Volume 7, Chapter 13

“You have the most wonderful master tool of choice. It is so simple that it is overlooked many times. It is simplicity itself to choose; not to react, not to judge, not even to see that there would be something to judge.”

Jeshua

Introduction

How wonderful to know our long-term future, as Jeshua makes a definite prediction. “You will keep on creating universes upon universes within universes physical and spiritual, to the place where you know yourself truly as spirit; not defined by anything, not limited by anything.” However, speaking of this current lifetime, he again reminds us that it is a voluntary incarnation to bring Light and wisdom to the “awakening of the collective consciousness in the realization of Oneness”.

Then he states the question that often crosses my mind “How is that (all the suffering and disasters) ever going to lead to an awakening?” He gives us the understanding that the key is “the gift of choice”! We choose how we see and define the many situations that certainly look painful and negative. This is not a novel concept that Jeshua has been teaching us, but the focus, this time, is for us to acknowledge that everyone here is master, and that we can choose to see the harsh realities of this world as “completions” that serve a purpose and give everyone the “opportunity to feel empathy. Oneness.”

That is certainly a way to stand as a Beholder, in non-judgement, in awe and gratitude for the opportunity to “love them as the true Being that they are”. This certainly puts us into the Christ consciousness.

The power principles of “The Master SECRET”:

- We are masters who have volunteered to be here to bring the Light of our Love. And everyone else is also a master.
- Many are here experiencing drama for the completion and demonstrations of divisive situations, which they have agreed to at a soul level to play a part in. These give others “opportunities to feel empathy and the realization of Oneness”.
- The secret is in CHOICE! What we choose to see, feel and act on.
- “You can change your world by your choice as to where you will abide. That is your power.”
- Choose to smile “at a person who is wanting to give you a hard time”.
- “Choose to walk away in love”.
- Choose to “look on the bright side of things. Choose to look for the light, walk lightly and to laugh often, because the drama is passing and it is evolving.

Discussion Questions

- What passage in this chapter touches your heart? Your mind? Your imagination? Changes how you understand yourself and your life?
- Jeshua begins this chapter with the biggest possible perspective of Who we are and What we will be creating - universes. Then he brings us to individual choices about worldly situations. Do you feel that he is intending for us to see ourselves and the things we get upset about in this life as “not worth the energy”? How can you apply this perspective of mastership to the choices you make on a daily basis? What if you asked yourself before reacting: What would a master do in this situation? Would it change your choices?
- What recent situation have you experienced in which you might have chosen to act differently (not judged or condemned), if you had remembered that you are a master that has an infinite number of choices? Contemplate Jeshua’s words “The secret is choice as to where you will abide. Do not judge yourself for spending a minute, five minutes, five days in a certain place of judgment. And sooner or later – you move out of that space as you have choice and you have power.” Talk to your partner about how you might react next time this kind of choice comes up.

Affirmation for the Week:

“I can choose peace instead of this.”

Assignments

- Jeshua tells us that our power is CHOICE. In the next few days, challenge yourself to stop at the point of your automatic reaction “to habitual generational teaching that says if someone throws a stone at you, you have to throw one back at them, whether it be physical or a mental judgment or a word.” Do as Jeshua suggest: “But now you know you have the power of choice. You can smile with your bright eyes and move on to something that is more pleasant.” Try it and journal about your results.
- “Truly life can be heavy, but it does not have to be. Choose to walk lightly and to laugh often, because the drama is just that, and it is passing and it is evolving.” Look at where in your life you feel “heavy”. Write down some ideas of how you can choose to make it “light”. Choose one practice each day this week to become the one who laughs often and feels at peace. Hint: start with the deep breath.
- Write a love letter to your soul and ask to clear whatever you heaviness you had agreed to complete in this lifetime. Think of the benefits of these experiences and affirm your completion with them. (Example: having been a victim in a situation that is now over.) Hand over whatever drama no longer serves you and claim your mastership. Affirm that your choice now to move on to build other universes! Then listen for a reply from your soul in your meditations. Record your new knowing or assignment of where you are to serve next. Walk lightly and laugh often this time!

- Affirmations for the Week:

- I can choose peace, instead of this.
- I choose to look on the bright side of things.
- I choose to abide in light and in LOVE.
