Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the One Source, Child of Light divine, I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to call me forth. In truth, beloved ones, you have poured into my heart in this evening your holiness. As you have allowed yourselves moments to connect with the Christ of your being. You have poured your holiness into my heart, into the one Heart that we are and beautiful it is. Did you not feel the peace? Did you not feel the holiness? Did you not feel the love? The unconditional, unlimited love? For a moment where you stood in the place of heaven and know without complexity the love that is your divine birthright.

Indeed, as you poured your holiness into my heart, your heart expanded. Did it not feel open? Did it not feel whole and holy, joyous? A time of transformation this is. A day of transformation. All of you have had a day of transformation. You have had times in this day of challenge and of decision. And I will say right off in human terms, I am proud of you. For all of you came to the brink, the threshold of a place where you could have made decision to judge self and others and you chose to be in a space of allowance, a place of mellowness and to say, "This is a time apart. I will allow myself to feel good about whatever I choose to do." It is a day, has been a day of transformation. A day of great adventure. A day where you have gifted yourself many new sights and yet they are old, familiar sights.

For those of you who went adventuring to see seemingly new places and new sights, it was a day of reunion. A day where you knew deep within the heart that you had been there before. That you had connected with the energy -- as you will call it -- of those spaces. A day when there was a familiarity where you felt at home and yet you would say, "I haven't been there before in this lifetime. I haven't been there." And yet at a very deep level it was a coming Home.

Now if you will receive it, all of what you looked upon in this day you brought forth as a gifting to yourself, as a gifting of transformation. All of you in choosing to make the journey to this beautiful island have gifted to yourself much of allowance, as we spoke last evening, much of releasing constriction of various image that you would hold of yourself and image of the world and image of what would be possible. And you chose to come through all of the limitedness and to be here.

It was for many, many reasons. One of which dealing with releasing of old baggage of other lifetimes that you have brought into this lifetime as familiar old habits and ways of perceiving self and others. And it was also to reconnect with an area of land mass, of energy brought together in form that you as the great masters that you are formed in what you would see as a long ago time. You are the masters who spoke the word as idea, that brought forth the land masses upon which you now walk. This island, as you see it now to be an island, was not always an island. It was not always surrounded by the beautiful blue seas and the power of that sea.

The land mass was joined and you made trek from one part of the land mass across to other parts of the land mass that now you will use your technology to travel. Now you will use the boat or the airplane to go. But in the time when you brought forth the land mass this island as you see it now was part of a much vaster land, geographical location, and you as the grand masters that you are, you decreed that it would be such and it would have form and that you would walk on the surface of it and you would know dimension of living even within it.

For in truth, you have not always lived as you would see, upon the surface of any land mass on our Holy Mother, the Earth. You have also known the life, yes, within the waters. Very free life within the waters. And you have also known life in what you would see now as dense energy form within our Holy Mother, the Earth.

You are the ones as great masters who called forth the change in temperature that would allow the ice, the ice caps to melt and to make more of the water so that you could swim in more of area and travel from what you see as the north to the south and the east to the west.

You have deep within you a memory of being within the ocean, of being the creatures now that you honor and respect and have desire to swim with. It is not by accident that it calls to you to be again in the water, to be again walking along the beach, the wonderful sand which is crystalline energy and to know the freedom of the wind and to all yourself to feel as free as the wind and as powerful as the waves that crash upon the shore.

It is a remembrance of truth of your being. For you are the ones who have called forth the waters. You are the ones who have called forth the land masses. You are the ones who have decreed the change in form where the land masses have changed, their outline and in what you call time, you will see change again in the configuration of land masses.

Now I do not speak this as an imminent occurrence so that you have to hurry up and build your ark to save the body. But in time you will see change in the land form in the shape, the configuration, because you have decreed that the holy Child will use the creativity that is her nature, to bring about change. To bring about remembrance of the holiness that he is.

So you've had a day today of adventuring have you not? You have had a day of reconnecting with many of the places where you have lived even with form of body such as what you know the body now to be, in other lifetimes, other cultures, other societies. That is one of the reasons that there was a great calling to you to come and be amongst this energy once again. It was to reconnect with remembrances of the heart of what you identify as lifetimes in linear history where you have lived here, where you have worshipped the forces and the beauty of nature and where you connected with the oneness of the power of our Holy Mother, the Earth and your own power through Her.

Everything that you will be viewing in this week of the heart in all of your touring as it is called, serves the grand purpose of remembrance for you will stand upon holy ground once again as you have done in this day and there will be a knowing that this is holy ground. For indeed, as we spoke last evening everywhere the holy Child puts his or her foot is holy ground and everywhere you will travel in this week there will be a reconnection and a remembrance that you have lived and worshipped and honored and known oneness with the energy of that space.

You are touring, yes, and that is pleasurable. I would suggest unto you that you do much of it in this week so that you go home and you tell the brothers and sisters what you have seen, what you have felt and how it has been an adventure.

More than that, you will take with you in the heart a remembrance of all of the places that you have discussed even in this evening of wanting to visit. Seemingly as a new experience and yet it will be an old experience for you will stand upon various areas and there will be an anchoring, a rooting that you will feel. A sacredness and a oneness where you will not feel separate from the land, from the water, from the air. You will know that you are one with what you have brought forth.

It is a day, it is a time, a week as you have set it apart of transformation. It is a time of integration and I would suggest to all of you, to be gentle with yourself. To do what feels right for you in every moment, in every day. If all of the ninety and nine out of the one hundred are going to go visit a certain shrine because it is most holy, and you do not feel a calling to go but you feel a calling to be with yourself and to be within, follow that guidance. Go where the heart directs for that will be your holy place and your sacred connection in that day.

And if there is guidance to go and be amongst all of the brothers and sisters who are doing the exchanging of the golden coins known as the shopping, what grand adventure. See what bargain you can come up with. See what treasures you will find. For all of you will take back with you certain material tangible treasures. In other words you will purchase items that you will take back with you. And this is well and good. You deserve everything that you will manifest.

And all of you will take back with you treasures of the heart because you have listened to the heart. And you may think that your plan is when you awaken in the morning or even in the evening as you lay the head upon the pillow, that you are going to get up at a certain time and you are going to go somewhere upon the schedule perhaps, and at the last minute or ten minutes there is a guidance to do something else, follow that guidance and be gentle with self.

Do not allow the ego to get in there and say, "Oh you should be doing what all the rest are doing." Do not judge self and do not judge others for there will be some who will say, "How can you say that you don't want to go to the holy shrine?" And you will say, "Well, do you know I have been there. I have done that." And in truth, you have been there and you have done that and you are complete with it.

For there is no one of the brothers and sisters who can say to you that you are incomplete for how do they know the journey that you are on? How do they know where you have been? What is important for you is to connect with the heart and to feel the sunshine of the heart as you will listen to it and honor it.

Many of you today went and visited an area of great power and you felt the power in that area and you reconnected once again with what you have brought forth and what you have experienced in other lifetimes. For in truth you will not visit any area upon this land mass or on any other land mass that you have not already familiarity with and acquaintance with.

That is why you can do great travel and you can feel at home even through the society of peers might say this a strange land and yet the heart knows that you have been there before. It is home. Of course it is home. Home is where the heart is. You have that saying. You have heard that saying, home is where the heart is. Very true.

For indeed, you are the heart. It is within and you take it with you wherever you go and as you will have the awareness to know that you are the heart, you will also know that you are home no matter where you go. And you will have remembrances in a seemingly strange land to remind you of what has been home in other time with a slightly different perception.

This will happen for all of you in this week. You will look upon what seemingly will be a new experience perhaps, a new sight, a new area to rediscover and you will rediscover the heart and the home of you. For all of you have known lifetimes in this beautiful island paradise. All of you have been here before. Some of you in this lifetime. All of you in other lifetimes. And there are memories that will come up for you. Some that you will judge to be wonderful, heart opening memories and others that will be a bit nagging, a bit perhaps of uncomfortableness where you feel that there is something there that does not feel quite complete, whole, finished. And it is because you have come through lifetimes where there has been, in your perception, traumatic experience and you have opted out of that experience in a very rapid fashion not knowing completion and not seeing holiness.

So it will come back for you in a slightly different way. This is true of this week of the heart, this week of transformation and it true when you return to what you call the mainland. It is true when you return to your dwelling place and your place of employment. There will be and has been memories, subtle ones perhaps of uncomfortableness that you could not quite identify. A nagging perhaps. And in truth you do not have to identify exactly what that memory is. It comes and it knocks upon the door of your mind and your remembrance so that you may bless it from where you are now. From the knowing and the perception of remembrance that you have now.

For you are no longer held in the past. All of you have lived even within this land mass, this beautiful island, you have lived lifetimes that you judged to be painful and torturous. You have known lifetimes when you have felt the victim of the philosophies, the religious philosophy that was held at that time, where one in seeming more authority than yourself said that you should release the body in what was known as sacrifice. And if it be known in truth, you gave consent to it. For never have you been victim. You gave consent to it because you wanted the experience of how it would feel to be sacrificed.

There were lifetimes when you gave yourself willingly as sacrifice because you saw it as value. There were other times that it was asked of you and you would have run from it and literally did until you were caught and restrained and given motivation for releasing the body. Otherwise known as this {off with the head}.

All for the adventure of it. So you have come through a multitude of lifetimes and experiences and if something comes to you in a certain area where you stand and you say, I feel a sorrow, I feel a heaviness, I have heard others say, I feel there are evil spirits in this area. I will digress for a moment.

There are no such things as evil spirits. All spirits are of the Father. All spirits are expressing and adventuring the same as you. What will be judged to be perhaps evil is that. It is judgment. It is perception. And in truth there are no evil spirits. It may be perceived by you, by brothers and sisters that there is evil, but that is judgment and that is limited judgment. It is not holy judgment where you see the whole weaving of the tapestry of how all of the threads, even the thread that would be perceived to be evil, how all of the threads weave together into a beautiful tapestry.

Now if you stand upon a ground in a certain place and you feel an uncomfortable-ness, allow yourself to breathe. Breathe, and bless that constriction that has come from experience that you have carried with you. Not in clarified form of awareness in this lifetime, but an old, old memory that you are now willing to release.

For there is no memory and no feeling that comes to you without your invitation and when you issue invitation and allowance for that memory to come, it means that you are ready in the courage of your heart to deal with it. For there is no memory, there is no experience that will come without your bidding. And if you have invited it to come, you are saying at that moment, you are the powerful one for indeed you have the power to invite it. Therefore, you are not weak. You are not the victim. You are not going to be devastated by any of it.

And if it comes to you it is not as judgment because you are weak or because you do not know enough or because somehow the Father is sending it to you to test you. It comes because of your great courage to look at it and to bless it and to come up higher in the recognition of your own holiness.

Do you see how much of the world will take a perception and twist it so that the meaning seems to be and is diametrically opposed to the truth of the meaning? The most terrible experiences that you call forth for yourself and you would judge to be most terrifying come because of your great strength to look upon them and to experience them. And when something comes as a seeming test, you may rejoice in it because it means that you are willing to know your strength.

Now the world will say that you are bringing it up because you are terribly guilty and weak, et cetera, et cetera, et cetera. But the truth of it is, it cannot come until you are willing to look upon it and until you invite it.

So whatever you experience count it all as good. Be gentle with self in this week for it is a week of transformation. It is a week when you will look upon old memories. It is a week when you will feel that there is immanent change and this is true. And the old way of looking at it will be that it has to be a certain manifest form and yet I will speaking quite plainly to you, that what is happening is within and it is as powerful as the most dramatic volcanoes. The most dramatic wave, the most dramatic earthquake.

This week will be that way for all of you. Some of you will feel it more than others, but in truth, this week is a week of transformation and a week of great change. Some of you will know it within this week. Some of you have already been feeling it. Some of you have been feeling that you had the one foot raised to make the next step and you are not quite sure where the foot is going to come down and it gives you a bit of the insecurity and that is good for it means there is movement afoot.

{Laughter}

Pardon the pun.

I love it.

It is something I have learned recently.

Quite well.

Others of you will know that there is something happening and you will not quite identify it. Perhaps even in the next few months of your timing and yet in the great Advance when we are so gathered, you will look back upon this time and you will see with clarity just how much of transformation happened even in a subtle way as you see the peeling of the onion skin, very very thin, layer by layer. That is what you have given permission to have happen now. You are peeling away all of the armoring that you have judged to be necessary from other lifetimes. You are allowing the armoring to be released and trusting the heart more and more.

Well, I have spoken long enough. This I believe has been deemed an informal evening. I'm not sure what that means. I feel that all evenings are informal. But I suppose it means that we will have a certain exchange, exchange if there are questions of ones who will want to ask. Yes.

I just wanted to share a dream I had last night a little bit. You have touched on it already. A big row eucalyptus trees that are really extremely tall and big around and as you know the bark of an eucalyptus tree how it peels off like an onion. There were many of those. All kinds of whole rows laying on the ground....

Yes. That beloved brother is what is happening for you and for the brothers and sisters so gathered. Much of the releasing of the old bark.

Thank you.

I thank you for you are the ones who are willing now to allow the armoring to be shed, to trust the heart and to know that the holy Child in truth needs no defense. You are your own defense for in truth you are the love of the Father that is all powerful, all present. You need no defense.

But in the adventuring of the holy Child, you have said, "I want to know how it feels to journey far from the Father's Home. I want to know what it feels like to be with my creations." We are speaking of that in this evening and will speak of that in this week. "And I want to know intimately how it feels to be within and amongst all of my creations. I want to know density of form, density of energy. I want to know how it feels if I would run into one of my creations known as the tree? With my form, what is going to happen?" And so you have done that.

Many times.

Many times, yes. This lifetime and other lifetimes. I will bring forth creation and then I want to experience what it is like to be that creation. What it is like to activate that creation. So you have known the experience of being the giant redwood tree, the giant eucalyptus tree. You have wanted to know how it feels to be the rose, the very small alpine flower. You have wanted to know, how does it feel to be the great mammal that swims in the ocean? The freedom of swimming? Being one with the ocean? How does it feel to stand upon the firmament of the land mass and look into the heavens and admire your handiwork? Have you not admired your handiwork in this week as you have looked into your evening? (end of tape) In the brilliance of your handiwork and how much of it you can see.

"Well I didn't know there were so many stars in the heavens." I will share with you, there are stars, brilliant stars walking upon the face of the firmament as well. And you are seeing that. You see that with your brothers and sisters as you go into your restaurants, your shops, your tourist places, the beach and you look into the eyes of another one and there is a twinkle, a light and you know a oneness. For an instant you connect and you feel at home. For in truth, you are at home.

Did you come with another question in this evening?

If no body else has one I'll ask one. Yesterday flying over, it lasted for at least a half hour or an hour. It was a very strong sense of a spaceship following the airplane.

Yes.

Whew! There was a seven year old boy sitting on my left, two seats over and it seemed like there was a very strong connection with him.

And this is true, yes. Ones of the small ones who have agreed to activate form within what you would see as the last, where are we now? -- the last seventeen years have agreed that they will be open to remembrance. Open to seeing even with the physical eyes what others have said could not be, and what you have said at a certain level and you will not see until a certain time.

Now there is an agreement that you will see, yes. Yes, and what you have desired, what you have spoken you will see with physical eyes. But the younger ones as you count years to be, know with a certain remembrance that there is not separation and they also know an agreement that they have with you and with the space brothers, as you will call them, to have issued invitation, very visible invitation, very tangible invitation to come and make presence known.

Now in truth, every time you take the consciousness up in what is called the airplane and you feel that you have put yourself within something larger, again the truth of that is diametrically opposed and turned around. The airplane is within you, within your consciousness, within your awareness. Otherwise it would not be.

In truth every time you allow yourself the freedom to take the feet, as it would be, off of the firmament a bit, you are escorted by many of the brothers and sisters and also other dimensional forms that are not within your understanding now, as gender. In other words, there are more than just brothers and sisters. There are other categories you would call them I suppose, of dimensional forms.

You allow them to escort you. They are very much present with you and you have begun to see in certain nebulous form now, the spaceships as you call them. Somewhat hidden behind energy that is called the mists, the cloud. In truth they exist as real as you know this dimension to be. They are living their own reality -- with a small "r" -- which has come from the Reality, the shared Reality -- with a capital "R" -- from which everything comes and you are decreeing as they are decreeing for nothing is done in isolation. It is done in concert and by agreement that you are going to bring the two understandings of reality where there will be a merging and you will exchange understanding and you will share reality.

Now will this be true for all of the brothers and sisters who feel themselves to be living upon this plane? No. In other words, not all of the brothers and sisters are going to see a spaceship. Not all of the brothers and sisters want to see a spaceship.

{Laughter}

Not all of the brothers and sisters will see the brothers and sisters of the space dimension manifest in a way where there can be visible exchange. But for those of you and there is a great pool of awareness that is inviting an expansion of reality, there is a great pool that is inviting this reality to happen.

For those of you within this pool, you will experience seeing the space brothers, welcoming them for indeed if you will receive it, they have experience the same as you and they also have a bit of fear and trepidation as to what will happen if they make themselves within a shared reality, as they make themselves visible and so they are here with you. In truth, they are here in this room with you. They listen, they understand, they speak with you on what you would call a different radio frequency.

So yes, to answer in a long fashion your question, there was definitely a spaceship that was escorting you and the young fellow invited it and knew very well the presence of the spaceship and knew a connection with the ones on the spaceship and they with him.

For he has known experience with them as you have. As you have. Now the idea of space brothers, space travel, spaceships, where does that come from? In truth, it comes from a remembered reality. Everything that comes into your awareness comes by invitation and it comes because you have known that experience. There is nothing foreign to you that is going to come into your awareness.

In other words, something that you have not known. It is not going to come plop right into your awareness as a strange thing, incomputable? Uncomputable? Hmm. Non-computable? Whatever, it does not compute. In other words, there is a program somewhere in the computer for it. The cosmic computer. Yes.

As we are traveling together is this the beginning of the community?

Ah, beloved brother, I will ask you, what is your knowing?

I believe that it is.....

Yes, and great fun it is, is it not? Yes, there are the early risers of you who push the buttons of the late sleepers. There are the ones of you who make the great noise at sleeping. Great orchestras.

{Laughter & comments}

I listen to the night time orchestras.

I'm sure you do. I call upon you a lot. Tell him to turn over.

Beloved one, you can do that more easily than I can.

{Laughter}

Good one. That was neat.

I've noticed something about baby children in the last several years. I had an interesting experience a couple of years ago that go me thinking. I was on my way home from Warrensburg, Missouri having a workshop and I was in the Kansas City airport with my luggage. They didn't have checking so you had to stand in line. Behind me was a young couple with a little boy who was only two or three years of age in their arms. The child and I made eye contact and he flirted with me and with him. He spoke not a word but at one point in the proceeding, he was in his father's arms. He reached over and took my hand and kissed it. The expression on his parent's face was priceless and probably mine too, and he just grinned.

Yes.

So I figured, I was so surprised and so amazed and so pleased and I thought this could be this was my child or my father or whatever in some lifetime. But also the new ones being born are being born with something special. Some awareness. Some understanding. I mean the looks in their eyes. All the little ones that I've met are just so much more....

Awake.

Yes. True. Not my imagination?

What is imagination?

Oh, good idea.

Yes, that's it. It comes from the inner knowing. Even imagination.

On that same level we had a chat a month or so ago, and I asked you about my father and my mother if they were back and you said yes they were. Next question, do I know them?

Yes.

And have I meet these babies?

Yes.

I thought so.

Yes.

I wonder if that little boy, that little boy couldn't have been my father?

Could have been.

My father was too cantankerous.

{Laughter}

Yes, and this is a great truth. When ones choose again to activate form they do not come with the same agenda of personality and issues. They will say, "Okay, new script. I want to try a new way of experiencing and expressing." So if the one that you have known in this lifetime as the Father, was a bit cantankerous....

A bit. He was wonderful. I mean I loved him dearly, however....

However, yes. And this is true on a certain level, this is true. He read his script and he played it well. He also completed. So that he has chosen now to come back and try a new script. He has said, "Okay I have tried that script. I have played that part. I know how to do that part. It is as easy as falling on the floor. Now I will try a new script, yes."

The young ones that you see coming in now, allow yourselves to look into their eyes at every opportunity that you get. You have already done this. You certainly have. Each one of them is a great master without exception. Each one of them is a great master without exception as you are. And they are agreeing now to remember and to stay awake because you have asked them, "Please it is time now. I want to remember."

You see the script that you collectively agreed to play in what you would see as the first part of this lifetime, as you see your lifetime to be, the script, collective script said that there would be a forgetting. But as the script now progresses, you have written into it the awakening and you have asked ones of the small ones to come, activate form and show me the purity and the radiance of knowing. And they will not have to go through the script that says they forget.

There will be completion of issues for them. It does not mean that they are going to come as great masters and what you would say as great saints. Know you that all of the saints have had their quirks? All of the saints had their personalities. All of them had the issues that they were doing completion with. So even though later generations have venerated and made them saints, they also lived lifetimes of humanhood and knew completion with various aspects. And all of the young ones who are activating form now by choice and ones who have come in the conscious awareness within the last seventeen years, have a certain level of awareness but are also doing completion.

In other words they have issues, baggage that they now wish to know holiness about. So you will see them dealing sometimes dealing with great traumatic heavy baggage and it will look like perhaps the baggage is going to overpower them, but it will not. It is as we have spoken a few moments ago, you may rejoice when you see conflict and turmoil and confusion. It means that they are coming from a place of great strength, otherwise they would not have courage to deal with what seems to be great issues.

Thank you.

You are most welcome. Everyone that you see now experiencing and expressing, even ones that you would judge to be far out and not living from a space of the heart are great masters and they are doing completion of whatever they have deemed to be incomplete. It does not mean that you have to be in their presence as they do their completion.

Good idea.

You will follow your guidance. Exactly. Just because you may say, "Well, I know that I am the holy Child and I am saintly, therefore I will stand in the presence of this one who is doing his completion and whatever he decides to have rain down upon me in his experience I will withstand it."

No. If your guidance says to shake the dust of your sandals and go somewhere else and let him do his completion on his own, please listen to that guidance. Your guidance comes not for naught. In other words, do not deny the guidance. Do not even stand there and say, "Well should I or shouldn't I? Is this my guidance? Is this for real? Jeshua, what should I do?" For goodness sake, follow the guidance. You are the one who has called forth that guidance, trust it.

If you have guidance to leave and you go ten paces away, and the guidance is to turn around and come back, then follow that guidance. In other words, you are given guidance momentarily. It is not set in the concrete and do not be so prideful that you would say, "Well, my guidance was I have to leave this place and I cannot go back on that guidance." If you have very strong guidance to change it, for heaven's sakes change it. You are the great masters who are calling forth the experience.

But yes, please look into the eyes of the small ones. Commune with them for they have much of love to share with you. Much of joy. Even in your places known as the supermarkets and the malls, there will be the small ones who are being pushed in the little -- what you call -- those wheeled things, yes, the strollers and they have nothing better to do and neither have you, than to look around and connect in the heart. Yes.

Jeshua, lately I have been meeting a lot of younger people and it seems to me like they are just so much more aware of everything, you know. I don't know what it is about them. It seems like you said, awake.

Yes. Yes.

And I really enjoyed being around them.

Yes. And even the ones who seemingly are coming through their own question of why am I here? What is this all about? And does life have meaning? They are ones who are living from a place of great courage because they are willing to no longer sleep through a life experience, but they are willing to question. They are willing to ask of themselves, what is important? Why am I here? Why does society say it has to be, however? What is really true for me? What is my path? What drummer do I listen to? And to follow the beat of their own heart. Yes.

I ran into one like that on the ship.

Of course.

You know who I'm talking about?

Yes. Yes, great master. Great teacher. Yes. As you have been teacher and are teacher to many. It is true for all of you. All of you are great teachers and all of you have the eyes to recognize the teachers in your life as well, and to thank them for what they allow to come up within you. For what they bring up sometimes, even though you might not want to look upon it so that you may bless it and forgive it and bless it and forgive it and give it finally over to the Father and say, "Here, you deal with it. I am done, complete with it."

For indeed if any issue comes up for you and you go round and round and over and over and over and over with it, and you feel that you have blessed and released and it comes back and it nags. It is asking you to see the larger picture then in truth you do not have to do anything with it. Give it to the Father, for the Father knows how to deal with all of the nuances of choices that you see others making and choices that you feel yourself to be making.

Just say, "Okay, I am complete with that Father, you take it. You know this one better than I do. You can have this one. Please, take this one." There were times in my lifetime that I did that. Great saint that I am.

{Laughter}

Modesty.

Modest, oh yes, of course. Great Christ, great saint that I am, holy Child. In my human experience there were ones who pushed some buttons and they delighted in pushing buttons. It was not even that they knew they were pushing the buttons, it was just their nature to be that way, but I felt certain habitual buttons being pushed. And I found that I would pray to the Father about this one and say, "Please let me see this one differently. Please make holy this situation."

Well in the beginning I said, "Please change this other one."

{Laughter}

I know that well, yes.

Yes. Yes, it is a very common human route to follow. And I came to the point finally of surrender where I said, "Into your hands Father, I give this one as I give myself into your hands." And miracle of miracles, I no longer had to deal with that one. No longer when that one came up into my mind was there the habitual perception that had been great cloak of raiment that this one always wore for me as I saw this one. But the cloak of raiment that I saw then was, "Oh, I don't have to deal with that one. The Father is dealing with that one and much pleasure may He have."

{Laughter}

Yes.

Jeshua, I've had the chance now, a couple of years ago, and today when we were coming back from Mount Haleakala? and the car in general conversation we discovered, uncovered, recovered, the knowledge that we had always been in Hawaii in 1969 at the same time. Not knowing once another at all, but then coming back now in this experience and I wondered if you could talk about the role of seeming coincidence in relationships?

Yes. You are discerning well that it is seeming coincidence and yet there is a great weaving of the threads. You were here yes, activating the physical form in the same geographical location at the same time, but there was focus of attention upon issues that needed completion in your discernment.

In other words, there were things that you were about. It was the Father's business, yes, because there was the completion that did not need at that time, your interaction. But you agreed at that time and before that time, that you would come together now in a grand reunion and say, "Well, how wonderful. I probably passed you on the street and didn't even know that I was going to have such an interaction with you at a later time." Know you that happens all of the time. In this day you have passed ones. Did not even see them. They were not within the conscious reality and yet at what you perceived to be a later time, they will come into the conscious awareness of reality and you will say, "Oh, beloved friend," and you will begin to play the do you know? Did you know? Where have you been? kind of thing the same as you play, and it is great child's play, holy Child's play of past lifetimes. Who were you in a past lifetime?

You will meet one and you will say, "I know you from somewhere. I know you very well. Were you in the lifetime that I was Cleopatra? I think we shared that lifetime."

{Laughter}

"Where you one of the ones in my court?"

Cleopatra was on my last ship.

Yes.

I was the asp.

We will get Beloved Elder to spell that correctly. Yes.

Years ago when I read about the coming of the white man to the islands, I felt great rage as to what happened.

Yes.

Was I here during that time? Was I a Polynesian or was I one of the....?

I will ask of you, what is your knowing?

I'm not sure that I have a sensing of it....

You were indeed.

I felt the rage....

Yes. In truth, beloved one, you played the script of both, both sides. You were here yes as the Polynesian, as the native in grand innocence. You were also one of the ones who came as the explorer, the adventurer. So you know both sides of this. This is why there has been a bit of questioning in your mind. You have felt that you have known both sides of it and in truth you have.

The rage comes from a certain side of it, of experience where there was an identification with victimhood. It also comes from a feeling of the experience you had of being the explorer and knowing that there was devastation that was happening and you felt powerless to change it.

In truth you were full of power because you allowed what others agreed collectively to experience. You agreed that you would be part of that adventure and that drama. Not from a place of powerlessness, but a place of power that allowed it to happen and allowed yourself to play a script within that drama.

So the feelings that have come up are very true feelings -- with the small "t" -- within the reality that you described and you have known both side of it. You have also known lifetimes as grand explorer where you did not feel oneness with what was happening. You felt great power of commanding others. A great sense of demigod and you wanted others to know that demigod that you felt yourself to be. Not in judgment. That is not said as judgment, for all of you have played the part of demigod, because at a very deep level, or goddess, there is a very deep level of remembrance that you are God. And so you wanted to play, to experience being demigod, as you saw that perception, and it came from the truth of your being that you are God, but in the experiencing and the scripting of it, it got a bit warped, a bit filtered, there is the word.

I also have a great interest in Kahuna.

Yes. And you know why that is.

{...comment not clear...}

Ask the brothers and sisters. Was he a high priest in the...? Many times, yes. They new you. All of the brothers and sisters so gathered in this room have known you as high priest, as you have known them in their places of high priest, high priestess. You have all played the scripts, you have released the body and you have exchanged scripts and you have said, "Okay, now I will play grand priestess, or grand priest. And all of you will listen to my words of wisdom." And some of you agreed that you wouldn't. Some of you went as the rebel. You do that even now.

But yes. There is an awakening and a remembrance among many of the brothers and sisters of the kahuna philosophy and the very true magic. Not the magic that would be seen as the molded by the perception of the world, but the true magic of the holiness of the holy Child.

There is an awareness now that is coming to the conscious claiming where ones will want to be with others who have studied and who have remembrance and who know the techniques, to study with them.

For indeed all of you have been the great priests. All of you have been the beloved priest, the grand teacher, the masters. And all of you have been the ones who sat at the feet of the others and either listen with rapt attention or said in your heart of hearts, "The old fool he does not know what he's talking about."

{Laughter}

You do that in this day and time. Yes.

My husband has been a very gentle man but there has been something that has been going on for years and years that it just seems to confuse him very much. He senses people fear him and he always tries to be as gentle as he can with people because he He was actually in tears one time because he knew that it seemed like everyone fears him. And yet he is so gentle and he's really wonderful, but my parents fear him. I feared him for years and my kids feared him. People at work feared him and he just doesn't know where all that comes from, how he must have been in another life. He must have been a horrible person.

And yes, this is true. He was, but he was also in lifetimes where he was feared because of great power that was ascribed to him by the other ones. He has known lifetimes of being authority where ones have looked up to him and he comes to this lifetime to be as servant to others to allow them to deal with issues that really in this lifetime have nothing to do with him. But have everything to do with their own completion.

You have seen this for yourself. It has been to bring out the grand strength of you, and it has been for others by agreement that they would perceive a certain underlying reason, although they could not identify it, to deal with the issue of fear.

All of you have known, you all have great teachers in your life who will bring up for you fear, of authority, fear even for the body that does not quite seem to relate to what is going on in the reality that is being lived now. It is because you have asked that you want to heal the old wounds and the old perceptions and you have said, "Here, will you play this script for me?" And the servant has said, "Yes, I will play that," so that you can deal with issues that are not seen in judgment. But are seen in unholiness of recognition.

In other words, the holiness has not been recognized yet and the great strength that you now know has not been claimed yet. It was always there, but it hadn't been claimed.

All of you have authority figures that you run into from time to time that will scare the hell out of you. Quite literally, I hope.

{Laughter}

Good idea.

And you ask these ones, quite unbeknownst to them perhaps, to play that role for you. You do this in relationships. You will ask of certain mate to play a role. You see this quite often now in certain completion. Many relationships where ones are coming now to know completion and great courage. Where there is conflict and they have to claim their own power. Finally it is time. Not power over another one, but their own power of holiness as the beautiful holy Child that they are. No longer listening to the voice of the world or another one's image of who they think they are. But saying, "No, I've had enough of that. I have played that role over and over and over. That is not who I truly am anymore. I am finished, complete. I am well and whole and independent and courageous and grand master and I will arise up and go wherever I desire to go. Whether or no there is any accompaniment, I have to be about my Father's business and I will go."

Great courage. Great strength. All of you are finding within you. One of the grand gifts that you gave to yourself was the looking straight on with all of the possible reasons and constrictions as to why you would not deserve, could not do this trip, and then at the last moment for some of you, you said, "oops, I'm going. That's it. I don't care where the pieces fall down. I am going." And you claimed the power of the holy Child, and you came.

But the mate, grand gentle person that he is, in truth what he brings up for others has everything to do with them and not to do with him. He feels compassion yes, and the compassion comes from other lifetimes. It is something that was not known in many lifetimes. In other words, he lived a life of authority where he had the temporal power to demand of another one the form. In other words, off with the head for the slightest thing, and felt no compassion and he recycled and lived that script again and again to the place where he did feel compassion and there is great compassion within this one now.

I thank you beloved one for what you have been willing to claim this wonderful relationship of remembering. It has not been easy for you, but has brought you to a great place of heaven. Many times you were faced with the hell of choice where the demons of the past and the demons of fear seemed almost overpowering and you choose because of great courage, to walk through those ogres, those demons that seemed most life threatening, and you said, "I have to do this. I don't know how I'm going to do this. I don't know why I have to do this, but I have to do it." And you took the deep breath and you said, "God help me." And He does.

{...not clearly recorded comment}

You are the holy Child. I speak of you and I speak of all of you so gathered in this room. You are the holy Child in whom the Father is well pleased. Yes.

I have a dear friend who is ... (end of tape)

..get out of that situation feels that ... to not have that kind of trauma in his life. I was wondering if you had any insight?

That is well spoken beloved one, for what is desired here is the inner wisdom, the in-sight of looking within. Nothing is done in isolation. Everything is a grand dance. Everything is done in concert with seeming individualities and yet at a level that is just slightly raised from this specific point of focus, there is an agreement and a joining that says, "We will play this drama together."

There are issues of completion, major issues that are being addressed and the completion will be known and the holiness will be known. There is an exquisiteness of timing. This is true for this one and it is true for all relationships where there is desire yes, to have it completed and to know holiness. That is the most important turning point, to have the desire and to recognize that desire and to speak that desire and to have the intent that comes then from the claiming of that desire.

But what is more, well not more, but as important, is the allowance then of the dance to do its own completion. There is the desire, you say, "I've had enough of this. I desire to know holiness," and you speak it with conviction and you speak it with intent and you give over your energy to that intent. Then you allow and you look at what is happening in that enactment with allowance.

You come from the place of the heart in what you choose to do. But you allow the other ones to do what they deem necessary to do for their own completion. That is a difficult within this stream of human understanding. That is often a difficult step.

To come from the place of your own Christ knowing, to love as the Father does, this one and all of the other ones that are in this enactment, and to allow them to do what they deem necessary for their own completion and to surrender into the holy vision. To surrender into the bigger picture.

In other words, to give it over to the Father. To say, "I know that there is more happening here than what I can see and thank God for that. Quite literally, because what I see is a certain perception. I see with blinder. I see just part of the picture. I know that there is more to the picture. I know that there is everything surrounding, but I don't see it.

Therefore, I surrender to that holy vision. In other words, I surrender to what surrounding what is the whole picture that only the Father can see and know.

It is often difficult because of old habit borne of many, many lifetimes and yet nothing comes up without your invitation. And if it comes up by your invitation you have the strength and the courage to deal with it. Nothing ever will be given to you that you do not have the strength and the courage and the love to deal with.

Now the ego will speak to you, "Oh my goodness, what if? I can't deal with that. Well you know, if this were to happen and that were to happen I would be devastated. I would be totally lost. I wouldn't know what to do." That is the ego speaking, the voice of separation.

And all of you have gone to the brink with that voice. All of you have gone to that brink where you have looked over into the great void and you have said, "Woe is me. I am going to be lost. Forever and eternally lost in the void." You know that is the great fear. There is a great fear attached to releasing the body, yes, because there is identification of being, beingness with the body. And yet that is not the greatest fear. The greatest fear is that you will be lost as a soul, as you call it, that you will be lost forever into the great void to the place where you can never be found or claimed again. That somehow your address and your telephone number would be lost to the Father and He would never be able to get you back again.

{Laughter}

That is the sense of separation and ego taken to the greatest extremes. That is the greatest fear, and yet it is a non-truth. For never can you be lost to the Father. The Father always knows where you are. Even when you will armor yourself in the greatest encasement of the greatest fear and feel yourself to be all alone in the void without a hope. Even then you are held in the love of the Father. It is the love of the Father that allows you even to pretend the script that you would be in the densest encasement lost in the greatest void. Otherwise you could not even experience that.

So when absolute terror comes upon you, breathe, and then recognize that you could not know that absolute terror if it were not for the love of the Father. Therefore, you cannot be lost to Him and if you cannot be lost to Him, you must be found.

What you speak of will know its unfoldment and its completion in time. There will be some of the speed bumps, some major ones, some smaller ones, but the desire is true and the intent is true and the allowance has almost been claimed. That is where the ego speaks most temptingly, is in the phase of the allowance for it will come up over and over again. "Have you really released this? Do you really allow?" It will come up over and over again with subtle differences and basically the same question. There will be holiness that will be known through this. Yes.

I have a question that's not quite emotional as everybody's. It's about the Hale-Bopp comet. I have a feeling there is the angelic real coming together and that it is a mothership.

That too.

Also I have heard that the ship is sending transmissions now. I don't know if I have it quite accurately but sending transmissions out to the world and giving them forewarning of their coming.

Always this is true. The ones that we have spoken of as being the brothers of space, outer space and inner space, always are in communication with you as you have the ears of the heart to hear them. Always they are sending transmissions for there is no separation even though you would within this point of focus, this reality, say that I am here and they are there and the dimensions are however close, they are still distinct and separate. In truth there is no separation and there is always transmission that is going on.

They great light that is now approaching your awareness is of the angelic realm, yes, because you are of the angelic real and you are calling it forth. You collectively as the one holy Child.

Much of beauty, much of experience, much of wonder you are bringing now to your awareness because you want to stand in awe of the power of creativity of the holy Child. So you will bring forth manifestation that allows you to stand humbly in the place of awe. First from the place of separation where you will say, "Wow. I don't understand this. This is beyond me." And then the light will slowly, or more rapidly down that, "Hey. I cannot be separate from this if I am experiencing this. I must have a part in this. Okay."

So yes, the great light that you are inviting to be within your awareness now, is of the angelic realm and yes, the light is accompanied, as we have spoken earlier, by ones who are in form of spaceships and you would now identify a spaceship to be, and the transmissions are very real and always, always happening.

You have known in what you call a far distant past, upon the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth the intermingling of the ones you call the space brothers and the ET's. They are aspects of you, aspects of the holy Child in manifest expression and you have worked with them in the building of what you now have still extent upon the face of your Holy Mother in some of the great stone formations that your scientists cannot quite explain.

Yes. Yes. Great formations where you have worked in concert with the brothers of inner and outer space in bringing forth energy in form such as you now still see. You know this at a very deep level. There is a remembrance that you work worked with these ones. Not only have you known experience where you felt the feet to be on this firmament but you have also known experience as the brother/sisters who came from another dimension as you now identify it to work with brothers and sisters who had point of focus and anchoring upon this plane.

You are not removed from the brothers and sisters of inner and outer space. You know experience as space brother, space sister. Both of inner and outer space. You enjoy the stories known as your science fiction. Why?

{Comment not clear}

Yes. You cannot bring forth something into the conscious awareness that you have not experienced. It would not have the place of relativity, understandability, computability, whatever, of meaning. You have experienced and this is not just limited to what you would see as past experience, and it is not limited to what you would see as future experience.

For if you will receive it, even as you see point of focus right now within this room, you feel very much focused with body here, you are experiencing upon the spaceship of inner and outer space. Being the one who is being telepathic, who knows how to beam me up. Who knows how to read all of the technology, who is great creative adventurer that knows how to be amongst your creations of the stars and to go as the warp speed through your creation.

The ideas that come forth in your science fiction, they are not foreign to you. They come and they tickle the remembrance. that is what they do. And you say, "Oh how wonderful. Future time." Well, future time, yes, pastime, and also present.

You will be bringing forth in this next six months of your timing, much of wonderment and in the next twelve months of your timing even more of wonderment. There is upon the horizon of your conscious awareness much that if we were to speak of it now would seem most strange and yet as you approach it, as you see the process of time to be, as you approach it, it will come with less and less foreignness. For indeed everything that comes into your experience comes by invitation as you are ready to invite it.

At a certain level, you are ready to invite grand awakening, grand wonderment. You stand upon the threshold ready to take flight into the seeming unknown and yet as you take flight the wings sprout. They will not sprout as you stand upon the threshold. They will not sprout as you stand upon the brink. But as you propel yourself forward into the unknown, the wings sprout. Yes.

I've had in the last month or so, I've had occasions where I felt I was in a room and I was listening to a conversation ... or whatever, but I'm also here and involved and talking to someone else.

This is very true. What you are allowing in your conscious awareness now, is a very very thin veil between what you would call dimensions of reality. All of you so gathered in this room have experienced a feeling of being here and being somewhere else and you have said, "What is happening? Oh my goodness. I'm losing my mind." And in truth you are.

{Laughter}

You are losing the narrow confines of what you have felt reality to be. You are expanding into more of the claiming of the grand Self and in the days to come you will have more and more of these experiences where there will not be an unsettling. When it first happens, because of the certain very close identification with what you feel reality to be, there is an unsettling. That says, "Oh my goodness, this can't be true. What is happening? Oh, I have to get back to what is known to be reality." But in the days to come, right now very much in process, you are going to flit from place to place and reality to reality, moment by moment and yet not lose the anchoring within this plane because you have agreed this is where you are going to do major focus. So you will not lose that. But you will know more and more of the flight as you do now with your creative imagination. As you do now with the dreaming. Not the nighttime dreaming although it happens then. Very definitely happens then, but with the daydreaming when you allow yourself the moment or so of saying, "What can be. It doesn't have to be the way it has been taught to me. But what can be?" And you go on this flight into what seems to be uncharted territory and yet you are charting it momentarily as you go, because you have been the explorers. Many, many times you have gone into new territory both in physical reality and within the mental understanding of the mind. You are a great explorer. You want to know what is beyond what others take to be reality. What others have said has to be.

That is why you have chosen certain companions known as parents. Not by accident although sometimes you feel, "Oh my goodness. How did this happen?" They are as wonderful gifts to you as you are a wonderful gift to them, for you allow the expansion, each one of you, the expansion of what can be experienced. For as you go into what seems to be the uncharted territory, they will say, "Well you know. You really can't be doing that. There is a certain set understanding of what you should be experiencing within a time frame." And you say, "Why yes, I'm sure that's true but no, there is something beyond that."

And the parents, my goodness, heaven help all of us, once in while they do that and you say, "What is wrong with them? Don't they know how they should behave?" Well they have thrown the "should" out the window and they have begun to claim what you know very well, as the freedom of being and you see them as being a bit eccentric and they are. And it is wonderful. Great time of adventure. Yes.

I'd like to ... in my life. For the past three or four months what I have been experiencing in my meditations, what I call ..., for communication, what I call the Father. I'm having a hard time assimilating this experience over the last being in that state of consciousness and then going into the everyday life, into the bills and all of that stuff you do that we seemingly have to do just to survive. I'm just having a hard doing that.

Yes. Beloved one, allow yourself to be at peace with it meantime. This is very much by divine process, by collective divine process. You and the brothers and sisters so gathered here and also far flung as well, have agreed that you will be bridge people, that you will know Reality -- with a capital "R". You will remember it and that you will bring a portion of that into manifest expression and experience.

In time it will not seem to be so separate, because you have agreed not alone, but in concert with others who are also feeling the awakening, you have agreed that you will bring the Reality -- with a capital "R" -- of your being into this reality and know it in all activities and all waking moments and even in what you see as the repose of allowing the physical body rest.

I will digress for half a minute here. And say to you that in what you see as a short enough time, the belief of the necessity for eight of hours of sleep, of vacating the reality will no longer be held. That belief is undergoing change. Where you will allow the body yes, its repose but at the same "time" and I use that word advisedly, you will know much of journeying and much of interaction on other planes.

So the body yes, you will allow it to be at peace, to restore its balance, but you will know yourself to be much aware of other dimensions, other work, other places you will be.

But getting back to the question you have asked, this is very much in the process that you have collectively decreed will happen in this time. It feels unsettling because you want to bring that reality of peace, of enlightenment, of expansion, of harmony, of oneness into this very specific focus of reality.

Do not judge self. You are very much doing as you have decreed you will do. There is an exquisiteness of timing again at work with this. All of you so gathered in this room have felt an impatience. You have felt, "I want to know heaven now. I desire it. I intend to feel it. I will allow it to happen and why isn't it here yet?"

Okay. It is coming but there is a certain belief in process that you have agreed upon that seems to be gradual, slow, p-r-o-c-e-s-s of t i m e. "Father why can't I have it now? I want it now." Yes. What you are doing is most necessary. In other words, spending time knowing the window of reality. That is most beneficial. Do not judge self that it cannot be brought into all of time yet. Congratulate self for what you do allow and know that it is part of the divine plan, we will call it, because you have agreed, all of you as divinity, have agreed that there will be an outworking within the understanding of time. And within the understanding of time you will see the bridging of this where the bridge will no longer be necessary.

Be at peace with self. You are the Father's servant. You are doing it very well. I thank you for that.

I have two very different questions. One is since I got to the islands,... be thumping and I want to know, who is that? And what's that?

It is for you a certain mode of communication. There is energy that is wanting to be acknowledged. Energy that you have known and would identify as being, beingness. In other lifetimes where you have consciously communicated with a being of light and of joy. You would identify, you would define it now, you would call it as a certain playfulness that is happening.

It is as you would be having the telephone that would ring, the knocking upon the door. Well you have said, "One of my ways of understanding communication is I will feel it right here, yes." And so the little ones that are very much alive and well and that you have played with in other lifetimes and have played with the idea of them in this lifetime, they are saying, "Yes, we are very much alive and real and will play with you."

It is not something that you have to worry about. In other words, I am not developing a certain malfunction of the body. Oh my goodness. No, it is not that at all. It is just an acknowledging of the presence of energy, playful energy.

That's why I put the question that way.... And the other question is, is there a connection between King Arthur and the Round Table and the Holy Grail and your Sananda with the Galactic Council in your time?

Whoa. Whoa.

Oh, this is a wonderful question. Full of complexities upon complexities upon complexity. The mind could get in with that one and have great, great fun. Great levels of separation and identification could it not?

In truth, beloved one, yes. The answer is simplicity. Simplicity itself. The enactment of the time of King Arthur and the Round Table and the Holy Grain, all of you so gathered in this room, finished the sentence for me.

We were there.

You were there. You know it well. Grand knight, two of them that sit upon the staircase. Rode out most handsomely upon the four footed companions. There is in this day and time a feeling of familiarity and love with the four footed ones of all different sizes.

All of you have lived in that lifetime and have known that enactment. All of you have known me as Sananda. All of you have known me as Jeshua. All of you have known the lifetimes of spaceship where the commander of great great intelligence and spiritual wisdom was called by the appellation of Sananda. We speak here as it would be in past tense, and it is present and it is future tense as well. So the mind can have great fun with this and can break it into many levels of complexity and say in past history which was I know a long time ago, it had to be a truth and in future time, great levels of complexity of truth. I cannot wait to experience it. Well you already have. You are already in it. Great complexity. Such fun to play with and yet the answer itself is simplicity itself.

Of course there is relationship of oneness. I have great fun with all of it. I come and I speak with you in this manner because you allow it. I come and I speak with you under the name of Sananda because you and others allow it and you call it forth because of that name, it means something to you. I come and I speak with you as King Arthur when you read of the tales of that time. And I speak with you and I say, "Remember holy Child, who you are. Remember the great adventuring. Come alive in that remembrance and ascend with me once again into the power of remembrance of awakening."

I come and I speak with you anytime, anywhere you allow a crack in the door or even a small crack in the window to be opened. I speak with you through the voice of the brothers and sisters that you meet quite accidentally as it would be, happenstance. I will be sitting in your mall and you pass my by. You feel a certain presence and you wonder what was that all about? And then you go immediately back to the shopping list.

{Laughter}

And you say, "I must get this for so and so. And I must get home at certain time." But there has been a connection that has been felt. A certain presence. I sit with you in your restaurants. I sit at table just across from you. I dine with you. I enjoy the food. I enjoy the company and sometimes the eyes will meet and sometimes the heart knows.

Other times you are about the business of completion and you will feel a certain energy that allows you to get on with what you need to get on with. Other times you will feel a certain heaviness perhaps, and even though the mind and the soul could be heavy, there is a knowing deep within that there is an energy, a presence that will see you through all of it and I am with you and I speak with you through the voice of the wind, the beauty of the flower, of the trees, of the birds that sing. I speak with you even when the rump is sore. Yes.

Getting back to the Hale-Bopp at the moment, there are those who say that there is a ... Hale-Bopp will strike the earth.... What is the truth of this?

Ah, beloved one, grand question. There is a truth -- with a small "t" -- that some of the brothers and sisters will experience and live where there will be catastrophe. There is also a truth -- with a small "t" -- accepted by more of the collective agreement, that this will not happen. There is understanding and knowing that already you know of what will happen, but even as you acknowledge that you know what is going to happen, there is a bit of the ego that loves drama and says, "Oh my goodness. Well what if? Gee, some of the scientists are saying, I've read somewhere there's a possibility that could happen and I want to play with that possibility for a moment or so and see what that avenue looks like. And I'll even go down that avenue of possibility far enough that perhaps it could be a probability. I wonder how that feels? Oh my goodness. I'd have to face releasing the body wouldn't I? Well I guess I could do that. I hope it's not painful. And Jeshua, will you be there to take me in your arms and ascend me in that moment?" Of course. Of course.

You desire adventure. You desire some fear. You like to be titillated with some fear. Why? It allows you to feel more and more alive. It allows a quickening of energy and you want to know an acceleration and a quickening of energy. You want to know ascension in truth. And if you don't quite yet claim the ascension in a certain manner, you say, "Okay, I'll play with the fear, because it allows me some ascension. I have to get my little tail moving," literally and figuratively, and see what this is all about.

So you play with the "what if's" because they are fun to play with. Deep down you know, you have already scripted the reality that you are going to be experiencing. But there are some of the brothers and sisters who pass you. In other words, you will pass them. You will walk right through them. Their reality is as real as this reality is for you. And their reality is going to have certain ingredients in it where they will know great fear and great releasement of the body, great wonderment. All to the glory of God. Great master that each one is.

So I could ask of you the answer to that question because you know it already.

I think there is a divine plane where everything is going to happen is going to happen.

Exactly. It is all about the awakening. Some have chose awakening in a certain form that will be most, well coming out of the nightmare and you wake up and you say, "Oh my God. Thank goodness that's over." Others will have the gentle awakening where you come to the remembrance of who you are in gentleness in love. As you awaken some morning quite gently slipping out of the dream state easily.

The days and times that you are bringing forth now are full of great wonderment. You will be experiencing in the next twenty years of your timing, much that cannot even be imagined yet. And yet you know it at a certain level of being. You know that there is much that is happening and part of you cannot wait to see it manifest. And the other part of you says, "Well, I still believe in the process of time. Therefore I will accept the process."

And that is divine process. It is not in judgment. Do not judge yourselves as lacking because you are doing what seems to be gradual. Know you it takes more courage and more strength to live with patience than it does to immediately propel yourself into the next dimension.

You have all experienced going into what seemed to be another dimension immediately. You have had lifetimes where you have propelled yourself instantly into another dimension to the place where you have felt yourself out of control and the brothers and sisters have judged you to be out of this world, insane. Did not know how to deal with you.

This time you have said, "I may not like the slowness of process, but I will accept the game plan as I have scripted it." The next twenty years that you have scripted are ones of great change, great enlightenment as you take back the remembrance of the light that you are. Great technological changes, yes, but more than that, the great changes within where you connect with the aspects of yourself in inner space and outer space. A great time. The turning of an age, again.

For you all have lived through, you have facilitated, you have been willing to come and turn the age over and over and over again and you have said, "Because of the grand courage I will assume the collective consciousness which in this point of focus is forgetfulness. I will assume the collective consciousness in order to be of service to the Father and to the brothers and sisters."

Now, you have ushered in new consciousness, new ages in other dimensions where you have agreed to play the script and the game plan of what the collective consciousness is within those realities, and to allow the movement...{end of tape} in that dimension as you understand dimensions to be.

Do you see how wonderful you are? We speak of specific focus within this reality and yet you can comprehend that there is much more beyond this reality. You can understand and applaud yourself for what you do within this dimension of reality, and yet you know that you also live and move and have your being in infinite realities where you are also about the Father's business.

You have all ushered in new ages within this point of reality, this dimension and within other dimensions that the specifics of which are unknown to you, beyond concept that is understood right now where we are speaking. And yet as I say those words, there is an understanding that says, "Okay. Hmm, I can live with that."

Well yes, you can live with that. You are doing it.

Now, the hour is growing a bit late. Is there one question that needs to be addressed? I see two fingers, what is this? Yes.

...at Vail, about issues about my health and it was ... the reason that things are ... one more issue to be addressed. At that time I had no idea what that issue was, but oh I really do now. What I am asking is it's a grand issue, the biggest one I think each and everyone of us has to deal with. I want to know soon, this week.

What you are dealing with is similar to the beloved brother who knows the space of reality and would like to bring that into the experience and manifestation right here, right now. Indeed the issue that you are dealing with is the most important issue. It is the underlying one, the bottom line, as it is called yes.

In truth, you are doing very well with this. In the process of the gradualness of time which you rail against and is most understandable. You know, deep within your being, instantaneous health of body. You know holiness even manifest in the body.

Now, why isn't it happening Jeshua? Because there is an agreement of the gradualness of process where you have said, out of great courage, "I will come and live the collective reality even though I know better. I know beyond it, I will come and live the collective reality. And I will complain about it."

Oh yes.

"But I will live it because I will see the divine unfoldment that is happening." You are doing very well with this. It is not an easy burden. It is truly a burden.

It is a strange gift in a very strange way.

Yes. And it does not keep you from experiencing the heart's desire. There are others, beloved one, of lessor courage and determination than you who would have given up long ago and who would have said, "I am confined to this small space of reality," known as the home. "I cannot travel. I cannot go. I want to go, but I cannot." You have said, "I want to go and I'm going." Great courage.

What you desire to experience is within the divine being plan. In other words, it's going to happen. It is similar to what we have spoken with the beloved brother. You are bridging, you know holiness of mind, spirit and body. It is not yet manifest to the place where you would like it to be but it is happening. For that you may give great thanks and rejoice.

So much, places to be with you....

But you do not have time to deal with limitation. And you are not giving into limitation which is grand and neither is the mate.

That's true.

You are greatly to be honored. You and the mate for what you do and for what you can see, the vision that you hold. You are doing very well with it.

Thank you.

Now, the second finger that we saw back here. We will deal with that.

...something about prayer ...going to be at night?

Yes. It was not given as a magic ritual. In other words, if you don't remember the words that does not matter. In truth you do remember in the heart. When you place the head upon the pillow, allow yourself to connect with the Christ. Connect with me, yes, speak with me, love me as I love you, and then connect with the Christ of your being and love yourself as I love you. Say, "This evening now, as I lay my head upon the pillow, I lay the head of the Christ upon this pillow in perfect peace and perfect love."

Now you do not need to use those words. Words of themselves contain no magic, but the words of the heart, that is where the magic abides, the knowing of the holiness that you have gifted me in this evening.

It has been a holy evening. It has been a grand time of celebration and of beauty. Behold the beauty of this one. You smile in shyness. You have often been the beautiful one of the court. You do it again. Grand radiance.

All of you have been the favored ones of the court. All of you in this moment are the favored ones of the Father. It cannot be otherwise and even if you would look in the mirror and you would say, "Oh my goodness. There is a blemish here and the nose is too big. The ears are on crooked." Whatever, you are the most beautiful ones in the Father's eyes. Grand radiance. Yes, it is a cause for celebration.

It has been a grand evening to abide with you in this manner. I thank you all for the holiness that you have brought in awareness to this gathering. I rejoice with you. For in truth that is what it is all about. I honor you for the places you have taken symbolically, and the heights. Know you there is no accident? Grand holy Child of the Father.

Go you now in peace. Go you now in love. Lay the head of the Christ upon the pillow and know that forever you are loved of the Father.

So be it.
