

The Joy of Reunion

1995-05-19

Indeed, beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of Light divine, I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph, the Jesus of Nazareth that you have heard about in so many lifetimes, and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to turn the focus of your attention unto me so that we may converse in this manner.

For it is as my beloved friend and teacher has said unto you: I am always in communion with you. I am not far removed from you, off on a cloud somewhere. I am not lifetimes away from you. But truly, I am with you always. As you turn the focus of your attention unto me and you pray unto me, as you meditate and you call out my name, instantly I am with you, for we are one.

It is my great joy to be among you this evening, to celebrate with you a reunion. I thank you, beloved brother, I thank all of you for hearing my invitation. For truly, the invitations were sent out upon what you would call the ethers unto all of you and to others of your brothers and sisters, and you have heard my invitation and you have answered. And it is truly a time of joy when we can come together and speak in this manner.

I have asked my beloved friend and teacher, the one known as Judith, to make this demonstration for you, to show you that it is with ease that we can be in touch, even in physical tangible touch with each and every one of you. You have a saying in this, your world, to "reach out and touch."

And I wish to thank you, beloved one, beloved sister, for hearing my request to be with you in this manner, for truly I desired to be with you, to share in the joy of this, what you have called your birthday. And it is truly a birthday, for as you come into the awareness of Who you truly are - the holy Child, created before time was - it is truly a birthday to celebrate. That is what this evening is all about. It is about a reunion, yes. It is about a birthday. It is about your birthday.

All of you are answering a call that comes from deep within, a call of the soul, if you will, to come Home again, to come to that place of conscious realization of Who you are as the Child of the Heavenly Father. All of you have desired and have asked, "Who am I? Why am I here?" Have you ever asked that? Yes, you have. You have wondered and you have asked, "Why am I here? There must be more than just waking up in a morning and getting through that day with the activities and then going to sleep at night with the head upon the pillow. There must be more. Surely there must be a reason for it all." And there is. The reason is, you are coming Home.

The reason is, your desire to know in conscious awareness Who you are as the Child of our Heavenly Father. You are my brother, yes. You are my sister, yes.

And you are mySelf as the holy Child, the only creation of our Heavenly Father. You are Light divine.

That is Who you are expressing upon this plane. You are a great ray of Light. You are the energy that activates the body. You are not the body, although the body calls out to you in grand intensity from time to time for you to take care of it, for you to pay attention to it. But you are the energy that activates the body. You are the consciousness, as it has been called, and you are much more than the body that sits upon the chair and the personality with which you identify in this time and space.

For if you will receive it, you have expressed upon this plane many times, many histories as you would call them, many lifetimes. You have experienced all that you can imagine. You have been everyone and everything.

You are focusing very intently upon this time, this personality as you would see it, and you have trained yourself to focus. It is a miracle of focus that you do to bring yourself so completely into this time known as May 1994 of your timing, in a geographical location known as Kingston, Jamaica, upon what you would see as an island, a beautiful island upon our Holy Mother, the Earth.

You, if you will receive it, are a great ray of Light that goes out to the farthest universes. This is but a small percentage of you that is expressing right here. But you are focusing upon this percentage and doing very well with it.

Know you that when the little ones are born, the ones known as the infants, there is a time that they lie and they look around at their surroundings. They are not so intently focused upon this lifetime, this body, this personality. It takes what you would see as years of training, of focusing, years to identify very closely with who you believe yourself to be in this lifetime and yet, you are so much more.

That is why it has been said, that is why I have said, that in order to enter the Kingdom one must be as a little child: to go back again unto that place of consciousness, to come again unto that space of the Heart, abiding in the Heart that you are, that place of stillness where you reach again the peace, the quietness that is your true nature, that place where you can be as the little child who looks without judgment upon everything that transpires, just looks and beholds and asks of itself, "What is truly happening here?" Takes it all in without judgment, without even labeling one thing good or not, and is allowing of the whole expression of our Heavenly Father upon this plane.

That expression is the expression of joy, and it is not by accident that you have chosen as your theme "Joyous Expectations." For you are truly the joy of our Heavenly Father. Know you the feeling of expansion that happens when you are in the midst of singing? Know you the feeling of expansion as you allow yourself, your very vibration, to be one with the notes that you are singing? At that time you are allowing yourself to connect with your very nature. Have you not felt this? You have said, "I lose myself in song. I lose myself in the music." And truly, you do. For what you are allowing to happen at that time is, your point of focus not being very intent, you are allowing that point of focus to open unto the Allness that you are.

That is why all of you enjoy the music. It allows the shutters of the heart to be thrown wide open so that you can experience, you can feel Who you truly are. You can touch that place of the vibration that you are and you can know yourself to be one with the notes of music, the notes that are played upon the piano, on the organ, the trumpet, the notes that are sung with the very muscles of the body itself that you have designed so perfectly. You are allowing yourself to connect with the vibration that you are and allowing that to go forth in the joy that you are.

It is the way of the world that would speak unto you that there are many things that have to be done, that should be done, the schedules that would need to be kept, the certain image that would need to be kept, all of the constrictions that the world would speak unto you. And yet, our Heavenly Father speaks of no constriction. Our Heavenly Father judges us not. Our Heavenly Father is Love, the Love that we are as His only Child, His only creation. And as I and the Father are one, you and the Father are one. You are one as His creation of the very Light, of the energy, that you are. You are a great ray of Light upon this plane, expressing as Light and experienced as Love.

Know you the feeling of Love when you see one before you and you behold their Christ nature? When you behold the love that you have for another one? When you behold the love that you have for a beloved pet, an animal that you love? For a brother? For a sister? That is but what you would call the tip of the iceberg of the Love that you are. For the Love that you are is so expansive and so exhilarating that it takes you beyond the confines of this world - and we thank our Heavenly Father for that. For truly, the world is not all there is. Thank God. Right? Indeed.

The world is your creation. The world is your creation to be as a mirror for you, to show you what you believe about yourself and about your brothers and sisters. Be very vigilant in each moment as to what your feelings are about one who would stand before you, about what would be occurring, for it all has a message for you. Everything that transpires transpires because you have called it forth. Everything that happens is as a messenger for you and it is your friend - believe it or not.

For I know that there are times when there are circumstances and events, experiences that come up for you, and you would say as I said in the Garden of Gethsemane, "Father, if it be Thy will, let this cup pass from me." You have said that. You have prayed that. I have heard you.

Many of you have called out to me and said, "Jesus, there must be another way. Can't we talk about this?" - or you have said it in different words. And yet, everything that you experience you have called forth as your messenger, as your servant, to show you the Truth of your being. Not to show you the fear. Not to show you the lack or the limitations. Not to show you the constraint or what you would feel to be failure. But to show you your unlimitedness, to show you your power, to show you Who you are as the Child of our Heavenly Father. And truly beautiful you are.

When the next experience comes before you that would be as a challenge, stand before it and ask the experience, "What have you as a message for me?" Even if it be the screaming of the mechanical devices {PA system squeals}, there is a message - and it is not the message that the world would give unto you. For the world would give unto you the message of lack and limitation, of judgment that would see negativity and yet, as your Father's only Child, you are unlimited Love.

You are creative. As our Father is the Creator, you, as His only Child, are creative, and you have desired to experience. That is why you find yourself in this room at this time. That is why you find yourself in what you would call this lifetime. You have desired to experience what it feels like to be Spirit incarnate.

You, as the creative holy Child that you are, desired to create, and you have created all of what you see around you. You have created in this very moment the chair upon which you are sitting. If it were not for your consciousness holding it together, that chair would not be there. The molecules, as you see them, would fly off as the Light that they are. They would not be held in the pattern that you consciously have designed it to be. It is the same for what you see all around you, the surroundings all around you. You call it forth in every moment to experience. That is how powerful you are. That is how creative you are.

You are our Father's only Child and you are creative in every moment. That is why I say unto you to be in joy, to create joy. For truly you have a choice. The world would speak unto you that there is a heaviness, but there is a still small Voice within you that calls out and says, "But there must be more." And there is more. There is the joy. And in every moment you have the choice to be in joy or to be in heaviness, to be in Love or to be coming from fear. I choose to be in Love.

It is my great joy to be with you and to be able to reach out and touch the beautiful design pattern that you have brought together by your consciousness, this beautiful design pattern called a body. And know you that if you did not desire it to stay together, it would dissolve into the Light that it is? The Light that you are is holding it together, holding together the molecules of physicality. When you desire to lay down the body and to experience another room in our Father's mansion, you will lay down the molecules of physicality and they will return again unto the dust of the Earth and you as the Light that you are will go on and on experiencing - the same as I do.

You are eternal. It is not just I, Jeshua ben Joseph, who is the Son of God and who can come and go and be eternal. You are as well the Child of God and you are eternal. That is why I say unto you: be of good cheer, be in joy, for this, the world is not all there is.

It is truly a joyous evening when you have come together in what is known as a reunion, a reunion, yes, of old friends. And all of you in this room, if you will receive it, have been together with each other in what you would see as many other lifetimes as well. It is not by accident that you find yourself in this room this evening. And you are not among strangers, for truly, when you look with the eyes of the heart, you recognize each and every one who is in this room. You have shared many histories with everyone in this room.

If you will receive it, you have shared history with me. This is not the first time that we have been in expression this way together - although at that time I was expressing with a body that was somewhat larger than this {referring to Judi's size}. Also, I had the beard. I have asked of my beloved friend if she would grow the beard for me but she does not do that.

{Laughter.}

So I must go and I must find other beards to admire. Yes, beloved brother {admiring a beard}.

Do you see what laughter does? What the feeling of joy does? It allows the very muscles of the face to be drawn into what is known as a smile, and it allows the shutters of the heart that have been closed for what you would see as so many lifetimes, it allows those shutters to be thrown wide open, and it allows the very cells of the body to radiate the Light that you are.

Know you the feeling when you are going through a challenge, a questioning time, and there would be decisions to be made, or perhaps a relationship that is not as easy as you would like it to be? And you know the feeling of being so encased within yourself - armored, as it is called - you go about perhaps a bit heavy. Even the very body, the posture, will reflect how you are feeling. And you feel like it is almost too much to get up in the morning and have to go through the questions of wondering "What should I do?"

But know you the feeling when you wake up in the morning and the sun is shining, and you feel that everything is right with your world and you allow yourself to be as you are now, with the smile upon the face and the heart that is open? The very cells of the body radiate with ease the Light that you are. At all times you radiate Light, for that is Who you are, but there are times when you keep it under more of a constriction than other times. It is times such as that that I suggest you sing. Know you the magic in singing? Beginning to sing a song even in the morning? It has been called, "Let me imagine. Let me pretend. Let me pretend that I feel good about myself." And there is magic in it. For it allows the cells themselves to come alive with more Light and, as they do that, guess what happens? That message is sent unto you on a conscious awareness state that reinforces and allows more Light to grow.

Your scientists even now can measure the Light that you are, termed the aura. It can be seen. It can be measured. It can be photographed. You can be hooked up to one of your mechanical devices and you can run one of those devices with the energy that you are, "proving" to yourself Who you are - and yet, you are much more. For if you had yourself hooked up to one of these mechanical devices that measures electricity and you allowed yourself to be in true joy, having sung some of the songs that you sang even this evening, and then allowing that to amplify unto the place where you knew Who you truly are, you would blow out every circuit on that machine. It would just go snap, and it would be blown out.

That is how powerful a being you are. Not powerful in the way that the world would measure it, but the power of your very beingness as the holy Child that you are. The Daughter of God. The Son of God. The Child of God.

I have spoken often enough of the Son of God until the women in the audience have cried out to me, "Truly, where are the Daughters of God?" And so I speak now unto the Daughter of God - as all of you have been, for you have expressed as both male and female. Those of you who are now choosing the design pattern of the female body, you have expressed with the male body many lifetimes. You know how it feels to be a man. You can imagine. And those of you who are choosing to express with the male design pattern in this lifetime, you can imagine how it would feel to be a woman - and you have been a woman in other lifetimes.

That is why there is coming upon this plane an awareness of what is termed equality, an awareness that it matters not what the design pattern of the body is, whether it is male or female. It does not matter what the color of the skin is or the color of the eyes. What matters is the Light that you are as the holy Child that you are. This is coming - the awareness upon this plane - and it is coming rapidly now. For you and your brothers and sisters have called out, "I want to know Who I am. I want to be reunited with my Self."

And as you have asked and as you have intended, at a very deep level of commitment, as you have intended to know Who you are, all of creation rearranges itself so that this can be accomplished. As you decree, so be it. It is done.

That is what you see happening upon this plane at this time. Now you see it happening in many ways. You find ones such as yourself who are in gatherings such as this to understand and to experience that you are of the Heart - the large Heart; not just the muscle of the body - you are of the Heart of God, that you are much more than the body that sits upon the chair and much more than the personality.

There are others of your brothers and sisters who are not allowing themselves to come with ease into this awareness, but will come by what you would know as the road of hard knocks - I believe it is called the school of hard knocks. That is what it is called? Yes.

And so they choose, as you have chosen in other lifetimes, they choose the road that would have more rocks upon it, and you hear them calling out to you in what is termed your news on the square box that you have in your home that brings you the news of events - and it is not new, these events. They have happened in every lifetime that you have experienced. They are calling out to know Who they are. They are calling out to ones such as yourself who have the courage to look a little farther, to see beyond appearances.

They are calling out in acts of what you would see as violence, acts of unhappiness - abuse, I believe it is termed - and yet, they are calling out, "Will someone please tell me Who I am? Please show me that there is hope. Please show me that there is more." And you are the very ones who will show them.

Now, does this mean that you will stand upon the soapbox and you will have your ancient Scriptures and you will hold them up and you will say, "This is the Truth"? No, it need not be from a soapbox. It need only be with the joy of the voice, the joy of playing the keys, allowing the music that you are to be heard by the music that they are and by allowing them to call forth their own music.

What you do in sharing with them of your gift allows them to open to Who they are. It allows them to sing their own song rather than the cry of sorrow. All of you, as you extend unto another one the smile, the smile of encouragement, the smile that says, "Yes, I understand; but I have seen a grander vision," you allow others hope. You allow others to go beyond the small point of focus that they think that they are.

You will joke with them. You will put the arm around the shoulder and you will share a story with them. You will share your story with them. Your history. Your life. Your experience. You will allow the shutters of your heart to be thrown wide open so that they can see the Love that you are, and, in seeing the Love that you are, they will know that they are Love as well. That is what they are truly calling out to know.

What you are truly calling out to know is being experienced in this evening. You are calling out to know the joy of reunion, the joy of reuniting with your Self. And if you will receive it, you have never been lost. But you have chosen to turn the focus of your attention in what you would see as many lifetimes unto the way of the world, the activity of the world, the activity of living upon this plane, and you have listened to the voice of the body that would call out very strongly that it must be saved, that it could be threatened by outside circumstances, and yet, beloved ones, there are no outside circumstances for you call forth everything that you experience.

You are coming Home. You are coming to that place of reunion, of gathering together in conscious awareness in this lifetime - what you see as this lifetime - all of your parts as it would be and yet, they are not discrete, separate parts that have been far from you. But you are calling them all together in all of the experiences that you have designed for yourself in this lifetime, in all of the relationships that you have experienced. Each relationship affords you the opportunity to come Home, whether it be a love relationship of a long duration or a shorter one where you are in interaction with one who stands in front of you even at what you would see as your grocery store and you are handing unto them the paper money or the golden coins. That is in relationship for that moment. And you allow yourself the opportunity at that time to see beyond the persona of who they think they are and to behold the Christ that they are. And in beholding the Christ that they are, guess what? You get to see the Christ that you are, for you could not behold the Christ of another if you were not that yourself.

Whatever you see in another is who you are or who you believe yourself to be. That is why all of your brothers and sisters are as mirrors for you. Be very vigilant in every relationship, every encounter. Allow yourself in every encounter to breathe, to take a moment to pause and to breathe one deep breath. It has magic in it - and yet, it is not a magic outside of yourself. It is the magic of Who you are. One deep breath allows you to return again unto the place of the Heart and it allows you to step back, as it would be, from what seemingly is going on and to behold what is truly going on: to see the Love in another's eyes even though they may not know it themselves, to behold the beauty in another one.

As you stand before another one, appreciate the beauty of their design pattern, of what they have brought together as the body. See the softness of the skin, the eyes that shine with the Light of the very living Spirit that you are. Appreciate the miracle of an eyebrow. Behold you, the next time you go up to someone, look at their eyebrow and behold what a miracle calls that forth, for, know you, there are no two eyebrows the same? Think upon that. There are no two eyebrows the same. Not even upon the same face.

{Laughter.}

It is such a miracle. Allow yourself to behold that as you stand before one. Take a moment to appreciate their beauty and their creativity in bringing forth the very pattern that they have brought forth, and see the beauty that they have put upon that design pattern. For many of you paint yourself as a beautiful flower, and it is beauty, indeed. You call forth and you enhance the Light that you are. All of you. You are truly beautiful. Each and every one of you. No two eyebrows the same.

If you remember nothing else of this evening - and I assure you you will - but if you remember nothing else of this evening, remember the eyebrows. Beautiful. And, you see, you gave them no thought. You just take for granted that they are going to be there. Perhaps you wash them a bit. They are there. They take care of themselves - or sometimes there is a bit of the eyebrow liner that you put on to highlight it. Yes. Behold the beauty that you are as you look in the mirror, and if you are in for some fun, as you look in what is known as your mirror - the glass mirror; I do not mean your brothers and sisters as the mirrors that they are for you - but as you behold yourself in the glass mirror, allow the eyesight itself to relax a bit and behold your own Light around the body, for it can be seen.

Many of you, and many of your brothers and sisters, are in such a hurry as you look in the mirror that you do not behold your own beauty. Look upon yourself with the eyes of our Heavenly Father. Look upon yourself and see the Love that you are. See the Light that you are, the beautiful consciousness that has called all of this together and keeps it together moment by moment, and then goes out and selects the beautiful colors to put as raiment upon the body to enhance it even more. Each and every one of you, you do that.

What you call forth even in the raiment that you put upon the body is to accentuate the Light that you are, to bring forth the very sunshine that you are, and to say unto your brothers and sisters who behold you in that day, "See the sunshine that I am" by the color that you choose to wear. All of you do that. Every color is a beauty. Everything that you choose even to put upon the body has a message. Be very present with yourself and behold your own beauty in your own choices. For you are all walking works of art. Have you thought of yourself as a work of art?

You are, indeed. It was the same for me. I had beautiful robes that were gifted to me by ones who would weave them in different colors. I had multicolored robes. I had a beautiful robe of a silver-gray such as this shirt is {indicating a shirt worn by one in the group}, this color, and it was woven all of one piece with no seam. It was done with much love, and it was a gift unto me and I wore it often because it was so beautiful and I felt the love as I put it on.

All of you, be very vigilant. Go through the experience of this lifetime, go through it awake. Do not go through this dream asleep, but allow yourself to be very present with every choice that you make - and it is truly joyous. Be as the Child that you are. Ask yourself in the morning when you awaken, "What would the holy Child like to do today?" For that is Who you are. You are the holy Child of our Heavenly Father. "What would the holy Child like to wear today? Where would the holy Child like to go?" And know you that you are in perfect freedom to go wherever you want to go. You need not go unto your place of employment unless it brings you joy. For you are the one who is calling forth that place of employment, that employer, your coworkers. You are calling them forth not to show you conflict or sorrow or confusion. You are calling them forth in order to see the mirror that they are and to see the Love that they are even though they know it not.

For as you allow yourself to take the one deep breath that we spoke of earlier, and to step back just a degree and to look upon a coworker or the employer and to see the beauty that that creative Child is calling forth, it will transform your world. It will transform everything you experience in that day and beyond.

Allow yourself the joy of the holy Child that you are. Allow yourself to play as the Child that you are. Remember the spontaneity of the child when you would awaken in the morning and you would think to yourself, "I can't wait to get out of bed so I can do..." whatever. "So I can run out of doors and be with our Holy Mother, the Earth. So that I can be in the sunshine. So that I can breathe freely." You are still that Child.

That Child is calling out to all of you. That Child wants to be recognized and acknowledged even now. That Child is very much alive and well within you, and that Child is Who you truly are: the Child of spontaneity, the Child of joy, the Child of Love that knows that she is loved with an everlasting Love, for you are the Child of our Heavenly Father the same as I. Play with it. It is fun.

I had to find again the holy Child that I am. As a young lad growing up, I had heard the stories of my birth, how it was a miraculous birth, how I was to be messiah for my people and that I was to save them - no one told me what I was to save them from - but I was to be the messiah and to save my people.

And I went through times of questioning, of wondering how this could be, for I had also experienced the focus upon that time and that space and that personality of who I thought I was, and yet, I knew - the same as you know - that there was more.

So I studied the ancient scriptures. I had great rabbis, learned masters, that I studied with and I asked of them questions. I was always asking questions. When my parents took me to the temple, I spent all of my time asking questions - questions that were sometimes of a nuisance to the rabbis, for they did not want to answer because I kept asking and asking and wanted to know, "What is the bottom line?" - as your world would say now - "What is the bottom line here?" And I would ask and I would ask, for I wanted to know Who I am, the same as you want to know Who you are.

That is the joy of reunion. That is the joy that you are now on the threshold of experiencing: the joy of reuniting in conscious awareness with your Self - the Self with a capital "S". And do you know what my teachers said unto me? Finally they said unto me, "Yeshua, go and sit by flowing water. Go and sit by a river and behold the flow of Life in the river. Behold the process of Life that grows beside the flowing waters." And I did.

And as I sat and I beheld the flowing water, the beauty of our Holy Mother, the Earth - for truly, She is our Holy Mother, for She gives unto you the molecules of physicality, the dust of the Earth to bring together so that you may express in this form - as I sat by flowing water and I became one with that water, with the very light that played upon the water, with the process of Life of all of the plants and reeds that grew by the stream, as I allowed myself to see the Light around each rock as the water came over the rock, and as I sat upon a rock, I knew myself to be one with the energy of the water, the energy of that Light that was playing on the water, and I knew myself to be the creative Child Who had brought all of this forth in order to know my oneness.

The world would speak unto you of separateness. The body would speak unto you of separateness, for you would see a body here and a body here and it would speak that there is separation. And yet, if you will receive it, you are the energy - the Light that you are - that activates all of these molecules of physicality. And the Light that you are is not contained within the body, as the Light that I am is not contained within this body. The Light that I am activates the sound that you hear, but I am not within this body. I am the Light that surrounds and permeates this body, the same as you are the Light that permeates your body. And the Light that I am intermingles with the Light that you are. There is no separateness.

As I stand here, my Light and your Light intermingle with all in this room – and beyond this room. You are not separate from anyone or anything. Anyone that you can call to mind is instantly with you even though they be across our Mother, the Earth, on what you would see as another continent, a far country perhaps. They are with you.

The energy that you are is unlimited. The Light that you are streams forth to the farthest universes and beyond, and do you know why? Because you are the very one who has called forth those universes. As you sit here now and you have a thought of a far universe, know you you are the creator of that universe. You would say, "Yes, but, Jeshua, I am not there." And I would say, "The body is not there, but your consciousness, at that moment when you thought of that farthest universe, your consciousness was there." Not the body, perhaps, but the consciousness, yes.

You are unlimited. And what you are experiencing and calling forth in this evening is the joy of reunion. Reunion, yes, with your Heart family – ones such as are gathered here this evening; others that will be coming on some of the other evenings; other ones that you will find in your travels. They are your Heart family.

But more than that, it is a joy of reunion for you are coming in full awareness of reuniting with your Self, the Self that is unlimited and forever ongoing, the Self that desires to experience, the Self that is the adventurer. Know you that you are all grand adventurers? That is why you are here.

You are not here because some great God afar off said that you must come and spend... well, pick how many years you want to pick... and express upon this plane. That is not why you are here. You have chosen for the fun of it to experience Life in matter as the creator of matter. You are Spirit incarnate, Spirit in matter, and you are all grand adventurers – each and every one of you.

And each and every one of you desires to experience the joy of reunion. That is what this whole time is about. It is a time of Homecoming, and I stand just on the other side of your choice to experience in full awareness. I stand just on the other side with arms wide open to welcome you Home. For you know what happens then? There will be a grand party. A celebration. A birthday celebration, yes.

Thank you for inviting me to come and abide with you this evening in your timing so that we could converse about these matters in this manner. I will be with you, as I understand, some of the other evenings and we will converse about other topics as they are known, and on the final day of our sharing in this manner in this time interval there will be a time of questions.

If there are questions that you have carried with you and you would like to address them, know that there will be time to do that, for truly, it is not just for me to come and to pour forth the words and the words and the words. To be in touch, yes, that is beautiful. But it is for us to be in interaction as well, and I welcome your input with the questions. So we will do that on what you will see as the final session - although it will certainly not be final. No. For we will often meet.

I thank you for your time this evening, for your attention and, most of all, for sharing your Love with me in this manner. Go in the joy that you are. Express as the holy Child that you are, and know that you are free in every moment to express Who you are.

So be it.
