Jeshua Speaks about: THE LONG ROAD HOME

NOVEMBER 2015

Beloved one, I would speak with you now about the long road Home. You have felt for many lifetimes that you were not Home, that you wanted to find Home again. You have said to the parents sometimes and the ones of the older generation, “Where is Home? I want to go Home.” And they have said to you, “Well, this is your home right here. Here we are; this is your home.” And you have said, “No, not this home, but the Home that I long for in my heart, the Home that I remember and yet cannot quite put it into a visualization, and I can’t quite find it, but I know there is my Home somewhere.”

You have chosen—and there is no judgment with this; it is a very good thing that you have done—you have chosen to take the long road Home. You have chosen to walk everywhere, to see everything, to visit with all of the friends, all of the brothers and sisters who are the Light coalesced into a denser vehicle. You have chosen to know every detour, to know every detail, to walk everywhere, and you have chosen to see everything everywhere you go, because you did not want to miss anything.

Sometimes you have judged self. After you have been down a road a way, you have said, “Well, it’s actually a detour, and I shouldn’t have done it. I’m wasting good time doing this,” and yet you are wealthier for having chosen to go down the long road. So as I have already said, there is no judgment in this. In fact, if there is judgment, it is to say that it is a good choice to know everything that you can create and to know how to create your exit out of it if it does not feel pleasant.

You have the enquiring mind. You want to know what else there is, even to the point of, “What can I create which is unlike love?”

So you create situations, and you may know right away that it is not love. It does not feel good. Then you sometimes begin to beat up self and say, “Well, why did I choose this?” You chose it so you would know what is down that road, and not to have to go down it again. Sometimes you do choose to go down it again, and that is okay, because truly you never actually make the same choices and have the same experiences. Each time you go down what seems to be the same road, you experience it a bit differently.

New Video

We have just completed a wonderful new Jeshua video, professionally filmed by Drazen Grujic of Quantum Media NW. It is a 37-minute video with interviews of some of the Heart Family speaking of their interaction and experience with Jeshua, an interview with me (Judith) and an interview with Jeshua. In it I tell of how Jeshua came to me, how He began the process, how I became convinced He is who He says He is, and what it feels like to be channeling His loving, humorous, personal Energy.

Jeshua answers questions about God, about who He (Jeshua) is, His view of the world situations, and the future of man/womankind. The title of the video is Otherwise Known As Love, and can be purchased from Oakbridge University Press for $25. It makes for insightful personal viewing and can also be a wonderful gift for friends who wonder what you are doing, reading, studying.... (Smile)

On Sunday afternoon November 8th we will be hosting a special social hour honoring Althea Soest and her late husband, Orin, the former owners of the property at 346 Morgan Drive, now The Peaceful Garden. At that time we will thank Althea for their loving care of the 25 acres, the beautiful gardens and wooded trails, and will place a meditation bench with their names engraved on it in one of the gardens.

Now, I know that for some of you, what you have grown up with at home has maybe not been all that loving. Know you why you choose that? And you do choose it. You put together a script and a choice; you do this before the incarnation. You choose in broad fashion—not down to little details, but in broad fashion—what kind of script you will play, what kind of play you are going to be an actor in.

I know that many have chosen a bit of a hardship in the biological family and the upbringing—which has been more of a downtrodden rather than an upbringing. Then you have said to yourself, “Why did this happen to me?”

You have understood that perhaps you have been fashioning that which you have experienced, and then you have questioned, “Why would I choose such a thing?” You have chosen it in order to prove to yourself how strong you are and how strong love is. Because no matter what has happened to you in your growing up years, your adult years, no matter what has happened seemingly to you, you have been able to feel the power of love and to give it forth to other ones.

You have found mates. You have found the small offspring, where your heart has opened and you have loved them with a pure love. Yes, after a while it might get tainted with a bit of worldly judgment of it, but your basic nature and the basic gift that you give is love.

That is why you often find yourself teacher of certain treatises, certain writings, because you know the power of love. You know that ones are hungering and thirsting to be healed in the way of accepting love, of feeling the power of love. That is why you accept the role of teacher, because you know the power of love. You know that no matter what has happened to you in the past, it has only made you more convinced of the power of love.

So then you can take the deep breath and you say, “Well, hey, that’s good; okay, I didn’t quite see it that way. I thought I was a failure. I thought I did everything wrong. I thought, gee, if I chose all this muck and mire that I’ve been growing up with and living with, maybe I was stupid to choose it.”

But you are never stupid. You choose from the holy Self of you that which will bring the awakening to yourself and to others: to feel the power of love. That is why you are attracted to certain writings. It is why you choose certain experiences which when you are going through them you say, “I don’t know how I can get through this. I don’t think I can get through this. I don’t see even a glimmer of light. I don’t think I can get through it.”

And then you come another year, five years, ten years down the road, and you look back and you say, “Doggone, but I certainly had strength to come through that. It was not easy.” No, it was not easy, but the power of love within you has brought you through it, and the power of love within you heals everything. It heals the relationships. It heals the body. It heals everything that you experience.

That is the power of Who and What you are, because you are Love. And you have chosen to know the power of forgiveness.

There is power in that; not for the other person—they may never feel any forgiveness; they may actually hold great judgment of self and of everyone else—but for you, you are giving forgiveness, and you are in the space of love, the space which heals. And it is never too late for forgiveness.

All you have to do is to abide in the simplicity of love. That is why I have chosen to call you the holy Child, because you are holy and because you are the Child. Allow yourself to live the life as the child who gets very excited about everything. Everything is a gift to the innocent child. Everything is something wonderful to be explored, understood, and to be given to another person to be shared.

The little child is very much alive in the innocence. That is truly who you are and what you are. That is why I have called you the holy Child, because your inheritance, your nature is one of simplicity, of innocence. As a small child, you come to experience. Then later you may question your choice: “Why did I choose these parents, this experience?”

You chose because it is an opportunity to know the power of love, to know your power as love, and to abide in that space, no matter what is going on around you, and to give top marks to self, because you have chosen to experiment, to adventure, to experience.

You like to know, “What can I discover in this day? Who can I discover in this day? Maybe I will make a new friend in this day,” and you do. “Maybe I will make friends with myself. Oh, where is self?” And you get to go deeper into your understanding of what it means to be the divine Energy having a human experience.

Make the most of it. That is why you have gifted to yourself the human experience; not to worry, as separated ego will suggest: “Oh, well, you have to worry. You have to worry about the children, you have to worry about the parents, you have to worry about your health, you have to worry about the finances, you have to worry about the traffic.”

There is always something that you can be worrying about. Or, you can choose to be That Which you are, and to know deeply for yourself that you are the love which has been sent here by divine order. There has been an order placed before you were born for more love, and you have said, “Okay, I’ll go,” and you have.

You have come to a place where every once in a while you share love with another one—open, easy love that does not have to be judged; it just is, and it feels good. And in that space, there is healing of everything: healing of the body, healing of the emotions, healing of all the experiences that perhaps you judged not to be so wholesome or healing; maybe even the experiences which you have had that were abusive and harsh.

There is healing in knowing true Love; not just human love. Human love comes and goes, as you have experienced, but the divine Self of you is the Love that exists from before time and will exist beyond time itself. That is Who you are. And, yes, it is possible to know it, to feel it. Take it deeply within the consciousness and rejoice.

So be it.

A meditation bench with your name on it is available for a donation to Oakbridge University; please enquire.

-- Judith

Dear Judith,

Jeshua surprised me. He said that, "You will stand in my sandals and you will look upon the hatred that is born from the soil of separation that says, 'I can hate someone and it will not affect me.' You will write that only love is true, that the separation is not true, and the hatred and the anger and the lashing out at other ones, that is just the world. That is not the true being. Only love is the true being."

So, in truth, I came to a point in the Messiah Project where I was not feeling a unity with those "other ones". Those who don't speak the same, look the same, worship the same. This messiah stuff is quite personal. Then, as I sat pondering how to move forward with the project, Jeshua showed me that He loves everyone. He is so loving, so openly committed to loving everyone that the differences that I see that separate me from others does not really matter. Jeshua sees each person as His brother and sister. He wants each of us to know how very much He loves us. He sees us as the perfect creation(s) of the Divine One. He sees us and interacts with us from a place of joy. The religious separations, the national separations, the so-called borders that we see only exist as part of the world's perception of who we are, and are not God's. His mission is to bring love to this world: a love that changes everything, a love that transforms the awareness, the consciousness, the actions and the intentions of humankind. So, what again is His Messiahship all about? It's about calling His loved ones to Himself. He brings all of the sheep to Himself. All of the children, all of the gray beards, the tall ones, the short ones, the skinny ones, the fat ones, for He sees only love, speaks only love, knows only love as the true being of humankind. In the sweetness of your heart He would rush to your side, whisper in your ear a word of hope and consolation as the world weighs you down. He would enjoin you to join Him in joy and complete the call of your messiahship in Him.

I hope this explains the place that he took me to in order for my blinded eyes and cold heart to see again what Messiah is all about. Ones whom I looked upon with caution and trepidation, He let me see as His.

He has let me know in moments of meditation and prayer that He wants parts of this story to contain scenes that show how those who knew Him in Israel reacted personally to the events that shaped His Life—everything from His birth to His Resurrection combined with the story of His continuing mission as He brings the ocean of being to know itself to be love.

That's it for now. I will send you scenes and additional info after I edit. The sides of the sandbox have been kicked out.

Joy and Blessings,

Michael Mauro

OAKBRIDGE UNIVERSITY AND HEALING COMMUNITY

THE MISSION of Oakbridge University is to promote peace in the world, respect for all life, and the empowerment of each person to fulfill his/her highest potential.

THE VISION of Oakbridge University is to establish an educational and healing community based on the Truths taught by Jeshua ben Joseph, Mother Mary and Master Joseph as expressed through Judith Coates in dialogues with the Oakbridge Heart Family members worldwide since 1993.

The Principles are the same as Jeshua/Jesus taught in His lifetime. They are to reawaken the Divinity of each person to live his/her life in the Oneness of Love, Equality, Prosperity, Joy and Respect for each other and for our Holy Mother, the Earth. There is no separation as we are all One in the creation of our reality. It is now time to let go of the illusions of fear, suffering and struggle and remember our abilities to heal ourselves and then to shift into higher consciousness, to be in service to one another and the planet, also known as heaven on earth.

To this end, we propose a LEARNING AND HEALING COMMUNITY on beautiful land in Western Washington which will have both wooded areas and flowing water to accommodate the vision. The Center will be a place for workshops, seminars, conferences and gatherings, as well as a degree-granting institution in the study of Spiritual Growth and Healing. Courses of study will be determined as faculty come on board. We will attract the best teachers, authors and visionaries to come and share their knowledge and experiences. We will host festivals and celebrations.

The Community will include the following spaces, which will be created using environmentally friendly building practices and materials:

- Large central conference-worship-performing arts Center with classrooms, healing rooms, office spaces, and a large main space for reception area and bookstore;
- Cabins for living spaces for permanent and visiting residents;
- Central kitchen and dining building, with large living room to be used for informal meetings and relaxation;
- Meditation Center;
- Arts Center with studios, music and sound healing rooms;
- Library with multimedia capabilities and reading lounge;
- Organic gardens (both vegetable and flower) and labyrinth, as well as outdoor gathering space;
- Publishing House for publications generated by Oakbridge scholars;
- Water healing area: pool and/or spa;
- Flowing water: waterfall and sparkling fountains;
- Eternal Garden where remains of loved ones can be scattered and honored;
- Pasture land for alpacas and other animals.

Ideal Acreage: 100+ acres.

JESHUA Q&A

I'm your UFO/Orb freak (Laughter) Here are some pictures from my last trip to ECETI Ranch near Mt Adams. What would you say that is in this picture? (It looks like squiggles on the page) This is a highway, and at night I took the picture (Have you enhanced it?) No, that's the way it is. At the ranch they might call it either a fairy or a nature spirit.

You can call it whatever you want to. Just don't call it late for dinner (Laughter)

Is it a cannibal? (It could be) Okay, you can't tell me what it is then?

Truly, beloved one...well, wait a second. I have research people I can ask. I was going to say I've never seen something like this. Here, let me show, for those of you who can see, he's asking about this spidery squiggle. It's very different. It actually looked like some spider walked across the page. Anyway, let me see. Well, what they're telling me is that the central part of it, where the light is brightest here in the middle, what they are doing is sending out probes to feel the energy around them and whether to make themselves into more of an orb or whether to stay smaller. So these are probes that are coming forth. And this is a big probe at the back end. Okay, that's what they're telling me. It has not been something in my ken for a while here.

So you would not say it was a fairy or a nature spirit then. It's more an orb type, a being (Right)

This picture was taken at the same place at night when I got out to my camp spot. I wonder what that light is, [illuminating the ground in front of the car] because it's not in the rest of the pictures I took at the same spot.

I see what you mean. Again, that is the energy that would not be visible to the naked eye, but it is energy from some of the orbs from what truly could be quite a distance away, because you see how faint this energy is. It's probably an orb or spaceship (projecting that light there?) Yes, from quite a distance.

Okay, wow. Thank you very much.

I learned something this evening as well.
