

The Next Three Years

1996-09-13

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light divine, I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen, freely chosen, to call me forth. Great joy.

You have felt that space. You have touched that space of great joy. It is your true nature. It is your birthright, your sacred birthright to know and to express the joy. The voice of the world will give you all kinds of problems, challenges, worries. All kinds of problems to chew on, to play with, and that is okay for you have decreed that you will know the world and will transform it by the joy that you are and that is what transforms all of the worry, all of the constrictions. It is that little bit of willingness that says, "I can see this differently. I desire to see this differently and I will trust my Father."

It is in great joy that always I come to abide with you, to converse with you and to remind you of the Christ that you are. That is if you will receive it, my mission. I have received it. I have said, "Yes, Father, I will do this joyfully. I will come and I will remind the most beautiful Child of my Father that she is here out of free choice to model for the other brothers and sisters who still believe in the voice of the world that there can be joy in living. That there can be joy amidst all of the questions."

In truth you have chosen to come once again to this plane of reality -- with a small "r" -- this plane of reality to bring the Light that you are and to anchor it so that all who have the eyes to see will see your light and will know theirs by seeing yours.

And I thank you for what you have the courage to do. For oftentimes you have found yourself in this lifetime and others to be walking to the beat of another drummer. Sometimes the brothers and sisters have looked upon you and have asked, "Why are you not like me? Why don't you worry about everything? Why are you into a tizzy about everything? Don't you know that the world is a veil of sorrow?" And you have said, "Yes, I know that there can be sorrow. I have tasted of sorrow, but I also know that the sun shines in that veil as well."

I honor you for the courage to come once again and to walk this plane and to walk it in a way that is of seeming forgetfulness, so that you can relate to the brothers and sisters and they to you.

Now I say "seeming" forgetfulness for there is a voice within you that reminds you even in the midst of the most tangled knot of the world's problems, a voice that reminds you of the peace that you are. A voice that speaks of faith. That speaks of hope. That speaks of light even in the darkness. It is your own voice. It is the voice of your Self, your one Self, that you have asked to come and to remind you of who you are.

In these days allow yourself the joy of knowing that what you do, you do not do alone.

That's good.

That is very good. In truth you cannot do it alone for there is no separation of the one holy Child.

And besides that, we couldn't do it alone.

And this is true also. For you have tried within a belief system to do it all by yourself. And you have felt the pain and you have cried out from that place of pain to me, to the Father, to the guardian angel, to anyone who would hear you. "Is anyone up there?" You have called out and I have heard you.

But in truth the great joy is that you are never alone. What you are in process of doing because of the great courage that I honor you for, you do in concert with Light beings, angels, masters, guides, teachers, whatever you will call them, the unseen and the seen.

You are collecting to yourself more and more of the ones of the brotherhood that you can see, more and more of the family. You are doing a grand reunion of the heart. You now come and you meet with ones and there is a feeling in the heart that, "I know you." And sometimes you will speak to one and you will say, "I know I know you. Where have we met? What circle have we been in?" And you will go down the list of all of the various ones, "No, that is not it. That is not it. But I know you. There is a feeling within my heart that you are not stranger to me." And that is true.

You are doing a grand reunion of the family, the heart family. The ones who have come as you have come from a place of remembrance, a place of knowing, the place of at-one-ment and have come once again to anchor your light here upon this plane of reality and to play the game. And yet within the game there is much that you are experimenting with and discovering for you have said, "I know that this is not all there is to me. Thank God for that."

I thank God for that when I look upon the size of this body, but I do thank her for lending it to me.

But you have said, "I know that this is not all that there is to me. I know that I am the energy of Spirit that activates even the physical form." And you have played with that concept. You have played with that reality of energy, to see where the boundaries would be and as you have approached what would seemingly be a boundary, it has leapt ahead of you again until you know that you are not limited by any belief in boundary, by any philosophy that would say to you that you are bounded.

You have found yourself traveling to far places, places that you could identify within geographical location upon the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth and other places that you have yet to touch in what you would call reality, other dimensions. You have found yourself in what would be a daydream, a time of mediation, transported from what you were doing right in front of you to a place somewhere else. Sometimes with relatedness that you could bring back and you could explain to another one, "This is where I have gone. This is what I have been." Other times to a place that does not have relatedness to this reality yet, and all you could say was, "I know that I have been somewhere else and it felt good."

And ones would say, "Well, where have you been? What did you see? Where did you go?" And you say, "I don't know. I can't quite describe it. But I know that I have been transported."

Great joy in knowing that you are unlimited and unbounded. Great joy in playing with energy, riding the waves of energy as they emanate from the center of you for you are the center, you are the consciousness, the reality from which all the rest emanates. It would not be without you. That is how wonderful you are.

Now you stand upon the threshold of claiming how wonderful you are and also for the brothers and sisters, how wonderful they are. In what you see as the next three years of your timing, you will see grand miracle. Already if you look back to what you know as reality in time, if you look back three years, short space of time, and yet what has transpired in your belief system?

An amazing three years.

An amazing three years, an amazing journey. Much of acceleration.

I never thought it was possible this could happen.

This is true. This will continue to accelerate and you have seen this even within your scientific circles, within your circles of technology, within your circles of medical technology, much that can be done now that was not even imagined three years, only three years ago.

You will see in the next three years miracles building upon miracles for you have already decreed that you are ready for the acceleration. There is much of accelerated energy that is coming to you and to this plane. Not from a source outside of you, but from you, from the center point of you, the conscious, consciousness and the conscious center of you where you have said, "Now I want to be aware of the energy that I am," and you are calling it in.

It is very much as you will see the small child who will sit on the floor and will play with a certain toy. And they are completely absorbed in that toy. That is all there is. Now around them there is a wonderful room. And this room is in a beautiful mansion and the mansion itself sits within a beautiful field, a garden.

But the child sits and is absorbed in the toy that is in front of it. You have been that way. You have been absorbed with the toy of the world and the reality -- with a small "r" -- of that world. But you have now said as the child does after awhile, tires of playing with one toy begins to lift up the eyes and to look around and to say, "What else is there? What more can I play with?" And you look around the grand room that is within the immense unlimited mansion that is within the immense unlimited garden of the whole universe and beyond. And you have said, "Okay, bring on something more for me to play with."

And so you are calling in an acceleration of your own energy. You are saying, "I want to know more. Let us step it up a bit. Turning up the dial." And you are feeling the acceleration. You have brought in since the beginning of your summer, since the solstice, you have brought in a great increase in your own energy and you have felt great joy and you have also felt great consternation with different things.

There has been an intensification to what you have felt. Ones who are dealing with various issues will find issues very intense, right in front of them. There will be issues of the body, feelings of the body that were there as the murmurs, the whispers. But now will come with the intensification as a grand clamor to be attended to.

And you have felt various places of the body, various energy. You have felt at times a need for more rest. A time of balance. For you have found that in your waking time there has been an acceleration of the energy so that you have gone and done many things. Either in the physical activity or certain mental activity. And then there needs to be the balance of the rest and you have gone through and you will continue to feel a need, a desire for more rest, more time apart, more sleep. Do not heap guilt upon the shoulders and say, "I should be doing more. I should not take time out to rest. I should not want to allow the body to have a catnap." Do not heap guilt upon the shoulders, but listen to the body.

For you will find that it will speak to you. You will find that there will be medical issues coming up for many. If you will receive it, it will be coming up for all in one way or another. For you are not separate from your creation. You are not separate from the body that you activate. It very much serves you and it very much is in communication with you and it now has messages for you.

So allow yourself the balance of the time apart. It is necessary for you have called in more and more of your energy to be used for the radiance of the Light that you are, to bring that into play and it will need to be done in balance.

Otherwise you will be a bit like the fourth of July sparkler. And you will find the energy going all different ways and then you wonder why am I so exhausted? Why am I short of patience? Why do I get angry at the drop of a hat? And no one has dropped the hat. Allow yourself nurturing. Allow yourself balance. Allow yourself time apart.

The body is going to be calling. Already it is calling to you for living energy. There is yet belief that you can gain life energy, light, from the substances that you ingest. In other words, the food that you eat and the drink that you drink. There is yet belief that you can get light and energy from seemingly outside of yourself.

There will come a time when you will know that the light that you think you are ingesting from a plant or an other animal or other source has never been separate from you and you will not need to take it in seemingly in that way. For you will know that you are all of the energy, all of the Light.

But while there is yet belief in the necessity to have substance ingested, food, allow yourself in every day to have some of what you believe to be living energy. In other words, the plant that you will eat, the vegetable, the fruit, as you call it, allow it to be in its natural state. Not processed to the place where it still has light and energy for you but it has gone through a bit of a stepping down.

Allow yourself at least one living energy substance in every day. And when you do this, give honor to the light and the energy of that fruit, of that vegetable of what you are ingesting. Give honor and communion. Know that there is no separation between you and that piece of broccoli or Brussels sprout, or leaf of lettuce or carrot.

Yes, yes, already it is beginning to feel good. I would like a piece of that. Yes, of course. And you remember how we manifested that. Yes, and right there.

For in truth, you manifest everything that you harvest and that you ingest. You yet have belief that there must be a time interval that someone else will grow it and will harvest it and will provide it within what you know as your great shopping stores, places to go and buy, and you give the golden coins and you take it home. In truth you have manifested it when you first laid eyes upon it. Great wonder that you are.

But allow yourself now the communion in everyday with one piece of living energy that has not been processed, has not been even cooked. And as you take it in your hand feel the vibration of light and life. You will feel it, as you have felt in your meditations. You will feel the vibration of oneness. Speak to it your thanks. And if you listen, you will hear it speaking to you. Great joy.

You stand upon the threshold of such a wonderful place of being. Already you have opened the door. Already you stand upon that threshold. Already you have been looking out to see what is out there. Already you have begun to travel. Still feeling the feet planted upon the threshold because that is what you have agreed to do. You have agreed that you will participate within this reality and that you will come with the brothers and sisters in their reality to a place of awakening.

But there is much of you, the heart of you that wants to race forward, wants to know it now, to have it now and there is much of you that goes forward into it and then because of the agreement, comes back to this reality and says, "Yes, I will play the game a bit longer." But the good news is there is not too much time, yes, that you will have to wait.

For some three years and a bit more I have been with you in this manner. Conversing with you through my beloved friend and teacher, the one known as Judith. We have done the first three years of this phase and we are now ready to move into the second phase.

The first three years has been wonderful. It has been my grand joy to meet you once again in this way. To have the communion. To have your willingness to believe that you are not contained within the body or within the belief system of the world that says, "Such a thing could not happen."

You have come a long ways in the last three years of this ministry. It has been my ministry to you and yet it has been more than that for it has been your ministry to the one Self that we are. You have questioned, you have wondered what is this all about? You have hoped. You have wrestled. You have experimented. You have played. You have read. You have discussed. You have chucked it off and then you have said, "But, perhaps there is something yet there?" You have come back to look at it once again. You have come a great distance in the last three years and yet it is a journey without distance for it has all happened within the holy Child herself.

We are now ready to step into the second three years, the second phase and as you have felt an acceleration of energy because you have been willing to call it in to know more of Self, you will find this will be an intensification of remembrance in the next three years. You are ready for it.

You want to know, "How, how do I get to that place that I can see in my vision? How do I get to that place that I have hoped for? How do I bring the dream of the heart to this reality?" And so the next three years will be an accelerated intensification of remembrance.

For in truth beloved ones, I will not teach you. I cannot teach you anything that you do not already know. But I can bring forth catalyst for remembrance, hints, clues that you are asking for, that you want to know. And you will find that a certain word, a certain idea will set you off on a train of thought, a spaceship of thought for it will go faster than any of your trains.

You will find yourself the great explorer. You have experienced this where ones will be seeking and there is an idea, a word perhaps, that catches your interest and you are off on a certain path with it and you go with it and then you come back and you say, "Oh, but what have they been speaking about?" Did not matter. You used that idea, that word as a spark plug, a catalyst that sent you off to a place of remembrance and all of those times when you have journeyed to inner space, all of those times when you have gone beyond the boundary of previous belief, you are now calling all of that in a grand remembrance, a grand picture and the next three years of your timing there will be much of remembrance. Much of placing the piece here that you have done perhaps two years ago, and a piece at the bottom of the corner of the picture puzzle and a piece in the middle and a piece at the far corner and a piece down here in the right hand corner. And you will find after awhile that you see the picture. Not just a piece, but the whole vision, the holy vision.

You have done your homework well. You have been vigilant about doing the homework. Sometimes with a bit of the grousing, the complaining. "Why do I have to do this? Why would it be important to get up at sunrise? Why would it be important to go out and to stand with the bare feet upon the grass? Why would it be important to breathe deeply? Why would it be important to be aware of the substance I am eating? Why would it be important to behold the beauty of the sunset? Why would it be important to listen to a brother or a sister who is speaking the largest, biggest rubbish?" And yet after you listen a bit it was no longer the rubbish.

It is because all of those things you have been willing to do have been as the pieces of the jigsaw puzzle and as you were willing to sit with, experience, do, one of those pieces and to know it, you have been able to claim it as your own.

All of the times when you have awakened in the middle of the night. All of a sudden for no seeming reason and yet you spoke to me. All of those times when you hear my voice they have been pieces of the jigsaw puzzle that in the next three years you will be putting together so that you will see the whole vision.

Already you have clumps of those pieces. It is not that the pieces are all scattered somewhere, but you have already begun to put some of them together to the place where they are beginning to show you where you are going and where you desire to go.

So there will be much of acceleration because you have already made choice. You have already said, "I am willing to come Home." That is why I called it Home work. You have been doing your Home work and you have been doing it well.

You have even come to the place where you are not so resistant to doing something new. Grand miracle. For I know human reaction. The first reaction is, "No, I won't do that. That's something strange. Why should I do that? It disrupts my routine. It is something outside of the norm. Something outside of my comfort zone. What me, get up at sunrise." And yet Beloved Elder has found himself doing it. And you have allowed the comfort zone to be expanded.

All of the suggestions that I have made in the past three years have been for the purpose of expanding the comfort zone, of expanding the limited belief of allowing you to play with the "what if?". "I could be who I would like to be. What if? I am the holy Child of the Father and I am loved unconditionally. What if I am perfect just the way I am?"

Lord.

Yes, Lord, and you have awakened to your own Lordship. You have awakened to that place of sacred holiness. That place that says, "I am my Father's Child in whom He is well pleased. I have never sinned. I have made choices. I have played because I wanted to know what that toy was all about, but I have never sinned. I have never gone astray. For everything that I have chosen to do has been part of the grand design. It has been part of my choice to know all of who I am and my Father loves me. Beautiful Child that I am. Now, I will arise up and I will allow the world to behold my Light for I am happy within myself."

And do you know what happens when you allow your light to shine? It spreads one pinpoint of light to another to another to another until the whole room is full of light. Do you know how hard it is to resist one who is in the space of laughter?

Have you ever been with one who was laughing at the most grand joke? You didn't know what the joke was perhaps, but they were laughing and laughing and before you knew it, you started to laugh as well because it was contagious. It is the same with your Light.

As you allow your light to shine, as you allow that feeling of joy to be visible, it spreads to others. Yes, they have choice to be in resistance and you have seen this.

... how they resist it.

Yes, there is grand resistance sometimes for your light makes such a contrast to where they think themselves to be that they are uncomfortable with it. And yet, as you will be as the light of one candle, the darkness cannot fight it. The darkness cannot put out that light. And you have seen even with the brothers and sisters that if you do not push your light upon them after awhile they come around and they want to know, "How come you can feel light-hearted in the midst of everything that is coming down around you? How can you smile? How can you feel happy? Don't you know that there are such troubles in the world?" And you say, "Yes, I know that that is the perception of the world, but my heart is happy."

And you give them pause for thought where they might not have thought that there could be any other way of looking at something. It does not mean that they will buy it immediately. It does not even mean that they will buy it in this lifetime for there are some of the brothers and sisters who will complete this lifetime in sorrow, in conflict, in violence. And they are not to be judged or to be pitied. They are to be celebrated for they are knowing completion with that aspect of experience.

You would change it for them if you could. You would heal everyone that you come in contact with if you could, instantly. As I would have done in my lifetime. The ones who came seeking healing and believed that it could be, received healing. The ones who came did not believe it could be and needed yet to know completion, I could not change that for them.

But I could be there as the presence of love. I could be there to hold a hand, to be the presence of peace, to be the presence of faith that said, "There is something beyond this." And to support them in their hour of completion. It is beautiful what you do.

But the ones who choose to go through this lifetime in seeming darkness, they are to be celebrated as well for they are knowing completion with that place of reality. They do not have to be saved. They do not have to be changed.

If the Father does not change them, what right, what power have you to think you can change them? If the Father allows and looks with love upon all of His children, can you do anything less? Allow them, celebrate them.

But if they come to you and they ask, "How come you seem to have a ready smile?" Then you will share with them what you have discovered and remembered and that will be a great gift.

I haven't figured out how to not feel that in another. Not to change them, but to be in that place with them. And in that moment I don't call that joy.

No. No, it is not joy when you are in that space. You are one who has often known empathy with others and you have used this in many lifetimes for healing. You are doing it again in this lifetime in order to remember a certain shift in perception that allows you a bit of distance. Not separation, but a bit of distance that blesses the other one where they are, but knows that you for yourself, are experiencing a different energy, a different space because you claim it.

Yes, you can very easily meld with another one to the place of feeling their pain, their anger, their frustration. You have done this many, many lifetimes. It is something you have perfected.

Can I unperfect it?

No. No, you can take it to the perfection that you desire. You will not unperfect it. You will take it to the grand perfection that allows, as the Father does, whatever that one chooses, but will also claim for yourself that you are able to be in their world yes, but you are not of their world.

Their world is something that is within you. In other words, you contain all and you contain their world. That is why you may walk in it easily, but that is not you. You are beyond that. You are the All that contains that world and also the -- how shall I put this? -- the seed, the whole, the capsule that is beyond that part. You are the All.

So yes, you can go within their world and you can know it well. This happens for all of you. You see another one in pain. You see another one in anger and they act out of that place of pain and it does not feel good. You can be in that space with them. You know it well. In a moment you can jump right into it. But you do not have to stay there.

You know yourself, what transforms it, is that you know yourself to be the energy that is All and in that place of perception of knowing the totality of the energy that you are, as this one will speak of energy field, that it is, how far is it now?

One point six million miles.

Ah, one point six million miles. Okay. Now from a perspective of the one point six million miles of the energy that this one claims for himself, how does he see the world of the one into whose world he can step easily? But how does he see that world? You see, it gives it a different perspective.

That is the perfection that you are now wanting to claim, to know, to remember. You have perfected well the empathy where you can understand where another one is coming from. You can be right in it in that reality and it feels terrible. You can feel all of the body tightening up, the heart chakra, the solar plexus. You can feel ready to do battle and yet you know with the still small voice that speaks always to you that you do not have to be in that space.

Claim this one's one point six million miles. See yourself to be on the periphery of that. Gaze far out. Good term you have in this world, "Far out." Gaze far out and see how the world that that one is in, how that perspective changes. It does not mean that it lessens their pain of what they are choosing to feel. You will feel love for that one, caring for that one, yes. But it allows a bit of the distance, not separation, but distance so that you can be the beholder. Not the fixer, but the beholder.

For in truth you do not have to fix anything for anyone. In truth you cannot for every one of the brothers and sisters that you see and you interact with, is a grand master the same as you. Every one of the brothers and sisters that you see and you interact with is the holy Child of the Father, the same as you. Every one of the brothers and sisters that you see and that you interact with is doing completion and coming Home the same as you. Different pathways, different choices and yet they all lead Home.

It is not your responsibility to fix anyone. Not your responsibility to save anyone, for how would you judge that they need to be saved? I cannot save anyone. Although many will call to me to be saved, feeling themselves....

The signs on the freeway says you do.

Yes, I know and it is false advertising. Yes, it is false advertising. It is limited.

You say that what saves is love. And if they equate that with one Jesus, one Jeshua that is okay in the meantime. They will come to understand that they are the love that they seek. They are the salvation that they seek. And they will come to understand how wonderful they are. They will come to understand that what they manifest is such a miracle even as they manifest the diseased body. It is a miracle for they are manifesting.

Everyone that you behold is a great miracle. Allow yourself in the next week of your timing, at least once in everyday to have that moment of revelation as you look upon another one and you say either silently or with the words, "What a grand miracle you are. Look what you have brought forth. Look how wonderful you are. I behold the Christ at work."

Some of the brothers and sisters would not be in a place to accept those words yet, but you can smile with them and you can say, "I really enjoy being with you. I like being with you. It feels good." And then you can say to yourself, "I behold the Christ at work," for that is who is at work. It is the Christ incarnate.

My friends would say, "Huh?"

A great word, "Huh". It means come again. Yes, run that by me one more time.

Everyone that you meet has called you forth. There is no accident. Everyone that you meet, yes, has called you forth whether they know it or not. Many of them will deny it.

Strongly.

Yes, sometimes strongly. All of the ones with whom I experienced, the lifetime in which I was known as Jeshua, all of those ones including all of you, all of you so gathered in this room and all of you within the sound of my voice, knew me in that lifetime and interacted with me on some level. And you called me forth to experience and to be reminded once again of who you are.

Everyone of the brothers and sisters that you meet has called you forth in order to have you remind them of who they are. To give them hope in a moment of darkness.

To give them joy when they are ready to celebrate. To laugh with them, to play with them, to give them the handkerchief whenever it is necessary. To put the arm around, to support, to hug, to nurture, to question so that they question and come beyond limited belief.

Every one of the brothers and sisters has called you forth because the special gift that you have to share with them. Everyone has a special gift to share with you for nothing is ever done in isolation. As they have called you forth you have called them forth, grand miracle, and it is not by accident. Play with the brothers and sisters. Be with them as the One.

Know, yes, where they are coming from, but go beyond that point. To offer to them if they have the eyes to see and the ears to hear, but to offer to them even if they do not seemingly have the eyes yet, or the ears to come from a place of peace that will model for them possibility, presence of peace, presence of great unlimited energy even beyond the one point six.

That's just as a handle you know.

Yes, but a wonderful handle it is.

I'll keep enlarging the number.

Indeed.

You can't use the same handle twice.

No, and that is the wonderful part of the experience that you are on now for you are seeing the unlimitedness of Self. You have already said, "I am more than just the body. I am more than just the aura," wherever that is and you have looked, "Where is the aura? Well some say they can see an aura around me."

You have come to the place where you have said, "Well I am all the energy that fills this room." And you have said, "I am all the energy that fills all of this geographical location. I traverse the space of our Holy Mother, the Earth, easily. I inhabit the universes." And then you go for the one point six billion miles and even that does not contain you for the miles and even the energy that you would use as a concept, where do they exist?

Yeah.

Within you.

I've been traveling through miles.

Exactly, all of that exists within you for it cannot be without you. Therefore you are whatever you will claim yourself to be and more. Always add that to whatever you think yourself to be. "I am such and such and more." For you are.

You are all that you have brought forth here and more. And that is what the next three years are about. They are about remembering and claiming, living, feeling it, knowing it, radiating all of the energy of the holy Self.

And where will that bring you? It will bring you right where you are right now.

Right here.

Right here with choice. Right here but in conscious awareness of choice. Where you will say, "I am sitting in this room," as you can claim right now, "by choice." All of you have made choice to be within this room in this evening. All of you within the sound of my voice have made choice to listen to my voice. Always you have choice.

You are expanding that awareness to know that you are here within this reality by choice and you are here awake, not asleep. Even the dream of forgetfulness has been a toy to play with and it has served a process. But now you are saying, "I am awake within even what I thought the dream to be. Yes, I can see the world. I can see what the brothers and sisters are experiencing and going through. I can feel their space. But I am awake in that I know myself not to be limited to that space."

And the next three years will be a time of acceleration, a time of catalyst of remembrance, a time of great excitement that your heart know well. That is why you are here in this evening.

You have written for yourself an invitation to a grand party. All of you. A wake up party and an awake party.

No more slumber parties?

No more slumber parties unless you want to stay awake.

To wake,

Yes, in the best sense of the word. You are celebration your own wake for indeed there will be a death and you will celebrate. You are already in process of celebrating your own wake. For it will be the death of the limited self-image, the death of the limited belief that says, "I am only a certain personality, a certain body, a certain reality."

You have brought forth in the last few years of your timing grand works of writing, of teachers, brothers and sisters who are teachers, workshops, who are allowing you to connect with the excitement of unlimitedness. Where did they come from? From you, yes. From the center of you for you are calling them forth. Part of that invitation for the party. There is an excitement within you that is bubbling around the edges that says, "I know something good is coming. I don't know exactly what it is, but I really want it. It feels really good. I'm excited."

And it is that energy of excitement that you will be using in the next three years to know the intensification of remembrance. What we have done in the past three years has been as a reunion. A reconnectedness and a re-remembering. I have come, I have spoken to you through many, many different ones not just this one. I have spoken to you through many different brothers and sisters, through different books. I have spoken to you through music. I have spoken to you through the beauty of the sunset, of the flower, of the love of a beloved pet, through the eyes of the small one who looked with spontaneous joy of life into your eyes and I spoke to you, "Remember me."

Not me as an individuality, an individual, not me as Jeshua, but remember me as the Christ that we are. Remember that dynamic energy that activates everything. Yes, you can feel it. Remember me. I have come and I have tickled the heart. I have tickled the mind when you least expected it, I have snuck in around the edges and said, "Believe in the good. Believe in the Allness of the holy Child. Come Home with me."

So the past three years have been a great reunion, reconnection and enlivening. And if you think these past three years have been great, just wait until you see the next three years.

Not because I have a power of magic to come and tap you on the shoulder or the crown chakra, but because you have asked for it. Because you have said, "Father, I want to come Home. I want to know how loved I am." Therefore, what the holy Child has asked for, he will receive.

Always you receive what you ask for, what you desire. Everything that comes to you is a gift if you have the eyes to look upon it from that perspective. It is the way of the world to look upon 99% of what comes and to judge it to be incomplete, imperfect, perhaps bad, threatening, harmful, whatever. You say I do not want that gift. And yet everything that comes to you is a gift for you have called it in order to know holiness with it. To be able to sit with it and to gain the distance of perspective, to be the beholder of holiness and to be able to ask, "How can I see this differently? Father I am willing. Show me." Everything comes to you as a gift. Everything is a catalyst for remembrance of the One. The one beautiful child that you are.

It does not come as a punishment. That has been a belief handed down through the generations over and over and over. It was known in my lifetime, in the lifetime that you shared with me. It was known that there would be a vengeful God and that there was much of ritual that had to be done to make yourself worthy in the sight of God.

Can you tell us where that came from? The events?

Yes. It came in truth from the holy Child thinking himself/herself to be outside of the kingdom of the Father thinking to have been cast out and abandoned. To be far from the love of the Father, and thinking that, "If I have been cast out I must have done something really terrible."

Somebody's mad at me?

"And somebody is made at me. I don't know what I did. It must have been so long ago that I don't remember it, but it must have been really, really bad because I feel myself to be far from my Father's kingdom." And the feeling of distance, of being far from the Father's kingdom came through the adventure, the experience of adventure within reality -- with a small "r" -- where the Child of would say, has said, "I have had experience within this reality, this dimension, this plane. I have done so many things. I have gone so many places. I must be far from my Father's kingdom." It has come because the shift of the focus has been upon other realities, has been upon the adventure.

And so the child has said, "Well if I have had all of these adventures, all of these realities, I must be far. I must have traveled far. So far that I forget what the Father's kingdom is like." And yet you have never, you can never travel away from the Father's kingdom. You are the Father's kingdom. It is within. That is why I have said to you that the kingdom is within. It is within the center of the Consciousness of your being and Consciousness there with a capital "C". Not the consciousness of this reality -- with a small "r" -- but the Consciousness of all. The Consciousness of Isness. The kingdom is within. Therefore you can never be without it.

But the holy Child thinking himself/herself to have gone a far distance, has felt a forgetfulness, has felt an abandonment, has felt cast out and has said, "I must be terribly guilty and I don't even know what I did to be guilty, but it must have been really bad. Therefore, I must do," because there is a belief in doing, not a belief in being, but a belief in doing, "I must do something to make it right."

And you as the great priestess and priest have come with that philosophy throughout many, many lifetimes. You have known nuances and subtleties of that philosophy. Nuances and subtleties of how to make it right, what ritual would purify. What ritual would appease the gods, would appease a vengeful God, that would make you worthy in His sight.

And yet it has never. All of the choices you have ever made, all of the adventures you have been upon have never changed who you are. You cannot change who you are. Praise be to the one holy Child. You cannot change who you are. You are the One holy Child, perfect, complete from before time began.

But you have played and you have experienced and you have come in this lifetime to a certain completion with that philosophy where you would have to appease an angry Father. You have manifested even within biological family, within relationship the vengeful angry parent. The one who had to be mollified, placated and you have been as the pretzel who would bend yourself into whatever shape that one would seemingly ask you to bend yourself into and you have tried and you have resented relationships that have re-manifested the same pattern until you came to the place where you said, "Enough already. I am good enough the way I am. And if you don't like it, too bad." That was the beginning of wisdom. That was the beginning of claiming the love that you are.

The beginning of life.

Yes.

As we know it.

Yes, it was the beginning of life that allows you to come into your own remembrance of holiness. Where you have said, "Enough already with the way of the world. With the way of anyone telling me how I should be." Because you have tried. You have tried to fit everyone's image. Tried to be what they said they thought you should be, and when you became what they thought you should be, they changed who they thought you should be and you adjusted a bit more. Until finally the body cried out. The emotions cried out and the soul itself cried out and said, "I have had enough."

Good sounds effects. We have all of drama within this room this evening. It is beautiful. Could not have orchestrated that better if we had rehearsed it. Beautiful.

The soul has cried out in great pain and has said, "I want to know love. I want to know peace. I want to know who I am." And with that desire you began the process of remembrance, the process of truly living. And it has brought you to this place and it will propel you in the next three years of timing to a place that you have dreamed of, you have envisioned, you have hoped for.

A place of ascension, yes. Bodily ascension? Perhaps if it is your choice. A place of ascension out of the narrowness of the world? Yes. A place of ascension into awakening, yes. Where you will know, consciously know, that whatever you do you do by choice because of the great courage that you are. Because of the great heart that you are and beautiful you are.

Now would be a good time to take a break. To allow the bodies to stretch, to refresh, to replenish and in what you see as ten minutes of your timing, we will reconvene and we will play some more.

So be it.

{Break}

And now beloved ones, we continue. For indeed nothing has been broken even through you took a break. The one holy Child is forever one and the one mind is forever one. Play yes, going along different avenues. Playing with different toys, concepts, ideas, beliefs, but the one mind is forever expanding and expressing, experiencing and is never broken.

When I spoke with you of the past three years it has been a grand journey together of remembrance of times when we did journey with the bodies, make trek together. For indeed, we have done that in the lifetime that is so famous, the lifetime of Jeshua, Jesus. But there were other lifetimes as well for I did not have just one lifetime. I have enjoyed experience and expression upon this plane, upon our Holy Mother, the Earth. I have had many lifetimes, and you have known me in many lifetimes as you have known me in this lifetime.

In this manner yes, but that is not all of what I speak of. I am speaking of times when I have come and manifested a form and sat next to you and spoke with you. Great miracle that the world would call it, and yet everything is a miracle.

I have spoken with you as to the next three years in your timing. Now there is nothing magic about the next three years except that you are the magic and you will make them magical. I have spoken with you to be in ministry to Self in these next three years in awareness. I have spoken to you that how the recorded, my ministry as recorded in your scriptures was of three years and a bit more and that the next three years and a bit more until the turning of the age, would be a suitable appropriate timing to be in ministry to your Self. To the one Self. To self, yes as you see individuality to be, for it is necessary to start there, but to take it in expanded form to the ministry to the one Self, to the ministry of the awakening.

I have spoken with you that upon this journey of ministry you will want to have companions such as the one who accompanied me in the ministry that is recorded. To choose your disciples. To choose yes, friends who will journey with you. Friends who are of like mind, like heart, who are ready to come awake and be in joy.

But more than that, to choose your disciples as the qualities that you desire to focus upon in this ministry of the next three years and to choose in every morning a disciple, a quality that the disciple will represent for you or to call upon that disciple if you desire to, to be with you in that day's activity. To walk with you for indeed they do, but to walk with you in consciousness, in awareness throughout that day.

To think about who you would choose. What qualities you choose to be as your companion, companions, for you may have more than one, upon this journey of ministry. And we have spoken as to the disciples that are recorded in your holy scriptures and what they have represented in collective understanding, as symbols. And yet they were grand, grand individuals, friends and represented more than just one quality as you do.

But if one of your friends were to look upon you and to pick out a quality that you are symbolizing, that would symbolize, epitomize perhaps, how they think of you. They would bring one quality as definition of you. And this is what has happened with the disciples and yet each one of the twelve male disciples was great friend with many nuances of character and personality.

And the one known as John who represents love was not always loving. There were times when he was into limited understanding of his own personality and there were times that Thomas who represents understanding did not understand. But desired to understand. And there were times when Peter who represents faith, did not have faith. Great friends.

And I have spoken to you that the twelve male disciples that are recorded in your holy scriptures were not the only disciples. There were many more disciples of what you would identify as the inner circle. Male disciples and female. Ones who you knew well, intimately for you were there.

Call upon those qualities to accompany you in these next three years of ministry to Self -- Self with a capital "S". You in this lifetime now, are my disciples for you have chosen to take upon yourself the discipline of coming Home. It is not something that you had to do and yet in truth, it is something that you would not say no to.

You are my disciples in this lifetime because you serve the awakening. And I have commissioned you to go forth in this next three years to preach the gospel of heaven. To preach the unlimitedness of the holy Child. The expansiveness of the energy that cannot be even defined. To preach the love that brings forth the remembrance of heaven. To know that love for yourself.

For in the preaching, and I do not mean to stand upon the soapbox with your Holy Scriptures and to thump, thump, but to preach it by being, to model it, to live it. As you do that, that kind of preaching you experience the love yourself for you cannot withhold from yourself that which you give to others. It comes through you and in the coming through you, you are gifted as well. It is beautiful.

I have commissioned you to preach the gospel of love, to heal the sick. Not to fix them, but to offer them the holy vision that heals everything including the body. To offer them the holy vision as it is revealed to you. And to raise up the dead. Please, raise up the dead. Within yourself at times when you feel down, almost dead. Raise up and to raise up the brothers and sisters who would be a bit dead in spirit. To raise them up to a higher level of consciousness and understanding, a new perspective, a shift. Give them a zap of your energy. Raise the dead. You have been commissioned.

In this next three years you will find yourself doing all of these things, although in this evening and at this time when you hear my voice it seems that it would be something a bit miraculous to do. And yet if you will receive it, you have already been preaching the gospel and I thank you. You have already been healing the sick because you have held holy vision for yourself and for them and you have already been raising the dead because you have had much opportunity to see the dead and the dying.

But you will come into a conscious awareness of this, an acceleration of it where something will happen and you will not even think about what to speak, but it will come forth for you will share freely from the heart which is where all healing comes from. Where all wholeness, holiness is known and you will share with another what is needful in that moment.

And then you will walk from that moment and you will say, "Oh my goodness," that is what we spoke of. There will be revelation for the understanding of what it means to preach the gospel and to heal the sick and to raise the dead, that understanding will be expanded to the place where you know yourself to be the miracle that has just happened and you will know it to be within you for you have brought it forth.

You are my disciples if you allow the heart to express freely in love. You are my disciples as you remember oneness with me and with the Father. Not me as a separate individuality. That is not important, but me as the Christ that you are.

Now I would ask of you, are there the questions that need to be entertained in this evening?

{Jeshua greets each member of the group.}

This is a grand adventure and it only gets better. Now the voice of the world would speak to you that, "Oh my goodness, watch out for it. It is going to get worse." The truth of your being is that it only gets better and the next three years... you are saying, "Thank goodness it only gets better." The next three years of your timing you are going to see much of miracles. You are going to see the acceleration that you have begun to feel. You are going to feel it take flight even more. That is part of the excitement, to feel bubbling around and you cannot quite identify it or put a hold onto it, a hand onto it, but you know it's there.

It is going to be a time of intensification of the holy energy because you are going to come into a claiming and remembering of the wholeness that you are, the perfection and the beauty of the one Self who experiences herself as being right here an individual and yet knows herself to be more and more.

This evening has been a grand joy to speak with you once again, to feel the enlivenment of the heart, the joy that rises up. To experience once again the love of the Christ as I behold you as the Christ.

Know you that as you can step into another one's world and feel what they are experiencing, great impact that you are you can also step into my experience of Reality which is not separate from you, and feel that energy that is beyond description and beyond definition. Go forth from this place with great joy. Spread the good news of heaven that is already here as the love of the heart. Heal the sick. Allow them to see holy vision as it is revealed to you and raise the dead. In my name yes, in the name of the one Christ that we are. Go forth in great love.

So be it. Shalom.
