

The Awakened Healing Consciousness

1998-10-17

Pittsburg

Beloved and holy and only child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one source, child of light divine. That is who you are. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen once again to call me forth. Great joy beloved ones for indeed that is your divine nature, your divine birthright.

Your birthright is not to have to suffer, not to walk the world heavily laden but your divine birthright is joy. Happiness. Bliss, if you will, the place of knowing true love. The place of knowing that the Father loves that which He has created which is you. And to come Home once again in the remembrance of that love.

To be able to put aside all of the cares and worries of the world. To be able to put aside all of the questions of the mind and to come once again unto that sacred place where I wait to welcome you. In every moment you are welcome in my heart and I hope I am welcome in yours.

We have in this evening a grand reunion of the family once again, yes. Some family members who have felt perhaps you did not know the other ones yet and yet I will say to you that in truth you have journeyed with these other ones many times in the seeking, in the searching of wanting to remember, "Who am I? Why am I here and what is life all about?"

All of you, family members, there is nothing that happens by accident for indeed you call it all together, you call it into your experience. Not to have to learn something. Not to have to pay back or even to balance old karma, but to call it all forth for the gift of it.

You have a saying in your world that every cloud has its silver lining. Well indeed every experience that you call forth has its gift, its blessing in it and there is nothing that comes to you by accident for indeed everything that you experience you have invited to be within your experience.

And as I have just said, not in order to suffer, not in order to have to learn something or to pay back, balance old karma, but to be able to look upon it with new eyes and to see the blessing in it and to rejoice even in what the ego would call a challenge.

Now that indeed will push the ego a bit. For the ego does not understand that is not its function. The ego's function as we have spoken in many times is to look upon every belief which you hold and to point out for you in that moment where you are abiding with that belief. To point out to you how you are looking upon every situation. That is the function of the ego. It is to be a messenger. It is to bring you a message. It is to say to you, "This is what you are believing in this moment." And if you are in an experience and it feels very difficult, very challenging and the ego comes and speaks to you of the difficulty of it, the ego is mirroring for you the belief that you have held and are holding in that moment. This is its only function.

It is not to trip you up. It is not to have a power separate from you, but it is to be a messenger that speaks to you and says, "Take hold now, with clarity to understand what you are believing about yourself, what you are believing about the world, about the brothers and sisters."

To take into your awareness the information and then to choose anew. Then to extend, to open up the vision to the place where you know holy vision. To the place where you are the beholder, you stand back from it and you ask to see what is truly going on? I want to see the whole picture. I want to know holy vision. Not just part for often times you go through life experience with tunnel vision and you see just part of what is going on.

And if you are focusing only upon part you do not understand, you do not see the reason, you do not see the whole and sometimes quite often, in fact, you can get caught up in the tunnel and you go looking for the light at the end of the tunnel, yes, but not realizing that the light is all around you and that the tunnel is of your own making, your own perception.

For even in that moment when you feel you are having tunnel vision and you see that there is the darkness around, that is your perception that there would be, could be darkness and yet all of the time you are light.

So, when the ego will speak to you abide with it to hear its message. Do not deny it. Do not try to put it behind you and say, "I am not going to listen to you." For indeed it will follow along and it will pull on the raiment, on the coattails and it will say, "Listen to me," until finally you have to listen to it.

But abide with it. Listen to the message and then ask for holy vision. Ask to see the whole of what is going on. And when you do I will assure you there will be joy and rejoicing for indeed then you will see how every part fits together with divine purpose and divine integration to serve the awakening of the holy child.

Why are you here? You are here because you have agreed to be here. In any moment, if you did not have the agreement to be here, you would release the body and you would be off somewhere. But you have agreed that you will be here for a certain time interval. You have agreed that you will anchor your light upon this plane and that you will come in full realization to know the joy and the love of the Father and to play as the child that you are.

You have agreed that you will be the awakened, holy consciousness. You have agreed that you will know yourself to be your Father's child. You will know, you have agreed that you will know a new heaven and a new earth for indeed once the revelation comes in its fullness of who you truly are, why you are here, immediately you will transform your world and everything that is within it and upon it. That is how powerful you are.

So when life brings to you certain experiences which you call challenges, that you may call confusion, sorrowful perhaps, allow yourself first of all to sit with that message. In other words, do not deny that it has the appearance and the feeling of challenge, of confusion, of sorrow even. But then breathe, go within and ask for holy vision. Ask, "How does my Father see this?" And you will find in that moment there will be transformation for you will feel a burden being lifted. You will feel light coming into this situation. For indeed your Father does not know judgment, heaviness, darkness.

So if you do not see at first the holy vision, ask of yourself, your higher Self as you would call it perhaps, ask to see the holy vision, to see through the Father's eyes. How does my Father see this? The one Creator. How does He see it? What is going on? How can I see this anew?

For indeed this new vision, this holy vision, the awakened holy consciousness is most needed in these days. You are bringing forth a most wonderful time upon your reality, your plane. You are bringing forth a most wonderful time. A challenging time, yes. A squeezing time. You feel like you are being squeezed. There is not enough time. There is not enough energy to do all that you want to do. There are so many things coming at you information wise that you don't have time to attend to all of it and there is so much coming into your conscious awareness of what the brothers and sisters are doing and facing and having to choose and sometimes you are being drawn into their dramas that you feel a squeezing. You feel that you are being thrust into an accelerated pace and you are because you have decreed that you will know a certain acceleration to bring you to a place, a choice point where you must choose what is true, what is good, what is holy, what is eternal.

And you will call for, already you have been doing this because you have been strengthening the spiritual muscles, and you will call forth all of the remembrance from other lifetimes, all of the revelations and the inspiration that you have garnered in other lifetimes and in this as well to serve you in the choice points, the choice times.

For indeed you no longer have the luxury which was not always a luxury, of sitting a whole lifetime within an issue. Now the issues are coming fast and furious. Not only your issues but the issues of brothers and sisters with whom you are associated, with whom you feel a heart connection and in truth, this is anyone whom you hold in your conscious awareness.

For there is no separation. This is what you are beginning to prove to yourself that as you see brothers and sisters walking the earth, going through their challenges there is a relatedness within you that say, "I understand. I know somewhat of what they are feeling." And it is almost as you could step into their shoes for a moment or so and feel what they are facing and sometimes it doesn't feel very good.

There are times when you ask brothers and sisters to step into your shoes for a moment or so and to share with you their understanding of what you are facing. This is a time of extending support of love to brothers and sisters, of extending understanding and allowance and also asking from other ones, they will be willing to spend with you a moment or so in support, in love and understanding. In prayer, if you will. Of having the courage to ask ones, "Will you pray for me? I am facing a certain decision. I have certain cares, concerns that seem to be beyond my human understanding. Will you pray with me and for me? Will you ask of your guides and teachers and masters, of your higher Self for holy vision which you can share with me?"

This is a time now, a holy time where you are having to prove to yourself the non-separation of the one holy child. That is why it is such a wonderful time and yet such a squeezing time as in a birth. For in a birthing there is an amount of squeezing as the new one is birthed, a bit of labor, a bit of effort, a bit of joy, celebration.

But in the moment of the pushing there is known to be certain squeezing and the small one even though the higher Self of the small one will know that it is in divine order, the small one might say if it could at that moment, might say, "Let us remain with the status quo. It is comfortable in here." And yet the higher Self of that one knows as your higher Self knows even in this time of birthing, of squeezing that it is a most wonderful process that will bring you to the awakened holy consciousness which you desire to know.

It cannot be forced upon you but you can accept it and claim it, the holy consciousness. Indeed you are the one who has decreed that you have walked this plane in darkness long enough. You are the one who has decreed that you want to be birthed into the light. You want to be birthed into the awakened consciousness of the holy child.

Therefore, everything in creation rearranges itself to accommodate the divine desire of the holy child. And if some of those accommodations seem to bring forth challenges, abide with the message of the ego and say, "Yes, that is the habitual way I have looked at it in the past. I know that perception. I have been there. I have done that. I not only have bought the T-shirt, I have designed it. I know it well. But now it is time for a new T-shirt, it is time for a new vision and breathe and go within and ask. And what you ask for can never be denied you.

These are wondrous times upon your plane. You have devised because you desire to know non-separation, you have devised the most wonderful technology that brings you instantaneously into the awareness of the consciousness of many brothers and sisters. You have the technology that brings communication. Yes, it is fun is it not? Yes, brings you your e-mail, your electronic mail, the communication that is instantaneous. Already in some years past you had the communication of your telephone, your far hearing. You could pick this up and dial someone's numbers if you knew what they were. You could speak with them. Now you have devised another way that is as instantaneous.

You have the rooms where you can speak with ones on your internet, again most symbolic wording, internet. You have your chat rooms where you can chat back and forth about any subject with brothers and sisters upon whom you have not laid the eyes perhaps, and maybe in this lifetime you will not ever see them with the physical eyes and yet you will see into their heart through your conversations. Perhaps a more direct route to truth than what appearances sometimes.

You have a vast technology serving brothers and sisters who are in the arena called your media who bring you awareness of what is happening with brothers and sisters in your neighborhood, in your country, across the face of our holy Mother the earth and even occurrences in your universe from time to time. These brothers and sisters have agreed that they will serve you in bringing to your consciousness, your awareness events, circumstances, situations that are going on with brothers and sisters all over.

And you get a chance to walk in the brother's and sister's footsteps, in their sandals. You get to feel a oneness with them if you dare. For there is still a certain choice of armoring. There is still a certain time you have decreed for yourself that you can still choose to be armored and to say, "Well what is happening halfway around the face of our holy Mother the earth concerns me not. It is too bad that ones are living in horrendous situations, in violence, in judgment, in poverty, in want of all of the physical nurturing. IT is too bad. But what has that to do with me?"

Well, there is a still small voice that is coming to be heard more and more within you and within the collective humankind. A still small voice which is insistent. It says, "Yes, but I understand in a quiet moment, I understand a little bit of what they are facing. And the reason I don't want to sit with it any longer is because it is too horrendous for me to contemplate. It brings up fear within me and I will run from it. For indeed I have been there. I know lifetimes of persecution. I know lifetimes of poverty. I know lifetimes of being the minority that was outcast. I know lifetimes of starvation. I know lifetimes of living every moment in fear and in dread. I don't want that to come up now therefore I am going to say that it concerns me not." But, the still small voice comes back and say, "If it is in your consciousness and in your awareness now, it does concern you."

However, that does not have to be as a heavy. It concerns you, yes, but not in the way that the ego will bring for you the message that says, "There is guilt attached to it. If I don't get in there and I don't save everyone, if I don't make it all right for everyone then I will have to carry the heavy burden of guilt." That is the old message, the message of guilt, the false message of the possibility and responsibility of being someone else's savior.

You cannot be another one's savior. You cannot save another one. No more than I can save you from all of the experiences that you choose to have. You can be there in love for each one of the brothers and sisters who are suffering, who are in a place of constriction. You can be there in love, in non-separation, in prayer, yes. But you cannot save them and that is well and good because they have decreed that the experience they are coming through is what they desire to know completion with and if you were to get in their and change it, to "save them" they would only choose another lifetime to come back and recreate it so that they could know the fullness of that experience.

However, it doesn't mean that you sit idly by and say, "Oh well, that's what you have chosen. Too bad. I'll meet you in the next lifetime." You extend to them what help you can. You extend to them the physical help as much as you are guided to do. More than that, you extend to them the love of the Father, you knowing that they are supported and that they are loved by the Father and that even what they call forth, how horrendous it may look, it is in divine order and the Father never forgets them and you can speak with them in your quiet time and it will be heard at the level of soul. You can speak with them that they are not alone and even though they may not know on a conscious level, you as you see your individuality to be, they will feel a certain upliftment that goes beyond the understanding of the world. There will be a certain seed of hope and that is most needed in this time.

Do what you can as far as physical gifting to help others. Do what you can in sending the message to others who are in a position of dealing directly with brothers and sisters who need the help. Do what you can in sending the message that you are not alone, that there is non-separation. That it is important that love be extended.

You can bring to bear much pressure through a networking. You may not see yourself as thickly in the presence of the brothers and sisters who need you, but your power is unlimited. Your power of persuasion, your power of speaking up for the truth. Your power of saying to anyone within the sound of your voice that that carries quite a ways, "This is what I believe." There is a situation and there are several, many situations going on at this time that need the attention of holy vision and you may bring it and you will bring it to other's attention where they may join with you in well wishing and in well acting. For you will see a transformation.

Think not that you are just a small speck. That not that you are powerless for indeed you are powerful and you are bringing it to your own awareness now of how connected you are, how expert you are in networking so that you can see the thread of love, of your consciousness, of love that spreads to another one to another one to another one to another one who may be in the position of bringing about certain tangible change.

Any event, any circumstance that comes into your awareness you are a part of it. It is in your consciousness if it is in your awareness you are part of it and no longer will you be allowed by your own self, your higher Self to run away from it and deny it.

But as I have said, it is not to be a heavy any longer. It is not to sit in the place of the old way of looking that would take great guilt upon the shoulders and say, "I am powerless. I cannot do anything. I wanted to do something but I can't do anything," and to take from that a guilt.

But it is now for you to see with holy vision. That is what the message is about. When you see brothers and sisters suffering, when it is brought to your awareness by your servants, the media, that there are events and circumstances going on even within your own country. Those events and circumstances, those brothers and sisters who are going through various challenges, they are not separate from you. If it is within your consciousness -- now hear this well. If in this evening you hear nothing else, hear this well. If it is within your consciousness there is no separation and you are involved and it is you who is walking in their sandals.

Then allow yourself the deep breathe and go within and ask for holy vision. Ask for holy consciousness. Ask to see what is truly happening.

Your media is a most wonderful servant. It brings you in a capsule of time events, situations that are happening seemingly miles away from you so that you can sit with those events and circumstances and those brothers and sisters and you can see them in a new light.

You have in this geopolitical collection, this grouping called your country, you have a leader whom you as a majority chose by divine choice to lead you, to be Christ incarnate which he is and which you are, and you asked of this one to be visible human and Christ.

Now this one is always Christ as you are. And this one is human as you are. And you asked of this one, "Please be visible. Let me know your heart." And this one is showing you his heart. Will you show him your heart? What have you in your heart? That is a good question. That is the first question.

It is an opportunity, a most wonderful opportunity that he and the other brothers and sisters who are being visible in this arena are affording you most wonderful opportunity to see drama at its best. And most wonderful opportunity to see where you will abide with this drama.

Have you ever walked in this one's shoes, in his sandals? Can you relate? Now if truth be told, all of you can relate. All of you have made certain choices that perhaps if other brothers and sisters were to know those choices, they would have judgment about.

There is no one walking the face of our holy Mother the earth in this time who has not made choices that could not be held up by other ones, held up to judgment. There are closets that you all have. Some closets are more full than others, but all of you have closets.

So this one and his mate are living most visibly the Pilgrim's Progress, a great drama and the ones of the brothers and sisters who are in the arena of feeling that they have responsibility and power to judge, they are also allowing you great opportunity to see where you will abide. And I have watched you and I know that they push the buttons and that is well and good. That is what it is all about, it serve the divine purpose of allowing you to see where you stand and to see where any little bit of sensitivity yet remains where a button could be pushed.

So when a button is pushed, rejoice. And say, "Ah ha, I didn't even know that was there. Okay. There must be something that I can see now in greater expanded vision. Let me sit with this for a moment and understand why I have such energy on this." And it will gift you new perceptions, new understanding of yourself and of others.

This is a time, these days where you are approaching the ending of a certain age, as you call it, moving into a new age. A new age of understanding of allowance and love.

This time of the ending is a glorious time. It is a time where the angels sing because you are bringing about all in divine order, all of the issues, all of the challenges, all that which has not been seen in holiness to come right up in front of your collective noses so that you can look upon them and choose for holy vision. It is a most wonderful time.

That is why you have chosen to be here at this time. You said, "Ah ha, I know there is going to be great, great drama playing then. I want to be part of it." All of you who are activating the bodies in this day and time, in other words, all of you who know yourselves to be alive in this way, have chosen to be here at this time because of great courage.

You have come through many lifetimes of knowing challenge, of knowing appearances which seem to speak of victimhood and of persecution. You have known many lifetimes of suffering. You have known all of the heaviness of this plane that believes in duality. But you are also close enough to knowing your oneness as the divine child that you are, that you have been able to claim courage and to choose once again to come into this plane which is not an easy plane of reality, to come once again to this plane to play. To go as human, yes, to understand the human conditions and human emotions, to have your hopes and your dreams, your desires and to know the times when those desires don't seem to be met. The times when there is seeming loss, the times of disappointment, the times of confusion and yet even through those challenging times there is a strength deep within you that has said to you when you were ready to throw in the towel, has said to you, "Hang on one more minute, one more day. Hang on. There is hope." And you have said, "Ah yes, what is there to hope for?" But you have held on. And blessed be you because you have held on, because you will know that which you have decreed for yourself as the greatest gift of all, the remembrance of the awakened holy consciousness.

You stand at this time so close to knowing the power, the divine power of who you are. You have glimpsed it in moments and prayer and meditation, moments when everything seemed to fall into place so wonderfully and you were transported by a miracle into a new consciousness.

And that miracle has given birth to other miracles to the place where you now believe in miracles. You know that miracles exist. You stand very, very close to living a consciousness of miracles all the time because you want to know them, you want to see them and that which you ask for cannot be held from you.

If you want to see miracles in your midst, ask for them. Look for them they will be there. If you want to know the sorrow of the world, look for it and you will find it too.

But I say to you, even if you see the sorrow of the world, you now have a new understanding, a new way of looking at even the sorrow of the world and that in itself beloved child is a miracle. So you see you are a walking living breathing miracle. A new consciousness, it is a miracle that you bring to this plane.

These days in which you live most wonderful and yet the most challenging. These times they bring right to you in clarity and in intensity all of the polarity that the holy child has decreed to be a reality -- with a small "r" -- in this time. And it is coming to your consciousness fast and furious.

You have many who out of the courage of their heart are being visible Christ. Who are choosing to release the body so that ones can have opportunity to look upon old limiting beliefs and to sit with those old belief and see whether they serve the awakening holy child or not.

You have a most beloved brother who has recently released the body out of great courage he said he would play this part in the scripting at this time. And he has brought before you and collective humanity within this country, an issue that you have asked him to bring to your consciousness, yours and other's consciousness in this time, to look upon what is love and how it is expressed and how one choose to express it. Lifestyle it is called. Bottom line, it is love.

And this one out of great courage, has played a role in which he has played in other lifetimes. For indeed this issue that comes now right up in front of the face, the collective nose of all of human kind, this issue it is not new in this day and time. You have known the issue of love being expressed in different ways and whether according to society it was looked upon with favor or not with favor. Again, lifestyle choice. It is not new in this time. It is an issue that truthfully you have worked through because you have had it right in your experience in other lifetimes.

If you will receive it, you have chosen in other lifetimes to play that role where you were the outcast of society because there was a feeling within you that you wanted to express love in a different way than what society said was the right and proper way to do it.

So you have known the role, the feelings, the experience of being outcast, of being the minority where the majority judged you. This issue, it is not new in this day and time but it is an issue that brings up, it is as the tip of an iceberg, it brings up many other issues so that you may sit with it. You collectively, you may sit with it and see again how does my Father see this? How do I see it from the perspective of eternity? Not just the perspective of 1998 years in the counting of our Lord. Again an arbitrary choice of time, but not just now from this perspective but allow yourself to be a beholder and see with holy vision what is really going on here?

You have many in this day and time who are choosing to be front and center on the stage playing with great intensity, various roles. You have ones who out of great courage have said, "I will play the minority so that other ones can feel justified in their majority. Justified in judging, In trying to change me. Trying to convert, etc." And you have ones who have opportunity to be in great intensity of emotion and feeling, rage it is called. And to play that part well so that you can look upon it one more time and see where you abide with it and not even to judge the rage.

A bit difficult sometimes. For in this plane that is rooted in the belief in duality there is always the very subtle underlying belief that something is either right or wrong. And if I hold one side of the issue to be right then the other side of the issue has to be wrong. And yet I say unto you, allow yourself to be the beholder and to stand back in the non-judgment to extend love to both extremes of the polarities and to look with the eyes of the Father.

Allow yourself to allow. Abide in allowance. That is what love is. Love allows. Love endures. You have a most wonderful passage in your holy scriptures. Get it out and read it again. Refresh the memory. (1st Corinthians 13) And then abide in that space on non-judgment. In that space of celebration of these days.

For indeed as you will choose to celebrate you will invite into your consciousness the holy consciousness you will invite the awakened consciousness to be foremost. So invite the expanded vision, the expanded understanding and if it is not there in the first moment, ask for it again and breathe and then trust that it will come. For indeed, nothing can be withheld from you when you ask for it.

This is a time not unlike to days when I walked the face of our holy Mother the earth. For in those times there were many issues that were coming up in intensity the same as now. It was oppression, seeming oppression. There were opportunities to play the role of victim. There were opportunities to play the role of temporal power. There were the opportunities to live in love, in simplicity and the opportunity to live in complexity and to see something wrong in every moment and to suffer. The same as this day and time.

But now you are remembering. You are remembering that you have been there. You have completed. You are remembering that the still small voice is not going to stop speaking to you until you attend to it. For indeed you have decreed from the moment of the beginning of time that the still small voice would speak to you throughout all ages and would remind you to come up higher, to come Home.

To come up higher means to lift the perception out of the specific the very small point of focus that says, "Oh my goodness. All of this is happening around me and I am caught in it." To come up higher means to allow yourself to be the beholder, to stand back from it, to ask of the holy vision and the still small voice it has always been your companion. And now you are beginning to attend to it for you know that you cannot silence it.

You can refuse to hear it for a lifetime, many lifetimes perhaps, but always it travels with you because it is you. It is within because it is you. And now in these times, these days where you have much of conflict, much of the portrayal of polarity, much of crucifixion happening over and over again. It is time for the holy child to accept the expanded vision. Time for you to come Home even while activating the body. It doesn't mean you have to release the body and make a transition to another plane of consciousness. But even while you are activating the body to know that you are the awakened holy consciousness living a human life, yes, but understanding it because of the spiritual divine nature of the One holy Child.

Long enough have you crucified me. Long enough have you crucified me. When will you stop crucifying me? When? And when I speak of crucifying me I do not mean one Jeshua ben Joseph. I mean the denial of the Christ which you are. It is time now that you end your own crucifixion and stop denying the Christ which you are. For long enough have you denied your Christhood. Long enough have you played the role that you are separate from the Christ. Long enough have you perpetuated the belief that there could be someone greater, someone separate from you. Someone who could save you because they have magic powers, but that you, you are a worm of the dust. Long enough have you crucified the Christ. Now it is time to awaken and claim the holy consciousness of the Christ which you are and to see all that which happens in your world in holy vision. To extend tangible manifest help where you can. To extend love as the networking which you have set up as it will allow that love to be extended. To know that there is no separation between you and any brother or sister of whom you have knowledge of what they are going through and to pray for them and with them. And to pray, to pray means to hold them in the highest consciousness. To know them as the Christ. That is what pray with them and for them means. It means to know the truth of their being. It doesn't mean to have to go down on the knees until you have great callouses on the knees. It doesn't mean that you have to pray fervently in certain ritual. It doesn't mean that you have to pray to a God far off somewhere and hope and beg and plead that He will pay attention to you. That is not prayer, that is a lot of effort, and that is what it is.

But prayer means to hold another one in the highest consciousness in knowing the Truth of their being, in knowing that they are the Christ which is walking this earth the same as you, or that they are the Christ in a spaceship or that they are the Christ expressing as the farthest out star in the farthest universe that you can imagine and to hold that one in truthful consciousness. That is what prayer is. To know the truth of that one's being. That is how you pray with and for another one.

Is it magical? Yes, in the greatest sense of the word. For it bring about a remembrance of non-separation for you, of course, and also for them. For your love, your revelation, your knowing of who they are and holding them in the highest consciousness is received by them. It cannot be withheld from them. There is nothing that is going to be as a magnetic interference or something that is going to keep it from them and it affords them the opportunity to come up higher in their remembrance.

Now they may or may not in that moment accept it. In other words, there may be still desire for completion of whatever they are going through, but it does register at the place of Truth, the place of Oneness and it will be their strength. It will allow them to go through whatever they have decreed that they have to complete and it brings about upon this plane a most wonderful miracle; the awakened holy consciousness, the Christ consciousness and it is time. It is time.

So when you see events happening, rejoice. Know oneness with everyone who comes into your conscious awareness. Allow yourself the deep breath. Allow yourself to walk in their sandals and then ask for the holy vision for indeed as you walk in their sandals for a moment or two it may feel most constricting and you will very quickly want to have holy vision.

This is a most wonderful time. It is a time of birthing for indeed you have decreed that there will be a new consciousness, a new heaven and a new earth and you have decreed that you will be here for the birthing and that you will come through the birthing even in human experience.

In other words, you will know some of the pain and the travail, but you will also know your Father's will for you. You will also know that every challenge, every gifting and if you look for the gift you will find it.

I rejoice with you because sisters and brothers, you are ones who have journeyed with me in other times. A physical journeying that we made upon the face of our holy Mother, the earth, yes. You have walked with me.

In the lifetime when I was known as Jeshua, yes, and in other lifetimes some of which have been written about. Many of which have not been recorded. For the lifetime that I celebrated as one Jeshua was not the only lifetime. It was not the only lifetime in which we loved and lived and journeyed together.

I walk with you now for indeed you cannot be anywhere that I am not. I walk with you now and I encourage you when you call for encouragement. I walk with you now and I celebrate with you every time you choose for the holy consciousness. I walk with you now as you extend the love of the Father, in the smile, in the hug, in the word of encouragement, in the song that you will give to another one, the upliftment. I speak through you from time to time, oh yes, and I extend the Father's healing love through you often.

These are glorious times. Times of celebration. Give thanks even for what seems to be a challenge for indeed, it is all a great, great completion.

Not because I and other masters have decreed that you must complete certain lessons, but a time of completion because you have decreed that you will know the fulfillment of all of the roles of the scripting of the creative holy child. Great actors and actresses you are and you play your part very well.

But this is a time of birthing and this is a time of celebration. It is a time of having all of the issues come right up so that you cannot avoid them. It is a time of abiding in love and in allowance. It is a time of listening to the ego and yes, to see what its message is and see what the first response, reaction, judgment will be and then to take the deep breath and to abide in the place of the beholder, the place of the Christ and to see through the Father's eyes.

For indeed in the next few years of your timing you are going to see much of upheaval. But this is nothing new. You have come through it in other lifetimes. You have come through it even in this lifetime. But now you are beginning to understand the purpose and you are beginning to know that you can celebrate it and that is a great change upon this plane.

Now, beloved one, know that my love always goes with you for indeed there is no separation. You cannot go anywhere that I am not and in truth, I cannot go anywhere that you are not. It is a great company of the One.

Know that you have agreed that you will be upon this plane at this time. Not to suffer but to celebrate. Know that you have agreed that all of the questions that come up in order that you will know holy understanding. To celebrate all of the questions and celebrate all of the answers and celebrate the awakening consciousness that claims finally in time, I am the awakened Christ. I am my Father's child.

So be it.
