

The Gospel of the Second Coming

1994-10-17

To the Urantia Group

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of Light divine. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph, Yeshua, she never gets it right. Also you have called me Jesus. And it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing, as you have chosen to turn the focus of your attention unto me.

I have desired to be amongst you once again. I have desired to reach out and touch and bless with the touching, which you do every time. Do you know that every time you reach out and you touch, do you know that every time you reach out and embrace someone you bless them. For in that embrace you are recognizing the oneness that you are. You are recognizing the oneness of energy for as I do this there is the interchange and the flow of energy, yes. It is not that I need touch for indeed your energy extends far beyond the body.

But as you do that you remind yourself of the energy that you are. The energy of the One, the one great ray of Light that we are. Seemingly separate, seemingly individual, each one with a point of focus that is seen and interpreted by the brothers and sisters to be unique and yet, it is very much as you would see the great ray of light that goes through a prism and comes out as you would see the different colors. But as you go back through the prism it is seen to be the one ray of light. That is who you are.

The miracle is that you can focus so intently upon what you see as this time and this space and bring your energy in such clarity that you identify as the body and as the personality that you allow to develop. And grand it is, for as I behold your radiance I see many points of Light. Many joyous points of radiance. All desiring and all very much on the path to coming Home. To the place where you know, yes, that you are expressing as the one great ray of Light and that you are expressing as the seeming individuality that you are and yet, you will go in the days to come very much in tune with the brothers and sisters.

Already you have this ability, for you will sit with a friend who is in sorrow or in confusion with questions in the mind. And you will sit with that one and as they pour forth their heart you can, as your world would say, you can relate. You know your oneness with their questions, with the confusion that arises from the heart and your heart open to them and sometimes you have felt a oneness. You have felt a caring and you have said to yourself, "I do not know what to say to this one. I wish I knew what to say." You have felt that in the heart.

And you have opened the mouth and you have started speaking and what has come forth has been words of comfort that has sustained and nourished that one. That has allowed that one to see a grander vision, to look past just what was happening in the front of the face. What was seemingly happening around them in that moment, and they have seen that there is hope. That there is Light, and beyond that that they are Light.

Each one of you has done that for a friend. Each one of you has received that from a friend, for you have gone and perhaps even the reason that you thought you were speaking to that one was something else and what has been shared with you has been exactly what you needed to hear. Has that ever happened, beloved one?

Many times, indeed. If you will receive it, there is a miracle here as your world would see a miracle, for if you will receive it, it would not matter what the words were that were spoken. What matters is the openness of heart and the caring, the intent, the desire. For even as we speak the words, each one of you is very much as a receiver. What you would see as like your radio stations or your television stations. Each one of you receives exactly what you are in alignment with. Exactly what you are in attunement with.

One could be standing in a group of people. Each one knowing and understanding their own language, the language of the world. The words. In a group of people and there would be one speaker speaking and each one would hear in his or her own language and you would say, "That is a miracle." And truly, the way the world judges, that is a miracle.

If you will receive it, that is what is happening even now in this evening. What is being spoken through the mouth of my beloved friend and teacher are sounds, vibrations. Each one of you perceives what is being said slightly differently from the one who sits beside you on one side and on the other side. Each one of you hears the vibration and receives exactly what you are calling forth. That is how unlimited, how powerful you are.

That is why I have told my beloved friend and teacher that it is very difficult to say what is going to be spoken in the evening for all of you call forth what you desire to be reminded of. There are not what you would see as lessons to be learned, but more it is to remember. For all wisdom abides within you. For you are not separate from the wisdom that you seek.

All of you have had a puzzle at times, something that you were working on and you have allowed the mind to get very busy. Sometimes the mind will look like this, all twisted up because it is working so hard to find the answer. And then you say, "Oh, what the heck," and you go off somewhere and you allow the mind to be at peace. Perhaps focusing on something else and all of a sudden the answer has come in.

Of course the answer was there all the time. For you are the wisdom that you seek. Even in the receiving of what you would see as messages from other masters, other beings. You are calling that forth in order to remind yourself of the unlimitedness of you which is not separate from you. And it is a grand reminder.

For truly you are much more than this point of focus. This is but a percentage, a very small percentage of who you are. Even now, beloved ones, as we speak and you have your point of focus within this lovely beautiful room, you are expressing upon what you would see as other dimensions, other worlds, other realities - with a small "r". Future times as you would see future times to be and past times as you would see past times to be.

In what you are calling your days to come, your future, you will find it more and more easy to tune into other realities, as you call them. Alternate realities, possible realities and it is exciting. It is what all of you have dreamed of. You have had dreams of knowing all. You have had dreams of being unfettered, of flying. Even the physical feeling of flying in a dream. Do you know where that comes from? It comes from a remembrance.

Yes, it is symbolic and yes, it is remembrance. For all of you have experienced flying in whatever design pattern you would choose. For you have been the beautiful, what you call the birds. You have been, you have expressed. That is why there is a relatedness that you can feel.

But more than that you have been as what you would call the angels and you are even now, the angel. And beyond what you would see as the form of the angel is your true Being, the Light that you are. Even the angels themselves know that they are but a curtain, a veil, a form that has come into a point of focus much as you do right now.

The holy Child, which is you, all of us as one. It is not just one Jeshua ben Joseph. The holy Child desired to experience all. The holy Child abiding within the Father's Kingdom asked of himself, itself, herself - we will not have gender here - "What can I create?" For the holy Child being the Child of the One Creator is very creative. And with that one thought of, "What can I create," all worlds were born. All dimensions as you would call them. All claims of expression and experience. Everything that you can imagine and beyond was born. And the journey which is a journey without distance, for indeed you have never left our Father's Kingdom, began. Began within the mind of the holy Child.

This is what you see in front of you right now, a world among many. A world where you see density of vibration for indeed all is in vibration. All is of the Light for there is nothing created that is not of Light. But as you have brought it forth there has been a density of vibration and you have brought it into form and having created you wondered, I wondered, "What would it feel like to experience my creations? What would it feel like to express with the design pattern of an angel taking form? What would it feel like to be the angel upon this plane and to fly in between my creation of what are known as the trees?" And you came, I came, and we flew as the Light beings we are in between the trees.

Some with more agility than others for indeed, one of my beloved brothers known as Ramtha, the Ram, in his first experience flew into a tree. For the experience of seeing how that felt and he woke up. Decided not to try that again.

Many times the creations as form became more dense, the creations that we had brought forth known as the animals decided that you would be a tasty bit and you choose to allow them to have the body and they made a meal of it. And you decided there needed to be some perfection here. You have a saying, "Back to the drawing board."

But in what you would see as the evolution of time there became more and more of an intensity of focus upon the matter, the molecules of physicality known as the hard stuff and the soft. To the point where it was forgotten that it is the Light that activates the matter.

What you are doing now is a process, as you would see process to be, of remembering. Of remembering that you are the Light that activates your creation. That activates the matter. You are the energy that walks it about. For indeed, all of you have seen when the body is laid down and the form is there. You have spoken of how it appears different. That the energy that activated it did not seem to be there. It was very much there but it was not activating it.

That is why you have gone unto some of your, as they are called, memorial services for ones who have laid down the body and you have felt very strongly the presence of aunt Ruth, uncle Jack. You have felt that they were there. Truly, they were. Sometimes much to their surprise for they had thought that perhaps instantly they would be transported unto another realm to see Saint Peter and the Pearly Gates and here they are attending their own memorial service. It has been a bit of an eye opener for them, the spiritual eyes.

For indeed, this is but one plane of experience, of expression. It has not been a mistake. Often your religious orders would say that there has been a fall from grace and that you have sinned and somehow you have been left out of the Garden in order to do, heaven knows what. Penance, and you have asked, "How many times? How long do I have to do this?" And there have been varying answers.

It was all by design for we chose to create. We chose to experience as you are choosing now and we choose even before time began to remember. And what you are hearing now is your own wake up call. You left a message at the desk, so to speak, of a wake up call and said, "When I have gone far enough into the experience of density, into the experience of Light at that vibratory rate," in the illusion that it is, a grand illusion though, "I will begin to remember," and that is what is happening now.

That is why there is so much of the Light that is seeping into your language. Into your media. Into your advertisements. Into the product that you ingest. All of this attention on the Light products. Hints, reminders. Light beer. Do you like light beer? I prefer the wine myself.

That is why there is so much that is coming to your attention of the angelic beings. Have you noticed in the last year of your timing so many of the books that are coming out even the programs on your square box talk about the experiences with angels and angelic beings. You are reminding yourself of who you are. So it is received. It is of the Light and you allow the brothers and sisters to remember who they are. Who we are.

It has been by design for the holy Child desired to experience in this point of focus that you do so well, has desired to experience form. Form in its density, in its beauty. You bring forth the colors. You bring forth what is known as the art to show yourself even in the colors that are used. To remind yourself of the great ray of Light that you are seemingly expressed through the prism.

And the fall from grace has not been a sin. The fall from grace has been the temporary forgetting. Again by design. Not because you are lowly creatures, but it has been by design in order to focus so intently upon what you are experiencing that there could be no doubt about what it feels like to place the body somewhere and then the feeling to get the body up and to do all of the activities that you do.

The fall from grace has not been a sin. There has been much talk in your religious orders of sin and it has been used down through what you would see as the ages as a very controlling way and you have been the priestess who used the concept of sin and you have been the one who has come around the next time round as you would see it and has experienced being the one who was told that you were a lowly sinner.

And yet, at the same moment there was and still is the still small voice within the heart that has cried out and said, "No, surely I am more. Surely there is more." And that is where you are now. You are saying, "I know that there is more. I will claim my divine birthright. I will claim the Light that I am."

There comes, rapidly now, a time of great joy upon this plane for you have decreed that you have experienced enough of the sorrow and the confusion. Enough of the questions, for indeed the whole purpose of experiencing even what we have spoken of, of the controlling measures, of the fall from grace and the sin. The original sin and you have said, "Who did this originally? I wasn't there." And indeed, you were there as the one who chose to experience. The one who chose to experience completely.

But the whole purpose of the concept of sin and guilt has been to bring you to the place where finally you would say as you are saying now in this lifetime, "No. That is not who I am. I am not a lowly sinner. I am much more than what others have said." You have allowed the still small voice within the heart to be heard and to be recognized.

That is the whole purpose of the idea of sin and guilt, is to finally bring the sleeping Child to the place where he or she begins to thrash about a bit and say, "No. No, that is not the Truth of my being." And you are waking up.

Some waking up in a very gentle way, a very gradual way searching out the books that come to hand, the friends that speak the words that excite the heart, that excite the mind. Others being more as the child who is in the midst of the nightmare and will thrash about a bit in the bed clothes before they awaken, either way the awakening is upon us and it is a grand time.

That is my gospel. That is my good news. It is not the gospel of my birth, the fact that I came and expressed amongst you as one Jeshua ben Joseph. It is not even the gospel of the resurrection and ascension, except to show you that even grander things than these shall you do and you are in the midst of doing them right now.

It is not that you have to wait for some future time for what is called the Second Coming, when I shall descend from a cloud somewhere and gather you all up in my arms and take you back to wherever you see that to be. No, my gospel is that right now you are waking up. Right now is the Second Coming as you allow yourself to remember the first coming. As you allow yourself to connect with the Light and the Love that you are and to know that you are coming into the full awareness and the realization. Making real upon this plane what is already real. Coming to that awareness. That is the Second Coming. Coming into the realization of total awareness of your unlimited being.

Now does that mean that you will instantly lay down the body and go poof? No. Not unless you choose to do that. For indeed it is not necessary that you all follow the one example of ascension in order to come Home. When I speak of one example I am speaking of my example as Jeshua ben Joseph for indeed there have been many masters upon this plane who have ascended. It is just that you are within a culture which focuses upon what is known as Christianity and all of that for a purpose as well. For the purpose of remembering the Christ that you are.

Again, there has been the development of the habit of the intense focus which has brought again the focus unto one personality as the Christ. It has been part of that practicing of the intensity of focus that you do so well in identifying with who you think you are right now. You have translated that over to thinking that there would be one Christ and indeed there is one Christ. But the one Christ expresses as many. Seemingly.

But you are all in process of waking up and experiencing the Second Coming and this does not mean the laying down of the body. It does not mean the going poof, of the body or ascending as the Light that you are although some may choose to do that and it is a grand experience. But it is not necessary to do that in order to come Home.

For indeed you come Home momentarily as you choose to abide in the peace and the Love that you are. Each time you choose to allow the heart to open and to see the oneness with a brother or sister. Even the oneness with what you would see as the beloved pet. When you allow the heart to open you come Home. And you may choose to abide at Home or in the next moment you may choose to come again and play with the activity of the world. The constriction sometimes of the world that would say that there are certain deadlines and they are deadly if you get caught up into them. Certain "shoulds" and "ought to's". Especially the "have to's."

But you are all getting to the place where you are allowing yourselves to ask, "Who says I have to?" And after you have gone through your list of all the ones you think are saying that you "have to," you have come back to the one that matters and you have said, "Perhaps I can choose anew." And you do.

Then you allow yourself a moment to enjoy the beauty that you have created around you. The beauty of our Holy Mother, the Earth and to see it pictured in the clouds. To capture it for someone else in the painting. Marvelous beauty and you surround yourself with it every moment. And even more than that, you surround yourself with it in every moment as you behold the brothers and sisters. There is grand beauty in that.

So in the Second Coming it is not necessary that you lay down the body or that you deny the body or that you ascend the body. The Second Coming is the remembrance of who you are. Allowing that to be expressed and experienced in openness of heart, in full realization in every moment. Beholding whoever stands in front of you as the Light that they are looking beyond form for indeed, form is just a vehicle that you use to express in a language yet, that is understandable by the brothers and sisters.

That is why you express with the body. So that they will see with what they still believe to be a truth with the physical eyes, they will see a form that speaks to them in what they think is the words that they understand and they can relate to that and they are coming Home as well.

But when you stand in front of one and you behold not the form, but you behold the Light, the Light blob, we will call it. Imagine a Light blob. That is who stands before you. The Light that they are.

Then you may look upon the design pattern that they have chosen and everyone has chosen a beautiful design pattern, and you embellish it. Beautiful. It is a work of art. Many of you spend time doing a work of art every morning in your timing. Why? So that you can show forth to your brothers and sisters the beauty that is all around them.

Look at this beautiful one. Delightful. Delightful. Spend more time being in delight with each one of the brothers and sisters. Allow yourself the freedom to be outrageous. To go up and to do this. {Messing up the hair.} How often have you allowed yourself to go up to one who is beautiful coiffed and to do this? It is unthinkable.

The person may have spent a whole bag of the golden coins have this beautiful coif and you go up and you do this to it. Ah, outrageous. And yet in doing that you allow yourself to say, "I know who you are. The Christ that I am greets the Christ that you are." That is what it is all about. It is allowing the heart to open and to say in joy, spontaneous joy that is not held back. Unconditional love and joy and says, "It matters not what the form is. Your form is beautiful, but what I behold is the Light that you are and the fluidity of that Light how it goes about."

And I will share with you, that as you focus upon the Light even your own Light and you allow yourself to identify with the fluidity of that Light, the aches and pain held within the body will be dissolved. For you will see that you go with an ease. An ease of the Love that you are and you will flow very much as the angelic being that you are.

You do this even now in what would be termed your imagination. For as you, beloved brother would behold the beautiful strength of the tree and as you imagine, "What does the vision look like from the top of that tree?" Instantly you are there. You can feel what it would look like, what it would feel like to be at the top of that tree. What the view would be from the top of that tree. How do you know that? Have you ever climbed that tree? Physically climbed that tree to the top? No, perhaps not. But you know, all of you have a vision of what it would look like to be at the top of the tree and to see a grander vision.

Now, if you are just this point of focus how do you know that? You are unlimited. You are beautiful. Everyone of you expressing as the sparkle of Light upon this plane. Each and everyone of you wearing what is known as the beautiful jewelry in order to catch the light, to remind yourself and your brothers and sisters. You wear it across the chest, around the neck. You as the reminder of, "This is who I am."

That is why you wear the beautiful works of art that says, "I travel to the stars, to the moon in my imagination," which is you, "I travel. I listen to the sound that you make." Indeed, all of you express with a light vibration that you are which can be heard and measured as sound as well.

Now your scientists are able to measure even in this day and time, the Light that is emitted around the body. It is termed the aura and it can be measured and it can be photographed even in this day and time. The energy that you are can be hooked up to one of your mechanical devices and made to run one of your little trains, cars, little toy things. Or to light a small lightbulb.

In the days to come you will be able to hear your own vibration. It will be a hum. Hopefully it will not be too chaotic, although there are times, there are times when you have gotten so much into your own energy and you have expressed it in such velocity, intensity that indeed, if you could hear and you did hear the tone from here, but if you could hear your vibration at that time it would be most chaotic.

There is coming a time when your scientists and the technology, as it is called, they will measure, photograph, record, already you are on the threshold of this, the energy that we are. There is coming a time when it will be most visible even to the physical eyes and to the physical ears. You will be able to hear and you will remember.

You will remember that we are the vibration of Light. That we are the One and you will come Home. And in that is the Second Coming. It need not be awaited for. It need not be, what you would see as, another lifetime. It need not be something that is heralded by the angels, but indeed, it will be. It will be heralded by you as the angel that you are and brought very much to this plane by your awareness. That is the Gospel of the Second Coming.

It is right here right now. That is why you have so gathered in this evening in order to look about and to know that the energy that you are is very much shared with others that you would see to be seeking, to know. To know the One that you are.

That is why you meet one and you feel an alignment with one. Why you feel as family with one. For you are coming Home, and in that coming Home is the Second Coming. The Second Coming is the remembering of the First Coming and it is a time of grand celebration.

Now, as I understand this evening to be after I have had my long moment of greeting, this evening is to be one of questions. So we will entertain the questions if there be. I would ask if you need to get up and walk about or shall we continue? What is your pleasure?

I think we need to get up and walk about.

A good idea. We will have a short break.

Very short.

{Break}

The angelic tones. Now we begin. We continue, we have already begun. We continue.

Beloved one, are you cool?

A little bit.

Ah, how are you this evening?

Wonderful.

You are indeed, wonderful. You have begun a new venture. Actually an old venture. It is something that you have done in other lifetimes and have enjoyed.

Thanks.

You are very much the one who is able to bring together talents, abilities of others and to integrate them into the whole. And do you see what you are symbolizing and bringing unto yourself by doing that? Very much able to integrate all of the seeming aspects of the one holy Child to present unto others and yourself, the whole that you are. Would you have a question this evening? It is not necessary but if you wish to you may.

I'll probably think of one later. Can I have one later?

You can indeed, for you are the one who is calling forth this evening and it would not be denied to you.

Beloved sparkly one, the one I have heard who drives as a wild woman.

{Laughter}

Yes, the word gets about even in what you would see as the etheric realm.

Oh my goodness.

How are you this evening?

Great.

You are great. Do you have a question this evening?

I wanted to know if Miriam was your sister?

Yes, Miriam is my sister in that all have a relationship with each other. As it was seen upon this realm, she was my helpmate, the love of that lifetime. Very much what has been known as the concept of the soulmate, for indeed she is my soulmate as you are.

Thank you.

You are welcome. It is what you deserve. It is who you are, so yes, Miriam was my sister as our Father is the One Father. There have been what you would see as the incarnations, the taking on of the molecules of physicality in which she was my biological sister. For indeed, the incarnation as Yeshua was not the only one that I had. Many times I had come and collected the molecules of matter unto myself in order to express, to enjoy, to experience the Love of brother and sister. The Love of our Holy Mother, the Earth, to hear the wind one more time with the physical ears. To put the feet into the flowing water. To feel the energy of the flowing water, many times.

They have not been what you would know as recorded. Did not come down through the Holy Scriptures that you have in this day and time, although in what is known as the Akashic records, it is very much recorded there. Many times I have come and expressed upon this plane. Even now I do for what is known as a time interval I will assume a form. I will sit next to one upon a park bench. One who is in sorrow or in confusion. One who is calling out to me and yet would not believe if they heard. Would not hear me if I answered their prayer.

So I come and I collect the molecules of physicality to me and I come very quietly, not with grand show. I come as a brother and I sit next on a park bench. I stand next to one at one of your shopping malls. One who may be thinking of, "What should I do next? Shall I lay down the body? What will my little children do if I lay down the body?" And I stand there sometimes as a woman so that they may feel that I am approachable and they speak unto me and I can share from the one heart that we are, the grander vision. The encouragement that says you are free to choose, for indeed, the small children do not have to have you. They are grand masters the same as you. But perhaps you would enjoy the expressing and the experiencing with them a bit longer. But it is a free choice, and then the one goes on their way feeling a bit lighter in heart and when they turn around to think, "Who was that?" I am gone. Indeed.

Thank you, beloved one.

Thank you, beloved one, for opening your heart and your home to me and to the ones so gathered here this evening. For indeed you are true of heart and joy. Would you have a question this evening?

I do.

I knew that you would.

Yes. I would give anything if I could remember if I saw you when you were here as Jesus. I would love to break through into that memory because I think you've told us that I did see you perhaps in the distance somewhere, sometime.

You did.

And I'd love to break through into that memory. That would be a prize for me.

Ah, beloved one. Allow yourself in your next quiet moment to play at being the one who would put together a story, a video and to allow the scene to play before you. Try on various roles, various scenes. See how they feel, for indeed, you will find that there will be a thread that will feel true.

Start with the feet. Visualize how the feet looked in those days. What you were wearing upon the feet, for indeed as you start with the feet you will see yourself very much grounded in this plane but then you will come up, as you would see it, throughout the rest of the body as to what you are wearing and then you will see through those eyes.

Allow yourself to write, as it would be, a story for one. Do not worry about whether it is true or not. That comes later, but write it with grand imagination. Feel free. Do not judge or edit in the beginning. Then go back and read it over. There will be parts of it that will really resonate, as they say, with the heart. Other parts you may feel need a bit changing, a bit cutting the material to a different shape, a different form. That you can do in the editing, as it would be, but start with the feet.

Visualize how the feet look. It will also show you where you are standing at that moment, and then allow yourself to work up through the body, through the raiment till you come to the eyes and then look out of those eyes and record what you see. There will be a flood of remembrance that will come back, for indeed you did see me from a distance. You also saw me close up for you were one of the ones who followed in the multitudes, as they have been called. One of the ones who was searching in the heart. One of the ones who said, "There must be more. Who is this strange man and what he has to say? It is strange, yet, it touches my heart for I know our Father is One."

Play with it, beloved one and you will have fun.

I will. This is enough, thank you.

Very good, beloved one, I am glad you feel good. It is good to know when we hit something right on.

Beloved brother, how are you?

Fine, thank you.

Indeed you are. Would you have a question this evening?

I really don't have anything profound.

Ah, well, we may start with something simple.

Just enjoying, watching, observing what is going on.

That is what it is all about as they say, just to be in the heart to enjoy, to live in that joy in every moment. Oftentimes the mind gets busy and says, "What should I be doing? How should I be presenting an image?" And you all assume different images for what you would see as different occasions, different social groups, different business groups even. And yet, you do not need to for the one that you are speaks very loudly through you no matter where you are.

Be in joy, beloved brother, for that is where we abide together as the One. Thank you.

Where's the beloved brother that plays the game with the little ball?

He's watching the football game.

{Laughter}

Of course.

I did once invite him a couple of times. I think that he knows so much already.

Indeed, he does, but I would follow up on our conversation of the, well I need a progress report as to how the white ball goes.

When the session is over I'll make sure he gives you one.

Good.

Beloved brother, good evening. How are you?

Wonderful.

You are indeed wonderful. Would you have a question this evening?

You just hit my favorite subject, the little white ball. How do we hit it straight?

Ah, indeed, the very same question that was asked by the beloved brother who is now watching the larger ball on the square box.

{Laughter}

It is to know yourself as the ball. To know yourself as that little white ball that you are about to hit. To know that you are the energy of the Light that is swinging the club and to see no separation. To visualize, as it is called in your world, being one with that ball as it is an extension of who you are. For indeed it is. You are calling it forth in order to play a game, sort of cat and mouse with it. To play a game, for you will stand there and say, "I do not know where this is going to go." But indeed you do.

So allow yourself to connect with the knowing that you already have and see yourself as the Light that follows through in the swing of hitting the ball and knowing that the ball will go true. As you practice this, knowing that you are one with the ball that you see in front of you, it symbolizes to you the Oneness that you are with all life and all of the creations that you have brought forth.

So in something as simple as, and yet it is complex is it not? A game of golf. You are symbolizing to yourself the Oneness of the Creator. For you are the creative holy Child who has thought up even this game and plays it with himself to the point where he says, "I do not know," and yet you do.

I enjoy being out of the golf course. Often I am called upon.

{Loud laughter}

Beloved daughter, how are you?

Wonderful.

You are wonderful. Would you have a question this evening?

Well I don't have anything so profound as the other people have, but there are many things that I am being made aware of.

Yes. Yes.

And one that is revealing itself more and more is that there are no coincidences. That so many things are happening, you know, but I want them to happen faster and I want to see an end to certain things.

Yes, and as you desire to see the end of certain things, you desire to see their transformation into the happy experience upon this plane. It is the holy Child saying, "Now I will come Home. Now I will know the Second Coming. I will know the joy of the Second Coming."

Indeed, for as you have discerned, there are no coincidences for you are the one who is calling everything forth. Everything that you see in your experience. Therefore, it is only as you would play a game with yourself and say, "I do not know how this integrates, how this relates with something else," and then you would see a separation or estrangement.

You are past that now. You are saying, "Oh, immediately I have thought of that and here it is. Immediately I thought of that one and now I hear from here." Of course, you are allowing the barriers, the belief in the separation to be let down, to dissolve and to know that instantly as you ask or you think of one, instantly it is there for you for you are the whole Mind of our Heavenly Father as you allow yourself to abide in the knowing of who you are.

Often times it has been the game of the holy Daughter or holy Son to play and to say that, "There is separation and I cannot possibly know what is going to happen, what is going to come." It has been a game. It has been part of the experience. But now you are saying, "I desire to know my oneness. I desire to come Home," and in that desire you will see all barriers dissolving and those that you have seen to be of a challenge, those that you see to be of a not so harmonious nature, going through their own issues, even they will transform before your very eyes as you behold them as the Christ that they are.

For indeed as you behold them as the holy Child of our Father that they are, you send out a vibration which touches them for there is no separation and at a very deep level it is received and it is felt and it allows the shifts in perception within what you would see as your mind and within the mind that you would see as their individual mind.

Again, it allows the shifts in perception and you will see all of your world transformed for that is what is in process of happening. That is what is accelerating upon this plane. It is the Second Coming and it happens in each moment as instantly you look upon the one who stands before you or the one who is speaking to you and you behold not the form. You behold not the issues. You behold not the behavior but instantly in a moment, you behold the Christ that they are.

Now it may stay or it may slip away but once you have beheld them as the Christ that they are it comes more quickly the second and third and fourth and one hundredth time and it stays longer. And in that you transform all of your world and as you do that it is contagious. It spreads out to others very much as the ripple effect and yet, even what you would see as the center is not void for all of the ripple is networked with all of the rest. Very much bonded, interlaced as one.

The impatience that you speak of is very much shared by all of the holy Child expressing upon this plane. For indeed you know at a very deep level of your being that you are beyond time. The time is of your making. That is why you feel it to be accelerating, because you are decreeing that it will change. Time is relative for you are calling it forth and you are defining even what it is.

But you remember in the depth of your being that instantly you can think a thought and it will manifest. You know that the belief in process where you see a beginning, and a middle, and an end is but part of this dream. It is part of the belief in time and that that is all it is, a belief.

And so you are even now speeding up your belief in what time is. Experiencing it differently. That is where the impatience comes from and it is very true. It is a messenger that says unto you, time is what you make of it. You have even that saying, indeed that is where the impatience comes from, the very depth of your being.

And yet, you have agreed that you will be here and you will be in step, as it would be, with the process of time. So allow yourself even in the impatience to be at peace for indeed, all unfold in its own order and its own time. Very much as you would see the petals of a flower that unfold in their own time.

You, beloved one, you see the bud in its full bloom and you ask, "Why is the rose not in full bloom in front of me?" And yet you may enjoy the process of the unfoldment as well. Thank you.

Beloved one who is most creative. How are you this evening?

I'm fine.

You are indeed, fine. Doubly blessed. What would you ask this evening?

Oh yes. I may ask what I need at the moment?

Ah, beloved one, you already have and know and are what you need in the moment.

I had a feeling he was going to say that.

You see, you already knew the answer. Indeed, I would share with you to allow yourself to abide in simplicity and in the heart. Allow yourself the joy of creativity upon all levels, yes, to take what would be the feeling of exhilaration in all of the fields of creativity and to know that joy and then to take the exhilaration even unto the place of peace within the heart and to abide with the order of creation.

For indeed, that is who you are and what is unfolding in front of you and as you is most in order. Allow yourself to be with the brothers and sisters in simplicity with them. Opening the heart, as you have done. Opening the vibration of the voice, the throat, the throat chakra. Opening what is known as the crown chakra, for indeed all of the chakras are open.

Allow the heart to nurture you for indeed there are times that you get caught up into all of what you want to do and you sometimes do not nurture yourself as much. Allow yourself to abide in simplicity for everything unfolds in its own order.

You may do what they say as pampering yourself. Take some time in every day for yourself. Some luxury that is not even what you would term spiritual, but just feels good for indeed everything is spiritual. Live in simplicity, beloved one. For indeed you have already connected with the one Mind that we are. Allow yourself not to get too constricted into activities and responsibilities, but nurture the body for it is your creation. Nurture the laughter that comes forth and play. That is your assignment.

I have asked only one thing that I would be able to give to Pearl. Those who are here this evening, the song to help them.

Indeed, we will have that as the closing and the opening, yes.

Beloved beautiful one, look at this art work. Beautiful. You are an artist. How are you this evening?

I'm good.

You are good. You are the gentleness upon this plane. Would you have a question this evening?

Not right now.

It is not necessary for I behold your radiance and it is beautiful. The gentleness that you show forth is your true nature for you allow yourself to abide in the one heart that we are. You put forth beauty upon the body. Beauty upon this plane with your smile. Beauty upon this plane with the words of comfort that you speak. Through the iridescence of the radiance, of the radiance of your Light.

You have contracted and agreed that you would be here. Not to suffer and to learn, you have already done that. You have contracted and agreed to be here in order to know the joy that you are. That is your divine birthright. Allow yourself to go as we spoke to this one, in the simplicity of every moment. For indeed, whatever you need to know comes forth in every moment does it not? Bless you. Very gentle hands.

Hi.

Hi, very good term. I like that. The symbolism in that is wondrous. What would you ask?

You must come and play golf on our golf course.

Indeed, I have already.

Well, with the cows. They are having one and I would ask for help in making it a place where everyone will enjoy it and be welcome.

Indeed.

And there will be a place of comfort.

Where do you think this ideas has come from? It is a shared idea. It is the idea from the one Mind as you would know it, to provide a place of beauty, a place where ones can experience the harmony of being out in what you would call nature. To experience the exhilaration of breathing in the out of doors.

It is an idea that is true, beloved one. It is much more than what you would see as a golf course, much more than what others will see in tangible form. For indeed as they allow themselves to be out in what they term, the vibration of our Holy Mother, the Earth, to feel the warmth of the angel of sun. Even to feel the gentle rain of the angel of water. They begin to remember who they are.

And as to the cows, beloved one, sometimes they play better golf than the golfers. For they do not take it so seriously.

That's right.

It is an idea that will bring about much healing. There will be many levels of manifestation. Many levels of coming Home with this. It is simplicity and it is, what you would see as, upon many levels as well.

For as you allow yourself to be out and to walk, there are many of the angels that have spoken unto you already. Many of the angels who will be there playing golf in their own way. Encouraging others to play golf and to remember their oneness. There is much more to the game of golf than just hitting the little white ball and wondering where it is going to go.

Thank you.

Thank you.

Beloved daughter, how are you?

Very good.

You are very good. If you will receive it, there is more of a radiance about you now than the last time we met. It is growing. What are you doing to yourself?

I am hanging out with the right people.

And you are allowing it to come forth, yes. What would you ask this evening?

I have thousands of questions. But I guess two that might be helpful is, helping me understand how healing works was done to use to others? That's one, and the other is I run into a lot of born again type Christians and I just don't understand what they are saying. Well, do you call on Jesus?

And indeed, you do.

I don't even know what they are saying. I can't understand them. I just, you know, it seems they don't understand what they are saying either, but they just talk in circles or is this my imagination? And help me with what's happening there for them and for me.

Indeed, beloved one, it is as you have discerned, they are searching to know who they are as well. And they are calling upon me, yes, to give them the answers. They are calling upon a certain methodology, a certain avenue, a certain language and when I answer them they do not always hear beyond what they feel their language to be. But they are also searching to know who they are. They are sincere of heart.

They will come Home in time, as well. They are most desirous of knowing. If you will receive it, beloved one, you have been as they are. Searching, searching within what would be seen as the constraints of a belief system, a belief system that sees me to be afar off. One where they will call upon me to be their personal savior, to save them from whatever, and they are not quite sure what that whatever is.

I am very much one with them. I am there and I answer their questions and simply, whenever they focus their attention unto me. But that is why you are here. You are here to speak a language that says, "Yes, I know that you are sincere of heart. I know Jesus. I have called upon Him. I call upon Him in every day and I feel Him walking beside me as my companion." They will understand that.

"I feel him speaking to me, and He says, 'That we are brothers and sisters.'" That although the words that are chosen may be different. Although the concepts of the mind may be different we abide in the same heart as children of the One Father. That is the place where all is joined. In the place where you and the brothers and sisters are the Child of the One Father. And it matters not what the language is.

If they are in a place of wanting to judge what they do not understand, allow them their judgment. For indeed that is the very thread that will bring them Home in time. For they will find that they will be judging everyone and after awhile they will say, "Everyone cannot be wrong." There will be a small voice that will speak unto them.

They will carry it to the farthest degree in seeing separation and in judging and in saying, "If you do not see it exactly as I do, then you don't have the right answer." They will take that as far as they can take it until they come to the place of saying, "Perhaps there is another way of looking at this," and that is what you have done in what you would see as other lifetimes and it has brought you to the place where you have said, "I will explore many ways of understanding." And this way that is known now as Christianity interpreted through metaphysics, is but one avenue and there is truth in all avenues.

There are many of what ones who call themselves, "Born again," who are Love. Who are simplicity. Who allow themselves to be, yes, in the language of what they have been taught, but they are very much your brothers and sisters. And it is much as you would find one speaking, standing in front of you and speaking Greek. You can ignore that and smile with the eyes as you have just done. And that is all that matters.

For our Father does not judge any. Our Father Loves all and in time all will come Home. The Second Coming is not just for those who are studying and traversing the avenue of metaphysics, as it is called. The Second Coming is not just for those who believe it to be a certain way in Christianity. The Second Coming happens moment by moment. And it happens for the ones who call themselves, born again Christians, as well. For indeed there was the one beloved brother known as Saul of Tarsus, who all of a sudden had his own Second Coming experience and it will happen for them as well. Either in dramatic fashion if that is what they expect and decree that it must be, or in a more gentle way. They will come to the place of saying, "I know the one named Adrienne, in this lifetime. I know her and you know, she's got some weird ideas, but I really like her. And what matters is what I feel for her in the heart. And whether we agree on the avenue as to whether we take a certain route known as the yellow belt or the green belt, it matters not. I love her anyway."

So that is what you do with them, you love them anyway. For they are very much sincere of heart, very much searching to know. Sometimes more energetic than what you feel comfortable with, but that is okay, too. Because sometimes the angel of water allows the rain to come in torrents and sometimes it allows the water to come in a gentle mist and you can feel at home with either one for it is all cleansing.

As to the healing, beloved one, the healing that I did it is very much the healing that you do. You and your brothers and sisters upon this plane. It is abiding in the heart first. Allowing yourself to come unto that place of knowing the Light that you are and the Light of the one who stands before you. Seeing them as whole. Holy, yes, as it is termed, but whole as the perfect Child created before time was.

Holding that Truth which it is, Truth, holding that within what is called the mind's eye and extending unto them the energy of Light that you are. Blending, enveloping the one in front of you who would ask for healing with the Light that you know yourself to be and the Light that they are.

It is extending in very dramatic, dramatic is not the word, dynamic fashion, the Light that you are. Offering an opportunity for them to connect with the wholeness that they already are. Then it is their choice.

Many there were who came and called out to me, "Master heal me." Sometimes because of their belief and their faith, their desire, and their willingness allowed themselves to catch the vision to the fact that they were already whole and they were healed in that instant.

For indeed in every moment you call together the molecules of matter in your design pattern in every moment so that there is what is known as instantaneous healing. That is why it happens, because in every moment you are the consciousness that is keeping the molecules together. So there were those who accepted the healing and there were others who went away sorrowful, for they did not catch the vision, as you would call it. They did not choose in that moment to accept it. They did in what would be later in that lifetime or another lifetime and they were healed.

There are various methods of healing upon this plane in this time. All are effective as you allow yourself to know the oneness with the brother or sister. As you extend unto them the opportunity to know their oneness with you. That is why you do the physical laying on of hands, is to remind, to experience the energy. It is not necessary that you even lay on the hands, but it is a tangible way of reminding ones that there is the energy of oneness.

There is very much the, what has been called the, absent healing that works just as well for there is no separation. Even with ones that you would see as abiding in the state known as Alaska, you can heal in that you offer the opportunity for healing, wholing, to that one. It matters not what the geographical distance would be.

It is remembering. It is remembering the Second Coming of which we have just spoken. Remembering the wholeness and saying unto that one, "I know who you are. You are the Christ. I see you as that Light. I see you as the perfect ray of Light that you are." Pinpointed as it would be in focus. "I see you as perfection." And as you go in that knowingness it is so contagious it is felt. It is offered unto them in a very dynamic fashion and if they be in a place where they will accept that, there will be instantaneous healing.

If they be in a place where there is seen to be another reason for abiding in that design pattern or that form of constriction as it would be seen, then they will choose to abide in that form for awhile. For there are many times a brother or a sister will come and assume a design pattern that does not look perfect in order to provide others with the opportunity to look past appearance. In order to provide for others an opportunity for service. In the way of providing the opportunity for others to open the heart and to care, to pour out the Love and to see that other one before them as the Light that they are.

Sometimes one will choose to express with a design pattern of a body that is seen to be debilitated in order for themselves to come unto a place of recognizing, "I am not the body." There are many levels of what you would see as reasons and meaning and blessing.

So in the healing that you would do, you come from a place of the heart. That place of knowing the oneness. That place of dynamic peace that offers unto another the joining of the oneness. What they do with that joining is their choice. Thank you, beloved one.

And you, beloved brother, who loves the wolves. How are you this evening?

Very well.

You are indeed, very well. And as they would say in your world, getting better all the time.

Hopefully.

And there is hope. What would you ask this evening?

I really don't know. I'm kind of a loss inside and I have many questions but I don't feel inclined to ask them.

Indeed.

So is there something you could say to me? Or inspire me?

Ah, yes. You have come to a grand place, beloved one, where you are now choosing to know the hope and the joy of who you are. The place of integration that says, "I am worthy. I am worthy to come Home. I am loved of my Father. And no matter how many roads I have traveled, no matter how far it seems that I have gone from His Home, His House, I am still loved of the Father and when I go Home He will still welcome me." Which is true.

You have come to that place of saying, "There must be a better way. There must be more." Yes, and that is a grand place to be for now you are free to get on with the business that you came here for.

You will find coming to hand, books that will speak to you. Sometimes it will be in the written word. Sometimes it will be between the lines. Sometimes it will be as a page is illumined for you and you will say, "Yes, I knew that. Oh, I hope that was true." Yes, it is true and you will accept it as your own.

You will find ones such as the group that you are now gathered in and it is not by accident that you find yourself here.

I agree.

Indeed, you will find ones of the brothers and sisters who will share with you their path and a word, an idea that will spark for you a remembrance and they may not even know they said anything and it does not matter.

But you will hear it as if it went off in the neon sign and you will say, "That's just the piece I was looking for." For you are indeed the detective right now who is putting together the pieces of the jigsaw puzzle. Have fun with it, beloved one, for it is an adventure and it is a good one.

All of the pieces that you need to complete the picture will come to hand as you need them. You are one, what they would call, a need to know basis and as you need to know, it will be there. Not because anyone outside of you is going to gift this to you, but because you are calling it forth. Because you have come unto the place of saying, "I wish to know my worthiness. Surely I am worth something. I wouldn't be here alive, doing something if I weren't worth more than this. I want to know, how come I'm here? What am I supposed to do?" Indeed, and as you ask those questions the answers will come.

The reason you are here, beloved one, is to come Home. The reason you are here, beloved one, is to come into the full awareness of the joy of the unlimited holy Child that you are. The reason that you are here is to be of service to the brothers and sisters who are also seeking. For you will find that turn, you will be sharing with others who can relate to you and your path, for they will know where you have been and what you have done and they will say, "If one such as Gary has known all of the past that he has known and all of the questions and all of the places he has gone, if he can be where he is now and abiding in some peace and some joy, perhaps he knows a secret." And they will ask of you and in the sharing you will find that you know much more than you thought you knew.

Yes, you are all wisdom and what you are now asking is to know the wisdom that you are. It will come to you in tangible means, as in the books, as in the audio tapes, in the gatherings, in the ones that you speak with for you will call it forth in that form and there will be times, there have been already, where you will have hunches. You will wonder, "Where did that idea come from? Oh, surely, that's crazy." And yet it persists and says, "There is more."

Not only what you would see upon the surface of the idea that's come to you, but there's more because every idea that comes to you is as the tip of an iceberg. As you allow yourself to abide with that tip, it will show you more and more of the wholeness that you are. That is why ideas come to you. Play with them. Feel good about them. Accept them as the messengers that they are, and then you will find, beloved one, you will be traveling and speaking unto others.

Not immediately. It is not something that you need to pack your suitcase for this evening. But you will find in the days to come that you will do what is known as the traveling for there will be ones who want to speak to you and you will share from your heart. You will share from your experience and they will say, "Well, he looks like one who knows what he's talking about," and they will go away scratching their head. But you will have opened doors and windows for them the same as the doors and windows are opening now for you.

You are at a grand place, beloved one. Every day, I give you an assignment. Everyday in your timing, in the morning of everyday, take your right hand or the left hand. You will take this right hand, you will lift it up in the air high above the head and then you take a cross like you are making a cross, yes, and you will place it on the back of the shoulder and you will pat yourself on the shoulder. For you are doing very well.

You will make a small ritual of this. Raising the hand high over the head. Making the sign of the cross and patting the back and the most important part is the patting the back. You are doing very well.

Will you be with me from time to time?

It is a date.

Can I have a hug?

Indeed. {Hugging}

Thank you.

Thank you.

Beloved beautiful one, the angel upon this plane who is beauty and joy. How are you this evening?

Oh, I'm just filled with gratitude. Life is so generous.

Indeed, and it shines forth from your eyes, beloved one.

Your counseling has helped.

Thank you for acknowledging my work with you in every moment. Thank you for allowing the mind to open to the whole Mind that we are. Thank you for inviting me in to work with you for indeed, we do, and yet, it is not a heavy work. It is the work of lightness. A work of healing upon many levels. What would you ask this evening?

Well you have been talking about so much remembering tonight that I think maybe it is time to do more remembering. I am living in a form of remembering but I feel a depth to this word that I have not had in the past. And I've heard the word knowing used very liberally, but I like remembrance.

Indeed, that is what it is all about. Re-remembering the seemingly separate parts, the seemingly separate members of the one holy Child. Re-remembering, bringing it all back together in conscious awareness of the one that you and I are. All of us as the one holy Child.

If you focus as you have already discerned upon the idea and the concept of remembering, there will be much that will come back to you of previous experience, yes. You will see other lifetimes that you feel to have been and you will even see other lifetimes that you feel perhaps will be and yet they have been for you would not relate to them if they had not been already. It is always within the dream of the Child, yes.

Is that always expressed with an understanding that it would be me? Some people have recall and is it always identified as you recalling your own experience?

Yes, it is claimed as an individual experience, and yet the experience of the one holy Child is myriad. That is why you may have one who will come and say that, "I have been Cleopatra. I have been Joan of Arc. I have been a great conqueror, whatever." And another will come along and say, "Well, I have been...", and it is true. It is tapping in and remembering and claiming the experience of the one holy Child. For the one holy Child is not separate although the bodies would speak to you of separation. Although the belief in linear time would speak to you of separation.

When you dip into the underlying stream of remembrance of the holy Child, there you connect with all experience and it is true as you claim it. There is no discreteness about it except as the belief system would dictate.

In other words, it would be appropriate for the specific purpose? Okay.

Yes, and the purpose of the concept of reincarnation and many lifetimes, many histories is to bring the holy Child past the point of saying, "That this that I experience right now, is all there is." It is to bring the holy Child to the place of recognizing and claiming its unlimitedness, infinite expression. That is why you may allow yourself to go into other dimensions and to claim that even now, which is true, that you are upon another planet we will call it. A planet that is most fluid and you are Light upon that planet interacting with what you would see as a family unit within, what you would see as, an agreed upon unit that is achieving a goal.

Yes, play with it. You are unlimited and the holy Child has chosen and desires to experience all and all is this and much more than this.

It has been asked about reincarnation whether it is true or not and within the experience of the holy Child, within this adventure it is a truth - small "t". The Truth - with a capital "T" - is that the one always is beyond time. Always expressing and in that there is no need and there is no Truth - with a capital "T" - of reincarnation. But within the experience of the holy Child awakening there is much to the concept of reincarnation as a step along the way.

Thank you.

Beloved one, how are you this evening?

Fine, thank you.

What would you ask?

You speak of the inner voice and sometimes you call it the Voice of God, and my question is: why is it that I in particular, and also some others that I have such difficulty in hearing that Voice and how can we, do you have some advice to get rid of this block?

Ah, beloved one. There is first of all, no block. The ego voice would speak to you that there is a block, that there are complexities, that there is a certain way that the Voice of God comes through, and yet, when you allow yourself to abide in simplicity, in Love, in beholding the beauty of a flower in front of you, in beholding the laughter of a small child, and beholding the Love that you feel for a beloved pet, or a beloved brother, that is the Voice of God.

It is the way of mankind/womankind to say that it must come and must be heard in a certain way. That it must be spiritual. That it must come with the voice of angels. Well, who do you think you are? It comes in simplicity and in peace. It comes momentarily. It is not something that must be prepared for. For indeed you have already prepared yourself as much as you would ever see or need to be. You never had to prepare yourself for it. But it comes easily as you allow yourself to know you are that Voice. As you allow yourself to abide in the heart and to come from that place of Love and oneness.

The voice of the ego calls out, calls out very strongly in this time, as you would see it, for many of you it is doing what is known as its last ditch attempt to say that there is separation. That there is a Voice of God and that you can't hear it. There is a block because you are not worthy. You haven't done X, Y, and Z. Or you wouldn't know it, you wouldn't recognize it if it came. Even the voice of ego will say that. But that is its last ditch attempt for you have decreed that you will know your holiness. You will know the Voice of God.

Beloved one, you are the Voice of God. Allow yourself to know there is no block. That is where you begin. Allow yourself to know that you are purity of heart. Purity of desire and intent and you come from the heart. Then you will find yourself speaking even the words that are heard upon this plane, the words that are the Voice of God.

For even as you move and as you express as the Light that you are, you are the Voice of God upon this plane. Allow yourself to connect with the Voice that you are and put the voice of ego to rest. It is much as a small child when you would put a small child to bed. It will think up all kinds of reasons of last minute things that have to be done and will try to put it off. It will not want to go to bed. It will have to have a glass of water, needs a bedtime story. Needs the covers to be tucked in a certain way and then needs more covers to keep warm. Less covers, too hot. Needs the light on, et cetera. You know the routine. That is the voice of ego.

You have no block. Claim the Voice of God, because your brothers and sisters the ones so gathered in this room and others as well, see you as the Voice of God. They recognize it. Allow them to be a mirror for you for they will gladly show you what the Voice of God looks like. Even in physical form they will take what is known as the looking glass and hold it up and say, "Look. See, the Voice of God, the Face of God." You are beautiful, beloved one. You are an angel upon this plane and the Voice of God speaks clearly through you. Allow yourself to claim it.

Thank you.

Thank you.

I thank you for you are the one who has the courage to say, "I will come and I will focus my Light upon this plane. I will temporarily forget," and yet the still small voice has always been there. "But I will temporarily forget in my focusing in order to bring all of this plane back to wakefulness. All of creation back to wakefulness." That is what you do as the Voice of God and it is no mere thing. Thank you.

Beloved one, how are you this evening?

Fine, thank you.

You are indeed. What would you ask this evening?

You have just opened the top of me wide open.

Indeed, you felt and you discerned.

It's been tingling ever since. What I would ask is what is this energy that you use, like for instance, notes on a scale are printed on paper with little black dots with flags that indicate their meter.

Yes.

Recently I have been told that words are the same thing as the little black notes on the music.

Indeed, they are vibration.

And that the different languages that we speak on this plane, on the third, really don't matter because it's the vibration of the word that gets around from one to another to another to another. Even though they don't know what you are saying in the physical they know what you are saying in the spiritual.

Indeed, you have discerned the oneness, yes.

Now, what's energy? How does this happen?

Ah, beloved one, it is what you have called forth in your creativity, for indeed the little black notes either the ones that are seen in their wholeness or the ones who have different form or the little flags that say, "I am going flying somewhere," they are as symbols of the tones of vibration.

It is much the same as the words that are written, printed upon your page. The words are not there. The words that you hear and are spoken. They are not upon that page. What you see as the little black symbols, the written form, are symbols of meaning and you interpret meaning. The same with the little black dots of music. They are the symbols of the energy, as you have discerned, of vibration and one who is versed, has studied the symbolism can take a piece of paper with the little black dots and can interpret it into vibration that others can enjoy, to be in joy with, and can feel themselves to be one with.

That is why you and the brothers and sisters so much enjoy singing. Being in music. That is why you surround yourselves with music, is to know that you are one as the vibration that you are. Even as you allow it to come forth through what is known as the throat chakra and out, you are connecting with the vibration. Each vibration seemingly different but it is the one vibration, the one tone of all that comes forth.

So yes, it is a language. The little black dots upon the page, it is symbolism of the energy that you then translate into energetic form and it is much as the languages that are spoken upon this plane for you in the belief yet, in separation, have different languages for different geographical locations. Even within what you would see as this country which says it speaks English, and yet it is more American, you have what are called the dialects and one coming from Alabama, Georgia, perhaps would go unto a place to the North and would be recognized as being from Georgia because of the change in vibration, expression.

You would travel unto a far country known as Russia which even has a symbolism upon the printed page that looks different from your symbolism and you yes, would speak the tones and words that are understandable to you and ones there would hear vibration but would not understand the coming together, the configuration of those sounds and yet, they will get the drift of your meaning as the flow of energy that you are.

There is much of language that is spoken from heart to heart, eye to eye that is not in the verbal language. For the oneness speaks more loudly than the belief in the separation that comes through in the tones of the various words.

Allow yourself to pour forth the vibration of the sound of music as you have done in this lifetime. Allow yourself to immerse yourself in the vibration which is most revitalizing and allow yourself to share that with the brothers and sisters. All of you in this room are so charged to sing in what is known as your shower or your bath. Allow yourself to connect at least once in every day with the tones of the vibration that you are. It is most joyous.

Does that answer your question?

Somewhat.

Is there more?

I feel that there is something in the near future that we will tune into, need to tune into that will come to us in this vibratory frame where we will vibrate more than we will do anything else.

Indeed. It is true already. You are vibrating more than what is recognized. You are vibration right now, but as you have discerned, this is accelerating because you have decreed that it is now time to come forth and to know the Light and as you know the Light that you are, you will feel the vibration of Light.

This will be most visible to the eyes and it will be also heard with the physical ears. That is why many now are enjoying the expression of vibration upon this plane. All different kinds of music, as you call it. Some melodious and free flowing. Others more of the rhythm. It is all to know the vibration that you are and allow yourself to connect with the vibration that you are.

It is because you are bringing forth the Light in its acknowledged form so that you will see the Light of this one. You will hear the vibration of this one, and you, beloved one, and others that you will collect unto yourself are charged with investigating, they will call, this. Doing research as to measuring vibration, the tones that are brought forth.

Allow yourself and others so interested to have a tone and to close the eyes. To come into a place of resonating with a tone. And then you will increase the tone, you will change it and allow yourself again to know the oneness with that tone. To know your own vibration with this.

This is something that you have done in what you would see as other lifetimes. You have been one who has played with vibration in order to bring it Home yourself, and to bring it Home to others. That it is vibration upon this plane. All of this plane is vibration, even what you would see as something more solid, is vibration, energy in form. Even your scientists are telling you that. You call forth your scientists in order to validate what you already know.

But you are charged, beloved one, to remember what you have already studied and to allow others to experience being in a tone of vibration. A very alive vibration. Now it need not take a long time. It is much the same as when you will do the angelic tone, and you will allow yourself to close the eyes and to feel all of the being vibrating with that tone.

You will find instruments that will allow you the creation in tone so that ones in what you would see as five, ten minutes of a gather, can experience the different tones and can know through that the coming Home to the vibration that you are. It is most healing.

That is why many of you, all of you if you will receive it, have practiced the healing by tones, by vibrations, by the sound that is heard and connected with. There is much vibration, much healing through that vibration. That is even why in this day and time you find certain music to be healing. It soothes the savage breast, and it is healing.

Allow yourself and others so interested to do research on that. To experience the oneness with the tones and then if you are so led, allow the tones to come forth. That is again why there is a resurgence as you have seen, of the chanting, as it is called, and the aumming, exactly, to connect with the vibration.

When you talk about the sound everyone has

Yes, it is the same, yes. For you bring it forth into this expression, yes. There is coming a time upon your plane when you will experience the vibration, the sound of the vibration of each one. You can hear it even now.

That is why you feel ones when you stand in front of them, you feel either a harmony, sometimes a jangling. It is because the vibrations are different, or they are in harmony, perhaps not the same, but in harmony which you would see or they be exactly in alignment. You can feel this with ones.

It is not something that you have brought into conscious awareness, yet, but you are doing that now. So yes, beloved one, follow it up in research as it would be. Have fun with it.

Doesn't all vibration eventually lead to Light?

Yes.

Oh.

She got it.

All the vibration came down through my body. My whole body felt it.

Indeed.

It was really a heavy jolt. But you see it didn't touch me.

Yes. That is what it is.

And imagine all of this being pure Light.

I not only have to imagine it, I see.

Good.

Indeed. You are Light. It is yet the focus upon the form that keeps you from seeing the Light that you are and even that will be changing very rapidly now. For all of you have felt many changes since the last time that we met, so met in this fashion. Many of you have felt the shifts in perception. Many of you have felt an acceleration sometimes a confusion that has come from that, not knowing where to go or where to be because there have been so many options and choices and you have said, "But I want to be here and there all at the same time."

And if you will receive it, beloved one, you are already. Multi-polar. Why limit to two? See multi.

{Not clear comments}

Ha, indeed, and you bring forth the humor upon this plane. It is grand.

And now would there be further questions? Yes.

I am sending away for some photographs and they say they are what you looked like when you were on earth. {Not clear}

We will leave that up to you, beloved one. I will allow you to look unto the place of the heart to see if this is a truth for you. I will share with you my remembrance of how I appeared in that lifetime and that is my truth - with a small "t" - for it was my experience upon this plane. But there are other's truths. It is much as there would be an event that would happen and you have many in a group who have seen this event happen. And there would be others who would come from a far distance, the reporters, whatever. They would ask the eye witnesses and they would say, "What happened?" And the eye witnesses will say, "This is what I saw. This is really what happened," and they will ask the next one, "What happened and what did he look like?" And this one will say, "This is what he looked like. He was tall of stature, he was broad, blond hair, long hair, blue eyes. A bit of a mustache."

The next one will say, "No, no. He was a bit shorter. Very stocky. Had a full beard," and that is how they saw and that is there truth.

So you have different renditions, different pictures. They are a truth. Each one is true according to that one's perception of how they see me and how they remember me. For I have many faces. The Christ has many faces, and yet but one face of Light.

So when this arrives for you allow yourself to be a peace with it. Allow yourself to abide with it. Say, "Does this feel true?" For you will see different variations. You have already seen many different pictures, paintings. Some feel more true than others and that is okay.

I knew myself to be, I know myself to be in that incarnation tall, over what you would see six foot tall. Broad of shoulder. I enjoyed the body. I enjoyed the physical expression. I enjoyed riding a camel. I enjoyed riding the donkey although I did not see why I needed to be a burden unto the donkey. I enjoyed walking.

I had what was known as the suntanned skin for I was out in the angel of sun much. I had the hair that was long in your terms, a bit as this hair length is I suppose, beyond the shoulder a bit, and it was reddish gold, auburn I suppose you would call it.

In my remembrance I had the very deep dark blue eyes, such as the color of this scene. I had a beard that in sometimes when I was out traveling in what you would see as far countries, I allowed to grow long for that was the custom in that country. When I was within the country that is recorded in your Holy Scriptures, I had a more neatly trimmed beard and a mustache. I enjoy the beards nowadays and the mustaches. And I have enjoined my beloved friend and teacher to grow me a mustache and a beard and she does not do so.

{Laughter}

So I enjoy other beards as I see them. I had the true eyesight. I could spot an eagle far in the distance, for I was not hampered with constriction that so many bring upon themselves in seeing. I could see the movement.

Your eyes were blue?

Yes, very deep blue.

The new blue?

Oh, yes, as you remember, yes. That is my remembrance of how I expressed it upon this plane. I very much enjoyed physicality. I enjoyed it even more after I remembered that I am not bound by the physicality. For there was a process, a period of time as you would see it, in my remembering, my growing up when I saw myself to be bound by the body and I very much envied my cousin John, the one who went on to be known as the Baptist. And I envied the body and the athletic prowess that he had. For he was a bit my senior, not much but a bit. But he was very sturdy and there were things that he could do with his body and strength that I did not experience at that time and I looked up to him and I envied him.

There were things that I wanted to do that John could do and as a very young lad, what you would see about four, five years old I felt the emotion of jealousy. I envied him. In that I came to terms with my own feelings that lies beneath jealousy and envy. I came to terms with my feeling of unworthiness. For I saw myself as not quite as good therefore I envied.

So it brought for me a clarity right up in front of my face, for I felt not quite good enough. Not as good as my cousin, and I developed congestion of the emotion. Congestion that is often symbolized on this plane in what you would call a cold. Congestion in the chest and congestion in the head. And my earthly father known as Joseph, saw what was happening and he sent me out of doors to sit by flowing water.

He said, "Yeshua, go sit by the flowing water and get in tune with yourself again. Allow yourself to know who you are as the ongoing flow of energy." So I did. Rather resistantly at first. I thought I was being banished and I was not happy about that either, because I thought that was tied up in his view that I wasn't as good as John and I was being sent off somewhere as punishment.

But I went and I sat by the flowing water and as I did so, there was a great peace that came over me. As is for all of you as you are caught up first of all, in the emotions of the mind and there is chaos that goes on in the mind and in the heart. But as you allow yourself to sit, finally, and you allow the emotions to be spent you come unto a place of peace. And I knew myself to be as the water that was flowing. I knew myself to be Light. And I looked upon my cousin John in the mind's eye and I saw him to be the flow of Light created of our Father the same as I.

And in that Light I knew there was no degree of difference. And with that realization which is what all of you are coming unto with the Second Coming, with that realization that there is no degree of difference in the Light that you are. I saw myself to be whole and the congestion was gone.

There was for me in my remembrance of that lifetime, there was an identification with the boundary of the body and I will share with you, after I came to that realization that all are equal as the Light, then the body was my perfect servant and I could do as much as my cousin John did.

So you must have appeared quite strikingly because the fact is, that people today, so many people are dark skinned, certain black eyes. You were tall with auburn hair with blue eyes.

Yes. The blue was very dark blue. Sometimes changing and it was what ones had, and this was in their perception, was piercing. For I could look upon my brother or sister and look beyond appearance. Look deep into their eyes and into what they would call the soul, and they felt the eyes to be most piercing. And other times abiding in the Love that I shared with my brothers and sisters there was a gentleness that was felt and in those times, the eyes appeared a more gentle blue. But yes, I was striking.

There were many who were of the auburn hair as well. Not all of the semitic people as you have called them, were of dark hair. I was not an anomaly. There were ones who had traveled to this geographical location from other parts of our Holy Mother, the Earth. The area of my birth where I grew up was very much a crossroads, trading crossroads, a crossroads of culture. Many caravans came through there and departed again. So there was much of an intermingling of what you would see as different design patterns, colorations, forms, even of the shape of the eyes. There was much of this intermingling.

But there was what you would say a strikingness about my being that came not so much from the form and the appearance, as from the energy that ones would allow themselves to recognize. They called it my energy, and yet it is their energy. For as they allowed themselves to acknowledge what they saw as my energy, they connected with who they are. So there were many who came and were so gathered as you are in this evening who felt my energy as a very dynamic energy and yet what you do in that moment, beloved one, is to connect with the energy of Love that you are. The energy of gentleness, yes, the energy of dynamic activation as well. For the energy as you have all experienced, takes on different form as you desire it to.

It has been my grand joy to be most active among you this evening. To entertain the questions and to have the questions out there to entertain us for that is the purpose of questions. To entertain us. To bring them out. To play with them. To allow them to lead you back Home again. Back to the oneness where all wisdom abides, the place of the heart, the Voice of God.

For indeed, it is not separate from you and it is not something that you have to pray for and wait for. Even to wait unto the doorbell is rung and the United Parcel Service fellow brings it up in a package for you. No, it is who you are in every moment. As you allow yourself to connect with Love, the purity and the simplicity of Love, the gentleness of Love there is no block to that.

You are pure, beloved one. Yes, indeed, you may.

If we are all that is, and we are.... and we talk about energy entering the plane, and even when we receive energy ... are we not all that is in which case our awareness is really what is shifting rather than something else coming to us.

Discerned. Very well discerned, yes. You are all that is. There is a point of focus that is very intensely brought together as a body, as a personality, as an experience in this time, as you see time to be. When you do what is known as the energy work, the body work, you are opening the limitation of who you have seen yourself to be or who the other one has seen himself to be and you are connecting. That is the whole purpose of energy work, is to connect, to tangibly feel the connection of energy.

...if I am currently integrating all that is into my beingness, ... when I receive that energy then am I not also needing to integrate all that they are? How can the integration.....?

You are the Light, the One. There is the point of focus. You are seemingly bringing energy in. It is not that you are really bringing the energy in but you are allowing your perception, awareness to expand to the place where you say, "I am more than just the boundary of the skin, of the body. I feel energy," and this is true. "I feel myself to be vibration," and you allow what would be seen as a transference, a vibration. It is not so much a transference as it is the connection much as you would put the electrical plug into the socket. For it is one anyway.

But what you are doing is in tangible form, in a tangible form. It has been there all the time but it is the awareness that is expanding.

Do I need to be concerned about integration with someone else's energy as opposed to only my own?

You focus on the One. What they will do with their perception and their receiving of your vision of oneness, that is their choice and it may vary. It will vary with different ones and also with where they see themselves to be in that moment.

Yes. Behold the grand wisdom, yes. You see, questions are fun. The questions come out. They run around in a circle to entertain and right along on the heels of them is the answer.

We this has been something I've been working on..... understand and integrate within my healing work.

Focus on the One. That will answer all questions and it also takes care of what anyone would see as individual responsibility.

...?...

Yes, that is how you have perceived it.

I come to all of you in different form. I am received by all of you in different forms as you will receive my energy and yet, my energy is not separate from yours. As the One Light of the Christ that we are, I am always with you. Whenever you are open and ask me to come, instantly I am there for indeed, I was there before you called, but when you call then we connect, and grand it is. This journey is most joyous.

I speak unto this one but as I do that I speak unto all of you. The journey is a journey without distance for indeed you have never left our Father's House. But the journey back in awareness and in claiming is a joyous one. That is the secret of it. For it is not found in sorrow and confusion and complexity. It is found in joy.

And now, beloved one, will you bless us with the tones? The tones of ancient remembrances. The tones that bring forth in tangible form our oneness.

{The Session ends with Toning by a beloved sister, Beryl.}

As it was in the beginning it is now and forever shall be the Light.

So be it.
