Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light divine, that is who you are and who I am as well. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph, Yeshua, Son of Yoseph, and you knew me well. Jesus, you have called me in other lifetimes, and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen by the very vibrations of love to call me forth. Do you not feel the vibration in this room? Does it not linger even after you have seemingly stopped the voice?

Know you how powerful you are. You are the power of vibration and you are touching that place of power more and more in your remembrance of the holy Child who plays and moves and lives and has its being in expression and experience even upon this plane, and grand it is, is it not?

As all of have been able to loose the baggage, to release it, to loose the identification with small self and go into the vibratory rate which is your own, all of you have touched that in this evening. You have felt a oneness beyond what the world knows. The world knows only baggage, constriction, shoulds, judgments, have to's, and schedules, but the holy Child knows everything beyond that and that is what this evening is about. It is about the joy of vibration, the joy of oneness, the joy of fellowship in that oneness.

For indeed, as you let go of all of the seemingly separate personalities that you came in with and you let go of judgment, of voice, "Am I doing it right? Heaven's do you think someone's listening to me? Am I making the right tone, the right volume? Did I remember to close my mouth? Oh, I have to breathe." Yes, remember to breathe.

But as you got past that and allowed yourself to blend in with the vibration, there was the knowing of true fellowship, the fellowship of the Christ, and that is what this week is all about. That is what this gathering is all about and that is what you are taking home with you.

For as you have spoken, there will be much of gifting, much of treasure that you will take with you when you return once again to what you feel is the old routine and place of dwelling, and yet you will see it with new eyes because you have had the courage to say, "I will allow it to be at rest for awhile and I will try something new."

And we have spoken how the mind has come up with all kinds of reasons why this could not be, why you should not spend the golden coins on yourself, why there are so many responsibilities that have to be taken care of at home, and yet there has been a feeling that, "I want to, I must be in fellowship with the Christ." So here you are.

And I will make a prophecy, a prediction and you may fulfill it for me. A prediction that when you return home you will see it anew. There will be things about even the dwelling place, the structure, what you call your house that will look different to you. The relationships will look a bit different because you have allowed yourself to come to this week of fellowship, this week of remembering the oneness and following all different techniques, avenues, to come to the place of not just speaking about oneness, but experiencing it. For we can stand here and we can talk lifetimes about what it means to be the Christ, what it means to be one with the Father. Wonderful, beautiful words all in concepts and yet when you would walk away from that gathering and that conversation, you would be no different in experience than you were when you came to that conversation.

But as you allow yourself the various avenues that touch beyond words, you come to the place of remembrance that is beyond the world.

Many, many lifetimes you have perfected techniques of experience that will take you beyond the complexities of the mind, beyond all of the arguments, theological discussions about the rightness of certain philosophies and concepts, how many angels will dance on the head of a pin, depending of course on the size of the pin. You even got into discussing that. Well how do you define a certain space? And the energy that would be taken up within a certain space? And how does the energy interact with all of the angelic energy that would be in that space? And is there truly space? And what does energy do in space? Grand discussions.

But in the last few moments of allowing yourself to experience oneness, to experience the vibrations, you left the concepts behind and for a moment or so you found yourself immersed in the sea of beingness, the sea of vibration and found a new way of looking, of understanding the holy Child.

Well I understand that this evening is going to be one of informalities, so therefore I will not keep on speaking in this manner, but I will allow you to be the teachers. For indeed every question that comes forth is your question, yes, but it is also the question of the other brothers and sisters for as we have spoken many, many times there is no separation.

And as you have heard one voicing a question and you have said, "You know, that's something I've wondered about too, but I wasn't going to quite ask that or I hadn't quite formulated it yet. But I have wanted to know that." There is no separation. Each one of you is teacher one to another. Each one of you is the Christ awakening. Each one of you serves all of the fellowship.

So in this evening we will have the questions and I may even turn it back to you to find the answers. We shall see. First of all though, I shall perhaps make myself comfortable. Yes. Now, who would like to ask? Yes.

... is talking about the number of planets that are in Aquarius, and I would just like you speak about that...?

Ah, I will ask you, how is it affecting you? Have you felt anything?

Well I could be better....

Indeed, there is much that is changing because you have decreed that there will be changes. Now, the science as you call it, of astrology is a wonderful complexity. It is a way of bringing concepts into relationship with other concepts. Perhaps we walk around tonight.

In truth, the stars that you speak of who creates them? You do. Yes. You bring them forth in your awareness. You give them value and meaning as they come into certain alignment, who interprets what the alignment means? You do. It is a way, a language of understanding what is going on within the holy Child. And as there is yet the tendency to believe first of all what is out there as proof, this is what you do with various evidences and the science of astrology is one.

You bring up certain concepts, certain evidences. You say, "Now are the certain planets and stars in conjunction or in alignment and this means that there is powerful energy being directed this way." Now, is that true?

If you make it true.

Yes, it is very much true -- with a small "t". And you may use that energy, please do, to awaken. There is much that is happening now because you are in a very rapid propulsion of yourself to the place of awakening, the place of at-one-ment where you say, "I am awake. I know who I am and I celebrate that because good heavens, all of the illusions I've had about myself, that is what they have been."

So you are calling forth much of energy that you will be using, but is this energy separate from you? It cannot be. Cannot be. So on the one hand you will see evidence as being out there somewhere and there are beautiful diagrams of what is happening. There is motion and there is interpretation of that motion.

I will put it to you that there could be the beautiful diagram, the picture that is drawn of the certain alignment and conjunction and there is interpretation that you understand in this point of focus and this collective intelligence.

But you could take that diagram and that chart and you could show it to someone halfway across, around the face of the Holy Mother and they would see something else in it. Would they be wrong? No, because they would be calling forth their own truth. And basic bottom line, that truth would be the same as yours, the awakening.

It is not by accident that you chose this nine, ten days to be together here in this location. It is a sacred time. It is a powerful time. The diagrams that you draw, the motion that you interpret has suggested to you a boost, a charge in what you want to do, the heart's desire that we spoke of previously. So it is not by accident that you in your divine wisdom chose these ten days to be together.

Now, in Truth -- with a capital "T" -- are these ten days any more special than any other ten days? No, for everyday is a holy day as you remember to take your holiness into the experience of that day.

So to answer your question, yes. Much of importance, much of value, much of change now brought about because and by the conjunction of the bodies that you have brought into created form, but because of where you are.

And as we have said, it is yet the habit to look outside for the proof of what is truly happening within. But even that is undergoing shift. Does that answer your question? Yes.

There are those who believe that there is going to be a mass UFO landing prior to the earth's entry into the Photon Belt and their purpose for coming is to offer assistance and comfort through that time. What is the truth of this?

Beloved brother, I would ask you, what is the proof of this?

I know what I believe, but that may not be the same as everyone else believes.

That is okay. Yes. You have answered well. Your truth is your truth -- with a small "t" -- and yes, there will be a massive UFO landing of brothers who are watching over the evolvment, the evolution of this planet who will assist those who have not yet claimed and acknowledged their own power to do it for themselves.

But there is also the truth -- with a small "t" -- that many of the brothers and sisters will not see a massive UFO landing and will not feel that they need extra help to deal with anything and miracle of miracles, they will deal very well with whatever comes down or goes up.

We have spoken of the many versions of truth -- with a small "t". Each version is true. Each version is valuable and serves the atonement. There are some who will see a massive UFO landing, not just one, many, and will be in fear and it will be the fear that propels them into the next experience.

Others, because they are desiring to know more aspect of themselves -- capital "S" -- and want to meet the space brothers and sisters, will desire this and welcome and look for it and it will happen for them.

Others who are doing completion with many other issues, this will not come into their awareness at all and they will be doing what they have divinely decreed is their next step in the atonement.

As to the Photon Belt, again great concept. Is it true? Yes, it is true -- with a small "t". It is part of the adventure and there are some that are going to feel an upheaval with it and are going to find their technology not working that are going to be in fear because it has changed the world that they have known and they are going to run to all of their securities and authority figures and want to know what to do.

Others will experience the Photon Belt and see it as a great blessing, a welcoming of light and will harness that experience of light for the atonement and awakening that they are on. Others will not even recognize the concept or the word. There are brothers and sisters that you know who live in most beautiful settings that you would call primitive, I will call most natural who have no need of experiencing Photon Belt or any seeming concept such as that, who will come through all that you will think to be true and they just see the brilliance of the sun everyday, the warmth of the sun and the crops growing and the small children growing in wisdom and stature. So who is right? All are right.

But there has been much written lately about Photon Belt, about changes. You have brought that forth because you have wanted to expand the mind and to play with possibilities of what can be beyond just what I see in front of my nose? What else is there? Oh, I'll play with this idea. Hey, and if this idea is true, then what will it mean in terms of," and then you have another book coming out. And it is great. It is fun.

Remember throughout all of the concepts, and all of the speakings and all of the writings that you read, remember who calls it forth. Remember who is creating everything that you experience and remember to call it good.

Now, when I use the word such as "good". It is not in judgment as you believe here in this plane in duality of good and evil, better than, less than. When I use the term "good" it is interchangeable with holy. Wholeness. One. Not in a judgment, but to remember to call it whole, perfect, divine.

Is there another question? Yes.

The four of us went up to Haleakula at dawn.

Yes, grand experience.

Well it was a grand adventure. It was interesting for me because I ended up taking us up the mountain and it was predawn and I don't see well. I'm weaving my way up this mountain and we got to the top and it's like, oh well, she led us up the mountain and this is really strange that I'm doing this. And then we went down into the crater and had to take, mostly crawled all over that mountain and I had some real strong feelings about how sacred it was, how the people had to prepare to go up there. Perhaps they wore feathered coats and things because it was so cold, that nothing was mentioned about that in the literature. They had these circles, they were only about this high that they said the people made for shelter and I thought that was ridiculous, because they weren't high enough for shelter that they were obviously something to do with ceremony.

Yes.

And and it seemed to me some of poignant that the four of were doing that, could you talk about that?

You have already discerned that this is not the first time you have laid the physical eyes upon this location or walked it with the feet. Your sight beloved one, is excellent, the sight of the heart and the insight. Many times you have been the priest that did lead the other ones to this place. What was coming for you were remembrances of lifetimes you have lived and celebrated and also experienced sorrow.

You have known that sacred area many, many times. It has been part of your journey in what you call this lifetime, to go back and reconnect with it and allow those memories to come up. Feathered coats, yes, of course you can see them in the mind's eye. You can remember. You could describe them in detail. You wore beautiful feathered coats, ceremonial robes they would be called now. Yes, to keep you warm and yes, as part of the beauty and wonder of being in such a place. You have done this.

It was important for you to come at that time because that was a time that you have been there for ritual in many other times, of lifetime, not this lifetime, other lifetimes. So it was not by accident that you felt a very strong calling to do this and it is not by accident that the companions were with you, for they are ones who have often been with you in the adventure of rediscovery and remembrance and in the teaching to the brothers and sisters in their remembrance.

So you have often been as the four musketeers? You have often adventured together in the journey. So what you experienced was a very, very strong memory and as there is -- in truth -- no separation even in time, it came very powerfully to you, although you would call it another time and I have used that wording because it is wording that you understand. But in truth, as you had the memories you were living what seemed to be, that is experienced.

We have often said, that in truth, for you are not just having experience right in this evening right in this room. You are having experience in what you would identify as past and future. And what comes to you in a very strong memory, in truth, you are doing it right at that time because there is no separation even in time. But there is a great propensity to believe in linear time and in compartments of time and to block them off and to say, "This is a lifetime and this a another lifetime. This is a day. This is whatever." But you have seen. What happens to the day? The light changes a bit but in truth, the day does not end. It moves into the next cycle of the day that is ongoing. It is only your arbitrary measurement that says that day is from a certain point on the face of the clock or the read out of the digital and you say, "Well, we are into a new day." Same as you do with the new year. You have all moved into a new year and you have said, "Hm, doesn't feel any different."

Remember as a child you wondered about, "Well what's the specialness of the new year?" You wanted to celebrate it because all of the older ones were celebrating and this had to be something wonderful. But it is arbitrary reckoning. Yes, your seasons do change and that is how you reckon the completion of a year. But the year is not finite. It is not contained. In other words, there is not just one year and okay it's all finished and you put it off in the box somewhere. You carry all of that forward into the next year.

So what you were experiencing beloved one, was yes, a seeming memory and we have spoken of it in that way, but also you were very much present doing what you were remembering that you were doing. And if any of you want to sit and delve into a memory, you can do that. Allow it to come forth. Allow it to play as you see certain video to play in front of you.

What were you doing in 1782? How were you dressed? What family did you have? Was this the mate then?

No, I don't think so.

No, but you knew this one. This is not the first time of meeting this one.

Oh I know that.

Of course you know that.

This isn't the first time of meeting any of these people.

And that is very true. But as you would have interest to have clarity about what seems to be a memory of other life. You can sit with it and ask it to come forth and there will be the visual, you will see it as a video. You will have pictures. You will even have the sense of what it smells like, certain tastes of what was cooked. Even what the climate was like. How you were dressed. What the other ones that you were sharing experience with, what they looked like and even who they are.

Sometimes you will meet ones in what seems to be this lifetime and you know you know them and they will say, "Well, my name is Jane in this lifetime," and you will say, "No, your name is Esther," or whatever, and you try to call them Jane, her Jane, and it doesn't quite fit and you know that you have known this one by another name in another time and yet that time is happening right then. Yes.

May I ask a question then?

Yes.

What about memories or situations that we don't want to keep playing? Can we change them if it keeps coming back, can we change that memory at that time and then will it change?

Yes. Memories will come back until you see them. We are talking here of what would be traumatic or unpleasant, painful ones, yes. They will keep coming back until you see the holiness of them, see the whole vision of what was truly happening. All of the threads. With memories that are of painful nature, and you really don't want to re-live them and you wish they had never been, okay, you are but one thread in all of the picture, the vision of what was happening then.

Holy vision allows you to see how all of the threads of all of the people involved, how they have been woven together interacting in the divine plan that has brought you to this place in the awakening. When that revelation occurs, it changes what seemingly happened in the past but is truly happening in the present for it cannot, in truth, it cannot happen anywhere except in the present. Even in what you would call the past, when you were, we use the past tense to speak about this, when you were having that experience, that was the present, always it is the present.

So yes, it will transform what seemingly happened and is happening. It boggles the mind in this point of focus because the mind is very much into specific focus and into compartmentalization, doing the boxes. This is who I am. This is where I am. This is what is going on for me now, and yes, I know that I have a history in this lifetime because I remember being a small child and growing up somewhere and I remember the parents and so forth.

This point of focus is circumscribed by certain collective agreement that it will be limited, that it will be finite. And yet the adventure of the holy Child, it is still finite but it approaches seemingly in the understanding of this point of focus, infinity.

Now in Truth, it is not infinite. The adventure of the holy Child, you have brought into being with your thought and with your thought you will also know a closure of it. But in this particular point of focus there is belief that experience within the adventure is infinite, because it seems like many.

When ones of simplistic nature want to express the concept many, they use this {Holding up two hands} You see. I count all of these. There is this many and more. It is infinite. You are doing the same thing. There is this lifetime and I know I have had other lifetimes. I know there has been an adventure and it's so much more, it's infinite. Well in Truth, it is not infinite. It is still finite but you play with it and that is good. You play with the idea that it could be infinite and that allows you a bit of a thread to hold on to Reality -- with a capital "R". In other words, there is something beyond just this. Yes, you are welcome.

Along the same line, I have read or heard that at the time I am expressing this physical body I am also expressing on many, many different levels. And if I have been told that I have a spirit guide who is perhaps named something.

Yes.

I also am expressing in some dimension as perhaps some one else's spirit guide so they could be going to someone and getting a painting and the painting shows up to be me and the person says, "Yes, you have a spirit guide and her name is Joyce."

Yes, how wonderful. This is very true. Full of wonder. Yes. That is happening for as you would be focusing upon this reality -- with a small "r" -- and identifying as a certain personality and moving with a certain body and having certain activities, and you call upon what seems to be something beyond yourself and you identify that as a spirit guide, an angel, guardian angel, whatever name you want to call it, you are also serving in that capacity for many others in what you identify in this point of focus as being other dimensions.

You are very busy and you are unlimited. But you have practiced so well the specific point of focus it is quite a miracle what you do that you keep it so focused that you do not have a certain jumble of all of the dimensions and all of the experiences going on at the same time.

Now there are some of the brothers and sisters who are a bit more unfocused with it and you, collectively as brothers and sisters who have agreed that you will have very specific focus. You judge the other brothers and sisters to be a bit far out, weird, strange, do not fit in, they are having problems, whatever.

{Laughter}

But know you that in other experience of you, you are doing the same thing somewhere else and you are being looked upon by brothers and sisters of what you call other dimensions and they are saying, "That one is far out." Well they say that of you now anyway. You are not limited and you are not separate.

Jeshua, if this is really going on now, then there really isn't such a thing as reincarnation?

That is true.

There are multi-incarnations or is there...?

In Truth, there is but one.

One incarnation. Okay.

One holy Child, one adventure and one part of the adventure identifies itself as incarnating and within that one part that says, there will be the experience of incarnation, there is yet levels of incarnation called reincarnation. Do you see how complex it gets?

Yeah I think I do.

But in Truth, there is but one.

And that's really what Seth was touching on in his teaching?

Yes. And when you get tired of thinking about all of it, go back to the vibrations of the tone and just be at peace.

{Laughter}

Yes beloved one.

Where the heck are the unicorns?

Ah, this is for you to tell me. This moment they are just beyond the fingertips, just beyond what you call reality and yet they stand on the threshold of this reality waiting to be seen again in manifest form. You have known them well. You have called them forth. You have played with them. You have been the activating force of the unicorn form many, many times. You know the playful nature. You know the wisdom.

Even in time that is called Biblical, they existed, were believed in, were written about. The focus has changed in what you would see as the last two centuries, by divine design because there was a certain desire to know density, to know specificity and so things of more light nature, more playful nature were put on the shelf, so to speak.

They are very much here on this island. They are very much just beyond the corner of the eye. You can almost see them and sometimes you do see them. And sometimes you say, there is a shape. And you will say to others, "See." And they can almost. Keep believing. Keep calling them forth because they are part of the atonement. They are part of bringing back into your awareness all of the aspects of the expression of the holy Child. For you are not separate from them. It is an aspect of Self and you know them well.

But they are true?

They are as true as what you see this to be. They are as true as what you see your personality, your individuality to be. They are within the adventure. They are True - with a capital "T" -- as the, how to put this into the words? As the creative energy that you are. They are from the same one Source.

Then when?

That is for you to tell me. I see them. I play with them. I speak with them. I know them. I know other forms that you have yet to remember, but I will say to you that it is going to be very soon for you because it is a very strong desire.

Much of you already goes in a playful nature. You have a duality which is most common with all of the brothers and sisters, that you know the spirit of you, you know the playfulness of you and yet you also know the calling of the world to have a certain seriousness and a responsibility to the world. And you do well in trying to bridge the two of them. You do not like doing that. You would rather be done with the bridging and with the duality because in Truth you remember there is only oneness and there's no necessity for bridging, but there is yet within this point of focus belief that there is necessity for bridging.

Keep believing. It is very soon. This one knows well. It is not by accident that you are together. You have played together many, many times and you do so now even though there are other responsibilities and things of the world that need to be taken care of.

I told him that. I said, "You can kill me but you can't get rid of me."

{Laughter}

And in Truth, he would not want to. Yes.

Jeshua, today I saw one of the most marvelous things I have ever seen. Banyan trees, the largest in the world.

Oh yes.

It was a very spiritual experience.

Even older than me.

Well that has to be awesome, yes. Good heavens. In truth beloved one, it is not older than you.

Really.

Really. You are as old as the hills are you not?

{Laughter}

Very close to some of the oldest ones, Jeshua.

In truth, yes. But I have interrupted you.

Scott said he had to go see the tree and so we all did and my sister, Bobbi and I sat in its arms.

Yes.

I wanted desperately to be all by myself with that tree to speak to it. To ask it how it is? And ask it what message it has for me? But this was in the middle of the day with the world around and there is such a thing as this focus. Men with little white coats carting you off if you speak to the trees. And so, I mean I behaved myself then I left.

Oh, very good for you, yes.

I'm sure you know what the message was for me?

I know it and you know it. In truth, beloved one, you do not have to have the body next to the tree. You do not have to have it all alone. You may speak with it now or when you put the head upon the pillow in this evening. There is no separation and the tree, the vibrancy of the creative energy that you have called spiritual, is very much one with you.

And even if you would see yourself removed to the farthest place on the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth you could still commune with the tree.

Yes. Such a magnificent specimen.

Yes.

So beautiful and so proud.

Yes.

I must have been a tree.

Yes, you have known expression as a tree. Beautiful. Different kinds of trees because you have felt the power. Very slow power from the seedling, from even time even the tiny seed has burst open and has grown in the warmth of the sun and you have spread your branches and you have sheltered the unicorns and the other animals, mankind. You have been most protecting of them, loving. You have known that power. Speak to the tree in this evening when you put the head upon the pillow. You will receive an answer. Some of it in words. More of it in feelings. Yes.

I have a friend who has cancer. He says that he's worked through this, a lot of his stuff and he says he's not afraid to die but he doesn't want to leave his family. He says if you can just keep me alive, how do you handle that? That is not up to me.

In truth it is not up to you, but what you are being asked to do is to love this one and support him in his journey, his path. Allow this one to remember that never will

You have now the wonder of what is called the videos that you bring forth more and more of them showing that there is very much life after death, very much life after you have released the body. And as long as there is caring, as long as there is identification with loved ones that have been within the circle, there will be the energy of love still remaining even though the body may be somewhere else.

What is coming now is a knowing and a remembrance of communication and communion beyond the body. That is truly what is at work here. For there has been in your belief so long, that when the body is laid down, that is the cut off of being in communication with that loved one and that the love is then taken away. The lifeless body has been seen as going somewhere and the love that has been back and forth, exchanged and known, seemingly has gone with that lifeless body. Well in truth, of course, it does not. And what you collectively are about is knowing and remembering once again, the communion as you know with ones who have laid down the body. You feel their presence. You know very well they are with you that they care about you, they really are even involved in wanting to be with you through the daily activities.

You would say, "Well, once the body is released I'm sure they have much better things to do than to care whether I'm happy or whether I'm going to the supermarket or whatever. When the body is released there is releasement of specific identification and focus, limited with what is happening right here and with personality. And there is an awareness that expands to understand and to take in more than what you do right now. We have spoken of this very specific focus of this reality.

So there is an expansion that happens where they know that they can be with you. They can be with other loved ones who have passed on, as you call it, in previous times. They can go to your concept of higher learning, halls of learning. They can be there in an instant with thought. Can be with you in an instant, by thought and they know that there is not the slowness of time and there is not the limitation of time.

So reassure this one, again allow him to remember that when he chooses to release the body, he will not cease knowing what is happening with the family. He will see the small ones growing up. He will care. He will give advice. He will give guidance that they will in time come to understand the trust and that he is very much the teacher, the one who goes out first, the scout. You have many scouts who are going out first into what seems to be new areas of remembrance. And allow this one to know that when he chooses to release the body, I will be there with him. Yes.

First off, I would really like to thank you for all of the guidance of bringing the heart family back together again.

It is wonderful, is it not? But you need not thank me beloved one, it is you. You as the family that have decreed that it is time now to go and have a grand reunion and celebrate. For in truth, what you have done is completion with many other issues that took your focus, other things that had to be in your decision, your feeling, had to be completed. In truth it did not, but that was the understanding. And now you have said,

"Hey, I've done all of that stuff. I desire now to reunite in the heart. I want to see my brothers and sisters. I want to play with them. I want to shower myself with what I deserve. All of the beauty of this island and the love." So yes.

On Friday evening here, it's sort of hard to describe but I had the strongest feeling. And after thinking about it a little bit later that being here on the islands, like a volcano was about to explode but I didn't physically experience it. It was an awesome feeling. Most unusual.

In truth that is happening within all of you. We spoke of this the other evening, that there are many changes that you are allowing on the inner and you will relate to it such as a volcano. Much that has been held down because there was seeming necessity to focus on other things and not to allow all of this to happen. For some of you it will be most dramatic. You will feel almost as the lid is being blown off and the heart is opening once again. The chakras, as you call them, coming into great energy. Others will experience this on a more gradual delicate way, but it will happen with all of you. Even over what you see as the next six months to twelve months of your timing. You will look back at this time and things that done seem even in your awareness now, or if they are, they are not very important, will come back to mind and will shed new light on experiences you will have in the next six to twelve months. You will see everything anew.

But yes, the energy that is happening here is very much as a volcano. For you have felt many, many lifetimes that there was energy and you used that energy for completion, experiencing, doing the various scripts that we talked about, and now it is opening up to the place where the holy Child is coming into the celebration and the joy blowing the lid off of all of the constrictions.

This morning when we were doing the tai chi, feeling the energy in the hand. It was an awesome experience also.

Yes. For in truth, we have spoken of this other times, of the energy points, the chakras, as they are called, there are more of course than just the main ones, very much energy points. The wrists as well.

Know you, I will digress for just a moment. Know you that in other times you were so sensitive to the energy vortices, the chakras and you could use the energy as you now see technology of laser to be. Yes, you would point the hand, the arm and the light would be as powerful what you understand laser to be now.

It's interesting, about nine years ago I fell and broke both wrists.

Yes, and what you were doing you were realigning and breaking up old armoring of memories that do not have to come into conscious awareness of other times. So that when there was this remembrance of the energy of the whole body and how it could direct it in focus, very powerful directive.

When you took a brother or sister and wanted to make them subservient to you, what did you do? You placed upon the slave the metal bracelet, also around the energy point of the ankles. It was not just to restrain, but the slaves were identified by the metal of the bracelet and it also had the effect of stopping the flow of the power of those energy points.

Now, you have transformed that where you will wear a bracelet for the beauty of it, not hindering energy. But you wear the bracelet to remind you of what you have known and experienced other times, but you have transformed it.

See how wonderful you are?

You were talking about that energy of the laser, this is what used in the Philippines with the healers there, is it?

Not exactly.

Alright.

There is a healing that comes forth because of the knowing of oneness and the directive that knows that the body truly is an energy field. That even what you see as solid form is not solid in truth. And one because of their understanding and remembrance of energy fields, can reach into any part of the body, rearrange, balance, do what needs to be done even on what you would identify, yes, take out, as physical form. That is the most obvious thing that is done.

More often what is done is a balancing of the energy flow and that does not have to be quite so invasive or even dramatic. But it is done because there is an understanding of the oneness of all energy. The energy of this one and this one and this one, does not stop. Your energy does not stop right there. Your energy spreads out in truth, it fills this room, it fills the hills, it fills the cosmos and beyond.

What is brought into play is the understanding and remembrance that there is no separation.

Well that must be affected by the patient because I know of different ones who have been, have tumors removed and I think oftentimes when your healers walked the earth and they would heal but the healing would not last because the victim....

There is no victim.

Well, couldn't believe that he could go on without it. Is that the way it is?

Yes. Yes, because there would be the temporary balancing. You have this even now, where you have a certain energy alignment, where you have the alignment of the form with, you call it the chiropractic, yes, and it may last for a minute, a half hour, a day, a week, whatever, and you go back into an old pattern of how to hold the body and then you wonder why, why the body feels a certain way.

It seems a little different thought than growing another tumor?

It is no different in truth.

But it seems like it would be?

Yes, it may seem that way but it is no different.

I have another question. It isn't a question but I have a real longing to talk to you about it so I'm going to.

Yes.

I have a picture of myself when I was about a year old. It is right beside the doorjamb going in and out of my bedroom and it's been.... the first time I was aware of it and it was just like she was calling to me and I didn't know what to say. You want me?

That is a good answer, yes.

And now as it has gone one, I realized that she is saying two things: remember me? And can we play now?

Yes, and that is what she is saying.

And it was all said with the eyes. Nothing else moved but her eyes do.

Yes. In truth....

Well how can I make sure. Come on....

You are already doing that by your choice to come to this gathering, by your choice to do other things that acknowledge the holy Child and what is termed now in your understanding, the inner child. To acknowledge first of all that yes, she exists. She is alive and well. She did not finish with the one year and that was the end, you put her away in a box and ceased to be. No, very much alive and well and wants to play. She is reminding you of that.

How do you do that? Just what you are doing, looking for the newness in everyday, looking for the playfulness in the brothers and sisters, appreciating how this one grows the wonderful mustache.

I like it.

Yes, you see and you look for something new in every moment and you keep the newness of you alive that way. But you have already, you are doing very well with this for you have already acknowledged that she is alive and well, that she is you, still as we spoke of time. You are that one year old.

It's a weird feeling.

Yes, according to the ego and according to the mind that has been trained in a certain way, it is a weird feeling.

That's the way it would be, I guess.

But you and ones such as you are shifting what has been accepted as normal. You are saying, "No, it can be different than this. I don't know how but it is."

{Comment not clear}

Now, returning to your question about the healing, healing can never be done to a person. It can be offered and one has to accept and remember in a certain moment that they are already whole and that the body can and will manifest the wholeness. That is how the healing comes about, it is with remembrance that place where the penny drops and everything comes into harmony with itself, the revelation.

Does one stay in that place? Some do, some don't. Many don't because there is....

Some don't even know they don't.

That is very true. We spoke of certain things in the body getting out of alignment and you will walk about, all of you will walk about with a certain familiarity, a familiar feeling of how the body must be held. But that is not necessarily the most wholesome way for the body. But it is the habitual and it is the familiar way and you have felt when you have gone and had an adjustment and you come away from the adjustment perhaps, and you have said, "Oh, it feels sort of strange. I don't know about this." And after a wee bit you have gone back into what was habitual and familiar.

It is the same with any kind of healing. Ones may have a great revelation and accept their wholeness, remember it. They may stay in that place with it until it is their choice to have the new experience and they release the body, or they may choose a certain change in the body which could be identified as tumor, growth, whatever as the way of releasing the body in process.

If one has certain growth in the body this is not to be seen in judgment. In fact, what it symbolizes is that the ones, the brother or sister, is desiring to grow, is very much in a feeling of energy that wants to grow, wants to expand and will channel it in a certain way where there are growth.

You may have certain growths upon the skin, certain internal whatever, but they are not to be judged as wrong, or failures.

Like the colon cancer, is somebody expressing they want to grow?

Yes, bottom line.

{Laughter}

Excuse me. Your language is wonderful.

You said it, I didn't.

The language of this time is wonderful. Yes.

Yes, it is truly a desire to grow, but it has become a bit filtered and devious in its manifestation. Ones that you have known who are experiencing certain condition, are doing so for many reasons, that the body is released. There has been seen the cessation of the communication and the love and where there would be the loss of this one, but even that is undergoing shift now.

So in truth, when you release the body you will still be alive and experiencing and expressing. You will still be who you have always been, and because there is a re-leasement of the identification that goes with the form, the body, that has been most specific, limiting, there is an expansion of awareness, of understanding and remembrance where the child of you, that one year old child who knows very well that she is her Father's Child, that child will come into your awareness more than even now. A time of celebration, yes. It is happening.

So when ones will find different avenues of growing and of releasing the body, in truth, the cancers as they are called and the growth, they are not what do the de-ceasement of the body, not more than if you had all sorts of growths on the skin and you grew, grew, grew, so what, you know. It is not the cancers, it is the choice to re-lease the body and go on to another experience. That is truly what is happening. And there will be then the avenue and the seeming reason for de-ceasement, but in truth, growths, cancers, all kinds of diseasements, they are not what do you in. You choose to release the body and go on to something else the same as the small child who sits in a room and plays with the toys in that room, and then someone opens the door and they look into the next room and they say, "Oh, there's a beautiful thing in that next room. What wonder what it does? What can I do with it?" And immediately the child is up on its toddly little legs and into the next room.

That is what releasement of the body, that is how easy it happens. So you do not have to worry. In truth, you do not have to worry, any of you, when you will see certain growths of the body that are identified as cancers. They are not going to mean the de-ceasement of the body. The de-ceasement of the body will not happen until you choose.

Now certain ones will do process of illness it is called, disease that gets to be so tedious that releasement of the body is something devoutly to be desired and then the choice is made.

The one that you have asked about has chosen to know his own power.

He sure has. The minute you said he has chosen to grow, it just all was a bright picture. You are right.

Yes, and all of you have experienced being in a place where you have stopped and there is a great desire as there is within the seed to grow. And you have said, "No, I don't want to change. I do not want a new experience. I want to stay with what is familiar even though it may not be the best of all worlds, but at least I know it. I don't want it to change." And you have stayed seemingly on a certain plateau until you have put together some other pieces that have propelled you into growing.

I knew that.

Sure you know that. Yes.

Did you visit the pyramids when you were young?

Yes.

Tell us about it.

Ah, I would ask you to tell me what you have experienced?

Just what I've read.

And more, because as you have read there has been a knowing. There has been a feeling that yes, I have been there. I want to know more because I want to remember more. Great power in the pyramids, because you have placed it there. Great structure of focus. Know you even this structure of pyramid, how it goes to one point, it is most symbolic. It points away from the anchoring of density. It also gives focus to the oneness. You have said, there will be focus, and you have focused upon various things at different times as you are doing now in this lifetime. Several issues that you are focusing upon in order to know your holiness through those issues. It is the same for you as it is for all of the brothers and sisters. Different issues, perhaps, but focusing.

There is great power in the focusing and you knew this and now it now because of the configuration. You have been, you know this, one of the master designer. You have known the mathematical relationships. You have always been interested in how the parts will go together to make a greater whole, so that the sum of the parts is more than the individual parts. And you have always been interested in relationship of parts. One to another and also to the whole and what will this bring about as the shift, as it goes into the new whole structure?

So you have often been one who would play with what is called now the mathematics, the figures, the parts as they would be broken into finite parts in order to make a new whole. Did you have help? Of course. Do you have help now in what you figure out?

Probably.

Yes, of course. There are times that you work with certain challenge of assignment, task, whatever, and you see how most of it will go together but there may be a piece that doesn't quite fall into place yet, and you work with it. You look at it from one angle, and you look at it from another angle, and you look at it from another angle and you say, "How can I put this together to make the desired result?" And after you chew on it a bit and a bit, finally then you give it over for a sense of peace and the answer comes. Of course you have help now. But it is not help that is separate from you because you are not wise enough to do it yourself. It is that you allow the greater wisdom of you to come into this focus to imbue what you are working on with the wisdom that you already know. You are wise beyond the world. That is how you can do certain new things, bringing, using old to make a new.

That is how you affect what would be in other people's terms, the miracles. There are times that you bring things off, put them together, you bring it off and others will say, "Well how did he do that?" And you say, "Well, all of a sudden it became clear to me."

As to the pyramids, yes. Wonderful power. Wonderful remembrance that you are not alone in this universe. That even what is seen as a small bump from space, on the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth, has great meaning. Very sacred because of the remembrance. Not sacred because there is special magic in it. Sacred because you, you individually, and you collectively, have brought it together because you played with the parts to the place where you could do a new whole that was greater than the sum of the parts.

You could have all of those stones, as they are called, spread out all over the field, but you wanted design. You wanted focus. You wanted focus of energy, healing energy yes, because ones remembered their wholeness in that energy. And so you said, "What would happen if we put this and this and this in certain mathematical relationship to the rest of it?" Divine master that you are. Does that answer you question?

Did you like the pyramids?

Yes. Yes. At first I was in awe of the structure. At first I was open to the energy, I felt the energy of it and as I sat and pondered how this could come into being? I remembered that I was present at the building. For I have not just known incarnation as one Jeshua. Many times I have walked the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth being known by other names because I have loved and enjoyed human experience.

That is why I come now to speak with you. I do not have to do this you know.

Was the big capstone still on it two thousand years ago?

Yes. Of course. You knew that. There was a remark?

About the pyramids. He was a kid when he liked them, so I added the ones I made.

Of course. Yes.

What is the purpose of the King's chamber in the Great Pyramid?

As you understand concepts and energy, many levels of purpose. It was in truth, a chamber of honor but it was more than that. For you imbued it, you gave it power that you said was special. It can be felt even now.

Is it modeled or similar to the womb in the woman's body? The creative principle?

Yes, that is the symbolization that you have given it, yes. And yet there are others who would look upon it and would interpret it down through what you would see as the ages, with other meaning just as powerful, just as valuable. But for you that has great meaning. Yes, and it is true. Yes.

A few years ago, I took a class on sound and vibration. While, and we heard our own signature sound or the vibration that you said each one of us has a different one.

Yes.

And while in that class I really had a strong feeling that I have done this before in Atlantis.

Yes.

And I also felt that it would be coming back in the future here, that we would be doing this again, but it I can't, it's almost like it's kind of stopped. I don't know where it's going from here. I don't know what avenue. Could you talk about that a little bit as to how this will come about?

In truth, this is something that you are bringing back into your awareness with your remembrance for indeed you have done this many, many lifetimes. You have known the healing properties of vibration as ones will align themselves with vibration as you were experiencing even in the bit this evening, yes.

You were drawn to some of the studies because you wanted to experience, once again, the remembrance, the familiarity of it and to feel some of the power of it. This will be a reality in what you call your future. There is a certain timing where others are being called to this remembrance. It is very much as a groundswell, you would identify it as, where ones are beginning to remember. They are having their memories tickled a bit as they hear about sound and sound schools and they come to remember and to awaken others because then you start to talk about it and others say, "Well you know, that's kind of interesting. I was think about that," and off you go.

So there is a groundswell that is happening that you don't quite see because it is gradual, and yet it is very much in motion. There are more and more of the schools, more and more of the workshops that are addressing this avenue of healing and oneness. And it will be something that you will be very intimately identified with and working with. But meantime, there is still the energy that is collecting. So what you will do is that old word that you don't like very well.

Patience.

You will have patience. It will not be long because at the same time as you rail against patience, you are also decreeing that you are going to accelerate everything and that is happening. It is growing very rapidly for there are more and more of the brothers and sisters who are interested in knowing their healing and experimenting with different avenues of healing so it is growing. It won't be very long.

So what you have done as certain building blocks, foundation, that is a good foundation and you will build upon it. You will also do other things because you have an integrative nature. In other words, you will do that but by your creativity you are going to bring in other remembrances and integrated in it as well. So it will not be just what you see as one limited avenue. Much of interest for you and much of joy. Yes.

First of all I would like to give thanks for selecting this place.

You did a very good job selecting this place, yes.

Well I have the feeling, it's just a feeling, was the temperature, the foliage, the terrain, it's so familiar and as the members here we would be saying, thirty-three members of the heart family, I have a feeling that it is a lot more, well it's quite significant that we are gathered here at this time and if so, this is a springboard to something else and to the future based upon a prior of we met arrangement that we made here in the past. During the time when this was Lemuria.

Yes, you have known many experiences called lifetimes in this area. None of you are here by accident. All of you are here by the invitation of the heart, your heart, to come and connect with it and all of you have agreed that you will come together in this time to re-experience it and to have the memory of what Lemuria means to you. For Lemuria was a time of the heart, a time of remembering oneness and claiming the true power of the holy Child, not the temporal power of the world. But the power of creative love and you brought forth as you see even now in this day and time on this island, most beautiful foliage, most beautiful species of life, most beautiful formations of the rocks. You know in your heart, you know very well the vibration of the rocks. They are not just inanimate, they speak with you. Yes.

I feel like I just want to go and just sit on a rock.

Of course.

It feels so, you don't feel, when I'm looking at them, they don't feel as we know in our time, as being solid. They just feel like something I could just place in my hand.

Yes, and also place the hand within.

Right.

Yes. Yes, you know energy well. You have worked with energy many, many lifetimes and you know that there is no separation we were speaking with this one of the energies bodies. And that is true also for what is the rocks, that seem to be most dense and yet you know that they are energy, a certain frequency of vibration that you can be one with. You can move the arm, the hand right into it.

I would suggest to all of you that you take yourself out and find a rock tomorrow and sit with the rump on the rock and allow the sensitivity of the chakras that are in the rump.... Now the rump is not just, it is not just something that hangs out back there. It has sensitivity receptors known as chakras and when you will place the rump upon a rock and be in communion with that energy, you will feel vibration almost to the point sometime that you have to get up again because you say, "What am I feeling. There is a charge that is happening."

You will also know a message of love. It may come in words or it may just come in a feeling that comes from the rump upwards and envelopes you. Even as you sit upon your chairs in this evening, the rump is not separate from you. You know that well after you have been sitting for a long time. The rump starts to talk to you does it not?

Yeah.

Yeah. It says, "Okay, time to move about." Yes.

So along with Ruby's question then, Pramahansa Yogananda talks about knowing Baba Ji and Mata Ji who work from Lemuria centuries ago and still alive today helping all of us.

Yes.

Were we brother, sister, mother, father at that time? YES!

As you say. Of course. That question would not come if you did not have memory and knowledge of it. What you have asked is for validation, but already you knew it, yes.

In this lifetime will we see them again?

If you so decree.

Yes!

There you go. Nothing is held from you. Yes.

I wanted to know about my music and what role it's playing and the CD that's coming out why?

Beloved one, you can answer this one yourself. It plays a very important role on many, many levels. One of them being it allows you expression of the tones of oneness that you are. For when you sing that is not something separate from you. That is your soul that comes out and it is felt by all who hear it. It touches their soul in soul memory of oneness. It is very healing. So for you it is your avenue of remembrance, your avenue of atonement, your avenue of creative expression which is most important.

It serve for the others because it touches them in a place, often times they did not know was even there. And they will have the tear in the eye and they will wonder, "Why does that come? I don't know even what it has touched within me. But the energy moves." and there is the tear that comes or sometimes the sobbing because there has been so much held within them that wanted to be released and all of a sudden you as you will touch them, as you do the string on your instrument, you touch within them that chord that allows the vibration and the releasement of what has been held as the string, you see, very tight and you allow it to come forth for their healing.

The CD that you are making now, it will go far and wide, beyond what you can even see now in this time. It will touch everyone on the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth. It is not by accident that you have had a desire to put it into manifest form, in a small form, that can be easily taken and with the technology that you now have brought forth, it can be played anywhere. Small players. You can take it anywhere. Wonderful technology.

It will awaken within brothers and sisters whom you will not lay physical eyes upon. You will not see them, but it will awaken within them the remembrance that they are loved, that they are spirit that cannot be contained within the body, cannot be held down even by all of the daily activity, even by what would be the authority figures of their country. It will allow them to come ... a very special relationship with this one. Again it is not by accident you have found each other.

You have often been the teachers who have taught, sometimes with voice, many times with music, because as you have seen, music can go beyond what is taught in concept and with words. You have seen it in lifetimes where you have been the teacher and you would want so much to put across a point and there was resistance and ones would say, "Oh, that's your truth. That's not my truth. I don't believe that." Well the word that comes to mind is bullshit. I don't believe that. And then you have begun to sing to that one and all of the armoring of the greatest warrior has melted because you have been the minstrel or the concubine or the mate who has known the gentle way into the heart.

The one that you work with, she has often been partner with you. She has known how to heal with the tones, does it again. She is drawn now to do much of the speaking and to combine this with the music as you do because you put the words with the music. She will do it in a slightly different fashion for others who are receptive to having the words spoken in a teaching fashion that way and then the music to feel what has been accepted mentally.

You kind of skip that. You go directly for it because you put the two of them together into the music and the words and as they are listening perhaps to the music and words are going in and changing things.

It is the same, just slightly different avenue. Blessed art thou for you have found your way of service. It brings you joy and it brings others joy. Thank you.

Blessed art thou for what you are doing. {To Gloria Gardner}

Thank you, Jeshua.

You are welcome. Know you the example of courage that you set for others? Many others would have given up, would have said, "Well I'm out of here." You have known that your mission is not finished. What you agreed to do, you have agreed to complete. You have not said, as you have said in other lifetimes, but you have not said, "Well I'll do some of it and then I'll come back and I'll finish it next time." You said, "This time I am going to see it through all the way. I know there are certain things that I have agreed to do and I will see it through all the way to the revelation that transfigures me, quite literally, out of this plane." I give you great thanks. Yes.

Last night or the night before, you spoke about different kinds of healing that would occur this week. Physical, emotional, spiritual changes.

Yes.

And I wanted to ask you how we claim those healings?

You are in process of doing that already. You claim those healings because you feel joy. You claim those healings because you refuse to stay in the place of constriction and the place of judgment. You claim those healings because you are willing to laugh, to come up higher than staying in the place of the judgment of self and others. You have said, "I do not have time for that. I want now to get on with the good stuff and I will laugh, I will enjoy the sunshine. I will enjoy the tones. I will enjoy the power of the waves. I will feel the sand and the grass beneath my feet." That is how you claim the healing.

It is simplicity. It is not something that you have to beg for. It is not something that you have to get all of your ducks in order for. Know you how difficult that is to get all of the ducks in order?

{Laughter}

You get one or two in the line, what happens to the third and fourth? They are out of the line. You get them back in the line and someone else is off at the end there. That's why it's so hard to get your ducks in order. It is the same when Beloved Elder tries to get this group in order. Beloved Elder the other evening, he was following behind the whole caravan of you because he was your leader.

{Loud laughter}

Yes. Yes.

I would like to say it's good to see you again.

Beloved brother, I greet you.

Some information was shared with me many years ago with a good teacher, a good friend, and it was given to me as a sacred thing. Something that was given to me and not to share with anyone else and I have felt that it's a burden. And I'm wondering what do I need to do with this information?

Allow yourself to share it. Not necessarily with others who will feel it to be a burden, but share it with ones who are not far from you, not separate from you. Ones that you would call the higher powers, the companions unseen, companions.

Release your feeling of heavy burden with this to them, for in truth, you are not the only one who has this knowledge. They carry it. They see it a bit differently than you do. It is easier for them perhaps to deal with it. So share it in what you will call your quiet time, your time of musing, your time of thinking.

Say, "Hey, great guys, take this. I don't mind doing what I need to do here with it. I am willing to do what needs to be done, but I am not willing to carry it as a heavy burden all by myself. I am willing now to recognize that I do not carry it all by myself."

That way you will not have to give it to another one who is still with focus here with perhaps limited understanding, where they would feel it as accepting as burden, they would accept it as heavy responsibility.

But you will share it with ones who already know what has happened and what will happen and what is going on. Ones who are in the vision of seeing the whole picture. It is time because you don't need to carry it by yourself even in perception.

It's a wonderful burden. I just didn't know what to do with it. And I held it so sacred.

Yes.

Thank you.

In truth it is sacred. Know you why it was given to you?

I think because my teacher knew that I would hold it sacred and that I would know what to do with it when the time was right.

And that is true. The time is not yet. That is why we have spoken to share it with others not with focus right here, such as you would see beloved brothers and sisters, but there will be a time when you will share it freely because they will call it forth from you.

In other words, they will need in their estimation, they will need and want to know. And that time is not afar off. It was given to you because yes, it was known that you would honor it, that you would hold it sacred, that you have held knowledge such as that sacred in many lifetimes. You have what is known as integrity. Know you what integrity is?

An inward love for respect for everyone.

Yes. Yes, great love that comes from the place of having everything integrated into the one, knowing that it all is one, all harmony, all together. That is integrity, knowing the center.

You have been recognized as having integrity. Not only this lifetime but others. Thank you.

Now the hour I see is approaching the estimation of being late. I do not understand late, but I understand that energy levels do a certain dip. Therefore, I would say unto you, I have greatly enjoyed this evening with you. As always I do when we come together in this manner. I love you greatly for I know who you are and you also are coming to know who you are. That is why you have gifted yourself this very sacred time of celebration.

Play with each other. Be light of heart. Play with the creations that you have brought forth on this lovely island. Remember your heritage and then go beyond the heritage that is of this dimension and remember the heritage of the holy Child.

Take this one home to his bed.

I will speak with you again in this manner. It is an enjoyable time, the exchange. Go now in peace. Go now in celebration and allow the angel who serves you so well to allow you to remember that peace.

Thank you beloved one.

{Closing song with Lisa Umberger}
