Chapter 12 - Connecting with Your God Self Study Guide

September 9, 2020

Volume 7, Chapter 12

“Connect with the God Self of you, and from the God Self of you, all things are possible Allow the I Am Ego of you to flourish.”

Jeshua

Introduction

The most important relationship that we will ever have is with our God Self. This chapter explores some of the ways that we experience this sacred self. Jeshua casually tells us that our history goes back to when we knew ourselves to be part of the Oneness “where you knew yourself to Be, just to be divine energy forever flowing, forever creating, forever imagining whatever you wanted to imagine. You know truly what it feels like to be free.”

He informs us of this so that we can awaken and remember that we are still creating “your hologram, your reality, the illusion of reality can be anything that you want it to be, and it can be any time that you want it to be.” He is urging us to let go of our limited thinking about what is possible. “Long enough you have found reasons why you could not allow the soul’s desire to become manifest. Everything is possible.”

The intention and the strong desire to bring that desire into reality is the key “if you want something truly at the soul level and it is like life itself to you, than this is the time to move forward on it.”

But the crux of this chapter is for us to feel that our “higher purpose is to awaken to the place of knowing the God Self of you, the creativity of you, the Oneness of you, the laughter, the joy, the communion of One.”

The power principles of “Connecting with Your God Self”:

- We are creative energy and we have the power to create without limits whenever we choose for joy instead of difficulty.
- Take a deep breath and get “clear about what your soul is really longing for, and what it would look like”.
- Ask and follow the guidance you get to take the first step. Trust that the next one will be shown to you. It does not have to be difficult and it does not have to make “sense”, as the separated ego would define it.
- “Allow the I Am Ego of you to flourish and from the God Self of you, all things are possible.”
- We are “connected to every brother and sister. There is no separation!”
- It is important to “connect often in quiet times with the breath”.
- We can let go of the feeling of the possibility of abandonment by Jeshua, as we experienced with his crucifixion. He is always with us.

Affirmation for the Week:

“I am love itself; free to express, free to be.”

Discussion Questions

- What passage in this chapter touches your heart? Your mind? Your imagination? Changes how you understand yourself and your life?
- Jeshua tells us that manifesting our soul desires “does not have to be difficult. The only time it is difficult is when you believe it has to be difficult in order to prove something to yourself or perhaps to others. The rest of the time you go according to what you feel brings you joy.” Have you experienced this pattern of making things difficult for yourself, perhaps because of a preconceived notion that you are not “good” at this (whatever that might be – technology or learning a language etc.)? Instead it could be a “follow your bliss” situation, where you approach this desire with joy and it manifests with ease and grace. Share an example with your partner. Turn the situation around to make your desire joyful! (Hint -Think of how children approach desires with curiosity and joy, because they don’t know that things are “impossible”.)
- What do you think is “impossible” in your life that your soul is yearning for? Consider Jeshua’s advice in this chapter.

Assignments

- Jeshua tells us to “Connect often in quiet times with the breath. Ask of yourself “Where would I like to be? What would I really like to be doing? What is the first step?” (page 131) Apply this to an area of your life that you would like to have more guidance on. Take the time to listen and then record your progress.
- What is your relationship to “change”? On page 124 Jeshua describes how we will go for the familiar suffering, even if “it hurts, but I know it”. Are there any areas in your life where you might be avoiding change, even if it causes you pain? Breathe and contemplate the choices you have to live life as the master that you are. Take the first step. “Allow it to come forth, even if it means that you have to make big, big, changes. Everything is possible.”
- Jeshua tells us to allow the “I AM Ego of you to flourish”. How would that look in your life? What would you need to do or not do, to be in connection with your God Self on a consistent basis? Breathe and feel into this connection.

- Affirmations for the Week:

- With God all things are possible.
- I AM Wise, because I know That Which I Am.
- I Am Love itself; free to express, free to be.
