

Birthing The Christ: A Christmas Celebration

1995-12-01

Denver, CO

Jeshua & Mother Mary

Opening meditation by David Hiller

Jeshua:

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light divine, that is who you are and beautiful it is. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is great joy that I come to abide with you again this evening in your timing, to come in this conscious manner, to reach out and to touch, to mingle the energies of the One.

A time of great joy. A time of celebration. A time of oneness. A time when the angels sing for you. A time of great holiness, of sacredness as you remember the holy Child that you are and you call forth all aspects of that one Self, the Light of the holy Child. A time of great celebration. A time of holy days. You are already in the midst of your holy days.

You have begun in what you would see as your last week of timing with a holiday, a holy day. A day when you called to mind the thankfulness of your being. Being here in this life expression yes, and your beingness that goes beyond this point of focus.

It is most fitting and proper that you begin as a remembrance, once again of the celebration of holiness with a holy day of thanksgiving. To allow yourself to come truly alive in the thankfulness of what it means to be alive and to have focus in this point of time with a very beautiful body, how soft. A personality that is as the Light, the shimmering Light of sunlight upon the waves. A personality that can be most lighthearted at times, witty and gay and other times can plumb the depths of the deepest troughs between the waves.

It is most appropriate that you call forth through the conscious remembrance the thankfulness of all that you are. To allow yourself to be thankful for even the smallest details of the life experience. Such as, the ticklishness of a foot. How often do you think of that? Yet, it is there for your pleasure. For the playfulness of the holy Child, to come and to play in Her Father's kingdom. To play upon our Holy Mother, the Earth and to know oneness with all of life process in this point of focus and beyond.

So as you have begun your celebration and remembrance of the holy days, it was appropriate to call forth the thankfulness for all of the family. For indeed you had family reunion, many of you calling together ones to celebrate the holy day, and to allow yourself to look even beyond what would be known as the close family to the true family of the One. To allow your remembrance to expand even beyond the family that you see and would call biological family. Even beyond the family of friends, beyond the family that is seen to be yet activating the physical bodies, and to remember them in what you now call spirit. Indeed always you are Spirit. That is what activates even the form.

And then to go beyond even that to call forth the family of the angelic realm and what you would know in this point of focus as the hierarchy of masters, guides and teachers from whom you are not separate, and to give thanks for all of creation and all of beingness. That is truly who and what you are.

In this time you are now embarking upon, this time of celebration, great time of celebration, to celebrate once again the birth of the Christ Child upon this plane. It is to remember not just a birth that happened a long time ago in your reckoning of time, but it is to remember the Christ Child that is born in each moment as you allow yourself to abide in the space of the heart with the love, the gentleness and the sacredness of the one Christ.

That is truly what this time of celebration is about, it is celebrating your own birth of the Christ and it need not be just in what you see as one season of time. For truly, if you will receive it, and if you will allow yourself to be so infilled by the Spirit that you are, you will take beyond this season a remembrance and a knowing of the Christ that you are into all the other seasons of the year.

This is a grand time of birthing upon your plane, right now. This season of holy days in this focus of attention is a grand time of birthing. A time that you have experienced yes, before. For you are the ones who have been the guardians, who have ushered in other new ages of enlightenment. This is not the first time round for doing this. There is a relatedness, a memory, however subtle, of having been at a threshold, a time of birthing, a time of acceleration, a time of excitement for indeed you have ushered in other ages of enlightenment upon this plane, this dimension as you know this dimension to be, and other dimensions, other realities -- with a small "r".

You have been the adventurers and still are. The ones who are willing to go forth into what seems to be new territory and yet there is a remembrance that says, "Come, it will be okay. You have done this before." There is a faith, a very deep faith, a knowingness within you called faith, called trust, sometimes, that says, "It is safe to do this." And it is.

In this ushering in of a time of enlightenment, this time of birthing it will not be a time of great chaos. It need never be a time of great chaos but there has been some adventures, some histories, some realities as you would know them where you have said, "That would be an ingredient," and you have put that into the script.

But this time around for indeed it is a whole and it goes around, you have decreed that it will come in gentleness and in sacredness and in holiness. Why? Because you have reached a place of completion, a place of fulfillment that says, "I am done with the conflict and the sorrow and the great chaos. Yes, I wanted to know how that would feel to be the great storm." And all of you have been the great storm. But now, yes, sometimes even with the mate, but now you have said, "I want to know gentleness. I want to know holiness. I want to come Home and remember once again the Love of the Father, the all encompassing Love of the Father."

In this evening, beloved ones, you know the Love of the Father, that as the evening progresses you will feel more and more of the Love, the unconditional, unlimited Love of the Father, of the angels, for indeed as this one has spoken, the room that you see yourself to be in and truly you are not in it, it is within you, is filled with the presence of the angelic beings.

You will feel the whisper soft Love of what you would call in your visualization of the wings, you will feel that. You will know them to be present with you for indeed always they are, guiding you, speaking into the ear from time to time and as you are allowing yourself to come to a place of quietness within the heart, more and more you give opportunity for your angels, for their voice to be heard and the guidance to be known.

Now these are not ones that are separate from you. These are not ones that you have to be worthy of before they would come and be with you, for indeed you have been worthy of the angels from before time began. You are the angels yourself, and in what you would know as other realities, you serve as the angel for other ones. You as you are sitting now with a point of focus that seems to be right here, you are serving others as the angel to them for you are not limited to this point of focus. The beingness that you are, the Light that you are, the Love that you are is unlimited and not defined in just one space or one experience. It goes beyond, even beyond what you imagine and even now you are whispering into the mind, the heart of other ones the Love of the Father and the guidance that will see them Home. Ones who are upon this plane as well, and ones that are in other dimensions, other realities. You are most active.

This is a season, a time of remembrance. This month as you call a certain time interval, is one of birthing. It is a great time that you are giving to yourself as a package, a time. This on the first day of the month, this holy month is ushering in for you a grand remembrance of the holiness of the Christ Child, and if you will receive it, if you will trust the Word of God, and indeed I assure you may. It will grow everyday in this month of your timing so that when you come to the place of what you call the new year, you will be changed from what you see yourself now to be even in this evening.

It is a time of great celebration. A time of excitement. Well and truly spoken that the angels sing for you. They sing for the Christ Child that is being birthed. Allow yourself in this month of holiness to set aside a time in every day to acknowledge the holiness of the Christ Child.

I would suggest that upon the first awakening, when you first come to the conscious awareness of this point of focus in the morning, speak to the Christ Child and celebrate the birth of the Christ once again in that day and in that time everyday of this month. For if you will do that with vigilance and with discipline, you will find that the Christ Child will not seem to be far off, ancient, distant. The Christ Child will be very much the companion that walks with you as you throughout everyday. That is my promise to you and your promise to yourself as the Christ Child that you are.

Every morning in your timing when you first awaken, even before the eyes perhaps pop open, allow yourself to greet the Christ Child and to say to the Christ Child, "Happy birthday. Happy birthing. What shall we do in this day?"

Take the Christ Child with you in everyday of this next month of your timing into every meeting that you go to, every activity, as you are preparing your food, as you are washing your dishes, as you are showering the body, as you are shopping for the food that nourishes the body, as you are handing over the golden coins to one who will take your energy in tangible form, the golden coins in exchange for what you are purchasing. Take the Christ Child with you into every experience consciously.

At first, it may seem that the Christ Child is somewhere holding the hand as a companion. But you will find as the days progress that the Christ Child moves closer and closer until the Christ Child is known within.

Many of you carry on dialogue, all of you carry on dialogue within the mind, talking to yourself, talking to me, talking to others, masters. Talking to the one that you call the Father God, the Mother God. Allow yourself to expand that dialogue to include and encompass the Christ Child. Ask of the Christ Child, "How does it feel to be Christ?" Feel Christ looking through the eyes as you spoke, as I have said, how does it feel to be the Christ Child reading out to nurture another one? To offer the holy vision of healing to another one? How does it feel to be the Christ Child? To play, to know that your Father loves you always and forever?

You have just been christened, for indeed you are the Christ.

Take the awareness of the Christ Child with you into your great malls, your shopping malls. Allow yourself to stand in the midst of all of the activity of the great shopping malls and to watch the brothers and sisters as they go about the activities of preparation for celebration. Some of them feeling that there is not too much joy in the celebration for there is so much to be done. So many "shoulds", so much judgment of "What should I buy as a gift for another one and will it be good enough? And how can I stretch the golden coins to cover what I would like to purchase? And how can I fit all of this into the time frame that I think I have available?"

There is much of constriction within your great shopping malls. Allow yourself to go as the Christ Child into the shopping malls and to stand as a gentle peace and to look at each one of the brothers and sisters and to speak from the heart, "The Christ Child of me greets the Christ Child of you."

Allow your peace to spread as a healing balm throughout the great shopping malls. It will be felt, it will register with everyone of the brothers and sisters. It will be felt at a certain level. Some will acknowledge it. Some will receive it consciously and know that they have been touched by a peace that goes beyond what they normally experience in the shopping mall.

Some will make the clear eye contact, the direct contact and know that something has happened. They will have opportunity to remember for a moment at least that there is something beyond just the activity of the purchasing. Others may be so caught up in what they feel is important right then, that they do not consciously acknowledge it. But they cannot help but be touched by your peace for there is no separation and as you would look upon the web of the spider and you would uplift one point on that web, all of the web feels the upliftment and is touched by it.

Give the gift to the brothers and sisters this holy month of your peace, your gentle peace. Hold them within your heart. Go physically and stand in one of your great malls and allow the peace of the Christ to be present in that space. Allow your peace to be extended as a gift to all of the ones who are now so much in your awareness as leaders of various groups known as countries. Allow your peace, your vision, your knowingness of holiness to be given as a gift from one Christ to the one Christ.

Send, as you would see the sending to be, love and holiness and peace to your leaders. For indeed you are the ones who are calling forth the ones who are known as leaders, the ones who are in the position. Therefore, bless them for what they have agreed to do.

They are coming Home along that avenue the same as you have chosen an avenue for yourself that leads to Home. Send them the peace of the Christ in this holy month. Give the gift of the Christ consciousness to all of the ones who are so much in the forefront of what is called your news.

Send the gift of peace and the gift of holy vision to all of the brothers and sisters who abide in what you see as other geographical territories, other countries for they also are birthing the Christ in their own way and there are some who have decreed that they will know a very turbulent birthing for their remembrance. Bless them for what they are doing and allow your peace which is not separate from their peace, to be consciously in your awareness, given as a gift in this season.

It is a grand time that you are calling forth upon this plane. You are feeling a certain excitement, certain building of energy as you approach what is called the ending of this century into a new time, a time of remembrance. It will continue to accelerate. It will continue to be a time of bringing the Love of the Christ Child to the forefront. A time when it will be called for most decisively, most intently and it is a time when you as the ones who have ushered in the new ages, as they were known even then, when you remember and offer in every moment the peace of the Christ Child.

Celebrate yes, the birth of one Jeshua ben Joseph. Seemingly a birth that happened a long time ago. Celebrate that birth, yes, for in doing that you give yourself and the brothers and sisters give themselves the opportunity to remember me. It is not so much important that they remember me as a man. It gives them opportunity and you as well to remember what I taught. The greatest message of all is Love. To love the fellow man, woman as I have loved you. That is the great message of Christmas. To allow that Love to pervade all of the activity of this life expression.

Celebrate yes, my birth for indeed I enjoy a celebration. I believe beloved brother there is to be a celebration known as a party tomorrow evening in this place.

[Yes, indeed.

Will there be wine?

[Yes.

Very good. I will be here then.

{Laughter}

Celebrate my birth yes, but more importantly celebrate the true birth of the Christ Child, your birth, your remembrance as the Christ that you are. Give unto yourself the gift of remembrance in everyday of the space of gentle mellowness.

Know you that it does not take great ritual, great complexity to bring forth the Christ? Know you that it does not take what you would see as purification, great study, even lifetimes to bring forth the Christ that you are? Know you that it is done in simplicity with the simple choice in each moment to abide in peace. That is all that is asked. To make the choice in each moment to abide in peace. From that comes the gentleness, from that comes the holy remembrance. From that comes the healing. From that comes everything else that you desire.

It is simplicity itself and yet, there is a belief system upon this plane that I know well. I experienced it as a man and I experience it through your experiences even in this day and time that says to choose peace in every moment. It is not the easiest for there is a feeling of wanting to be in great drama from time to time.

Do you know why you choose to be in great drama from time to time? You choose it in order to know the energy of the Christ that you are. It gets a bit twisted from time to time, but you call forth even the drama that you experience because you want to know the power of the energy of the Christ. You want to know how it feels to be truly alive.

Therefore, you make the challenges. You allow the energy to come up. Instant reaction sometimes to whatever is going on in order to know that you are truly alive and experiencing. You want to know the power of the Christ energy. And through a bit of filtering, through choice it sometimes comes out to feel more like pain than peace.

But now you are at a place of saying, "I can be truly dynamically alive and know that I am dynamically alive in mellowness and in peace." For peace itself is not what you would see as stale ginger ale.

{Laughter}

It is not something that has lot its fizz and its dynamic quality. Peace is very dynamic. Peace is as a very deep flow of the water, of the stream. There is much power and much energy in deep peace. It is not static, it is not dull. It is very much dynamic and ongoing.

Allow yourselves to birth that dynamic quality of deep peace, as the Christ Child that you are. Choose peace in every moment. Now this requires a bit of discipline. It requires a bit of vigilance. It requires especially as you feel you are beginning. And those of you so gathered in this room and the ones who are within the sound of my voice, are not beginners at this.

But it requires a bit of calling in again to the center place of the heart, calling the energy and the focus back to the center place of the heart. If you find yourself in the detour, do not judge. Allow yourself to experience the detour, to know it well, and then to call the energy back to the heart and abide in the deep peace of the heart.

But allow yourself to experience the detour and to experience it fully, for indeed if you do not, you know what will happen. It will suggest itself to you again and again. You will call it forth again until you have known completion with it. Therefore, do not judge any of what you would see to be detours from peace or other's choice. For what they are doing is completion. What you are doing is completion, and it is necessary according to the belief system in this point of focus that you know completion. You have put that as one of the ingredients in your script.

So allow yourself to know completion with whatever you are experiencing, and when you look upon another one and you would say, "Well, I would choose peace for that one. Why can they not see?" They cannot see what you are seeing because they have yet to be complete with their desire to experience that experience. It could be seemingly a detour. You may bless them for they are on their way and they are completing.

You will see much of completion for yourself and for the brothers and sisters in the next five years of your timing. It is a time of completion. You will see many who come to express with the body in physical form for a short time and you will wonder why this is happening? Ones who may lay down the body at what you would call an early age, and you wonder why? Why has that happened? It is because they have come to complete a certain aspect and they have known it, they have completed. It has been the fulfillment.

So you will see ones who will come and have a shorter time interval of what is known as a lifetime in order to complete. The same will be happening with what you see as the animals, the beloved pets, the ones that are in what you call more of nature. They are also are doing completion.

For life is not just what you see with the eyes, what you experience with the flesh. That is but a small bit of life experience, for when you choose to lay down this body that is all that you will have done. It will be the same as if you took off the raiment and laid it down somewhere and said, "Now I will put on something new." And you will put on the angel vestment. You will be as the angel, or you may choose to take up this form again for a time interval or you may choose to express in another dimension with a form that you cannot even imagine in this point of focus. Unlimited. The holy Child is unlimited.

Allow your hearts to sing the song of the Christ Child in this time, this holy time knowing that you are not tied to a certain life experience or a certain lifetime. Knowing that you are free even in this moment to connect with the angel that you are. To know that the one that you have called mother in this lifetime is very much with you as the angel with you and you with her. There is a certain freedom of awareness that comes with the laying down of the body. A certain remembrance of unlimited lightness and holiness.

Ones that you have known as loved ones are still loved are they not? And they have felt and do feel the love. Have felt in what they saw as a lifetime, activating a certain form, they felt loved. The one that you are thinking of felt great love from you and with you and feels it even more now.

This one is most free now to be the Love and is truly free in that Love. That is what the Christ Child is all about. The remembrance of that wells up within you. The remembrance of that wholeness. The remembrance of that is what brings you Home. For you are not separate from any of the ones that you would call loved ones. Ones who are activating the form upon this plane but may be in other geographical location, instantly as you think of that one, there is a smile that goes across the heart is there not?

There is a feeling of the inbreathe, an expansion, the Love that is recognized and acknowledged and is felt by the one who is the object of that acknowledgement, even more so with the ones who are no longer activating the form in this point of focus.

When there is a certain attention to this point of focus, this life expression, it is as you would be tuning in to a channel, a narrow channel on a whole wavelength, a band which is unlimited, but you have chosen that you will focus on a certain channel of it.

When there is completion and the body is laid down, the wave band is seen to be much larger than just what would be like with the blinders on. And the one who has laid down the body find herself to be most free to experience what is happening within your point of focus or within and it is not an or, it is and within the experience in a great range of that wave band. To be free.

That is where I abide at all times, which is beyond time, is within that unlimited infinite wave band. That is why I know when ones call to me, ones pray to me. You have wondered as a small one, as a small child growing up you have said, "Well how can Jesus know what I am praying when there are all those other ones who are praying to Him at the same time?"

It is because I am as you are, the whole wave band of beingness. You have chosen for a certain time interval to tune in very specifically to part of that wave band. And you bring the Christ to that certain point of the wave band, that certain focus right now. That is why the angels sing, because you have agreed. The angel that you are, that you would bring the Light of the angels to this experience. You will gently and persistently remind others of the Light that they are. You will say to them, "Yes, I know that you are going through challenges. I know within the life experience there are many choices and decisions, challenges, but I also know that this too shall pass. This narrow limited vision will pass." That is your hope. That is the Christ Child speaking. The Christ Child always speaks with hope, with holy vision, the Christ Child always speaks with love, unlimited love of the heart that says to another one, "I understand where you feel yourself to be right now, but I also know that there is more. Would you like to hear?" And they will say, "Yes." More often they will say, "No, I am not quite complete with this."

As you have done. As you have done. There have been ones who have offered comfort to you and have said, "I would give you my peace," as I have said to you many times when you have prayed to me. I will give you my peace. And you have said, "No, no, Jeshua, no Jesus, not yet. Tomorrow, but not yet. I'm not quite done with this yet."

So I have said, "Okay." For indeed I will be here when anyone is ready, when anyone calls out and says, "I want to remember now in totality the Christ that I am. I want to know that dynamic that is as the flow of the deep deep water." The power of that love that allows everything to flow with it. To bring that peace that you have just now felt into every moment. Where it is acceptable to you in every moment as you truly deserve.

Now will that mean that you will sit as a milk-toast type of person? No. It will mean that you will feel deep joy, deep happiness. You will have the ideas, the guidance to get up, to move about, to dance, to spring forth, to express in great liveliness the joy of the Christ Child upon this plane and to allow the eyes to show it and the body to show it. Use the body in great joy. To release constrictions that are held because of habit. Release constrictions and to be free even in the energy of the body. To go with a great freedom that is healing.

And a peace that you wear as a neon sign that says, "I know the Love of the Father. I have felt it. I have touched it. I remember and I take it with me as me into every experience." and that is what you are birthing upon this plane in this holy time.

Allow yourselves in this month of your holiness which will not end with the ending of what you call a month, but allow yourself to birth the remembrance of joy, of peace, of mellowness. Of saying to another who may stand before you and have great arguments about whatever, and to say to that one, "You may be right." It doesn't mean that you see that they are right, but they may be right. It is something that Beloved Elder has shared with others. You may be right. I don't think so, but you may be right. It does wonders for allowing the peace of the Christ to be known in that moment, in that relationship.

This what you see as this lifetime, is of utmost importance. You have felt that. You have wondered. You have asked, you have said, "What is this all about? Why am I here? Surely it is for more than just to do a certain professional job, to receive the golden coins." It is to be of service to the brothers and sisters, yes, and there are many, many ways that can be in specific service. It is to be of service in bringing forth love and the specific way that you choose to do it, that is your choice. What brings joy to your heart.

There is not one area of service that is more holy than another. For if you do the service with love in your heart that makes the service holy. So if you would be what is known in your world as the lowly street sweeper, the ones who picks up the litter along the highway, and you do it with great love and joy in your heart as you are glad to be alive, that uplifts all of creation and is a great gift.

But there is more to this lifetime than just that, this lifetime is a window that you are calling forth for yourself. You have decreed that it will be a window of opportunity. Now it is not exclusive just for you. It is true of the other brothers and sisters as they are willing to complete and to know completion. But this lifetime is a window of coming Home. A window of ascension and you are doing ascension in every moment as you choose for peace with the simplicity of choosing peace.

You ascend out of the space of the limited vision that you have held up to that point and you ascend. You ascend into the heavens sometimes. You ascend what you would see as an onion skin layer, more often yes. But this lifetime you have decreed is a lifetime of ascension. A lifetime of knowing oneness with the Father.

Now is there a great mystery about that? It has been taught that there is a great mystery. You, in what you would see as other lifetimes, have taught that, that there is a great mystery of oneness with the Father and that only certain ones were holy enough to know oneness with the Father. And yet it is not excluded from anyone.

Would you know the mystery of oneness with the Father? What are you doing in this moment? Are you breathing? Yes. Are you activating the body? Yes. Are you alive? Yes. Are you expressing? Yes. You would not be expressing if you were not one with the Father. It is the Father's life that you are. Said in simplicity for it is as simple as that.

If you are alive, and I assure you that you are, you are expressing the life of the Father and you cannot do that without being one with the Father. Is the Father something that is far removed from you? A distant personality off in the clouds somewhere? No. There has been a concept that you have put forth and have believed that the Father was somehow a very holy entity, very all-wise, grandfatherly perhaps, in all the best qualities of a grandfather, who would dispense love, benefits if you were good enough. If you prayed hard enough. If you were pure enough, sincere of heart. But that is a concept within a belief system that has been held and is held even in this day and time by many.

Being a concept, does that make it true because it is a concept? No. It is part of the ingredients of this reality -- with a small "r" -- but that does not make it True beyond time and beyond this reality. The Truth of your being is that you would not be if you were not one with the Father. That is it. Simply stated. You would not be if you were not one with the Father.

I and the Father are one. You have heard that said. You have heard me say that. What you look upon now as an ancient time and you have read it in your Scriptures, "I and the Father are one," as you and the Father are one. It cannot be otherwise. That is where all of healing comes from, the remembrance, that spark of remembrance, that instant when wholeness is remembered and brought forth into manifestation as the life of the Father expressing.

I and the Father are one. Of course you are. It is the Father, the life that just smiled. Now, from that is it going to be difficult to birth the Christ upon this plane? No. The Christ Child is very much present in this room. And I am not referring to one Jeshua ben Joseph. I am referring to the one Christ, the life of the Father, the Light that is unbounded and unrestricted that goes forth throughout all of eternity and beyond. For even eternity is a concept.

This is a grand time upon your plane. A time of great excitement, a time of great celebration and a time of great joy because the Christ Child is alive and well and is being birthed, yes, in your remembrance and your willingness to claim the Christ Child that you are.

All of you in what you would see as a very ancient, ancient time from the very beginning of time left a claim check, in what you know as your cloakroom and you took upon yourself a cloak to have an adventure and you left a claim check in the cloakroom that said, "When it is time I will come and claim all of who I am. I will come and claim the Christ that I am."

Now is the time to claim your divine birthright and to birth that Christ Child, to be happy with her, to know that she is the most beautiful thing, the only creation of our Father. And you as well. Everyone. Every one of us, as the one that we are. You are the most beautiful creation of the Father.

It matters now what your looking glass tells you. For indeed that changes. You have seen that from one day to another, one year to another. The looking glass shows you a different image from time to time. You are the most beautiful creation of the Father, His only creation. You are Light so brilliant that it is beyond even imagination.

But if you will imagine and remember, the light of ten thousand suns, you are more brilliant and radiant than that. And the Light that you are extend unto the farthest universes and beyond because you are the one who has called forth the universes. And the Christ that you are, is the radiant and beautiful and powerful beyond all knowing through this point of focus. You have touched that place of unlimitedness from time to time. You have touched that place of great love within the heart that says, "I know that I am okay. I know that I am loved. This is a good day to be alive," you have said, and indeed it is. Everyday is a good day to be alive.

You have felt exuberant. You have felt that you were all powerful and there has been a little voice that has said, "But what about?" And you have brought out your laundry list again of the "what abouts". But know you that your laundry list is getting shorter? Have you noticed? Your laundry list is getting shorter.

Yes, you still have a list. There is still a few things on that list of "what about?". What about life? What about death? What about taxes? Whatever, but the laundry list is getting shorter and shorter and do you know what that means? It means that the Christ Child is coming more and more to the forefront of the focus of experience.

The Christ Child is coming into every moment even when the laundry list is there and you are worrying about how to pay the bills, how to get the golden coins together, what decision to make, where to go and will the body serve me? And all of the questions come up. You are abiding a shorter and shorter time with the question of the laundry list before the Christ Child says, "I don't know why exactly, but I know that it's going to be okay. There is a certain sense of knowing within me that knows it's going to be okay. And I can't exactly explain it in logical terms." You cannot explain the feeling of the Christ in logical analytical even linear terms, but you know it very well.

So yes, you will still wrestle with the questions but the wrestling is getting easier and shorter for there is a deep peace within you that is coming to the surface. That is as my beloved brother, the one known as Paul has said, "Your hope of glory." The awareness, the remembrance of the Christ in you is your hope of glory. Your hope of knowing that you are beyond this point of focus.

But yes, this point of focus in real. Has to be dealt with -- with a small "r" -- but that there is more and it is the more that is your hope because you are that hope. That is the glory, the light, the radiance of all that you are and that brings you Home.

This lifetime as you see a lifetime to be is a grand gift that you give to yourself. It is a time of utmost importance. Not because I say that it is, but because you have decreed that you will do whatever it takes in order to know the Christ that you are. So, you have set about your completion and blessed are you as you know completion.

Celebrate in this time, these holy days, your own birth as the Christ. Bring forth the Christ Child into every interrelationship, every experience, every decision. Allow yourself to pause for a moment before you say anything and ask of yourself, "How does it feel to be Christ? And what would the Christ say in this situation?" It is not difficult to do. How does it feel to be the Christ Child?

Give yourself the gift in this month of your timing, give yourself the gift of bringing forth the Christ that you are. Try it on for size. See how it feels. Play that part. How does it feel to be Christ? It feels good. It feels expanded. It feels unlimited. It feels loved and loving because it is love. It feels a oneness of deep peace and it knows that not matter what comes up or what is said, that the Christ is beyond anything that can be said to you or any circumstance that seems to present itself. Give yourself in this month of holiness, the gift of being the Christ Child and I guarantee to you. It is a guarantee, I would even put it in writing, that when your new year comes you will be not the person that you see yourself now to be. You will be a new person in Christ.

You will be a new person because you are knowing yourself to be that Christ. Reborn, of course. Born in this time of holiness as the Christ Child that you are. Celebrate. It is a time of celebration, true celebration. I celebrate your birth. The angels that have been spoken of and are very much with you as you, celebrate the birth of the Christ. A grand time of joy and celebration.

Now would be a good time for a break, as you call it, to refresh the body and then we will meet again for there is another one that desires to speak with you. Until then, so be it.

Mother Mary:

Gentle ones, blessed ones, children of the Most High, I am the one known as Mary, Mother of Christ and I am and you are and it is great love that I come because you have called me forth. I come to be with you in this manner and to share love in remembrance of the Child that you are. Most beautiful ones, it is good to see you again. Daughter.

Great love in this room, great love. For all of you, if you will receive it, have been my children in various lifetimes of reality. For there was more than just the lifetime when I was known as Mary. There has been many lifetimes that we shared together and all of you so gathered in this room in this evening, and others as well, have been in the family, have been my child, biological child and have known much love. Everyone, and it is good to be able to reach out and to touch and to love in this manner again. To stir within your heart a remembrance that goes beyond even what the Scriptures tell. That go beyond even what you have thought lifetimes to be.

The curl in the middle of the forehead, do you know that is your trademark?

{Laughter}

You have done that many times, many lifetimes. Do you know why you have done that?

[No.

It is a remembrance, a symbol of what is now known as the third eye, which is within, and you have often done that with the curl on the forehead to remember for yourself the wisdom within and for the brothers it is as an arrow pointing within. Many times you have had the hair, the beautiful hair that was raven colored. Many times long. Other times, you have had it short, but always the beauty. Always. And the love, the love of a mother to a child and the child to the mother. It is good to see you again.

And you know the love of a mother, the love that want the best for the child, that reaches out and ask for the wisdom that is beyond just the everyday experience, to ask for the wisdom of how to nurture this child and bring him up. I too, many times knew that with you and with others and I asked of the Father, "How can I let this one know my deep love for this one?" Now it is known.

All of what you know as the process of parenting, not only as a mother but as a parent, is most symbolic of what you are doing now in bringing forth the Christ. Birthing. Birthing the Christ once more. As you bring forth the Christ be gentle with her. Love her, nurture her, appreciate her. See the beauty in everything that she does and thinks and feels. Nurture the Christ, the wholeness as the mother that you are.

For not only have all of you been my child in lifetimes, not only have you known how to bring forth life and to be mother, but you are now coming to an understanding and remembrance of what it means to be the parent, the mother, the father of the Christ, the inner child of you and to love that inner child. To love her beyond the understanding of the world. To nurture in holiness that child of your heart, the inner child and to know that she is always perfect.

You do not have to worry about what you are going to say or do, what you are going to put on for the clothing. You do not have to worry for the Child of you is holy and perfect. Nurture that remembrance within yourself. That is what this season is all about. Nurture the Christ in another one. The little ones as they are growing up. The little ones who want to know as they get a bit bigger, want to know their own power. Appreciate the true power of being of the Christ of that one and guide with love, that one for indeed that one is you. What you see in that one is you.
