected to do this, and every time something comes up in front of him, he listens. He truly does tune in and listen, and then he’s very quick to put it out there. But he is serving a most wondrous cause of bringing everyone to a place where they have to look at something and see, “Is this the way I want to live? Is this the way I want my brothers and sisters to be treated? Is this what feels right in the depth of my being?”

So they are having an opportunity, that if you had someone in there who was more center-of-the-road type, these issues would not be coming in clarity. Right now, every day there’s an issue that comes and allows you to sit with it. He is doing his job very well. (Is he about done?) (Laughter) Is he about done? No, he still has a bit to do yet (How long) How long, oh Lord, how long? (Laughter) Short enough.

Will he be removed?

Will he be removed? As it is seen now, he will choose to be out of the energy that does not feel...he is not happy with the way the energy is going. It is a very difficult place for him to be, and he is doing the best he can with it, because he has had, before the incarnation, a directive to bring to light everything that needs to be looked at. And he is doing a very good job with it.

Ones are putting a lot of energy into, “How do I see this?” So he is serving as teacher. This one is a great master.

Before the incarnation, there was a question given to a soul group as to who would come and play this part. Attend well to the words, “play this part”. And he said that he would do it. Then when he has come to being in the forefront of it, he has had his times of being upset with the way people are upset with him, and he feels the energy that they are directing. He feels it personally. That is why then he lashes out with certain statements of things. But he is serving the greater good. It could have been done differently, but would have taken longer. He is a catalyst that it is making it come very quickly right in front of everybody.

So is the balance of awakening shifting towards the more positive?

Yes. That is what I’ve been endeavoring to speak to in the first half of this evening, was that, yes, you are going to see much of changes coming up, and it is going to be a very tumultuous year, because you are going to have issues that are coming up to be looked at and to be healed. But in truth, the collective consciousness has begun to change. I would call it a renaissance collective consciousness, a new birth of ones having read, studied, meditated, come to a place within themselves of what feels true, and then coming forth as the sunflower does with all of its many seeds. You have seen the sunflower and the most wondrous way it makes itself with all of the seeds that are growing there, multitudinous seeds. This is what the collective consciousness is doing. It is as the sunflower, a lot of the seeds, a lot of the energies that are birthing, coming into a consciousness of birthing. It is a renaissance sunflower.

Beautiful. Thank you so very much. You give us lots of hope.

Of course; it is the truth of your being. Are you remembering?

MORE POLITICS

Along this same topic, when Trump was elected last year, I had a sense that this was a call to empowerment and greater self-responsibility for us, (Yes) that this was signaling that it's time for us to take a...not be so complacent with imagining someone else is taking care of us, (Right) that it's time for us to take more self-responsibility and more empowerment in taking care of ourselves and our country (Right) But beyond that, how can we actually do that? Like, I'm noticing that places where I usually get stuck, I'm beginning to move beyond now (Right) Can you tell us more about that? Is there more energy or more presence that's helping us to move beyond where we usually stop or get stuck?

Right. You and the brothers and sisters are being forced to look at issues, where before you said, "Oh, somebody else will take care of it. That's why we elect these leaders, so-called, to take care of things for us," and then your so-called leaders make decisions, and you sit with those decisions and say, "This doesn't feel loving. That doesn't feel empowering. That doesn't feel..."

So the collective consciousness seems to be moving rather slowly, but it is moving; that is what is important. What has happened since 2012 when supposedly that was the end—and it was the

feel? If I had the power to make a decision, what would I decide?" So ones are sitting with that, and from what started in 2012, the end of that year, 2013,-14,-15,-16,-17, you have had an unstoppable, a slow but unstoppable movement of collective consciousness awakening. That's the good news.

What do you have to do? You have to, and are—can't help it—be part of it. But you will not find it hard to do. I watch you, and very quickly as it comes up for you, you say, "Oh, well," and you have a certain decision point that comes first, and then perhaps as you talk with others, there's a little bit of the reconsideration, a changing, a melding, a softening even sometimes, where the initial reaction gets shaped and molded bit differently, and it is happening.

From your vantage point, you are right here in the middle of it. It feels like you're surrounded by everything, and it's coming at you, and so forth. But from the vantage point of the five minutes in the morning, of breathing, feeling that you can perhaps allow a larger view of something, you are moving into a place of great power and being able to see that, yes, we are making progress. We are changing. We are allowing the best to come to light. You are doing well with it.

Thank you. I don't always feel like I'm doing so well, because I'll listen to what's being said, and I have a lot of judgment. I have a lot of pain in my heart when I listen to what's being said. Sometimes I'm successful at using that energy in a more positive and productive way, and sometimes I end up kind of spinning in that judgment. That's a painful place to be.

Exactly, and you do not need to stay there. That is why I said to my disciples, you being one of them, I said, "What is that to thee?" The world is going to do its thing. Every once in a while you pop into it and give your voice to how you see things in love. Other times you don't have to be right in the middle of the thick of it where you are getting hammered by everything. Of course, you are not going to feel good about that. Take the deep breath and say, "Divine order is at work," and it is. Believe, trust, it is. (Thank you) Good. I think she's got it (I love you. Thank you so much) And I you. It is love that truly changes the world (I feel that, thank you) Yes, it feels good. Thank you.

A VERY GOOD STORY

I'm sitting on the sunny side of life. I have come back from England with a little story. I arrived in England August 1, made my way to my hotel, and the next day I rented a car. That enabled me to go to a lecture in a place called Alton-Barnes which historically in crop circle lore is the heart center of the phenomenon as it's come to unfold.

So there were six legendary figures of the crop circle community who gave short talks. The first fellow, Philip was his name, is the owner of a shop in Avebury. Avebury is a village in the center of the Avebury stone circle, which is the largest stone circle in Europe, I believe. There are many thousands of these stone circles. He had bought this shop because he became inspired by the crop circles and wanted to have a little center that he could operate and stay in contact with this phenomenon and make a living. So this is a well-known little place.

Avebury stone circle has regularly had crop circles which occur in the fields around it. Crop circles frequently seek out some position around sacred sites, of which Avebury stone circle is one. Accompanying the crop circle phenomenon is another little sub-phenomenon known as balls of light; soccer-size, energized, luminous balls of light that travel at high speeds, wink on and off, and play all kinds of little games, and people have stories. They are not frequently seen. They're relatively rare, but they've been recorded on video and such.

So Philip told the crowd there at Alton-Barnes and Coronation Hall, which is just a little community building, a story about three fellows who had showed up at Avebury stone circle and were camped in a crop circle that was right outside of Avebury. Dusk was setting. These guys were just hanging out in the crop circle, and these balls of light appeared and began to approach them. When the balls would get within a certain distance, the fellows would start to feel a little insecure, uncertain, afraid perhaps, and the balls of light would retreat.

This went on like that for a while until finally one fellow actually grasped one of the balls and let out a huge scream, a shriek. Then the ball of light retreated. It went on like that for a while, and eventually they settled down with the balls of light and were playing with them.

Friends asked the fellow later on, "What was the scream about?" The guy said, "I wasn't afraid. I wasn't hurt. I just didn't know there was that much love in the world. I didn't know there was that much love in the world." It just took my breath away. (Right, yes) So that was my story.

That is a very good story. And it doesn't have to be very strange happenings; in other words, other worldly sort of thing. As you have experienced, it can be when someone that you know, someone that looks like you, acts like you, a friend perhaps, does something that is above and beyond what you have thought they might do, and you have that same feeling: "I did not know there is so much love, that there could be so much love in the world."

It is a happening that I would wish for all of you, that you would have that experience, and that you would be that experience for someone else. And how do you do that? By the smile, by smiling at ones who maybe have given up thinking that there can be anything good, and you don't know where they are or what they are thinking, but you smile at them, and it changes their world. Do that in remembrance of me. Thank you for sharing.

Each of you in your own quiet way, sometimes not so quiet, share that Light with others who may have wondered, "Is there any Light left?" A lot of the brothers and sisters right now are questioning, "Is there any Light in the world? Is there any love in the world? Does anybody care about me? Does anybody care about the issues that affect me?"

Your transgender brothers and sisters have chosen, out of great courage, to come and live a life that seems a bit strange to many who are in the mainstream of things. They are dealing with feeling a bit outside of the mainstream, feeling a bit vulnerable perhaps, but it is, as you understand divine order, it is for them to stand in their power and realize that, "The Christ of me is the same, no matter what preference I have, no matter how everything is lived. I am the Christ presence."

So each and every one of you is the Light that walks on two feet. You are the light bulb that lights up, especially when you see someone and you want to acknowledge the Light that you see in them, and you light up. All of you do this. I have seen you do this, when you go up to someone and you are One with them, and your Light shines, your light bulb comes on.

You do this in your interaction with many who are so focused about what they have to do in the world, especially when they are shopping in your store and they have a one-track mind, and heaven help anybody who might get in their way. But you see their Light. You, as you are in that place, behold their Light, and you acknowledge it within yourself, and sometimes you have opportunity to show them as a mirror, you show them the Light that they are. It is a most wondrous time to be alive, as you are. It is a most trying time to be alive, as you are. And it is most Christ-like to acknowledge the human feelings and then to rise above it.

ST GERMAIN DECREES AND VIOLET FLAME A NECESSITY?

I'm very grateful to be here, and your message to be joyful and creative and childlike was very beautiful. I have been a spiritual student all my life. I've studied the St Germain teachings and the Bridge to Freedom publications and the New Age Studies for Humanity, Era of Peace. So they have all these decrees and the violet flame visualization, violet flame. I personally have found that very helpful to do these decrees and the violet flame visualization. In your opinion, is it really necessary to do the violet flame visualization, which is the transformation of all of our negative energy from past lives? I find it extremely helpful, but I find other people say that it's not necessary. So could you elaborate on decreeing and the violet flame meditation?

Yes, the decrees are very useful. They allow a certain centering of focus that oftentimes as you are going about the world and doing what you think is necessary, you then with the decrees bring yourself back into center with each one. Same thing with the violet flame and focusing upon it. It is a way of coming to center and knowing that truly in the center you are the peace, so that nothing can hurt or come about on that plane that is going to be harmful to you. It is a good place. It is very helpful for many. For others, because of past lifetimes where they have spent the energy doing this, they do not take to it. They say, "Well, you know, it's not necessary." In other words, they have been there, done that, and they are okay with it. It is not that they are saying that it is wrong. They are saying that they do not need this in this day and time. So you just allow.

For myself, is it for my highest good at this time to be doing the decrees and the violet flame (Yes), because it supposedly dissolves and consumes all cause, core, effect, record, and memory, past, present, and future (Right) and it raises the vibration of your consciousness at the same time that it is dissolving and consuming the negative transitions that we did in past lives.

Right. Yes, it does work that magic. As you believe, so it will be done unto you. So it is very good that you do this. Keep on with it (Thank you)

THE WRAP-UP

Well, it has been my joy to be amongst you in this way. It has been my joy to look upon the energy and the love of the eyes, the love-light that you allow to shine through, each and every one of you. You are the torch of love-light. You carry it high. You give it forth. It feels good as it flows through you, because as that love flows through you, you have to be nourished by it. And when you are nourished by it, you know what happens—it bubbles up, and it brings joy to the giver and to the receiver. It has been my great joy to be amongst you in this manner this evening. We will do it again quite soon. So be it.
