

The Harmonic Convergence

8/17/2001

Beloved and holy and only child of our heavenly Father, child of the one Source, child of light divine. That is who you are. Take it deeply within the consciousness and contemplate what that means. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph – Jesus, you have called me – and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen once again to call me forth. Great joy. As I see it upon your faces. Great joy for that is your Father's divine will for you, your divine birthright, to live in the innocence of the holy Child and to live in the joy of that innocence. Not to have to struggle as the world will speak to you. Not to have to struggle with all of the ifs, the shoulds, all of the questions of what is going to happen? That is what the world suggests to you that you should be doing is to struggle. But the Father loves you. Loves your innocence and gives to you in every moment the joy of that innocence.

Now, it is a great joy to be with you in this way once again. To speak with the tones of the voice, to look out with the eyes of physicality and to behold your radiance. Know you your radiance? No, for the most part you don't. For the most part you look upon just this of what you see, the body, just the appearance that goes this far and you don't think that there could be more.

But truly your radiance is what allows the body to activate, to be and move around to serve you. You are the great sphere, great sphere of light that you were visualizing in the meditation. That is the truth of your being. The body is momentary. It comes and you bring it forth, you coalesce it out of the light and it serves you for a time. But the great light of you, the Christ light of you is forever from before time and beyond.

It in truth, goes before you to make everything straight, easy, joyful if you will allow it. In other words, if you will perceive it that way. There is great radiance about you that others behold. Others feel your presence. You are quite often busy within thinking about what you are going to talk about, what is the next thing that you need to think of and plan on and you are very much focused just here within your own thinking.

But others they behold your presence in a totality that you do not quite often understand or even acknowledge. For when you walk into a room there is a feeling, a vibrational feeling that others can and do pick up on. They can feel when you walk into a room whether you are down or whether you are up. They feel your own unique way of presenting yourself. That is why you have certain preferences for certain friends. Some friends you like to be with because they are always up. They are always contemplating something, looking for new relations, wanting to know what is around the bend. What is the next adventure? And you want to be with them because you also are curious, you also want to know, "What else is there? What more to this adventure? What book can I read with new ideas? That bring up new questions for me? What can I discuss with a friend to share what I have come to in my thinking and all them then to take what I give as a revelation and put it into a new gestalt that we can then play with in a new way?" And life is exciting that way.

Others of the friends you feel their presence as a bit of the damper, always they are worried about what is going to happen, what might happen, what they have read or heard from the news media of disaster impending. And no matter what the news item may be, you may look at it and you say, "Well there's something good there. There is change. Evolution." They will look upon it and they will say, "Disaster! It is totally threatening, tragic." Your radiance precedes you. Your radiance goes before you. Your radiance is felt by others and as you will allow your radiance to uplift, guess what happens? It transforms the world. No small thing. As you will allow yourself to live in hope, optimism, looking upon the glass that is half full instead of empty, as you will look for the good you allow others the opportunity to arise up and meet you in that place of optimism, that place of holiness. It is a great thing that you do and yet you say but I am just one person. What can I do? Well I will ask of you, I was one person and what did I do?

[You upset the whole world.

Yes, I did. I upset the whole world and have been ever since that lifetime upsetting and I come once again to bring some revelations that will upset the organized structure. That was what I did in my day and time, I upset the organized structure. I said, "Look, the Father does not require all of the ritual. The Father does not require you to stand on the street corner and to say how bad you have been or good you are. The Father loves you just as you are."

And so the organized structure of the religious/philosophical thinking in those days got upset with me. One person can make a big difference and in truth all of you are making that difference just by the life you are living. Just by the questioning that you do. By the reaching out in friendship to discuss an idea. To look a little further, to put the arm around another one and to encourage, to smile, to be there when perhaps no one else is willing to be there. To be the sunshine in another one's life. And by doing so you bring sunshine to yourself do you not? One life, very important.

This evening this day is an anniversary in your timing of an event that one person caught a vision of and spread it to others, many, many others. This day is the anniversary of a coming together in a consciousness across the face of our holy Mother, the Earth in what had been labeled and called The Harmonic Convergence. It began what you now measure time to be now, fifteen years ago with the first meeting.

[Has it been that long?

Yes, it has been that long.

.... with a man who caught a vision, what if ones would meet in a consciousness of hope, of optimism, of peace and if ones across the face of our holy Mother the Earth would hold that vision for a time all together, what would happen? And he spoke of this idea to others around him and it took some time before it was to the place where it was organized enough that ones came together to do this. But it was a vision that many of you have had in your prayer times. And a vision that you even now put forth for others to hold in their heart and in their consciousness, the idea and the possibility of peace. Being at peace with everyone and most of all being at peace within for that is where peace has to begin. You cannot sit and say I am going to visualize peace for everyone and hold judgement against your brother. You cannot sit and say I am going to hold the vision of peace in our world and in our time as you do not love and hold peace for yourself.

But, as it is the way of the world — we have spoke of this in other times — the way of the world is diametrically opposed to the truth of the kingdom. It is seen that it is easier to start holding a vision for others to be peaceful. In other words, to start with the outer and then perhaps as I am getting that feeling of peace for others perhaps I will feel peace within. That is the way humankind has been for a long time and that is how it is often approached, a great vision, an idea. I will pray for peace for others because they need it. Not realizing that even in that judgment there is a bit of unpeace within self.

But, this is not to down put what has begun because even with the willingness to pray for others to be in peace and to hold that vision of peace, there is the energy of consciousness given to the whole vision. Nothing is ever wasted. Separated ego will look upon various decisions and actions. It will judge them to be less than perfect. Will say that was a waste of time. I've heard you say that. Well that one's certainly wasting her time doing x, y, and z. But nothing is ever wasted. Everything is used for the atonement for that perfect moment of the realization of Oneness, at-one-ment. Everything is always used perfectly, divinely for the atonement.

Now I would speak with you about the vision of the harmonic convergence. What does that mean? It was quite a good label.

[Convergence. con - means with and people coming together with a consciousness in harmony.

Exactly, yes. It was a way of focusing the energies of consciousness together, coming together and focusing upon harmony, upon peace rather than seeing separation, rather than seeing discord, rather than seeing perfection or anything less than perfection. But a place of seeing oneness.

You have in your prayer times the vision, the desire to know peace for yourself and for others. It is truly a desire of your heart. You want to know Home once again. There is a remembrance deep within you of Home. Not the physical home here on this planet. Not the physical dwelling place even of the childhood, but a remembrance of Home as the place, the state of being of unconditional love, acceptance. The place where you are known by your Self to be perfect, to be valued. That place where the Father holds you in His arms, beloved child that you are. And there is a desire to return Home once again even while activating the body.

We have spoken of that in many evenings that it is not necessary to de cease the body in order to come Home. In fact many times there has been the illusion, the misbelief that once you were shed of the body you would know Home, you would know heaven. And so ones have by various means and methods deceased the body and found that they were no more happy than they were moments previous to deceasing the body. No more enlightened. Feeling very much adrift.

Coming Home is coming to that place of the awareness of the Father's love. Recognizing the wonderfulness of you as you are even activating the body. The courage that it has taken to say that you would activate the body once again, that you would become incarnate one more time. That you would come into a reality such as this that believes there could be other than harmony and plays from that foundation of belief that says everything is in duality, good and bad and all of gradations in between and that there can be threat to the holy Child. It has taken great courage and you are the ones who have chosen to come one more time to play in this playground that has a few of the thistles and thorns on the playground. But you are the ones who put the thistles and thorns there and if you did, you can transform them into daisies. Make them easy for you.

When one caught the vision and has been most contagious, has been caught by many now across the face of our holy Mother, the Earth. When one caught the vision of the harmonic convergence, it was a remembrance. It was a remembrance of Home, yes. It was a remembrance of the truth of your being. It was a remembrance of realities where you have focused the energies of consciousness into a harmony and used those energies in collective form as you understood collective to be, for bringing about whatever the next adventure would be.

You knew, and it is not too deeply lost to you, you knew how to focus consciousness in such way that you could power the space ships without what you see now as being the fossil fuel or any of the other type of physical fuel that you acknowledge in this reality. You knew how, yes, to focus consciousness, the collective of you the group and I will say to you, that the ones so gathered in this room and the ones within the sound of my voice are ones who knew how to focus the consciousness and the Christ energy to move light and to move what you now understand to be the physical in ways that you feel now have to be science fiction.

But when you were playing around the Pleiades knowing Home to be one of the areas of the Pleiades, you knew how to converge the harmony of consciousness together. To be as one mind, ah ha, does that ring a bell? To be as one mind to go wherever that one mind for there was agreement, would want to go.

Now you have some of your stories in this day and time that touch upon that possibility. Those stories come from the deep wealth, treasure of past experiences of you. What you see to be science fiction, to be just stories comes in truth from a remembrance of how powerful you are and when one caught the idea some years ago now for the convergence in harmony, it was drawing upon that remembrance of how powerful one mind focused collectively as one, can be. That is why I spoke earlier in this evening about the power of one person. Again the convergence in harmony. As one, as you see yourself to be individual, holds an idea and focuses just on that idea you can and will move mountains. If you desire.

Has there been movement of the mountain near you? Yes. Are you moving it? In truth you are. In truth. Now you have not sat with conscious awareness and have said, "I am going to make certain area of the great mound of earth and snow and ice and water, move." But on a collective level you have much that you are working with. Much of change. Much of evolution for the good.

Now separated ego looks upon change and the first habitual reaction to change is, "Oh my God!" Well that's a good way, please call upon God. But the first habitual reaction is to see threat, to see change as threat. To see that whatever change is going to be it is going to bring about something I don't want to deal with. And yet some of you and all of you at times have desired change. You have wanted something to change for the better.

Now what you are working with, the convergence of one mind, that is beyond. I will not say above, but beyond the individual awareness, you are changing the topographical features of our holy Mother, the Earth and yes, the mountain is changing and yes, you will see more changes happening, but they will not be — hear this well — they will not be destructive. There will be changes because you have decreed that you want change. You want to come Home. We spoke of that a moment or so ago, and in order to come Home, are you Home now in consciousness and awareness? Well not quite. Therefore there has to be some change in order for you to say in awareness, "I am Home." And for some of the brothers and sisters there has to be a big shift before they will say, "I am Home."

So you have decreed that there will be change and change is not bad. Hear that well. Attend. Change is what the holy child has decreed as a gift so that you can awaken, so that you can come Home, so that you will in one moment, one glorious moment, you will say, "Father, I am Home. I've been Home all the time and I didn't know it. I've been up in my room listening to all of this program that I thought was reality and all the while I've been Home in one of the rooms in your mansion. Now I come out of that room and see I am Home."

But yes, to get back to the mountain, there is much that is changing there. Are there energies within the mountain? Oh yes, very much so. Yes. Is there consciousness within the mountain? Very much so. Is there consciousness that is desiring to converge?

[Yes.

Yes, very good. You got it.

There is consciousness not apart from you, it is not separate from you, it is separate from your awareness yes, because you have had most miraculous awareness just upon the individuality which you see yourself to be. But it is the totality of you is not separate from what is going on. And there is a consciousness within the mountain that is desiring to — what is a good word here? — meld, I suppose, with your consciousness. Not to the place of destruction but to the place of awakening. The place where you have that harmonic convergence and that place where you recognize, "I am more than I have ever thought myself to be." That is what it is about.

You have in your history times, cultures where you revered the mountains. Where you felt that God Himself/Herself dwelt in the mountain or on the mountaintop, and that is true. But God Himself/Herself also dwells in the valleys and on the plains. You are coming to a place now of collecting all of your bits and pieces, all of the seemingly separated parts of your own consciousness in what you would see other lifetimes to be, bringing together the most wonderful awareness of how vast you are. Which does not deny the individuality, the individuality of you it is most miraculous and most wonderful.

Every day as you struggle with certain decisions it is most miraculous how you work with choices. And you bring forth everyday, your creativity in the choices, the options to put before yourself because every time you think of doing something you see that you could do it this way or do it that way or you could not do it at all. You could do it on the morrow or you could do it a week from now and you bring up for yourself most wonderful options to show you, hopefully you will get the message, how creative you are. You are not robots. You are not programmed just in one way. You are creative, flexible. I have seen you change your mind in the space of small nanosecond. What you thought you were going to do and all of a sudden, another ideas occurs to you and you are off and running with that other idea feeling that that is the way to go. And yet a nanosecond before that, it hadn't even occurred to you.

In many of what you would call now to be lifetimes mythological, you knew how to move as one mind. You knew how to bring together, to converge the harmony of the One. You have traces of that even now extant in your reality here, for you see a flock of birds, most wonderful and they are all flying together sweeping down and around and all of a sudden turn and they go another way as one Mind. And they are in one Mind, in one accord.

You see this also with the various, you call them the wild animals who run as a group together, a herd, and they run as one mind and they are in that moment, one mind. The harmony converging into one.

You have known many lifetimes and adventures where you focused so completely upon the totality of the one that the individuality was merged into that oneness. The individuality was not lost. It was there for you to pick it up whenever you wanted to. We will use for example the spaceship when you were – and this has happened many times, many lifetimes. Not just one time – for you felt an exhilaration and a power in the one mind, a freedom if you will, that can only be imagined so far in this reality.

You knew how to focus the energy of consciousness, Christ energy, as one Mind to move the spaceship wherever you would go. There was beforehand the meeting, a decision as to where you were being called to be. It was understood that you were being called. It was not, "Oh, I think I will visit sector x, or whatever." But you knew you were being called to bring your consciousness, the consciousness of the One, to certain areas of the universe as it was then and this applies to the physical universe as you understand it now, and also universes that are beyond physicality.

So that when there was decision made to go wherever it was that you were being called, there was a focusing, an intent, an agreement where the individuality were brought together in one Mind, one understanding that there was nothing lost, but everything was brought together in a convergence and there was known to be true power, divine power and a freedom to use the power.

Now, as we spoke on the previous evening the creativity of the holy Child is a most miraculous thing. And through what you would see to be multitudinous adventures, the divine power and the focusing of the One, has been used sometimes to change things in a way that was judged not to be quite so beneficial.

Now hear those words well, "judged not to be beneficial." But as we have stated earlier in this evening nothing is ever wasted. Everything is used for the atonement. So even the seeming destruction where there was the convergence of energy used in a certain way, that was judged to be destructive. Even that has brought you to this place now. Where there is a growing understanding that I am more than what I seem to be. That is the beginning of wisdom. That is the beginning of awakening for you come to that place and you realize, "I am more than what I have thought myself to be. Praise God!" And I say that advisedly because many times your self image has been about this big. That big? This big. Fluctuating sometimes between. Not too big. You are much more. You are all powerful and when you have a vision, it does not take long as you have seen for that vision to catch hold. A vision such as the harmonic convergence of bringing together the consciousness in harmony focusing upon peace, focusing upon enlightenment and you have seen, all of you have been witness to many changes that have happened in the last fifteen years of your timing. Miraculously bringing about events that you did not think could be or you thought they could be it was going to take generations before something happened and there has been a change, rapid change.

The collective consciousness is awakening. Even within your religious philosophical groupings, there is change. It is resisted yes, as it was in my day and time for there are vested interests that want to see things stay as they have been. There is security, false security, but security as it has been seen, in having the status quo. And so the vested interests resist. But it is as a seed that will not be denied. The seed will grow even though it has to burst the casing. And in your religious philosophical groupings of all kinds, I am not singling out one, all of them are beginning to feel a constraint. "The shoe is too small." Or the casing is too small. There must be something more. And the ones who seemingly are in power, are trying their best to dig in the heels and keep it as it has been but they are finding that the heels are dug into the gravel and they are moving.

There is much that the collective consciousness is doing, changing, evolving the same as with your mountain. Now some look upon the changes in the mountain and they say, "This is not good." Some look upon the changes in your religious philosophical groupings and they say, "This is not good." And yet it is the holy Child awakening, changing, evolving, remembering.

As you will, as an individual, focus, converge your harmony, your vision on one things that you desire utmost, it cannot and will not be denied you. You know that beloved brother because you have worked with that over the years. You have had a desire of your heart to know the Christ of you, to know the value of you and to see the value of others and to come Home. And you have felt Home. You have felt love. You have felt worth and you have seen worth in others. There has been much of the revelation for you because you have focused, you have converged your harmony, your energy, your collective consciousness as the One, to that desire.

The difficult part sometimes for you is finding out what you truly desire. What do you truly desire to focus upon? And sometimes separated ego will give you all kinds of things to play with to keep you busy so that you don't come to that place of converging upon your heart's desire.

Your heart's desire in truth cannot be and will not be denied you. In truth you are living your heart's desire even though separated ego does not recognize it.

All of you have a desire, a very deep desire and if you will receive it, the desire is one and the same. You may speak about it in different ways but the desire is the same. It is to know who you are, truly to know I am my Father's Holy Child. But what does that mean? It sure sounds good but you know the way I live my life is anything but holy. And the body, it gives me aches and pains. It talks to me sometimes when I wish it wouldn't. Some of the aspects of my personal circumstances are not the way I would like to have them be. How can I say I am my Father's holy Child?

Well, it is not for you to say. It is for the Father to say and He does say. You are the extension of the Father come into this point of reality and no matter how you judge yourself that does not change who you are. You are divine. You are the Christ come into this point of reality to live what you understand a human life to be. And nothing and no one can deny the Christ of you, not even you.

You can turn your head and you can say, "Well I don't see it. I guess it's there. I don't see it." But it's there all the same. You are your Father's holy Child and it is most miraculous the life that you live. If you were to write your story all of you could write a most wonderful story. Even just dealing with what you call the facts where you were born, what family you were born into, where you studied, where you traveled, what you have done careerwise, et cetera, even if you dealt with what you just call the facts it would make a most wonderful story. But if you add into that the spiritual questing that you have done and where you have gone with all of your questions and all of your thinking, most wonderful story each and every one of you. You are a walking story.

The ones who have walked with you have now gone to another room in the Father's mansion, they also have their story. Most wonderful story. Know you what is termed the Akashic records? And that is the big collection of all of the stories and every lifetime and every story is recorded. Nothing is ever lost. Ponder that.

[That makes on marvelously complete in an expansive cosmic soup.

It does, yes, it is a wonderful cosmic soup. A wonderful mix. Where do you think all of the ideas come from for the stories that you see in your cinema and your videos, your books?

[The universal pool of consciousness.

From the universal pool of consciousness, yes, the akashic records truly. All of the adventures that you have ever had or will have. The future, it has been written. At this point it seems to be yet farther along the line of linear time but in truth it has been written.

Now that doesn't mean that it isn't open to improv with the specifics because it is. And you do improv all of the time. You just now did it, all of you. A bit of improv moving the raiment about and putting the smile upon the face. A moment before that you hadn't even thought about doing it. Improv all the time.

But when you bring together a convergence in harmony, when you bring together the focus of your consciousness you even as you see individuality to be, you are powerful and as you will sit in quiet and allow the consciousness to reach out and to touch more of Self. In other words to join with what you see to be brothers and sisters, other individualities, there is a growing understanding of the power of One. You have done this in times past. You do that even now. You come together with the desire, a desire for peace and as I have spoken, peace is not something that you can throw as a mental or a cloak upon another one. But peace has to come first with you from within. It is as I have said, turned around. You think you can pray for peace for others and in that praying you bring a certain measure of peace for yourself. But you have seen the news media, you have brothers and sisters who are very much yet in conflict one with another. A geographical political area known as your Middle East and you would if you could, bring peace to them. You would say to them, "Wake up! Stop the fighting. Look upon each other as brother, sister. Understand you are the same." And you pray for peace for them. And yet you cannot throw as a cloak or a mantle upon them that peace that you would wish for them. But you can bring forth your own peace to the place of allowing them their completion with whatever they feel is yet incomplete.

They are working out what they see to be something that is not yet complete. And they are putting much of energy and intensity into it which is good because it hastens the moment of completion. And you give to them your peace in that you give to them your allowance and your blessing and you say, "Well, have at it whatever you need to do for I know the Father loves you the same as He loves me." Which is true. For the Father does not judge. The Father looks upon all His children with love the same as you as a parent or a grandparent. You look upon the small ones sitting in their sandbox playing either with each other or at each other and you love them even if they squabble. You love them and you admire them for their unique talents and abilities that they bring to an expression of life. And the Father loves all of His children the same.

So you allow them and you give them your peace. Your peace of allowance and you feel for yourself the convergence into harmony.

There is a great power that is moving across the face of our holy Mother, the Earth. It is the power of the Christ arising up wanting to be realized in awareness, to be real in awareness. That is what realize means: to come into that awareness made real. There is a great realization that is happening throughout all of your writings, your books, discussions, the tapes, the workshops, the times when you come together with another one and you may not speak of big things of import. You don't have to for in truth everything is of import, but you speak of what is going on with your flowers. And the feeling of harmony rises up. It nourishes the collective consciousness. The feeling of harmony arises up when you smile at a friend. When you say to a friend, "I am with you. I am here for you. If you need someone to talk with. If you need someone to walk with I will be here for you." The feeling of harmony that rises up in that friendship nurtures the collective consciousness and brings a measure of convergence.

So you see what has come to be as a certain event has far reaching importance. And you also see where an event that seems to be relatively recent has its foundation and its history in time, adventures where you roamed the universe as one Mind converging in harmony the power of the collective. Think upon that. Think how that feels. You can feel that. Where there is such an agreement that you go as one Mind.

Now that is foreign to the world that you know right now. And yet as I speak of it, there is a place of resonance within you that understands it. You have converged in harmony. You do it again and you will in the future know the true power of the convergence in harmony that brings you to that place of the one Mind. That is your destiny. But along the way you will see many flowers, many gardens, many rock gardens, moonscapes, what have you. That is what you are doing now. You are along the way having the journey, enjoying all of the questions that there can be, playing with all of the ideas and that is as the creative holy Child decrees.

Whenever you feel your energy to be scattered, whenever the world is too much with you, allow yourself the deep breath. Allow yourself the deep breath and converge in harmony to the place of peace. Focus upon peace. Focus upon it feels to be loved. And if you cannot remember, imagine. If you cannot remember for I know that there are some of you who have known a lifetime in this lifetime where there has not been too much of love and I speak to those who are within the sound of my voice. If you cannot remember, imagine how it would feel to be loved, to be held, to be told that you are the most beautiful, most valued, most understood being for I love you. And allow that feeling then to converge in harmony and to bring you Home.

So be it.
