

The End Times

Beloved and holy and only child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of light divine, that is who you are. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to call me forth. Great joy for indeed that is the true nature. A family reunion this evening is it not? Does it not warm the heart to be amongst friends and family? The family of the heart.

For indeed you have felt from time to time perhaps that the ones of biological family were perhaps family and perhaps not so in alignment. But now you are seeking out and finding the ones of your true family, the family of the heart and it is a grand reunion. Every time you meet face to face another one who is ready to acknowledge that she is a child of the Father, and he, all of you. Everyone, everyone of the brothers and sisters is the child of the Father and every one is coming Home. Home in awareness that you have never left the kingdom of the Father. For indeed you cannot. You carry it within you as you, as the creative force of life.

But there has been lifetimes of complexity, theologies, philosophies that have said that the kingdom is far away and that you must do much in penance, in ritual, much of purification in order to be worthy even to think of the kingdom of the Father, even to call upon His name or even to call upon my name.

I come in this manner because you are willing now to entertain the possibility, probability, reality that I am as you are. That I am the son of our Father as you are the Child of the Father and that I am the Elder Brother, yes. And I welcome you in relationship. In the relationship of one. For indeed that is what you are coming to claim and acknowledge. That never have we been separate.

We have been upon a grand adventure. The holy Child has decreed that she will experience and express and that she will bring forth all worlds and indeed you have brought forth multitudinous worlds. All of the ones you can imagine and more that you have forgotten.

What you are decreeing now is a time of joy, a time of manifestation, a time of ascension, a time of saying, "Now I will know the totality of the child and I will claim all that that means. I will know it. I will seek out the writings that indeed I have written in another age. I will study. I will attend the workshops. I will learn the methodologies that are a catalyst for remembrance of ancient teachings," that indeed you have brought forth in other ages.

This lifetime is a lifetime of remembrance, a lifetime of completion, for you have decreed that you will complete everything you have look upon as being incomplete. And so you have come through many experiences in this lifetime. There has been an acceleration that you are feeling even now. For you you would look back upon this lifetime you can see that there have been relationships that you have come into, enjoyed and completed. There has been employment that you have undertaken and then you have moved on as the creative urge has spurred you on. There has come forth much of completion.

Now you are decreeing that you will ascend. That you will ascend out of the limited self-image of who you thought yourself to be and who the brothers and sisters, society, the peers, the parents have said to you that you were. For indeed there has been that still small voice within that has spoken to you and has called to you to come up higher. To overcome any limitation that has been held. It is a time now of ascension. Not just to remember the ascension of one who would be recorded in your holy scriptures, one Jesus of Nazareth, but to know your own ascension as the holy Child. To start first with the releasing of self-image that has held you in constriction, in judgment, in any kind of limitation. To choose anew. Every time the voice of limitation, the voice of the world, the voice of ego would speak that perhaps you are anything less than perfect, to choose anew. To see yourself in holiness. Already you have had much of challenge, much of opportunity to choose either the habitual image with all of its confusion and doubts. Or to say, "There must another way to look at this." I have heard you say that and I've heard you call out to me and to ask, "How can I see this in another way?"

And with that willingness to call out you have begun the ascension process. It is not something that you would see as complicated and holier than anything you would desire to know. In other words, it is not a state above you. It is simplicity itself. I am more than just the body, more than just the personality that I identify with. I am more than what the self-image has told me that I am. I am more. I am the Spirit that activates the form that brings all of creation alive. I am my Father's Child.

And so you have begun in this lifetime, and if you will receive it, in lifetimes even before this, the process of ascension. Will you see the bodies to ascend? I would ask of you, will you?

Yes.

Yes, indeed, you will see the bodies to ascend as there is desire to make that demonstration. For you will know yourself to be light, so light that you will no longer be held within what you have accepted in a collective belief system as density of matter. Some will choose physical ascension. But it is not necessary to ascend the body in order to ascend unto the Father.

Indeed, you have experienced in some of your quiet times, the revelation of ascension where you have felt yourself transported to another realm. You have loosed the bonds that have held you momentarily and you have gone somewhere else to a feeling, a state of expansion. A feeling, a state of exhilaration quite unknown to the usual accepted experience.

And you have come back and you have tried to explain it to one and you have said, "I have sung with the angels. I have known angelic light. I have been with my brothers and sisters of light." And you have felt the energy of upliftment. And then you have said, "Well, that's it, but it is more and I can't quite put it into words," for indeed at that point, of experience there is not yet relevancy where it can be put into the words.

In other words, the brothers and sisters would have a hard time relating to what you were trying to describe. And yet you have known it as reality. You have been there. You have ascended and then you have chosen to attend to specific point of focus known as worldly activities because you have agreed that you will bring your light to this plane and make that light manifest in many ways.

So as we have spoken of ascension I would speak with you this evening about what has been called the latter days, the end times, I suppose it has been called. To use such labeling has a bit of foreboding to it, does it not, the end times? And the end times have been spoken of as a time of doom, a time of judgment.

I will suggest unto you if you will receive it, that the day of judgment is past.

Thank you.

You are most welcome. But you must thank yourself beloved one, for the day of judgment no longer fits the paradigm and the understanding of ascension. Whenever you are in judgment of self or others, you are still accepting the habitual historical perspective that one could be less than perfect, less than holy and that there would still be something that needed to be perfected.

Allow the day of judgment to be past, completed, yes. It is not something that you would see as a future time, for indeed you have lived with the day of judgment, many days in this lifetime and all of the days of other lifetimes. Allow yourself now to choose for ascension.

The end times, hmm. For some they will be seen as a time of judgment, a time of doom. For they hold yet the image of themselves as unworthy feeling that there must be struggle. There must be payment in order to know the Love of the Father. There are some who will come Home to the Father through much of hardship, much of violence, much of sorrow and much of conflict because that is how they have decreed they will be purified and worthy.

The Father has not decreed that they must go through the challenges, for the Father sees His Child as perfect and lovable from before time began. Lovable because you are the creation of love, you are that love that you would seek. So when one would speak of the end times, it is a time of joy. It is a time of ending limited belief about self and others, limited understanding of what the world is for.

The world is not a place where you have to learn lessons, where you have to come through sorrow and suffering. In truth you have brought for the world as your playground. To play in joy, but as you would see even now the small ones as they would play in the sandbox together, they do not always play in the joy do they? And neither have you.

That is not said in judgment. That is said as a matter of discernment because you chose to experience both sides of the coin. Having accepted the collective belief in duality which is a shared belief upon this plane, the belief that there is good and that there is evil, that there is the opposing force and that there are all gradations of value between good and evil. You have said that you will experience both sides of the coin.

Now in truth, the coin is one. It is a whole. But there is yet held a belief that there are the two sides. So there will be many of the brothers and sisters who look upon the end times with fear. For they fear that they will be judged and found wanting and they are hoping that there will be a merciful savior who will come down from the clouds somehow and take them to the Father.

Now there will be a merciful savior who will take you to the Father but it is not I as a separate being. I cannot save you. In truth you do not even need saving. You are holy already and perfect from before we brought forth the concept of time. But the savior will be the enlightenment of you. It will seem to be an embodiment perhaps, of the light that you are and it will come from a higher perspective so that it could be seen to come from the clouds somewhere. It is symbolic.

You are your own savior and you are in process of ascending to the Father. The end times are times of great joy. Allow yourselves to claim that and to know that, to live it and to spread that gospel. For you will meet many of the brothers and sisters who are ready to speak of judgment day and to ask you if you are saved and to suggest all manner of ways in which you can protect yourself and make yourself worthy to be saved.

And you will speak unto these ones who ask of you if you are saved, you will say, "Yes," for indeed you are saved. And do you accept Jesus as your personal savior? You may say, "Yes," to that as well for I am not separate from you. As you are your own savior you may claim me as your savior knowing that we are one. And then you may speak to ones that this is a time of celebration, a time of joy.

For when I spoke that I am with you always, even unto the end of the age, it is a grand truth for I am one with you as the holy Child of our Father. It cannot be otherwise and I am with you always and forever especially unto the end of the age of the belief in separation when you will know, truly know, that I and the Father are one as you and the Father are one.

That is what I meant by I am with you always, even unto the end of the age. For at the end of the age there will be the grand awakening upon which threshold you now stand where you acknowledge that we are one. Have always been one, cannot be otherwise, for if you are life, then I assure you that you would agree, you are life, you are alive, you are living, you are expressing. You are of the energy of the Father and as you allow yourself to claim the expansion that is truly you, known as Love, you come Home in great joy. So the end times are upon you and they are times of great joy. As you so choose.

Now there have been many prophecies about the end times. That ones will come in my name and that you must be wary. I would suggest unto you that all those who come in my name are your servant. For indeed you have called them forth. There is nothing that will harm you. Nothing that will lead you astray, for indeed you have the inner wisdom of the holy Child. And even if you take what you would call a detour, I would not even call it a detour, but you may say sometimes, "Well, that got a bit off track."

{Laughter}

Oh, so you feel you've been off track once in a while? It has been because you desire to know more than just the straight and narrow track. In other words, you have expanded what you said the track to be. And it would be limited understanding to say that the track has to be just a one track.

You have desired to experience all. Therefore, you have called forth many experiences, many lifetimes, many teachers as you do even in this day and time. And you have heard brothers and sisters saying that this one teacher is better than another one. You have seen again the evidence of separation where ones would say, "My teacher is better than your teacher." And get into all kinds of competition. All teachers come because you call them forth. All teachers have a gift to share with you. That is why you have asked them to be within your consciousness, within your awareness of life experience. All teachers have gifts.

Allow yourself to feel at peace with everyone who comes to share with you their gift. Take from what they share, what feels in alignment with your heart and allow the rest of it to be given to someone else. Not stand and be in great conflict or in great judgment. For that keeps you in a place of constriction. It does not allow you to abide in the heart.

But if what they seek is not the truth of your heart, then you may walk on for indeed you will find others who will speak the truth of your heart and the ones who have spoken what is not at your place of alignment they have also given you a grand gift because they have allowed you to call forth the clarity of your own heart to access what your truth is. That is why you have asked them to be with you. It is much as you would ask ones to set forth the grand smorgasbord for you. It does not mean that you are going to eat of the Brussels sprouts and the spinach, or you may. Perhaps you like a stuffed mushroom. Different tastes.

For you allow yourself to weigh whatever is said in your own heart, to access it against a certain standard that you hold for yourself. For indeed, by their fruits you will know them. For if what they giving as a gift brings forth expansion of heart, love, allowance, unconditional love and appreciation of whoever stands before them, then you will know that that is an alignment with your heart or it may not be. The choice is free.

If they bring forth fear, judgment of others, separation that would say you have to be in my camp or else you are not saved. Then you will want to assess that and see if that is your truth. And if it is your truth, go for it until perhaps you have change of heart.

In other words, allow everyone their path. Allow everyone their journey for indeed everyone is on the journey back Home and in truth it is a journey without distance. You have never left the Home of our Father.

But choose you well whom you will serve. Because you are the one who is having the experience. Not because your Father is going to judge you and to send you off to a place of great fires, but because you are the one who has to live with the experience of your choice. It is as simple as that. You see, no great complexity.

You have decreed that these are end times because you desire now to know joy, to know love, to know the Father and to come Home in the full realization even while activating the body, even while having experience upon this plane. In other words, you do not have to lay down the body in order to know heaven. For if you will receive it, you have agreed, you have a contract that you would bring heaven to this plane and that is what you are doing with the process of ascension. The process of allowing yourself to ascend out of the limited image.

So the end times are times of great celebration. Times as you have decreed, perhaps of the exams, yes, because you have asked of yourself you want to know how am I doing? So you have set yourself in this lifetime some of the tests, you will call them, some of the mile markers in order to know how am I doing with this? In any moment you can ask of yourself and receive information as to how you are doing.

For if you feel at peace with self, if you feel in love with the one who stands before you, if you feel in love with life, if you feel expanded even to the place of angelic realm, then you are knowing ascension. If you feel in constriction, in doubt, in worry, in judgment of self that is okay for as you become aware of where you are abiding then you have opportunity to change, to choose anew. And if, as my beloved friend and teacher, the one known as Judith sometimes chooses, she says, "I know that I am in a place where I am in judgment of self and things are not quite right and I'm going to stay there." And she does for a time period.

And I knock upon the door of her mind and the door of her heart and she says, "Nobody's home right now. Come back again later." And so I do. She has this bit of magic you see, where she feels that if a day has not gone right then she must suffer through the day until she sleeps on it a bit and the magic will happen overnight.

And the next day, the next day will be better because she has earned it. It is her belief system. So I have said to her, why not lie down and take a nap?

{Laughter}

But she says, "No, it does not work that way." Belief, it is wonderful. Belief has brought forth all that you experience. Belief now is expanding into the possibility that you can know ascension, that you can know the magic without having to suffer and to make yourself more worthy. Belief now in this age is allowing the holy Child to play with unlimited concepts, to say that, "I know I live and move and have my being in more realms than just this one." And you bring forth the writings and the videos of imagination, what is called your science fiction and you say, "That is a future time. That is somewhere else." But it is not for you have brought it into a right now consciousness as you would play with it.

You are bringing forth your technology, great acceleration of technology that serves you. That allows the one mind to be in communication with itself not matter how far you would see the other part of it to be. You are bringing forth the technology that will measure the energy of Spirit. Already you can do that. You can put it upon the photographic plate and have a picture of the energy.

You are allowing yourself to measure light as you are in a place of feeling personality to be here tending to the world and as you would see yourself in the meditative state expanded to the angels. And you have said to your scientists, "Let me see that. Let me see proof of my light." And so, you have brought forth the technology.

You are bringing forth technology to know healing of the body, to be able to bring forth that healing in ways that are instant. Now I am speaking here of technology but I am also speaking of the ancient methods where you have known that there does not need to be separation of mechanical means. In other words, there would be mechanical equipment you call it, that needed to be used. You are bringing forth remembrance now that you are the energy and as you would facilitate for another their remembrance of energy, instantly there is wholeness.

For indeed time is a construct of this belief, this point of belief and as you are willing to play with the possibility that time does not have to be a long process you bring forth instantaneous healing measured even within the concept of time as being instant for that is still within the belief system based upon concept of time. But you have said, "Okay, I will not see it like this. But I will see it in an instant." So be it. That is what you are doing now with ascension.

Even when the body will ascend and remanifest, what you are doing is playing with the energy of light, of spirit that you are. For indeed Spirit is beyond light. Light is still within the belief system of physicality. Spirit is beyond light, but we speak often of light because that is within the language that is understood.

So with the ascension which you will be bringing forth is the acceleration still within time, of the particles of light that will be seen to "beam me up Scotty." And you will ascend. The form, the body, can then be remanifest as you desire.

Now as I speak these words, there is a place of relevancy within you. In other words you say, "Yes, I can image that. I don't know how to do it, but I can imagine it. I know it as a possibility." If you will receive it, all that you can imagine, all that you can accept as possibility is already reality. You have yet what you would call a delay process that holds it in the future. But it is a reality that you know.

Otherwise, it would not compute. There would not be the software within the computer. I would be speaking words that would be blah, blah, blah with no meaning. But there is meaning even though at this point in time as you see time to be, you see that as a future possibility.

Now, after my ascension which is recorded in your holy scriptures, I ascended unto the right hand of our Father, yes. For indeed I never left as you have never left, the right hand, the left hand, the lap of our Father. Did I remanifest my body and come back again to what you would see as this plane? Yes. That is not recorded in the usual scriptures. You have writings that speak about the rest of that lifetime which is still on-going by the way. Writings that describe how I came back and was amongst you. I lived, I traveled, I had family, I knew you. I did not ascend and go off afar somewhere and could not be reached again except through intercessory prayer.

That was a great complexity thought up by the holy Child wanting to have some temporal power. Wanting to have brothers and sisters belief that perhaps this one of the holy Child, the priest, priestess, whatever, was a bit more in touch with our Father than they ever could be so therefore whatever revelations were received by that priest, priestess, were of more value than what you received, and that is not so. But it was bought and the price was a bit dear, but you have taken it back to the store and exchanged it for a better gift.

For truly after the ascension that is recorded in your holy scriptures, I came back and was amongst you for all of what you would see as your lifetime in that time, and there was much that was shared. For I did not have just what you would see as three years with you. For I found my brothers and sisters were a bit as you have found from time to time, slow learners. So I came back to share the joy of the Father with you. I came to show you that the body is the manifestation of the Spirit and that even now within this point of belief, you know its possible for one to lay down the body, to have it dead and buried somewhere. It has even been what you would see as consumed by the energy of fire. It makes no difference. It can be remanifest.

These are the times when you will see that happening again. Already you feel the presence of ones who have laid down the body and you do not see perhaps the form, but you feel their presence. They speak to you and you speak with them. Sometimes you have thought perhaps you are just imagining it. But I would ask of you, what has occasioned the thought when you have thought of them. In other words, you may be doing something as mundane as the daily activities of washing dishes, taking the shower, driving the vehicle and all of a sudden you will think upon this one. It is because they are knocking upon the door of your mind and heart and wanting to be with you.

They are very much with you. Is this not true? Very much. So you may trust when you have the thought of a loved one who has released the body. You may trust that they are with you for indeed they are. There is no where else that they can go for you are all as they are all. So they cannot go off somewhere where you would not be. That is why you have felt so intensely their presence. There has been a desire of your heart to have communication, communion again with that one. Yes. That one desires it as much as you do. For I will share with you, to have a belief system where you would say that when the body is laid down that is the end of the presence and the communication is even more frustrating to the one who has laid down the body than it is for you.

For they want to be acknowledged. They are still alive. Much to their surprise, and they want to be acknowledged. They want to be spoken to. They want to be included in your daily activities of your experience and they call to you sometimes with great, great love and say, "Please do not shut me out." And you because of a certain belief, say, "That cannot be. I saw the body in the box. I saw the ashes of that body in the small cigar box. And I know that one is gone from me and I mourn the loss." And all the while that one is standing right next to you and saying, "See me. See me. Hear me. Please!" Now, the time of ascension you will be knowing yourself as the light and the presence of light, spirit that is very much one with the others who are all around you. And you walk through them as they walk through you. Now that is a thought to ponder. It comes to belief and belief in these end times is changing and there is much to praise the Father for and His Child.

A time of ascension. A time of great joy. End times when there will be many messages, prophecies. Already you have them recorded in your holy scriptures. Already you have the brothers and sisters most willing to share with you the prophecies. Already you have the master who are coming to share with you messages of the end time, and all of them come because you have called them forth.

They do not come to trip you up. They do not come to bring dark forces upon this plane. For too long as there been belief in dark force. Do you know what dark force is? It is only the absence of the awareness of light. There is no force outside of you. There is no force that is going to overtake you and put you in darkness forever and ever. For indeed, you of your own making have experienced enough lifetimes of feeling in darkness. And where are you now? In other words, those lifetimes did not devastate you. Did not put you in a place of the void where you were lost forever and ever. You are all here right now with the hope, the possibility, the probability, reality of unlimited light and joy. That is where you stand right now.

So when ones speak to you of the possibility of evil forces, you may smile and say, "No, I've played that role. I know that role. Yes, I can relate to it," and yes, there is a feeling of fear that will come up as ones would speak of the possibility of evil force because you have already experienced it. Otherwise again, it would be as the computer language that did not compute, but you have been there. You have experienced the times of darkness that you have brought upon yourself. You have experienced times of energy that seemed to be so powerful that the light would be almost extinguished.

You have brought forth in your experience, times when you have used the energy of Spirit in such a forceful way that others felt a great motivation to lay down the body. In other words, you cannot take from another one their form, their body. It is always choice to release the body. That is why you will see ones who go through what you would call most horrendous, war, violence and there will be ones standing next to another one and one will choose to lay down the body and release it and the other one maybe almost devastated by certain wounds and yet that one will live. It is always a choice.

But there can be seen great motivation to make that choice to release the body and you have all, all of you so gathered in this room and within the sound of my voice, use the power of Spirit in a way where you gave motivation to brothers and sisters to lay down the body. You have been as the laser, the great laser beam of every that could split the crystal and allow the hidden beauty, splendor to come forth.

You have used power of Spirit in most devastating ways as was judged by ones on the other end of it, so that you know possibility of fear. So when ones would speak to you of possibility, of dark force, of evil you can understand that and there is a certain feeling that comes up to meet it, a feeling of relevancy that says, "Yes, this is not beyond anything I could imagine. I can imagine this." But know you well that you have already completed that script. You are free now to choose for love.

So the end times are upon you, yes. The prophecies, there will be many. There will be as many as there are brothers and sisters. There will be some seen as authorities because you have held them in a place of authority for indeed they are your equal. But you have said, "Well perhaps they know a bit more. Perhaps they are already ascended therefore they must know a bit more than I do."

Well as we have spoken you have already ascended. Otherwise you would not understand what I am speaking of, but you have yet the belief in process that says it is to future. So even the ascended masters are no more wise than you.

The ascended masters, if you will receive this and it sounds a bit blasphemous I suppose, have their own perspective and they will give you their message from their perspective. For indeed what you call forth is still within the context of the belief system that you have agreed upon so even as you would see ascended masters to be all wise and way above you, it is still part of the adventure, the drama, the experience of the holy Child.

Therefore, when you receive messages from ascended masters, from guides, from teachers, from loved ones even, uncle Charley, allow yourself to sit in the place of the heart to breathe first, for indeed some messages will come as a bolt of lightening out of the sky and will strike a place right here in a place of fear with instant reaction because you know it well. It is most important to take the deep breath and then to return again unto the place of peace, the place of the heart and to ask, "Is this truth for me?"

You as the holy Child, the collective brothers and sisters are calling forth many messages. It is a time of information explosion. Yes. Yes, and this information is coming from many, many avenues and many, many channels because you have said, "I will know my truth."

So ones come and give you great opportunity to come to the place of clarity, the place of knowing. This is a time of sifting for you. Of sifting the wheat from the chaff. Not judging the chaff but just letting it go and taking to yourself the kernel of truth. It is a time of harvest, you have heard, the end times to be a time of harvest and this is true. It is a time when you are harvesting yourself. It is a time where you and many of the brothers and sisters are willing to ascend and to be harvested, if you will use that analogy. Others will desire to stay within certain belief system until they know completion with that. And that is okay for the Father does not know time and the Father does not judge.

Decision is only tragic or judged to be tragic within the context of time. Beyond time what is there to judge? So it is a time of harvest when you are harvesting yourself, you are saying, "Yes, now I am ripe for the harvest. Now I am ready for the ascension. Now I will arise up and return unto my Father."

Will you still know experience? Of course. Will you know experience upon this plane, our Holy Mother, the Earth? Yes, you will if you desire. For if you will receive it, there are aspects of you experiencing even in what you would term this space right now, that you do not see, but there is another dimension, many, many dimensions all intermingling and as you allow yourself to be uplifted as you harvest yourself, yes you will know experience upon the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth if you so desire and you will be with others of like mind, others of shared belief. Or you may say, "I want to try another expression," and you will be off in the Pleiades as you are already. And you will bring conscious focus of attention to that experience for you are unlimited and the holy Child knows experience and expression in unlimited ways.

The end times, thank God.

Now would be a good time to take a break. To refresh the bodies, to walk about a bit, to exchange the hugs of energy and in what you see as twelve minutes of your time -- I have learned that ten does not work. Twelve minutes of your timing we will reconvene.

So be it.

Mother Mary:

Gentle ones, blessed ones, children of the Most High, I am the one known as Mary, Mother of Christ and I am and you are. For you are bringing forth the Christ. In this time of ascension that my son has spoken of, you are birthing the Christ for the Christ is not just one that was born a long time ago and has ascended somewhere, but it is the Christ Light Spirit of you right here now present and you are bringing forth a most holy birth.

You have felt some of the birth pangs. You have felt some of the labor, some of the questions, confusion, some of the challenges and you have felt even as the small infant that birthed into this plane with form, you have felt the squeezing and the motion of birth.

There have been times that you have felt most squeezed, constricted within your own accepted ideas and you have yearned for birth. You have said, "Let me out of this place of confinement." You are bringing forth the holy Child of you. And what you do on this plane is as of much value as what has been honored and revered and recorded in your holy writings. That's what I did.

Now you have known birth of children. Many of you have and you have known anticipation. You have known questions of how is it going to feel to bring forth a new form, bring forth new life? How is it going to feel to be a parent? Either mother, father. What is this going to require of me? How am I going to be changed? For you have a subtlety of message that said, "This is going to change everything." And it has.

It has called forth the best of you. Sometimes you were in resistance of it and you did not want perhaps to do what was necessary at the moment, the daily activity of it, but it brings forth the best of you. And there is something that you know that will be manifest.

You are bringing forth the holy Child in this time that my son has described as ascension. You are bringing forth holy birth into the remembrance, your own remembrance that you walk this earth as the holy one and that as you give forth love to the little ones, to the ones that are a bit taller, as you give forth love to yourself you make known the Father or Mother upon this plane.

For my son has often chosen the terminology of patriarchy of Father, but in this day and time you are moving beyond what you would see as just the certain delineation of Fatherhood and the labeling, the name of Father. It is the One Creator and in Truth, genderless.

So we will call it Mother/Father, All that Is, Divine Source, and you are claiming now as the holy Child that you are, your divinity and in that claiming you have asked quite rightly, "How is this going to change me? What is this going to do to how I see things? Is it going to alter my world?" Yes, it is. Already your world is in process of transformation.

And what you have the courage to claim is most beautiful. Even the brothers and sisters who feel they must come through the constricting birth canal and perhaps stay there a bit longer, even those ones are choosing to birth the holy Child in remembrance. So some as is true of the birth process even in physical form, will choose to stay in the womb a bit longer. Some will choose to stay in the birth canal longer and others will say, "Let me out. I want to get on with it." And that is what you are choosing. You are now saying, "Let me get on with it. I want to know how it feels to be the holy one." So you are very much in process being the divine Mother unto yourself.

In the process of knowing the holy one of you, you have chosen experience of motherhood, fatherhood yet to be and yet to be, yes. Because you have desired to know all and to have the heart opened. Even as what you would see as the somewhat sandpapering of the rough spots, the rough edges. The little ones will sandpaper you greatly. And you, they. For indeed the little ones come as great masters. But they also come with their own rough edges, their own desires for completion of certain aspects and they say, "Here I am. Have fun with me. Sandpaper me." And you do. It is very much a process of mellowing one and the other.

The one known as Jeshua, Jesus as you have called him, my first born came into this world easily without resistance. It was not what you would see as a prolonged time of labor. I will share with you that I was glad.

{Laughter}

For in the last weeks I grew a bit heavy and the journey that we made was tiring and I was most joyful to celebrate that birth and to hold the infant within my arms and to see the light of that one.

All of your little ones, you may look deep into their eyes and see the light for each one comes with a remembrance of the light as I remember your light. Beautiful it is.

You allow from time to time the voice of the world to be as a veil and not to behold as much of the radiance of yourself as is theirs. But from time to time you drop the facade and you have a sneak preview of what is coming to be known and claimed in great fullness, the birth of the holy Child of you. And then the ego gets back in there and it says, "Well I'm sure there must be one more workshop I must take before I can know this to be true."

I speak to this one but it is true of all of you.

{Laughter}

You gift yourselves the workshops. They are great gifts that you give to yourself because you come face to face with another one who will share with you the message of your heart that you are now at that moment, ready to hear and to act upon.

So I would say not to pass up the workshops, but to allow yourself to know that you are the one who calls forth every workshop and to enjoy. Enjoy what is said because it will be as catalyst for your remembrance and to enjoy the ones who come for they are the light of the world the same as you.

When you come together in a gathering such as this there is much of joy and recognition of friends. You have felt a reunion in this evening and oftentimes this is so when you go unto a gathering. You were all, if you will receive it, my children. You have been as the biological child of me in a lifetime. For I had more than one lifetime as you have had and I have had many children. I did not have just one son even in that lifetime. Jeshua had brothers and sisters. We had quite a family. There were four other sons and four other daughters.

Would you think that I would only have one? I have much love in my heart as you do. My wings are quite broad to take in every one, to nurture, to love and all of you beautiful ones, you have been my child.

This is a time of great reunion, of remembering lifetimes and there was much loved shared. Times of enlightenment, times of questioning, times of rebellion for indeed all of you as my child, had times when you would question. You questioned what I thought to be the truth and you would want to strike out on your own, and shared with me your insights as you were adventurous enough to go beyond what I thought was wise to do.

And yet you knew in your heart that this is the path that you had to go and it was not done against me, it was done because you needed to experience and desired to experience and there was not animosity. That is not what I mean to say at all, but it was very much human family as you know human family.

In other words, just because you have your paintings of the holy family, it is not to say that we did not sometimes have our discussions.

{Laughter}

For I was gentle of spirit, yes, but I could also be the Jewish mother.

{Laughter}

And there were times that I could stand in my truth and even Jeshua would have discussion with me. And there were times that I felt it necessary to have discussion with him. In other words, he was a most, what you would call now, precocious child and in his great enthusiasm for life he sometimes was not attending to others expression and there were times, yes, that I had to remind him to share with others. To stop for a moment and to consider the other ones that he was playing with.

For he was a most human child. He knew his oneness with the Father. He knew spiritual principles as they are called. He studied with the masters. He taught the rabbis to look beyond the words, to know the heart of the matter. But he also had certain willfulness of his own spirit that led to discussion. So we were quite a human family. Holy, as you are, and as your family is. Even though there be behavior that sometimes gives you opportunity to ask for new perception.

The little ones who have come to you are great angels in disguise. They have come to you because you have asked them to be companion with you. You have asked them to push out the boundaries of what you have thought human family was all about. And they have come because they know that you have great strength to guide them. They ask you to guide them. They ask of you to give them certain structure within which they can grow. It was the same with Jeshua.

I gave unto him certain structure, order, discipline within the family. Not constricting, but of certain expectations of how there would be harmony and because he is love as all of the small ones are love including even the tall ones, he responded to the higher nature.

The little ones will respond to your expectations. In other words, when you set a certain structure for them, a certain vision for them, they will respond to that. Even the tall ones when they know what the vision is, they will respond to that. For the innermost desire is to be loved and to know ones self as love. It comes forth as a desire to please and when it is set in clarity what the expectations would be, the order, the structure, and when it is held with consistency, in other words, it does not change in everyday because they don't know what the vision truly is, they will accommodate that vision.

For indeed they desire to be harmony. They desire to bring forth love. But they do ask of you discipline, order, some structure and within the structure the communication that I have called discussion. In other words, to honor the small one as the wise one that he/she is.

You have all felt this as you were growing up in what is called your teenage years when you were trying to discover, remember who you are and you tried pushing out all of the boundaries to see what would lie beyond those boundaries and "If I rebel enough. What happens?" And so you tried it. So did Jeshua. Well he did it before the teenage years, but he did it because again he wanted to know, to experience, to remember.

When he first agreed to activate form. In other words, the incarnation, he knew well oneness with the Father. And there was an agreement as you have made, to take on certain belief that is held within a time interval. So there was a process of setting aside temporarily all of the remembrance. In other words, he wanted to know what does it feel like to be a small child? What does it feel like to have human emotion? He knew that always he was one with his Father, but he also desired to know human experience.

Now some of your writings and your depictions have portrayed him as being so holy that you could not relate and he could not relate to you. But he knew sorrow. He knew doubts. He knew emotion of love. He knew emotion of jealousy. He knew emotion of wondering if he was good enough for he had a cousin John, whom he loved. You have called John the one who baptized, John the Baptist.

And John was of a different physique, very muscular, very strong and could do anything very quickly with the body. He could run. He could climb the rocks. He could swim very easily and Jeshua was a bit younger, not much but some, and he looked up to his cousin John and wanted to be of the same physical prowess as his cousin.

And there were times early on because the cousin was a bit older, he could do more things more easily and Jeshua experienced what you have experienced, of envy, of self-judgment until the one known as Joseph said to him, "Claim your power. Know who you are. Go out and sit by flowing water and feel the peace of the heart. Take stock of who you are. Do not envy another one's qualities, but take stock truly of who you are." And Jeshua remembered, the same as you have. It came through experiences where there was opportunity to judge self and he came to have appreciation of himself.

This time now that you are gifting to yourself, what my son has already called in this evening, in the end times, the latter days and the end times. This is a time when you will sit with self and you will ask of your Father, you will ask of yourself to allow you to come to the place of clarity about who you are and to move into the birth of the holy one even upon this plane.

It is another way of speaking of the ascension. For what we speak about is a time of new birth. It is a time of ascending out of that limited understanding of who you thought yourself to be and seeing through the eyes of the child. Even the small ones. For a child does not see great complexity. A child sees simplicity, spontaneity, very much a new experience. The child when it is new to this plane and for the first few years does not sit in great contemplation of the future but just does the desire of the moment knowing itself to be loved of the Father, knowing itself to have value.

Later on he or she may get to the place of saying that the value will be known or experienced in a future time and then you have put it off farther and farther until you saw that it must be when you have laid down the body and deceased. But the child does not know that complexity and you are coming to the place now of great joy of the child where you will live in the joy of each moment, because there is nothing else to do. Because no longer do you need to worry about how you are going to gain the golden coins. They come to you miraculously. Yes you have to do a bit of the language of the world but they come to you. One moment it is not here. The next moment it is there.

You will accept that no longer do you have to make grandiose plans to protect yourself, to protect the body, to protect all of your material goods. Many of your brothers and sisters have already experienced losing all of the material goods through changes in the earth's surface, even through what you saw in this last season when you had the great waters that came upon the land. You took care of some of the material possessions and you have seen already that the ones who have lost possessions in the great cleansing have re-manifested new possessions.

Or they have said, "You know, simplicity of possessions is a great gift to me. Maybe I don't have to take care of quite so much." Because after you have much of material possession, there are you having to guard it, to take care of it, to dust it.

{Laughter}

Better perhaps to have simplicity.

You are as I am and I love you greatly. These are times of great change, yes. There have been prophecy attributed unto me of great earth changes and this will happen. For some who desire that experience they will find themselves right in the middle of the opening up of the surface of the earth. For others you will stand a feel a bit of the jello shaking and that is all it will be. Others of you, you will not even know that it has happened until someone tells you on your ten o'clock news.

Always our Holy Mother, the Earth is in process of changing. It has always been thus. Do you know why? Because you as the creative one have been in process of changing. So the earth as the mother of this physicality has responded and has changed, has shifted as you have allowed shift in your image of who you are and how the world is.

So there will continue to be change. Rejoice in it for indeed it out-pictures much of the change that is going on within. Know that you will always be in the place where you desire to be to experience what you call to you. Know that you can be in the midst of the great volcanic eruption and if it be your knowing, your truth, you will not be devastated even though there would be physical laws as your scientists would talk about that should destroy the form. But if that is not your truth and your belief it will not come nigh your dwelling place. You will be dwelling in the place of the most High. Yes.

It is the same for what you would see as major occurrences and the minor occurrences. Even now the surface of our Holy Mother, the Earth is changing. Even now as we are speaking. It is much in movement. It is not the same now as it was when you walked into this room.

Now have you felt that as a devastation? As a traumatic experience? No. Do you know why? It is because you have moved along with it. You have not been in resistance to it. You have been shifting, moving, transforming, adjusting energy. For our Holy Mother, the Earth is very much energy the same as you are. Very much alive expressing with form. A different form than what you have chosen but expressing with form and is light, the energy of light coalesced into form.

And so yes, she will go through shifts, transformation, cleanings. There is a cleansing, a purification that has taken place in what you would see as the opposite side of the sphere of our Holy Mother, the Earth even in this day. For the earth will cleanse herself. Energy will transform and change. You do not lose it but it will transform and change, as you are in process of the transformation.

So when you hear prophecies that are attributed to me, yes, they are true. But how you will experience those changes is very much up to you and the prophecies themselves have been given through a certain bias of filter according to the belief. So you do not need to sit in fear and say, "These are the end times. These are the times of doom and gloom. I wonder how much more time I have left? I'd better get all of ducks in order." Whatever that means. Do you keep ducks?

{Laughter}

We had such a thing as the fowl. I don't know if they were exactly what you would identify as ducks, but we had the fowl. And I did not try to keep them in order. I don't know how you do that. Anyway, you do not have to fear.

Now I know that all of you have come with questions that you would desire to ask. Since there is such a grouping I would say again, as Jeshua said on the previous evening that you go to the place of the heart and ask if this is a question needs be asked immediately in this immediate time. Or if it is a question that can be answered in the silence of your meditation when we meet in that place.

Now, having said that, is there a question to be addressed? I do not mean to hinder the asking of a question. Not to inhibit.

Beloved one. The work that you do is most valuable. It is seen by the Father, it is appreciated. Allow yourself to come into that place of knowing the holiness of what you do for it is great. You are one who is most holy, one who is beautiful with the light of the Father and in the days you see yet to come, you will know even looking in the mirror the beauty of the one that you are. For already the brothers and sisters behold your radiance. And you will see this more and more. Thank you for being the mother that you are.

I would thank the one who opens her heart and her home for indeed this is a home to a gathering such as this. Always beloved one you are the love... {hugging} As you have asked, it will be. Already you walk with the angels. The ones of the brothers and sisters behold you as an angel. Already you go with a light step and an acceleration of energy. An acceleration of energy that sometimes gives others a moment to pause because you will blow out the lightbulb. You are most beautiful.

Have I given away a secret?

No, I think everyone knows that.

Most wonderful one who assists the work of the Father upon this plane. Blessed are thou and the work that you do in the simplicity of the heart. Did you have a question?

Just to be loved.

So be it.

Yes. It was known that there would be a question over here.

Of course, naturally. This whole thing about ascension always gets my heart pounding, very excited.

Yes.

And when Jeshua talks about it I feel the excitement building and I want to jump up and down and clap my hands. I'm also one of these people who has a grand vision about it related to something else we talked about earlier, and that is the re-establishment of form and I am sure there is one who is going to re-establish with me and I feel a ministry of moving all around this planet, perhaps other places and ministering to the fact that that has occurred ... in people.

Yes.

But that's a very almost scary vision from one who as you talked the question itself, saying, "I can't do that. I'm not worthy." I see that coming in my direction. I know it's what I've chosen but I'm not ready and yet I feel it very, very, very close.

Yes, and it is. It is what my son spoke of earlier as yet the belief that will be in the future. That is yet a belief which is fine. Allow yourself to be at peace with that for you are the maker of the process of unfoldment and it is very much within its divine order of the unfoldment.

In other words, you feel yourself not ready to leap into that reality yet you know that the train is going to pull into that station. Indeed, it will. It will happen, the vision that you see. The one known as the friend, Christopher, very symbolic name, is with you. Already you can feel the energy, the presence. You have even had glimpses out of the corner of the eye and sometimes even more that has startled the accepted consciousness.

This one is working with his own belief process. For indeed it does not end when you lay down the body. He is working with his own belief, process of when he will be ready to do this. In other words, it is not just that he is already at that train station waiting for you to catch up. He is doing his own process of claiming that this can be done.

He is working with his, what you would call masters, yet they are equal, in the remembrance of how to do this. So he would say to you, "Please do not rush ahead of me." Because he is very much in concert step by step with you and it will come to be manifest.

In the last six months it has felt pendently close. More so than I even thought. I thought perhaps it would be more time and now I feel even less time which is quite frankly, frightening.

What is it going to upset within you? There is much, there is much that is going to do upheaval, yes. And you do not need to answer that question right now, but it is something you will ponder. What is it going to upset? Well it is going to upset almost everything.

It will change everything.

Yes, it really will. And the voice of ego that has said, "There is separation from my Father, from the kingdom, from the knowing of totality of self, separation from another one whom I have loved as I have seen the body laid down, and as I feel him to be not quite visible yet." That voice of ego is going to speak to you more and more loudly. It is clamoring and it is bringing up every kind of reason it can find in the script, and it is going back into ancient scripts and leafing through them very rapidly to find what else it can bring up and remind you of.

Bingo.

Yes. So you will find much that will come up for your assessment. And yes, it is going to shake up everything that has felt familiar, comfortable.

I have to ask the human question which I suppose has been answered a million times, to say, is there anything I need to do?

Yes, there is. Quite literally there is something that you need to do. It is to breathe. To keep on breathing. To keep on looking at the feet because that will remind you where you have agreed to express the light that you are and to be at peace with where those feet are taking you and not to worry about the train station. To keep it in vision yes, but not to worry about it because the feet are not yet at the train station so you may be at peace with it.

But yes, you need to do that. You need to choose to be at peace.

It was not the answer I was expecting but it's wonderful.

You will bring up all kinds of other answers for yourself for they will be helpful. There will be much of guidance that will come to you to allow the reassurance and the sense of peace to be known and claimed again. In other words, there will be tools, facilitations. There will be words from friends and family that will be as catalyst that will say to you, "It's okay. Stop for a moment. You are okay." They will say that. They will even say to you in a moment when you are going on and on about something, "Stop! Breathe. Return again to the place of peace.

So there is much in answer to your question. But you will bring it forth in its time.

I have never been one who has liked things to jump out at me as a surprise, and I suppose that's one of the most frightening things to me is will it be a natural progression so that I will not be surprised or might it be a surprising element at a moment when I'm really not expecting it?

You will know it as a gradual process as all of the awakening so far has been for you. You already know the train station. You already know all of the scenery in between where you see yourself to be and the train station. And it will not come as a great overwhelming surprise that you cannot handle. It is the voice of ego that would get in there and say, "Okay, I want to know, alpha and omega. I want to know everything in between so that I can be prepared." Well I would ask of you, what does the holy Child have to prepare himself for when he is already holy and perfect?

Nothing.

No. It is the voice of ego that would suggest you need to prepare to defend. The holy Child does not need to be defended, for the holy Child is already whole and perfect.

I just wanted to prepare against a coronary.

There will be the coronary, yes. But it will not be what you see as in physical terms. It will be the opening of the heart. Not the constriction.

Yes.

Yes, but you have well spoken. The ego even now wants to prepare against the coronary, wants to prepare against the opening of the heart. That is why you have all of the questions of how is it going to be? When it is going to be? Will I be ready? Yes, you will be ready. You will have great revelations along the way. The scenery is full of great revelations but they will not be the traumatic kind.

Well I am feeling increasingly ready. That's happened. I've noticed a big change in the two months....

Yes, and you will be at peace. It will not come to you before you are at peace. That is how you will know. If there is yet the slightest bit of unrest about it, yet a slight bit of trepidation, it will not happen.

Signs to look for?

Yes. When you are at peace, totally at peace with it, then you will see it. Until that time, don't worry about it. And you are allowed the friends and family of you, you are allowed to say unto this one.

Stop.

This one tends to do a good bit of the analyzing. It is beautiful to behold, but there are times when the form, the body even gets caught up in the analyzing and then the friends will say, "Peace be with you."

Beloved beautiful one, how are you in this evening? You are. Would you have a question that needs to be addressed?

Well, I just wondered why when all of us speak of abundance, joy, peace, prosperity that I'm creating a lack in my life right now?

Well first of all beloved one, I would suggest unto you that the lack is a perception of lack. In other words, there is much of abundance that you are, not only have, but are. You are beautifully attired. The hair is beautiful. The eyes are beautiful. The friends and family are beautiful. The dwelling place, what you have around you is beautiful. The ego would speak yet that there is something more that you would like to have. And yet the birds that fly in your heavens and lack in the beautiful trees, they do not worry about having more of abundance. They just be and they sing at the dawn. Allow yourself to just be and to appreciate the dawning that you are very much bringing forth.

Know that you are attired as beautifully as the lilies of the field that my son has spoken of and they do not worry about where there abundance is going to come from. In other words, look upon what you have. As you appreciate what you have it will grow. That is the secret. It has been said many times, so many times that it goes past the head, but what you appreciate will increase in your awareness. It is as simple as that.

You have seen, all of you have seen that as you would dwell on what was wrong with a relationship, what was wrong with an employment, what was wrong with self, then that seems to increase. It gets worse and worse. But as you have had courage and disciple to say, "Stop. Peace be with you." Then you have switched around, turned around to begin to look at what is good about self and about the experience. And as you have been willing to claim what is good in your experience, why another miracle happens. That is the secret of it. That is simplicity itself for your Father gives you, it is His great pleasure to give you the kingdom and all that is within that kingdom. He withholds nothing. He cannot withhold it, but the voice of ego sometimes would say, "Well, there isn't yet whatever, therefore you are not quite perfect because if you were perfect you would have it already."

Rather look on the other side. Cast your net on the other side. In other words, shift the perception to the other side and count your blessings. You've heard that. And as you count the blessings of the good that is in your life and the good qualities that you have to share with others, they grow. You have heard that. Recently you have heard that.

I'm doing my homework.

Very good. My son was hoping you would say that. For as you will focus your attention upon the good of self and the good of the brothers and sisters it appreciates. That is what your word appreciate really means, it will grow. If you want to see more of conflict and trouble, then you can look at that and dog gone, that's what you will see.

I know that well from my lifetime. For there were those of my friends, women friends who spoke to me of the prophecies about Jeshua and how he was to be messiah. They were jealous of what they thought the belief was. About the possibility that my son would be better than their sons, and they came to be with all kinds of dire predictions, all kinds of criticism to my upbringing of him. Yes, I knew human criticism. I also knew great love of friends, women friends and men friends. And I knew times when I would sit with what they had said to me as a possibility of how Jeshua was going to turn out. If he keeps on going this way he is going to anger all of the scribes and pharisees. You know what is going to happen then. He better keep his mouth shut. Okay, they said that to me and I thought with possibility that perhaps that was true and what was going to happen and I found myself in a whirlpool of downward descent known as fear and worry until the angel spoke to me and said, "Fear not."

Now was it an angel as a certain energy that appeared all of a sudden, miraculously? No, it was the still small voice of the angel within me that spoke and said, "You may trust. You may trust that the Father knows what He is doing. Allow yourself to be at peace. If Jeshua stirs up all of the scribes and pharisees and if they have great condemnation of him and wished to put him to death," which is what it did come to, "It will still be his choice as to how that drama unfolds.

Now I could sit and know that because Jeshua had shared with me his studies abroad, his studies with other masters that allowed him to know how to materialize and dematerialize -- I guess you would call it -- the form. In other words there were times when he would be within a crowd and then he would disappear. Disappear from sight. There were times that he walked through a wall to disappear. He knew energy and how to do alignment of energy.

So I knew that whatever that outcome of all of the worldly conflict, I knew it would be with his agreement and I knew there was nothing that I or anyone else could say that would change his decision. Now yes I had feelings as a mother. I wanted him as a mother, to stay as companion with me for a long time. I did not want to see my firstborn hanging upon the cross in what appeared to be great agony, appeared to be. I did not want to see him as the object of ridicule and of torment and of torture.

But I knew that whatever I would say to him would not alter his agreement to do the will of the Father. In other words, to make manifest upon this plane, the power of Spirit even in form such as you are playing with, your knowing. I also had hope in one moment not to realize and then in the next moment to realize that he would come back to me. That he would do as he said, for indeed he told us that he would go away for a short time you will not see me and then I will return.

And so I held in my heart of hearts the hope that yes, he would return unto me and he did, but there were moments as the mother that I figuratively crossed fingers and hoped. So I know well the times of doubt, the times of questioning that you face. But I am also here to tell you now, that life is eternal and companionship is eternal and even the form you will see again. You will see light form of beings first. For you have agreed that that would be acceptable so you have seen already light bodies, light forms and you will see in density of form that you can reach out and touch and hug form of loved ones as well. And that is not just limited to what you would see as the human form. That will be for what you call the animal forms as well. The ones that you yet hold in a place you would call the imagination, the unicorns, the pegasus, forms that you feel are gone from you but not quite gone. They will come back to be your companions again as you have belief that they will, as you trust. In all of the that, the good news is all of that is in process already and you may thank yourself for that.

Now is there anything further than we should address? Is there any questions?

...how wonderful it is to have you here...

I would thank you beautiful one for calling me forth. For indeed always I come at your invitation. I do not force myself upon anyone as you know, but I come willingly when I am invited and thank you for inviting me.

You are always welcome.

Thank you. What you have gifted to me in this evening is a great gift for you have been willing to go beyond appearance, to go beyond what other brothers and sisters yet in this point of focus would say is possible but you have said, "I will play with expanded possibility." Yes.

Something stuck in my mind and I'm not sure if it's the first part or the second part of the evening, but it was mentioned each of us having been given motivation for somebody to leave this world or whatever. How do you interpret that. Does it mean somebody's death or killing somebody? We've all done this in a past life? We've done something we are ashamed of or?

You do not need to be ashamed of it. That would be the voice of the world that would say that there is guilt and that there is something to be ashamed of. You have had agreement with other brothers and sisters that you would play a certain dance, you would do a dance together and that you would do certain steps in concert one with the other. So yes you have been in what you would call the warfare where you have with the great sword given to another one motivation where they would think that they had to lay down the body.

So yes, you have done that, but it was their choice whether they would go the whole length with that body then to recycle and to come back again to be born of woman with another form. Other times you or the brother, you have given motivation to the brother. You have sliced off the head. Okay that would be seen as great motivation to think that is the end of the form. But belief being what it is, the brother has not released that body and in the next moment the head has healed itself. The life has continued.

You have ones, great warriors who are in your recorded history that have had the broadsword run through the body and it would appear that that would be motivation enough to release the body, to give it over. But that great warrior knew such life force and knew himself to be life that he held all of the innermost parts of the body together and knew a healing.

It goes beyond what is current belief of possibility and yet it is recorded even in your history that is extant right now. So yes you have given motivation, great motivation for singular ones, singular brother and sometimes for a whole gathering of country to be in that place of releasing the body.

Because I don't relate to....

It is always a choice. Even in this day and time although appearances often would suggest otherwise. It is always choice. That is why you see ones who will linger for a long time and they are making choice. Others immediately out of a knowing that this is what they have agreed to experience and they will just go and the medical one will look at that one and say, "Well, I don't know what happened." You know, maybe it was a small scratch upon the body, but that one decided that the small scratch was fatal and belief being what it is, that one has released the body.

So that is what Jeshua meant by the motivation. You have all done it. You have all been on the one side of knowing great force of energy where you channeled all of the energy of spirit into a most specific focus as you know a laser beam now to be and you have all been on the other end of it where you received that energy and decided to release the body.
