

2000: The Year of Conscious Co-creation

2000-01-04

Beloved and holy and only child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, child of light divine. That is who you are. Take it deeply within the consciousness and contemplate what that means. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen once again to call me forth. Great joy of reunion, of family. One who haven't see each other with the physical bodies for awhile and as you have spoken rightly, the spirit always has been with all of the family members whether the body be there or not.

You are support, you are loved, you are one in truth in the love of what we have called heart family which is just a way of acknowledging ones that you see to be in alignment with your consciousness and the awakening consciousness and you are one with the love of the Father which is from before time began.

So therefore, anywhere you go you are supported, you are loved, you are acknowledged, you are valued by that which you are. And in this year of your timing, most wonderful year as you have called it, the year 2000, most wonderful year. It is a year of conscious co-creation. It is a year that truly and a time truly that you have prayed for many, many lifetimes. Prayed for again in this lifetime. A time of coming to know consciously the realized Christ which you are. Coming to that place of acknowledging that I am my Father's child. I am the creative one. I am creating every moment of my experience. And allowing yourself to know that you need not be in judgment of what you are creating.

That is where a bit of the challenge comes in because separated ego will speak to you and say, "Well if you are creating why are you creating thus and so? Why are you creating conflicts, constrictions?" It is now for you to realize that yes, I do create my experience every moment and I call it good.

For in truth that is how your Father sees it. He sees you as an extension of His creativity and His love, His beingness. We have spoken in previous times that it is impossible to define the Father. It is impossible to bring definition and concept into this reality that would allow you to know by definition, that which is the Father is. And yet there are ways to know the Father. I spoke in what you see as an ancient time, I spoke in parables, stories and I said, "The kingdom of heaven is like this, or like that." The Father, I called "It", the Creative Source, the Father so that you would understand a relationship and yet the Father is more than just what you would define as a parent in this understanding, this reality.

This year is a time of awakening. This year you are coming to know more clearly than ever before that you create moment by moment that which you experience. You are coming to the place of the beholder. We have spoken of this in previous times, the place of beholder, the place of the interdimensional Self, of allowing the detachment, the releasement of specific focus and I do not mean here releasing of the body, but releasing the specific attention, the focus to the place where you see with holy vision from the interdimensional Self and watch what is transpiring.

You will feel more and more of those times in this year. You will come to realize more and more as you practice, that you are orchestrating everything that you see around you. And you will realize that it is not the small self that is orchestrating, but it is the expanded Self. In truth it is the perspective of the interdimensional Self from which you orchestrate.

So there will be releasement of judgment, of self and of others. More as a growing awareness, more knowing and realization of love for self and others. Beholding the dance. Even smiling at it from time to time. For when you have been caught up in the constriction of all of the interrelationships of who said what to whom and what did they mean by that? You have had very narrow constricted view, very close view. You have been caught in a very nearsighted view. But as you have been practicing and I have watched you and you have been practicing, you have been catching yourself for even the body has been telling you of the clues when you would get caught in constriction and the body will scream at you to breathe and to release, relax. You have been practicing more and more the perspective of the beholder, the place of the interdimensional true Self.

This year you will have opportunity to know that you are the creative holy one. You will have opportunity to know your power. Not as the world defines power but your true power as the holy child, the holy one, and to realize, "That which I have created for myself even that which I have judged to be a stumbling block or a detour on the path, that was for a divine purpose."

You have seen a bit of that in this lifetime as you have looked back on certain circumstances and choices. At the time you have seen results that you judged to be tragic or to be not so good and you have judged yourself and others. But after a passage of time you have had a bit more of the wisdom. You have looked back and seen how that thread, the choices that you made that led to the interweaving of the threads, have brought you to a most wonderful place of understanding wholeness.

For as you have focus upon just one event, one part of the thread you cannot see the tapestry. But as there is a bit more of the time, the mellowness, the wisdom that comes with the hindsight, as you call it, you begin to see more and more of the pieces of the tapestry, the various colors and how they are woven together to make beautiful contrast one to another. And you see that choices that you made early on in this lifetime or earlier in other lifetimes, in truth have not been mistakes. They have been choices and they have woven a most wonderful tapestry.

This year in your timing you are going to realize with conscious awareness your choices even as you are making them. You are going to know that you have options and you are going to know that "If I choose thus and so," and you stand in the place of the interdimensional Self, you are going to be able to see down that road to have a clue as to what is down that road. "Or if I choose another way to go," and you stand in the place of the interdimensional Self you are going to see down that road a bit and to make your choice with more of holy vision than what you have experienced in previous times.

This year in your timing you have gifted to yourself a most wonderful treasure. You have prayed many, many lifetimes when you have felt yourself weighted down by circumstances, by society, by family, by all of the authorities, you have prayed for freedom. You have prayed to know power and you defined it in many lifetimes as worldly power. "If only I had the riches. I only I were of the ruling class," etc. And you prayed to know a freedom that in truth you are coming to know, to realize in this day and time.

For when we brought forth this reality, this dimension as you call it, there was a knowing that we were the creative ones. We were as the light that danced upon the firmament. We knew ourselves to be the light coalesced into form. We knew ourselves to be creative and we have spoken of this again in previous times with you that you have been, as you would understand concepts now, you have been on various committees who chose various forms in this reality. Who chose to bring forth the various flowers, the trees, the mountains. To see what would happen if you took an energy from within our holy Mother the Earth and compressed it in a certain way. "What would happen with the acceleration of that energy?" And you brought forth great mountain ranges. And you played on those mountaintops, you skipped very lightly and you brought forth a vibration in the physicality known as a condensation that you have experienced in this month of your timing known as snow. And you played quite easily with all of the creations and you knew yourself to be the creative one.

There were some creations that you felt brothers and sisters were working on because there was already a beginning of a definition of separation. I speak here of a certain compression of what you would see as your history, but as you would see linear history from the place of knowing that I am the vast ocean of creative thought, to the place where I bring forth creations the next evolution from that was to feel that there would be certain groupings, the committees working on various tasks and creative ideas and then the next evolution from that was to see the separation between groupings. It was subtle and it came about as there was more and more focus upon the creation, the objects, the form and less and less remembrance or attention given to that which has brought forth the form.

And so there were some of the creations that you saw your brothers and sisters bringing forth and you felt you had no responsibility in these creations and you said, "How could one bring forth the tiny insect known as the mosquito? Why would you bring forth certain of the animals that don't seem to have purpose? Why would you bring forth disease?" Etc, and you felt yourself to be in a place of separation where you could judge. And you have seen a refinement of separation through linear history to the place where you remember because it has not been that long ago, quite an identification with form to the place where you forgot light. Light itself and the lightness of life itself. And those ages you have called the dark ages.

In truth on this go around of reality as you know it, that was the most dense time, the time of greatest density, the dark ages when there was with the collective consciousness a forgetting of the creative spirit that brought forth even the forgetting of light. And you came to a belief which is pervasive even in this day and time that there are many outside circumstances which define your experience and that it is only your power to deal with what is dealt to you. There are all kinds of powers outside of you that are dictating what your life is going to be like. Your parents, your society, your neighborhood, your school, your teachers, your authorities, even collective belief that believes that there could be a flu bug that could do you in for awhile until you rally around the healing remembrance. You have that as a pervasive belief even in this day and time. And you came to a place, you have come to a place that said, "I don't have any power. The best I can do is to meet that which is dealt to me with a light heart and with faith in a greater power than myself. And I will pray to a greater power. I will pray to God or the Gods. I will pray to superstition. All kinds of beliefs. I will make ritual hoping that I will gain favor with one out there more powerful than I am."

And you saw, in your belief, that you were just a small speck of dust hoping to live a peaceful life knowing many lifetimes when you did not know a peaceful life and did not die quietly in the bed in comfort surrounded by loved ones. You saw many lifetimes where there was much of violence, hatred, criticism. You have been the outcast many, many lifetimes because you believed you did not have power. That you were separate from the creative One.

Now you are coming this lifetime and several lifetimes before this, you are coming in a most wonderful spiral of upliftment. A spiral that has said, "I have been to the depths, I have been there. I have done it. I know it very well. There must be something else." And you have looked up from the bottom most place of the well and you have said, "Is there any light up there?" And you have begun the climb, the spiral that brings you into the remembrance of light.

This year, this year of conscious co-creation is a time when you are going to begin celebrating your power. Again, not as the world knows power. You are going to see many instances of worldly power around you. We have spoken again on previous times that there is belief in process, therefore you have said that even the awakening process is going to be a gradual one. So you will still see instances around you, examples of worldly power trying to do its thing. You have your brothers and sisters with the news media, as it is called, who will bring to your awareness everyday, all of the conflicts that are happening and all of the opportunities to come up higher in the understanding of the divine dance.

This year for yourself there is going to be more and more realization that I am the spirit that activates the body. I am more than the body. And you are going to feel, and it may feel a bit strange once in a while when it happens, but you are going to feel I am not the body. I am somehow more than that. And it will feel like you are outside of it and inside of it and all around it all at the same time and it is going to feel strange according to old belief and familiar belief.

But you are moving into the place knowing that I am the spirit which activates all of form, and I speak not only of the body when I say all of form. But I am the spirit that activates the candle flame. I am the spirit which activates even what you see as the table, the furniture, everything. There is life, vibration in all of form. Where does that vibration come from? From you. You, as the spirit. It is all pervasive and you are going to begin to feel a most wonderful and yet strange feeling of non-separation.

As you sit in quietness, just musing perhaps not even with what would be directed meditation, there is going to come times when you will feel yourself melding into the form of whatever is around you. A oneness, if you will. And with the realization of that is going to come an instant bringing back of the consciousness of "Oh my goodness. What was that?" But once you have done it and you have already done that, it gets easier and it gets a bit addictive because you want to keep knowing the expanded Self of you, the oneness with all that is around you.

This year you are going to begin to realize that your prayers, your most heart felt desires are being answered and there is going to be a time of wonderment. Now we spoke of last year in your timing as the year of wonder and it was a prelude to this year for there were opportunities, many opportunities in this past year for wonder. Many opportunities when there were voices speaking that there would be disaster. Watch out for certain dates. Watch out for certain happenings and you came through those dates and that which had be prophesied to be such a disastrous time, passed peacefully, easily.

You had the voices which spoke that at the end of your last year, decade, century, even the millennium that there was going to be a time of great upheaval. That you would be cut off from that which had sustained you as physicality and that you would have to prepare and all kinds of what if scenarios came before your awareness. And at first there was a bit of scurrying in your consciousness. Your individually and also collectively, a bit of scurrying and wondering, "Well is this really going to happen and do I need to put aside the foodstuffs? Do I really need to prepare for the worst? And you sat with it and you took the deep breath and you said, "Really at a deep level I don't believe that there is going to be such disaster." And then another voice would come along and it will say, "Well if you are not worried about putting aside the foodstuffs and the water, you'd better prepare for your technological equipment to have a breakdown." And it was like this, your whole year of last year. You would come through one challenge, one time of having something right in front of you to access and you would deal with it and you would come through it and then creative one that you are, individually and collectively, you would bring another one in front of you and you would say, "Well, oh my goodness. Maybe this is going to trip us up collectively," and you had to sit with that one. But you came to the place where each time a new one was presented to you it was easier and more efficient, quicker to come to that place of peace. That place that said, "Well, I have already considered. Now I will abide with my Father in peace." And so you had the turning of the age, you had the new year come in and here you are doing just fine.

As we have spoken to you many times, when the questions came up there were a small number of speed bumps, minor ones, that came up for some people. Some that are still being dealt with but they have been as small wrinkles in the fabric. No big things. Nothing that you had to deal with to the place of thinking you would be devastated.

Small glitches. But in truth you have had the small glitches in other years. They happen, creative one that you are. They happen all the time.

This year is going to be a time, already you are in process of realizing a time of realizing the Christ. Not just as a concept. Not just as nice words that, "Oh, I would love to know the Christ of me. But I'm sure that's many lifetimes away. Or I'm sure that has to be after I lay down the body that I will have expanded wisdom."

It is quite possible, it is most necessary to know the Christ of you even as you are activating the body in this lifetime. The Christ of you, it is that exalted state of peace, of joy, of love. It is that exalted state of you that says, "I will not worry because I know who holds the future. I may not know," and you have heard of this quotation in your world. "I may not know what the future holds but I know who holds the future." And you have come to rely on that and you are going to know more and more with each moment I create this moment and in truth I create it in love.

Now, separated ego is still on the scene. Separated ego is still your companion even in this life this year. It is going to do its job. And what is the job of separated ego? It is to bring before you the perception that come from the possibility of separation. So it is going to come and it is going to say, "Yes, but. What about? Look what you created. Are you sure that was the best you could do?" You have heard that question many times. Or the answer of "You sure didn't create that very well. You could have done better." You know that voice of separated ego.

So separated ego is going to come and be your companion again in this year. But your job and you now know the perspective of the interdimensional Self, your job is to stand back from it to not judge self. To say there is more going on here than I know in this moment. That is the most wonderful secret and yet it is not hidden from you. The most wonderful secret is to say to yourself, "No matter what appearance may come I know that there is more than what I am seeing in this moment."

For as you will do that, it opens the door to see with expanded vision and holy vision. It opens the door for possibilities of good, of divine choice. It opens the door for you to be able to see that that which I thought was a mistake, an error has not been a mistake or an error. It has been a piece of the tapestry that would have been missing if I hadn't chose that way. Now I see how it fits together. And if I had not chosen that, there would not be that color of thread right where it is needed.

As you begin this year the awareness of conscious co-creation there are going to be times, opportunities for judgment. And yet as you have sat with all of the voices in your past year of timing that spoke of disaster, you can sit with all of those opportunities for judgment, you can breathe, relax and release, release old judgment and ask for a new perspective, a new way. It is something that you will consciously need to do. Consciously to ask for, "How do I see this in a new way?" And as you will ask it will be given unto you for indeed whatever you ask for you will receive, and as you will want to know more of the holy vision, more of what is really going on here? Not just what seems to be by small appearance. As you will ask for holy vision it will be given to you. It cannot be denied you.

For in truth, you are in it, surrounded by all of infinite wisdom all the time. The holy vision is around you, within you, accessible to you at all times. The only thing that has kept it from your conscious realization has been a belief that it could be a little bit beyond the fingertips and I can't quite reach it. Well now in this year you are realizing that what you are doing is inviting, you are asking, "Come within my fingertips. Let me hold you. Let me see the holy vision." And it will come even in the visualization, even in the seeing.

Now some of you are more in alignment with visual, with visualization, with seeing than others and it is because of alignment practice, what you have known and believed yourself to have facilitated in recent lifetimes. Others have a knowing, there is just a knowing within. Others may hear an answer. All of a sudden certain words just pass through the mind and it is like someone spoke. Who spoke? Well in truth you did. And some will hear messages the same as you hear the vibration of my voice. Different ways you will receive the holy vision, the holy wisdom. You will be able to understand more of the threads of the tapestry.

You are coming to a place where no longer do you need to go to teachers, to workshops, to books, tapes, authorities. You have been playing with this realization already and you have been surprising yourself with the wisdom that is within you. In the past few years of your timing you have gone to the workshops and you have sat at the feet of renowned teachers, ones who have been called by the brothers and sisters to be great wise ones. And they have spoken to you their truth and you have sat with it and you have said, "Well, I don't know about that. That isn't exactly the way I see it." Or maybe you've used stronger language than that. And you have come away from the various meetings and you have been as a dog which would chew on the bone and you have chewed the bone over and over and you have said, "No, that is not the way I see it. This other one was sharing with me their truth and it is okay for them and for many who would come to the meeting. It is their truth perhaps. But for me there is another way, another perception." So you have begun, you have begun realizing the Christ within and listening to the Christ within you. The wisdom of the Christ.

So you have been finding more and more that it is fun to go to various meetings and to listen to ones who will share with you the revelations that have come to them. But you have also come to realize your own power of discernment and you have come to realize that which serves you in your awakening.

Which brings me to my next point: In truth you do not need me to speak to you in this manner any longer. I have been working with you gently over the past seven years through this medium, this one known as my beloved friend and teacher, the one known as Judith. And it has been a process, a gradual process because that is how you have believed it had to be of gently nudging you, prodding you, asking you questions, feeding you, encouraging you. Allowing the questions to come forth and then saying, have you looked at it this way or another way? And it has been a most wonderful time of sharing. A time of love. A time of true companionship, being together as equals although you have not seen yourself to be equal to me. But I have spoken to you many times that in truth we are equals. We are the son, the daughter of the Creative One, the Father.

This year is going to be a year where you are going to realize more and more your power as the creative holy one and to celebrate that power. To feel yourself uplifted by the inner wisdom. For you have been growing seemingly by small steps over the past seven years. You have been growing stronger trusting more and more the inner voice, the still small voice. The voice of guidance. So you do not need me any longer to speak to you in this way. As you have seen me to be teacher and you the student.

Now what I would suggest to you is that we have times together of true sharing as equals. Times when I will not just sit and give you the message and you will be as the empty receptacle that needs to be filled. But times when we meet together in this way where there will be sharings of questions, things you have been contemplating where you will ask questions and there will be a time of the back and forth of how do you see this? What is your truth about this? And I will expect that you will bring questions and that you will have contemplated the questions. But perhaps you want to toss the ball around a bit further and to see what else can come.

So I would suggest to you that in the weeks in between the meetings such as this, you come to a place of writing down for clarity, questions, topics that you would like to discuss, that you would like to know more about. Things that may occur to you just in the daily living and all of a sudden you wonder, "Well, am I surrounded by loved ones and how can I know their presence? Am I surrounded by a sea of love even defined as extra terrestrials? How do I know their presence? What is going to be happening in the next millennium as I see it and how do you see it?" Etc. Questions of the truth of expression.

In other words, what is really going on in the experience of this lifetime? What is this lifetime all about? You have already been tossing that question around many times. But to take it deeper and to then throw it out and say, "This is how I have seen it, but maybe there's more." And to discuss as equals.

Is it necessary to keep activating the body in a lifetime? In a certain pattern or can I ascend the body and then re-manifest it? How do you do that? If I want to teleport how do I do that? And I expect, as you will contemplate these questions, that you will come up with some answers as well.

In other words, do not come to the next meeting and have a list of questions and expect me as the great wise one to just fill you, to fill in all of the blank spaces. But come with thoughts that you have had because as you will contemplate a question, immediately with that question come answers. Ideas that take you a little bit further with it.

I would suggest to you that in this next month of your timing before we meet again in this way that you submit some topics that you would like to have considered. You can give them to my beloved friend and teacher the one known as Judith or just bring them on the evening. But allow yourself to have done some thinking about them the same as if you were to be the teacher to expound upon that question. We will have fun with it.

You are a group of what you will define as advanced students. I would call you awakening children of the Father. But there has been a commitment on your part to stay the course. To ask the questions, to keep chewing on the bones until you get the good out of the inner part of the bone. And you are, even in your own definition, the advanced ones, the ones who have been willing to come, to meet, to contemplate, to receive and to give. And those of you within the sound of my voice, you are the ones who also have been willing to listen, to contemplate, to consider, to meditate. You are the ones who are also the advanced students by your own definition and you are the ones that I am willing to work with in this way.

Now I work with all of the brothers and sisters who call upon me. But you are the ones who have called yourselves out. You have called yourselves out of the old belief because it no longer was serving you. You have been as the sprout of the seedling that could not be contained any longer within the casing and it has been painful at times because the energy within you has pushed and pulled and shoved and would not let you rest. And there have been times when you have asked questions of yourself and of others that were not easy questions and you would have rather put the questions behind you. But there was an inner Christ Self in truth that was pushing you as a seedling that must sprout, it must burst the casing.

So you are the ones who have called yourselves out from the old paradigm, out of the old belief, the old system that served you and the collective consciousness in past times but no longer serves you and that is why you have had in truth, a choice-less choice. You have had no choice except to grow and to become more aware of the Christ Self. And it has not been easy and yet there has not been a real choice about it. It has been something that you have sometimes put aside and yet it would not be denied. And you have come to a most blessed time. A time of the conscious co-creation. A time of the awareness that I am my Father's child. Truly I am the Father in expression. Truly I create moment by moment and then the most wonderful belief comes, "But why do I create what I do and where is it going as I create?" And then you get to play from the place of interdimensional Self, you get to play with all of the questions which in past times were as the vines that would grow about the ankles and trip you up. Now the questions are seen as balls of light to be passed around and be played with. Contemplated. Not to trip you up any longer but to be the objects, catalysts if you will, for more realization of the Christ.

I welcome you now to this new stage. It is a stage of growing awareness, perception of equality. It is a stage where my teachers, masters with whom I studied, welcomed me. Prodded me. Sometimes when I did not want to be prodded, sometimes giving me what I saw as more responsibility than what I felt capable of. Tests, trials that they set for me and I thought in my humanness, "How can anyone do what they are asking me to do?"

But they knew as I know you. They knew who I am and they knew that there was a divine purpose for my life, a demonstration if you will, which I was willing to make and there is a divine purpose to your life which you are beginning to understand. No longer to try to run away from it because it might be bigger than what you think yourself to be. I knew that feeling. There were times when I felt the masters were asking of me something that was bigger than what I could do, but they knew as I know you.

So this new stage it is going to be one of fun. It is going to be one of equality, growing awareness of equality. It is going to be exciting. It is going to be challenging. It is going to push but you already know push. And you have come to peace with some of the pushing. Your questions, your topics you wonder now, well I know I can ask this question, that question but it is not really.... this is going to be part of separated ego in this next month. The separated ego is going to say, "Well, I really want to know the answer to that question but it is not really a very good question and what is everybody going to think of me if I ask this question and I really don't know much of an answer. I don't think it's going to go very far. I'd better not ask that question because what's he going to think of me, etc., etc.?" You know the voice of separated ego.

Contemplate that which serves you in your awakening. All of you have different interests, varied interests, alignments, resonance, whatever. Topics of interest. In other words you don't have to pick the same topics. I would be surprised if you did. But pick topics or a topic that really makes you feel alive. I really want to live with that topic, that question. I want to know more about it. Contemplate it. Go deep within it. Play with it. See what comes.

And the next time we meet in this way, bring your questions, your topic and we will have fun with them. Do not judge yourself or the question that comes. Do not hold back because you wonder, "Well somebody else may think that is just a trivial question. Or they are going to know the answer right away to that. I don't know why I don't know it. Everybody else knows the answer, I'm sure, to that." Separated ego is going have fun with you, but you can have fun with separated ego as well.

Another good question, ask about separated ego. How did it come to be? How does it serve? Why is it here. When is it going to cease? Etc. All kinds of good questions. We will take questions as time permits in the next time that we meet in this way with topics. Some of you may get a chance to ask, others may have to hold the questions for the next time. We will see how it goes because as great masters which we are, we can be quite flexible. We are the ones who will define what we want to play with in that evening.

Now beloved ones, allow yourselves to contemplate what it means to have the awareness of the conscious co-creation. Allow yourselves to play with what do I want this year to bring me? How do I want to be in this year? What does he mean by equality?

Go in peace. Go in joy. Go in excitement. Play. Contemplate. Meditate. Exercise all of the most wonderful brain power and mind power -- they are not the same -- that you can bring to bear. Allow yourself to know I am the creator in every moment and that which I create, I call it good and if you do not see the good in it, immediately ask. Sit. Abide. Breathe and it will be given to you.

So be it.
