

Creating The New Dream

7/20/95

Thursday Vail, Colorado

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light divine. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph – Jesus, you have called me – and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to call me forth. As you have chosen to make trek unto this place traveling what you would see as many of the miles in your belief system, to come unto this physical location to be together as the one Christ that you are.

For indeed, as you have called forth the Christ you have called forth me, yes, as one Jeshua ben Joseph, and you have called forth the Christ that you are. You have greeted the Christ in each one and did it not feel joyous? Did not your heart leap for joy?

Yes.

It expanded. You were allowing yourself to come into the connection of the totality of Love that you are. You do this moment by moment, you touch that place of joy, that place that is your true nature. As you look upon another one and you see naught but Love, more and more of this is happening for you is it not? Yes, for you as you would see yourself to be an individual, individuated energy and for all of you for you are coming unto a time, a grand time of awakening. A time of creating the true vision upon this plane. And that, beloved ones, is joyous.

All of you so gathered in this evening have come not by accident, not upon a whim, but by invitation. By my invitation, yes, but more than that, by your own invitation as the one holy Child that is desiring to awaken and to come Home. You have set into motion now, the very steppingstones, the very avenue, the very energy that brings you to a place of knowing that you are dynamic Light upon this plane. That you are experiencing Light as Love for when you feel love what do you feel? You feel an expansion. You feel a dynamic quality of aliveness.

You are the Light brought to this plane incarnate. That is who and what you are. That is the essence of you, and now you are desiring to bring that into manifestation that you cannot miss and the brothers and sisters will behold. For truly they are the Light as well, and they are seeking the Light. They are desiring to know the Light, and you have said, "Yes, I will be one of the forerunners, one of the adventurers that will bring the Light into manifestation so that all can see and all can experience."

Part of what you will see as the steppingstones, the aspects that come together to bring this into manifestation is this gathering of a few days. You are willing, those of you so gathered here and others that will be joining you in the days to come, you are willing to undertake a work that will bring the Light into manifestation, that will bring it to a place of conscious realization.

Some of you have wondered, "Why am I going to a place far away?" Some of you have wondered, "Where will the golden coins come from, and should I expend the golden coins in order to do this?" And you have sat with the questions and you have asked in your heart, knowing all the while that you would make trek. There was a still small voice within that spoke to you and said, "Yes, I will be amongst that gathering. I will be amongst my family once again."

So you sat with the voice of the world, the voice of the ego that would say, "But it is a lot of money, and I could use that money for something else. In fact, there are certain projects that I think I should be doing and they will have to go on the shelf meantime for awhile, but I want to be there. There is something deep within me that calls me to be there." And every one of you has responded to your own very deep calling.

For you desired to be amongst your family. You desired to consciously know the work that you are part of, and to see it begin to come into conscious manifestation and realization. There has been a dream within your heart. It has been held within your heart throughout many, many lifetimes. You have guided it. You have nurtured it. In some lifetimes you have put it away so that it would not be trampled upon, so that it would not be diluted or distorted. And in those lifetimes it was forgotten even to you, but it was very much kept alive as the flame of Light within your heart.

This is a time now, this lifetime that you will bring forth into glory the Light that you are and you will establish it even in physicality upon this plane. It is not by accident that any of you are so gathered here in this room. All of you have various areas of expertise. All of you have come from different avenues of abilities and interests that you have honed in this lifetime and in many other lifetimes as well. Remembering what you have done in other lifetimes that allowed your heart to open, to heal, to know its wholeness and it allowed others to know their wholeness through healing of the body, yes, through nurturing of the soul within, various methods. And there has been a remembrance in this lifetime you have felt drawn to certain methodologies, certain workshops, certain areas of knowledge.

Sometimes there has been a change in the course of this lifetime that has been most dramatic for you are going now and claiming the remembrance of all that you are and you are bringing that together into a gestalt which is more than the sum of the parts, more than the sum of what you see gathered in this room and the others who will be coming to join in.

What you behold in this evening is a family. It is what you call a core group. It is a group of dedicated ones. You have said that you are ready now, you are willing to bring forth upon this plane what you remember and what is stirring deep within you as a very subtle remembrance that will be born. There is much that is stirring within you that desires to be born, and you have said, "Yes, I will know it. I will bring it forth. I will do whatever it takes to birth that vision." It is the vision of the holy Child living in wholeness even upon this plane.

Knowing, yes, the expression with the body even as it has been in this lifetime and to allow the Light of the holy Child, the holy daughter to shine forth in such radiance that ones will behold it and will know the glory of the Father. The glory of the one Source of Light, of the Light that we are, of the Christ. The Christ brought into manifestation upon this plane.

In the days to come that you spend together, you will find yourselves sharing one to another from heart to heart, of the visions that you have had. Visions that you have had and put away perhaps thinking that they were not possible to bring forth upon this plane. Vision as a child, a young one growing up where all of hope was alive and you knew that you could bring forth the Father upon this plane. And then there have been times when there has been the voice of the world, experiences that have suggested that perhaps that vision was to be experienced and manifested later. Perhaps at a later time after the body was laid down, and yet that is not true. The body need not be laid down in order to know Heaven upon earth.

All of you have gone about in this lifetimes completing aspects that you desired to know completion with, fulfillment. Sometimes you have wondered as you have looked back on your life path, you have wondered, "Why did I go in a certain direction for awhile and then it changed? I decided to make a change and I dramatically turned a corner. I have done many things in this lifetime. Some of my brothers and sisters," you say to yourself, "Some of my brothers and sisters seem more focused upon how they will spend a lifetime. They choose a career and they stay in it until they have the golden watch given unto them," at what is known as retirement time.

But many of you, nay, all of you, have found yourselves changing courses, changing careers, changing paths and you have asked, "Is this a weakness of me that I cannot stay one course?" No, it is not. It is because you are desirous of knowing the totality of who the holy Child is and you are desirous of remembering all of your aspects of experience and you are desirous of knowing completion with various aspects.

That is why you delved into what perhaps some of the brothers and sisters would call detours. You desire to know what is down that road and how are you going to know in conscious realization if you do not go down that road? You can stand a crossroads and you can look down that avenue, and yes there are suggestions of what is down that avenue, but until you actually make trek in your own conscious experience you do not bring it into your remembrance in that conscious awareness of what you have experienced in other lifetimes.

For indeed there is nothing new that you bring forth in this lifetime that you have not experience in other lifetimes as you see lifetimes to be. Anything that you can imagine you have experienced. Any lifetime that suggests itself unto you, you have experienced it. You may claim it and you may ask of it to share with you its wealth of remembrance.

In the days to come in the several days that you are gathered together, there will be many remembrances that will come to you and you will feel an allowance given unto you, not by me, not because there is some master way above you that says, "It is okay." But an allowance that you are giving to yourself to claim the treasure of what you would see as other lifetimes, other areas of expertise. You may go for it. Yes. There is a word in your world: you may go for it.

In the days that you are gifting to yourself in this gathering, allow yourself to lay down all restraints that you have felt had to be there for one reason or another. In this time apart you are totally free to claim who you are.

When you leave this place if you so desire to pick up the constraints and the image, the shoulds of society, it will all be there for you if you want it. But if you want to leave it here you may throw it into the flowing water and allow it to go downstream and away.

In these few days that you are so gathered together, allow yourself unlimited joy, love, self-love. Allow the Christ Self to be born in you and to behold it in the others so gathered here. For no one that you look upon comes as a stranger. Everyone even though they have upon the name tag perhaps a different geographical location, no one is as stranger to you. Everyone is part of your family. Everyone that you behold in this gathering has been in biological family with you in other lifetimes.

If you will receive it, everyone that you behold even though at first you would look upon one and perhaps the visage is changed from what you have known in other lifetimes, everyone that you behold in this gathering has been in biological family with you in what you know as other lifetimes.

You have been as mother. You have been as sister. You have been as daughter. You have been as comrades. You have been as father. You have been as son. You have been companions, all of you, one to another. There is no one here that is a stranger to you. Already you have felt that in the hugs that were exchanged. Already you have felt that as you greeted the Christ in each one.

Allow yourself in these days apart, apart from the voice of the world and the many concerns, allow yourself total freedom to do what the holy Child desires to do. It is a gift that I give to you. A few days apart to allow the holy Child to play and yet, I cannot gift unto you anything that you do not already have. For these days are a gift that you give unto yourself.

Whether you be here with the bodies in this room or somewhere else, know that you are part of this gathering. Know that this is your family and that everyone is the Christ, brother sister to you and you do not look upon anyone as stranger.

It has taken a bit of courage for many of you to come unto what you feel as a strange group. You have had to make decisions to come, to say, "I am strong enough in the heart to go, to make trek, to use my charisma, to make trek and to come unto a place that I do not quite know what is going to look like or what the other ones are going to be like." But out of the deep courage of your heart you have chosen to come and to behold the Christ that you are. To behold the Christ in others and in beholding it in your brother or in your sister, you behold the Christ that you are.

There will be much of laughter in these days that we share. There will be much of love. There will be much of the releasement of judgments of self and of others, and of how a gathering should be. This gathering, if you will receive it, is free to be its own thing. This gathering has an energy all of its own that comes from you, yes, by your willingness to put your heart and your love into it. By your willingness to put your consciousness into it.

But the energy of this gathering will be such that it is more than just the addition of an energy here and an energy here and an energy here and an energy here. It will be a totality of all of the energy into a new entity. We will call it an entity for it is a gathering, a grouping of energy that has a dynamic quality about it.

As I speak these words this evening it does not mean too much. A bit of hope, a glimpse, but when you come unto the conclusion which will not be a conclusion at all. It will be an initiation and a beginning, you will look back upon the events of the days where you have been so gathered together and you will see how it has, the gathering itself has evolved.

All of you when you leave the gathering and return home again, you will return home not as you have come, not even in this evening. You will return home with a new awareness in the heart of who you are and why you are here.

All of you have asked at various times, "Why am I here? Why was I born? Why have I come to experience things?" All of you have asked, "Why?" And then you have said, "Jeshua, what should I be doing?" You have called out to me and you have said, "What is my purpose? Where is my niche? What should I be doing?" And then you have carved out a little niche for yourself that has been comfortable and just when you had it all carved out, you went and changed it.

{Laughter}

It has seemed that there would be outside sources, perhaps, that provided motivation for the changes, and yet the changes came because you desired the change. You wanted to get on with it. You wanted to experience more. There was a part of you, a very deep part of you that said, "I want to know more of who I am." This is what motivates all of change within your life. It is not that others do it to you or even make a great motivation that leaves you but one choice. Sometimes it looks that way, but you have invited ones to be on your stage to give you to motivation to make change because you are ready for a change. Because you are desirous of knowing more of who you are, to come Home.

So do not beat yourself up as you see change in your life and do not judge others as they afford you the opportunity to make change, but thank them for being there for indeed, you have invited them. You have said, "Be upon my stage. Come and provide me with opportunity. Push my buttons."

{Laughter}

Anybody ever had a button pushed?

Yeah.

Of course. Many of them, and you have felt an acceleration of the buttons being pushed. You have said, "Well I just got through that one. I just learned that lesson. I thought I had it all together," and then someone comes along and they push the next button and you say, "What is this?"

Accord.

Yes, you have asked because you want to get on with it. You want to know more. There is an acceleration of energy upon this plane. There is an acceleration of choices, of opportunities upon this plane. Why? Because you are inviting it. You have said, "I want to know the energy that I am. I want to know the wholeness of that energy."

Once upon a time, before time was, the holy Child wondered, "What can I create?" Being the Child of the one Source, being the Child of the Creator, our nature is to be creative and in an instant beyond time, we thought to create and wondered, "What can I bring forth? What can I create?" And in that split second which was not a second at all, all adventures were born. All dreams were born. And you as the consciousness of Light experienced as Love, set out on a grand adventure to know creation.

And you brought forth all worlds, all dimensions, all universes, all galaxies because you wanted to create. Because there was no holding back the creative energy of the holy Child. We will say that it was inevitable for indeed the creative energy cannot be stemmed, it cannot be contained, it cannot be held back. The nature of creative energy is to be ongoing and you are.

We have brought forth all worlds, beautiful worlds such as the dimensions, the plane on which you now experience in this point of focus. This is not all that you are. The energy of consciousness that you bring to this point of focus in this evening identified with a certain form and with a certain personality is but part of who you are. A small percentage of the Light being that you are, of the Light that you are.

But you as the creative Child have practiced so wondrously that you can bring your consciousness to a very specific point in what you know as time, and you can identify with it and you bring forth even within that point of focus worlds upon worlds. Even in this lifetime, even in this day you have brought forth a microcosm of worlds every moment.

We as the holy Child, as the one creative Child, holy Child have brought forth all dimensions, all planes as it is understood. We have dreamed many dreams. Some of the dreams have been beautiful. Some of the lifetimes as you know lifetimes to be, have been ones of love and joy and simplicity. There have been ones of knowing your holiness upon this plane even this plane as you know this world to be. Other dreams you have brought forth have been more of the nightmare type. For you desired to know within the range of duality, you desired to know, "What is at one end of the range of duality?" And so you have experienced lifetimes that you would judge to be of the nightmare quality.

Lifetimes of violence, of tragedy, of sorrow, of chaos, grand confusion, pain. You have brought it forth not because you were unworthy. Not because you had sinned and needed to be punished, but because you desired to know experience. To know how it feels to be the grand warrior that conquers and has no feeling for the brothers and sisters, no empathy for the brothers and sisters, and within a moment to say, "Off with the head." Thousands of the brothers and sisters you have slain either in your own direct manner or by the command of a word.

You have experienced being one of the thousand who was slain. You have experienced pain in all of its forms. You have experienced hatred and greed, power as the world defines power. And you have experienced knowing Love where you knew that the one who stood in front of you was your brother. Even as you stood upon the battlefield with the sword drawn and you could not use it.

The brother who stood before you in an instant was seen to be your Self and you could not slay that one and you went away wondering. You went away in one lifetime thinking, "Why am I so weak that I could not slay him? What happened to me?" And in other lifetime you repeated the same enactment, the same drama and you did not judge self as being weak. You judged yourself to be in love, to know the Light of oneness with that one.

Do you see that in each enactment, even within the same script of a drama there are nuances and you have played these over and over again in order to know the nuances. You have come and you have said, "Let me play that script again. I desire to be caught up in the energy of the battlefield, the great warrior," and as a small lad you have worshipped and emulated the warriors who were of taller stature. You studied the methods of embattlement. You used all of the powers of the mind to know how to do the strategy. You did hand to hand direct combat with ones because you wanted to know, you wanted to know oneness. You wanted to know non-separation.

There were lifetimes that you were the grand general who gave the orders and you never had to be down on the battlefield. Other times you wanted to be right on the battlefield and look the brother right in the eye and there were lifetimes when you beheld the brother and still there was the veil of separation and off with the head or through the heart, whatever, whatever worked. And then there were other times when you looked into the eyes and you saw the Christ.

You have seen a development of the belief in separation that has taken itself as far as you are going to allow it to go, whether it is warfare now that may be waged in total separation where one can push a button and a certain geographical location and give great motivation to brothers and sisters far away to lay down their body.

You have devised because of the belief in separation, technology that allows this seemingly to happen and yet where is the joy of the heart? There is no separation, and what you wreak upon a brother or a sister is felt within. That is why there has been experienced in the last fifty years of your timing, a great heaviness. Much of tumult and confusion. Ones in rebellion saying that there must be more. There have been the voices crying in the wilderness and you have taken the technology that you devised as far as you are going to take it. Already you are seeing a reversal of this.

Already the belief in separation is crumbling at its very foundation, because of ones such as you who have decreed that you are now willing to bring forth the new dream upon this plane. A dream yet for awhile, and yet that dream passes quickly. But where you are still in the process of the dream, you will bring forth the dream of oneness upon this plane, the dream of joy and brotherhood. The oneness that knows no separation between brother and sister, knows no need for judgment of brother or sister or how they wish to live. A oneness that walks in another one's boots far enough to be able to understand where they are coming from.

Not to condone choices, but to understand the hurt, the misguided limited image from which that one is working. A oneness that knows itself to be the energy of the flowing water. The energy of all the beauty of our Holy Mother, the Earth. You have already seen in the last decade or so of your timing, a growing awareness of the energy of our Holy Mother that gives forth the molecules of dust, physicality, to allow you the vehicle to express with.

You have seen a growing awareness called a greening, green movement where there has been more and more awareness of the very energy that you are being connected one with the energy of the Mother.

There will yet be because there is a belief in process, there is a belief in time, there will yet be a dream before the awakening and yet, the dream, the happy dream will pass quickly into wakefulness. For it is much as you awaken in the mornings of your timing. You awaken gently. You do not any longer need the nightmare that is going to jolt you into a place of wondering, "Where am I?" But it will be a gentle awakening.

Already in process where the holy Daughter will know herself to be awakening in the Father's Love. Very much loved and held within the arms of Love. For always you have been in love. You have never been cast out away from Love. Always you have been in Love. That is why it feels so good even in this point of focus to fall in love. You are connecting with your true nature.

Allow yourselves in this gathering, in these days of the gathering to fall in love. Look for it. Look for the love. Fall in love with another, yes, perhaps. But you never see another, you see only yourself. Fall in love with yourself.

In these few days of this gathering, allow yourself to reignite the flame of love of Self and extend that to the other ones around you. Allow the holy Child to play.

I have one with me who would speak with you in this evening for oftentimes when I speak of the holy Child this one known as my mother, desires to speak. She has been known as the mother and it is a role that she very much enjoys. Although there are other roles as you understand roles to be that she plays, and I use that word advisedly. Plays. But she would speak with you this evening.

Mother Mary:

Gentle ones, blessed ones, children of the most High, I am the one known as Mary, Mother of Christ you have called me, and I am indeed Mother of Christ as you are.

For what you are now being willing to call forth is Love, to birth that Love as I did upon this plane. It does not mean that you need to give forth the child in physical form, but it means that you will call forth the Child of Love from your heart. You are birthing the Christ Child of who you are. You are loved. You are loved as the child that you are and as you allow yourself to know in your heart the child who is held and nurtured in that heart, you give the greatest gift unto this world.

It has been said that I gave the greatest gift of one Christ Child, and I did. But you also are doing that, for as you allow the Child that you are to be birthed in Love, in gentleness, you bring forth the Christ here and now upon this plane.

Not afar off events that happened so long ago that is held in dusty books somewhere, but it is a now experience. As you have given forth new Light through the ones that were born through the body, now allow yourself to birth the Christ that you are. Bring that Child into full play. Allow the Child of the heart who has been set aside on a shelf for sometime to come out to play, to feel the joy and rapture of freedom, of gentleness. To know the Love of Self. What will bring forth the Christ upon this plane? Love of Self. If there is but one thing that you remember from this evening, remember how beautiful you are. Remember how beautiful you are.

Thank you.

Yes. Thank you, beloved daughter. Allow the Child to come forth to be known in grand splendor. Allow the Child to come forth to be known in grand freedom. The Son of God, behold the Son of God again. Birth that Son right now in total Love and total freedom for you are loved always before time and beyond time.

I know it.

I know. It is what brings you Home. The arm about a brother. The hands that are held together, know you that that completes a circuit of energy?

That's obvious. I got him.

Yes. This one has been as brother to you in many lifetimes.

Yes, I knew that right away.

It is not by accident that you found yourselves together here in this gathering. If you had not chosen to come in this time, you would have done it in another time. There is much in the days to come that you will share with this one. There is much of love that you feel already that has healed discords that you carried for lifetimes. And yet where are those discords this evening? Forgotten. Long forgotten and discarded in the Love that you are.

That is what brings forth the holy Child in manifestation, through manifestation upon this plane. It is the Love that you feel that says, "There is nothing else. Nothing else matters." As you have found this love in this evening take it with you. Know it always for there has been much, much that has been held in judgment.

Uh huh.

That was never a Truth. Never a Truth, but served its purpose. And now you are ready for the new dream, the new vision that comes forth from the Love that you have experienced and felt. There is power in that love. You have already felt power. You will not be called upon to be crucified in order to bring forth the Christ upon this plane. But what you are called upon is to live.

To do it every moment.

Yes, every moment. To live the Love that you are.

It's almost as scary as being crucified sometimes.

{Laughter}

Yes, beloved. You have known crucifixion in all its ways, as you have. You have known that. You have experienced fear.

And it's worth it. I'm worth it.

Yes, it is, for you have come beyond it. You do not need. You do not need. It is something that you have fulfilled. You may, for in this lifetime now you are calling together all of the remembrances of completion. Yes. For know you what completion equals? Oneness, totality. See how wise you are.

Beloved daughter, I am most pleased that you came. That you set aside what you would see as obstacles to be here in this gathering. For there were many choices that you had to make and yet the heart spoke clearly and strongly to you. It is a reunion. it is a reunion with me as you would know me to be, for yes, there is a connection. You have known that.

But more than that it is a reunion with the family of one. All of your brothers and sisters, ones of the heart. It is a time of grand joy. You will find in these days that you have come Home, a geographical home, yes, but more than that, the Home of the heart that says, "I do not need to search any longer. I do not need to struggle." It is Home.

And you beloved one, it is great to behold you once again in this manner. To be able to reach out, to touch. To connect again with the remembrance of many lifetimes. For I did not live just what you would see as one lifetime as Mary. Yes, there was that one lifetime. There were lifetimes after that and there were lifetimes before that. And in those lifetimes often you and I were together. You have known that. You have felt that. There has been a calling from the heart as a remembrance. It is not by accident.

You are carrying on a work that we have done in other times. You will see it to completion this time. Other times you have come to what you would see, you would call it the promised land. You could see it, but you could not quite bring it into the conscious realization. Now you will. It is a grand desire of the heart. Not just the heart of this point of focus as my son would describe it, but it is a desire of your heart born before time to bring it all into conscious wholeness. That is why you desire to do healing. That is why you have researched various methodologies. You desire to bring into conscious awareness, realization the wholeness of the holy Child and to have it be known right now and right here.

Most beautiful Child. Can you feel the Love that you are? I know that you can. I can see the joy in your eyes and the remembrance of Love. That is all that you need to remember. For indeed the concern of expression they are but nuisances. They have been upon your stage. They have been the actors there. They have played parts for you in order to bring you to this place. The place where you can say, "I have come through all of that. I have completed all of that. I am the wholeness of energy that activates the form. I am it, by gum."

{Laughter}

Or by God, which you are. There is such a radiance about you as there has been in many, many lifetimes. You have often been the healer. You have often been the facilitator for others who were seeking and it is the same in this lifetime. You have helped many in this lifetime by your touch, by your words of support, by your being there. You have helped more, many more, than you know consciously. And the ones that you have helped have gone on to help others for there has been much of what you would know as the ripple effect. What you have done has been of great importance and yet there is more that you will do. Yes.

Beloved holy Child, beloved son who listens to the voice of the heart, I greet you in love. It is my great pleasure to see you again in this way. And this will not be the last time. There will be many times. The Child that you are, the holy Child, creativity it is already birthed. Already coming forth. You have felt that throughout many of the changes that have been in the last year of your timing. There has been much that you have been called upon to release. Much that meant your image of who you were, that you have been called upon to release and it has not always been easy.

But you desired to allow some of the encasement of the seed to be shed. There has been the opening, the bursting forth and with that some of the encasement has been gone, laid down, released and you have moved on from it. The encasement served you well at a certain time. It was necessary and there was much of goodness, of remembrance that was in that. But you as the beautiful Child that you are, you cannot be held in the encasement of the seed or of the belief system so you have found belief systems — more than one — being shattered because you are more than the belief systems. Because you have desired to know that you are more than the belief system.

This will continue but in more of a gentle fashion. You have already done the bursting. Sort of like your Fourth of July, the day that you have where there is a bursting. You have done that. What is coming for you now are the gentle releasements. There will be changes because your perception of who you are and what the world is all about, those perceptions are shifting. Lightly, subtly and daily, yes.

You are very much dynamic. You are not static. Even in times when you felt yourself to be static, in other words, you felt you had it all together, you are not static. It is much like the pot on the back burner that does its simmering. There were the bubbles that were simmering and sooner or later they came to the top and pushed the lid off. Now you are continuing to change those perceptions rapidly. Not in a way that has to be the explosive kind.

Beautiful one, radiant that you are. Far outshines ten thousand suns. Know you how bright your sun is that is up in the heavens and you cannot quite look at it with the shades upon the eyes. You are more brilliant than ten thousand suns and you will know that upon this plane. It will not be what you would see as the explosion that is too grand to behold. It will be the inner knowing that knows the radiance that you are. You will feel the birthing of the Christ Child as you already have and you will bring forth that Child who is you into realization, into joy. Already you are in process of doing that. Already by your willingness to come and to be in this gathering.

You have said, "I will follow my heart." That is where the Christ Child abides, within the heart. That is where you know the Christ Child that you are. It is by going within to the heart following what the heart suggests even though the voice of ego or the voice of the world would say, "Perhaps something else makes more sense."

Always, beloved one, you can trust the heart. It will bring forth the radiance that you are.

And another one who has had the choices and who has made the choices out of willingness to be here and to allow the Light that you are to be seen by all. I think perhaps the next time we meet we will bring a mirror and we will hold it up so that you can see the beauty of each one of you, the beauty that activates this body. The beauty that is you. You are loved with such a love of your Father, of the one Source. Yes.

In the days to come in these days, you will find as you are now the Love coming to you. It is love that you have sent out. You have cast upon the waters your love and it is coming back to you to remind you of the Love that you are. You are loved greatly. It is a great time for you, these next few days. Not as a heavy thing. You do not have to think, "Oh, what am I supposed to get from all of this?" It is not that at all.

What you will be getting is Love. You will find yourself in love. You will find me there.

Another beautiful one who follows her heart. You have grand courage, beloved one. You have a vision that you have held for a long, long time. A vision which is now in the process of being birthed. It is a vision of bringing forth the Christ Child through various methods, various ways. But the strongest one of all is what you just did, the extension of love. That is how the Christ is birthed and remembered again, in love.

These days are going to be exciting ones for you for you have come with a vision of the heart that you desire to share with others, that you desire to bring together into much as you would see your jigsaw puzzle. To put your piece in with someone else's piece and to see how it all comes together. These days will be exciting for you for you will see the pieces coming together. It is time.

As it is time for this one. Beloved one, beloved son of God who has lived all of the lifetimes that you have read about, that you have studied, that you have thought, that perhaps, perhaps you had a relatedness to, perhaps you knew that one that you were reading about. Indeed, you do.

Everyone that you have read and you have found a connection of the heart with, you definitely have that connection for you have been that one. Does that blow your mind?

Yeah, it certainly will.

That is what this gathering is all about. It is to blow the mind. All of the limitations of what ones have thought had to be. This gathering is to blow those constrictions and limitations. To blow the mind and to allow you to abide in the heart of the love. To feel that love dynamically. To see it in the eyes of another one as they behold you.

You will see that. You have already felt it in this evening. Ones that know nothing of your past. They don't know what your credentials are. It doesn't matter to them. They look upon you and they behold a brother. They behold the son of God as I do, and they feel within their heart great love for you.

Allow yourself to know that love, beloved one, for indeed you have passed all of the tests. All of the initiations that ever had to be that would qualify you to be worthy.

You have done those. In other lifetimes as you know lifetimes, as histories, they are all strung together into a whole, into a one. As you have read the books of different ones, their tests and their trials, you have read that yourself and tested.

"Have I truly done that?" Yes. Otherwise it would not ring a bell, as they say. It would not reach a place of alignment, a resonance within you. When you find yourself reading about one and you feel uplifted by that one, you feel like you could walk in their shoes, it is because you have.

That is what you are about now, is collecting all of those remembrances and claiming them for they are free. You have already paid the price.

Good to know, I guess.

Yes. You are love. You are my beloved Child. Allow yourself to feel worthy for I see you to be worthy for I know who you are.

Such beauty, again. Know you, you have often been the grand beauty? You have been the grand beauty that others worshipped. Other lifetimes you have been the grand intellectual of the mind that others have worshipped. This lifetime you are bringing this all together. You are a grand beauty. There is much of happiness that you are bringing now into awareness, much of completion of other areas that need to be in your belief, completed. They were already completed but you wanted to know in the depth of you, completion, for you are in the process of completing those.

But there is much of love in the days to come for you, because you will be extending it. Not because you will be getting it from others, from suitors, there will be companions yes, that will come and share love with you, but it will be because you are so caught up in the love that you are that others will be drawn as the moth to the flame to be in your presence.

They will see a physical beauty yes, but it will be the beauty of the heart that draws them. The beauty of mellowness that says, "I have come through," and you will be able to write a list of things if you want to in this lifetime, "I've come through all of these things. But I am now at a place of mellowness." And this the love of Self that speaks so loudly that it attracts all others. For others desire to know the love that they are and to live in that love. In that you are the Mother of Christ. In that you will be giving forth the message of how to birth the Christ.

It is wonderful.

It is wonderful. It will be fun besides.

Good, I want to learn that one.

Beloved daughter who has again had the courage to come forth, to speak her truth, to explore various avenues, some popular, some not so popular. Even in your relationship at home, you have had to stand with the heart, with the courage of the heart and say, "This is what I believe in and this is what I will do." You have said, "It does not mean that I do not love you. It means that I do love you, therefore, I go to search and bring home treasure," as you have done in many times, many lifetimes.

You have often been the adventurer, the one who was willing to go forth where others would not quite go yet, to go first and then you brought back to the village stories of what was beyond. It is the same in this lifetime. You have been courageous enough to say, "I will choose a new path. I will go beyond what has been the circumscribed, accepted belief and I will try out other beliefs. I will see where they go." And then you have come back to the group, the village, companions and you have shared as they were willing to hear. You have shared your story of what lies beyond.

In that you bring forth the Christ Child for the Christ Child is not afraid of the unknown. It is not afraid to entertain new ideas, to travel. The Christ Child is very much the one who knows, "I am the Light that precedes every step I take. Therefore, I do not have to worry."

For you have brought that message back to your companions many times. You will continue to do that and you birth in your way, the Christ.

Grand lover upon this plane. Grand lover of all of lifeforms. The one who looks upon other lifeforms and loves them as yourself, because you are the life of each one. Whether they be brother, sister, whether they be on the four legs, even the ones that have the two legs and the wings. All, even the ones who would not have the legs, they go in another means. All are love in expression and you know that for you feel the heart opening. You can extend the love every time you look upon another life-form and you behold the miracle, the wonder of life in that form. You birth the Christ Child in that moment. For the Christ Child does not have to be expressing with this recognizable form.

The Christ Child expresses even on the four legs, or the four legs, the larger size, or the two legs or the ones with no legs. The Christ Child is the Light that activates all of form and knows itself to be one with that energy. So there when you have looked upon another form and your heart has spoken, one to one, you have birthed the Christ in your awareness of oneness.

Beloved daughter I am very, very pleased that you have come in this evening. I know that you have carried much of weight, of expectation, of vision, frustration. Much of a desire of your heart to see love manifest in a certain form upon this plane, and you will see that. But the beautiful part of that is you are birthing it in a way that you cannot yet know consciously. In a way that you have decreed that you will not know consciously. It is not that you cannot, but you have said, "I will hold that yet beyond my belief system of consciously knowing how all of this will come together." It is a favorite way of playing on this plane.

My beloved friend and teacher, the one known as Judith does this all the time. She said, "I don't know how this is going to come together." It is because she desires not to know it yet. She says, "Surprise me Jeshua." So I do. But I do not bring forth any thing that is not already within your realm of the vision of your heart.

In these next few days of this gathering, you will find many of the pieces of the vision that you hold falling into place. There is much that you have brought with you of desire that is shared by others so gathered in this room and you will find that the Christ Child will be birthed and will be manifest.

Perhaps not exactly in the vision that has been brought up to this point in this evening, for as we spoke earlier, there is a vision that is coming to be known upon this plane, a grand vision of love, of wholeness and you have a most important part to play in that. As do all of the others so gathered in this room.

It is such a joy to behold you once again, to reach out and to touch, to extend the love of the energy that is in physical form, to be able to touch you. To welcome you to the family that is you, all of the family. For you have desired to know family. You have searched for family. You often go and you find family, for indeed your family is multitudinous. Your Father has been most busy with the offspring.

The love that you are is most visible. It comes through the eyes as you look upon a brother or sister and you love that one even though no words may be spoken. The love that you are comes through in the words that are sometimes spoken. In the laughter that says, "Yes, there is hope, there is goodness upon this plane. We are the Child of our Father and life can be good. It can be happy."

Beautiful one. Thank you for having the courage to be love upon this plane, for always it is a choice as to whether you will express with the form, the body, whether you will come through the experiences and how you will view those experiences whether in love or in judgment of others or of self. It takes grand courage which means abiding in the heart. To allow the fullness of the love that you are to be made manifest right here and right now, and you do it so freely. It is a beautiful gift.

In the days that you will be meeting together, the next several days, one of the things that you will be consciously bringing forth into your remembrance is the energy of Light and of Love. One of the most efficacious ways of doing this is by knowing the Child that you are, the holy Child. By nurturing that Child. By allowing that Child to feel free.

For as you love the Child that you are, it has been called the inner Child, as you love self you can then extend Love unto others for if you no not love of self how can you love a brother or sister? If you are so caught up into judgment of self, into feeling unworthy, to hold an image of self that speaks still of something that is lacking or something that must be attained, some tests that must be passed, as you hold that image of yourself you deny the love to a brother and to a sister because you do not fully connect with it yourself.

Love the Christ Child that you are. That is where the mellowness comes from. That is where the okayness comes from. Where that no matter what, others may choose as their behavior in a moment, you can look upon it and you can be even with it. You can be at peace with it. For you know the Child that you are, the Child of the one Father and you can love even a brother or sister for you know love of Self.

In these days that you are together, nurture remembrance of Self, of the one Self. Symbolized in this time as the inner individuated Child. Allow that Child to be happy. Allow that Child to speak with you. That Child has much to share with you. Much that you have often been too busy to hear. But in a time when you are doing something that does not take a whole lot of mind thought, invite the Child to share with you the joys of childhood, even the childhood that you would know in this lifetime, the happy times, and then to know the childhood of the one true Child.

For in the evenings to come there will be energy work that you will do, bringing forth consciously the energy that you are so that you can touch that place of knowing your dynamic energy. But the way to start it in this evening is through the Child, through the new found love of brother to brother. The new found love of sister to sister, mother to daughter, yes, and the way of loving Self.

It is the way to come Home. It is the way to connect again with my Father's Kingdom. Your Father's Kingdom. That place of peace. That place where it is all together in holiness. Not because it is sanctified by a religious organization and called holy, but a place that is holy because it is already whole, lacking for nothing. All ready perfect and complete.

In the days that you are together the holy Child will come forth and you will depart from this place knowing that you have touched the place of holiness. Not so much a physical place although you will see that as well, but you have touched the place of holiness within. And as you know that place of holiness that is you, the vision that you hold so dear within you heart each and every one of you, will not be held at a distance any longer.

Every one of you who has made the decision to be here in this gathering has a vision, a shared vision, a purpose and in the times that you will see each other, you will find many similarities that will lead you to the place of knowing that there are no accidents and there is no separation.

Go in peace this evening. Rest the bodies after a long trek. Nurture the Child, be gentle with Self as you lay the head upon the pillow this evening, speak one word of love to the Child that you are. Greet that Child by your name in love, in fondness, in affection, gently, and allow that Child to share with you whatever it wants to share. You will find much that will be revealed.

I love the Child that you are. Each and every one of you as you see yourself to be individuated energy. Each and every one of you is the Christ that I have birthed in my reality as you are now birthing the Reality — with a capital "R" — of the Christ upon this plane.

So be it.
