

Vail Advance II - Saturday Evening

1996-07-27

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light divine. That is who you are and beautiful it is. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen once again to call me forth. Chosen to call me forth to celebrate with you. Another birthday. Yes, this is the one who celebrates birthdays all of the year. He will begin early and keep on to celebrate the joy of the holy Child, the celebrate the joy of the family come together in this way. No matter what the appearance may be, not matter where the geographical location of the dwelling place you call home may be, but to come together in the one heart as the family of Light that you are. A celebration

You have felt that in these days have you not? You have felt an opening of the heart, an expansion, a place of joy that you do not usually know. It is always there of course, but you do not usually know it in your day to day activities but in this time that you have set apart for yourself it has been your constant companion right there at the elbow, right there at the mouth to smile, to laugh with another one. To feel acceptance, to feel love, to know that it is okay to let down all of the barriers and to say, "This is me. Do you like me?" And you can see in the eyes of a brother and sister that yes, even before you would ask the question they like you. They are coming out there inviting you and they are saying, "Who are you? Where are you from? What are you doing? Why are you here? What is your story?" Wonderful story. His-stories. Yes, each and everyone of you as you see yourself to be separate individuality have a wonderful story and some of those stories you have shared with your alter self.

Now I would ask of you have you remembered in this day to connect with your partner, your alter self? To ask? Ah, but you can still communicate with the heart. Yours would never leave you. You have what is written on the paper as the phone numbers? I would suggest that you keep in touch, that you do what is known as the networking even after you leave this geographical location with the one with whom you have had contract, agreement that you would come and exchange the written pieces of paper, exchange what is in the heart, come to the place of knowing that this one truly is my Self. They may look a bit different than I do and have a different name. They come from a different place and are I not wonderful? Look at how I can express. I can have the strong muscles. I can have the beautiful hair. I can have the suntan. Yes, yes, beautiful. I come from all different places.

One thing that would be interesting for you to research even in the time that is remaining for you, is to see who has come the furthest, farthest distance to this geographical location. To ask of each other, "How far did you journey to come to this place?" And know that that is your Self and you have traveled for as you would see your dwelling place to be in a certain location, that is not all of you as you are now recognizing. You have parts of you, beautiful parts of you that abide all over in Truth, unlimited.

And if you have not yet connected with your Self in this day, there is yet the time to do that.

Well, you have been having a bit of drama in this day. You have witnessed the brothers and sisters in their drama and you have felt it in the heart. You have felt a place of compassion, a place of bewilderment, a place of questioning. You have felt love that you have extended, healing love that would support others in a time when they have opportunity to know wholeness. The appearances perhaps do not suggest that. The ones upon whom this came for they invited it, upon whom this came quite suddenly now have opportunity to know what we have been speaking of in this time together, to know holy communion.

If, as we have been speaking, you are one with every brother and sister. If you are the one holy Child in expression seemingly as the many, if you are one with your creation and I assure you that you are, the ones who are taking part in the drama that is being reported now. Are they victims or are they masters?

If you will receive it, they are great masters. The ones who have chosen to come through this drama and to enact it in quite visible intensity have done so out of great courage to allow for themselves a certain knowing of ongoing life process. To know completion with certain issue.

For if you will receive it, they desire to know how will it feel to very suddenly release the body. What happens after? It was what you would see as a small bit, a tad, I believe you call it, of experience that they desired to know completion with. Beyond that, they were willing to be servant unto many for you have seen how far and wide this is being reported. Not only in just a specific geographical location. Not only in just what you would see as the collection of people in this country, but all over the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth. Grand opportunity is being presented for ones to look upon occurrence and to ask, "What is the truth of this event? What is truly happening? Is this the end? Is there lack?" The family of the ones who have agreed to enact this have grand opportunity to face issues of possible feeling of lack, feeling of injustice, opportunity to feel hatred, anger, fear, all stemming from the soil of separation against the ones that they would see to have brought this about.

If you will receive it, the ones who provided the motivation for this event, in other words, did the putting together of the equipment, the material for it, agreed that they would be servants, that they would be teachers. Now that is a bit of a different way of looking at it, is it not? Your world would not see it that way. Your media yet is not reporting it that way.

But in the years to come there are not too many until this will happen. Your media will see that there is much more that goes on on many levels than just the outward appearance. There are ones even now within the media who have the eyes to see and who are affected by their friendship and their networking, the general public way of looking at things. And this is spreading and will continue to spread.

The ones who provided the grand motivation are also providing for themselves opportunity to come past their belief in separation. Their belief that they could enact something that would hurt brothers and sisters and that they would not be affected by it. They are in such a place of armoring that they believe it is possible to provide grand motivation for others to lay down the body or to suffer a bit of change of body and it would not affect them. They are already feeling the emotions that they did not know were there. The emotions that they have put in a box, a cast iron box and put behind them for many, many lifetimes, the emotions of understanding relatedness. And it is beginning to come to the surface of their awareness that perhaps they are not as separate as they thought they were.

There is much that is going on. And in the days to come there will be much reported, much focusing upon it, much opportunity to see it in a new light. And there will be voices that will speak that this has been grand opportunity for teaching and for remembrance, for extending love to ones who would be in judgment of the ones who have brought this, seemingly, about. For the feeling right now is much of judgment, much of wanting to point a finger if they knew where to point the finger.

But there is growing a sense of relatedness that even ones who are in such a place of separation that they would say that, "You have caused it. You have caused it." Whatever, will begin to soften the judgment. You have this in all of the relationships that are going on now. You have much of intensity of relationship for ones are finishing, knowing completion with lack of love.

There is much now coming to the awareness of abuse, as you call it, domestic, child, animal, you name it, and it is being much more into the conscious awareness than it used to be. It has always been there but now it is being brought out into the light so that the issues can be healed. So that the holiness can come forth.

What is happening is part of what your beloved brother spoke of in last evening of the energy, the new energy that you are calling forth upon this plane that is going to accelerate, push events right up into the face. Right up into everyone's awareness, not just a small segment of population but everyone's awareness.

You will see in the days to come many events of intensity and I do not say this in order to bring forth fear, but to allow you to know that there will be many opportunities to extend the healing balm of love.

Now you will ask of me, "But Jeshua, if I sit in my home, in my quiet place, my safe place and I extend love to the ones who are hurting, the ones who feels so armored, is that going to do any good?" Yes. Why? Because there is no separation. Who said that?

Ah, this one has got it. Because there is no separation. What you are willing to extend as love vibration, healing vibration goes out, freely expands and is there for others to partake of. It will be their choice as to whether they are ready to partake of it. But you as you are willing to extend it, you offer healing to the brothers and sisters, to our Holy Mother, to even the ones that you would know as being beyond this dimension. There is no separation.

So what you do in your corner of the world, as you would call it, has great impact, great importance, everyone. And as you allow yourself to make discipline to bring forth that love it is greatly appreciated. Yes.

You are the ones who can interact in a very direct fashion upon this plane. You have much help from ones you would call as unseen brothers and sisters, light beings, masters, guides and teachers who stand ready and willing. Very, very willing to aid, to help, to love, to serve and they do this every opportunity you and the brothers and sisters allow them.

But sometimes it takes a bit more. Sometimes it takes a bit of the acceleration of direct energy that you can bring right here right now and it is greatly appreciated.

Now, for ones of you within this circle of family, you also had a bit of opportunity for drama. As you stood in the lines, as you sat in your little cubicle hanging from the wire, ascending.

Yes, you reached a plateau momentarily, yes. Gave you grand opportunity to take stock. It sure did, yes, I heard your voice, yes.

I was wondering where you were when you were standing there trying to figure out who was keeping your people up there?

Yes, I was right with you. Of course.

I thought so.

You knew that. Yes.

You did a certain exercise yesterday in your remembrance of who you are, a certain exercise of dealing with appearances and how you would feel about those appearances and you thought, "Well, this is a good exercise to do. Theoretically, supposedly this is how I would feel." Some of you got opportunity today to put that into practice.

{Laughter}

And to actually look upon reaction. The truth, ah. And to look beyond what was happening and to see the blessing in it even as you stood in the line in the heat and the sun and you said, "Jeshua, what is this all about?"

It is all about the holy Child knowing her holiness and claiming joy in every moment even through the feet and the legs and the knees would be saying, "Why are we standing here?" Of course. Grand opportunity for each and everyone as you saw your experience to be either shared or unique. Each one. You brought forth grand opportunity. For you desired to know, "How would I really feel about this?" So therefore, as you know acceleration of time, there was one day yesterday, you played with ideas. Today you experienced.

See how great manifestors you are?

As we have been speaking of holy communion, knowing oneness through the common union, the one holy Child. We have spoken of union with the brothers and sisters coming past judgment, coming past appearance, claiming more of the one Self as with the partner, the friend, the true friend.

Know you the meaning of friend? The true meaning of friend is equal. For when you call upon one and you know that one to be friend, you know that one to be self, equal, the Christ.

In our day and time when you walked the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth with me, you knew the meaning of friend. It carried with it great honor and great respect. You are coming now to understand that again as you call upon ones as friend. You behold the Christ of that one, the equal for you as Christ you see the Christ of the other one through friend. There is no greater honor than to call another one friend, true friend, as self.

And we have spoken of common union with brother and sister. We spoke last evening of communion with creation and you knew, you experienced once again the connection of oneness with your creation, with the tree, with the flowing water, with the flowers, with the stars above, the great expanse of sky. You felt dialogue and then you felt oneness. You could feel the vibration of the created and you knew yourself to be both creative and creator. And you claimed in the heart oneness with the aspect of creation that you chose in the last evening and you invited that creation into your heart to be companion with you in this day. To look out of your eyes to see how it would feel to walk about, to know experience even as you waited in the line.

You invited the creation to be with you in your heart and you also felt welcomed to be with that creation and to experience as it experiences life process, common union, communion.

In this day you have begun to remember the holiness of that and to see how it comes into play with every experience. Why you will feel it beneficial to know communion with all of your creation. To be very very much aware of the brothers and sisters, what is going on with them and for them, to feel vibration of oneness with all of creation including what would be called the pipe bomb, the mysterious package.

There were ones who knew communion, oneness with that mysterious package. Knew beyond appearance and they might call it a certain sixth sense, intuition, a certain knowing. It was communion. To advise some of the brothers and sisters to take the bodies out of that area.

Those ones of the brothers and sisters who see as their task, their service, the safety, looking out for the safety of the other brothers and sisters. There were ones of them who felt communion with the creation, what was created within the box.

Now they would not have told you in an instant what it was exactly, but there was a knowing. You would say, "Well, born of training. Born of previous experience." This is true. Also born of a very deep knowing of communion with all of creation.

Holy communion happens all the time. It is there for your knowing. And one of the things that you will be doing in the days to come, you have already begun the process, is the awareness, the increased awareness of holy communion. Communion of oneness with everyone and everything.

And as you have spoken in the last evening, this is going to be part of the underlying security, underlying flow of that energy that is going to see you through into the new age that you have desired and decreed will be.

It will be necessary for you to be vigilant, to be aware, to expand the blinders. You are already doing that. You have gone through many lifetimes and many of the brothers and sisters now go through a lifetime with the blinders on. They are very good descriptive words. Looking only to self and to immediate goal and achievement.

But you are now allowing those blinders to be opened, to be released, dropped so that you can see the whole, to feel, to take in, to be sensitive, to register as one.

In this evening we will expand the communion to know oneness with ones that you would call the unseen, the light beings, the masters, the guides, the angels, the helpers to know communion as one. For indeed, as this one has said, this one has spoken, there is no separation. And even if the physical eyes, the receptors do not look upon yet the light beings and the masters, there is no separation and they are not apart from you.

In time, a very short time, you will see the light beings, the angels, the guides, the masters, the teachers. You will physically see. Already you have had glimpses. There have been apparitions, there have been the light beings that have appeared to you, the angels. Something inexplicable in the terms of the world. And this is going to be increasing so you no longer will be able to say that there is a sense of I am here and they are I do not know where, but somewhere else. And perhaps if I get the right code number I can contact them.

Ah ha.

{Discussion on CB's interrupt the recordings.}

It is your energy. Again now separation. You are seeing how unlimited, how expanded you are. You are feeling it.

We will dispense with this.

What will I do.

{More CB interference.

Grand celebration, no?

Well we are back to being the almost beloved pet with the leash. We will drag the leash around and see how far it goes. That is fine, it is a long leash, yes. Unlimited is what I prefer but we will see how this does.

As we were speaking, in this evening we will expand the focus to knowing communion with the guides, masters, angels, light beings, the ones who are always with you ready and willing to be in service to you and with you.

As you have had experience of expansion in the last two days of being with the family, allow yourself now to expand even beyond what you have known as the body, as the friendship, as the alter selves, as the communion with all of creation.

Allow now your recognition and remembrance to expand to the ones that you know so well, the ones who are with you always and even have worked out a code with you so that you know which one is speaking to you, getting your attention from time to time.

For there are several of you in this room who have worked out, not just several, but many who have worked out a certain code of when there is a feeling, at the third eye, perhaps on the cheek, a twitch of the nose, the earlobe, different places that will respond. A flutter of the eyes. You know that that one is with you.

Now in truth they are always with you, but there is a stepped up energy at that moment that you are willing to accept and so you feel their knocking upon the third eye, upon the nose, upon the ear, upon the chin, upon the heart. You can feel a certain presence, an energy, a shift and you say, "Oh, that one is with me. Welcome." That is most important.

For as you have had experience and I assure you that you have, of being a guide, a guardian angel to another individualized energy form, a brother or a sister who has decided to activate form upon a certain plane. This plane or other planes, not limited to this plane, you know in that experience how frustrating it can be when you are trying to guide that one. Trying to love that one to say to that one, "It is okay. You are doing okay. I love you. The Father loves you. You have never sinned. You are not making a mistake. It is all part of the grand plan," and that one is not hearing you. That one has the ears closed and is going for whatever the goal needs to be in that moment and you are knocking upon the ear. You are stomping up and down on the shoulder and you are saying, "Listen to me. I want you to know you are loved."

It is most frustrating for the guides, the masters, the teachers, the angels, the light beings to sometimes have to know patience. To wait until you are finished with whatever is absorbing your attention in that moment until finally you pause and you breathe and you allow them a chance to be heard, to have a physical sensation or just to have that sense of peace that even though everything around you is tumbling down, looks like chaos. All kinds of questions arising, there is a very deep peace that is known that passes the understanding of the world. And you say, "I cannot explain this, but somehow I know it is going to be okay."

That is the love that is coming for you and through you as you. From what you would see as the guides and masters, the angels, and yet they are not separate from you as you have known yourself not to be separate from the ones that you have agreed you will serve as a guardian angel, as a guide.

Even now as you have point of focus in this time, we have spoken that there is only two percent of you that is focusing upon this experience. You are serving as friend, a guide, as teacher to other aspects of the one Self who are activating form. Form that you may recognize like this form or another form that is beyond what you know in this reality. And they have conscious focus of attention upon that form in what they see as activity necessarily to provide for that form and you are there as support, as encouragement, as love for them and you know great patience and you know great frustration. Sometimes.

I would invite you now to take a moment to be in communion with more of your Self, the aspects of you that you would claim to be now the masters and the guides and the teachers. The ones that you would see yet to be a bit above you, to be a bit more wise. To have an expanded perspective and yet it is you. They want to share that with you, that is why there is such a knocking upon the door of the heart and the mind now. They want you to acknowledge oneness.

So I would invite you now to take a moment and to breathe. Allow that pause that refreshes. You have great sayings in your world. To breathe deeply the inspiration of the light and take it into the form to feel that light pulsating and radiating from the crown chakra throughout all of the major chakras down to the fingertips, flowing out of the fingertips, down to the toes. Flowing out of the toes. Feeling a great circle of light. A flow of light.

For light is not static. You are not static. You are ever-ongoing and ever-expressing light and even beyond the physical known as light.

Breathe and go deep into the heart of you. Feel that peace. Very dynamic peace. Very healing peace. The essence of you.

And in that space of the heart call to the mind's eye one of the guides, the masters, the teachers that you know so well. Call one to mind. Invite one to be in the heart with you in awareness.

Speak to that one, a welcome. Invite that one to radiate and pulsate with you as the light of the one that you are. Feel that one energizing even the physical body that you claim as your own. Feel that one to be with you as you activating, energizing, radiating the body.

Speak to that one the greatest desire of your heart. What would you ask of that one? What is your greatest wish, to know or to experience? Ask of that one what you would have gifted to you and then listen.

What does that one say to you?

What is the feeling?

What is the vision that is shared?

What is the knowing?

If there are specific issues that you would ask about, ask, and listen.

{Long pause}

Feel the presence of peace. Feel the presence of courage. Feel the presence of power. Power of expanded awareness of being. Feel the presence of wisdom. Know that with this one with whom you are bonded forever that there can be no question that does not have an answer. There can be no question, no aspect that you will not have the wisdom for.

This one is a grand master and this one is now bonded with you. No longer do you need to feel alone. No longer do you need to feel that you do it all by yourself. No longer need it be an individualized struggle for you are loved greatly and all of the wisdom, infinite wisdom is yours.

It is within you. It is bonded to you and with you as you are bonded to this one that you have invited to be in you, with you and as you. For the one that you have claimed to be master is not separate from you. That one lives as you, experiences as you. Looks out through your eyes and knows your heart.

Never need you feel alone ever again for the bonding has taken place. You are healed in that place that felt un-whole. You are healed as the one, the one holy Child who is loved forever by the Father and by the Mother. Whenever questions would come up you may ask of this one, who is yourself, "How shall we look upon this? What is the expanded view? Where do we go from here? Walk with me as me," and I will.

Never will you walk alone. Never have you walked alone, but never again will you walk in a space of believing that you are alone.

Know the love that this one has for you and has had for you for aeons of time. In truth before time began and this one has patiently waited for you to invite them to be bonded with you in the communion of the heart.

It is so.

Remember to breathe. Energize the body once again. Bring the sense of oneness back with you to this focus of attention. Allow the body to move around a bit. Stretch. Radiate. Twinkle the eyes. You do it so well.

And when you twinkle the eyes, do you know that the great master enjoys that experience? For the ones that you would claim to be somewhere else, need you to experience upon this plane. That is how bonded you are and it is wonderful. It is full of wonder.

Never again need you feel alone for truly you are not. All of the wisdom that you would ascribe to the masters, to the teachers, is yours and has been from before time began. Now you have claimed it in this evening. Now you have welcomed it. Now you know it to be yours.

I thank all of you for having had the courage to step beyond limited specific focus to allow the consciousness to expand to the place where you could say, "I am one with everyone and everything that I ever held to be above me and beyond me. I know that now to be my radiant self." Yes.

Now beloved elder is it possible to turn out the lighting? Will that affect the energy?

No.

I would do with you an experience of the light. For as we have spoken many, many times that you are the light that lights the world. You are the light that activates the body. You are the light that brings the consciousness of being. It is important for you to know communion with the light of your being.

Allow yourself now the deep breath again to take it into the heart of you to feel the peace.

Beloved Elder, could I ask you to close the door. Thank you.

Allow yourself to abide in that place of great peace. That place of communion that you have just touched and that will never leave you. Allow yourself now, for some of you this will be easier than for some others who are sitting near the exit lights, but allow yourself to look upon one who sits a bit in darkness. Not symbolic, but in the physical darkness and to look upon that one with great love. Choose one that is seemingly in the shadows. And to look upon that one with great, great love, with communion. And to send radiant love to that one. That one whose form you can barely make out with the physical eyes and to send great love, vibrant love. Relax the eyes as you do this. Relax the whole body. Feel yourself to be the flow of the love that you are sending. Know the communion of that love.

And around that one you will begin to see light. Already you are beholding more light in this room. Feel yourself to be the love that you are extending. Feel yourself to be the light that energizes that love.

Do you experience more and more of the light in this room? Yes. Part of that is because the physical receptors are adapting. Part of it is because you are abiding in the state of the heart. A place of relaxed being. A place that allows expanded communion.

I would invite you to try this with a partner sometime in a room that does not have any of the artificial lighting in it. And to sit in the darkened room and to know the radiance of love with that one, the bondedness of communion of love until you see that room filled with light. It will happen. You can sit in a completely darkened room and knowing yourself to be the presence of love, very vibrant, dynamic love, bonded to that other one you will bring forth physical light that even the eyes will see. Never again will you feel that you could walk in darkness.

The communion that you have felt in this evening is always available to you. You have touched that space of great love. Love of the one that you have welcomed, invited into your heart and the love that that one has for you. That love walks with you always as I walk with you always.

Allow yourself as you leave this room in this evening to take with you the sense of communion. The physical bodies matter not. The physical eyes matter not. They give you opportunity to behold beauty, to behold joy or to behold separation. But what is important is the communion, the space that you have touched in this evening. Carry that with you always. For that is the foundation of the community that you desire to bring forth. The knowing of communion, common union in the space of the heart.

All of you desire to know community. Your visions as to how this will look, differ, there are differing visions and that is wonderful. But all of you want to know community. Why? Because you want to know communion. And you want to experience it right here, right now with the brothers and sisters. You want to know your family for indeed everyone that you lay the eyes upon and all of the ones that you hold in your heart are the family.

That space of communion is your sacred being. Take that with you in this evening and as you walk out of this building look up in grand communion with the stars in the heavens. Speak to the light being, the brothers, the sisters, the angels who are all around you.

If you do not travel out of the doors of this dwelling, allow yourself a moment or so to look out of the window and to give great thanks to the one Self for the beauty and the wonderment of experience and expression.

You are loved greatly.

So be it.
