

A Place of Ascension / A time of Atonement

1996-04-19

Irwin, PA

Beloved and holy and only child of our Heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light divine. That is who you are. I am the one known as Jeshua ben Joseph -- Jesus, you have called me -- and it is in great joy that I come to abide with you this evening in your timing as you have chosen to call me forth.

For indeed beloved ones, I come at your invitation. I am your servant and whenever you would think upon me, instantly I am with you in consciousness. Always I am one with you for as the Father and I are one, you and I are one, the holy Child.

But oftentimes there are the activities of the world, the activities of daily living that call for your focus of attention and that is as it should be, for you have agreed that you will bring your light, your love, your being into manifestation at a certain point of focus known as this plane, this dimension and you will identify with a certain personality, certain body.

Therefore, oftentimes you find that you are focusing upon what needs to be done, supposedly, and yet what you are moving into is a place of ascension. For it is not just I, that one Jesus the Christ, who will ascend, who has ascended, for indeed you are in process of ascending. Ascending out of a narrow point of focus that has said for many, many lifetimes, this is all I am. I am the body. I must take care of it. There is a certain existence. There are responsibilities and I will do my best to live in a peaceful manner hoping to lay down the body at the end of that lifetime peacefully in bed.

But now you are hearing a new voice, a voice that has always been with you, the still small voice that calls you to come up higher, to come Home again. And does that mean that you must necessarily put down the body to ascend unto heaven? No it does not. For if you will hear my words and receive the message, what you are in process of doing is ascending to the place where you know that you are the holy Child in manifestation upon this plane and you will know that there are certain physical aspects and you will know that you are the holy energy of the totality of the holy Child that you bring to this point of focus.

So you will know yourself to be more than what you have ever imagined yourself to be. At least in recent memory. For indeed when the holy Child first thought to be upon this plane, we came as the light beings that we are and there was not the veil of density that you have identified with for so long. But as we grew more intimately identified with form there has been a temporary forgetting of the Spirit, of the still small voice. This has been called the fall from grace. It was a descent into matter yes, but it was not a fall from grace as would be defined as sin. For it was by purpose, divine purpose, to know intimately form, matter, physicality. To know the creation that we have brought forth upon this plane.

For having created and yet you have created, having created there was a desire to know what it feels like to activate the creation. There was desire to know what does it feel like to be the great mountain? To have a certain rate of vibration of physicality for yes, the rocks of the mountain they vibrate. Not at the same vibration that you have identified with. There was a desire to know how does it feel to be the great sea animal? And you came and you activated form as the great whales, the dolphins, as the dinosaur upon land, as the huge sequoia tree, and as the tiniest Alpine flower. For you wanted to know how does it feel to be, to activate the creation?

And you brought forth human form and you wanted to know how does it feel to activate human form? To have the senses of physicality? And so for a time interval there was very close identification to the point of believing that that was all there is, identification with the form of the body and the preservation of that form.

But now there is a voice that you are hearing. A voice that says, I have a body, I have a personality that I identify with, I have hopes and dreams, I have pain, I have sorrow, I have happiness, but I am more than that. And then you have said, "Surely I am more than that. At least I hope I am." And you are.

You stand on the threshold of ascension. The ascension out of limited belief and limited image of who you are. You have set for yourselves in what you know as this lifetime many challenges to come up over. Challenges of physicality with the body. Challenges of the relationship. Many challenges in the area of relationship. So that you could come to know your own grand strength. Come to the place of knowing your holiness. To come up over limited understanding of who you have thought yourself to be and who you have thought the brothers and sisters to be.

There has been in the evolution of your thinking a certain understanding that there are ones greater than you. This is a belief that is held even in your day and time now. Where you see others to be of authority and you see others to be leaders, except that you are a point now of questioning many of those leaders. And you have carried that over into the field of philosophy, into the field of what you call religion, where you have seen others to be more spiritual, to have greater access to the Father, and you have set others up above you to be as savior. And you have said, "If I know his telephone number I will be able to get in touch with Jeshua and he will be able to save me. For indeed if he will answer my call, that means that I am worthy and I will be saved."

I come to you now in this form because you have invited me. I come to you now in this form because you have willingness to hear the still small voice of Truth. I come to you now in this form to show you that I am not afar off from you. I am not upon the cross. I am not ascended unto the Father to sit at the right hand of somewhere afar off that you can never approach. Yes, I do sit at the right hand of my Father, and the left hand, and upon His lap, as you do also, for there is no separation.

I come to you now in this form so that you may change some of your image of who I am. I come to you as an elder brother. Not as a savior that would be far above you. Not as a savior that must be prayed unto and have grand rituals of worship given to me, but I come to you as a brother and not only as a brother, I come to you in the guise of a woman. Does that not make me a bit on your level?

I honor you, all of you for having the willingness to entertain the possibility that perhaps form is not all there is. In other words, to entertain the possibility that you can connect with the energy of one Jeshua ben Joseph beyond the form of this woman. That you may hear my words yes, the words of the mouth but you may take them unto the place of the heart and hear my message in your heart. For that is where you discern Truth. The eyes, the physical eyes they will show you form, they will show you separation, but the heart discerns the Spirit.

Have I come to offer you salvation? Yes and no. I have come to offer you your own salvation for indeed it is your choice. I cannot save you. Now there is a different thought to be uttered in church is it not?

For each of you is the grand master equal. Each of you is already the holy Child of the Father. Each of you is already saved. Therefore, you offer to yourself your own salvation as you claim it. As you say, I am my Father's Child, created perfect from before time began. And I am loved of my Father for indeed I am that Love. That is your salvation. It is the salvation from the limited image that has been habitually held for so many lifetimes.

It has been said and it is a grand truth, that I am in charge of the atonement. But as I do not work alone, you also are in charge of the atonement for it is very much the same as the salvation. You bring yourself to the point of choice to know at-one-ment. Atonement is not because of guilt or sin. That has been taught to you and if you will receive it, you as the priest and priestesses you have been in other times, you have promulgated that philosophy and that belief that there would be original sin and that you would have to atone for it somehow.

Even as you have heard the message of original sin, you have wondered, "Why if I created and committed this original sin, why do I not remember doing it? Temporary lapse of memory I suppose." No. What has been equated by your philosophies and your religious organizations as original sin has been the temporary forgetting that you are already holy. And in an instant when you claim your holiness, what happens to that sin? It is as a no thing. It disappears. It does not exist.

This is a time of atonement, but not because you must atone for all of the sins and all of the time that you have sat in church and have had other thoughts. For indeed all of you have sat in church and the mind has wandered to relationship, to what you would do afterwards or how you would get even. You are already even.

This is a time of atonement because it is a time of realization of your oneness with the Father, at-one-ment. It is a time of ascension. Ascending out of the limited image. This is a time of atonement which is great joy. Allow your voices to sing in great joy. To make a joyful noise unto the Lord. To the Lord of your being.

Know you why you find music so uplifting? You can find yourself to be expanded into the music that you are hearing. It is because you are vibration. Vibration of Spirit, and you identify in alignment with the tones. Have you ever experienced a tone where you felt yourself lost in that tone? Expanded into it where you knew no boundaries? You have heard a piece of music and you have been transported. You knew not where exactly and it is not important to know, but you felt yourself for a moment, several moments to be beyond body.

You are vibration. Vibration that is defined, explained a light and yet that explanation, definition is within terms of physicality. In other words, you are light yes, as you would define it from this point of belief and this point of focus and yet you are more than light. How do you like that? You are the Isness that is forever. You are the Allness, the totality of everything that you can imagine and more.

You are ascending now to the place of realization where you claim your holiness. Your wholeness, your completeness, your perfection, and beautiful you are.

I would set you a piece of homework for this next week in your timing. Now you did not know you were going to get homework when you came did you? Perhaps you would have had second thoughts and said, "Oh, my goodness. I don't think I'm up to doing that." No, I jest with you. You would have come anyway. But I set you a piece of homework for this week in your timing.

Allow yourself at least once in everyday to look into the looking glass of your mirror and to behold the holy Child in radiance. Look upon form, yes, for that is what you will see first with the physical eyes. But then allow the eyes to relax enough that you behold with the heart. Look upon your own radiance. For indeed you would not be here if you were not radiant.

This week, once a day, spend at least two minutes, two minutes looking into the mirror and beholding the light of the holy Child. By the end of the week beloved ones, I would suggest that you say to that holy one, "How beautiful you are." For indeed when I look upon you even with the physical eyes I see form yes, but more than that, I see the light that you are, and beautiful it is.

You have agreed that you will bring your light into manifestation. That you will bring it to this point of focus and you will activate form which is a coalescence of energy in order to know the Spirit that activates that form. In order to know love. Now how do you know love? Have you ever felt love? Yes, you have. How does it feel? Wonderful, expansive, joyful, comfortable, as comfortable as an old blanket.

When you feel love and you extend love, the shutters of the heart that have been so tightly closed throughout many lifetimes are allowed to open and to give forth the vibration of the Spirit that you are. Yes, in the next moment there may be criticism that you make of self or of others and it closes down for a moment. But as you choose for love there is an opening of the heart and a radiation of the light that you are throughout every cell of the body.

That is why love is healing. That is why joy is healing. Laughter. For when you are in true joy you are not holding criticism or constriction about yourself or others. You are allowing the being to expand and the light to nurture every cell of the body.

If you would know healing of any part of the body, allow the light to be within that part. Visualize it, yes, see it with the mind's eye. Know oneness with that heart and love it. Thank it for what it has done to serve you and allow it to expand in the light that it is.

Sometimes it is helpful to use the external light as a suggestion and then to internalize that light and see it in the part of the body that will be constricted and in pain. Now I know none of you have ever felt pain of the body, therefore I am probably just talking to myself.

Know you that you are the Spirit come forth from the Father. Come forth to activate and to enjoy. Now that's a different thought. "I thought I was sent here to suffer. I thought I was sent here to remember and to learn many lessons." You are sent here beloved one, to enjoy. This is your playground. This is your creation and it is to be in love with your creation. To be light-hearted and if you find yourself being a bit heavy burdened from time to time, speak to yourself, "Yes, this is a place that I know well. I know the responsibilities of the world." Indeed you do.

But I am sent here of the Father by my own choosing to be the Light upon this plane and to be light-hearted. No longer to dwell in darkness, but to allow yourselves to come truly radiantly alive. That is the message of these times. The message of ascension, yes. The message of joy. The gospel, my gospel is one of joy.

Now you may play with the concepts of the mind for the mind loves to play with concepts. Concepts and ideas, they are the toys of the mind, and they serve a grand purpose for they allow you in the playing to come to the place of realization that you are more than what you have thought yourselves to be. Because you play with exciting ideas. The mind loves to turn them around, to chew on them as a dog would gnaw on a bone. But after awhile, the mind gets tired of the concepts and the chewing and pauses for a moment. And in that moment the heart speaks.

Then you know peace. Then you know expanded image. Then you can know joy. (A fire horn is blowing outside) Feel a vibration? Yes. Do you see how powerful you are? You have brought forth vibration. There is much power in all of your creations, and none of your creations has more power than the creator.

Now you have identified with body long enough that you feel that there are certain creations that are more powerful than the body, and if you get yourself in front of them well you'd better watch out. And yet where is that power coming from? That power is in your awareness, your consciousness and you are the one that is allowing it to come forth. You are the one that is creating, and if you were to stand in front of one of your greatest vehicles and to say, "Stop!" And know that you were the power that could stop it because you are, it would dissolve into nothingness. If you were to speak to a stone, a boulder to be rolled away and to use the power that you know yourself to be, that boulder would be rolled away.

That is the power of ascension. That is the power that you are moving into claiming. You are playing with the idea even now. You are still thinking that it is something that perhaps one Jeshua ben Joseph could do. Other masters perhaps could do. Perhaps there are even ones upon our Holy Mother, the Earth even now in a far off land known as Tibet, perhaps, who could focus energy in that way. But not I, you would say.

And yet if you will receive it, beloved one, you are upon the threshold of knowing that you are all power. Not as the world defines power. That is not important because that is temporal and passing. But you are all power of being and you have brought forth all creation. How do you bring this power into manifestation? By knowing that you are one with all of your creations. A simple sentence. Much to think about. It will give you something to gnaw on for awhile. But the greatest of all of this is love.

When you know oneness with all of your creations, you will love it. You will not judge. You will not see any lack or limitation or failure. You will expand into the ascension for you will know yourself to be holy, as you are.

Begin in this day to look upon everyone and everything in love, in appreciation. Look upon everyone of the brothers and sisters and behold the beauty of their manifestation. How they have brought forth form. How they use that form. How there are crinkles around the eyes, around the mouth. How there is light in the eyes and in the smile. How they have ideas that are exciting to think about. To look upon each one and to say, "How beautiful it is what you have brought forth." How beautiful it is in every moment when you look upon a small one and you dissolve into the love.

Know you that is why you bring forth the small ones. It is to allow yourself to dissolve in love. To remember innocence, for indeed you are innocent. Truly you do not know imperfection. You are innocent. Not knowing. How can you know imperfection? You are holy.

You stand on the threshold of a great age, we will call it, well you have called it a great age. You stand on the threshold of ascension, of atonement, of claiming your at-one-ment. Not just on a Sunday morning, but every day of the week, of claiming your at-one-ment with everyone that you interact with. With every form that is activated by Spirit, as the animals, as the life-forms of the trees, the plants that grow. To appreciate the beauty of all living forms.

You stand upon the threshold of using your true power. The power of joy to come Home to the Father. Behold I stand at the door and invite you in. I invite you to come in and sup with me. To eat of the food that I would offer you for you will never hunger nor thirst again.

You are loved because you are that love. You need fear no thing and no one. For too long have you allowed yourself to have image of being imperfect, unholy, sinful, not quite good enough. Now it is time to claim ascension out of the narrow limited understanding and to ascend unto your holiness.

If you will receive my words, within the next few years of your timing you are going to see great changes. Already you are in process of bringing forth much of transformation because you have decreed that you desire to know holiness. Already you are in process of seeing resistance to holiness. That is why you see violence now, it seems to be sometimes escalating and yet you have all lived lifetimes of violence. And upon this plane it is nothing new. But you are upon the threshold now of a great transformation and each time you choose for love, you bring forth transformation.

You will see in the next few years of your timing, great opportunity to assess where you are abiding, what you image is of yourself and of others. In the next few years of your timing there is great need for integrity, for clarity, clarity of desire and intention and the integrity to stand by your truth.

Now do I offer that as a great prophecy of doom? No, I do not. But these are days as you have already decreed, of the sifting so they will be days of knowing your integrity, of knowing love, of brother and brother and sister and sister and the allowance thereof for that love.

It is my great joy to bring forth the words of your heart for indeed I come as your servant, to bring forth the words that you have desired to hear, to contemplate. I do not speak anything new. I speak what is and I speak it because you have asked me to verbalize what may be just below the surface of your conscious thought yet. And yet for many of you, you have touched this space in your time of prayer and meditation. The time that has asked when you have asked to know salvation, atonement, ascension. And you have called out to me and you have asked, "Jeshua, Yeshua, Jesus," and many other names that I have been known by, "Who am I?" I have heard your call. "Why am I here?" I have heard your questions. "What is my purpose?" I have heard. Your purpose is to ascend. Your purpose to be the joy of the Father. Your purpose is to come truly alive. And I honor all of you for the willingness and the openness of your heart to play with unlimited possibilities.

For as you play with unlimited possibility, it becomes within your belief a probability, and as you play with probability, it becomes reality. And that reality -- with a small "r" -- brings you in time to the realization of the true Reality -- with a capital "R" -- of the holy Child who has not been cast afar off into this place to suffer and to die for naught. But it brings you to the realization of the Reality of your holiness and when that happens beloved one, what is there left to do except to rejoice?

This evening there are many so gathered here. It will be what you will see as a long evening if I am to come and speak with each of you individually. So what I would suggest is that we take a short break, refresh the body and go within during this time and ask of yourself if you have a question that is of immediate concern that needs to be asked. Or if you have a question that I may answer in the silence of your meditation and when we reconvene we will have the questions from a portion of the group.

Go in great peace. Go in great love. Rejoice, practice the ascension. How does it feel to ascend? Do you walk an inch, a foot off the ground? Well yes, you might. Allow the bubbles of joy to be felt even within the physicality. Greet each other with joy and with hugs. Refresh the body and we will meet again in ten minutes of your time.

So be it.

{Break}

Joseph ben Jacob:

Beloved friends, peace be with you. I am the one known as Joseph ben Jacob. You have known me as the father of one Jeshua, Jesus, and this one, the one known as Jeshua, has given me permission to speak with you for a few moments. Now, did I need his permission? No, in truth I did not, but I did not elbow my way in either.

Many of you, nay, all of you walked with me and with my son in times that you would now call olden days and yet those days are very present as you call them forth and as you have desired to remember them. That is why when the greeting was given, "Peace be with you," there was an instant response remembered well from other times and it is a joy to behold you once again.

You have heard it spoken in this evening that it is a time, a pivotal time, a time of ascension and this is true. It was a time when you and I walked the face of our Holy Mother, the Earth. It was also a pivotal time then for there were many who heard the message of the heart of my son and ascended in consciousness to the Father. It is the same in this day and time for you are calling me forth because you desire to remember and to ascend.

Now you would say, "If I were one who heard the message of Yeshua, Jesus, Jeshua, and I understood those words and I ascended what am I doing back here again?" It is a good question. You have agreed that you will come and be servant to the brothers and sisters. That you will don the cloak of forgetfulness for a certain time period in order to speak a language with the brothers and sisters so that they can see you as themselves and they can speak, relate and have a glimpse that will be as the spark plug to remember their holiness.

For all of you, you have not truly forgotten, otherwise you would not be here in this evening. You would be out at one of your other gatherings doing something else, totally oblivious to the message of the heart. But you have agreed that temporarily you will come and you will be amongst the brothers and sisters and you will appear as they do. You will wrestle with the same ideas, the same confusion, the same questions, the same doubts so that they seeing you, will catch a glimpse of the Father and you thought it was just for you.

No, what you do beloved son, uplifts all of creation. Even the wrestling with the ideas and the questions. You do that for the brothers and sisters as well and you serve all of humanity. Never think that what you do has small import. That you just do it for yourself. For indeed as you allow yourself to be uplifted in consciousness, as you allow yourself to feel the vibration of love, that reaches out and touches every one of your brothers and sisters and uplifts all of creation.

They do not always show you that they have been touched for many times there is an armoring of the focus where they seem to be in their own world. You have known that feeling yourself, of being in your own world as you wrestled with something.

{A dog walks into the sanctuary looking for his master.}

Feel you the vibration of love? Beautiful one.

As you allow yourself even in this moment to loose sight of the small self of your being, of who you have thought yourself to be in that moment as you looked upon the beloved pet, you began a process once again of the ascension that has been spoken of this evening.

That is why you surround yourself with walking love. Walking on the four feet and walking on the two feet, and sometimes in the water and sometimes in the trees as the flying birds. Much of beauty.

In the lifetime that we walked the earth it was a time very much like what you are experiencing now.

It was a time when there was hatred of brother to brother and sister to sister much what you would see as the gossip, the rumors, criticism, judgment. It was also a time when ones forgot themselves -- the small self -- and would cross the road to help a fellow traveler. One perhaps not of the same country for in an instant that brother was seen to be the Self. You have the stories recorded in your scriptures of the good Samaritan and there were many such instances where aid was given from the heart. And you were among the ones who gave aid and support to others.

You were also the great businessman. You knew how to drive a good bargain but you had a heart of gold and on the inside you were most soft and gentle. But the exterior beloved one, it was enough to put fear into some of the business partners.

I knew brotherly love. I knew responsibility of fatherhood. I knew questions of society, of the world at that time. I knew fear for preserving the body and the safe-keeping of those entrusted to me. That is why we made flight to Egypt.

But I also knew the love of the Father for I had been brought up in a community that revered and honored the love. The ancient scriptures, the prophecies, I knew them well and I knew the quiet peace of meditation. I knew the revelation that came in dreams. And I, like you, knew that there must be more to life than just the studies, the religious worship, the daily activities, the raising of a family. There was much joy in the family.

I knew methods of healing for as I had studied and meditated and lived with oneness with principle of oneness first, and I knew it to be my being. I also knew how to facilitate healing of others and there were many times ones came to me in the monastery and later to the shop of wood, of carpentry to speak with me for healing of the body which is going very well. {Laying hands on a sister's leg.} Much heat of healing and healing of the soul.

Ones who would come and spend time with me in the shop of carpentry and would love the very vibration of the wood. Know you the vibration of love that is in the wood? It is a living form. {Running hands over the ends of the carved pews.} The same as we. To bring forth a beautiful carving of the wood I would sit with a peace to meditate, to commune, to be one with the vibration of that life. And ask of it, what form, what design it would desire to show forth? Not just to carve in a mechanical means, to take knife and butcher a piece, but to bring forth the spirit of the wood itself.

You have now in this day and time the artisans who know how to revere the wood as well and to bring forth the spirit of wood. Knowing themselves to be one with that spirit, to commune and to call it forth. But I digress.

In the day and time when I was as companion to Jeshua in his years of growing up, it was a time of great joy for there was much that he in his innocence brought to our remembrance. There were times when he would speak a word in simplicity as the small ones do for you even now that would remind me to stop turmoil in my mind and to come again unto the peace of the heart.

I greatly loved and still do love the one known as Mary. I was companion and husband to her and it was a great honor to be with her gentleness and her forcefulness at times. For she was as all of you who activate now the form of woman, she was one of gentle nature and yet very much true to what she knew to be the truth of her being. And if anyone would step across those lines they were put in their place and reminded. Gently but firmly of the truth of the Father and of love.

I had heard the prophecies. I knew, had read, had copied the ancient manuscripts that told of the birth of the messiah. Little knowing at the time I copied those manuscripts from those ancient scriptures as they were in that time, that I was going to be involved with it. But it was something we were preparing for and that we expected. We knew that it would be coming soon.

And when it was suggested unto me that I be companion to the one known as Mary and companion to the one known as Jeshua, at first I felt unworthy. For all of the writings of messiah that told of messiah's birth and what he would do seemed to me to speak of someone greater than I, more holy than I, more wise and I thought, "How could this be that I was asked to be companion, to look after, to nurture this one?" And I wrestled with my doubt and my feelings of unworthiness. And I would run from it until the angel spoke to me that it was something that I had agreed to do. As you have agreed to nurture the Christ child in this day and time.

The Christ child of your own being and there are many times that you have run from that. You know the feeling well. But the angel spoke unto me to take Mary as my wife and to not be afraid of what that would entail, and so I did.

And I watched as Jeshua grew in wisdom and in stature. I marveled as his mother did at some of his sayings and the clarity of the revelations. And I knew this one through his gentleness was the messiah. Not as the world and not as I had expected the messiah to be, but I knew that he would be a great leader for he would bring many to the realization of the love of the Father even in that time. I did not live to see the resurrection. I did not live with activating the body, but I did live to see the resurrection in another form.

My message to you is that death is not something to be feared. More to be feared is not living. Death itself is the momentary release of the very specific focus and identification with a body. What happens beyond that is beautiful for you know yourself to be expanded love and light. The light that has been spoken of even in this time as being the tunnel of light that you go to, that light is your own light. It is not separate, not something afar off, held away from you. It is you, your own light and so I knew the resurrection, I knew the crucifixion. I knew the time that was spent with Jeshua in the tomb. I saw and I felt and I was very much present. As you have been and will be again when you choose to lay down the body.

For when you release the body and the very close identification with the body, you do not lose contact with the loved ones. You are very much in communion with them. You know what is going on with them if you so choose, and I did choose. I chose to know how Mary was coping. I chose to make my presence known to her. I chose to follow the ministry of Jeshua and I chose in consciousness to be present with him in the tomb, and at the time of resurrection and the time of his ascension. As I choose now to be with you in your ascension/

Thank you for the opportunity to speak with you in this manner this evening. For as some of you have discerned, there has not been too much written about me apart from an also mention in your scriptures. And I am not often called forth to speak with you. So it has my great honor and pleasure to have this privilege to speak with you.

I come because I desire to remind you that everyone you have ever known, loved, revered, is with you still. Even the ones that you would say have been the great masters of the past. The great masters of history that have gone on somewhere, even we are with you for there is much more to life than just what appears to be between the crown and the feet.

Now I know I have been told that there are questions that need to be addressed in this evening. So I will allow you to speak with Jeshua again. Thank you beloved son. Peace be with you.

Jeshua:

Beloved and holy and only Child of our Heavenly Father, a great surprise no? You did not know that you were going to treat yourself to such communication. But that is the joy of the ascension for you do not quite know what is around the next corner. The ego would ask, would want to know certainty. Wants to know all the answers. What is going to happen if I choose such and such? What is going to be the outcome and you sit and you wrestle and you worry, you try to cross all of the bridges and the bridges are not even built yet.

The joy of the ascension is living in the moment, being willing to be spontaneous and to say, "Okay Father, I trust. I trust what is going to happen and in that you throw away all of the restrictions and all of the binding limitations of fear and you say, "Okay. I will go forth."

Okay, we will go forth. I there a question that you would ask this evening? Yes.

You said the purpose of our life is to accept. On a scale of 1 to 10 where am I in my purpose?

Ah, beloved one. First of all I would ask of you, where do you see yourself?

I don't know.

Ah, but you do know. Now, having said that, go beyond the "I do not know," and go within. Go to the place of the heart and ask. Where are you on the scale of 1 to 10.

A five.

That is good. That is good.

Where do you see me on the scale?

I see you at a seven and a half.

{Laughter}

What you have witnessed here is a grand testimonial to what has been. There has been habitual image that perhaps I am not quite as far as I would like to be. I will tone it down a bit. Habitual, but this one is to be commended because he did not say, "Oh, I must be a point five." Well done beloved brother, well done. Allow yourself to claim the ten for indeed it will not be long before you release all of the shackles of habitual image and you say, "I am my Father's Child in expression and I will know, I will express everything that the Father is in total conscious realization. I will ascend out of that limited image."

You are doing very well with it. Be of joy. Yes.

I know I am able to love myself enough to heal a life-threatening illness.

Yes.

I will be able to do the work?

Yes, indeed. Already the healing is in process. As you have desired, so be it.

There is much that is happening with you as the servant unto many. There is a feeling that you are isolated in this and facing it all alone and yet you are not. What you have agreed to do is to come and offer brothers and sisters opportunity to love, to see and behold the miracle of healing. To support you in the healing and to know that as you are healed, they are healed as well. It is most courage of you to have chosen this path for it is not a path easily chosen. But as you have desired beloved one, so be it unto you. Already the healing that you have asked for is in process. You are beautiful beloved one. Do not allow yourself to stay in the place of doubt, the place that would only perhaps once in a while hope to believe. Claim the truth of your being and know that your healing serves many.

It serves your remembrance yes, for it will bring it to the place of not just hoping, but to the place of knowing. You will know it with a grand strength that no one can take from you. And what you do beloved one, uplifts all of creation and heals many brothers and sisters.

There is much that is going on with the brothers and sisters upon this plane in this time. There are many who are making courageous choice to show forth disease of the body so that the healing, the wholeness of the spirit can be seen. That is why you have much that has come to your conscious awareness, of many who have what is called life-threatening disease. It is not life-threatening in Truth, for the life that you are changes but the form of expression.

So when you chose to release the body which will not be for a long time yet, you will know that you are still life and still consciousness and still love. The healing that you so desire is well in process and it is a gift that you give unto many. For as you have said that you are willing to walk this path, you give many the opportunity to open their heart and to be there as support for you.

That is a gift that is an experience that they would not have were you not willing to walk the path you are walking. You are not isolated. There are many that you serve and there are many who serve with you in that there are invisible, to the physical eyes, invisible beings who work with you.

It is something that you have said that you would do out of great courage. Not out of weakness. Not out of failure. Not because you have not known how to do something. There has not been a lack. It has been chosen out of great courage and because of that great courage, beloved one, it serves many. As you have desired, so be it.

Procrastination?

Yes.

And impatience and escape.

Well as you have seen, procrastination and impatience are like two sides of the same coin. On the one hand you would procrastinate what you desire and on the other hand you are impatient because you don't have it. It keeps you in a place of immobility for awhile. A place where you can judge self and say, "Well, I should be doing something better." That is the voice of ego that would judge. It is the voice of ego that says, "There are goals that must be attained and why aren't you busy doing them?"

The truth of your being beloved one, is that you have attained all of the goals. You are already holy. You are already perfect, created of the Father from before time began, and there is nothing that you need do or accomplish to make you more worthy of the Father's Love. It is an impossibility for you are already loved with the greatest love that you can imagine and more, yes. You are already that which you seek.

So you do not have to worry about the procrastination. I would say to you beloved one, that you may sit for the rest of what you would see as this lifetime and breathe. Abide in the heart. Know the love and the peace of the heart and you will find after awhile you begin to expand that and extend it out to others. Not as a goal, but just because you have to. There is so much of it. That is serving all of creation more than if you were most busy running around doing all of the tasks that the ego would dictate.

When you know the presence of peace, that is the greatest thing. So when the voice of ego comes and will judge and will say, "There you go again, procrastinating." Say, "I am about my Father's business. I am loving. I am loving Self and I am loving others." In that moment you no longer need the patience for you are doing what you have agreed that you will do, to be the presence of the Father's Love right here and right now. It is simplicity itself.

Now the voice of the world will say that there is much that you must do and accomplish in a lifetime. Many classes you have to go to and degrees that you must have. All kinds of service that must be given. The greatest service is to love. To love self first, and others from that love.

So allow yourself the next time when those voices come up, to thank those voices for indeed there is a purpose to the ego. The ego is not here to trip you up. The ego is not here as something wrong, bad, evil. It is not a punishment. The ego is your messenger. That is all it is and it serves a very important function for it is the messenger that will tell you in that moment where you are abiding. When that ego comes with a message, attend to the message because it will tell you what you are thinking about yourself and about others. Whether you are abiding in the heart with love of self and others, or whether you are momentarily accepting that there could be something that yet needs fixing.

That is the function of the ego. It is here because you have asked it to be here as your messenger, as your servant. So you do not have to do away with the ego for it is not something that you have to fight. For if you fight you are giving the attention of your energy to it in confrontation and concept. But if you thank the ego as the messenger that it is, it will go away until the next time. And after awhile you will find that it is not upon your stage as much as it used to be.

So when that voice of ego comes and would judge, say, "Thank you. You have reminded me. I am not at this moment abiding in the Father's Love. Now I choose to know that I am Love. And I am so dog gone happy with that love that I give it forth."

You are beautiful. Is there another question?

I have a question about your beautiful fancy star that's up there right now. One that gleams and glimmers and is there all the time. Boy it means something kind of wonderful. Any comments? I want to know.

It is a beautiful star, a point of light that you have brought forth because you are the one living in this dimension that brings forth all of the creation that you see, to remind you of the light that you are.

That is why you have the lights in your heaven. It is to show you that the darkness is a no thing. The darkness cannot put out the light of a star can it? No. You are bringing forth now beautiful reminders of light. What you would call as the astronomical phenomenon. You are bringing forth the technology that can go into what you now call the deep space and find the light that is in what you would see as the darkest part of space.

Know you that very soon you are not even going to call upon the technology in order to know the light that you are that extends to the farthest universes? Yes, as you do even now in meditation.

The other star when you were here on earth before, in the time we talked about as Jeshua, was it a portent of something, a major happening? I feel that, that star.

Yes, and that is true.

Thank you. A bunch of us were together the other night and we saw a shooting star and we've never seen one like this before.

Beautiful to behold.

It was green and it had streamers and I thought, there's something. These are wonderful messages, portents of something wonderful that's happening. And it brings up your own maya, our own cocoon like status wrestling around in there and cracking open the outside, about to come out.

This is what is happening.

That's what it feels like.

The star that you have seen, yes, is a portent. Not because I nor other masters have put it there for you but because you are bringing it forth to remind yourself that this is an age of possibilities. It is a time of the ascension, and yes there is much that is happening. It is much the same as the time when I was born, yes. The stars are your herald. They bring you to the awareness of how beautiful you are and they do herald a new age.

For those of you so gathered in this room this evening and those within the sound of my voice, you are the star that you behold. You are the star that is on the ascendant and great is the radiance thereof.

Is there another question?

...and how does this message relate to that of yours?

Beloved one, yes, I was privy to all of the ancient writings and all of the studies in the place known as the community where I was raised, there was a brotherhood that was linked to a far flung network, we will call it, of ones, mystical ones, ones interested in spiritual revelation. And so I was privy to the writings of revelations that had come through in what was known as previous times.

I also traveled to many lands for I did not just stay in Judea, I did not just stay in the place of Nazareth or around Jerusalem. I went afar off and I studied with masters, the mystics and I rediscovered the great truths that are true for all time and beyond time. How does this message relate? It is the same Truth. It is a truth that I brought forth in another incarnation.

Now beloved one, as if that would be enough of a bombshell, since we are not separate it is a truth that you have brought forth in what you would see to be an ancient time. Yes, you have lineage. I love you.

It is well for you to study all of the philosophies that are extent at this time, all of the religious persuasions, not to limit yourself just to one. But to study all of them and to take what speaks to your heart. For as you have seen even in this lifetime, for all of you, you have begun in what you would see as one organized collection of beliefs, one church, we will call it, and then you have gone on to taste of other religious organizations and what they had to offer. And you have taken and you have discarded. Do not limit yourself even to what you have experienced so far in this lifetime. Study the other writings, the other philosophies, delved deep until you get beyond what maybe an unfamiliar language. Delve deep until you find the heart of that message and you will find that it is one.

Visit the congregations, the gatherings of worship. Keep what is known as a certain heart commitment to a group of like minded individuals. In other words, your home church. What you would call the home church. Keep a commitment of the heart, but do not be afraid to venture to another congregation and to taste of what is being offered there and to listen beyond the words to the message of the heart.

For too long have you lived within compartments, each compartment at war with the other one. Too often you have professed Christian love and yet you knew not the Christ. Now visit your other congregations, your brothers and sisters and look beyond the words and the ritual to the Christ. Then you will find the true love that reveals the oneness. And you will see the star of your own being.

Thank you for asking that question beloved one. Is there another question? Yes.

Automatic writing, will you help me with it?

Indeed, you have begun?

Yes.

Yes. This is very good for it allows you to go beyond what you see as a specific identification with the one known as Bert. Yes. You may feel that there is energy coming through that is beyond and separate to you. It is not. It may in the beginning be comfortable to you, to identify it as another energy and that is okay. Write from the heart. At first when you write, do not read it right away, but put it aside for some time interval. What you know as the fortnight. I wonder why they call it a fortnight, did you ever spend a night in a fort? A fortnight. No, not recently. Well anyway, two weeks and a day, I believe is a fortnight. Put it away for two weeks and a day and then bring it out and read it with new eyes.

After awhile you will find an evolution that will suggest unto you that you are one with that energy for indeed that is the truth. But you may play with it at first. It is fun to play with it at first, to identify it as coming from some great master or another energy somewhere that has a bit more wisdom, a higher perspective and this is true. There is a higher perspective but it is not separate from you.

So as you bring forth what is known as the automatic writing, you are allowing the higher perspective of you to speak to what you would see as the more narrow focus of you. There will be great revelation in this. You will have fun with it. And yes, I will help you with it.

Thank you.

Would you explain the Christic light and what it means?

Ah beloved one, you have seen this, yes? It is again the light that you are. Seen as being separate from you for there is a bit of belief that yet says that the Christ is something beyond this plane. Something a bit removed, more wonderful than what the worm of the dust would know. Well I will have you know that the worm of the dust, he is turning and he is looking upward and he is seeing his own light.

You have seen this many times in your meditations. Many times with the inner sight. You have seen this around other ones. {Sound system cuts out.} There is an energy about you even interfering with the mechanical. It is the energy of the ascension that will blow some of the fuses.

For indeed, that in truth will happen. You will find that with the ascension you will see the physical changes as well. You will feel the body to tingle. Not painful, but more alive. You are in process even now of changing the DNA of the very cells of the body so that more of the energy of light and of spirit can be conducted and radiated. And it will blow some of the circuits of mechanical things. You will find that you pass under one of those lights on your street and you will be in a place of radiance that is sensed by the, it is called the photo sensor, and the light will go out because it thinks it is daytime.

Some of you have experienced that, yes, where the light goes out. The photo sensor says, "Ah ha, a sun." Which you are, a sun, and then it goes out and then they have to send out the repair truck to fix it.

But you will feel in the ascension, you will feel differently. You will heal more quickly. You will heal more quickly the process that has been believed in. You will see that accelerated where you will know that you are already whole and healed. You will feel the physicality to come alive. You will even tremble from time to time and ones will look at you and they will say, "What have you been smoking?" And you will say, "It has been the pipe of peace. The peace pipe. The pipe of joy." But yes, the Christic light, it is around all beings. Around this one. Around this one, and this one, everyone.

That's different from the aura?

No, the aura is yet part of what you would behold as the Christic light, the aura is part of it. It is not yet in your acceptance as being the whole.

Is that the light that lights up a room?

Yes.

Because a room gets light at times.

Yes, it does. You bring forth your own light and you can light the room. As you remember in other times with masters where there was no need for what you would see as the separation to say that there is lighting that comes as separate from me. That light is not separate from you. You are the power that brings it into being, but it is yet seen as somehow on another circuit.

But you remember times and you have done this even in this lifetime where you will sit in a dark room and after a short interval of time the light fills the room without any artificial means. It changes, yes.

Well then, when I leave here tonight I know I'll say sometimes it bothers me, the rings of colors around headlights, so to speak. Sometimes it even bothers me when I'm driving.

Indeed. You will see more and more of this.

What does it represent?

It represents the release of specific focus. It is not what you would see as a negative. Something that you would not desire. For you can bring the focus back to a certain point of light. In other words, you do not have to see the rings. You can do that. It takes a bit of effort of will, but you can do it. But what you are moving into is seeing the light that is around everything even artificial as you would call something to be separate from you. And seeing the various vibrations of light that are interpreted as color.

When somebody speaks and you see that light, is that telling you that is your truth?

That is for you to interpret. In other words, there are certain signals that you send to yourself. Ones will sometimes get the bumps go up the arm called a goose bumps. Others will see a light. Others will feel a ringing in the ear. Others will feel a twitch of the eye, whatever. You have your own way of symbolism that tells you the truth. It may be that you feel the heart opening and you feel at peace. And you say, "I know that to be true because I feel it, expansive. I feel non-threatened. I feel calm. I feel okay with that." Yes.

There are times where you have a saying in your world that the light dawns. You know the truth comes and the light dawns and sometimes you quite physically will see the light.

Thank you.

You are most welcome.

There has been some information that has come forth recently about the role of Mary Magdalene in your time. Can you tell us what the role was?

Oh, a most beautiful role. This one was a love mate of mine. This is one who was a heart mate of mine. Yes, there was physical union with this one, love expressed for indeed there is nothing of sin in physical expression of love. There are societal rules, taboos, brought forth for certain purposes. But love can be and is expressed upon this plane in a physical manner, and when you come from the place of the heart in love, in oneness and then you express that with the physicality, it is even more beautiful.

This is one whom I knew in the family and shared very much with in time of family get togethers. This is one that I saw from an early age as she was growing up. She is the one known as the sister of Martha. Sister to the one known as Lazarus. This is a most beautiful being. One who knew her spirituality and one who claimed the truth of her being and would not stay within a certain role that was given unto women in that day and time.

So she set out on her own not being satisfied, complacent to stay in the home. She set out on her own and established a great business. A business that is still in operation these days. A business of service. For indeed as the physical appetites of the body were served there was much more than that that happened in the home that she established.

For ones would come, yes, to satisfy the physical appetite, but they came more to satisfy the longing of the soul. To find love. To find acceptance. To find a place where they could open their heart and share what was going on in the innermost part of their being. And the home that she established, yes, it did serve to body but more than that, it served the soul. It was a place where ones could come and find refuge. Where they could come and find love and acceptance.

She had a great sense of business as well, and she knew the truth of the exchange of energy so that when service is given there is a flow of energy known now as the payment of the golden coins. In other words, there is a balance for service given, and she knew how to run a good business and she became quite wealthy.

She did not hoard the money. She kept what was necessary for the ongoingness of the business and she gave the rest away to the brothers and sisters and supported many of the children who were without parents.

There is much that is not recorded in your scriptures about this saintly woman. Often we would have the discussions of revelation of spiritual matters. For she was one who wanted to know, who was hungry and thirsty to know the love of the Father and she came quickly to understanding that what is of import even upon this plane is the love and support of fellow sisters and brothers.

She heard my teachings. She often supported with the golden coins, my ministry. For my ministry was not without worldly support as far as the monetary necessities. I did not travel destitute. Never would I travel destitute for I knew that the Father always provides.

But she was one who channeled some of the flow of the golden coins, to me, to the ministry, to beyond. She supported the brotherhood in the establishment of places of refuge. There was much that she did, what you would call, behind the scenes, and she was one who came to the tomb on the morning of Easter to attend my body.

We had shared, we had spoken, she and I, that I would not leave the body in the tomb forever. That I would resurrect it. She knew from our discussions that I had studied with other masters who knew how to do this and that I knew the principle of resurrection, of reactivating the body.

But she came to the tomb to attend to the body while it would be resting and found that it was no longer there. For I had not shared with her because I did not know, how long it was going to take me to do this. So she did not know whether it would be a week's time, a month's time. She knew that it would be done, but she didn't know the timing because I didn't know the timing.

If you will receive it, after the body was laid down and I communed in other dimensions there was a lack of sense of time for me. In other words, I didn't take the Timex with me.

Or the sundial.

Or even the sundial. You see when you are a light being and you are aware of the light that you are, it is very difficult to use the sundial. A bit of lightheartedness is always a joy is it not? Yes.

This is one known as Mary the Magdalene for she set up her place of business in Magdala, who was and is very close to my heart. She is one who knew ascension even in that lifetime.

For if you will receive it, after the ascension I was not gone from this plane. In other words, I did not just "poof" and have no further communication. I knew ascension but I also knew how to focus the energy to bring it into form so that when I desired I would manifest form and speak with my friends and disciples and members of the family. So there was much of companionship expressed with the form and also beyond the form in the days following my ascension and this one ascended unto the Father for she was pure of heart.

Thank you for asking that, beloved one.

There is a lot of interest in angels.

Ah yes, and why would that be beloved one?

People are reaching now.

Yes. There is a great desire of the holy Child to know the totality of holiness. To reach out beyond limited image and to expand the boundaries of what reality has been thought to be. Yes, angels are very real. They are very much present with you. Always have been, but there is now the desire to open to the understanding that you are never separate from the love and the communication of what is known as angelic beings.

You are, if you will receive it, angel right now, right here. You have a focus of this lifetime and the mission of this lifetime. But even as we speak in this point of focus, you are functioning as someone else's angel. That is how unlimited the holy Child is. You are most busy in other realms even as you are attending to this specific focus. So there are many who are functioning as the angel to you beloved one, and you, beyond this point of focus are the angel to others who are struggling with their own wholeness, their own healing.

Some within this dimension as you would understand this dimension to be, others in expression in dimensions that you can barely imagine, and yet it is all real. It is beautiful what is happening now upon this plane where ones are inviting the expanded image of Self to be known and experienced. So you will continue to see more and more interest in angels and more and more of the brothers and sisters coming out of the closet to speak of their angelic experiences.

It is becoming acceptable now, to say, "I have felt the presence of my angel. I have known the help of an angel in a time of crisis." The angels are most real. As real as you are. As real as this one is.

I would like to know more about becoming whole.

Ah, beloved one, already you are in process of becoming that which you would know. There are specific techniques that you will study. You have already had guidance to study some of them. There will be others that you will add to your toolkit, your repertoire, because you desire to remember techniques that you have done in other lifetimes. There is nothing new under the sun but there is remembrance of what you have used for facilitation of that remembrance in other lifetimes.

As there is sincerity of the heart to facilitate for others the remembrance of wholeness, you will find much guidance. There are ones of the brothers and sisters you have already spoken to who will help you upon this path and you, they. In other words, you will help them as well.

The desire comes forth because this is something you have found to be revelatory in other lifetimes. In other words, through the healing work you have come to know your own wholeness in other lifetimes and it is true of this lifetime as well.

For when you stand with another one in the love of the heart with sincere intent for them to remember wholeness, there is a great energy that is brought into that conscious awareness of remembrance. More than just what you would see as the singular one. In other words, where two or more are gathered together in my name, in the remembrance of holiness, not my name just as a personality of one Jeshua, but in the remembrance of the holiness. Then comes forth healing. You are being greatly guided. Already what you desire it is happening. It will continue because it will be a joy of your heart.

Know that there are many who work with you both seen and unseen and the one known as my mother works with you. In other words, that which you desire in no way will be held from you.

I think ... a lot of changes... nonphysically... it just occurred to me a moment ago that ... {Not clearly recorded}.

Indeed beloved one, as you have desired so be it. There is nothing or no one who is going to stand in the way of the awakening. Allow yourself to know the fullness of that love. For as you have felt, there is great healing for you and for others as it is poured forth.

This will continue for it is something that you desire to do. To know the fullness of love. It will come at your request. All you need do to invite it is to take one deep breath and to come unto the place of centeredness of the heart. Then to proceed in love from that place.

If there are words that need to be spoken as you have already experience, they will come forth. If there are no words that need to be expressed, sit in silence abiding in that great space of love and know that it comes through the very cells of the body and goes out on the airwaves to whomever would be open to receiving it.

As to the dizziness beloved one, remember to breathe.

What is the rainbow connection?

Ah, it is your connection to Home. What you are seeing now is a great remembrance, a desire for remembrance for ones to live unconditional love and acceptance of each other. It is the light, seemingly separated through the prism of experience upon this plane, and yet all of the various colors of the prism go back to the one Light that we are.

So there is much now that is symbolized by a rainbow. Much that you would see on this plane where ones would say, "You may be of a different appearance, a different persuasion and yet we are all as the rainbow. The different colors of the rainbow." It goes back to even the physical phenomenon of the rainbow in the sky where the light comes through the various crystals of moisture and is seen to be separated into the beautiful vibrations of color as the covenant of old. The covenant of God the Father with man.

It was a covenant that was established that no longer would there be devastation meted out from a Father above to the children who somehow needed cleansing and so there was a great arc of the covenant seen as the rainbow in the heavens to remind the holy Child, man, woman of the Father's Love and the covenant that no more there would be a great flood of cleansing. But that has been in the limited understanding of man, in the evolution of the awakening.

In other words, it was symbolic and it was a great catalyst for remembrance, but it was not the totality of the awakening. It has come now into usage to symbolize again that though ones may be different in appearance, in persuasion, philosophy, whatever, the holy Child is one. It is a most powerful symbol. That is why you are seeing it being brought forth at this time.

It is a symbol of hope. A symbol of oneness. It is a symbol that brings the holy Child back to the remembrance that he has never left the Father.

I see it in many different places.

Yes, it is a beautiful symbol. You will behold many rainbows. Those in the heavens, yes. Those in the posters, the pieces of paper, the messages of symbolism and you will behold even the rainbow from heart to heart. You will be looking upon one and you will see the arc of love between heart and heart. It is most beautiful. Thank you.

We will entertain three more of the questions because the evening now in your timing, not in mine, is growing late. Yes.

I am starting to have doubts about my work and I'm wondering if I am still to continue...?

Yes, for what you would see as a short time interval. It will continue, but there is a desire of your heart to have it evolve into something more. So you will be bringing about changes where you will find it more conducive, easy to share the love of your heart with others. But for a short time do not trouble yourself about where you are. You will be doing some of the research with others, speaking of the desire of your heart and you desire to see this out-pictured and lo and behold, miracle of miracles, there will be an opening because you will have brought it forth.

Allow yourself to be at peace in every day. In other words, it is not something that is going to slip away from you because you do not do it on the morrow. Everything is in its own beautiful process of unfoldment because you as the child of the Father are decreeing its process. So you do not need to trouble yourself about great effort. Just to be open, to listen with the ears, to speak and to listen to heart.

For indeed beloved one, you serve no matter where you are. You already have discerned that and there are ones in the present grouping who have called you to be there with them. But it does not mean that you will always be there for indeed there are changes afoot. Good ones. Yes.

A question of general interest that generally probably thought of as odd, but I've never been accused of being right down the middle anyway.

No, this is true.

I think a lot about all inclusive love, unconditional love and I think I've made a lot of progress and happy with progress in that. But as I play with thoughts as you talked about, I go, I take the thoughts all the way down the road and say, "Well, test yourself. See how far you've come." Now as you grow up and you are taught various things in church about loving. You are taught about baby animals and guys and tulips and all of these lovely things that are not hard to love. But a while ago and this got me to thinking, I had an infection. A rather major one and I was thinking to myself, "But what about the love that extends to bacteria? And head lice and viruses?"

Yes.

How do I find my connectedness to them because I see a wall there between me and what this is? Now I tried an experiment. I said to this infection, you are loved by God but you are manifesting in a way which is harmful and painful to me. Please find another way to manifest. It did go away after that, but I was taking pills so I don't know.

Yes. You have discerned that there is nothing that you create that is unholy. What you did with this was to know oneness, to speak with it and to say you are blessed of the Father, however the effect that we are bringing forth is not one of comfort and of ease. Therefore I would ask for a transformation.

You in your great wisdom, also took what you would see to be magic. In other words, a substance, pills that would somehow effect what you wanted to have happen. There was no magic in the substance. There was magic in your belief. There is nothing wrong with taking a substance, pills, medication in order to bring about the effect that you desire. There is no magic in the substance itself, but what affects the outcome is your belief and your visualization, your seeing, your knowing of the final goal. Knowing that that is going to happen.

Now many of you will go to the medical practitioners who will be your servants. They are not there to be your opponents. They are not there to make you suffer or to put you through torture. No. You have asked them to be here as your servants and to facilitate for you various methods, means of healing.

What you bring forth even in pharmaceuticals serves you. What you bring forth in the herbs of the field, that serves you. What you bring forth in the glass of water serves you. In other words, you can take a glass of holy water and it is holy because you have created it. You don't have to worry about the chlorine in it. After all you created the chlorine as well. You don't have to worry about whatever else is going to be in it because you have created that as well, but call it holy and you may drink that glass of water knowing that it is medicinal and it will serve the same purpose as the most powerful -- according to your belief -- medicine, substance.

For you bring it all forth. So bless your creations. Know your oneness with them. Speak to them as you did, and then do whatever is in alignment with your belief system to change, transform and effect what you desire to have come forth. And do not beat yourself up because you have said, "Oh, well I didn't just do it out of thought. I had to take something tangible." Where do you think the something tangible came from? It came out of your thought. Do not see separation.

Yes, beloved one.

The fellow over here said the first time he spoke to you it's being like I experienced the same thing. I knew he was going to ask another question and what he said to you the first time, I knew what he was going to say.

Yes.

That's why I kept looking over at you. I never saw you before in my life and he was sitting over here with his family or whatever. The same thing he asked you and I knew he was going to ask another question like that. I knew it. Why?

Because beloved one, it is part of the ascension. It is part of coming up out of that limited image that says, "This is all I am. How would I know what he is thinking because I am here and he is there?" It is because there is but one Mind and you are now ascending into the place of believing, knowing, claiming that I am not separate from my brother. I am the expanded Self. The one Self. The one Mind.

You will find in the days to come that you will pick up more and more of the thoughts of others. They will not even need to speak the words although you will still have words. But you will now before they say what is in their heart. You will even know beyond the words for they may use words that do not quite tell the story of their heart because they think that you would not love them if they told the whole story.

And you will see beyond the words to the heart that is hurting, the heart that is calling out for love. You will smile at that one and you will be the Christ that you are and you will behold the Christ that they are and you will say, "It is okay. I love you for I know who you are and I will see you through this."

Do you know that is what all of the brothers and sisters are asking for in this time? They are asking for you to be there with them and for them. They are asking you in truth to be there as them for you are already. There is no separation. And as you are willing to sit with another one and to give some of your precious time, time is the most precious thing you have upon this plane. More precious even than the golden coins for you have said that time is money. Time is the most precious gift that you can give to another one. To say, "I will sit with you. Tell me what is going on with you? It is okay."

Then they see that you value them more than if you were even to put the golden coins into the beggar's cup. Yes, you are ascending beloved one. That is what is happening and grand it is.

This has been a grand evening of power, of ascension. A grand evening of love and I thank all of you for giving to me your time, your love, your attention and your willingness to be in the heart. For indeed there have been many words spoken, but what has been most important in this evening has been the message of the heart. For many, all of you, not just many but all of you, have been touched in the heart. Not by the words so much, but by what you were willing to receive in the heart.

So even though there has been much babble of the words, and much love conveyed in that way, what has been more important has been the message of heart to heart.

Go forth from this place in peace. Go forth from this place in great joy. Know that the ascension is a reality for you. It is not something that occurred a long time ago and will never happen again, for you are in process right now of your own ascension. Live in each moment as the holy Child would live.

In other words, imagine, "If I were the holy Child, how would I look upon this? What would I do in this day?" And then go forth in the knowledge that you are that holy Child. No longer do you need to keep it at arm's length and say, "Well, when I am good enough. When I have X, Y, and Z, then I will know myself to be holy." Already you are holy and beautiful you are.

So be it.
