

The Great Wave of Energy

1995-09-28

Johnstown, PA

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light Divine, that is who you are. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to call me forth.

For indeed, always I am ready, willing and able to be in communion with you. Always I am in the heart of one, and whenever you turn the focus of your attention unto me, instantly there we are as one, in conscious awareness, always together as the One that we are, but sometimes there is a focus of attention where you would be doing the activities that need to be done, and so I stand and I wait.

I knock upon the door of the mind. I knock upon the door of the heart and when you will open it and invite me in, then I will come and I will sup with you. I will come and I will share the nurturing of the Love of our Father, and beautiful that is.

First of all, I must say my thanks, my gratitude to you and the beautiful mate for inviting me to be here in this lovely space. The haven that you have made here in this geographical location, an other word for Heaven, the haven that you have made for others so that they may come and touch again in conscious awareness, the Heaven that they are. To be surrounded by beauty, upliftment, all of the energy that allow others to turn the focus from the daily activity to the One Heart. Thank you beloved one. It is as it was in olden times, when we served the Father but not in a heavy service. It is a joy.

All of you so gathered in this room, even you, beloved one, have answered an invitation to be here this evening. All of you have known me in what you would call olden times, the times that have been written about in your Scriptures. You have been ones who wrote the Scriptures. Some of those that have been collected and handed down through the ages and other of the writings have been put aside somewhere, not what you call the authorized versions, but the writings. Some of them still exist and will come to light again.

All of you have walked with me. All of you have heard my teachings. All of you have felt a drawing, an attraction in the heart to know once again. You have played with the idea and you have said, "Would that be possible?" And then the voice of the ego has said, "Oh no. That could not be." But then the still small voice spoke again and said, "Perhaps. There is a feeling, a familiarity, a feeling that I know this one from the time that I was a small one, I have felt the Elder Brother's presence and I have known this one," and it is true. Even for ones of you who have the focus of attention upon other activities that are most important at this time. Indeed, they are most important.

It is the same with the brothers and sisters. Everyone is about the Father's business in their own way. Everyone is about the business now of completion. Completion with aspects, areas of experience that allow the holy Child to come Home once again to the Father.

Many of the ones that you are in association with have the attention on other areas. Some with other philosophies, others very caught up in activities that bring enjoyment for the time being, yet they question in their times of quiet, the questions, "Is there not something more?"

But all of the brothers and sisters you see now about you, are doing what would be known as completion, feeling the fullness of experiencing whatever they are going through. That is why they are calling forth the very experiences, the very challenges that they find themselves in the midst of. They desire to know intimately that experience.

For all of you in this point of focus, in this belief system have experienced what are known as many lifetimes and you have played with many roles and you have played with the subtleties of those roles. In other words, you have been the grand warrior many times, and you have come to know different aspects of being the warrior. You have known how it feels to have no fear in the face of battle. You have known how it feels to be right in other one's face with the spear, with the metal and you have known how it feels to look into the eyes of a brother that you were in conflict, combat with and in an instant to see your Self in that one.

You have played with being the grand warrior, yes, you as well, and you have said, "Now I know it face to face, up close. This time around I will be the great general who stands back and I direct all of the other troops to do what they will do. I will be the master strategist and I will watch the activity of what is going on." You have known what it feels like to be the conqueror and the conquered. You know what it feels like to be the king, the queen, and you know what it feels like to be the one who serves the king or the queen, or the one who is the lowly peasant.

You have experienced all of the roles that you can imagine and you have experienced all of the subtleties of playing those roles. Why? For the fun of it. For the experience of it. For the creative holy Child, and you are creative because you are the holy Child of the One Creator, and creativity is your nature. The creative holy Child thought to bring forth creation. Being of your Father, you desired to know creation and you thought, "What can I create?" And with that thought, the gods, who are you, brought forth creation.

You desired to know, "What can I bring forth in creation?" And you brought forth all worlds. This, our Holy Mother, the Earth, you participated in the birthing of this planet. You brought forth all that lives and walks upon this planet. Some of you designed the beautiful flowers and you brought them forth. If you feel a certain alignment to a flower, a certain flower that you feel is yours, know that you have participated in that creation and there is yet, an alignment that you feel. Ownership in the creation of it. It is yours.

As you feel a oneness with the grand trees, you have some very large grand trees known as your sequoias, know that you have participated in bringing that forth into your experience upon this plane and you have brought forth all of the universes and all of the galaxies because you desired to know creation.

And having created then the holy Child asked, "What would it feel like to be amongst my creations? What would it feel like to energize, to know intimately the creations?" And with that idea you came forth and manifested as the energy of Light that activates the life process.

You have desired to know creation and to know it intimately. You have desired to know density. Now density is only as you would judge it in relative form, for indeed what you experienced upon this plane as density, others would see to be quite light. For there are other levels of vibratory rate in expression that are much more closely held together, and they in their expression, you because you are not separate, but you would see it as another aspect of you. They would see this dimension to be not as dense as what you call it to be.

But you have desired to know vibratory rate of creation. You have desired to know intimately all that you have created. You have even played with the idea of, "What does it feel like to be a soccer ball upon the field?" And for a moment, just for an instant you have said, you have imagined, "What would it feel like?" And then you have gotten busy doing the activities of it. For a moment you asked, "What would it feel like to be?" Indeed, you do know for as you will sit in quietness, in meditation, in imagination, you play with unlimited possibilities of what could be and what has been and what you may bring forth, and there is much power in that.

Now the power that the world would look upon. Not the power of trying to get others to do your will or to be worshipped. I will share with you, it is no great thing to be worshipped. It is seen as a bit of a distance and when I call unto my brothers and sisters because they are so in their belief system of worshipping me, they do not feel that it is possible that they could talk with me, and yet it is very possible. But they will come unto knowing that, the communion of that in time.

You and the other brothers and sisters that you are in association with, are coming to know and to choose to come out of that place of very specific identification with form, with the creation, and to know that you are the energy that activates all of creation. You are the energy that activates the form. You are not the body. You have seen the bodies that have been laid down and you have seen them to be life-less without the Spirit.

You are the Spirit, the energy that activates the body. You as you know oneness with your creation, know yourself to the life process of even what you call the beautiful flowers. You can sit and know communion with a flower. I would recommend it to you. To spend some time in a day sitting with a flower, asking of it, "How does it look from your vantage point to be a flower? How does a flower feel?" It will reveal to you more of yourself, and then you may choose to be very active again, back into the activities, and that is well and good as well, because you are the energy that you bring to those activities.

But you have decreed that you will now know the Spirit that you are, that you will now know in conscious awareness the vibration of Light and the Love that you are, the Love of the Father that you bring to this plane.

For indeed all of you have agreed that you will come and you will anchor your Light upon this plane until all know the Light that they are. Now does that mean that you will have to keep activating the very same body over and over? No. Until that happens, no. But you will anchor your Light as you have done in what you would call many other lifetimes and you will anchor your Light as the guardian angel that you have been to others, in again as what you would see as other experiences, other lifetimes.

For yes, as you acknowledge that you have a guardian angel, and indeed you do, you have known what it is to serve as another's guardian angel. You are not limited. But what you do in bringing the specific point of focus into this time, this space and identify with a form and a personality is a grand miracle. And you do it without even considering, that you honed it so well that you expect to wake up in the morning at the same place where you put the body to bed the evening before. You opened the eyes and unless you are traveling somewhere, you behold the same bedroom, the same wallpaper, the same coverings on the bed.

Sometimes as you have traveled you have awakened in a strange room and you have thought for a moment, "Where am I? What galaxy is this?" But you do a grand miracle in bringing forth such a specific point of focus in everyday, and you identify very intensely with that point of focus. But now what you are saying is, "Yes, I can be that point of focus. I can know myself to be as Esperanza and I can be the hope of the world. But I also know that I am more than just this specific personality and this point of focus in this time. I know that I am active in other realms." You have played with that idea. You have played with the concept that even as you lay the body down in the bed for the repose at night, you have played with, "Where do I go in my dreams?" And indeed, yes you do go. You change the point of focus, the shift and you are very active somewhere else.

You are playing with ideas of unlimitedness. You are saying, "I can be the angel in expression right here, right now. I can hear the angels sing. I can know conscious oneness with my Father." Many lifetimes you were in such a state of worship that the Father was seen to be afar off, and that is true now for many of the brothers and sisters yet.

There is a calling deep within each of the brothers and sisters that knows there is something beyond just this point of focus, beyond who they have thought themselves to be as personality and there is a calling that they feel, a stirring deep within to what they would call a higher Power. And yet they see that to be outside of themselves and they worship me, still upon the cross many times. They worship other great masters who have brought enlightenment to this plane or they worship the Father as He would be afar off.

And yet what you are now wanting to know, what you are now willing to know, is that you are the Father in expression. You are the Light and the Love of the Father in expression. If it were not so I would have told you.

As I have said, "I and the Father are one." You and the Father are one. One with me and one with the Father. Not in a great complexity of mysticism, but in very direct experience as you activate the form, you bring the Light of Spirit, the energy right here right now. You are the Father in expression, and as you allow yourself to focus more and more upon your unlimitedness, as the Light and Love you will find the brothers and sisters also playing with concepts that they would not have dared to even entertain a few years ago.

There is a great wave of energy that is sweeping the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth. You are very much part of this wave. It is a wave of consciousness that is desiring to know enlightenment. What does that word mean? It sounds like it might be some great mystical experience. What it means is, you want to know the Light that you are. You want to feel lighter as the Spirit that you are. You want to bring that Light into conscious manifestation. Always you are manifesting some of the Light that you are. Your scientists, they measure it. It is termed the aura. Your scientists, your photography can photograph it, can see it as proof.

If you will receive it, there is coming and time, very soon now, when you will be knowing the conscious oneness with the Father, with the Light that activates the body, the form, so much so that you will be filled with radiance and it will be seen with the physical eyes. Much more so than just what is termed the aura at this moment, this time.

There are those of you who can see what is termed the aura around another one. But this will be in most direct fashion where ones, you, will see the Light around a body with the physical eyes easily, without even having to so-called, tune into it. It will be most obvious. And the Light of this one will blend with the Light of this one intermingling, so that there will no longer been seen that there is just a form, a specific finite form sitting upon the chair. But it will be seen that the Light itself radiates the intermingles and no longer will the belief in separation be tenable.

Now the brothers and sisters go about in a feeling of separation, one from another, because they see the bodies and they feel that they can do whatever they want to and that they will not feel it. Well you know that that is not true. For indeed you know vibration. You know what it feels like when another one is sad. You know what it feels like when another one is quite happy and you can feel the radiance in that room. You walk into that one's room and they are high, uplifted in Spirit and you can feel it. It will come to be that you will be identifying yourself as Light blobs, grand infinite Light blobs, that activate the form, and no longer will ones say, "Well I can act with impunity. I can think whatever judgment I want to, about another one and they won't know it. But I am superior to that one and I can judge that one and I'll hold my opinion of that one and they won't know it." Well even now they know it. They can feel it when you are in judgment of them.

The vibration that goes out with judgment or goes out with Love, will be seen. Not only felt as it is now on a certain subtlety of a level, but it will be seen. It will be seen as vibratory rate. It will be seen as Light and the various colors of Light. Already this can be seen by some and it will be even more in evidence in a few years of your timing?

Why? Because you decreed that it is going to be so. You have said, "I want to come Home to the Father. I want to know who and what my Father is. I want to know unlimited expression of Love upon this plane." And so you have the courage to come together in groups of like mind and like heart, to play with unlimited ideas and it is grand what you do.

For as you allow yourself the freedom to play with new ideas, you offer to others the opportunity to perhaps consider, that does not mean that they are going to buy it, but they will start to consider because you have had the outrageousness to say that perhaps there is more than just the nine to five job or the swing shift, whatever it is called, or that just the activity of coming together in relationship and having a family. You have said, "No, there is more to life than this. Much more." And you have been willing to entertain ideas that are not yet accepted by all of the brothers and sisters.

But in time, they also will know themselves to be unlimited Light. Not just a specific point of focus.

[Is it okay to ask something?

Speak.

{Lengthy comments by a brother. Not clearly recorded.}

What you are working with right now beloved one, is within the frame work of a belief in time in expression. In the beginning of time the creative holy Child that to create. We have spoken of this earlier this evening in the beginning.

{Interrupting Jeshua again and getting into a long discourse}

In the beginning one was alone, all one. And out of that one has come seemingly the many. The holy Child expressing as the many and yet as the one. You have brought forth a dimension, you have brought forth a belief system, you have brought forth a point of focus in this time called a dimension of experience. This is not all there is as this one has spoken.

There are experiences, expressions beyond this and beyond time, but what there is in this point of focus, now, that you ascribe to and this is not in judgment, has parameters of time. It is a belief that there was a beginning and that there is certainly a middle part of process in between, and that there will be a conclusion, an ending. That is what you are coming to whether you know what it is or not. You have not defined what it is, but there is always a feeling of working towards something.

There is a belief in the process which is defined then as time. That is how you measure your time. It is a process between two points, two events. Out of the very close identification with the form, with creation, anything that is in form, vibratory rate in form, has come a belief in duality. A belief that there could be something good and something bad, something evil.

You have very closely identified and attached emotions to the judgments. Emotions themselves are energy in motion and you have used emotion to define through judgment whether it is going to be good or bad in your experience. Others may have the same experience and they may judge it differently. You have seen that happen. Something that you would look upon and say that is a tragic event. Others will come through even in the same family upbringing perhaps, and it will not affect them the same. They will see it differently. They will judge it differently.

But there has been a belief in duality that has come from the identification with form. You know yourself to be ultimately Spirit, of the Father, the energy. You also know that there is form. You have brought it forth but you have forgotten that you are the ones who have created the form and you see a duality even between Spirit and form. And again you see all measure in between what you would call one end of that spectrum, call that the perfect and the other side the imperfect, the good, the evil, the love, the fear. Then even between that you have made gradations of levels as to, "Well, this is not quite so good as that is," et cetera and you have all levels of gradations, because you have desired to know form and how it feels to activate the form but you are also now wanting to know, "How does it feel to know my true Reality as the Light of the Father? The energy of the Father? The Spirit that activates the form itself?" That is why you are decreeing, not I, because I know the energy and the Love of the Father to be one, but you are decreeing that for a time you will see the Light around the bodies in order to prove to yourself that the Light activates the bodies. It is not necessary.

Other expressions of your one Self know themselves to be the Light and go about in expression as Light beings. Taking themselves lightly. In other arenas of experience and expression time is not known. It is not an ingredient of what the holy Child has said will be within that drama, that adventure. Within what you are now focusing upon and that is all it is, is a point of focus, what you are now focusing upon, says, "That within the parameters of this experience I will know time. I will know duality. I will know that there is the Spirit and I will know that there is form," and for yet, a time interval because that is part of the underlying belief, you will experience time. But, you have already been experiencing the acceleration of time, have you not? You have felt in the last few years of your timing, you have talked about an acceleration of more places to go, things to do than you had time to do, more choices. You have even felt the vibration of your body speeding up, and indeed this is true as you have allowed more of the Light that you are to be radiated even through the cells of the body.

So even within the parameters of time, with a belief in time, you are playing with time because you are saying, "I will now accelerate what I believe time to be. I will accelerate my experience of it," bringing it to that place where you have raised the vibratory rate even of the form, to the place where you recognize you are that Spirit, you are that Light.

So yes. You are more than this point of focus. You know that at a certain level. You have connected with that. In your times when you have paused in between all of the activities. You have known that there is a Home to come Home to, something beyond right here and you have desired to know that. Yet you have desired to know expression as the Spirit that you are while still activating the body.

Many times you have laid down the body and you have gone to another experience. You have felt that that would be the end of all experience and for some, it has been because then they have opted to go into another room in my Father's house. Within my Father's house are many mansions. I have spoken that to you many times. Many areas of expression, many dimensions as you would call them. So there are some who have laid down the body completely finished with it and have gone to another room to experience what that room holds.

There is no judgment as to what is being experienced in this point of focus. There has been much of your religious teaching that has said that this experience is something to get through so that you can come unto something better. It has been taught to you that there are many temptations that will lead you astray, that the Child of the Father somehow could be sinful. All that sin is, is a temporary forgetting of the Spirit that you are, of the Love that you are. It is not a sin that is forever going to hold you outside of the Kingdom of the Father for indeed, time exists only within the belief system of this dimension and some others as well. There are others that define time.

{Comments not clear.}

What I mean by point of focus is where you are putting your attention, what you believe to be real. That is what I mean by point of focus.

You do not have to earn it, beloved one, it is what you are from before time began, but you do have to remember it.

{Comments}

No, only within that timeframe, of holding yourself in what would be known as hell, the hell of hatred but it would not deny you your birthright. It cannot for you are the Child of the one Father.

As we have spoken earlier this evening, this is a time of completion, a great time of completion so there are many who will go through the experiences of hell.

{Comments and answers not transcribed.}

[I have a question related to that, you were talking about this situation now and what's happening. You described it as a wave of energy. It is starting to move to our consciousness, our civilization and so forth. I definitely feel that but I guess the way I see it, you know there is an opportunity to use that as a vehicle for growth. That's one of the advantages of this rapid change.

Yes, very much so.

[But it also looks to me like many people are not taking advantage of this and what I would consider to be the right way, they seem to be attracted more to violence. In the movies and the music, and so it's almost like, I guess maybe I see it and then it is something that bothers me, it's almost like if you take oil and water together after awhile the two layers separate. Is that kind of what you are saying?

What is happening is what we have spoken of earlier this evening, the completion, even for the brothers and sisters who seem to be going off in a direction that is totally separate and will never mix with where you feel yourself to be.

You have felt the pain, of living in pain where you have knocked the head against the wall either literally or figuratively over and over until you have finally said, "Stop a moment. Maybe there is another way to see this. Maybe I don't have to go through all of this," and that is what the brothers and sisters are bringing forth now.

Yes, you see much of duality. Yes, you see much of that.

{Comments about good & evil}

Listen, there is something important here. Loss is only tragic within time. That is the answer to your question and to yours. Loss is only tragic within time. The Father does not see loss. It exists only within this point of focus, this dimension, yes.

[In terms of my question.... People are creating for themselves a situation that will finally propel them....

Exactly, it will be the catalyst for remembrance.

[So I guess the difference between that person and myself is that maybe I don't need that at the same level as them.

That is very true. For you have seen ones who would awaken even from your nighttime sleep. Some who awaken very gently and very easily. If you would walk into the room, even approaching their door, opening the door very quietly, instantly they are awake. Other you have to go in and take by the shoulders and shake them, call their name, whatever, before they will awaken, and that is what some of the brothers and sisters are decreeing. They will say that, "Yes, it is foreordained that they will awaken, that they will come Home to the Father." But that they will have their adventure quite dramatically before that and it will take some great catalyst before they choose to awaken. That is what you are seeing now for indeed this is an end of an age. It is an ushering of a new age. And some will come gently and some will take more of the shaking.

[Where does this forgetfulness come from. It's what the Indians call the Maya, that we don't realize that we are this spirit, and identify ourselves only with this physical body.

Yes, it has come with the identification with matter, with form, with the creation that one has brought forth. That is where the temporary forgetting has come and it is not a sin.

And now we will play with the lightness, for indeed yes, you do have a light side. It is of Love that plays and knows that you are the Child, literally the Child and that it is okay to be the Child. It feels good. But the mind, the mind loves to play as well and you play within the realm of the duality when you play with the mind that way and you will keep going around and around with it. Again not in judgment, for loss is only seen to be tragic within time. So it matters not how long you spend in any state that you choose to be in for it is as it has been called, the illusion. It is the grand drama of the Child just to play. But you also know your Light side and that beloved one, is what brings you Home.

So play as much as you want with the mind, but remember once in a while to come to the place of the heart and to know you are already Home. You are the beloved Child.

Now, beloved Child how are you in this evening? You are radiant. Is there something that you would ask of me?

[Yes. I would like to have an answer if it is possible for my husband and I. I'm trying to find another home.

Yes. For as the idea, the desire has come to you it is not by accident and there is much benefit in this. Much that will allow you to come to a place of freedom as the holy Child that you are, and that he is. For you will not relinquish what you have, but you also will be in a place of knowing that you are beyond the possession itself, that you are most free and always taken care of by the Father. So as there is a desire to change the residence, yes, go for it as you world would say. Go for it in grand freedom in faith and in trusting that always you will be provided for. You will not make a mistake, you cannot make a mistake.

For indeed, everything that you choose bring you Home to the Father in one way or another.

But you do not need to go into it with your interpretation to say, "Perhaps I could make a mistake or perhaps I could lose something, for indeed you will not lose." But I would ask of you beyond the answer to the specific question, what are you desiring at a very deep level that is indicated by a desire to change the residence, the dwelling place? There is much of a very deep level there as well, for you are desiring to change the dwelling place of what you know yourself to be, who you know yourself to be and to feel at home in another residence and to feel at home even beyond what you see this experience to be.

{I Quit typing personal questions at this point.}
