

Healing Gathering

1994-07-08

Jeshua, David and Margaret Hiller

Indeed, beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of Light divine, I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph, and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to abide with me in this manner. We are indeed the Child of the One Source.

I come and I speak with you in great joy for that is where I abide always. It is your true nature and your true state of being, and as you allow yourself to acknowledge and to feel Who you truly are, there is no other place to be - no other way to be except to be in grand joy for you realize yourself to be the holy Child of our Heavenly One Source and you know that you lack for nothing. You lack for nothing. All healing is yours, for you are whole. That is what the word healing means. It means to come unto the realization of the wholeness that you are.

And if you will accept it, it matters not the appearance of the body. What matters is the realization and the awareness, the claiming of the wholeness that you are. Even though you might look upon the body to see it as limited in movement, the Heart, beloved one, is opening {speaking to one in a wheelchair}.

Many times ones will bring forth circumstances that the world in its limited way of looking at things will judge to be of tragedy, of limitation, and yet each one of you calls forth exactly what will enable you to come Home. There are no accidents. Everything in your experience you are calling forth moment by moment.

This is truly a grand reunion this evening, for I look upon, through the eyes of my beloved friend and teacher, two old friends with whom I have worked often and have walked with upon our Holy Mother, the Earth, in what you would see as times past, and we have done together what has been known as the healing work in many incarnations.

You have suspected this. You have in conscious awareness known me to work with you.

And all of you in this room, if you will receive it, have shared in the lifetime that is so well known, my lifetime as Jeshua ben Joseph. All of you shared in that lifetime and all of you have helped, facilitated, in the healing work that was done in that lifetime - all of you, if you will receive it, every one of you. And what you are calling forth now in this expression of what you see as this day and time, you are calling forth the remembrance of those times for the remembrance not only of what you would see as that time, but the remembrance of the whole expression of the One Source that we are.

For as you allow yourself to expand in remembering experiences that we shared very tangibly in expression upon this plane, as you allow those remem-branches to come forth, you also allow yourself to connect with the unlimitedness that you are.

For beloved ones, you have expressed in what you would see as lifetimes, so many lifetimes that if we were to sit here and to count unto what you would see as the end of time, you would still be counting. That is how many lifetimes, as you would know them, that you have expressed in.

You are far more than the body that sits upon the chair and far more than the personality with which you identify in this day and time, and as you allow yourself to remember other joyous times together, you allow the heart to open and you allow yourself to know the unlimited holy Child that you are.

This evening will be one of great joy. This evening will be one of reunion. This evening will be one of acknowledging the Child that you are and seeing that all choices, all choices of expression, are as they should be - perhaps not as the world would say that they should be, but as you are decreeing and calling them forth as your avenue, your path, to remembrance, your path Home.

For all of you have answered my invitation to be here this evening to remember. To re-member. To bring together what is seemingly the separate members of the whole Child. The separate members, yes, as you see the brothers and sisters expressing with separate bodies. Yes, that is a reunion that is happening this evening: some of you meeting old friends, ones that you had not seen in years and there was an instantaneous reunion of joy.

But it is more than just the remembering of the brothers and sisters. It is a re-membering, bringing together of the separate parts of your Self in total awareness.

Beloved one, where are the sandals?

Surprise.

Indeed, how can one walk about in these? {Bright blue shoes.}

Would you like to try them on?

Well, indeed.

{Jeshua puts on the shoes that are about 4 sizes too big and walks in them.}

They do match the color of my beloved teacher's dress. Not exactly the same design. This one {the owner of the shoes} favors me often in wearing the so-called Jesus sandals. This evening I see we have another fashion design.

I prefer the toes open.

{Laughter.}

{Returning the shoes} It is kind of you.

You are welcome.

Do you not all feel the healing aspect of laughter? What has happened in the last moment of your timing? You have allowed yourself to be spontaneous. You have allowed the heart to open. You have not sat with the mind in judgment upon what was coming forth. You have just spontaneously been the Child that you are and allowed the laughter to come forth.

Joy is healing. Joy is the remembrance of the wholeness that you are. And when you remember your wholeness, you are healed. It matters not how the body would appear. What matters is the wholeness of the heart and the wholeness of expression and the joy that is shared in each moment. And even if you find yourself in limited mobility, that is only of the body. There is much mobility in expression in the, yes, in the laughter, beloved one, the laughter. The smile upon the face.

All of you are healed in each moment as you allow yourself to connect with the wholeness that you are. You may choose in the next moment to not feel healed and to say, "There is something lacking, there is something limited about my expression." All that is lacking and limited is your own perception, self-image, of yourself. For truly, you are whole. You are a delightful expression upon this plane - each and every one of you.

Good evening, beloved brother, one who goes with the wholeness in the smile, one who works with the plants and the flowering trees, one who works with the devas and very much knows the healing properties of being one with all life forms.

If you would know healing in your life, allow yourself to connect with the beautiful flowers that you grow in your garden. Allow yourself to know your oneness, to feel the opening of each cell unto the Light that it is, connecting with the oneness that you are.

If you would know healing in your life, sit with a flower, with a plant, with a blade of grass. Listen to the blade of grass as it grows. Sit with the plant as it grows. Do not worry what the beloved employer is going to say if you happen to sit all day or two days with a plant.

{Laughter.}

Allow yourself to connect with the oneness of all Life forms.

Pause with me and breathe. Take one deep breath. Allow the lungs to expand. And exhale the Love that you are.

Breathe in deeply the golden white Light that you are and take it deep within every cell of the body. See it coming in the nostrils, through the mouth, through the throat, into the lungs, into the cavity of the chest, and see that Light coursing throughout all of the body.

Feel the Light that you are even to the fingertips. Do you feel them tingling? Yes. Indeed, feel the Light in your toes.

Breathe deeply of the golden white Light that you are and take it deep within every cell of the body. Allow every cell to radiate the Light that it is. Indeed. And exhale the Love that you are.

As you breathe in the golden white Light that you are, imagine, imagine that you are one with that Light. Imagine that you are one with everything that you behold before you - either with the physical eyes or with the eyes of the mind. Allow yourself to know your oneness. For I am not separate from you. I am the energy of the Beloved Father the same as you are.

If you would know your wholeness, breathe in the golden white Light that you are and know your oneness as the Light that you are and as the Love that you are and as the expression of Life that we are upon this plane and all other planes that you can imagine, for we are not limited.

Even though you might see a limitation in expression in this point of focus, this time, this body, know you that you express in unlimited form in other dimensions, other universes, and this is but one design pattern of expression that you have chosen and you express freely as the Light being that you are on all other dimensions as well.

Allow yourself to connect with the wholeness that you are. Allow yourself to feel your wholeness in the very depth of your heart. Breathe in the golden white Light that you are. And exhale the Love that you are.

Bring unto the mind's eye a picture of someone, something, and know yourself to be one with what you see. Breathe your Light into what you see and know that you are one with what you are calling forth, for it would not be here if you were not calling it forth.

If you would know healing, allow yourself to know your oneness with whoever stands in front of you and whatever your eyes behold. Allow yourself to know your wholeness. Allow yourself to feel the joy of the holy Child, for you are whole, created perfect before time began, and thank God that when the purpose of time has been fulfilled, you will remain the perfect holy Child that you always are. You may thank your Self.

All of you have walked with me. All of you have assisted in the healings that have been recorded in your ancient Scriptures. And many more healings than those we have done, ones that were not recorded. All of you have experienced being the healers in what you would see as other incarnations. You have extended the healing hands, the love, the energy of Love one to another. You have done this in many lifetimes.

What you are calling forth in this lifetime is a grand remembrance, a grand reunion - as you have found yourselves to be in reunion, most surprising and most joyous. And it is not by accident that you come again together to do what would be called the healing work, and yet it is not a work, is it, beloved one?

No.

It is a joy extending the Love of the heart unto the brothers and sisters, allowing them to know the Light that they are, allowing them to feel free, to feel safe, so that they can express and experience their freedom. And as you do that, what do you experience, beloved one?

The same.

The same thing. Exactly. The freedom and the joy. The expansion and the ongoingness of your expression. It is truly a joy. You abide in joy - as all of you do when you allow yourself to connect with the oneness that you are. Every one of you is making a grand demonstration upon this plane.

The world would look and judge. It is the way of the world to look and judge, to sometimes see lack, lack and limitation, to see something that perhaps is not as perfect as the world would say that it should be, and yet, that is the voice of the world that knows separation and does not know its wholeness.

All of you are expressing upon this plane the Light that you are, and it matters not what the physical body looks like or even performs like. What matters is your acceptance of your own Self - the Self with a capital "S" - knowing your Self to be whole. And all of you are bringing forth each experience to remind yourself of what is important.

All of you are bringing forth every experience to act as catalyst for remembrance: for re-memorizing all of the seemingly separate parts of the holy Child, Who has never been separated or discrete, but has somehow sometimes thought himself/herself to be separate and to feel that "a part of me is out here and a part of me is over here and how am I ever going to get it all together?"

{Laughter.}

Have you ever said that?

Yeah.

Indeed, and yet, beloved ones, you are always altogether. It is only what you would see as the judgment of the mind and the perception of the physical eyes that perhaps would see separation. And yet the Love that you share, one to another, is free-flowing. You are in each other's space.

I know. We are always in each other's space.

Indeed. All of you are in each other's space and the energy that you are is shared. Intermingles. No separation. There cannot be. You are unlimited.

And as you stand and you have a conversation with our grand teachers, the slugs, as you know your oneness with every life-form, in that moment you are healed. Then it is a choice. It is a very quick choice, as you would see it. Then it is a choice to abide in that place of wholeness or to come back and to play with the world again for awhile.

And all of you do this throughout your day. You have a moment of joy, a moment of wholeness, a moment of connecting with Heaven - and maybe longer - and then you ask of yourself, "What is it I have to do today? Where must I be? I have appointments; I have schedules. I have to be somewhere. Oh my, have I prepared what I need to prepare? What will they think of me? Where should I go? Does the chariot that runs with the horses inside, does it have enough of the fuel to get it where it's supposed to go?" And you get the mind very, very busy.

And I get tired.

And you get tired. Exactly. You get tired even thinking about it. And yet, with one deep breath you allow yourself to connect with the peace and the wholeness that you are. Yes, you may have to keep breathing all day, bringing yourself back to that place of wholeness, but after awhile it becomes, as they would say, second nature - and yet it is your first nature, the peace that you are. As you allow yourself to abide in the heart with the peace that you are, you are healed. Then you have a choice.

But all of you, if you will receive it, in what I have observed of you in the past months of what you would see as your timing, you have been allowing yourself to connect more and more often, more and more quickly, with the peace that you are. Yes, the buttons will get pushed and there will be the reaction, but you catch yourself after a moment or so and you say, "I have a choice. Do I desire to stay in this place of chaos and this feeling of judgment?" And sometimes you say, "Yes," and then you abide there for awhile.

But more and more you are choosing to be the peace that you are. More and more you are choosing to "chill out," I think the term is. Delightful term: to chill out.

{Laughter.}

For all of you have experienced what it feels like to get very much embroiled in the emotions, very much caught up in the emotions, and there is a heat that rises. Sometimes there is even what you see as the flush upon the cheeks or the heat in the back of the neck. Very much bringing up the energy in motion. And as you allow yourself to breathe and to come again unto the place of peace in the heart, you do indeed chill out.

Cool.

Cool. Beautiful terminologies that you have in this time. You speak of something as being very much "with it". Yes - "with it" - and you speak of that as being cool. Cool as in the peace of the heart.

Watch your language. Allow yourself to know what you are saying. Be vigilant even with the mind chatter that goes on. Know you the mind chatter that goes on the head?

Yes.

Indeed. Allow yourself to chill out sometimes.

Easier said than done.

Easier said than done. Yes. But as you practice, as you do it, it becomes easier each time. It is as when a child is learning to walk, to express with the body: there is much practice that goes on. Much falling down. Getting up again. It is the same with remembering. There are times when you go along quite smoothly and then something trips you up, and you are down. Sometimes you even say that. "I am down today." {Hitting the microphone} Excuse me, Beloved Elder.

I wanted to see if he is awake.

Sometimes you even say, "I am feeling down today." Be vigilant with even the words that you use, for they will express to you how you are thinking about yourself, the image that you hold of yourself. And even if you would not feel it, play with being up. After awhile you will be back up again.

All of you have experienced this. And as you allow yourself to acknowledge, yes, the emotions, the energy that is in motion, know that you have a choice and there is no one judging you whether you remain in that space for a minute, for an hour or a lifetime. No one judges you except that you might find that you desire to abide in joy and peace and wholeness. That is where you are right now in your choosing. You have experienced enough of the pain and the confusion.

And I am not speaking here of physical pain, although that comes with emotional pain, but it has been the pain of the emotions - the inner pain and the confusion - and you have experienced enough of that and you have said, "There must be another way. I will choose anew." And guess what? It is as simple as that.

Your world would teach you otherwise. Your world would say that there is complexity upon complexity. That you must have this drug, that surgery. You must go and study, not only for one lifetime but many lifetimes. You must get degrees, certificates. You must be recognized by your, I believe it is called AMA, and yet, beloved ones, it is the simplicity of joy. It is the simplicity of knowing your oneness that brings you to a place of healing, to the place of wholing.

Now this evening I have spoken long enough. Far too long, indeed. I would now have these two beautiful expressions of the Beloved Father share with you their healing journey and what they have garnered along the way, the insights that they have to share with you. And I will sit and abide in stillness.

Thank you.

Thank you.

David Hiller

I just want to say that was really cool.

{Laughter.}

And indeed it is an old reunion - especially for me - and I thank you.

It's a pleasure to be here with all of you and in this sweet, sweet energy.

Margaret and I have really been on an interesting journey, and we've been all over the country and we've seen many wonderful, miraculous things. And what we've learned and what we are still experiencing is that we are in the time of the Awakening. We are learning the Truth of Who we are, from our heart, from our soul, from the house of God within us. And in that knowing, what we are discovering is that there are no limits whatsoever, that miracles are actually natural everyday occurrences, and we are awakening to know the Truth of Who we are.

We are literally, literally changing the DNA structure of our being. We are coming into a whole new dimension of reality. We are raising our vibration. We are healing and we are going through a lot of stuff. But why is that?

We call it Earthquakes and Godquakes, and that is what we are making the shift from. We are shifting a lot inside and we are shifting a lot out here, too. We are restructuring to know the Truth of Who we are and to live that Truth as God, and miracles happen day in and day out as we begin to live our Truths.

We are making the transition of moving out of our ego into our heart, into the house of God, into the all-knowing, all-understanding, all-loving aspect of our being that we all have. And as we do, we go through shifts; we go through changes.

Some of those appear to be difficult at times to us. Some of those shifts that are going on out here in the world appear to be difficult to us sometimes. Why is that? I submit because we are looking at those experiences through our ego eyes, and what God is saying is: it's time to move the energy into our heart, into the knowing of Who we are, and look at each experience that we are having, and that everyone else is having, through God's eyes, through the Christ eyes, where everything is revealed, everything is understood. There is no judgment and everything is a learning experience to help us progress along our path.

What if we woke up tomorrow and we made a decision that that's how we were going to live? And we looked in the mirror and we said, "I am God's greatest gift and I have come here to be a divine example of God. This is Who I am." What do you think our day would look like?

Well, the first thing that would happen is we would have a big smile on our face and that would be really cool, and then, we would have lots of energy moving through our body, and I call it the free flow of God energy. That's what would happen.

I suspect we wouldn't feel any suffering or any pain because we wouldn't be caught up in the drama. We would be caught up in divine energy. And how do you think our day would be when we interacted with everyone else when we were in the free flow of God energy? They would feel it, too, and it would affect them.

Our thoughts, our feelings, our knowings not only affect us but they affect everyone else. A lot of us are on a mission to do something to heal the world. I submit that we heal the world by healing what is going on in here, because the world is right here and we are all a part of it. So it always starts here.

What the ego will say is, "I must change out there to make my life better." What God says is, "I must go in here and embrace and know and live the Truth of Who I am, and then it will unfold out there." And that's what the awakening is. That's where the miracles happen.

Love is the healer. Love is the healer. We've seen many, many wonderful, miraculous healings. Where does it come from? It never comes from here {the head}. You can't figure it out. That's not what it's about. It comes from the God within us, that Love connection, that knowing, that Presence. That's where it comes.

So if we were to wake up tomorrow and look in the mirror and we would see that Presence within us, our energy would flow. We would have a big smile. We would interact in a loving, kind, blessed way with others and that would affect them. And guess what? When their energy lifted, they would affect others and it would be like a rippling effect. That's what we came to do. We came to be divine examples of God because that's Who we are. And this particular lifetime, more than any other, has been chosen as the Awakening and many souls are awakening the energy within us of that God and grand things are happening.

And yes, we are going through shifts, but that's a part of the process. We are changing. The cells of our being are changing, and so it is necessary to move the energy. It doesn't have to be difficult, though, but that's just what most of us have known most of our life so we think that it needs to be difficult. But it doesn't. It really doesn't have to be difficult.

So what I'd like to do is do an experience with you about allowing yourself to see and feel what it's like to be God's greatest gift, to feel that in your being at the cellular level of your being - in NLP they call it anchoring - and to anchor that knowing as you experience it and to be able to recall that knowing at any given time when you forget, because as Jeshua has said, we are beginning to remember now.

Margaret and I worked with a friend of ours in Florida that for ten years after a stroke was paralyzed on the left side of his body. And about a year ago we went to Florida to do a healing workshop, and we were going to do one in their particular house that night. Five o'clock that morning he woke up. For the first time in ten years he was paralysis-free. For the first time, for twenty minutes, and he was joyous. He was ecstatic for twenty minutes. And then the paralysis came back and he got really angry. He said, "Why is this happening to me?"

So when we came to the workshop, he said, "What is this about? I don't understand." And what we said was, "You are remembering. You are actually remembering at the cellular level of your being Who you are, and in that remembrance, you are healing. Be in joy. Rejoice in that. This is the most wonderful thing because this is why we are all here - to remember - and you are doing it. You are being that example and it is affecting you.

"Continue in that remembrance. Continue in that joy and grace and gratefulness for the energy moving and for your remembering." He said, "Okay, I'll do that." Three days later we did another workshop in another place. He came to the workshop. One o'clock in the afternoon paralysis-free. He woke up at five that morning paralysis-free and at one o'clock he was paralysis-free. By the end of the workshop he still was.

Now he is still going through his process to this day, but he is remembering more and more and more the Truth of Who he is, and it is affecting him. Why? Because he is in touch with that Love aspect of himself, that God aspect, and he is focusing on that energy and that is what is creating the healing. He is remembering.

So today as we stand before each other as God's greatest gift, we have the opportunity to look at another being that has come here to be that example for you to help you to remember and let your energy flow again. This is a great healing process and I encourage you to be actively participant and actively present with this other special being that has come here to be with you.

So what I'm going to ask is for all of us to rise, and what I am going to ask you to do is that you go - and for some of you who find it difficult to stand, don't worry about it; it is fine for you to sit - I am going to ask that you go and find another special being in this room and stand before them now, and then I will guide you as to what we will do next. For those of you that are sitting, I ask that someone come and sit before you.

If there ends up being an uneven number of people, then Margaret will also participate, so if you end up without a partner, just raise your hand. Just find someone and stand before them.

{Group rearranges itself.}

Okay, what I want you to do is I want you to take a deep breath - a deep, holy, God breath - and I want you to feel what that feels like when that holy breath begins to move through you. I just want you to actually experience breathing a holy breath.

And then what I want you to do is to just drop your hands down by your side. What I want you to do is I want you to know that this special being that is standing before you now has come to be an example of Love and support just for you, has come to honor you for Who you are, right here, right now. There is nothing that you have to do. Nothing to prove. Nowhere to go.

This being has come and has showed up to love you and support you exactly as you are right now. And I want you to take note of this person. I want you to look at them now. Look at how special they are. And I want you to go beyond looking and I want you to see how special they are.

Look at their hair. Look at that beautiful hair that God has. How exquisite it is. Look at God's precious, precious face. Look at God's nose. Doesn't God have a great nose?

Now, look in God's eyes. If you feel any resistance at all, God doesn't judge that. God loves that. Just breathe and just let the energy flow and look deep into God's eyes. Look all the way in. What do you see when you look into God's eyes? You see yourself because there is no separation. The eyes are the mirrors of the soul, the connection within us all of God. Look deeper. Look all the way in. Don't be afraid. It's okay.

Now take a deep breath. Let your energy flow and look even deeper all the way into the heart of God. It's okay. It's okay. You are so loved. You are so special. This beautiful being has come here to honor you, to honor every step of your path that has brought you to this point.

And now I ask in that honoring that you embrace and hold each other dearly to your hearts, and don't let go. Do not let go. Don't let go. Let yourself be held. It's okay. Let yourself be held. What does it feel like to be held in the arms of God?

And now as that special, beautiful being that you are, in the embrace of God, whisper in each other's ears how special, how Loved you are. Whisper to each other that Love.

{Pause.}

Margaret and David Hiller

Margaret:

Okay, now I'm going to ask that you find another God and stand before them. There is more than one. There is more than one. Carry this same loving energy now to another person and stand before them in silence. When we get nervous, do you notice how much we talk?

Find another God. Any God will do.

We know there are enough partners in here. We just saw all of you do this.

Standing before this beloved, with your eyes... let's pretend for a moment that we cannot speak. Let's pretend for a moment that our speech is through our eyes. And with your eyes say to this beloved, "I know Who you are. I remember you. You are the Beloved. I honor you. I celebrate you. I know you. I remember you."

And now I'm going to ask that you close your eyes and take the hands of the one who stands before you. And closing your eyes, allow this beloved to represent for you one person or many with whom you have shared your journey. Allow these hands to become the hands of someone or several with whom you shared your journey: friends, mothers, fathers, brothers, sisters, lovers, children, spouses, co-workers. And remember these now also as the beloved.

Remember these, these with whom you shared your journey, where there possibly was a dance of joy or pain, love, anger, sadness, heartbreak. Find a way to send a message of Love and acceptance and compassion to those that you are thinking of now, knowing that that message of Love will reach them wherever they are. Whether they are still in the body or whether they are no longer in this physical form, your message of Love will reach them.

And now, choosing one beloved in your journey, I am going to ask you to say words of Love and support and recognition to the one standing before you, allowing them to represent this beloved with whom you shared your journey. Say your words knowing that they will reach this beloved wherever they are.

{Pause.}

David:

Let the energy flow with the spoken word. Let the energy flow.

{Pause.}

Margaret:

Allow the power of the spoken word to bring renewal and healing, to restore the heart, to restore the connection of Love between you and this beloved. Words spoken from the heart create miracles.

{Pause.}

And when you feel complete, I'm going to ask that you again embrace this one that stands before you, and hold them in that embrace of Love and remembrance of Who they are and find your own way of saying the words, "I know you. I remember you. I honor you. I love you."

{Pause.}

And when you feel complete, find your way back to your chair - or somebody else's chair.

Very good job.

I want to deliver a message to you that was given to me about seven years ago, and it went something like this: {Two thumbs up}. Do you get it? It was a Siskel and Ebert kind of a message. A seven foot tall magnificent being stood at the foot of my bed. First scared the bewillows out of me, but then when I got over that, I said, "What is it that you are doing here?" And this beautiful being just said this: {Two thumbs up}. And what I got from that was, "You are doing a great job. Everything is okay. You are not alone. Everything's going to be fine. Just keep up the good work. You are doing a great job."

And from that moment on I got it. How very important it is for us to know that. For each one of us to find ways to tell ourselves and to tell one another, "You are doing a great job." You know, the angels desire to look into what it's like to be human. You know, they are looking at us and saying, "Wow. They are in this amazing journey, and they are birthing babies, and they are dying and they are being born, and they are eating too much and they are drinking too much, and they are getting sick and they are getting well, and they are living and it just looks so full and so rich, and a lot of them have forgotten how to have a good time doing it."

So in those moments when you forget, if you can have at least one other person on the planet who will, for you, say, "You are doing a great job," even when it looks like you are not, even in those moments when you say - I know you never do this, but once in a while - "Oh, if I only..." "I should have..." and "What if I had thought of..." and "Oh, if I'd only done another..." and on and on and on. Do you ever do that?

Yes. Yes.

Oh, I'm not the only one. Oh God, I'm so glad to know that I'm not the only one. And in those moments, my beloved and some of the other folks in my support team remind me, "You are doing a great job." And so tonight what we are doing here in gatherings like this is we are doing a great job. You know, a lot of us in our soul commitment, we remember we signed up to have these amazing life experiences and learn these amazing life lessons, but when we are right in the middle of it sometimes we forget - you know, when we are shooting the rapids in the canoe and it looks like we are going to tip over, we say, "I signed up for this?"

That happened to me literally - thanks to him {David}. I was always the family wimp. You know, everybody else was very athletic, and when they sent me out to run track, I fainted. And so I didn't start doing things too much with my body until I got with this guy, and now we go canoeing and we go hiking and we climb and we do lots of wonderful things.

So we are on the Gunniston River in Colorado and we are canoeing with twenty other people - camping, going down the river - and the brochure said, "Class One: Beginner river." I said, "Good, I can do this." I had canoed in Florida; being raised in Florida, I did know how to canoe. I knew that, but I didn't know how to canoe on water with rapids.

I was used to swamps and alligators in Florida, but not rapids in Colorado. So we come to the first rapid on the Gunniston River. It's a thunderstorm. It's lightning. It's raining, and we get out of our canoes and we walk around to look at the rapid. And the name of the rapid is the "Hail Mary."

I whipped out my brochure. I went up to the guide and I said, "Class One: Beginner level river? Class One rapids? 'Hail Mary'?" He said, "Well, this is the worst it is going to get." So I went to my sister, who is on the trip with us, and I used basic NLP techniques and I said, "Pam, we are not going through the 'Hail Mary,' are we?" {Shaking head "no" all the time.} And my sister said, "This is why I came."

So I went to my beloved David and I said, "Sweetie, we are not going through the 'Hail Mary' in a rainstorm and it's lightning, are we?" And David said, "Oh, this is going to be the most fun part."

So then I went to my canoe partner, Alan. I said, "Alan, we are not going through this rapid, are we?" He said, "Margaret, I lived through a life-threatening brain tumor last year. I'm going through the 'Hail Mary.'" I said, "Right, we are going through the 'Hail Mary.'"}

And the other clue was two men who had been on the trip the year before were portaging their canoe around. They were literally carrying their canoe around.

I went through the "Hail Mary". David went through it backwards. I went through the "Hail Mary," and what I got was how many times I have forgotten that even the things that look like the "Hail Mary"s can be the most profound, the most magnificent, the most wondrous time of learning and healing - the things that look the scariest, the things that look the most difficult - and I have a feeling that some of you have learned that, too. Is that true?

And then years later you tell your wonderful stories: "If it hadn't been for..." and "If I hadn't gone through..." and "If it hadn't looked like that..." And then we get to celebrate - right? - those parts of our journeys.

We are working with a lot of people now, and David and I have gone through our own process of challenging - and David's favorite word is "interesting" - experiences. And we are working with a lot of folks right now who are quaking and shaking in a lot of different ways on a lot of different levels, and it looks like the "Hail Mary." It looks scary. And what I want to support all of us in hearing tonight is that this is the most profound time on the planet, and those that we call the angels are looking in and gathering around and supporting and celebrating and saying, "Good job. You are doing such a good job - even if you go through the 'Hail Mary's backwards." Even if the canoe tips, which mine did finally on the fifth day. My canoe tipped, and the fun thing was I was carrying the "honey pot" in my canoe. The ones that are laughing know what the "honey pot" is. You carry it in. You carry it out. I had the group toilet in my canoe and it was strapped in. It was buckled down. It was taped closed. And my canoe was upside down and we were floating down the river. I said, "This is such a metaphor for my life. Thank you very much."

Not only floating upside down on the river, but I've got everybody else's stuff, too.

{Laughter.}

Have you ever felt like that?

Uh huh.

You know: "I'm not only on my stuff, I want yours and yours, too. I don't have enough drama in my life. I'm going to get some more." So we all made it off the river, and I feel like a lot of us in this whole arena of healing: we sometimes forget that the hottest fires burn away that which we no longer need. The things that seem the most difficult take care of years and years and years of things that we needed to just go ahead and let go and surrender it into the fire - in my old traditional days: "Let go and let God." We used to sing it over and over. I finally got it: Let go and let God. Every cell and atom of Who I am remember: Let go and let God.

So tonight is about dropping from our head into our heart. I experienced this recently in Ventura, California. For the first time we did the workshop that we are going to do here on Sunday - I don't want to scare you away but I want to tell you a true story. For the first time we did this workshop a few months ago in Ventura, California - the title of the workshop, if you've seen the flyer, is "Earthquakes and Godquakes; Making the Shifts on All Levels" - right in the middle of the workshop we had an earthquake. It was my first earthquake. I can do hurricanes. I'm from Florida. I've done seven major hurricanes and I was expecting this earthquake to be like this. All of you seasoned earthquake people, I was expecting a shaker. Right? What it was was a roller, and a few minutes before, right, I had just been sitting there saying, "We can change the outcome by shifting our perspective. When we move from the drama and the fear into the heart of higher understanding, we can change the outcome." Right?

It was a totally California experience, because at that moment twenty-six people in this circle began to "ommmmm." I said, "What are they doing?" This woman said, "We're having an earthquake." I said, "We are having a what?" She said, "We are having an earthquake." I said, "A what?" It's like I had nowhere to put this. I didn't know where to put this ground rolling like I'm on a houseboat. It's like I had no where to put it, and by the time it was over, I got it: we had an earthquake. And then I said, "Why didn't you people do your little thing, like aren't you supposed to run for cover or a door jamb or something like I remember, something that you are supposed to do?"

They said, "But you just got through saying to change our perspective, which shifts the outcome." Not one of those people moved out of that circle. That was my first earthquake experience.

I'm working with people now who are in their time of transition and people with challenging life experiences, and they are choosing to do it in another way. They are choosing to dance through their time of transition. They are choosing to joy their way through it rather than drama their way through it. They are choosing to become the Christ and become the teacher for everybody around them. We are choosing different kinds of outcomes, aren't we?

We are living in a remarkable time. We are living in a time where we are seeing new teeth grow or seeing new cells, brain cells, forming. Remember when they were telling us you can't form new brain cells? Remember when they were telling us that? We said, "Oh my God, my God." And now they are saying, "Oh, by the way, you can form new brain cells. You can make new neural connections. That can happen."

This is an exciting time. A lot of us always knew it. I had a dream several years ago where a salamander came to me and told me how to re-grow amputated limbs. I don't remember a word the salamander said. He spoke salamander. But I knew in the dream how to do it. And then after that, another dream where I literally saw an amputated limb of a child, a girl, grow back out. Now, what do you think this is about?

I know that in my lifetime we are going to see this because we are already seeing some demonstrations of this. We are just not seeing the complete form filled out yet. But you know in your heart and hearts that if we can form new brain cells, if people can grow new teeth, if people can create the kinds of miracles that have been created on the planet for a long, long time, this is just one more thing we are going to see.

I can see some of you energetically reaching up and going, "Really. Really." How many of you have seen in your dreams and in your visions things that if you let it go to your head you would say are impossible, but in the dream state you know that you know that you know it is true? Or in your meditation state or in your vision, your visioning state? Put them up so I can see them. This isn't an auction. You are not going to buy anything.

See, what happens is we begin to believe the visions rather than the limitations. And one of the ways we begin to do that is by saying right out loud, "This is what I'm seeing. This is my story. This is what I'm hearing. This is my story, and I'm going to take a risk here that you might think I'm crazy or that I'm off the wall." I stopped worrying about that a long time ago.

Tell your stories. Tell the stories that reflect the remembrance of Who you are. Tell your visions. Tell what you are hearing. Tell your dreams. Even if it just sounds like, you know, "A salamander came to me in a dream. Really." And you know who to share it with. Right? You know who to share your visions with. You know who to share your dreams with, right? You know who the circle of people are that you can share your heart wisdom with. Tell your stories, because guess what's happening? We are envisioning together all of the possibilities. We are envisioning together how we create the rest of this story. Right? We are envisioning that together. As a man thinks in his heart, so is he. As a woman thinks in her heart, so is she. We could take that one piece of wisdom and spend the rest of our lives learning what that means. We are doing it. We are creating the story here tonight. We are creating it.

If you read that little article on the back of the flyer... I think I wrote in that article about the little baby who was born with only two chambers of its heart. Was that in that article?

Yes.

And then that child's heart restored itself and grew the other two chambers, and the medical doctor on national television - with Tom Brokaw - the medical doctor stood up and he said - white coat, fully credentialed - he said, "Never before in recorded medical history has this happened." He said, "This is a miracle." And then I saw him kind of turn and look behind him, and I knew that he was looking for the Chief of Staff. You don't say that on national television. I know; I used to work in a children's hospital. You don't say that on national television. But then he turned right back to the camera and he said, "This is a miracle."

I was out of my chair. "Yes!" And then I thought, "What happened?" What happened that we weren't seeing that kind of demonstration five years ago, ten years ago, fifteen years ago? What has shifted for us? And then we got the full scoop because "People Magazine" did a full story on it. And in "People Magazine" what we heard was there were thousands of people praying for this baby.

There was a prayer chain all across this country and thousands of people were praying. That was magnificent, but then I thought, "What were they praying for?" Were they praying that an infant heart be made available so that there could be heart transplant surgery, because that was the original course that the doctors were going to take? Or, were they praying for that heart to restore itself?

And then I heard it only took one person to hold the vision for the heart to restore itself and everybody else's prayer energy would be used to go toward that higher vision.

Marcel Vogel used to tell us, "When you put a higher-resonating crystal in the room and you bring lots of lower-resonating crystals in around it, they will all raise their frequency to match the higher resonating crystal." Right? It takes one person in this room to hold the higher vision, the higher perspective, and the rest of us will begin to move into that higher vision. It is magnificent the way it works.

You know, the Psalmist said that one in the power of God would cause a thousand of the enemy to flee. Well, who are our enemies? Our thoughts of fear, our thoughts of anger, our thoughts of unforgiveness, right? So when you are in your power, when you are in your place of knowing and remembering Who you are, you drive away from you or you transform those old conscious thoughts of fear, anger, right? Then the Psalmist didn't stop there. The Psalmist went on to say that two in the power of God causes ten thousand of the enemy to flee. I've never been a good mathematician but I know that that's God mathematics because ordinarily I think it would be one thousand and then two thousand, right? But this is one causes a thousand and then two causes ten thousand to flee. So look at all the power in this room when you start remembering, when we each start remembering Who we are. What kind of vision can we create together?

So what I want to ask you is, what is it that you are creating here tonight? Why are you here? What is it that you are doing here tonight? What is it that you came to do? What is it that you came to create? What is it that you came to be? Yes.

Well, I came to find peace, because a couple of weekends ago I moved in with my stepmom and I wanted everything to go well. I said a little prayer, but I guess I didn't realize how much anger I felt towards myself and I just didn't have enough faith in myself. I just kind of brushed off my friends, my good friends who were offering me a place to live. So I just kind of made things not so pleasant for everybody else. I was kind of acting like these people weren't listening.

And, darling, what I want to celebrate with you is that you are right now in your truth and your clarity, and you are speaking for a lot of us: of all of the times that we felt like we muffed it up. Right? And the good news is you get to renew and restore that, and you get to re-do it. You know, the good news is you get to do it another way. You get to create another kind of an outcome. You got to feel what it feels like to do it that way; now you are going to know the celebration of creating another kind of an outcome.

That's the good news: We always get to redo. This is the land of "redo." And we can reach back into the past and redo it. We can reach into the future.

So what I want to ask each one of you to do is to consider that you are reaching out with your energy and you are creating right here, right now, joining your vision and your heart and your love with everybody else here. We are all in this magnificent soup together. Yes, sir.

What came before is a primary level, but there is another level here in this room right now, which is the level of community. This is now a community, so there are two levels of it.

Yes. So what I'd like to ask us to do is commune, be in that community, that heart spirit together, and agree together that we are creating outcomes here tonight, as individuals, and for those in our circles and for those in this community, and I want you to share - maybe get into a little group of three or two. Don't make it more than three because we are going to move along here and do some more healing work. But just sort of turn to a group of two or a group of three, and share what is it you are creating. What is it? Is it about physical healing? Is it about emotional healing? Is it about spiritual well-being? Is it about letting go of ego drama and moving into the heart? And just say it right out loud.

{Pause.}

It is not time to share life stories but to share what it is that you are tonight creating. What's the outcome that you are holding? What's the vision that you've got for tonight?

{Pause.}

Okay, we are just going to take a few more minutes for you to share that.

{Pause.}

If you haven't shared yet, sum up a description of what you are believing for here, tonight.

{Pause.}

Anybody who hasn't shared yet? Okay. Okay, you can kind of stay where you are or go back to your seat if you want. We are going to take just a few more minutes here and then we are going to take a break. So hold on.

Okay, so having shared your vision, part of what we learned is that in doing that and speaking it out loud, what we are doing is making an agreement together. We tell our stories. We say, "This is what I believe to be a possibility. This is what I believe is possible to create." And then your friends and family say, "I agree with you. This is true. This is a possibility. This is something that we can create." That's the power of agreement. It is also why you choose who you tell your visions and stories to.

Okay, we are going to do one more thing here, then we are going to take a break, and so, staying in this energy, remember Who you are.

David:

Margaret and I work with what we call the Christ energies, the Divine energies, and especially the energy of the Christ, the Holy Spirit, and what we are going to do now in the creation of what it is that we desire in our lives, we are going to call forth the power of that energy now and actually have that move through your body to enfold, to enliven, to hold the energy of your desires, to hold the vision for the Truth of Who you are and what you desire in your life.

So I am going to ask that in this experience that you stay fully present in the energy, in the full knowing of that energy moving through you and assisting you in bringing forth your creation, whatever that might be: whether it be healing or whatever else it might be. There are no limits whatsoever.

So I ask that you close your eyes and you take a deep, deep, holy breath and you just breathe that in. And I am going to do an experience that I call making the calls in the Christ, in evoking the divine Holy Spirit energy.

I call forth the infilling of the Divine Light of the Christ. I call forth a perfect circle of Light and Love to surround us all. I call forth the holy, healing Breath of God to breathe within us. Breathe that breath now. Breathe it and take it all in.

I call forth the power of the Holy Spirit, the sweetness of God's energy, to move through every cell of our being: infilling, blessing, loving, healing. Feel that energy as you breathe in the power of the Holy Spirit. And as you breathe, as you feel that free flow of God's holy energy, bring your creation in with you and infill it, surround it, bless it in this divine, sweet God energy.

And feel it flowing without effort into every cell of your being. Feel the power of the Holy Spirit moving through you, creating the power of God's Love, the power of God's healing, in every cell as it awakens, as it blesses, as it flows. Feel that now. Take it in. Take in the power of the Holy Spirit. Take it into every cell and breathe it. It is yours. It is not separate from you. It is you. Breathe it.

Feel your creation moving through you without effort, without anything holding it back, flowing like the river in perfect harmony.

Take that knowing into your heart now and accept it fully as a divine part of you. Bless it. Honor it. Give grateful thanks for the energy flowing. Honor God. Honor your Self as God and let the energy flow. There are no limits.

Take that energy and go for it. Take it, the infilling, the Divine Mother energy, and go for it. Bring it forth in the Father energy, into action, into your everyday life, and let it move you and let yourself move in it. Go for it. It's yours.

Breathe. Breathe the power of the Spirit. Feel it now. Feel it moving through you. Feel it awakening every cell, creating harmony and balance and peace. And let that peace bring you back into this very moment. Let your energies begin to bring you back to now, staying in your heart, staying in the presence of the Holy Spirit, and awakening - literally awakening - and opening your eyes in that Presence, for this is Who you are.

Open your eyes, and as you do, turn to your neighbor and see them for Who they are. And as you do, tell them how much you love them, and embrace them. Do that now. Leave no one out. Everyone embrace and feel that divine energy flowing and blessing you.

{Pause.}

Okay, now, just before we take a break, what I'm going to have you do is to prepare in one way - we have many, many ways of preparing - but when we come back from the break, what we are going to do is we are going to share a sacred healing experience that began even before the Christ - but the Christ was the one that really brought it forth - and we call it laying on of hands. And Margaret and I will call forth that energy - and it is not us that is giving you the energy. It is you that is awakening that energy within you.

We've seen many, many miraculous healings on all levels: physical, emotional, spiritual, psychological. Many changes can take place. And when we come back from the break, we will begin that process.

But now, what we will ask is another sacred event that assists both Margaret and I and Tom and Judi in our work, and we would like to make this a sacred event because this is a part of Who we are, a part of our male/female balance, a part of our giving and receiving, a part of honoring God. And what we call this is the love offering. Why do we call it the love offering? Because it is given through the heart in Love. So today I am going to ask you as you give your love offering in honor of God, that you give it from your heart, not from your head, but from your heart, and that you give it with Love, because you are giving it to God, as God is giving it to you. It all comes back ten-fold when we give with Love.

So we are going to pass the basket and we are going to ask for your special divine energy, your Love energy, your green energy, in support of us and of Tom and Judi. And if you have a check, we will ask that you make it out to Oakbridge University, for they receive part of the donation also. And we give great thanks for your presence, and we honor you and we send you many blessings.

{An anointing and healing ceremony followed the break, each one receiving a blessing from either David or Margaret.}
