Jeshua Speaks About: JESHUA'S INTRODUCTION TO THE CHRISTMAS STORY: REMEMBRANCE

DECEMBER 2021

Once upon a time before time was, the holy Child, the one Child of our Heavenly Father—which is you—thought to set out on a Journey. In the Adventure of the Child of our Heavenly Father, this that I have called the Dream upon this plane, you thought to bring forth physicality upon this plane, upon our Holy Mother, the Earth. And when you first appeared, as it would be, upon this plane, you were—and are—a Light being. You were—and are—the Light that touched all of the creations that you manifested with our Holy Mother, the Earth. She, our Mother, Who gives of Herself the molecules of physicality—known as the dust of the Earth—which you use to form your very bodies, is a Light being, very much alive, very much the Light as you are. And, in conjunction with Her, you brought forth creations upon this plane.

Now, at first, when you manifested physicality, it was very much in a fluid state, very much of the Light.

There was a density of physicality that would define what you would call a body, a vessel, a vehicle, but you were mainly Light. You knew yourself to be the energy that was collecting the molecules unto yourself and you experimented with different forms of physicality, for you desired to experience all. And in what you would see as time, the focus of attention became even more specific until it was forgotten that you are the Light, that you are the energy that collects what is known as the body unto yourself.

Even as the focus became more specific, even in times when the body was seemingly solid, there was a connection, an opening at the top of the head. This reminder remains today as you will see the newborn with the soft spot where the skull has not grown into hardness yet. This was true for all of you—all of us, because I was there as well in what you would see as a far off time, and yet, if you can relate to that, it is not so far off.

As you would see time evolving and consciousness evolving, there were those of you who remembered—albeit perhaps in the back of the mind somewhere as a still small voice that would speak unto you—that there was more. It was a longing to know. There is now a longing to know, a longing to come home, and it speaks to you of where your Home is: the Home with the Heavenly Father.

Throughout all civilizations there were ones called the mystics who studied what would be known even in ancient cultures as the holy writings and the ancient scriptures. There were those who were in tune with the Spirit that you are, and there were those who

THE CHRISTMAS STORY: REMEMBRANCE: THE FILM

I am excited to share with you our newest publication: an in-house movie based on The Christmas Story: Remembrance, the book channeled in December 1993 (Jeshua) and December the following year, 1994 (Mother Mary).

In this new endeavor, scripted from the story in the book by our very own talented editor, Eva McGinnis, and directed by our technical artist, Bill Evans, the various parts are read/acted by Bill Evans (Jeshua), Eva McGinnis (the younger Mother Mary), Kimberly Marooney (the adult Mother Mary), and Darrell Gray (Father Joseph). As an added gift, our musical artiste, Josie Johnson-Rogers, sings a wonderfully upbeat rendition of “Jesus Is the Reason for the Season” (written by Josie, and performed by Josie).

In addition to the script in The Christmas Story: Remembrance, Bill has incorporated dramatic scenes and music from other films/narrations, including a heart-felt video by GENTRI, music from The Millennial Choirs, photos from the Hubble Telescope, and artwork from many masters, rounding out a beautiful Christmas gifting.

kept it alive from one civilization unto the next. And you, beloved one, were one who has done this in what you would see as other lifetimes. You have kept the flame alive—the flame of Light that you are—alive in the consciousness of mankind/womankind.

When the great civilization of Atlantis went through its upheaval and the continents were rearranged because of the consciousness of mankind at that time, there were those of you who had foreknowledge that this was going to happen. Some three hundred years before the final descent of Atlantis, there was an emigration that took place. Those who were known as the mystics, those who were in tune with the Heavenly Father and the Light that you are, made trek to a land that is now known as Egypt, taking with you the knowledge and some of the writings for the generations to come.

Out of this history, as you would see it, came a group known as the Brotherhood. It has always been known as the Brotherhood, the Brotherhood of Light, both those that you would see in the unseen realm—now, there is a play on words for you—and those who had chosen to express with the design of the body upon this realm, the Brotherhood. And out of that came the group that is known as Essenes.

This was the group that I was born into, my mother Mary being an Essene and my Father Joseph being a monk at Mount Carmel, the Essene community and monastery.

These were ones who valued the knowledge, the ancient writings and the knowledge of Oneness, the knowledge of the Light that you are, always have been, and always will be. And the knowledge was kept alive.

Now, my birth that is so celebrated in your civilization and in your culture—for truly you know that it is not celebrated and has not been celebrated throughout what you would see as the centuries by all of your brothers and sisters. There are cultures and civilizations that would not even recognize my birth as being anything special. But because you find yourself in this civilization, it is something that is celebrated and is revered for what it symbolizes. Now, my birth—not the individual birth, but the birth of the Messiah—had been foretold down through the ages by the mystical ones, the keepers of the ancient knowledge. They knew the symbolism and the deeper meaning of what had been prophesied, and the birth of the Christ upon this plane was one that was joyously anticipated. In the evolution of time, as you would see it, since my birth the deeper meaning has often been lost, set aside, misunderstood, and I have been worshiped as very God Himself upon this plane. And this is true. I was and I am—as you are also—Very God upon this plane.

The incarnation that you would see as Jeshua ben Joseph was not the only incarnation that I have had upon this plane. If you will receive it, I have been expressing here many other times. There are the lifetimes recorded in history as Adam, as Melchizedek, as Joshua, as Elisha, as Jeshua, and many others that have not been written about. For truly I have loved our Holy Mother, the Earth, and I have loved the expression of God upon this plane. And there were lifetimes that I spent much as the lifetime that you find yourself in, with the expression of love experienced in relationship with my brothers and sisters and with a mate and a family. There were lifetimes of simplicity that have not been recorded in history.

But now I wish to share with you the Remembrance of the Christmas story, so we shall speak of the birth of one Jeshua ben Joseph.

JESHUA Q&A

THERE IS NOTHING TO FEAR

A few years ago there was one person in the group who said that he had been abducted a number of times, and he was scared to death. You told him there was nothing to be scared of, nothing to fear. I don't think he got it. But my question is, I couldn't help but wonder since then how he has fared.

He has kept the same belief that he is looking around over his shoulder all the time for something to be afraid of. He has an inclination born of many lifetimes that believes that there is a power outside of him that can do him harm, and he has made “evidence” for himself in many lifetimes of a different sort of something to be afraid of. This lifetime it has been the idea that there's a power outside of himself as in ET's or something that he doesn't understand like that and therefore he lives with that fear.

Has he been abducted again?

Yes, in his mind he has, because that which he has feared, he gives great energy to, and he will make it real—lower case “r”—for himself so that he can say to himself and to others if they are interested, “See, I told you so.” But in truth, there is nothing that is outside of you/him. There is nothing to be afraid of except fear itself, and he does not have to live in fear. There will come a turning point for him, probably not in this lifetime, but in some time when he will realize that he is so loved that nothing can attack him or harm him.

I would take his fear away from him if I could, but I cannot. Everyone's choice is their own choice, because everyone truly is equal Christ, whether they know it or not, and most of the time they don't. Ones came to me two thousand years ago and wanted me to heal them or to take away fear of all sorts. I could see their wholeness. I could see the Christ of them, and I looked upon them with great love. Some of them caught that energy of love and were transformed, but it was not something that I did as outside of them as a savior. It was something that I offered to them, the same as I offer to you, to see you as the Christ that you are, the loving being that you are, and to hold that holiness of image in my knowing and to give it to you if you are in a place of receptivity.

Sometimes ones, because of generational teaching, because of other lifetimes where there has been very strong evidence that there is something to fear, will hold onto that self-image and think that there is something outside of them that can bring them harm. Others, because they are wanting to be rid of that feeling and because of soul choice—not a conscious choice, because everyone would say, “Well, consciously I don’t want to carry this fear around with me anymore. I don’t want this consciously—but at a soul level there is yet a bit of attachment to that energy.

So your way of seeing us is your knowing of Who and What we are (Yes) and you’re saying for us to see others the same way you see us. (Yes, please) Not exactly an easy thing to do, to be consciously aware all the time that people would not appear to be what they appear to be. So what do we do? Practice?

Yes, but you will find that the more you practice, the easier it comes.

What I’ve found so far is that this world is pretty crazy (Oh, yes) and that what we’re seeing is not really real (Right) and not to really get involved in it and just be the observer, if we have to be, and just take it from there.

Exactly. If someone comes to your door and needs help of some sort, you will give it to them. But you do not have to go out and invite all of the world to be part of your knowing. You can live in a place of peace, a place of love, knowing that truly many of the brothers and sisters whom you see are working towards knowing their wholeness. You wish them well, but you don’t have to get right in there with all of their drama either.

AKASHIC RECORDS

You said your lifetime continues beyond your ascension, and I think you meant until now. How does it continue? You said individual lifetimes are always available via the Akashic Record, but they do not each continue to evolve. Has your lifetime as Jeshua continued to evolve? What did you mean by saying it still continues? Is it different...

It is different from the Jeshua of the 600 years and the traveling that we did. Any lifetime that you have been, any personality can be accessed through the Akashic Records. Always there is a record of it, and loved ones who want to access the person and personality they have known can go to the Akashic Records and will find you there. You are never lost. That which you seem to be in a lifetime, that is never lost. It is as the...you have a saying that the finger writes, and having written, it moves on. But having written, it goes into the Akashic Records and is forever recorded.

I am interacting with you in this way, and that is also going into the Akashic Records so that if you, at some later point, want to come back and access that record, it is there. I am forever ongoing, as you are. You may release the body and manifest a new one, but the body that you are and the personality that you are, that exists forever as you understand time, because truly the Akashic Records are within time. You can always be accessed. So my lifetime, as I see it, continues.

But our individual lifetimes, past ones. I thought you said they did not continue.

No. The Akashic Record of who you have been, that is there. And then when you release the body, you move on to another experience; that will go into the Akashic Records and you may incarnate again; that goes into the Akashic Record (Different personalities) Yes, as different personalities. (But the certain individual we knew is permanent) Right (It’s not really a continuation then.) No, not as that one. That is why when you have loved ones and you feel that they are gone from you, they are not gone from you. First of all, there is nowhere else to go. But secondly, you can access them, you can access the masters whose books you read if you want to, and you have done this as you have been reading the books of some of the masters and you have said, “Oh, I wish that I could talk with you,” and if you will get very, very quiet and go within to a place that believes this can be done, it will be as you have decreed. You will be able to have conversation. That is how powerful you are.

If we were to choose to come back to another lifetime or if a person who has passed decides to come back, they don’t have to come back as a baby necessarily? They could come for a few years? (Right) Could they come in what we know as time, because there is no time, you could come at any year? (Right) So you could come in the future or the past, as we call time, or you could come just for a few years in an adult form of that.

Yes, I have done this, and you have also, although at this point you have put it into the back of the remembrance. But by your asking the question, you are acknowledging that somewhere back there, there is a remembrance of it. So you can activate a body, you can manifest a body as I do sometimes for a short period of time for whatever purpose. Sometimes I walk your lands and I sit next to ones who are suffering and I'll ask them, "How is it going for you?" And they give me a little strange look because not everybody asks them that question. But then they will share, and we get to talking. And after the healing has happened, then they get up to go somewhere; I get up to go somewhere, and I disappear, as far as they understand. I don't really disappear, because the energy is always there. But as far as the physical eyes, they do not see me.

Where are the Akashic Records? (In the one Mind) Where is the one Mind? (Within you) Okay, how do we access the Akashic Records, if they're within my own mind and the one Mind?

By belief. By going deep within yourself in what is called meditation, and then believing. You see, there are ones who can go on very quietly and yet they say, "Well, nothing happened." But as you have practiced, as you will keep on practicing going to that deep place and believing that you are connected—because you truly are—then there is going to be a wealth of information that will come to you; not because it is going to be tumbling out, too much to handle. It will come as you call it forth.

THE CHRIST OF CHRISTMAS

I'm reminded that Christmas is coming. Are you getting excited? (I am; I've been very good.) And when Christmas comes around, I always think of the name Jesus Christ, and I think, "I bet most people in our society and our culture don't really know what that name means or what it comes from." I've looked up "Christ" in the dictionary, and it comes from the Greek christos which means the anointed one. Then I look up "anointed" and it means to be smeared with oil. What oils are we talking about, and why is that image used to describe it?

As you have discerned, I was and am in that incarnation Yeshu'a. I have explained to you other times that I go by the Anglicized version of it, Jeshua, because it's easier for you to speak. And when I have referred to myself as Yeshu'a, everyone says, "God bless you," because I sneezed. I was acknowledged as the Christ. The name was Yeshu'a the Christ.

And I will say that to you, that you are Mark, Markus as you have been in other lifetimes, the Christ. "The Christ" was an acknowledgment, a term that was put after the name to acknowledge that this one was anointed in the old thinking of generational terminology of ritualistic anointing. Now, it could be with any kind of oil, as it was blessed as being sacred oil and it was part of the sacrament of the ritual where ones would be anointed on the forehead and sometimes on the heart. Now, the heart was more important, but usually there was the anointing on the forehead for the mind. You have acknowledged the importance that humankind puts on the mind.

So I was and am acknowledged as Jesus, Yeshua the Christ. Now, the word "the" is often left out, so that it gets to the contraction of Jesus Christ. Christ was not my last name. I was truly ben Joseph, son of Joseph. But I was acknowledged and seen by other ones as the Christ.

The church, in its early formation, was very happy to acknowledge me as being the very Son of God, the Christ, the christos, which I am and you are, but they forgot that last part, that you are as well. I am nothing more or less than what you are. We are from the Source. We are the christos. In moments of forgetfulness, called a lifetime sometimes or many lifetimes strung together, a forgetfulness. But that, again, is okay. It is part of the journey, not to be judged. But you have discerned well that the Christ Mass that is coming up, Christmas, is to acknowledge the Christ, the christos of each and every one, of the small baby Jesus in the manger and of the tall christos of Markus walking, experiencing, loving, questioning, and being the anointed one as well.

So, not to put too fine a point on it, but other substances could be used—soil or tree sap or...

Yes. You see, what you are tuning in to, most beloved one, you are tuning in to the ceremonies where ones acknowledged the Oneness of all expression. You have acknowledged in that moment the Druid of yourself, the lifetimes that you have spent, and you used the essence of the oak tree, the sap, for anointing. And it was not only on the forehead that you did it as the Druid, because you acknowledged all of life as being One—every living bit of energy. Every bit of energy is living, and you acknowledged that. So you are going back into your history and even farther back than that. Well done. It is a good point of view. Thank you.

OPEN RELATIONSHIPS

What is your opinion concerning open romantic relationships?

I'm all for them. Sometimes it might make a problem as other ones do not see it quite so openly, but love is the bottom line.

PROLONGING LIFE UNNECESSARILY?

We were talking a lot about making transitions. There are those who seemingly want to leave (Oh, yes) and ask to leave, and yet continue to hang on. So what could you say to them or how could you help someone in that situation?

I would say to them the truth of what they are doing is to be the one that others can help; in other words, they are living a certain "condition" so that other ones can help them with this. If they were not willing to be the presence of whatever that condition is, ones would not have the opportunity to serve. So oftentimes ones will not want to be in the position of being the example that needs to be served, and yet they have agreed before the incarnation that part of what they would do in this present incarnation is to be the object where ones can serve them.

So it is not so much that they are hanging on out of fear, although that sometimes does come into play, but oftentimes ones will be here longer than what they think they should be or what they want to be because they are serving others by being served. So it would be for anyone who is working with such a person to allow them to know that what they are doing is not procrastinating. It is not something to feel guilty about. It is not that if they were more holy they would pass on more quickly. It is that they have agreed that they will be in a position where others can serve them. And if they were not doing that, other ones would not have the opportunity to serve.

REGENERATION OF BODY PARTS

We are at a point in time, I'm told, we're reaching the point where regeneration of limbs, regeneration of cells is actually possible within the human body (Oh, yes, it has always been, but continue) Okay, well, that would be my question. Is it absolutely necessary to have an allopathic medical physician there in order for this to happen, or can ones do this on their own, specifically teeth. I'd love to regenerate teeth here.

Oh, yes, yes. That is one of the easier things to do (Oh, please, tell me how) (Laughter) It is by your belief. It is by knowing that it can be. It is by being in a grouping that believes. It is by being with other ones who have the energy of knowing that it can happen. If you don't feel it right away, attract to yourself a grouping that wants the same thing, that wants to heal and regenerate teeth. It can be done. It is very simple, in truth. It is; it is quite simple; not easy, but simple. Okay, there is a difference.

So, yes, you have many recorded stories of instantaneous healing that did not have to be done through the regeneration that now your scientists know. That is good. That is okay. But, yes, it does not have to take a long time. It can be as your stories in your holy book recount, where ones, because they believed I could do it, they accepted the healing.

You have ones who are charismatic who have that certain energy around them that other ones can feel and can believe in. So when there is that energy, miracles—as they are termed—can happen. So, yes, if you want to heal teeth, I would suggest that you get a group together, probably a small group, of other ones who want this as well. You do a bit of research as to what has been done in the past, because there are ones who have known this, and then you just know that it can happen. And do not judge right away. If it does not happen right away, do not say, "Oh, I knew it wasn't going to work. I knew I wasn't worthy. I knew it couldn't be." That'll be the human feeling, but it can be and has been, and ones have known it.

I heard the other day that doing a lot of exercise kills germs. So how do we get them to exercise?

MIND QUESTION

I'm just full of mind questions (Oh, good) if you don't mind. Do you equate mind with the small ego, and is it possible to exist in 3D without the small ego?

Momentarily, yes, it can be done. Quite often you will use small ego and mind to work in the world. But yes, what I am speaking of truly is to get out of the small ego into the I Am Ego—capital "E"—the holy Self of you, the place of peace, the place of knowing that I Am...without any end of that sentence; I Am.

But if you stay there, you're no longer in 3D; is that right?

Well, it depends on how you're going to define the different definitions, yes. You see, I do not do the gradations.
