Jeshua Talks about Columbine High School

1999-04

Beloved one, I have heard you asking why the violence occurred in the place of learning in the Little town in Colorado. I have heard you ask, how could children wreak such havoc upon children, Children shooting other Children. And many of you are asking what you can do to help those who find themselves in such a situation of sorrow and upheaval of all that they have believed to be safe and sacred.

Know, beloved one, that these are the times which you collectively have decreed will bring to conclusion the belief in separation. For the acts which you witnessed came from a belief in separation, a belief of being separate from the peers, from the family, and from a Higher Source. You collectively have decreed that you will experience the results of the belief in separation to the place where there will be a choice point, a time of coming back together again. And already you are seeing this happen in the community so affected by the happenings, and by the extended community — ones reaching out to support, comfort and understand. You have witnessed many such examples of the belief in separation recently: in the other places of learning, where learning/Remembrance was given an opportunity to come forth, and recently in the mass exodus of your brothers and sisters from the area known as Kosovo. You have been witnessing much that has grown from the soil of separation.

Now you see ones who so recently found themselves in similar situation [Jonesboro, AR; Moses Lake, WA; Springfield ORI reaching out to sustain the family members who find themselves experiencing trauma. You have seen a worldwide outpouring of Love to help the Kosovar family. It is, in Truth, a time of great healing, although appearances would suggest otherwise.

Anything which is not Love is now coming into visibility to be healed. All of the old energy is, in Truth, being transmuted into healing, into Remembrance of One. All of the old wounds which have resulted from a false belief will become apparent and will cry out to be healed once and for all.

Abide, beloved one, in the dwelling place of the Most High. Let your thoughts be lifted up from the appearance of the world. Believe in the divine outworking of good, look for the good wherever possible. As often as is possible within your daily routine, remember the brothers and sisters who have volunteered to be visible Christ upon this plane to bring to conclusion the belief in separation. Love these ones, breathe Love into the space you believe to be between you, and then KNOW that the Love you have just sent forth connects you for all time and beyond. Verily, there is no separation. For the Child, the Energy of Life, is One.

Love these ones as I have loved you.
