

Opening Whistler Advance

1999-07-21

Thank you beloved one, do you feel the peace? Yes, that you have brought collectively and individually to this space. Father, I and the Father are one. You have heard that said and it is true for you. For when you have come into that space of peace that is the place of oneness, the place of great power. It is the space of love.

Beloved and holy and only child of our heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of light divine, that is who you are. Take it deeply within the consciousness and contemplate what it means for indeed, deeply within the consciousness you find the peace of the inner wisdom that reveals to you all that you are and ever have been and ever will be. Most wonderful beautiful child of the Father.

I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen once again to call me forth. We have spoken often that great joy is your birthright. It is your divine nature. Joy, the innocence of joy to know that yes, you are okay. You are loved of the Father always and forever. That no matter what you would do, where you would go, what you would say, always you are beloved of the Father. And when you are in that space of knowing how loved you are and how much love you are, it brings forth a wellspring of joy for what else is there to do but to be in joy. It is your true nature.

I thank you for accepting my invitation to be here in this gathering this evening for indeed this gathering is a most special one. Now in truth I do not speak of specialness. I speak of equalness, of wholeness, of holiness, but you are decreeing that this will be a special time together and it will be a time that you will remember for the rest of your years of this lifetime and you will call it special because it will be a high-light, a high time in the memory and in the remembrance.

For indeed that is what you are collectively desiring to know is remembrance and you will remember this gathering and you will remember the revelations that come forth in these days together. So I thank you for having the courage to make choice, to do whatever it took to gather here for all of you had choices to make. All of you wondered at one point or another, would it be possible? Could you arrange everything? Could you find someone to take care of what needed to be taken care of at home? Could you grant to yourself the freedom to come? Could you grant to yourself the golden coins that it would take to be here? Could you ask of your employer that you would have the time off to do this? And you found creative ways to have that freedom.

Each and every one of you had the challenges to overcome creatively and you did most creatively for you solved each and every question that came up and here you are and I will say unto you that you will find these days that you spend in the heart with your family will be most valuable as you deem value and most valuable to the Christ which you are.

For indeed you have termed these times, the Christos Intensives, times to remember the Christ. And it begins with a decision to honor and remember and to serve the Christ. Now that decision you collectively and individually have made in what you would see as several lifetimes ago, this is not the first lifetime that you have heard the inner voice, the still small voice calling to you. It has been a process of time as you believe in process, a process of time of asking what more is there to life? What more? Who am I? Why am I here? Surely there has to be more to life and you have sought me. You have sought the teacher, the wise one, the gurus, the master and you have asked, "What is life all about?"

{A cell phone is ringing in the classroom}

Life is about joy. It is about vibration. It is about humor. It is about creativity. You technology is most wonderful for now you have found what has always been true that you are not out of communication with anyone anywhere you go.

{Laughter}

No apology needed. For indeed you have found the way of technology to prove to yourself what has always been true. That you are in common union, communication with all of the brothers and sisters, all of the seemingly individuated parts of the holy Child always and forever. And now you have gotten around to making the technology, the piece of plastic that you can hold up to your ear, that you can speak into it and instantly they are there. Instantly they can call you and you are there.

You have your most miraculous technology, your instruments, you keep them always with you. You take them everywhere into your most private room where you want to be in communion at all times. It is a good teaching and it was not by accident it happened. It is not the first time, beloved one, that we have done what you call the team teaching. {Laughter} And it will not be the last time either.

Now, these times that you call the gatherings, that you call the Christos Intensives are times when you have decreed you want to come together and to come into a remembrance of the Christ. And for many lifetimes you thought that the Christ was embodied in a master, a teacher, someone above you, someone such as one Yeshua, Jeshua that you would put on a pedestal or other masters or teachers and you would serve and honor the Christ of me and of those teachers thinking yourself to be somewhat below not quite holy, not quite perfect enough, but desiring to know whatever the teacher could share with you and you have studied, you have read, you have asked and when you ask ye shall receive and you are now receiving the inner knowing. That in truth, I yes, am the Christ but so are you.

You are Christ incarnate as you have chosen once again to bring forth a coalescence of light energy into form, the body, and to have a human experience. You are the Christ incarnate. You are the light of spirit that activates the body and you are now in process of remembering just how wonderful that is, how freeing it is to be in touch with the Christ of you.

You have found your pathway to the Christ, many of you through me and through other teachers as well. But now you are coming to the place where you can sit in quietness and you can receive your own information, your own inner wisdom will speak to you.

It is a time now when the Christ is asking to be remembered and to be brought forth in manifest form and in realized awareness. That is what you are being called upon to do in this day and time, it is to remember why you are here. It is to remember that you have agreed that you will be Christ incarnate and that you will serve the Father by remembering you are His child and that you will serve the brothers and sisters in joy and in love, in peace, in song, in every way that spreads harmony and enlightenment.

How do you find the Christ? First of all it is by providing an opportunity for peace, an opportunity to listen to the still small voice within. You provide a quiet time within everyday. It need not be now a time when you sit in certain position. It need not be a time that you have certain ritual about it. You do not have to light a candle although that is most beautiful. You do not have to light the incense although that is most beautiful. You do not have to have any specialized form, but you do need and you do want to set aside some time for communion with the Christ even if it be when you are in your most wonderful waterfall known as your shower. Even if it be when you are doing the daily chores around your dwelling place, doing the dishes perhaps, something where you are perhaps busy with the hands but the mind, the mind can go within.

For many of you a sacred time you have set aside for going within and you have your rituals about it and that is most beautiful. It is a bit like you would add the icing on the cake. It is most wonderful.

For indeed you are most creative being the one creation of the one Creator. Your nature is to be creative and therefore, you bring forth most wondrous creations. And so you have created for yourself that which serves as an avenue to the within of you. It begins with the opportunity to go within. It begins with the simplicity of the deep breath. One deep breath instantly you are in communion with the spirit of you. You see how peaceful it is, one deep breath and it allows space for the spirit of you to be in communion with the awareness, the human awareness and to know that in truth you are never separate. And the spirit of you, the higher Self of you, the God Self of you, the Christ of you and never separate one from another and never separate from me.

I have watched you as you have been gifting to yourself the most wonderful avenues of going within, the expanded consciousness, the expanded realization and the joy that awaits you there, the peace and the love. I have watched you as you have made for yourself the most wonderful atmosphere of beauty.

You will find in these days that we will spend together just now, you will find that there will be some of you who will receive instruction to make places of beauty that will be for you inspirational and also for brothers and sisters an opportunity for inspiration. Some of you have already seen the vision and heard of the inspiration and there will be more of that that will be gifted to you as you ask. To find the Christ of you, it is simplicity itself. It is the opportunity, it is the deep breath, it is the beauty, it is the joy and it is the discipline.

Now the separated ego will say, "Oh, oh, there's the bad part. Discipline, I knew he would come around to that sooner or later." Separated ego, we have talked about the separated ego and its role in human experience. Its role is to give you information as to where you are abiding in that moment. It comes on your stage of awareness and it says, "What about?" and it will throw up in front of you all kinds of questions, all kinds of what ifs. That is its job. It is to stand in front of you and to say, "How do you feel about...?" whatever you are facing. And to throw up all of those what ifs that could possibly be imagined and to challenge you from time to time.

But the separated ego has no power over you, the Christ. Indeed the separated ego is your creation within this dimension in this reality. The separated ego is your servant. The separated ego comes before you just as a certain report card perhaps to say, "How do you feel about the possibility of...?" whatever it is. So separated ego will say to you, "Discipline is hard. You're probably not up to it. You'll probably have to wait until another lifetime. You can try but you are probably not going to succeed." That is separated ego.

Discipline comes with choosing. Choosing for beauty, and you will find that you choose for the peace and feeling good and feeling happy and feeling Christlike more and more easily each time you do choose for it because it feels so good. It is a bit like Beloved Elder and the chocolate. {Laughter} You will choose to be in that space of Christedness because it feels so healing. It feels so peaceful. It feels so empowering.

Separated ego has been your companion for many, many lifetimes because you have asked it to be there. Separated ego comes and carries baggage for you. Limited beliefs from other lifetimes. Separated ego is very good at carrying baggage.

A lot of arms.

Yes, a lot of arms. It carries a lot of baggage. But separated ego is your servant and has no power over you and whenever you say to separated ego, "Okay you can put that down and get off the stage." Separated ego will go. It has to because you will be choosing to abide in the space of the I Am Ego, the holy Ego. The true I Am of You.

And you choose for it in a moment when you breathe and it feels good. The separated ego runs in from the wings off of the stage and runs in from the wings and says, "Look, I found another baggage." And you say, "Okay, very good. Put it down and you may go." And you take another deep breath and it feels very peaceful and very good and separated ego comes back and says, "I found a duffle bag. Guess what it has in it?" And you say, "Okay. That is all right," and you keep choosing to dismiss separated ego. That is the discipline.

But you choose not because you should. You choose because it feels holy to abide in the space of the I Am Ego. It feels holy because that is your true nature and it feels good. And you find that after awhile you are not at the mercy of the separated ego any longer. You thought you were. You thought separated ego was going to overpower you that it was going to come with whole truckloads of old baggage and you thought that you would never get through all of the baggage it was going to bring to you.

But you find that after awhile the baggage that separated ego finds, and I'll tell you it will be very busy in the wings looking and looking under everything to find a small piece. The pieces will grow smaller and smaller and lighter and lighter and you will go as you are right now, with a great smile on your face for indeed you have come Home to the realization of I Am the holy Child. I am loved and I am okay. I am the Christ. By gum, or by God. Exactly, by Christ yourself.

You have agreed, each and everyone of you that you will be disciples once again. Each and every one of you have walked with me. Each and every one of you have been with me in that lifetime that is so famous and written about. Each and every one of you have been disciples in other lifetimes as you see lifetimes to be. Why do you suppose there is such a strong feeling in this day and time to find me once again and to know my personally? You see it was written in your holy scriptures that the multitudes came unto me and the multitudes became disciples of the truth that my Father gave to you through me.

There are many in this day and time who seek the Christ in different ways but there is sincerity of heart of wanting to find again the Christ. Sometimes the search the goal seems to find the personality of one Jesus and to call that the Christ and to stop there. But for many of you and the brothers and sisters, the search does not stop there any longer. The search goes within to know the Christ of yourself, the Christ that is eternal. And you have decreed, you have agreed that this lifetime you will be disciples once again, disciples of the Christ. Not disciples just of the personality of one Jesus, one Jeshua, but disciples of the true Christ and to remember, truly remember who the Christ is and to come Home in that remembrance.

For indeed all of you are as the prodigal son/daughter. You have experienced many journeys in many far lands even in this lifetime you have traveled far and you have tried many experiences. You have done completion with many of those dramas, adventures. You have done completion because you have said, "I want to go back to that experience. I want to see what that feels like completely. I want to know it intimately and to be done with it.

So you have found in this lifetime it has been quite a lifetime of a thread that has gone on detours seemingly, has woven itself here and there and you have questioned at times, "Why did I choose a certain career and then choose another career? Why did I choose to live in a certain location and then I moved and I moved and I moved again? Why, etc., did I experience all of the things I have experienced?" It is because you decreed that you wanted to know the intimate completion to the place where you now say, "I am complete with all of that. I know how that feels. I know how it feels to be loved. I know how it feels to be abandoned. I know how it feels to be rich. I know how it feels to be truly rich. I know how it feels to be almost the bag lady /bag person. I know how it feels to work with separated ego that says, "Oh, oh, tomorrow you won't have two golden coins to rub together. What are you going to do?"

You have experienced the substances that have allowed you escape and those substances you have brought forth from your creativity as the holy Child to serve you in your journey of wanting to know, "What more, what more can I experience?" And after you have done with the certain substances that have allowed you escape and other adventures into other dimensions, then you have said, "Well there is a lot of adventure within this dimension. I'll see what else I can get into." And you have gotten into it, whatever it is.

But you have agreed that there will come a time in this lifetime a most powerful, wonderful time of remembrance of the Christ of you and that then from that place you will do as you have been already doing, but you will serve from that place because there is nothing left to do when you realize that you are holy Christ. You are whole, wonderful, perfect. Already there is nothing left to do but to serve the brothers and sisters who are still searching.

You have decreed that within this lifetime there will come a time, a point when you will awaken and you will say, "I feel free. I feel as the Christ. I know myself to be one with the Father." You have decreed that there will be that realization.

I will give it to you as a guarantee and I can do that. I have it on good authority. I have it on your authority because you are the ones. You have said, "This is the lifetime." Is this the only lifetime? No, for in truth there have been other lifetimes when you have realized the Christ of you. When you have been as the teachers, the masters who have walked in this dimension, this reality and you have assumed the cloak of forgetfulness to serve the brothers and sisters, to be like them as you have done in this lifetime. And there have been other lifetimes when you have known, realized, brought into manifest form and expression the Christ and it calls to you now because you have it within you that memory. Because it is just below what you see is a surface awareness.

It is like your computers, you have that program already in there just waiting for you to activate it and already you are well in process of activating that program. Otherwise you would not be here. There would not be the feeling within the heart that I want to know all of me. I want to know the holiness of me. I want to come Home in great love.

So it calls to you, the inner Self and I say unto you that this lifetime there will come a time not very long from now when you will realize that one Jesus, one Jeshua was Christ and is Christ yes, from before time began and beyond the purpose of time. But I am also one with one Jesus, one Jeshua, one Yeshua. I am one with the Father. I am Very Christ Itself otherwise I would not be and that is true.

Whenever separated ego comes running in onto your stage from the wings bringing you one more piece of baggage, you remember that I am very Christ otherwise I would not be even having this experience. That is how powerful the Christ, you, are. So you can tell separated ego, "Thank you. You have been my companion for many, many lifetimes and I know you well. You have served me. You have carried baggage for me, but now you may be dismissed. Go pick up your check at the window and be gone."

This is a time of discipleship. It is a holy time. I speak of this gathering, I speak of this evening but I also speak of this year in your timing for you have decreed that this is going to be a most momentous time. You have voices speaking to you on all sides that with the new millennium which you are bringing about as the creative child, there is going to be change, there is going to be opportunity for great change. And depending on the basis of that voice it will be either telling you of all of the disasters that can happen, all of the things that you have to watch out for or it may be telling you of all of the beauty and joy, the remembrance of the Christ that will be coming into your realization into manifest experience.

You have heard already in the last few months of your timing, you have heard voices of doom and gloom and you have heard voices which have said, "You don't have to listen to the doom and gloom. Focus upon, realize, affirm, bring into the realized awareness that which is good and true and beautiful. And more and more you have voices joining in that chorus. Why? Because separated ego is getting finished with its job. Because you have decreed it is time to arise up now and return unto my Father's house. To remember from whence I have come and to go Home in joy.

So within the next year of your timing you are going to see great changes. For some of the brothers and sisters who have focused upon what could go wrong they will see things going wrong because they are looking for it and they will create it and that is okay. For those of you who know that the Christ is now coming into it own, its own realization and manifest expression, you are going to see the Christ more and more and experience the Christ more and more within your awareness because you are going to be looking for it. And every time you see the Christ, every time you see love, a kind word, support you are going to say, "Ah ha, it is the Christ at work." And the Christ will grow then in your awareness. It has to.

As the creative one which you are, you have brought forth many, many journeys, many adventures because you have asked what you could know. You have asked, "What else is there to experience?" And so you have brought forth dimensions, many, many, many dimensions unlimited in truth, limited as you understand concept in this point of focus, but in truth unlimited experiences because you are creative.

Many of your creations then you have judged to be wrong, bad, harmful, sorrowful, threatening, challenging, you name it. You have said, "Oh I don't want to go there again. I don't even want to be in this position," and you have called out to me and you have called out to the Father and you have said, "Save me." And in that moment you have been saved.

Now the realization of being saved perhaps has not come into your awareness at that point. For you have at all times what you would see to be guides, teachers, angels, loved ones around you cheering you on. Always I am with you cheering you on, uplifting you. Saying to you, "Yes, you can do it. Yes, beloved one I know who you are. I love you." Always whenever you have called out to me, instantly and before you call I am with you and you have been saved from whatever was the troubling situation if you would but accept the saving.

There is no place that you can be that I am not. And in truth there is no place that I can be that you are not. And when you find yourself in the valley of the shadow of death, the valley of the shadow of whatever you fear, I am with you there. And the saving comes with the simplicity of the shift in perception of realizing I am the creative one that brought this forth. How wonderful of me. Well if I brought this forth there must be good in it somewhere. Immediately with that realization you transform whatever has been going on.

What transforms it? You do. Your shift in perception and your way of looking at it and instantly you are saved. Saved from all of what the separated ego would suggest to you could be the most horrible of circumstances. So whenever you get into a position where there is the possibility that you would want to be saved from something take the deep breath. Breathe in all of the inspiration of spirit that you can take in. Call upon me and all of the angels, archangels, loved ones, guides, teachers, masters, anyone who can help and then claim that this is a most wondrous creative situation I have brought forth for the express purpose of knowing how creative I am.

That is why you do it. And then to breathe love into the situation and to begin to get very busy to look for the blessings in it. Now separated ego again will say, "You're not going to find any blessings in that. You are going to have to really search high and low, look under every rock to find anything good about this situation."

But again you will find that as you begin to find one little bit and you do, you find the companions, you find the friends, you find an inspirational person who has been with you, someone and you begin to praise that. You begin to focus upon even what is a small point perhaps. It will grow. And of course you have the most wonderful healing tool within this dimension. It is called time. Time heals everything. In other words, it gives you the opportunity for a change, a shift in perception. It gives you time to see things differently.

You have all had that experience where you been in something and it felt most horrendous when you were in it and you thought, "There can't be anything good in all of this." And then as some time went by you found, well, there was something that you could see that was good. And with hindsight you found more and more of the blessings. In other words, you found more and more of the Christ at work.

Everything you bring forth it is first of all a holy creation. Now again separated ego can be very busy on your stage saying to you why it is not a holy creation. It is going to say, "Look at the holes in this creation." But you as you are now choosing to live in Christ awareness you are going to take the deep breath and you are going to say, "I have brought forth this creation, this experience, this relationship, this challenge, whatever it is in order to bless my Christ awareness. In order to serve as catalyst for remembrance." That is what it is there for. In other words to know that I am not victim of what is going on. I am the creative one and I will rise above it. Others may have their slings and arrows of the world. They may do whatever they want to. They may throw their barbs. They may do everything to try to trip me up. But the Christ smiles and loves and moves on.

And if you find that you want to move on, you want to shake the dust of your sandals and move on somewhere, move on. It is okay. Separated ego again will run in from the wings right onto the stage and it will say, "Here is a load of guilt for you. You weren't strong enough. You weren't wise enough. You didn't have enough of the insight, etc., etc., to do anything better with this challenge."

There come times in your experience when you know that you are complete with something. You know that you have served the Father in that situation long enough. You have planted seeds. You have loved and then you move on.

There were towns and villages where I could do no work. There were places, gatherings who did not want to hear what I had to share. I spoke, I smiled, I loved. I brought the Christ light as you have done, and then I walked on. For indeed you do not have to stay in a situation when the guidance tells you that you are complete with it. It is complete. And you do not have to buy the separated ego's baggage of guilt.

For indeed even as you move the body to another place you have not left the ones whom you have touched for there is no separation. Always you are with them. Always when they come to mind you can bless them and always when you come to their mind there is the opportunity for blessing.

So you see it is no biggie if you decide to move the body somewhere else for in truth there is no separation. And one of the things that you do in moving the physical body is to prove to yourself how joined you are. How there is no separation. If you stayed in a certain place how would you know that there is communion, there is oneness no matter the distance in miles, no matter the geographical location. If you didn't move and test it out how would you know. It would be a great saying and a truth that you read in a book somewhere, but when you put it into the practice and you experience it, then you remember. That is why sometimes it is difficult to take the body and to go somewhere else. Sometimes it is difficult to remove the physical presence and yet it is important to gain the remembrance that there is no separation and also to gain a certain change, shift in perception that only comes because you have been willing to move the body or to take the physical presence into a new space.

All of your creations are most wonderful gifts that you give to yourself. If you will look upon every creation from the pain in the body to the pain in the relationship to the pain in the work situation to the pain in you name it. {Laughter} If you look upon every creation as a gift which you give to yourself you will hasten the remembrance of the Christ at work. For truly it is the Christ of you that allows you to bring it forth and to experience. It is only separated ego that would suggest otherwise.

For as we have said earlier in this evening, separated ego is getting tired. It is getting thinner and it is getting to the place of wanting, truly wanting to be dismissed so it is going to happen.

You are bringing together a most wonderful creation in this gathering, this Advance as you have called it. This is going to be a time of love, a time of the family remembering that in truth each and every one of you who seems to be individualized energy of the Father, is in truth not separate one from another. You have already felt that in this evening when there have been the hugs. What you do with a hug is most wonderful because the energy of the heart is exchanged, it is open. There is a flow of love energy, of Christ energy if you will, that is given in the physical act of the hug. Yes, always a hug is important.

This time that we meet in this Advance will be your creation. You will find that separated ego will be on your stage from time to time because you are in unfamiliar surroundings. You have house mates perhaps that you haven't shared dwelling place with before or perhaps you have and there have been challenges. {Laughter}

One of the reasons you are willing to come together in a time like this and share dwelling space together, is to come up over what separated ego would suggest to you could be a problem. And I have watched you in times past and you have done most wonderfully. There has been wonderful healing that has come out of each and every gathering when you have come together in the heart.

There will be opportunity for love, for communion, for finding old friends with whom you have journeyed in other lifetimes that you didn't even suspect were incarnate in this day and time and here they are. Right in front of you giving the hug. You will find that there is much that you share in sincerity of the heart. There is much of wisdom and experience that you will share with each other because you have made journeys, most wonderful journeys. Other lifetimes yes, and this lifetime as well and each and every one of you has a story and a gifting to give to others and you will do that in these times together.

There will be times of support, times of encouragement. There will be times of questioning. You will find challenge. You will find time when you want to be alone. You will find time when you want to be with others. It will be a most wonderful healing, enlightening time because you have decreed that this is what you want to make with creation at this special gathering, this Advance.

Now I will share with you also that this will be the last Advance of this kind where we will meet in this way. You are moving now into a time of great change and the gatherings will change. This will be the last Advance of this nature, this kind because you are changing.

So you will find that in the months to come, we have spoken of this already, you will look back upon these days that you will spend together as a most wonderful treasure from which you will draw strength and support and encouragement and inspiration. For you will know that you are not separate from any of these ones although bodies look to be separate. But you will find that you are not separate from any of these ones that you are going to spend these next few precious days together and you will call upon each other. You will have questions. You will have sharings. You will call upon each other. That is what you have agreed you will do.

For each and every one of you, you experience times when you know in the head, the intellect that you are not separate from anyone, that you are all powerful Christ, that you are one with the Father and yet the physicality and the emotion that is settled in the physicality calls out and says, "I want to know on this plane of reality, I want to know love and support. I need help." And it is okay. In fact it is most wonderful for the Christ to call out and to say, "I need help. I want to know the rest of my parts. I want to know the holy meaning," and to then get on your telephone and to call, to get on your Internet, your computers and to communicate and to say, "Are you there? I need help. I know that I have all answers in me. I know that I can find what I need to find within. But right now I just wouldn't mind a loving word. I little bit of friendship. Are you there for me?" And the most wonderful thing is the brothers and sisters will say, "Of course I'm there for you. I know who you are. I believe in you. I don't see all of the challenges that you are within yourself. I see a most wonderful being. What do you mean you are having a problem with such and such? You are wonderful. I've always seen you as a most strong person, courageous, energetic. I've always seen you as the one who would come up over whatever challenge would be."

And you say, "You did? Oh! Okay. Well, maybe." And that support then lifts you up to the next rung of the ladder and allows you to begin to know and remember the Christ of you.

Now I know that all of you have made trek to this place. Many of you have made a long journey, a tiring journey to come to this place in this evening and I know that the bodies are getting a bit on the wearied side.

I would suggest to you.... there is something that I desire to do with you but I would suggest first of all that you take a short break and you refresh the bodies with some water and then we will meet again in seven minutes of your timing.

{Break}

Now, we continue. The energy now, it has picked up has it not?

Uh huh.

Yes. How many of you have been up your mountain so far? Very good. How many of you intend to go up the mountain? Excellent. Excellent. I do recommend it. I have been up there.

{Laughter}

Indeed. The question my beloved friend and teacher, the one known as Judith was asking me that you were observing was if I had done any snowboarding? And I said unto her, "No that in the day and time when I traveled to what is now known as Tibet and the mountains there was much of trek that we made through the snow and through the mountain but the snowboarding I did it was done most miraculously, magically as light which you can do even in this day and time as will allow your imagination free reign.

Most wondrous snowboarding as the light. But as far as the physical snowboarding, no that was not something that was engaged upon in that day and time. The seriousness of the trek was with the goal to get somewhere as you are feeling in this day and time when you make trek to go somewhere. But this is not to say that when we gathered in the evenings we did not allow the imagination to be free and to go as the light spirit. So you may do that in your evening this evening. I would suggestion to you that when you look upon your mountain, most beautifully covered with snow that you allow yourself as the light to be there and to do a bit of the light-boarding. Most wondrous.

As you look upon the creations around you, the surrounding beauty here. There is much of awe that you feel is there not? Your creations, in truth, if you will stand in the place of Christ, your creations you may view with awe. Even the creations that the separated ego would suggest to you are not the most wonderful. If you will stand in awe as you do of these most wonderful mountains and look upon the creations that seem to be most hindering, if you will stand in awe, the Christ of you will come to be known.

When you have made choice as you have now made choice, to remember the Christ, when you have made choice to come into the awareness of the Christ presence of you and when you take the deep breath and you feel the space that that breath allows there is a peace, a deep peace that the world does not know. There is a peace that will see you through all of the questions of the separated ego. It is your strength, that peace. It is the place where you go to remember the Christ.

You have made decision, you have made choice to remember the Christ and with that choice comes a peace that even the separated ego can't disturb. Oh it can come and dance on your stage but it will not disturb the deep peace of the Christ for it cannot touch the peace of the Christ. But the peace of the Christ can envelope the separated ego and send it on its way, dismiss it.

Allow yourself in this evening as you will lay the head upon the pillow to breathe one deep breath and to go within to that space of peace and to draw strength from the Christ of you. It is not by accident that you have created all of the experiences that you have. You have not made mistakes. All of your creation they are in divine gifting, everyone of them and everyone of your reactions and emotions that the choices, the creations have brought up for you, all of those emotions and reactions are divine as well even though the separated ego will say, "Oh no. They are just human."

Those choices and even the reactions are divine because you are divine and there is nothing that you create that is not divine if you will but look at it from the Christ perspective and to draw strength from that place.

These next few days are going to be most wonderful days for you. There is going to be much of sharing, much of depth of sharing. Now yes, many of you have been together before in these gatherings and you have known a certain level of companionship. Some of you feel that you are new to this grouping and you have much of excitement and a bit of anticipation perhaps of meeting the brothers and sisters wondering who they are and what gift, and in truth they do have a gift they have for you. It is going to be a time of deepening remembrance of the Christ for already you have turned a corner in your process of remembering the strength and the love and the peace of the Christ.

You are not the same as you have been in previous times when you so met together. You can look back on what is happening the last few months of your timing and you can say, "Oh yes, I've come through x, y, and z. I have really been pulled through the briar patch and I have felt every one of the brambles." And this is true and you can bless every one of the bramble scratches for indeed they have not done you in. What they have done is to bring more to your awareness the strength and the truth of the Christ.

Every one of your challenges that you create for yourself it is for but the express purpose of remembering the Christ and the strength of that Christ and how nothing, in truth, can come neigh the dwelling place of the Christ.

I would suggest to you that now you breathe with me. Take a deep breath. Feel the expansion that happens even within the body as you take a deep breath. Feel the revitalization of every cell in the body just with the breath. The allowance that you give to every cell to turn on its lights and to live as the light which courses through every cell of physicality. One deep breath how healing it is.

And then feel the peace that comes with that deep breath. Feel the breath transport you within to that space of peace that the world does not know. That space of peace that the world cannot touch. That space of peace which is the dwelling place of the Most High, the sacred place where the Christ always abides.

Feel the power of that peace so there is nothing that can threaten the power and the peace of the Christ. There is nothing that can threaten the true Self of you. And in that space now of great peace, bring into the mind's eye some occurrence that has happened in the last few months of your timing that seemed to be a challenge. Some time when you wrestled with an emotion, a challenge, a question, a question perhaps that seemed to arise out of the deepest part of the physicality, seemed to have strings and threads attached to every emotion that you knew ever existed.

And breathe the peace of the Christ into that challenge. And allow yourself the space of time for in truth, time is your creation. Time is your servant. Time is what you make it. And you do not have to be in a hurry to solve any challenge, any problem. You have all of eternity and beyond.

Breathe the peace of unlimited Christ into whatever has been troubling you. And know that in truth your Father loves you from before you created the challenge, through the challenge and beyond the challenge. Your Father does not judge you for whatever you are feeling or experiencing. Your Father sees only the holy Child playing in a meadow of creative opportunity. And if the child brings forth most wonderful daisies to play with, that is great. And if the child brings forth thistles to play with and feels a few of the barbs, that is okay too.

The Father loves His holy Child. Allows, breathes all of the energy of Isness into the very being of the holy Child and breathes the peace of healing into every situation and challenge and speaks gently to its Child and says, "You are my beloved. You have all of time to play with. You do not have to feel rushed to make a decision, to make a choice. You do not have to do anything for already you are my perfect Child."

In that space of healing peace allow yourself to claim I am the Christ incarnate. I remember who I am. I remember from whence I have come and I remember why I am here. I am the light come forth into a plane that yet believes in darkness and I have come to shed my light through the medium of love upon all of the creations and to stand in awe and to give great holy thanks for everything I have created. Know always that you are the beloved of the Father. There is no place that you can be that He is not. If you descend into the depths of what you call hell the Father is there. If you ascend into the heights of the greatest mountains, the greatest peaks of enlightenment He is there.

Call upon the peace of the Christ and of the Father. Walk daily in the companionship of all saints, all Christs and know always that you are the beloved, the only Child, the holy One of the Father.

And now when it feels comfortable allow yourself to bring the focus back to this room. Just gently allow yourself to come into the focus of this reality bringing with you the peace and the love and the truth of your being. Know that that space you have just touched is the Reality of you. All else is unreal. Know that that space of peace is your source of great power and strength and it will see you through whatever the separated ego wants to present to you. Know that everywhere you place the foot, the physical foot, the emotional foot, the mental foot, the spiritual foot it is holy space for where you stand it is holy space.

Breathe one more breath. Allow the body to move about a bit. Feel the flexibility of the body that that breath has gifted you. And in what remains of this time of this evening I would suggest to you that you team up with another Christ, someone with whom you haven't had perhaps the conversation yet in other times and that you sit with them for five, ten minutes of your timing. It need not be long or it may be if you want it to be. Sit with another Christ. Ask of them their name of course, where they are from, all of the details of this human experience. Ask of them how they came to be here at least what they think the reason is.

Exchange with them your dwelling place where they may find you for indeed you are going to be in the next few days Christ partners. You are going to ask of the other one when you see them on the morrow, "How are you? What is going on for you this day? How can I be with you?" In other words, you are going to find support and you are going to give support. All of you are disciples in remembering and you may find that as you sit with another Christ there will flash before your mind a time when you have walked with this other one and it will be for you a great catalyst of oneness. It may happen for some of you. For others of you it will be more of the here and now. But in truth, all of you have walked together in what you call other lifetimes. All of you have walked with me as disciples. You are all disciples in remembrance. You thought perhaps you were masters in training, but I say to you instead of being (?), you are dears. Most wonderfully dearly beloved.

So for what remains of this evening pair up with another Christ and exchange with them personal information and when you see them on the morrow go up and give the hug and say, "How is it going for you? What is new?" And become at a certain depth of communion a disciple of the Christ of them and be in remembrance of the true Christ.

Go now in peace. Go now in love. Go now to remember the Christ as I remember you.

So be it.
