

Empowerment of the Collective Consciousness

1999-08-11

Beloved and holy and only child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of light divine. That is who you are. Take it deeply within the consciousness and contemplate what that means. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph – Jesus, you have called me –and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen once again to call me forth. I greet you in great joy for truly this evening is a celebration.

We will speak of that. We will get right to the heart of the matter. For indeed many of you have been concerned about this day waiting, wondering what would happen on this day for you have heard prophecies, you have heard messages that there have been many changes afoot in the last several weeks of your timing and that you have heard that there are energies that are moving. Very dynamic powerful energies moving within your world, within your consciousness. You have heard the messages that there would be a great coming together of signs in this day and you have wondered what this means. And there has been by most divine design a time interval for you to contemplate what this means for you.

For you have heard prophecies, you have heard the messages, you have been told that some two weeks ago when there was a certain eclipsing of light, a minor eclipse as you call it, lunar eclipse and this day when there was a major eclipse of light with your solar eclipse, the two weeks in between would be a most magical time of energy and of changes and that indeed this day would be a time of change.

So there has been time for you to contemplate within to ask, "What is true? What is going to happen? What is happening? What will be happening? And how do I look at everything? How do I feel about it?" And you have gone the route, the gamut of wondering for you have heard voices that have said this could be a day of the end. There have been prophecies that said, "These are the end times. You are living in the end times. It is going to be the end of the world sooner or later and probably when all of the signs of the heavens come together as they have, perhaps it means that this is going to be the end." For you have heard those messages and you have contemplated and you have come to a place in the heart that has said, "Even if all physical matter comes to a screeching halt or a dynamic explosion, whatever, I will still be," for indeed you will always and forever and beyond time you will be.

You are the Isness of the Father. We have spoken of that in previous times. But you have had the messages coming to you that today there are the signs that have come together in such a way that they have not happened that way in over six hundred years of your timing and that at that point, six hundred and some odd years ago it was a time again of change, a time of portent, a time of disasters and you have wondered, "Is it again going to be, bring forth a time of disaster?"

We have spoken of how you as the creative holy child have brought forth this universe. You have brought forth the planets. You have brought forth our holy Mother, the earth. You as the light being which you are, most powerful creative light being thought to create and you have brought forth all worlds and all universes to play in. And when there was first thought as to creation, you know yourself to be light. You knew yourself to be the creative one. It is as even now when you sit and you think and you are the creative one of your thoughts and you wonder, "What can I think about?" And you go on a train of thought. One idea leading to another and you are the creative one who brings forth that train of thought and follow it.

It was the same then in the beginning as you reckon time, you asked of yourself with a certain thought, "What can I create?" And you played with ideas of what it would be like to bring forth something coalesced, energy out of light to bring forth form and what kind of form? And you played with ideas of form and they manifested because you gave them the power to manifest.

You brought forth all of the heavenly bodies and you knew them to be your creations. But as time as you created time and as you reckon it and measure it, as time went on you found yourself more and more immersed in identification with the creation, more and more immersed in identification with form such as body, form such as the dwelling places, form such as what you call nature, the trees, the plants, the animal kingdom and you forgot, temporarily, who and what you are. And you saw yourself as being one of the creations and you forgot that you are the one who has brought forth what you see created.

You then as you see yourself as a small individual point of consciousness, you watched the interplay of the lights in the heavens, the sun by day and the moon by night and when there would be a certain happening that you did not understand because there was very specific focus you see you had narrowed the specific focus down to a certain point of individuality and you felt that all that out there was not you. You did not have any control over it. When certain things would happen that you did not understand because you had forgotten the relationship of yourself – small "s" – to Self – capital "S" – you began to look to others for explanations and you asked of the wise ones in your society, in your villages, in your tribes, in your gatherings, you wanted to know what was going on when the most brilliant light in the heavens that would shine in daytime and give you warmth to grow the crops, would warm the body, when that was eclipsed for a time there was great questioning.

And you as the teachers, as the authorities, as the wise one you didn't know either but you made up great stories and you gave forth information depending on what suited the purpose that you had in mind. And you told stories that this was a most magical time. You told stories that if ones were not in alignment with what you were teaching they had better watch out because there was a power in the heavens that was so strong it could blot out the light for a time and if it could do that to your sun, what would it do to you if you weren't doing whatever the authorities said were right and true and proper?

And so you began to look at certain happenings with fear, with superstition feeling that there was a magic outside of yourself giving your power, in your belief, outside of you. For you would say that others, the authorities, the teachers, the rabbis, the mystics they knew more than you. You would say that there was a power in the heavens and you didn't understand where it came from but it was stronger than you and that you were at the mercy. And so you knew that there were certain times of the year, seasons that held certain magic and you would make ritual at those times in order to be kept safe, to have your crops kept safe, to have everything that matters to you kept safe and prospering.

You have set many signs for yourself down through the ages. Signs that in truth are as the guideposts, the directional signs to remembering the creativity of the holy Child, most wonderful Child of the Father, which is you. And temporarily you have forgotten that you are the maker even of the signs that would point your way to remembrance. But now you are moving into a time where you have completed with specific identification, very narrow identification and a process of expansion has begun. And in truth this began lifetimes ago and has been added to in successive lifetimes bringing you to this point now where you are seeking, asking, wanting to know more of who you are, being willing to claim more, being willing to play with new ideas to push out the boundaries of what the authorities, the teachers, the wise ones have told you.

All of you in this room and all of you within the sound of my voice are the ones who question authority. You question others when they say, "This is how it is. This is how it has always been. This is how it is always going to be." You question, you study, you read, you ask, you go within. You have known from an early time in this lifetime that there was a truth greater than what you were being told and there has been a questing within yourself, a restlessness, if you will, a seeking that has pushed you onward to know more, to go beyond what others have said was all of truth.

This day is a most wonderful day. This day in truth you are bringing together as a collective consciousness an awareness of your creative power. This day marks a birthing, if you will. Now it has been a process as are all births as you know them. The small one when it is birthed from the mother's body doesn't just immediately happen just like that. There has been a process of growth.

Now in truth there is a parallel here for you believe in process and you believe in time within this reality therefore there has been a process that has brought you to this day. This day you have decreed you as a collective consciousness and you as an individual consciousness as well, you have decreed that this day will be a birth. It will be a time of empowerment of the collective consciousness.

Now when the signs that your wise ones read and interpret for you came together last some six hundred and some years ago in this way, we are speaking of the astrological signs now, it marked a time of accentuated energy of the Christ for even at that time the collective consciousness was calling in more of its Christ energy and the energy that you called in at that time then accentuated what the prevailing belief was and the prevailing belief, if you will think back now on your linear history to a time known as your thirteen hundreds, the prevailing belief in those times was one of fear. One of superstition, one of feeling unempowered, small. Very small and not knowing or remembering the light. Those times you have even labeled as being in the dark ages.

And so the accentuation of energy that you as the Christ consciousness, collective consciousness, brought to bear in that time then accentuated what the collective belief was and you brought forth most wonderful disasters. You know from your linear history, yes, the plague, the dreaded disease that was as a motivating factor in suggesting to you that you might want to lay down the body.

Now in truth there were some of you and you are here present in this room and also within the sound of my voice, who took upon yourself because of collective consciousness in that day and time, the outward effects of the disease but did not lay down the body. You had the symptoms, the outer effects of it but because of a certain deep rooted knowing of life principle itself you did not release the body. But many of the brothers and sisters in that day and time did release the body. But, where are they now? Back here again recycled, proving to themselves that life is ongoing. Life is eternal. Life is a consciousness. Life is the expression of Isness. The expression of the creative holy Child.

This time you are bringing in an accentuation of energy. In other words you are asking, you have prayed, you have asked for more Christ consciousness. More awareness of what it means to be Christ. You have prayed and asked the Father to gift you the blessing of knowing who you are, of knowing why you are here. What is my purpose of knowing how you can be divinely creative in harmony with all of life, with all of nature and with the Father? And so I have good news for you and it is truly good news. The Christ energy which you have asked for, you have prayed for, it is here and there is an inflow of energy that is here for your use.

Now, this time it will accentuate the collective belief again. The collective belief this time and you are beginning to access that and you are saying, "Well, there are many of us who want to believe in the good. But I also see others who do not believe in good. They do not believe in harmony, in love. They do not believe in any self-worth or do not value others. What is going to be accentuated?"

At first for those who do not see light there will seem to be an accentuation of darkness. But the prevailing collective belief now is one of hope. A very deep seated hope. Even the brothers and sisters who are acting out from a place of not recognizing self-worth still have deep within themselves hope. That whatever they believe to be true they hope that they are more than that and that there is something redeeming about themselves and about the world in which they live.

The accentuation that is happening now with the collective consciousness is bringing forth more hope, more of what you will see to be. The tools, the avenue for remembrance and that is why I have said that this evening is a time of celebration.

There have been your messages that today could bring forth traumatic events and if you listen to your media there have been events that have been traumatic for those involved in them, yes. But there are also many events that have happened in this day of love, of hope, of the outstretched hand that would help. The outstretched arms that would hug and support another one. The occurrences of ones speaking the words of encouragement, the smile, the upliftment even the voice that says, "I hope". It is a very powerful voice that says, "I hope." Know you what happens when you hope? When you say, "I hope"? It throws open a door. There is an opportunity for expansion. An opportunity for light. With that seemingly small act to say, "I hope." It signifies that deep within you there is a belief that something good can happen. And in truth what you are going to see now in the next interval of your timing until the signs come together again in this way, is going to be a growing awareness of light, of hope which gives rise to the knowledge and claiming and realization of light.

You are truly moving into a golden age. You have had your writings that have hinted at the possibility that somewhere around the corner perhaps in this lifetime, perhaps in later, some time in the not too far distant future there is going to come again – remember that word, “again” – a golden age, a time of remembrance. A time of the Christ walking this plane incarnate and awakened. And the truth of that comes from the – again – the remembrance that there has been a time, a golden age of time when you knew yourself to be most free, light. A free spirit as in truth most of you have exhibited signs of being that free spirit from time to time. Rebellious spirit, um, must wonderful creative free spirit. A time when you knew yourself to be the light that danced upon the firmament. The light that brought forth form itself and you are returning now unto that remembrance, that awakening. You are moving with this day and from henceforth into a time, a golden age of time. Still within time, yes. Still within the reality that believes in duality, good and evil and yet moving more and more into the light that has no place for darkness. Into the place of light that no longer gives any support to the belief in duality for the light knows itself to be All.

That is where you stand in this day. It is a most powerful place to be. It is an evening as you are met here in this evening of celebration. I give unto you my congratulations. I give unto you my words of love and encouragement. For indeed I have been walking with you. I have been watching you. I have been encouraging you every time you chose to hope as have been all of the angels, all of the guides and teachers, all of the masters, all of the loved ones who are around you always. Every time you would choose for hope rather than despair we have encouraged, we have added our energy to it and we have said, “Yes, there she goes again. She’s chosen for hope. Hooray!” You think I jest. I do not jest. We have added our energy each time for it has been important to all of us as the one every time you have chosen for hope.

When you have chosen to spend temporarily sometime in the pit, we have stood around you and we have been saying, “Hope. Look for the light. Breathe!” And I have been watching all of you each and everyone of you in this room and within the sound of my voice and I have been seeing that you are choosing more and more quickly for hope, for light, for that which uplifts. For indeed there is a knowing deep within you to have completed with the darkness. That you have completed with despair. You have tried it on again for size in this lifetime from time to time. You have tried it on and you have said, “Oh, I know this place,” of course you know this place. It has been for you in some lifetime the only place that you knew for you have brought together the scripting, the drama that made that life a living hell and you suffered through that lifetime and many other lifetimes not knowing or remembering that there could be anything better.

And yet even in those lifetimes the glimmer of hope was still within you. Set aside but not lost. So you have tried on the darkness. You have tried on the challenges. You have tried on the despair in this lifetime once again as a certain review, a relooking at but you haven’t stayed there. Even in your darkest moments you haven’t stayed there.

You have come up out of the pit and you have danced with a light heart, with hope in your heart and you have heard, some of you have heard even with the physical ears, others have heard within the heart the encouragement of the angels and the loved ones who said, have said and are still saying, "I believe in you. I know that this life for you is a good one. I know that this life for you is going to be a wonderful one," and it is for each and everyone of you no matter where you see yourself to be in the adding up of years of a lifetime, this lifetime is going to be already is a wonderful one. And I have news for you it gets even better.

Isn't that something to feel good about?

Absolutely.

Absolutely, amen. It is the truth. It gets even better.

You are moving now and it will be rapidly also, you are moving now into a time of realizing the light which you are, feeling more and more lighthearted. Already you have begun to feel that is it not true? You have begun to feel lighter and it is going to grow for you have asked that there be the energy. In truth, the energy of the Christ brought forth into this plane. You may label it as energy of the heavens, energy of the masters, energy of the universe, cosmic energy, energy of the space brothers, whatever you want to call it, it is in truth the Christ energy and it your energy as you are now awakening to know that you are not separate or disconnected from any, anything that you see or experience or even hope for.

You are bringing forth the energy now to accentuate. Already it has been happening and in this day there has been what you would see as an integration where the pieces fall together in a certain way which brings it into a harmonious whole. That is what has happened on this day. The pieces were coming together. They were marching in what you believed to be time and order coming together and this day there has been an integration of the energy.

You will feel in the days to come a certain magic. A certain most serendipitous way that things come together. You have already experienced that from time to time when there have been miracles that happened and you didn't quite understand why this one day went so beautifully but everything in that day that you thought about, wished for, even if you hadn't thought about it, it happened and it was a good day.

You are going to be experiencing more and more of those days. Magical days you will call them and I will agree they are magical days. Not magic that you see as a certain slight of hand that is an illusion but the magic of the true Christ come into the realization and the wakening even as you are activating the bodies. It is important that you are activating the body. It is important that you bring that magic into play right here and now in this reality. For that magic does not have to wait until you are disembodied somewhere as a most spiritual being. Always you are a spiritual being, but that magic is part of the remembrance and part of the transformation of this plane into heaven which you have called as a concept, heaven. And you are going to be finding that more and more of your days are giftings, more and more things coming together where you don't have to effort. You think about perhaps something and it happens. Or perhaps it happens and you think about it.

There is a key and it is to remember from this time forward who you are. It is to remember that you are the Christ. That you are the light that you have asked for. You are the light that illumines your path. You are the light that brings forth all of the magic that you would experience. All of you have hopes and dreams, goals that you would like to accomplish, that you would like to see made manifest.

Live with those hopes and dreams. Do not put them aside and say, "Well, that was just a play. Something I played with for awhile but it cannot happen." I tell you verily I tell you true in this evening, that which you have hoped and dreamed for it is for a very divine purpose. Therefore, it will be made manifest and you will experience it and it will come forth.

Do not think that there is anything that is outside of the realm of possibility for the Christ. For indeed there is not anything outside the realm of possibility even probability and reality for the Christ. Dream your dreams and make them good ones. Believe in your dreams. Put them forward as you see them now and leave them open to improvement. Improv for indeed what you think now would be most perfect tomorrow you may want to add a bit more to it. But dream your dreams and recognize them as good dreams not nightmares. You have had enough of the nightmares. You have had enough of the struggles and the challenges. Dreams your dreams and live them. Call them forth with this energy that is now on this plane. The energy that you have decreed you will use.

You are moving into a new time. You have called it the new millennium. You have seen it be a most appropriate time for new beginnings, for new things happening and it is not by accident that what we speak of this evening has occurred for indeed as you are moving into the new millennium as you measure time, you are using the energy of the Christ to accentuate and empower the collective consciousness. And how do you do that? You do it by working at home within yourself. In other words, you work with yourself. What you uplift in your consciousness is uplifted for all. When you will abide in hope you allow hope to be increased. When you will abide in the dreams of unlimitedness, when you will abide in a place of knowing home then come forth the miracles and yet you know them to be creative as the Christ.

In other words, they are not a miracle that someone else has gifted to you and you had nothing to do with it. But to recognize and to understand that you had a very big part in this process which you have. You have brought forth this evening. You have brought forth the energy now, the Christ energy that is upon this plane to accentuate that which you would live in, experience.

So it is important for you, the key, to work at home. It is no accident that you see many working at home now. In a certain different realm as you understand that terminology, but it is not an accident that more and more of the brothers and sisters are working at home and yet connected by your technology so that they are not separate from the brothers and sisters who work in a certain other geographical location. You bring forth in the outer most wonderful reminders of the truth of your being.

To remember to work at home. Remember to accentuate for yourself within your own consciousness the Christ of you. Now the Christ that is so pious that it does not know the experiences of the world. In other words, this lifetime you are not going to take yourself off to a cave in the far mountains and sit there in a certain posture until you decide to release the body. This lifetime, most wonderful lifetime, you have said, "I will be Christ, I will be joyful Christ upon this plane and I will balance everything I see within my world with the remembrance of the true power of the Christ. I will bring forth in manifest form the Christ right here and now." How does that feel?

Great.

Great, empowering. Taking back the power that you thought you had lost aeons of time ago. That you gave over to all of the wise ones, the authorities, the teachers, the mystics, the ones you thought had power over you. Now, you are taking back that empowerment. You individually and collectively.

For when you take it back individually you and you and you and you, (etc) you see the power that grows. And when you are willing to say, "Now I claim the Christ consciousness. Now I claim, I am moving into a golden age of remembrance. Now I claim the awakened Christ which I am," you give that energy to the ethers if you want to call it that. You give that energy to the collective consciousness and each one as they pick it up and add their energy to that, it grows and grows until there is no denying it. It grows until the light is all and the darkness is no more. That is where you stand right now in this day and time, this evening and from henceforth.

A time of celebration. A time of empowerment. A most wonderful evening. Now you understand why I requested that we meet on this evening. It is to bring into realization within the individuated consciousness as you see yourself to be individual, the realization of the power of the Christ and then to spread it to the collective consciousness which is ready and willing, hungry if you will for the remembrance of All that is.

In the day and time when you walked with me there was a readiness upon the plane, this reality, again at that time. That is why I came at that time. That is why you walked with me. That is why you knew me. That is why you added your energy in that day and time to what was happening in the reality known as 2,000 years ago. There was a certain readiness for the Christ to be remembered and you remembered it. You came alive and you celebrated your being, the true being and you went in that lifetime with certain revelations that you passed on to others down through what you see as the ages to be, the time between then and now. And now we are so gathered again, those of you in this room and those within the sound of my voice, we are gathered again for the divine purpose to accentuate, hope, to accentuate the remembrance. To bring forth into realization the Christ. Not just one Christ as an individual, but the one Christ as the one holy Child. There is deep within you a remembrance that will not let you be at rest until you have come into the realized expression of the Christ.

The separated ego does not want to hear that for it means that the separated ego will be out of work. But the truth of your being is that deep within you there is a knowing that will not be denied. It will come into flower and it will bear much fruit. And it is not by accident that you hear these words. It is a most wonderful sharing of love, a sharing of the Christ in this time. An awakening if you will, a realization of living the true life. That is why you are here. And that knowing deep within you it will not let you rest until you put into realized expression the Christ.

Now in truth that process has already begun. It is not something that you have to sit with and wonder, "How do I do this?" It is already coming forward. In this evening you are going to accentuate for yourselves the realization of the Christ. For when I have finished speaking you will look upon each other with such love that you will know the Christ realized. There will be no need for the masks of persona, the mask that says this is who I am and I present a certain image. There will be no need for the mask to hide for you will see the Christ and you will feel such love that there will be a tingling even of the body, a feeling of vibrational upliftment, a feeling of love that is going to bring tears to the eyes, a realization that in this day, this time this evening from hence forward I am a new person in Christ. That is what those words mean, to come alive in the Christ love. I am a new person in Christ.

From this time forward your life is going to be changed in a most wonderful way. In the way of the Christ. It is what you have prayed for. It is what you have asked for and desired with all of your heart. Know that truly you are the awakened Christ. Not just words anymore. You can feel it within every fiber of your being, within the body even you can feel a certain energy already in the body. Open the palms of the hands. Open the hands with the palms up. Feel the energy that you are. Feel a certain vibration that is happening even within the palms of the hands, the fingertips. It is the awakening Christ. Already it is happening. Already you are empowered to be love as always you have been. Take it yes, to the place of the heart. Feel the energy, the tingling, the energy of the palms of the hands, feel it with a response to the heart.

Can you feel a certain energy that is happening with the heart and with the hands? An aliveness if you will. As you breathe in the energy of the Christ feel yourself most alive in that energy. Feel yourself most loved in that energy. Anytime you would want to know more love this is what you do. You open the palms of the hands and you bring them very gently to the heart for a moment or so. That is all you have to do. It will remind you of the Christ and you will feel it even within the physical.

I give unto you my love. I give unto you my great joy for this evening has been a most wonderful remembrance. But truly I cannot give unto you anything that you do not already have for you walk always in my love. You walk always in light. You walk always as the Christ.

I would ask of you now just to close the eyes briefly and to breathe in the love of the Christ. Feel it all around you. Know yourself to be the empowered Christ, the child of the Father, most wonderful creative being so loved of the Father that you can create even forgetfulness.

Breathe in the love of the Christ and know that with every breath you are awakening to the Father's love and to the truth of your being. Know that every time from this day forward, every breath that you take in, you are breathing in more of the awakened Christ and that you walk lighter in step and in heart.

Breathe in the love of the Christ and know that truly you are so loved that there is nothing that you have every done, there is nothing that you can ever do or will ever do that will separate you from the love of the Father. Know that you are Christ incarnate. That you are the light come into this plane to dispel all darkness. Know that in truth you as the individual, you as the collective are now moving into a time of golden age, a time of remembrance of the Christ who walks this plane. Know that truly you are the celebrated one. You are most blessed. You are holy.

Breathe in the love of the Christ one more time and feel it vibrantly alive within every cell of the body. Feel yourself to be radiating the love of the Christ, light of the Christ. Walk with a step that barely touches the ground and know that in truth you are light itself. I commend you now to the Christ spirit. I commend you now to the remembrance of who you are. I commend you now into the love and life of the Christ.

So be it.
