Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of Light divine. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph, Jesus you have called me in many lifetimes, and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to turn the focus of your attention unto me.

For it is as my beloved friend and teacher has said, it is you who call me forth. You are the ones who have agreed that we will have an evening such as this. Always, I am with you. Always I journey with you as you. I am not separate from you, and as you turn the focus of your attention away from the voice of the world, away from the activities, the schedules, all of the "have to's," and as you allow yourself to abide in peace there we are as one. Always.

You are the beloved Child of our Heavenly Father, created perfect before time was. And after the purpose of time has been fulfilled you will still abide as the perfect Child, as the great ray of Light that you are.

This room, if you will receive it, and I know that you will, is filled with great Light for it is who you are. You are the energy of Light unlimited. Yes, there is what you would see as the body, but you are not the body. You are the Light and the energy that activates the body and you are not the personality with which you identify. That is but the focus in this time and this space.

But as you allow yourself the freedom to imagine, to play with other dimensions, to play with other times as you would see them, other lifetimes. Not only past lifetimes but what you would see as future lifetimes. You connect with the Allness that you are, for the holy Child being the Child of the Creator is creative and the holy Child abiding within the Kingdom of our Heavenly Father always and forever asks of herself, "What can I experience? Where can I go? What is within my Father's Kingdom? What can I manifest?" And having asked that question in what you would see as instant time, you manifested all worlds, all dimensions as you would see them. All realms, all planes of expression, and as you allow yourself to connect with what you would feel past lifetimes to be, future lifetimes to be, you connect with the Allness of the creative Child. You allow yourself to experience the unlimitedness that you are and you fly as the angel that you are.

It is not by accident that there is so much attention now being placed upon angels. For you are all calling it forth in order to experience the angel that you are. All of you. Even as you would see yourself to be expressing with physicality, you are very much the Light of an angel.

Many of you would feel that you have the guardian angel, perhaps one upon the shoulder, perhaps two, or if you allow yourself an abundance perhaps and infinite array of angels and this is true.

You are surrounded by an infinite array of angels, but they are not separate from you. You may play with the idea that they are separate from you. You may play with the idea that there are entities called masters and guides who are there to help you, to teach you, to instruct you. And this is all well and good to play with this concept for again, as in contemplating the past lives and the future lives it allows you to connect with more of your Self. The Self with a capital "S".

For all of the infinite array of angels that are so gathered in this room and without the room as well, are you, as the great ray of Light that you are.

What you see and you behold right now is but a point of focus. You have agreed that you will bring your attention, your point of focus into this time and this space. This time known as October of 1994 in your timing, and that you will anchor your Light upon this plane.

You have agreed furthermore, that you will answer your own call to awaken to your unlimitedness. And what you are manifesting in every moment are catalysts for remembrance. The books that come to hand and some of them do, they come right to hand. Some of them will fall off the shelf right there or right at the foot.

{Laughter}

You say, "Why did that happen?" It is not that the book itself manifested energy and went "plop" in front of you. It is that you called it. You called it to come and be your servant, to be as a catalyst for the remembrance. For you are decreeing and desiring that you will know the Allness that you are.

You manifest the angels, the interest in angels, the stories of angels in order to know that you are truly an angel upon this plane and upon other dimensions as well. You manifest an evening such as this to have a grand reunion with your Self. With me, yes, for I am your Self. With others that you see utilizing the physical vehicle of the body, ones that you may not have seen for awhile. There is a grand reunion. The hugs they are great.

A grand exchange of energy for that is what you do one with another when you go up and you exchange with them the wonderful hugs. Yes, you allow the energy that you are to intermingle and to know it at a conscious level.

That is why you go up and you hug. Even with the more formal handshake it is an exchange of energy that says at that moment, "I am one with you." A catalyst for remembrance of the Oneness, always. You manifest the workshops that stir the heart, give you concepts to think about. Exciting concepts of "what if." "What if I truly am unlimited? What if I truly can do whatever is being described in the workshop?" Or the play shop. They are play shops. They are not heavy work. All of them are there to play, to play as the Child that you are each and every one.

You manifest the workshops and the play shops to give you to the ideas that excite the mind and that opens the heart. More and more of the workshops, play shops that you are attending are ones that allow the heart to open. You have seen this in your past years, or perhaps a decade or so in your timing. More and more of the interest and emphasis upon the heart, allowing the heart to open, allowing the Child to come forth. Much of the interested saying, "Who am I? Who is this Child that is within me?" And allowing that Child to come out in creativity. All different ways of creativity. You manifest the one who will come and stand before you and they will open their heart and they will share with you what is going on for them, what insights they have discovered. What questions that they are wrestling with. And as you allow them to share their heart with you you find the catalyst for remembrance. Your remembrance, yes, of the oneness that you are and that they are and there is a bond that has been described as a bond.

A bond that never, never has been broken and never will be broken for you are the great ray of Light and you are going forth now as you have decreed and as you have agreed to do, as the Light and the Love upon this plane and to do it in conscious awareness. That is what the holy Child is now decreeing.

"No longer will I walk this plane asleep, but I will walk this plane awake," still expressing with the molecules of physicality. Not necessary to lay down the body and ascend somewhere, although you may do that. You may find yourself as the Light that you are because you will be in such joy that the physical molecules themselves will no longer be held upon this plane and will ascend. But it is not necessary and it certainly is not necessary to lay down the body and recycle it.

{Laughter}

In order to know who you are. You have desired to come Home. You have desired to know in full awareness the Light that you are. You have desired to know the unlimitedness of your expression upon this plane and to bring it to a place of focus where you in awareness, are expressing and where others of your brothers and sisters can see by your outrageousness. They can see that they have a choice. That because you go as the joyous Child that you are, because you are making new choices, perhaps it is safe for them to make a new choice.

You have done this already. All of you in this room, you have made new choices. You have said, "It is time. It is time to choose anew. It is time to come Home." All of you at a very deep level have said, "I will do whatever it takes to come Home." Yes.

All of you, all of you have decreed and agreed that you will do whatever it takes to come Home and in that choice, that choice of courage which comes from the heart, you have already allowed your brothers and sisters to see that there is a choice where perhaps they thought that there was no choice.

You have shown them that there is a door that they can walk through. They may or may not choose to walk through the door. That is their choice, but at least they know there is a door. This is a grand service that you give unto your brothers and sisters. And they said, "Gosh, I didn't know I was doing that. I thought I was just living my life."

And you are, but as you live what you would term, your life, you are living the life of all creation upon this plane, for there is no separation as the Light and the Love that you are. And as you allow yourself to be lifted up in your consciousness and in the concepts that you contemplate, that you allow to be perhaps possible, not only possible, but probable and maybe even a reality. As you uplift your thoughts, your vibration, you uplift all of creation.

For it is very much as you would see the spider web, and what happens when you take one point of that web and you lift it up a mite? All of the web is lifted up. All of the web feels the vibration of that touch. That is how joined you are and even closer than what you would see as the spider web.

All of you are pioneers. All of you are upon the crest of this new wave as it has been called. All of you have had the courage to say, "I will come and I will express. I will go through my issues, as they are called, in order to come Home. To come unto my place of knowing my holiness." Not the holiness that the church would describe, for there is nothing of magic in saying, "Your Holiness."

{Laughter}

For indeed, you have experienced that in many lifetimes.

{Laughter}

Yes.

You called that number right there.

But in order to know your wholeness as the whole Child of God, called the Heavenly Father, the One Source. I have gotten into a bit of hot water with some of the women when I express and speak about the Heavenly Father. We will call it the Divine One Source.

Yes, another voice heard from, yes. It is all one.

So you come and you allow the issues to come up in front of you in order to see the wholeness of what is right in front of you, to see past the appearance that the world would dictate. To see past the limitation of experience, and you allow the issues to come up, to work through them, as it is said, and in doing that, the brothers and sisters see that, "Well, this one, this one I know. This one has had her questions."

I have lots of questions.

Indeed, but you have all experienced having the questions, the doubts, confusion and you have wrestled with the questions and your brothers and your sisters know that you have wrestled with the confusion and the questions and they can relate to you. They can say, "Well, if one known as Bill has had a question and he has worked with that and I have seen him for it has been a very knotty problem he has worked with and he has looked at it from all angles and he has come to a place of seeing its wholeness. If the one known as Bill can do this, perhaps I also, can have the courage to do this." And they can relate.

You speak a language, not only the language of the words but a language of expression upon this plane that the brothers and sisters can understand. Many of the brothers and sisters call unto me, and when I answer they hear me not. They pray in their sorrow, in their confusion, in their pain and they call out to me and they describe where they feel themselves to be in pain and they ask my help. And when I answer they hear me not. For they believe that it must come in a certain way and because it does not come in that way they believe that I have not answered. They believe me to be afar off.

But you when you open the heart and you share with them the Love that you are, because they know you, they can relate and they can hear the Love that I would share with them. This again is a grand service that you do.

You are the pioneers of the new wave that is sweeping our Holy mother, the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth. As you have felt, there is a grand acceleration in activities, more and more activities. More and more choices of places to go, things to do. Things that you would love to do for you are allowing yourself to experience the Allness that you are. Yes. So indeed, why not? Why not have it all?

Experience all, but in that experiencing sometimes there comes a place where you say, "But time is finite. How do I, as an infinite being, express in finite form within the confines of finity?" Not infinity, but finity, and you find that you must make choices. You do this all the time.

You are the ones who are calling forth the acceleration upon this plane. You are the ones who are calling forth all of the choices, all of the options, all of the feeling of, "There is not enough time." For truly, there is plenty of time. You are the makers of time.

You have even experienced, many of you in this room, doing what is called a time warp. Yes, where you will leave home and you are already supposed to be somewhere else, and, "How am I going to get there in time?"

And you do a time warp and you arrive there even before the time that you thought you left home. It is not only your science fiction as you would call it, that can do this, but you do this from time to time. Another pun.

You do this with time. But you are calling forth a seeming what we will call a condensation of time, so that you will come unto a place of clarity about, "What do I value? Where do I abide? What is important for me at this time?" And you make your choices. And if you are vigilant about your choices, you will see your path. You will see where you have been and it will point to where you are going. This is why you do it, to give yourself, as they call, feedback. Give yourself some road markers along the way.

All of you are the grand adventurers. Now, I know there are times when you sit and you say, "Who me? I don't even feel like going out of doors today. I don't even feel like going out and interacting." And yet you wind up your little motor and you go out, stopping first to abide in the heart. To say a prayer or two, however you will phrase this. Some of you would not say that you say a prayer but sometimes you say, "Oh, my God, help me."

{Laughter}

And that is very much a prayer. And you go out and you let your Light shine. All of you as you interact with the brothers and sisters give unto yourselves and to the brothers and sisters grand opportunity to come Home. To connect again with the beauty and the harmony of life.

All of you have called forth this evening in this beautiful place provided seemingly by this angel. Who knows her oneness and is allowing herself to manifest, to bring together in one seeming space, objects of great beauty. An atmosphere of great healing.

But it is not just this angel that has brought this evening forth. All of you have brought it forth.

For as you allow yourselves to look around and to see the beauty that you are surrounded by, to appreciate the beauty, then it becomes a truth for you. Then it becomes what you would call real, in your awareness. And as you connect with the beauty of that reality, it is a catalyst that reminds you of the beauty of Home, for Home is beautiful and all of you carry within you the remembrance of Home. All of you have experienced a Homesickness, a longing for something that you could not quite describe and yet, you know it exists. You know that it is somewhere and you have searched.

All of the lifetimes, as you would see them, all of the lifetimes you have expressed, you have experienced, but you have carried with you seemingly nestled somewhere deep within you, a remembrance of Home.

And what you are calling forth now in this day and time is a remembrance, a conscious remembrance of Home and you are bringing Heaven to earth in this lifetime.

Yes, beloved one. All of you are bringing Heaven to earth in this lifetime. You need not put it off any longer for indeed, many of you have suggested unto yourself, "That perhaps I can find Home in this lifetime." And then you have said, "Oh, no. Not yet, there is a bit more of drama that I wish to experience."

{Laughter}

"Just a bit. I will come Home later. Next year. Next lifetime," and you have put it off and there is no one who judges you for that. Your religious organizations would say that there is a God somewhere Who judges you. He does not. She loves you. For indeed, you are Love.

And the only judgment of time exists only in this experience of the adventure of the holy Child into matter, into time. For indeed, you abide outside of time. That is your true nature. That is your true Self. But your focus is within time, and that is the only place where there is judgment as to whether you do it now or whether you do it later. It matters not.

If you choose to come Home in this lifetime and I will share with all of you, that you have chosen that, but there are many of the brothers and sisters who have not and will not choose that in this lifetime. If you choose not to come Home in this lifetime, if they choose not to, there is no one who judges. No, there is a grand array of cheerleaders who say, "Go for it. Go for it whatever you are going to experience. Get right in there and experience it one hundred, two hundred percent so that you can know that you are complete with that experience." Do not just put the toe in the water a little bit. Go ahead. Go for it. Go all the way in and experience all of life.

For life is the grand adventure. You have decreed that you want to experience all and you have. And you have decreed now that you will experience all and that you will consciously know that you are the Light upon this plane. You are the beauty of the vibration of Light. That is why you enjoy music so much. It allows the vibration that you are to come forth.

It is true for all of you. When you hear music, when you allow yourself to sing you allow your connection with the vibration that you are to be consciously known. Even when you speak, when you are upon the stage, grand actors and actresses that all of you have been and you have held forth with great tones. It is catalyst for remembrance of the vibration that you are. Whatever you would experience, throw yourself into it. Allow yourself to experience it one hundred percent for the sheer joy of it. Whether it be what you would see as drama, whether it would be what you would see as play, physical activity, mental activity, heart activity, one hundred percent. It is the only way to go.

Then you connect with the Allness that you are. Then it is not just one Jeshua ben Joseph, one Jesus, as you have known me, who has been the Christ upon this plane. They you know yourself to be Christ upon this plane for indeed you are. I know that your religious organizations do not tell you that. They still say there is at least a tiny bit of something that needs to be corrected. It needs to be perfected. You are already perfect.

All you need do is to claim it. Is to say, "That from this moment on I will live as the Christ that I am." It will transform your world. Your world that you experience right here in front of you and the world that connected by the spider web.

Allow yourself, tomorrow in your morning when you wake up, before you even think of the day's activities, before you ask of yourself, "Where do I have to be? And oh, my goodness, I'm late." Before you ask of yourself of the day's activities, allow yourself to connect with the Christ that you are. Claim it for one day. Have fun with it. But claim it for one day and say, "I claim the Christ that I am. This day I will go forward as the Christ that I am. I will act as a Christ." Then you will say, "But how does a Christ act?" You will have fun with it.

{Laughter}

See with the eyes of Christ. Behold each brother and sister with the eyes of Christ. Allow yourself a day, a week, a month, a lifetime of knowing that you are the Christ, of claiming it. Try it on as you would a role. How would it feel to play Christ for one day? You can try it on, sort of, a little bit and then a little bit and then go for it a hundred percent.

Oh yes.

Good. All of you, have fun with it. Try it on. Make it your, you have a holiday that is coming up very soon. A very holy holiday. Hallowed Eve, holy eve. Where you dress up in costume of something that you think you are not. Well this time dress up in the costume of the Light that you are, as the Christ that you are and go from door to door as the Christ and say, "I am the Christ."

{Loud laughter}

Will you fill my bag please? But then even more than that say unto the one who greets you, "You are the Christ the same as I. I will give unto you." For indeed always there is the exchange.

Nothing is ever done in isolation. Nothing is ever, what you would see as just right here within a box. Perhaps the perception is of separation of the body, of the box. That I am here and you are there and perhaps the other one has a different belief system. Perhaps I cannot speak to them because they have another belief system and it wouldn't be right for me to say. It is not important that you go and say what you belief system is unto another.

What is important is to Love. Indeed, is to Love. Words matter not. Words get in the way especially when you are explaining belief systems. All that does is to say, "My belief system is here and yours is there and perhaps there is a separation between them."

The words that are spoken in Love, the smile says more than the words. It is the message from heart to heart and as you go door to door upon your Hallowed Eve as the Christ that you are, you will allow the Light of your heart to be seen, to be open, to be shared.

Take with you if you desire, something of tangible form that you will share with the brothers and sisters. All of you love to give gifts. You love to receive gifts, yes, it works both ways. So allow yourself to go door to door as the Christ that you are on your Hallowed Eve and give unto the brothers and sisters something in tangible form. Definitely the smile. Yes, and the Love from heart to heart.

That is what is healing. That is what brings the brother, the sister, the holy Child back home again, is the Love. All of your brothers and sisters are calling out for healing. You have seen this in grand intensity. Everyday in your timing there is upon the news - which is not new. It is a repetition, a reminder, it is a repetition. All of the brothers and sisters are calling out to know who they are. Calling out to know that they are whole. They are desiring healing of the body for what you hold in your mind as the image of yourself manifests in the body. The body is your perfect servant and it speaks unto you.

When you are holding constriction about yourself, about the world, about the brothers and sisters, the body perfectly mirrors for you your image of yourself and about the world as you see it. All of you have felt constriction from time to time manifested in the body.

My beloved friend and teacher has just come through feeling constriction within the back and wondering how she put what you would see as the tension, the stress in a place in the back. And it became for her as a tight band that would not even let her breathe. What was this saying to her? She was not allowing herself to breathe, to be in the flow, to allow the fluidity of the Light that she is.

She had gotten herself tied up in a knot. A knot which she felt to be right upon the back. Very symbolic. And as she allowed herself to rest, to again connect with the fluidity, of flexibility, the flexibility of the Light energy that she is and that all of you are, what happened to the knot? Dissolved. Was gone.

She did not even know that she had done it, the knot in the first place. Felt like someone else had done it to her. Although she knew that somehow it had happened, she had done it.

Remember the fluidity of the Light as you connect in this holiday which is almost upon you. As you connect with the Christ that you are, allow yourself the fluidity of the Christ Light. Dance often. That is why you enjoy dancing. That is why you enjoy the music. To enjoy the dancing for you allow the body to express in fluidity as the Light that it is.

Many of the brothers and sisters, not you, of course. Not any of you in this room have gone about very rigid. Feeling yourself to be a certain way. Sometimes even feeling a certain way trying to fit into somebody else's image of who you should be or what you should be and you have felt yourself a bit off balance. That happens.

Allow yourself to experience life, as the Light that you are. Allow yourself to dance through a day. To express as the perfect angel that you are. It will be fun.

You are a great ray of Light upon this plane. You have chosen to come and to anchor your Light upon this plane and you have decreed that you will do this consciously in this lifetime. That you will anchor your Light, you allow it to be seen, not only by the brothers and sisters but by yourself as well. And that you will remember in unlimited fashion the holy Child that you are, the fluidity of the flowing Light. Light, is never static. Even when you see light it is going forward. Even what you would see as being static, is not static. And that is what you do, always, you are flowing.

Allow yourself to connect with that flow. Allow yourself to experience the Christ that you are. Accept it, decree it, claim it and go forward as the pioneers that you are. Grand courage. All of you, pioneers.

Not only in this day and time but in what you would see as other lifetimes as well. You were the ones who went ahead. You were the ones who went and prepared a way. You were the ones who blazed the trail. You are doing it again. Why? Because you know yourself to be the Light that is never static. The Light that is eternally expressing and ever ongoing. You know yourself to be your Father's Child. Your Mother's Child. You know yourself to be whole.

And now, since this has been termed an open evening, an evening with Jeshua, I love these evenings. If there be questions we will have the questions. We will entertain them and we will see how entertaining they are.

For indeed, every question has within it the truth of your being. Every question is entertaining. First, to the mind, but most of all to the heart for it allows the heart to open as you connect with the oneness and the allness that you are.

Would you have a question? But if you came with one and you wanted to have it out there we could do that.

It's not a good time.

Indeed, beloved one. Know that you are Love upon this plane. Allow yourself to express as the Christ that you are for you are beautiful. It has taken grand courage to come and to express in this day and time and to come through the issues that you have allowed to come up in front of you.

For you have said, "That I will come through these. I have carried them in what would be seen as other lifetimes. I have carried them in a knapsack upon my back. Sometimes in lifetimes not even daring to think that there could be the issues." For life as you saw it right in front of you was enough and more than enough to handle.

But in this lifetime you said, "I will have those issues out from behind the back. I will have it out of the knapsack and right in-front of me so that I can see the wholeness of that issue. So that I can see beyond what seems to be right in front of the face," and you have healed a lot of issues. You have healed them not by magic, but you have healed them because you have allowed yourself to see the wholeness. You have allowed yourself to see your wholeness and to feel your grand inner strength in coming through these. You are very strong, beloved one. The heart is true and it guides you.

Whenever there would be a question of the mind, go quickly unto the place of peace in the heart and abide in stillness for a moment or two. Perhaps longer, and allow yourself to breathe in the peace that you are and the heart will tell you what to do. You are never alone. You have a grand heart.

Always you allow this to be shared with others. Allow yourself to appreciate your Self in every day. You are beautiful. Thank you.

Beloved one, how are you this evening?

Good.

Indeed you are good. Even better than good, you are perfect. Would you have a question?

I would like to thank you for all of my good and my key word for tonight is integration.

Yes.

And I would say that I am a being of Light and I experience the finer frequencies and emotions and knowledge.

You do.

And I sound my pure soulness and I would heal myself and others with Light automatically.

Indeed.

And I am grateful for, I said all of my gifts. I know that I'm an angel. I feel sometimes but not always my purpose in life. But what I'm saying is that my key word tonight is integration and what I want is to integrate my highest Self.

Yes. As you have spoken, beloved one, so be it. You are the one who is bringing together all of the aspects as you would see them to be into a whole. Integrating them, for you are that whole and you are bringing it now into your conscious awareness of the wholeness of the Light that you are. And as you do that, you are healing the brothers and sisters upon this plane as well, for nothing is ever done in isolation and what you do for yourself seemingly the self with the small "s" is done for the Self with a capital "S". In this you heal your world, the brothers and sisters. So be it, and I thank you.

Thank you.

Beloved brother, how are you this evening?

Great.

You are indeed, great. Look at the vibration of Light around this one. Behold. What would you ask this evening?

How may I serve my highest ideals more efficiently?

Ah, beloved one, even by the asking you have asked the desire that is very deep within you. It is coming forth. It is very much in process for you have decreed that you will know who you are and in knowing who you are, you will let it shine so that all may see.

You are as a light that is set upon the hill and cannot be hid. Not even from yourself although there have been lifetimes when you have been that light upon the hill and you have turned your eyes and not seen. This lifetime you are decreeing that you will know the Light that you are, that you will go in the fullness of that Light and as you have already seen, what comes to you, comes to hand, comes easily. You have much guidance. Not from ones outside of yourself but from the Self that you are.

Allow yourself always to abide in the heart. The heart of the love that you are. Allow yourself to go in peace in everything that you do, being vigilant to remember the peace that you are and from that, comes all that you desire.

Thank you.

Thank you, beloved one.

And you, beloved daughter, how are you?

Fine.

What would you ask this evening?

I would like to know what would be my mission?

Ah, yes, beloved one. It is an exciting mission. It is the holy Child knowing who she is and allowing that to show forth. You will find various ways of allowing yourself to express the Light and the Love that you are. It will change as it has already changed in this lifetime. You have found yourself going down an avenue and then there has been the opportunity to have another avenue, another interest, another way of service, and you have chosen that. You have gone down that path for awhile and then there has come the opportunity to do another thing. This is good. It will continue to be for you are very much as the facets upon the diamond. You are not just one-sided. Multisided, infinite, and so you will allow yourself to express in many different ways from the heart and in joy.

Remember always the joy that you are as this one remembers the peace that he is and allows himself to come from the place of peace. You remember the joy that you are. The joy of the child. The joy of the child that allows that Love to be shared with all, spontaneously, easily, unlimited.

There is not one answer to your question for you will find different ways of expressing, different ways of service. It will change for you are one who has decreed that you will not be limited, and yet, the answer is one. For the answer at the bottom line as they would call it, is that you are going to come Home, and in coming Home you serve all of your brothers and sisters.

It is a grand choice. It is exciting. It is a grand time to be alive, this has been expressed upon your plane, for always you are alive, but it is a grand time to be expressing. Allow yourself that freedom. Allow yourself to see the beauty in life. All around you and to appreciate it even more in every moment and as you do that, it grows. And as it grows, it spills over and others feel the effect of it as well.

As this one goes in peace you will see beauty. As this one goes in joy she will see beauty. And as you behold the beauty of life upon this plane, all of the brothers and sisters have the opportunity to behold the beauty that they are.

Thank you.

Thank you.

Beloved angel upon this plane, one who sings and expresses with the vibration of angels. How are you?

Very well, thank you.

Indeed, you are. What would you ask this evening?

Could you speak to the issue of abortion. I have a step granddaughter who has just had one and it has brought many difficulties with it.

Yes, many questions. For there is upon this plane in this time, much judgment about the expression with the molecules of physicality. The abortion, and the abortion is a choice. Not only a choice of what you would see as the mother choosing but also the choice of the unborn, yet, as it would be seen, physical vehicle and the one who would be expressing with that vehicle.

Nothing is ever done in isolation. There is much communication as you have experienced in the times when you have been with child. You do not wait until that child is in your arms before there is communication. There is much even before the child is conceived there is communication and it has been thus with this one. There was and still is communication.

It was for an experience for the one to make a choice and to look past the limitation of appearance. Past the judgments of the world to see that life is eternal. That life expresses in different forms, different processes and for this one to see that there is the communication that does not depend upon the physical vehicle to experience the Allness of the infinite life that we are.

There was agreement before this one was conceived. There was agreement as the choice was made. There is no loss. For this one that seemingly is not utilizing a physical vehicle of a body now, will come and express with a physical body very easily when there is agreement to do that. Either with the one who is close to you or with another one. It is never denied.

It is not limited to what you would see as the genes coming together, the physical organism, whether that will make a new life. That is not how new life comes together. First of all, life is eternal. It is the expression in the form that comes together. That is done through agreement. That is done through thought. Not the thought of the small mind, but the Thought with a capital "T". The imaging of the energy of Light and the agreement to be utilizing matter for the expression of that Light.

Life in its physical form is never taken from one. It is always a choice. It is a choice to express for however short a time for the experience that comes with that in order to see the holiness of that situation. To see the wholeness of life upon this plane and beyond.

So there was an agreement and there is much communication that is there.

Karma?

And what about karma?

Was this, is such a thing partially having to do with taking care of karma, compensating for karma?

In one sense the answer to this is yes. In other sense it is no. The concept of karma is just that: a concept. It is believed by some. By others it touches the naught. This was for the ones to experience, the one that you would see as not having the full expression of the physical vehicle chose to be with the one who would be giving birth to have this experience.

Not as karma in the sense of punishment, but in sense of experiencing all. To see what it would feel like to see how it would feel with the responsibility of making a choice. How it would feel to have the judgment of the world. How it would feel to have the support of others who would say, "That you are okay through this. Whatever you choose, I love you."

There was much that was being called for in this sense. There is much on many levels that has occurred with this and always does for it is an opportunity to see the whole of what is happening.

So in one sense, one would say, yes, it is karma for there was the desire to experience the completion as you would call it. To experience what would come with all of this, choice, opportunity. But it was not seen as karma in the sense of punishment for there is never punishment except as one may look upon it as punishment and that is a perception. It is not the truth. It is not the way the Father/Mother sees us to be. There is never punishment.

Ones of the brothers and sisters, the holy Child from time to time, may see punishment in what they bring about to experience and they may interpret it as being punishment for something done wrong in another lifetime and yet there are not wrong choices. It was chosen for the experience to see, "How would it feel? How would it feel?" The most horrendous thing you can think of, "How would it feel to take the life of someone?"

Well, first of all, you don't take a life. You may request of them the physical body. If they are so moved, various motivations, fear being one of them, they may lay down the body. You do not take it from them. You request and it may be laid down.

But you have come and you have expressed and you have experienced, "How would it feel to be the grand conqueror upon this plane who will slay many bodies? I want to know the power, the temporal power upon this plane. I want to stretch forth my hand and give the command and bodies will be laid down. How will that feel? It will feel most like God," and you have expressed that way to experience and in all of that experience there was been the small question of, "But there must be more."

See. It is all the holy Child desiring to experience All, to know himself/herself as the All. There are no wrong choices. There is nothing when it is seen in the truth of experience that is judged to be bad.

Thank you. I needed to hear that boldly. Thank you.

There you have it, beloved one.

Thank you.

My pleasure.

Thank you so much.

Beloved one, who is beauty upon this plane, how are you this evening?

I am fine, thank you, and you Jeshua?

I am perfect. Thank you for asking. What would you ask this evening?

Oh, I have several but I want to know why a situation happened yesterday if you can help me?

Indeed, we will try.

I had started a new job and the day before my hours are usually eight to five and the day before my boss said, "Be here at five thirty a.m." Five thirty? That's a little bit early and I had to get up at three thirty and we went into town to take applications from people that who will actually be my workers at that place and they were union people and they were like two hundred of them.

Before I walked in I had no idea where I was going and doing. I always send Light to everybody before I walk in a place and bless them and ask that God's Love and peace and Light and that they awaken the Christ within them.

Indeed.

So we went in and I feel when I first walked in it was like oh, you could really feel like, what you call bad energy, negative energy or just like whirling and I just sent the Light out and everything seemed to be fine and then I heard afterwards that my boss said, "God, I thought we were going to be in real trouble this morning." And I said, it was a militant group and they were all ready, really just about kill us.

So, why was I there? Was my purpose to do what I did?

Indeed, beloved one. You have discerned your own answer.

It's too early. I never got any sleep last night either because I was just overtired, I guess, you know. Why me?

And yet, beloved one, yes, why you? Why not you? You are the Christ upon this plane and as you saw your brothers and sisters were very much calling you forth in order to know the Light that they are. In order to know that there can be peace. That there can be an experience of harmony upon this plane. They do not have to be militant in order to come unto a place of getting what they truly desire. Not just what would be the surface desires, but what they are truly asking for.

You will go unto many places, in fact, every day you will go. Some more obvious than others and you will go as the Light that you are. Protected, yes, by the Light that you are for you are not vulnerable and never will be vulnerable. You never can be harmed, but you will go as the Light that you are remembering more and more in each day the Light that you are and it will become easier for you.

The sleep, beloved one, while it is desired, while it is believed upon this plane to be necessary for the body, is not. What is important is your peace with what you are doing. There were many nights upon this plane when I was in the incarnation known as Jeshua that I did not sleep. It is not necessary to sleep. I allowed the body to be at peace as I communed with my Father.

Allow yourself to be at peace and to know that the work that you do, you do not do alone.

That I know. It takes a great weight off of the shoulders when you know that. And in the days to come you will feel more and more the lightness that you are.

I do, I see. I always used to feel the Light but now I actually see the Light. It just comes and envelopes me and it is so bright.

Yes.

Very bright.

And as you are allowing yourself to connect with that Light you will find yourself being sent, and yet you are not being sent by anyone except yourself, unto more and more places to let your Light shine. Be at peace with it, beloved one, for you are never asked to do anything that is beyond you. Thank you.

Perhaps now would be a good time to take a break. To get up and stretch the bodies, to relieve the bodies to do what is necessary and then we will continue with the questions, for I desire to be in contact with each and every seemingly one of you and we will do this in the rest of the evening. So be it.

{Break}

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, did you enjoy your break?

Yes.

Yet, what was broken, it sounded to me like a reunion.

Oh yeah.

Indeed, it was a grand coming together of one holy Child experiencing the Light, the dynamic Light that you are. The chatter of exchanging, "Who do you think you are in this lifetime? Where do you come from? What do you do? Where have I seen you before?" All of those questions and yet, do you see what you do even in asking those questions. You allow yourself to connect with the oneness. No accident that this is all in a circle, with the oneness that you are. All of the questions that you ask are as catalyst for remembrance of that Oneness.

Even when you go up and you say, "Where do you work? What do you do? Tell me about yourself?" What you are asking is, "Tell me about myself?" The aspect that I see of you, that is me. The next time you speak unto a brother or sister and you ask, "What is your name? Where do you come from? How many animals do you have?" You are asking to know more about yourself. Oneself. Everything that you ask even down to the minutest detail even what you would see as being trivial is not trivial. It is as a catalyst to remember all of the facets, the infinite facets of the One.

Beloved one, how are you in this evening?

Pretty good.

You are indeed, you are excellent. What would you ask? Would you have a question?

No, I don't really have a question. If you had anything, any words for me?

Indeed, I would share with you the Light that I am and that you are. I would say unto you if you will receive it and I know that you will, that from this evening forward you will no longer be the person that you were when you walked in the door downstairs. For you have allowed yourself new concepts, new perceptions in this evening. A Light to flicker, to burn brightly. You will behold all as you go forth from this place in a newness of that Light.

You will no longer be who you thought you were. You are more. You are the Christ. You will play with that. You will have fun with that. You will even speak that from time to time unto yourself, sometimes unto others. Words that they will understand. It does not have to be that terminology for sometimes the words are a stumbling block, but you will speak unto others words of healing, words of the wholeness that you are and that they are. And you will allow them to know that this is a grand choice that they have made to express upon this plane.

It is not that they have been sent unto some far reaches out in the universe somewhere, some planet where they have been banished unto until they will learn their lessons. That is not true. The holy Child is not learning lessons, although it has been termed that. The holy Child is remembering and the holy Child in that remembrance lives and abides in joy.

Allow yourself to play, as I do, and know in each moment where something captures the heart, where something is seen of beauty and the heart will leap for joy. Know that that is the One that we are. Allow yourself in every day a moment of beauty. Something that you will, sometime you will set aside for yourself. Five minutes, an hour, perhaps, or at least five minutes for you will nurture the Child that you are. Where you allow that child to be happy. To see something of beauty. To lose yourself in the vibration of beauty. For you are the holy Child that is calling it forth and without you none of creation would exist. That is how unlimited you are.

Allow the heart to leap for joy, for indeed it will in the days to come for when you leave this place, you leave as a new person. A new perception, a new way of seeing yourself and the world. Thank you, beloved one.

Thank you.

And you, beloved servant of the Heavenly Father, one who goes with joy in her heart, yes. How are you?

I'm wonderful.

You are indeed, wonderful. Allow yourself to abide with the term that you have just chosen to describe yourself for indeed, the holy Child is a wonder. What would you ask this evening?

I would like to know what my purpose is and how I can do that?

Beloved one, if you will receive it, you are already doing your purpose. Your purpose has been to come and to express upon this plane, as you see it, to anchor the Light that you are here, as you would see here to be, to put the focus upon the activities of the world, yes, but to know that you are more than the world. Do not lose yourself in the voice of the world. And to allow yourself to awaken which you are doing rapidly, and by that awakening to allow the brothers and sisters to see that they may follow that path as well.

You are very much one that I have described earlier as being the-pioneer. Often you have been a pioneer as all of your brothers and sisters in this room have been for blazing new trail, for seeing beyond what is just right in front of the face and saying to the brothers and sisters, "Do you see afar off? Do you see that vision? Do you see who we are?" You have often said that. And by doing that, beloved one, you allow yourself to come Home and you allow the brothers and sisters to see that Home is very much a possibility.

Thank you, beloved one. You will find in the days to come there will be much of beauty and joy for you as well. For you are allowing yourself to mellow, as the world would term it. You are allowing yourself to be at peace and to say, "Well, whatever ones choose, that is what they need to choose. But for me and my house," which is you and your consciousness, "I choose peace. I choose Love. I choose beauty." And in that you get to abide in the peace and joy and beauty. Not a bad place to be.

Beloved one, it is a joy to behold you again in this manner. How are you beloved one?

A little less nervous than the last time.

{Laughter}

Oh, very good. There is a dynamic quality of energy about you. You may term it nervous, you may term it very much alive.

It think everyone else would.

Ah, but what do they matter?

{Loud laughter}

What would you ask this evening?

Well, this has been a year of dramatic change in everyone's lives. A lot of hospital visits and surgeries and my stepfather just got surgery and my mother may have to get surgery and she is seemingly, as you would say, has a serious medical problem, possibly. I just am curious about this seeming turmoil, this dramatic change. There is just a lot going on and a lot of it seems to be very positive at first. It's definitely put, I think, all of us through a lot of changes.

Yes, indeed.

Even through the difficulties we feel so much stronger, so much more self assured about ourselves. But I don't know. Maybe I answered my own question, I guess.

{Loud laughter}

There is a grand wisdom that comes forth, yes.

But what would you say on all of this?

It is as the holy Child discerns. There is much acceleration. There is much of the experience right in front of the face that demands to be seen in wholeness. For the holy Child has decreed that this is the time of awakening. This is the time, it is at hand. Where is the hand? Right there. It is not afar off, but it is right here, right in front of one's face. Very close. The time is at hand. That is what the holy Child has decreed and there are many ways of remembering. There are many ways of coming Home.

Each seemingly separate expression of the holy Child, chooses different catalyst for remembrance. Some will choose the surgery. Some will choose what seems to be of more traumatic nature in order to bring them unto a place of remembrance. There is nothing to be judged in the necessity for surgery. It is not that one has failed. Not at all. One has chosen that experience for the treasure that is surrounding and within it. There are many that the ones who choose surgery, there is much that they experience and many that they come in contact with that they allow the Light that they are to be exchanged with.

There are many who come and because they will be as the servant unto another, they allow the other to come Home, to see beyond appearances. For many of the brothers and sisters, many of the family members who choose a path such as this. It is not to be seen in limitation or as lack or as failing. It is not that at all. It is a choice to experience. To experience the nurturing. To experience the wholeness. To see the grand resiliency of the body and to know that the body does heal even though you take what is known as the very sharp instrument and would seemingly do something to the body, it heals. Why does it heal?

Because you are the energy that always attracts it. You are the energy that heals it. You are the energy that knows that it is whole, that it is Light, that every cell radiates the Light that you are. This is true for all of the brothers and sisters who choose the avenue of surgery.

They place themselves in the hands of ones who have chosen a path of service. They choose to be in interaction with ones who have a focus upon a certain methodology of healing. They choose to be there as the Light that they are to allow that other ones for there are many who are involved in this. It is not just the surgeon that they interact with, but there are many. So that the ones have an opportunity for service. So that ones have an opportunity to open the heart and to look upon the one that they are interacting with in Love and in Oneness, to see, "That is my brother." To be able to communicate and to commune as the One.

It gives opportunity for the family members and the friends to look upon appearances and to see, "How do I see what is happening? Do I come from a place of fear? Do I say, 'Ah, what if that should happen to me?'" It does not happen to you. Each one as the holy Child is a master upon this plane and chooses avenues.

It matters not if the body be laid down, for as you lay down the body you will raise up a new one if it is your choice. As easily as it thought. It is a choice.

Thank you.

Indeed. There is much that the ones who are going through the changes, as you would call it, there is much that they allow for themselves as opportunity for remembrance. For seeing the wholeness that they are and much opportunity they give unto others to look beyond appearances. To open the heart, to support, to be there for them, as the world terms it, to be there as the One that they are. There is always much that is happening.

Thank you.

Thank you. Thank you for the Light that you allow to shine forth.

Thank you for being the Light that reflects back.

{Laughter}

Ah, beautifully, beautifully said. What a teacher. Thank you.

Beloved daughter, how are you?

Truly blessed, thank you.

Indeed, you are. What would you ask this evening?

I have so many questions. Actually I'm getting bits and pieces from all of my brothers and sisters.

It is very miraculous how that happens. The one Mind, indeed.

Do you have anything that I need to know? Any....

Beloved one.

I know.

You are calling forth even in this evening what you "need to know." You are bringing it right up in front of your conscious awareness to remind yourself that truly you do not need to know anything. It is all within and it is being remembered.

You are a grand child upon this plane. The child of the Heavenly Father/Mother. You are calling forth the Light that you are and you are allowing this to be experienced and expressed as the Love that you are. There is nothing more that you need know and there is nothing more that is required of you than to just be in conscious awareness, the unlimited Love that you are. To know that you may walk anywhere and you are protected. Not by ones that you would see outside of yourself for there is no one outside of yourself. You are All. You are the Light and the Light cannot be harmed.

As you have seen and have demonstrated for yourself, the Light of one candle cannot be extinguished by the darkness. Nay, it overcomes the darkness. That is who you are so you may go anywhere with a feeling of safety for the Light goes anywhere in safety for there is nothing that can harm it. There is nothing that can threaten it.

Go always with a freedom of the heart and express the Love that you are. Express it unto the little ones who will come and will want to know the Light that they are and they know it well and they will want to share it with someone who is perhaps, a bit taller in stature and may have, in their terms, may have forgotten and you have not forgotten.

Allow yourself to be even with the ones who are taller in stature who are allowing their Child to be acknowledged and to come forth and to play. Allow yourself to encourage them as well. For that is all that is transpiring upon this plane and it is no mere thing, but the holy Child is coming out to play. So be it.

Thank you.

Thank you.

Beloved one, how are you this evening?

Very good, thank you.

You are. You are truly beautiful. What would you ask in this evening?

I've been facing a particular challenge with a loved one over the last week and it's been a roller coaster ride. Sometimes I feel very strong and I'm talking with my hands.

{Laughter}

And I feel the support and I feel tingly and I feel good and then the next minute thank goodness I have friends like Dana who are there to help me through. Yes.

Do you have any wisdom, I know you do.

{Laughter}

Do you have any guidance, I guess?

Indeed, once in a while I get a little insight of wisdom, yes.

Beloved one, as you have been discerning throughout this last week and also the years of this lifetime, you are proving unto yourself by various experiences the strength of the holy Child. The resilience of the holy Child. The Love of the holy Child. The unlimitedness of the holy Child.

You have chosen in some experiences to have the roller coaster, because you enjoy the grand adventure. Believe it or not. And there is nothing to be judged in that. It is the same as if you would buy your ticket for the roller coaster and you would go on it because it makes you feel truly alive. You are also manifesting the downward part of the roller coaster in order to bring forth for yourself the nurturing of one such as your friend who will be there for you. You allow her an opportunity to open her heart and to share with you. It is a service that you do unto her, believe it or not. And she does a service for you in allowing you to see as the mirror that she is for you, to see the Love that you are. For she would not be manifesting for you the Love and support if you were not already that Love.

She sees it in you and she reflects it back to you and you would do and have done the same for her. There is much of strength, much of Love that you are as the holy Child and you are bringing that forth now.

In the relationship that seems to be such a roller coaster, allow yourself to stand back just a degree or so from it and to behold it with the eyes that see from eternity. Allow yourself to see what this other one is searching for. Allow yourself to appreciate the actor. Allow yourself even to applaud some of the acting. For this other one gets very much into it and acts the part very well.

So there is much to be appreciated. You do not need to get yourself caught up in all of the drama unless you desire to. But you can stand back a degree or so as if you would be sitting in the front row of the theater and watch, even watch yourself in interaction with this one as you would watch a play upon the stage and applaud both of your acting abilities for there are times when you get into it with a grand actress, as the grand actress that you are and you do a very good job of it.

Allow yourself to be at peace with this for there is much Love that is shared even though there is the bubbles upon the surface, the chaos from time to time upon the surface. There is much Love that is shared at a very deep level and has been there beyond what you would see even as this lifetime. Allow yourself to support this one, to see this one as the Christ, the Child, the holy Child that this one is, the same as you. And know that it is all the search to come Home.

Thank you.

Hi.I love that term, for indeed it shows you high. How are you this evening?

I'm nervous.

Oh, very good. Very good, you have much of company. Everyone in this room has felt what you feel and it is not so much a nervousness as it is being truly alive. What would you ask this evening?

I'm tapped out. I wanted to ask what Dell was asking, I wanted to know what I needed to hear and I don't know if it is an appropriate to ask now.

Indeed, anything is proper for the holy Child to ask. Yes. Again, beloved one, allow yourself to breathe, to take a deep breath.

My heart feels like it's going to pound. I'm sorry. Okay.

It is because our heart beats as one, yes. Whenever you would feel any of the stirring of the world, the questions of the mind allow yourself first, to breathe. Take a deep breath, and come unto the place of peace within the heart. Breathe in the golden white Light that you are. See yourself as that Light for indeed, this is who you are and take it deep within ever cell of the body.

Take it deep within the place known as the heart and abide in the stillness thereof. That is your strength. That is who you are. You are doing a grand service upon this plane of being the Light that you are. Having the courage to shine, to anchor that Light and to extend from the heart the Love and the support unto others who are calling out for that. You are an angel truly, upon this plane and you are coming unto a place and it comes rapidly now, where you will behold your own Light. You will behold your own worthiness. Your holiness as the whole Child that you are.

You again, beloved one, are doing very well and it is not by accident that you find yourself in communion with your sister, for this one has been in what you would see as many lifetimes, as sister unto you and you have shared much and it is not by accident that you come again into physical proximity to share the life experiences for you have agreed that you would be companions to each other.

I like that.

Indeed, you are very much the companions going along the journey together. In this point of focus called this lifetime, and many other lifetimes as well, where you have had the experience of the adventure for you have expressed as the angels that you are and you have expressed in the physical form of what you would see as the male in lifetimes as well. For you have claimed to know that expression, how that would feel, and you have done that as well.

But oftentimes you have been as sisters together. Enjoy the sisterhood. It is not only the brotherhood that is spoken of, the sisterhood is of much value. Indeed.

The heart, beloved one, is open. Allow yourself to abide in that heart as the peace that you are and to come from that place of strength and of Love. Already you are doing this and others see it. Allow yourself to know that as well for you are beautiful.

Thank you.

So be it.

Beloved one, how are you this evening?

I am grand.

You are grand and have often been thus, yes. What would you ask this evening?

Well, we've been in great conversation the last couple of weeks, you and I.

I have felt that.

Strong ones. There has been a major event in the lives of many people in this room in the last two weeks and there has been a miracle laid on my heart which I feel needs to express through me and through the Love that I am here. I need to get past the barrier of what I see as impossibility in it. Although I can see clearly that it is not impossible.

Very good.

But sometimes I ask, why me? I'm so little and so frail. How can I do this?

Do you think that I never asked that?

I'm sure you do.

Indeed. When my Father shared with me where the demonstration was going, and how the demonstration would be brought into clarity for my brothers and sisters, I asked, "Why me? Could there not be another way? Surely there could be a more quiet way. I could keep on teaching could I not for another thirty, sixty years. I could have my group of followers, my disciples who were both male and female. Sure there could be another way. Father can we not make this demonstration another way? Why me? I cannot do this."

That's the way I feel.

And yet, you can and you will.

The demonstration seems so near, the manifestation seems close and my heart just leaps out when I feel it and let myself think about it.

Indeed.

The world closes in sometimes and says, "No, no, no."

And that is the way of the world. It is the way of the ego, the voice of separation. The voice that has gotten itself focused upon matter and the expression and the experience in matter. There has been a very intense identification with physical matter, forgetting the Spirit. But this is reversing.

The holy Child is remembering the Spirit that you are, the Light that you are. That is what speaks true to you and allows the heart to leap.

And so the miracle of demonstration and manifestation in my heart is real? There are times when I doubt that.

Indeed, beloved one, when you come from the place of the heart, the place of Love, the place of unlimited knowing that you are Love, and you see all around you in wholeness. That is the Truth of your being.

The demonstration seems large to me. I have felt since the time that I entered this life this time around that there was a moment of grand destiny with knowing for me and I feel that moment is close.

It is very close, beloved one, and what you have seen as a vision is a vision. It is more than the vision for it symbolizes for you a coming Home. It need not be taken in limitation as to the literalness. Abide with what it symbolizes and you will see that yes, it is vast. It is infinite, for the holy Child is infinite, but that it is not too big.

The voice that would speak that it is too large is the voice of separation, the voice of the ego. But allow yourself to abide with what it symbolizes.

I'm trying very hard to do that.

That is where the truth lies. That is the key that will unlock the door that you wish to open. It is not so much that you must make the demonstration in the literal terms of what the vision has been but that you will make the demonstration of coming Home. Do you see the difference?

Yes, I do. I do.

And that, beloved one, is simplicity itself. It unfolds as the petals of a rose unfold. It is not something that you need stand there and do. You do not have to pry each petal open, but allow it to open and it will. Abide with the demonstration, the vision, what it symbolizes for that is the truth, that is the message it has for you and you will see that as it is the truth it will come as the dawn follows the night.

Thank you.

Thank you, beloved one.

Howdy.

Howdy. I pioneer that you are.

Yes. How did you know?

You have told me.

I forgot.

Indeed, and some wisdom in that statement. This one is full of wisdom. What would you ask this evening?

I've undertaken a new health plan and I have been worried about the success of it and also in this recovery healing process I've had a lot of things that have come up about my mother that is not on this plane any longer and it has brought a lot of sadness to me. Since she is not here to ask what exactly did happen, I end up crying everyday.

Ah, beloved one. The reason that you feel this one so much coming into your mind, knocking upon the door of your heart is because this one is very much with you. She desires to be acknowledged. She desires to be in communication with you.

Speak with this one as you would with another that you see standing in front of you or sitting next to you. Allow yourself the dialogue. Not just a monologue, but a dialogue. Listen, ask the question and then listen. Immediately there will be an answer, there will be an idea. There will be something that will come to you. Allow yourself to abide with what comes and ask more, for this one very much is knocking upon the door of your heart and wishes to be let in.

She wishes to communicate, to speak with you. She is not gone from you. There is much that happened in the circumstances and events of the world that needs to be seen in wholeness, to see beyond just what seemingly occurred. That is what she wishes to show you, for she has now come unto a place of seeing it against the backdrop of eternity. Seeing it against the backdrop of the Allness of the adventure of the holy Child, and she wishes to share with you the whole vision.

For there was much that happened, yes. You already know that, you have had what you would call as hunches that have come to you. Yes, allow yourself to abide with those hunches, to claim them and then to go beyond those hunches of what they suggest unto you and to see beyond.

For this one has had to make her peace with certain things that were done, certain choices, certain ways of expression. She also had this come before her so that she could see it in the wholeness of expression and to see beyond what was judged to be a limitation and she wishes to share with you her joy in seeing the whole vision.

That is why it is coming for you and coming now in an intensity. For there is much of a blessing, much of treasure to be found in this. But allow yourself to commune with this one. She is not gone from you. She is very much with you and knocking upon the door of your heart.

Speak unto this one what you would wish to say to her. Allow yourself if it feels more comfortable to write her a letter. You will find even in the writing that you will be speaking and there will be a flow. It will open much that has been dammed, much as you would see the block in the flow of the water and much that has been damned even in the sense of your religious term that would say that it was damned. It has been blocked.

Allow yourself to write her a letter. Allow yourself to speak to this one and then listen for she has much to share with you. She loves you. She has found herself to be Love. She did not know that.

That's for sure.

Yes, she has come unto a new place of seeing more of the wholeness of who she is. She saw it as necessary to lay down the body before she would come unto that realization and she is saying unto you that it is not necessary for you to lay down the body before you will come unto that realization.

The body itself, beloved one, is perfect. It heals itself. It is wholeness, as you allow yourself to accept that. The healing of which you have spoken will come rapidly, will come on the heels of the whole vision that you will allow yourself to accept. To look upon what has happened, yes, in the terms of the world and then to see beyond all of that.

For this one did not know the Love that she is and she acted from a place of unworthiness, un-lovingness. She acted that way to herself and to all others for she projected what she thought to be the truth of her being. It was not. It was only part. She has come now to see the whole vision and she wishes to share that with you and there is much of healing in that.

Allow yourself to go down this avenue. There will be tears as there have been in the past, yes. But you will find yourself after awhile they will not be tears of sorrow. They will be tears of joy, tears of wholeness, tears of relief for you will say, "I'm so glad. I understand that. I am so glad that is now out here for us to discuss. I am so glad to see that in wholeness." There is much that is being held, the body reflects that. There is much that wants to be seen in the wholeness and it will be, beloved one. For you are decreeing that you will see the holiness of yourself and of others and it will come.

Okay. Thank you.

You have my word on that.

Okay. I believe you.

Oh, good. Good, good. Very good, such a miracle.

Beloved one, it is a joy to behold you. How are you this evening?

Oh, good.

You are indeed, okay. You are a beautiful example of the Light, the Light we have been speaking of this evening. What would you ask this evening?

I also can relate to the craziness and the turmoil that's come on within the last little over two weeks. There is a part of me that would like to understand things better because a part of me that says, I'm not sure about this whole thing, okay. Then there is another part of me that says, I'm a very practical person in the sense that I've always needed to be a very realistic person, okay. To deal with different situations, et cetera, so is it wrong of me to ask for something a little concrete to come through to me? I don't know how to deal with some of the other stuff.

Indeed, beloved one, it is not wrong of you to ask this. This is what you are requesting, to know in this lifetime for if you will receive it, you have expressed in many other lifetimes as one that your brothers and sisters have judged to be a bit spaced out, a bit mystical, a bit beyond with the feet perhaps a few inches off the ground.

Boy, she's got us down.

{Laughter}

You are now asking, you want to bring the focus of the Light that you are into this point, into clarity. You want to prove to yourself that which you are which is a bridge between the Spirit, the Light that you know yourself to be, and this point of focus as you see it to be. And so you ask, "Prove it to me. I want to see it in concrete terms." It is the way of asking for you are expressing in physical form, it is the way of asking, "How do I bring all of this together?" It is much as one asked earlier this evening about integration. That is what you are doing in this lifetime. You are integrating so that you may remember.

Back to where I am a squirrel?

Indeed, yes. This one that you have seen gone from your presence in the last couple of weeks of your timing is a grand servant unto many of you in this room. You have already felt and you will feel even more concretely in the days to come, this one's presence. For this one has awakened to know that he is unlimited. This one has awakened to know that he is Light and that it matters not whether he is expressing with the design pattern of the body. But he is very much alive and very much well, and he desires to have his presence made known upon this plane and he has already spoken and will be speaking unto even more in the days to come. You will feel this. You will know this. It will come right in front of you in a very concrete manner so that you will know that you are very much the bridge. That bridge is Spirit and matter, that you are the Light that you desire to know in conscious awareness.

As you have requested, so be it. Not because I as a master stand before you and say, I will grant you the magic of your desires. But because you, as the creative unlimited holy Child that you are, you have desired and will manifest for yourself the concrete proof which you ask for.

Thank you.

Thank you, beloved one. And I charge you, beloved one, that when that happens please make it known unto all of your brothers and sisters.

Believe me, they will all know.

{Laughter}

I suppose one did not have to ask that?

No.

Beloved daughter and beautiful Light upon this plane, one who loves with an openness of heart. How are you this evening?

Much of the time I feel so much love and joy, butterflies, clover, trees, sunshine, and then there is this other part of me that, this global thing. People floating down the river in Africa beheaded, tied together. Deers on the road with their throats slit. I guess they had baby deers. I don't know. How is it that it is so great here? And globally it sucks here? I like it here, yet I try to give and care and give and give and give.

And you do.

I know, and I get tired because there is so much and then you turn on the radio and hear some ministers, of course not too many metaphysical ministers are on there. They are saying, "Oh, it's going to get worse. It is going to get worse." They are proclaiming all of this. So you can't always, I don't know. I can't fix it. I gave up on that.

Ah, very good. The beginning of wisdom.

I try to be proud that I am not going to try to heal the whole world, but I get tired.

And yet, beloved one, you do. The ones who are decreeing that it will get worse before it gets better, for them, this is a truth. That is what they are decreeing and that is what they will see. For you it need not be that way.

You are bringing forth into your conscious awareness what you see as a polarity, the beauty and Love of life in its process that you see around you, and then the lack of beauty, the lack of caring, the lack of Love, the inhumanity, as it has been called, of brother to brother and sister to sister. You are bringing that forth in order to know the wholeness of it all. To see beyond the appearance.

The ones who have laid down their bodies and have allowed those bodies to float down the river have done so as a choice. The body is never taken from one. There may be what you would see as grand motivation, but it is a choice to lay it down. They have placed themselves there as servants unto the brothers and sisters who are uncaring, unto the brothers and sisters who can see only a narrow focus in order to give the brothers and sisters opportunity to see past that narrow point of focus. And there is much that they do in that, for indeed it takes only an instant for one brother to be in a place of saying, "I will slice off the head for I have the power to do so," and in one instant he will see that brother as himself and he is forever changed.

There is much that happens like that. It is not recorded in your news. There are many instances every day where one will stand before another brother and offer the opportunity for that brother to see holiness, to see wholeness. Even at the point where the blade would be struck and there is the instant of what is known as redemption. The instant of coming Home, the instant of oneness, the Holy Instant, and that happens in every day of your timing. More times than you can count but it is not related upon your news for the holy Child, yet, believes in duality. Believes yet, in a polarity of good and bad, and that is what the holy Child brings forth and sees upon what is known as the media. And yet, you beloved one, and many of your brothers and sisters have the eyes to see the other side, to see the beauty of all life.

Allow yourself to focus on the beauty. Allow yourself to know that each bodily form even those of the animals, each bodily form is laid down as a service unto others so that they may come Home. Even the small animal that you would see crossing the road and places itself in front of the vehicle, does as an opportunity for that one to either stop or to go on uncaring. It is an opportunity.

For if that one driving the vehicle in an instant beholds that life process in front of him and beholds the oneness, in that instant, there is holiness remembered and that one comes Home. It does not mean that that brother will always stay at Home. For all of you come Home have an instant of connecting with the Oneness that you are and then you get back into the world again, back into the voice of separation.

But more and more often you are coming home and abiding there longer so that there will come a time when you will abide at Home all the time. Still expressing with the design pattern of the molecules, yes, but abiding as the Child at Home. The Child that you are.

That is why I say unto you: to focus upon the Love and the beauty and to know that nothing happens without purpose. Every life-form is here for a purpose the same as you, to express the Light upon this plane. And those who have chosen to lay down the body even in the most horrible, as it would be judged, manner, have done so as a choice. To be as a servant unto others. To allow them opportunity to come Home and also for their own experience of how it feels to make that choice.

There are ones of the brothers and sisters who lay down the body in most horrendous circumstances, as the world would judge it to be, because they desire to know they do not cease with the laying down of the body. No matter how horrible, as they would judge it to be, that laying down has come. They desire to know their indestructibility, and as they lay down the body in the most horrible fashion that they can imagine and they find themselves still to be alive as the Light that they are, it brings them unto a place of knowing that they are indestructible. That they are eternal for they have imagined the most horrible way and look, "I am still alive." And for them it is their way of knowing their eternity. Do not judge it to be tragic.

In the eyes of the world, yes, it is judged to be tragic. But the eyes of the world look on temporal matters that pass away. Allow yourself to look with the eyes of eternity and to see that each one chooses an adventure. For the very purpose, the only purpose of remembering and coming Home.

So if you see ones of the brothers and sisters who have laid down the body in a most horrible way, congratulate them, for what they have discovered for themselves is a grand treasure and they could not in their judging of it, they could not come unto that place of knowing if they did not choose that.

It is not true that they could not know that they are the holy Child, but this is what they are decreeing. This is their path of decreeing. It is what "proves", proves it to them. It is what they decree. It does not have to be that way, but for them it "proves."

So each time that you see something that you would judge to be a tragic nature, look beyond and say, "This one is still alive. This one has proved to himself/herself/itself that it is life, and that they will resurrect a body. They will raise up another body to express with for another experience, another unique experience as they would see."

Life does not cease as you know, with the laying down of the body. Look beyond.

The suffering through. It seems like they are suffering.

Ah, beloved one, if you could speak unto these ones and you can, they will tell you that yes, while they were expressing with the body there was suffering for they were caught into the voice of separation, the voice of the ego, the voice of matter, materiality, matter.

When the body was laid down they found themselves to be unlimited. They found themselves to be free. They found that they were not suffering. They were beyond that.

I just thing there is a better way.

But who would judge, beloved one, who would judge? If our Father judges us not, why would we? You, beloved one, if you will receive it, you have laid down the body in the most horrendous ways in other lifetimes. You have been one who has seemingly been the victim of starvation for no one loved you enough to give you the food that would sustain the body. You have been the one who has been captured and tortured in raids by a conquering tribe. You have been the one who has been the conqueror who has come and conquered other tribes and has asked of them that they lay down their body.

You have been the one who has been the leper, who has seen the body waste away. You have been the one who has died in the most horrible manner and yet, where are you now?

Worry about everybody else. Ah, beloved one. If our Heavenly Father does not judge, if He does not worry - and He does not for He knows who you are - does not worry about you in all of the expressions of the adventure that you have chosen, why need you worry?

In your worrying you judge others to be less than the master that they are. Underneath the judgment, underneath the worry is judgment that says, "They are not whole and they are not perfect. They are not as strong. They are not the Child, the holy Child."

Allow yourself to see them as the Light that they are that goes beyond. You do not need to take upon yourself all of what you would see as the tragedy of the world. I too, saw this and my heart went out to my brothers and sisters. I wanted to save them. I wanted to them to see the vision that I saw, the wholeness, the perfection, the beauty, just as you see it. I wanted to share with them and they did not see it.

They kept on living and suffering, being violent unto each other. Spitting upon each other. Spitting upon the beauty that was the Holy and is the holy Child. I shared with them the wisdom as I could. If they did not receive it, beloved one, I left them in the care of our Heavenly Father and I shook the dust of my sandals and I walked on. Knowing that in time they will choose anew and they will come Home as well, and it is not my choice. I cannot do that.

I am no one's savior. I cannot save any of the brothers and sisters even though they call out to me and want me to save them. I did not die upon the cross to save anyone. First of all, I did not die upon the cross and secondly I cannot save any for I am not above. I am a master the same as you and the same as they. We are the one holy Child, and in time they will come unto the full knowledge of that.

Allow them their choice. It is what they have decreed that they must know in order to come Home. The one that I have called the Grand Weaver, the one known as the Holy Spirit, takes all of the threads of all of the choices and weaves them together into a beautiful tapestry that brings the sleeping Child awake again. I do not do the weaving. You cannot do the weaving. I cannot make the choice. You cannot, and we cannot judge others for what they choose to experience.

Bless them as you would see it, bless them on their way. For each experience that they have brings them that much closer to the place of saying, "I will choose anew. There must be another way. I am more than this." For sometimes it takes the most horrendous experience to bring the holy Child to a place of saying, "Hey, wait a minute. I'm worth more than this."

Yes, you have felt that yourself and so have the other brothers and sisters. And sometimes it takes what you would judge to be a most traumatic lifetime before the holy Child says, "I am worth more than this. I will return as the Prodigal Son to my Father's table." And then, the Son/Daughter comes Home. Bless them on their way.

If you find within your heart, the Light to cheer them on their way, be happy for them, for it has gotten rid of one more experience that they felt to be necessary before they could come Home.Okay.

Yes, see. There you go.

Thank you.

Bless you, beloved one. Thank you, it has been a long time since someone has kissed me.

Beloved one.

Oh, yes. Did you choose to wish to work with the others first and I can be last?

Ah, beloved one. You are as important as any of the others and we will not miss any of them.

Well I know I won't be missed. I'll just be at the end. That's okay with me, though.

Very much as the servant that you are. You provide for others Heaven upon this earth, the place of beauty, the place of healing where ones can come and whether consciously knowing what you provide, they feel the wholeness of this place. In time they will come Home because what you have provided for them, the remembrances. I thank you, beloved one, for what you are providing. Our Father thanks you as well, for you are a beautiful Light upon this plane.

Thank you.

What would you ask this evening?

Oh, my, I'm overwhelmed there are so many different things. Can you tell me, I guess there is an abundance of things to ask, but can you tell me anything about the Lemurian, Atlantean period of time and why that seems to be coming up with a lot of people that I work with through counseling and so on? Can you tell me anything about that?

Yes, beloved one, it is coming up as you have seen as catalyst for remembrance of the whole, of all of the experiences of the holy Child. This has been seen and is being remembered in this time as an important period. A time when the holy Child expressed in unlimited fashion upon this plane, brought forth great manifestations within the structure of matter and knew himself/herself to be the Light that was manifesting the structures, the form upon this plane.

It is coming forth now in order for ones to connect with their unlimitedness, to remember, to say, "There is much more to me than just what is expressing in what I see as 1994." I have been and many will claim lifetimes in the Atlantean, for truly you have expressed in that time and the Lemurian time as well.

You have been one of the ones known and all of the ones in this room if you will receive it, you have been ones who have been termed the mystics. The ones who have come down through the ages remembering the flame of Light within.

You have kept it alive from generation unto generation. In the time that you would see as the great radiance, in the times of Lemuria and Atlantis, in the times of great trek made unto another geographical location where you took with you the knowledge and the wisdom of the ages. The wisdom that came forth from the inner Self, the Self which you are.

Again, you do that in this lifetime. You could tell me, beloved one, much about the ages of which you speak for you have expressed and the memory is quite clear for you.

Yes.

And for the ones that you work with. It is not by accident that you find these ones being called unto you to have shared remembrances.

Why is it that for so many people that there is a judgment and there is problem with ego with them to, in other words, to elevate themselves to be better than the other person when we are all equal?

Indeed. And as you have discerned it comes from the place within the holy Child that does not know his or her wholeness. Therefore, it is seen that if I can raise myself up above you in the eyes of the world, for as you have seen in the eyes of Truth, all are the Light. All are equal.

We all are.

Indeed.

We all are. Why is it so hard for so many people to realize whether we are black, white, thin, fat, Jewish, Protestant, that we are all equal? Why is it so hard for them to understand?

It is very much as the question that this one has asked. The holy Child has brought forth all kinds of visible means of separation in order to prove unto himself/herself that I am One. Has gone through many experiences where there has been the feeling of separation. There is a great feeling of loneliness upon this plane shared by many of the brothers and sisters even in what you would see as a roomful of people, the brothers and sisters feel alone.

I understand.

And it is the holy Child yearning to know his/her wholeness, her oneness. It has been difficult in what you would see as past time for there has been much listening to the voice of separation, the voice of the world. But this is changing as you have already discerned. There is a wave sweeping across the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth. Many of the brothers and sisters asking to know the oneness and calling it forth for now is the time. The time is at hand.

And truly the veil is very thin now, and we can reach upon it, but I take it so deeply to heart that it is at times where I almost want to retreat and back away from it because it is very difficult when there is judgment that is passed upon it all.

Indeed.

And it's almost to the point of thinking why do I have to do this when I know I have to do it but yet there is so much judgment that is past? Why is it so ego oriented? Why is it so, "I'm better than the next person," but we are all equal? Whether we have that PhD, whether we have that BS, or what have you.

And much of it is, yes.

It's bullshit anyway. Excuse me. I have to say it anyway. But it's true we are all equal. Why? Can you answer that?

The holy Child has decreed that this is the way that he or she will come Home through seeing the seemingly differences, the separation. In the beginning of time when the holy Child desired to know creativity and has asked, "What can I create?" and brought forth all worlds. This world as you see it to be was brought forth, was created and the holy Child desired to experience, "What would it feel like to be within and amongst my creation? How would it feel to experience life in this form?"

The holy Child came and has experienced life in many, many, many forms. All forms that are imaginable. And in that adventure there has been an intensity of focus where the holy Child has come to a place of forgetting the Light, the Spirit, as it is called, and has focus so intently upon the matter, has identified with the matter and the matter speaks to you of separation for you see the bodies. You see the bodies that the fingers touch, yes, but they are still separate. They may touch but they are still seen as separate forms.

From this has grown all of the judgments, all of the feelings of separation have come from the identification with matter, with form, forgetting the Light and the energy that activates the form.

You and many of the brothers and sisters are decreeing as the mystics that you are, as the Light bearers that you are, are decreeing that, "I remember who I am. I will come unto the place of knowing that yes, there is matter because I desire to experience matter. I desired to experience beauty in all of its form, but I am not the matter. I am more than that." And there are many of the brothers and sisters who are awakening, who are coming to that place of saying, "There must be more. Show me more." That is why they come unto a place such as this.

When I expressed upon this plane in the incarnation known as Jeshua ben Joseph, I felt judgment. There were many times when my brothers and sisters judged me. Thought me to be insane, crazy, of woe, a heretic, way out there.

I understand.

Much of judgment. I allowed them their judgment. The ones who had the ears to hear and would come and sincerely question me, and there were many, I spoke unto and I shared my vision. Others, I could discern were very much caught up in their box of their belief. That is where they chose to be. It was much as we spoke unto this one, a choice. The holy Child experiencing. In those times I was silent. I loved. I do love.

In the silence we have Love. We don't always need to express.

Indeed, there is the power, beloved one. Not the power of the world but the power of your beingness, and that expresses more clearly than words.

It's hard when they don't understand why you are quiet.

Why is it hard, beloved one? Who decrees that it is hard?

I do. It's within my vision because I don't assume that they are understanding the way I perceive things to be but it's hard when they don't see or feel it or empathize or sympathize within how I can see it to be. But there is an acceptance and there is an understanding and nonjudgmental beingness with that too.

Yes, as you are so busy allowing yourself to be the flow of Love, as you are so much caught up in the unconditional Love that you are and just extending that silently, you will have no place for feeling that it is difficult or that it is hard. It will not matter.

You will send it out as upon the ethers, upon the vibration of the waves.

Thank you and I do.

And allow it to be received or not. It matters not. It is very much as you would be the farmer who would cast the seeds. Some will fall upon fertile ground. Some will fall upon the rocks, and even those that fall upon the rocks in time will be swept by the wind unto the fertile ground so nothing is ever lost, as you would see it.

It is not your job to judge. It is not your job to say whether they receive it or not. Allow yourself to be the free flowing current of Love, for that is where you abide and as you allow that to go forth in fullness, guess what you experience?

It is always hard when you work with different people and they don't understand where you are coming from and they cast stones of, "That was not good enough, what she gave me," or, "That was not adequate enough." How do I deal with that? How do any of us deal with that?

You take it unto our Heavenly Father. You take it unto the Self that you are and you ask, "How do I feel about this? Have I done enough?"

Yeah, well we have.

And there you are. You have your answer.

But still how do we let go?

With your choice.

We are human.

Ah, is that any excuse?

{Loud laughter}

Well, we're human. How do we release that and let it go when it hurts? When we hear that what we have given them is not enough of what they have wanted to draw from us? And we've given them as much as we are able to give to them. It is their lack instead of ours and yet, we in turn mirror it to us.

And there you have your answer.

How, how do we transfer that?

How you accept it.

But it doesn't affect us as deeply as it affects the other person.

By first coming into that place of clarity within the heart, "That I have come from the heart and I have done what my guidance told me to do. I give to you freely of the Love that I am and that is all that I can do. How you receive it is your choice, but I am okay with what I have done for I know that I am abiding as the servant of the Heavenly Father."

Okay.

And that is where your responsibility ends.

Still it is hard, just as you were up there, too. You felt that was some sense of remorse and regret and loss, too, that you could have done more. Do you not feel that?

I did at one time, yes. How did you release that?

By giving it over, as I have said unto this one, to the one that I have called the Grand Weaver, knowing that I am not the one who weaves all of the threads of the choices together. That I am not in control of other's choices. That there choices are right and proper for them as they see them to be. No matter if they would cast the stones at me, that is their choice.

If the Father does not judge me why would I judge my brother?

That's right. That's right.

Thank you, beloved one.

Thank you, too. How are your knees?

Doing very well.

Ah, good.

Doing very well.

Beloved one, we will come and speak with you.

How are you?

I am excellent. How are you?

Fine. Can I hug you?

Indeed, I love hugs. Indeed, you are whole.

Oh, you smell good, too.

Oh, very good. I will tell my beloved friend and teacher that. What would you ask?

You've answered so many of my questions.

It is the One Mind.

Still, I need to do this freely.

I used to do that too.

It seems that ever since I can remember, perhaps all of my lives, I am a walking question mark. I have to know everything. I've stopped asking why I have to know everything. But in a lot of the things I have learned have been lessons that I have truly understood and learned from the time I was just very wee. Much of what this woman here was talking about and I remember being three and four and five and six and saying, "Why is there suffering? Why did these young people like myself call my names or say things because I will not cast out one for another."

Yes.

But, gosh, I'm rattled. I'm all excited. I think my main thing is that right now there is so much joy and so much love I feel and I have all of these incredible gifts that have been bestowed upon me and I also am the gift to them. But there is something beside all of this that frightens me very very much, and it is a situation that I am in right now and I hate to bring this into sort of a monetary thing but I really need a question asked that my mother and myself are basically in threat of losing our home and I don't want this to happen and we have always had monetary struggles before and I've always had this, just where it comes from, you know, unshakable faith.

It comes from our Father, yes.

We will be okay and that we will always be okay and that somehow we always do end up being okay. But we have never come to have this much of a threat before and that's changing a little. But it scares me because I'm going away on a trip and she will be alone in the home. And I'm frightened that something will happen, and I can't do anything about it, because I am not there and I can't make it any different with the exception of the fact that I will be bringing money back into the house, but still yet, this threat is much larger than the sum that I will be giving back to the house and to her and to make sure that she is okay and that we will be okay and that when I come home I will have a home to return to.

Yes.

And I guess that's my question.

As you have discerned....

I'm really worried about this.

There are many gifts in this that you are presenting right in front of yourself and also for the one known as the mother. You are taking yourself away, geographically away so that you will see that you are not responsible for what happens. For indeed, you are not.

You make choices, yes, for your experience and so does the one known as the mother. You bring this up right in front of your face so that you can ask yourself, "What is of importance here? Where is the Truth of my being?" You have done this in many other lifetimes as well, where you have been with this one known as the mother and you have experienced similar times. And you have come through them for indeed, here you are.

So you know that the physical structure of the home is not important, but it is symbolizing for you something of importance. That is what you are to sit with and to abide with and to ask yourself, "What does the home symbolize to me? Why is it important? What does it mean?" To come unto a place of clarity about the whole of it beyond just the physical structure.

Do you mean the home within?

Yes.

Because this is okay. It is the home on the outside with the roof and the doors and the windows that I fear for.

Ah, but beloved one, when you know the home within is okay, it matters not whether you lay the head upon a pillow within an abode or upon the stone that is a pillow out in the field as I did many times.

Allow yourself to abide with that question of, "What does it symbolize for me? What is the importance here? What does it bring up for me?" And know that you will come through all of this as you have in the past. You will be creative.

There are ways of manifesting, of bringing together what needs to be in order to keep the physical structure.

But what you are bringing forth for yourself in front of yourself, is the treasure of abiding with the question, "What does it symbolize for me? What is the deeper message here?" That is truly what you are doing.

In the physical going away from this place you are also seeing that you can go away and it will still be in order. That you do not have to be physically present in order to control, as the ego would like to do, that you can allow it to be in its own order.

The two of you have a shared experience, yes, but your mother in this lifetime, also has aspects of this experience that she desires to come through on her own, and she will. She has grand strength.

Yes, she does.

Indeed, and this will bring it into clarity for her.

Do you think that the lesson, I mean, I guess I don't know if there is a lesson but I suppose between joining yourself in the home that is within to the external home, the connection that is there of saying, Oh, I have to let go of this and allow whatever will happen will happen, as I have to let go of this to allow. Is it sort of a parallel lesson? You know, because we live in a tangible world and it is a tangible lesson for me to say, I have to give this up and say, I have to let this go and release this because I will be taken care of by the Grand Weaver, as you say. As I have to allow myself to open up and let go and open my home. Does this make sense to you?

Yes, beloved one.

I don't know if I'm making any sense.

What you manifest in what is seen as the outer is picturing for you what is going on in the inner. That is why you have the form, the structure, even what is known as the house. That is why you have the body. It is to picture for you, seemingly outside of you and yet, it is not outside of you for you are the consciousness that is calling it forth in every moment.

But it is to give you a clear picture of what is going on in the inner. What you truly believe about yourself and about the one known as the mother and about what the world is for and how it structures itself.

You re the one who is calling forth always what you experience. It is not that you need to release and give up the home in the outer in order to know the home in the inner. But it is for you to get your priorities, as they say, to get that straight. To sit with what is coming up for you and to see what is of importance, what it is symbolizing for you.

It is not necessary, beloved one, to give up anything except the belief in separation. The belief that you could be other than the holy Child. That must be given up and it will in time. But you need not give up the physical structure. You are very much the one who is manifesting the physical structure from the energy of your consciousness. You are the one that is calling it forth. You are the one who recognizes it as a physical structure. It would not be there without your consciousness and what you would see as the shared consciousness of others who perhaps might walk into the wall if they went up to it. That is a shared consciousness that you have agreed on as the larger aspect of the one holy Child who thinks herself to be somewhat separate. If you understand all of that.

Yes.

Anyway, you need not give up, but you need to come unto a place of clarity of understanding who you are and how things manifest. You need not give up anything except the belief that you are other than the holy Child.

Well, it's happening. Little by little.

And it is, it is very much in a process of being claimed. You are doing well with it. Thank you.

Even as you manifest, all of you, even as you manifest the experiences that seem to be of loss, of challenge, congratulate yourself for you are saying, "I am at a place now of strength and enough wisdom that I can look upon this circumstance and not be devastated by it."

Oh, I must be jam packed with it.

You are doing very well.

Beloved brother, how are you doing in this evening?

I'm doing well, thank you, and you?

Oh, excellent. What would you ask this evening?

I don't know if it's ask as much as reminiscing and reflect.

Indeed, let us.

Recent events that have created lots of awakening with lots of people, both losing and gaining in the same instant.

Indeed.

A very beloved friend, whom I lived with and the outrageous dramas that sometimes are played and the ways people choose to take their own lives.

To lay down the body.

Yeah, to lay down the body. And going through the horror of discovering that, of moving through that experience. At the same instant being with that in two worlds at the same time. Seeing the horror and feeling the powerlessness of trying to breathe the breath of life back into one who is already blown away.

He gave you a grand gift in that.

Oh, yeah. Yeah.

He gave it to you because he know you were strong enough to see beyond the appearance. That yes, there would be the trauma, the surprise, the shock, as there is. But he knew, he chose you. Yes, go on.

I knew that from our first meeting, too, because I had seen the same back then.

Indeed, there was preparation.

Yeah. And it's been a wild and wonderful journey the past two weeks being enraptured by so many angels both, in both worlds. Those abiding here and so many wrapped around me in this room and so much love and all of the grand legions of angels that have been with us through all of this.

And just trying to come back to a calm center that moves beyond the great battle of light and darkness as seemingly taking place and moving through that to other energies that are still being forced upon us to deal with from others. Trying not to choose, not to fall prey to those energies and those fears.

As you have said, you remain centered in the Truth of your being.

And moving beyond that dualism, that outer play and even interplay in the Spirit world, the interplay of light and darkness. Moving through that to the grand Light that's beyond it all. But it's been a wild and wonderful journey and rediscovering what I know all along that we move from life to life to life.

Indeed. And play out many roles and play out many dramas.

Yes. This one even in his choice upon this plane was a great actor, yes. He still is. This one is as you have felt very much present in this room this evening always with you. Very much alive and well.

This one had within his mind with the point of focus upon this plane, had a question as to his wholeness. Had not taken unto himself the claiming of his wholeness and questioned, "Who am I? How much is there to me?"

Every day....

Indeed. He has come unto a place very rapidly, almost as you would see it, instantly, and yet, there was for him a slow motion in going through this process, has come unto a place of knowing the Love that he is. He is where he desired to be in knowing the Love that he is. The Love that he did not recognize himself to be, and could not quite accept from others.

He is come now to a place of feeling freedom where he can accept the Love that he is, and in doing that he sees himself very much as the free flow of Love that goes very much like osmosis, not seeing separation. It is a gift that he has given unto himself, albeit through very dramatic means, but he knew you were strong enough and that the network of the friends was strong enough to bear this.

For indeed, if you will receive it, all of you who have shared in this, have gone through the same experience with this one in other lifetimes and you have also done the same for this one in other lifetimes. You have often been as the nomadic tribes that travelled together and sometimes were decimated by others, and you all found yourself, "Ah ha, we are the Light again. How did this happen?"

{Laughter}

And you give unto each other the gift of remembering that again.

And even in the midst of that was, I guess Saturday was one of another absolutely wonderful great experience that we were all moving. Our friend, Della and the tree devas and the solar angels came spinning in and just circle and circle and circle of Love and crowding in and just watching the wonderful beauty of the intricate web being woven between all of us. Not woven, because it already is woven, but being strengthened so much and seeing so much beautiful vision for everyone as part of the circle.

Yes.

So I thank you and all of holy ones of God that have been with us through all of this.

Thank yourself, beloved one, for you are the holy One. And as we said earlier: your holiness.

{Laughter and comments}

Beloved butterfly upon this plane. How are you this evening?

My heart is full.

Indeed. What would you ask this evening or what would you share?

I don't even know. You weren't kidding when you said, changing the outer, the last time we shared this space.

Yes. There's been quite a few.

Many changes in what you would see as a short time. For you as the holy Child have decreed that you are done with the slow motion that you are done with waiting. "I will have it and I will know it now." And so as the holy Daughter decrees, it happens.

Living with my aunt and uncle and wondering if there is anything more I could be doing. I'm not there very much. I feel I'm there to serve them in some way but I'm not sure how.

Even your presence, beloved one, when the body is not physically present is felt. The Light that you are, the oneness of Love that you are is as a breath of fresh air for them. It reminds them of who they are. Allow yourself to share with them when you are there, yes, the oneness, the simplicity of Love. For Love is not complex, as you know.

Allow yourself to share that with them as the opportunity arises and also when you are in another place, as it would be, send your Love unto them. You are very much supporting them even though the physical body may not be in the home even at this moment, as we speak of them. Since there is no separation they feel your Love. They have called you to them. They have called you to them to remind them of the Love, of the childlike quality of Love that they are as well.

There is a very strong bond of Love at a deep level that has been there for what you would see as many many lifetimes and it is not by accident that you are again together in what you would see as a family relationship. It has often been thus, and there is a very deep bond of Love that is there.

But they have called you at this time to remind them of the simplicity of Love, of the joy of youth. Of how it can be to smile at a morning and you will say, "Well there are some mornings I don't smile as much."

{Loud laughter}

And yet, beloved one, you share with them the smile of the morning when they see you for that is what they behold and it is in the eye of the beholder, is it not?

Uh huh.

Also you are providing for them an opportunity for service.

That's what I was hearing because my father had always helped them and they wanted to help me.

Yes. You will not be abiding in that physical space for what you will see as the rest of your life.

I hope not.

Indeed. There will be a change.

I have a broader vision.

Indeed.

Than a basement.

Exactly. You desire to live from the mountaintop and to have the view from the top of the mountain, which of course, you do. And when we next meet you will find yourself again, with changes, many changes in the time interval. Many good changes. You do not need to fear them. You have not feared the ones in the past. Some of them have required some physical effort of moving, yes, a bit of a nuisance, but then you have the friends and you have been as friend to others. This is very much a two way street.Yeah.

You do not mind giving. You enjoy giving. Others of your friends, enjoy giving to you.

I am very blessed.

Indeed. It is very much a shared love, yes. But there will be as you have already discerned, there will be many changes in the next time interval until we meet again in this manner. For you welcome them. You want the changes. You have decreed, "I will come Home. I will do what it takes," and they do not need to be traumatic. They will not be. They will be gentle.

Things really weren't too bad, really.

For you, very good, beloved one.

Well, it was like Maria was talking about, you know what the home represents and I really had found from that that if even all of my little favorite things, well some of them are, I didn't leave my rocks unpacked. My rocks are with me. If all my things weren't with me it wasn't the end of the world. That was to come to.

Good discernment, yes. For you carry it with you always as you, and you can re-manifest as you have proved to yourself, what is it two times in the last time interval? That you can re-manifest the roof above the head that will keep the gentle rain off of you as you see. And even if the gentle rain were to fall upon the head as you slept...

I would love it.

Indeed, but there are certain things that are more comfortable to the body and you manifest those as you need them. This is one of the things that you desired to prove to yourself, also you desired to prove to yourself the network, the very strong network of support and love that you and the group of ones, the friends, have for each other.

This is coming into play, I would use that word advisedly, it has come into play many many times in the last six months of your timing. You being there for them, they are there for you. Grand strength. You are showing to yourself, all of the group of friends so gathered here, the oneness that you are. The support.

That's all I think any of us really wanted.

Indeed, there you go.

To know who we are. To know why we are here, and to know that they have in fact, already happened. I couldn't ask for anything more.

There you go, claim it. No longer need to ask. Just claim.

And to know that you are there.

Always.

And you never went away.

Never, never. The religious organizations and the holy fathers, as they have been termed, saw fit to put me upon a cross. Some still hold me upon the cross or put me afar off to get rid of me. I am not gone. I am still just as much a troublemaker as I was then, and I love you greatly.

Wonderful counselor.

That's what you are. You are coming into your strength as a counselor, you have seen that.

Hello.

Hello, beloved one. {Hugging} What would you ask this evening?

Just to be, what more could there be? You are always there.

Yes, it is a grand place to abide when the questions of the mind have been stilled and you have come unto the place of peace within the heart and you recognize that that is all that is desired, is to abide as the peace, the very dynamic peace. It is not a dull peace. A very dynamic peace that connects you with the Allness that you are, the unlimited Love that you are. And from that springs the joy of the Child. From that springs the creativity that cannot wait to awaken in the morning which is symbolic. Cannot wait to awaken in the morning and say, "What shall I do in this day? Where shall I go? Who will I see? What will I create?" For indeed, every morning in your timing you create the day as you see it before you.

All of you, allow yourselves in the morning before you take the head from the pillow, allow yourself just to play with the idea, "How would I like to create this day?" Envision it. See it in Light. See it in joy. Even if you know that you must go unto the beloved employer and ask for a raise, even if you must meet to the most grouchy person you can imagine upon the face of the earth, be as this one and send the Light before you.

Envision your day, play with it. How would you create it for indeed you do create it moment by moment, and even if you find that you get up then having this great vision of how the day will be and you put the foot upon the floor and the rug slips out from underneath you and you say, "Oh, my God. A bad omen." See it for the beautiful ride that you have just taken.

{Loud laughter}

And rejoice. Do not allow it to color the rest of your day as a tragedy, but abide in the creativity of the Child that you are. Everyday is a gift that you give unto yourself.

That's true.

Make it holy. See it in holiness. See it in the wholeness that it is. Proclaim it to be good, for it is, and it will be good, and when you come unto the evening of that day and you lay your head upon the pillow, allow yourself to thank the holy Child that you are for all of the blessings, for all of the treasures in that day, even the slipping upon the rug, or whatever else happens in that day. And to thank yourself for the creativity of the Child that you are, and then envision what you would see as the rest of this lifetime and call it good for it is.

All of you are awakening and coming unto the place of knowing that you are much more than the body, which is a beautiful body, but you are much more than the body and much more than the personality that you identify yourself with. Much more than what the beloved employer sees you as. Sometimes that image can be most limiting.

Allow yourself to see past that. Allow yourself to experience the exhilaration of life upon this plane. For that is why you chose to be here, not as punishment. Not even as lessons to be learned, but just to abide in joy. To abide as the Child that you are and to express all of life and Light upon this plane. To abide with the visions and what they symbolize. The wholeness that you are, the healing that comes forth for having the courage to look upon issues, as they are called. For having the courage to express in different forms, to look beyond appearances to the masters that are upon this plane.

Not the masters that you would see as ascended perfection, but the masters who sit right before me in this room. All of you, grand masters. Enjoy what you bring forth as you have been doing, as you have seen past appearance that the world would speak would be of tragedy and yet, there have been the eyes to look past tragedy. To look past limitation and to say, "I claim, I claim the gifts of this experience. I do not hide my head in sorrow, but I have the courage of the Child to keep the chin up and to claim the gifts that are in this experience."

And in doing that, all of you have experienced a grand treasure and it will not stop. As you have already seen, it grows and it touches, it reaches out and it touches brothers and sisters who are not even in this room. Ones who have heard, have the experience. Ones who are not even in what you would see as this realm of experience expressing with the physical body. Those have been touched as well.

You are truly unlimited in your expression and there is no separation. You are very much as the spider web that we spoke of earlier, each one connected to the other one and even more connected than what you see the spider web to be, for you are the grand ray of Light and as Light, cannot be separated. You cannot be separated.

The energy of this one blends with this one and this one, with all of the room and beyond. Take heart, that is the message of this evening, "Take Heart." Allow yourselves to abide as the grant heart that you are. As the pioneers, yes, we will call you the pioneers of heart. Take heart into everyday of your experience and call it good for it is.

You have chosen to be here. You have chosen to be the pioneers of heart and to bring unto the brothers and sisters the hope and the joy of heart.

And when the voice of the world would knock on the door of your mind, will clamor for attention, would speak to you of separation and confusion, of doubt, of sorrow. Allow yourself to return quickly unto the place of the heart. Breathe the golden white Light that you are. One deep breath of the golden white Light that you are. You afford yourself the opportunity to come Home. It is that simple.

Then you may choose again to go back out into the world and to do your dance with the world. That is okay. But one deep breath allows you the opportunity to connect with the Light that you are. Abide in the heart. In the peace and in the stillness and listen for the still small voice, which is not apart from you. It is your inner wisdom coming forth. The inner wisdom that is termed, insight.

Know that I go with you always. There is no separation. I am not afar off. I am not crucified upon the cross. I am not even what you would see as ascended to our Father to a far off place where I sit in judgment. Never do I sit in judgment. Always I am with you.

Whenever you would turn the focus of your attention unto me and you will call upon me, instantly I am with you. That is how simple it is. And as you allow yourself to abide in the heart you are, there we abide as the One that we are and it is in grand joy that we express.

So be it.
