Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of light divine. That is who you are. Most wondrous being. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen once again, to call me forth. Great joy of the heart.

Yes, beloved one. Yes, great joy of being together once again. To be as family. To be able to reach out and to touch. Yes, to hold, to feel the vibration of energy. The Christ energy that activates this form. Each and every one of you, most wondrous beings. Most wondrous beings.

A gift. It is a gift that you give to yourself is it not? A gift to be with the family. A gift to be in this beautiful Island. A gift to allow the heart to open. To sing once again. For there was a time when you thought you would not sing again, and now you sing, most beautifully.

Wondrous healer. Pure of heart. Thank you once again for coming and being part of this family. For you feel the pull, the tie of the heart, do you not? You know it well. Thank you for serving the Father. Thank you for going easily in the service of the Father. It is not difficult to do is it? Most gentle being. Thank you.

Most radiant one, with hands of healer and heart of love. Thank you for giving yourself to the brothers and sisters and in doing that, finding yourself. Most wondrous to find yourself, is it not? Most surprising. For when you least expect it, there you are having fun.

There you are.

There you are. A wise saying. A wise saying.

And the songbird, thank you for gracing us once again. A beautiful vibration from the tones that come truly from the heart. Know you the healing that happens when you sing? You feel it, for yourself and for others. It is most powerful. Thank you for choosing once again to make trek to be in this place with the rest of the family to that as you are nurturing them you are being nurtured yourself. You have found that true already this time. You are very willing to open your heart and to give. And as you give, what happens? You receive. Thank you.

Beautiful flower, it is great to see you once again. And this Island that is a paradise for you, a home, yes. You will come often to this place. You already have but it will continue. You will find joy here.

Gentle one, it is great to see you. You are as gentle as the wind and as powerful. Thank you for being here. Use the hands of healing which already you do.

Beloved one, I am happy to see you. I am happy that you called us to your Island. Thank you for coming and making the way smooth for us ahead of time. It is truly a pleasure, is it not? When you are in the service of the Father everything is a joy. When you are in the service of the world, everything seems to go at 6's and 7's. Then you choose anew.

Beloved one, it is grand to see you again. How goes it?

I was going to ask you that.

Ah, well you see, I beat you to it. It goes very well. I am pleased that you have come here. Not only here this evening, but here to this beautiful Island which is home to you. Where you are allowing the heart to open. Even the cells of the body to expand to radiate the light. There is much healing that has happened and that will continue to happen. Much healing of yourself but more than that, healing of our Holy Mother as you are allowing your healing energies to be expanded. It radiates out and is available to our Holy Mother, is available to the brothers and sisters. It is a great work that you do and yet it is not a work with effort.

How is the heart beloved one? Is it happy?

Yes, now.

Yes.

I told you it was devastated. Do you have anything to address to me about that?

I have. It is for you to look at the great strength. The strength of the Christ that sees you through everything even though all worlds, all appearances may suggest otherwise. Even though you may feel devastated and the small ego says, "It is devastation." Christ knows that it is not. The Christ is always resurrecting and ascending and that is what you have done.

How to look upon what has happened. It is to look upon the ascension that has happened. It is to look upon what has come out of what seems like devastation, to know the great strength of the Christ that you are that can never, never be put down, always rises up. You are doing very well.

I am doing very well.

You see we have the same script writer.

Oh, that's good to know.

Follow your heart. Follow what brings you joy. Go for the simplicity always. Do not be afraid to be simple. Do not be afraid to be love. When other would suggest to you that you must be of the world, complicated, no. Choose for simplicity. In that there is great healing.

And how is Ken?

Very well.

Thank you.

All in divine order. Yes.

Wondrous being up on the high chair. Yes, you are as royalty. Know you that many lifetimes you have been royalty. It suits you.

Thank you.

Yes.

I haven't thought about that.

All of you, all of you have known the role of royalty. Now you are claiming it more or less. You are saying, "I am the child of the one great Father. I am royal." And you are. You deserve all the best for you are of the best. You are all God, Goddess, All that Is. Therefore, choose you always the high chair.

Beloved one, it is good to see you.

Good to see you.

Wondrous smile upon the face. How goes it with you?

More blessings everyday that I can count.

Well spoken. And as you are of that frame of mind you will find more and more of the petals of the flower such as the dandelion, it will be more and more that you cannot count. Abundant. Living in the sunshine of your Father's Love. Good place to be.

Beloved one, how are you in this evening?

Very good.

You are indeed, very good.

Beloved one, again a miracle.

Absolutely.

It is great to see you. Is it great to be here?

Oh yes. A wondrous place.

I will share with you that what has happened in the past few weeks of your timing, seemingly such a miracle, is heralding a new chapter in the book that you are writing. It is heralding a new chapter that says, "My life is full of miracles. I expect a miracle. I expect joy. I expect great surprises that are going to be happy surprises."

You have turned a corner in what you have believed life to be about. You have fulfilled all of the laundry list of what had to be done. Now, at a very deep level within you, you have made the shift. Not the shift at the conscious level, but a very deep level that says, "I am willing now to accept all the good." So you will see miracles happening and more than that, you will be a miracle maker for you will be the one next year in your timing, gifting one a gift such as you have receive. You will be making miracle for another one.

Good.

Yes.

That's exciting.

It will come about and it will be easy to do. You will find that this year there will be much of opportunity, much of change. You are ready for change. You have been ready for change for some time now. You have been ranting and railing and I have heard you. But that is good because it takes energy to make change. This year will be one of great changes for you. Happy changes, easy changes. Enjoy the Island.

Ah, I do. Thank you.

And as to the miracle worker over here, how are you in this evening?

Great.

You are great. It feels good to work miracles does it not?

Wonderful.

It feels good to lay hold of the power of the Father, the Christ that you are and to turn it into a miracle that others say, "How could that happen?" And yet you say it was easy.

It was natural.

It was natural. Miracles occur naturally. You have known that. You have studied that. You have read that and now you are doing it. You are allowing them to occur naturally.

It's easy with her.

That is true.

She is a big joy. She actually brought me here. She is the blessing to me.

Ah, you see.

A two-way street.

Yes. That is what a miracle is. Well done. Enjoy.

Thank you.

Beloved one, happy child that you are. It is good to see you. Have you been enjoying your stay so far.

Yes. Thank you for the reassurances. I felt guilty about leaving you at the bus stop but I assumed you have another ride?

Always beloved one. And if I do not have another ride I know how to walk. It is a joy to see you. It is a joy to play with you as I know the mate enjoys playing with you. Yes.

Are you going to show up with a hammer when we are building a house?

Of course. Why not. I know how to do something with a hammer, with a saw. It was taught to me of my father.

Ah.

My drinking buddy. How are you?

Just great and you? Yes, better and better. Very good.

Beloved gentle one, again who knows the essence of life, the gentleness of life. Who is as the mother and yet who is as the daughter. Most wondrous being. Thank you for coming.

Thank you for inviting me.

Indeed, that is true. And the playmate?

How goes it with you?

It goes well and freely.

Oh, very good. Yes. You are happy?

I am well. I am happy. I have a peaceful heart.

Yes. You again are one who has turned a corner in this past year. You are one who has had many challenges to look at, many shifts. You have come to the place of peace. You have said, this is important. This is not important. And what isn't important you have thrown out, released, left behind. It is a good place to be. Enjoy.

Such a joy to see you beloved one.

And you my friend. How are you?

Excellent. Thank you for asking. What do you have planned for this week of the hear? This week of being together with the family?

Ah, mostly just enjoying my family. It is such a joy and to have it in a place with all this beautiful scenery. You told me once that I was on the committee working on the plants and trees and flowers and I have been going around telling them how beautiful they are and enjoying my handiwork. They are magnificent. So is everybody else. It felt so good. I don't really want to leave.

In truth, you will not leave for you will take much of it with you. It will be always in the heart, always within the memory and you will come back again. Even when you find yourself in the midst of the snow and ice, the other dwelling place, remember the warmth and the color, the foliage of this place.

Don't you like it here better than driving down the highway with me in the snow and the ice and semi-trucks?

Oh, such an adventure.

Oh, yes it is isn't it? You've commented on that a number of times.

Yes, a grand adventure.

Thanks for driving when I'm too tired.

It is my pleasure. I'm glad you like it.

Beloved one who is coming into her own as though it is a bit scary at times, how are you?

Fine.

You are as the bubble of the champagne. Yes, there is a great energy that is welling up within you. A great energy that wants to be expressed. Now you are allowing that to happen and feeling quite invigorated, challenged, happy, questioning and yet trusting and going forth. It is the adventure. It is the grand adventure of allowing the Christ now to come forth. Feels good does it not? You are doing well with it. Have fun.

I do.

You do.

And you are one who is having fun with it as you watch, as you participate, you encourage, as you smile and you say to her, "Yes, you can do it." Know you, you have often been the one who has encouraged her to go out and to do certain things when she said, "No, I don't think I can do that." Other lifetimes as well you have served her and other lifetimes she has served you when you have said, "No, I don't think I can do it." And she said, "Oh, get out there. You can do it."

How are you in this evening?

I am very good.

You are indeed. This is a grand gift that you have given to yourself, this fortnight that you are here this time.

Beloved one, it is go grand to see you. How are you in this evening?

I got to say fantastic and better.

Well said, yes. Thank you for coming once again unto this plane and assuming the cloak of forgetfulness. To walk amongst the brothers and sisters, to share a reality that you know is not reality. To go with a heart that sometimes is heavy. To go with a heart that sometimes is light and to always respond to that still small voice within that says, "There is much more than this and I tell them. I must let them know."

It was a heavy choice. Heavy as your world would describe heavy to come once again to assume the forgetfulness, the forgetfulness that's heavy. And yet there are times when you remember and you feel quite light. Times when we play together. When we laugh together as we used to do. When you know the companionship that we used to have and still do have for it has never ended.

Be of light heart. Be as the mouse upon the shirt there that looks quite happy.

Thank you.

Thank you.

Wondrous being. Beautiful radiant one who is coming more and more alive in everyday. How does it feel to be here?

Fantastic.

Yes. A grand gift again that you were willing to claim. To say, "Yes, I deserve this. I will do it." More and more you will be claiming all of the good in the life. More and more you will be seeking ways to see the miracle and to make the miracles for you are a miracle maker. More and more you will be feeling the radiance of life itself. No longer having to do the shoulds of what ought to be done, filling in the daily activity, but knowing that there is a spirit which is you, that pervades everything that is done and makes it happy.

Wonderful.

Yes, you are.

It is grand to see you. I am glad you have come.

Thank you.

It is a beautiful Island, is it not? Do you feel a kinship with this Island? Do you feel a resonance, a feeling of familiarity like you've been here before? You have many times. You have been the architect that allowed these islands to come forth and you have lived many lifetimes, simple, peaceful lifetimes upon this very soil in what you would call other slices of time. It is Home to you. You find your home yes, in other places because you are one who is adaptable and you make your home wherever you are. You know how to do that. But there are certain places that feel more at home and this is one of them. Enjoy.

As I enjoy being with all of you. It is grand that you have invited me to come once again this way to speak with you.

All of you have chosen at a very deep level, to know the Christ that you are. That is why you are here. You thought perhaps you had chosen to come for the vacation of it. And that is a good reason. You thought perhaps you had chosen to come here for the friendship, the sunshine, the love of the family. Yes, all of that is true. But more than that you are embarking upon a very concentrated -- accelerated perhaps is a better word -- time of remembrance.

For when you agreed, when you chose to activate the body in this lifetime, you wrote into the script, into the contract that it would be a lifetime that you will come truly alive and know the Christ that you are. That you would serve that Christ, and that you would be in the world but not of it. That you would know yourself to be the maker of the world, but not the victim of it.

You agreed that in this lifetime you will come to know and remember the Christ who sings, truly sings because he cannot help it. The very vibration of the spirit that you are, sings as the Christ is remembered.

This week in your timing, we will be speaking of a series of graduated messages here called the Christos Intensives which you have designed to allow you to come to a place of recognizing the Christ within you, the Christ that you are. And by that, then you will recognize the Christ in every other one of the brothers and sisters.

It is not by accident that you find yourself here in this gathering. And it is not by accident that it will be covered in the next three meetings such as this. For you will find by the time this sharing, this group comes to a certain conclusion and you move on to various other dwelling places, you will find that you are not the person that you were when you arrived on this Island a few days ago.

You will find yourself much more empowered by the remembrance of the Christ. We will be speaking in this evening of what has been called Level One. Now in truth, there are not levels. Everything is as a progression, everything is a Oneness but in your understanding it is easy to talk in conceptual terms of levels.

And Level One is the commitment to discipleship. All of you have made that decision. All of you have made that commitment to discipleship. Otherwise you would not be here. Even the ones of brothers and sisters who are not here in what seems to be an awareness, a conscious awareness of searching, have made commitment to discipleship.

All of you in every lifetime have made commitment to discipleship. But you have been committed, the disciple of various things, various treasures, as you would see them that you would chase after. So I would ask you in everyday to be aware, very vigilant and most aware of what you are being disciple to in every moment. When a worry comes up of what if? Oh my goodness. Ask of yourself in that moment, "What am I being disciple to? Am I being a disciple to that worry, to that what if, everything could go wrong. The stock market could collapse. Certain things could happen to the body." Perhaps the big beautiful bird you travel in called your airplane, perhaps it would have the engine trouble, etc. Ask yourself, "What am I being disciple to?"

What you have chosen now in this lifetime now to be disciple to is the Christ. To be a disciple of the Christ. And by that I do not mean being my disciple as being the disciple of one Jesus, Yeshua, but being the disciple to the Christ of yourself. I am the Christ, yes. I know my Christhood. I know what it feels like to be Christ and so do you.

For when we speak of being Christ, there is a certain faint remembrance, a relatedness if you will, that allows you to understand what Christ must be. Christ is the Son of the Father, the Son of God, yes. Well what does that mean? Christ is the essence of God, yes. But what is God?

That is what you are disciple to. You are searching, wanting to know what -- I will not say who -- what is the Christ? The who we already know. The who is you. The who is you, the spirit of you that activates the body, that gives form to everything that you see, that you experience. The Christ is you. But what? What is that Christ of you? How can I know it? How can I feel it? How can I live it? That is where discipleship comes in.

You have said, "I want to know who I am. I want to know the Christ that I am. I want to be truly who I am in conscious awareness. I want to walk this life awake, aware. No longer just muddling through hoping that everything will work out okay. I want to know how does the Christ go through life." And you have said, "I will choose to be disciple to that Christ."

That is why you have brought yourself to this beautiful island. It is so you can look at all of the wondrous creations that you have put here. Creative child of the One Creator so that you can be in wonderment of that creativity. So that you can lose yourself in the perfume of a flower. So that you can feel yourself immersed in oneness in the shower of gentle rain and know that each drop of the water holds your essence. It would not be without you.

You have brought yourself to this beautiful place so that you can listen beyond all of the activities of your great cities, beyond all of the activity of your workplace. You have brought yourself to this wondrous beautiful place so that you can listen.

Listen first of all, to the sounds of what you call nature, our Holy Mother, the Earth to find yourself in tune with the very vibration of life, the ebb and flow. To know yourself one with that energy.

But more than that, listen within. To listen to the heartbeat, the physical heartbeat but more than that, to the heartbeat of love that binds everyone together in that oneness. There is a great pulsating vibration that you are able to hear, that you are able to feel upon this island. It is almost as a drumbeat would be, and you can feel yourself in synch with it. You can feel it beating.

It is subtle and yet it is very powerful. It is always here and it is with you even when you will return to your workplace. But you have come away to this place in order to listen, to get in tune with the pulse beat of your own heart, your own soul. To stop for a few days long enough to breathe, long enough to listen to the heart. To feel the vibration of your own being and to feel the healing that comes when you know that oneness of being in synch with the pulse beat.

This beautiful island has a vibration which is your vibration. You are not separate from it. It is not that you come here and you plop yourself on top of it and you say, "I will partake of the energy for awhile." The energy of this island is your energy. It lives because you live. It lives because you are imbuing it with the Christ energy that you are. It is alive. It is vibrant. It is dynamic the same as you.

And in these few days that you will spend upon this beautiful island, allow yourself time to listen, to feel, to be in the silence with it. For it takes silence in order to listen.

We will be speaking in this week of discipleship. We will be speaking of your creations, knowing the oneness with your creations which is Level Two. And we will be speaking of the joy and the gratitude that comes from knowing oneness with your creations. And then moving from that joy into true communion. That is what this week is about. It is about knowing true common-union as one.

Not just speaking about it in words. Not just speaking about it in concepts, but actually experiencing oneness with a blade of grass. Have you ever thought to speak to a blade of grass? I would suggest that you do that. On your morrow, go out and sit with a blade of grass. Some of you have done this. And ask of it, "How goes it for you? How do you see the world?" And then listen.

And if the mind wanders off to somewhere else, bring it back. Attend to that blade of grass. Imagine yourself as the blade of grass, for you are. How would it feel to be a blade of grass? For the most part no one takes any notice of you. Steps upon you. Walks over you. Perhaps feels the warmth, the softness, the harshness of a blade. How would it feel to be a blade of grass? And allow that blade of grass to speak with you, to tell you and feel the pulse-beat of that blade of grass. For that blade of grass is alive, living, pulsating, dynamic, the same as you.

It is living. Growing. Being. Experiencing. Feel yourself to be one with the blade of grass, the flower. With the beautiful winged birds that fly around here. How do they see the world? How does it look to the bird who lands in the treetop? Can you feel the pulse-beat of the bird?

This is something you will want to do as you are deepening, as you are coming to know true communion. For when you leave this beautiful island at the end of this time that you are gifting to yourself, you will have a new understanding, a new experience of who you are and what everything else is. And there will be such joy that rises out of it that you will know the Christ.

This is a most momentous week and it is not by accident that anything, all of the things are happening and the order in which they are happening. Everything is going together hand-in-glove because the divine holy Child has orchestrated it thus. Every piece of this week is sacred. Every offering that a brother, sister has to give to you is sacred. All of it adds in geometrical proportion to what has gone before.

We have met before in what are called these Advances and you have advanced. You have shifted. You have released many of the old burdens and the baggage that you carried lifetime after lifetime. So much so that when it came to be a choice to be here, many of you said, "Oh yes, I wouldn't miss it. I wouldn't miss it for the world." Thank goodness.

You have shifted. You have released. All of the times we have spoken together in this way before, have brought you to this place, a most sacred place. And what you give to one another adds to the remembrance more than you can ascertain in this moment.

When you get to the end of this time, this week, this time interval you will look back on it and you will see how some of the pieces fit together.

In one month of your timing you will look back on it and you will see more. And in six months of your timing you will be amazed at what shifted and what happened because you were willing to allow. Because yes, there was resistance. You felt resistance at first. That is the way of the ego. But you didn't stop there. You allowed yourself to know the resistance. You allowed yourself some of the ranting and railing. You allowed yourself some of the judgments. Self-judgment and judgement of others. But then you said quite quickly, much more quickly than you used to do, "Okay, there must be another way to see this. I will choose anew. I will choose for the Christ."

I watch you in your days. I companion you. I go with you to your place of employment. You know that I do. I work with you. I journey with you in your vehicles. It is my great joy to be acknowledged as you go about your daily activities. For indeed, we are never separate one from another. I am never apart from you. And whenever you call on me, instantly I am there because we cannot be separate.

So I watch you as you go through your challenges, as you go through your what if's. As you go through all of the complaints about how this could be better and why isn't this happening? And I thought this was going to happen much more easily than this. And I hear and then I watch you choose anew. And every time you choose it comes more quickly. Every time you for the Christ, every time you choose to be in joy rather than in resistance, it comes more quickly now.

For you do not stay in that space. For you have spent lifetimes in that space of saying that the world is against me and everything is wrong and I have to fight everything. And if anything good is going to come out of it, I have to do it myself.

Well, that's true. If anything good is going to come out of it you do have to do it yourself, but not of the small self. It comes from acknowledging the Christ Self. It comes from knowing that it is not I, as the small self that does it but it is the Christ Self. And I watch you as you choose more and more quickly now to be in that place of joy. More and more quickly not to be in that place of judging self even though you have been in it since the moment before that in great energy. We will put it that way, great energy.

"Jeshua, why isn't this happening right? Jeshua, fix this for me. Oh well, I know you can't fix it for me. I have to do it myself." Ever said that? Of course you have. No, I can't fix it for you, but I am your cheerleader and I think it is wondrous how you choose more and more quickly now to be in the space of joy, the space of love, to be flexible.

We have spoken that this year is a year of opportunity. Already you have had many opportunities to either be in resistance or to be in joy. To be in the place of questioning or to be in the place that says, "Well, I trust. I sure don't see it, but I trust."

It is a grand year that you are putting together for yourself. It is a year of opportunity. And you will find that the times of resistance get to be less and less because you do not desire to be in that space... except yourself and now you are choosing to say, "I want to smile. I want to feel alive. I want to know I'm okay. I want to laugh and love again, to be free."

And so you are releasing all of the old judgments, the self-image that said that you could only be a certain way and life could only be a certain way. And that my family has always been a certain way therefore I have to be that way. You are saying, "No, my family is of the heart. I am free to choose."

You are free to choose to be the disciple to the highest and best, to search always for the Christ of you. To read what is inspirational. To listen to your messages that are inspirational. To commune with that which uplifts you. To be with others who are of like mind to uplift you. To be in that space of Christ.

Now that is not to say that you will scorn the world. For you have chosen to be in the world. You have said, "I will come one more time to suffer the slings and arrows of the world. But I have come to be a light in the world. And by being that light, I will know my own light and I will know my own Christ."

So you will not scorn the world, you will work in it remembering who you are. Being the joyful one even amidst all of the sorrow of the world. You will not deny appearances of other when they are suffering. You will not deny that there is disease and that there is sorrow in the world. But you will hold the higher vision. You will know that this is but part of the adventure and that there is something more to be known, to be experienced and to be expressed.

And you will allow others to know for you have seen the higher vision. It doesn't mean that you will always live in that space, but you have seen a higher vision. You know what it looks like to behold with holy vision. You know what it feels like to be in love and to care about others and to want to encourage them. That is what the Christ does.

The Christ remembers who she is and encourages others to know the Christ that they are. The Christ encourages others to feel the love of the Father which is always there for you. Otherwise you would not be.

For the love of the Father is not just equated to human love as to what you understand human love to be. Human love is but the symbol, the beginning, the understanding of what love, true love is about. True love is that expansiveness that knows no bounds, no judgment, no conditions. It is energy that is free from before time. It is the spirit of you. It is the Christ of you. And as you know some of that, as you bring that into this experience of life, it transforms your life and it transforms all others who come into your presence. You know that. You have seen that. For as you will hold the sincere heart, others then have opportunity to be in the presence of true love and miracles happen.

Already you have seen miracles happen in this week and you will continue to see miracles happen. For each and every part of this time, this Advance, if you will. Each and every part is a miracle that builds upon itself. The times when you will go casually sight-seeing and you think of this just for fun. It is child's play and it is what you are about, remembering the holy Child that you are.

Times when you will come together with a focus of energy for healing, for upliftment. That brings forth the miracle of the child at play as well. That brings forth the miracle of knowing the Christ and knowing that you serve that Christ.

Choose you well in every day whom you will serve. What you will be disciple to. Choose you well to serve the Christ of you and to know the joy of that Christ. That is why you have come forth into this lifetime. Not just to put so many days and so many years behind you, to mark off the x's on the calendar and to turn another page, another year, to celebrate another time. It is not just to put in your time, but it is to know the Christ and to go truly alive, joyous with the song in the heart as the Christ that you are. To serve that Christ in everyday in every moment. And if you slip off the trail, what do you do then?

Slide all the way down.

Yes, and you enjoy the adventure all the way. Then you pick yourself up. You dust yourself off and on you go again. You say, "Well, that's one thing. Now I've been there, done that. I know that one." And you do.

The commitment to discipleship is a most important one. You have already made decision to be committed to the discipleship of your own Christ. There is a seeking, a searching, a hunger if you will, within yourself that will not be filled until you know the Christ of you. But it takes some conscious deciding. It takes some conscious awareness. For long enough you have gone through lifetimes not being conscious of who you are. So long that you now have come to the place where you have said, "Okay, I want to choose anew. I want to know. I want to know the Christ."

And in saying that for many lifetimes it equated with knowing a savior outside of yourself. And you have said, "I want to know the Christ." Then you looked to the brothers and sisters. You looked to ones who would be in authority because you gave them that authority, and you looked to them as being above you. Being able to know more than you do. Being able to save you from whatever they said you had to be saved from.

And yet, the hunger, the thirst within it was not fulfilled. There was still a longing for you have come once again to serve, to remember and to celebrate.

For that is what the holy Child does, she goes through all of the challenges, all of the devastation, all of the times when the ego will speak to you that everything is falling apart, everything that you have held dear is being taken from you. And you feel that you are going to lose yourself in it. In truth, you do. You lose your self, the small self. But in losing the small self you gain the Self -- with a capital "S". You gain the strength the knowing that I am invincible. Of course you are. You are your Father's child. I cannot be lost. I have never been abandoned. I am most strong, wondrous being.

And there comes a moment, a moment of revelation when you realize, "I am the Christ that I seek. I had thought it to be someone else. I thought it would be Jesus, Jeshua, an ascended master. I thought it had to be the priest, the rabbi. I thought it had to be the great scholar. I thought it was the scientist. I thought it was the government. I thought my savior, my Christ was someone else." And there comes a moment of revelation of great joy and you awaken and you say, "I Am the Christ that I seek."

And what happens then beloved brother?

You begin to live it.

Yes, you begin to live it. Quite freely. Quite joyously. And you cannot hold it back. It as a flow, a great flow of energy that cannot be stopped. You go high and low looking where can I gift this? Who can I gift this love to? Who can I serve in this moment? And everyone you meet receives your love because you cannot hold it back. You have so much that you are free and overflowing with it. I am the Christ that I seek.

Choose you well whom you will serve. Be consciously aware, to look for the Christ within yourself and within others. Lay hold of that knowing, that feel, that true experience of I Am the Christ. You will transform everything, everything that you see and do. You will find yourself living in great joy.

As I always say to you when I come, my greeting to you: I come in great joy for that is your nature. That is the nature of the Christ. How does it feel to be Christ? It feels joyful. It feels free. It feels empowered. It feels invincible. It feels uplifted, and it feels holy.

Now, it has been my grand joy to converse with you in this manner, to speak with you about what you have asked me to speak to you about. To begin as you would see a very accelerated process in this week's timing of speaking of the Christ that you are and how to know that Christ.

What we have spoken of this evening does not seem in words, in concepts to be very erudite, and yet it is profound. You are the Christ that you seek. Allow yourself to be committed to serving the Christ of you. On the next evening we will speak of what the Christ does. We will speak of the creations of the Christ and wondrous they are.

Until then, allow yourself to be uplifted by the beautiful tones of our songbird. Thank you beloved one.
