

Temples of the Living God

2003

Beloved one, it is time now to arise, to know the Light, to feel the vibration of the Light, to come truly alive into the glory of the Father.

Now, when I speak of glory, I do not mean it in terms the world will define glory, for that, as you have seen in this lifetime and in many other lifetimes past, is temporal, passing. You may have glory for a moment or so, and then the focus of attention is shifted to something else, someone else, some other event. And you have seen how the glory of the world passes by. And yet, you are the glory of the Father come forth into this point of focus to bring the Light of the Father into this time.

Glorify Thou me

You have written in your holy Scriptures a saying, a prayer that I prayed with you on the night of the Last Supper, as it has been called, when we supped together with the bread and the wine. And afterwards I was sharing with you that which was to be, trying to prepare you for the next day and the next few days of what was going to happen. And I shared with you a prayer to the Father, as I knew that the time was nigh for the glory of the Father to be shown once again upon this plane. And I prayed unto the Father, "And now, Father," I said, "now, Father, glorify thou me with thine own Self with the glory which I had with you before the world was."

Take that deeply within the consciousness, for that prayer is your prayer. "Father, glorify me now with thine own self, with the glory which I had with you before the world was."

Glory, not temporal, but the true meaning of glory, as the Light and the expansion of Light. The glory of you is the Light of you, the love of you, the expansiveness of you, which you had with me and with the Father before the world was, and it is time now that you claim it once again and that you come truly in that glory, in that Light, in that vibration of aliveness, to walk this earth as the divine nature of holiness — divine nature come into the physicality of vibration — and to bring it to a place of realization so that ones can behold the glory of you, and in seeing your glory, they can know themselves glorified — in other words, enlightened.

Before the world was

You had recently an event which was as a wake-up call, a knocking upon the door of the collective consciousness where it was unexpected, and yet known in the higher realms that this would happen, to bring to your awareness once again the preciousness, if you will, of life on this plane, and the preciousness of life eternal. Because, as you have begun to understand, one lifetime, one physicality, is not all that you are. You are eternal and even beyond eternity, because you are the ones who have come up with the concept of time and eternity, and you are beyond even that – before and beyond – with the Father before the world was.

So with the changes that are coming, that are being formulated, already well in process, you are going to want to remember the glory, the enlightenment, the vibration of enlightenment, the vibration of Love, and to allow that vibration to go forth into the world for those who are ready to receive it.

The event which you just recently experienced was one, is one, in a series of events. The ones who were in participation with this event were ones who have been the space travelers before. That is why they felt such a passion to be on this mission, to go boldly where seemingly no one had yet gone, and to do the research and the experiments and the experiencing. And yet within their own remembrance, just below the surface of the consciousness, there was a remembrance of lifetimes spent on spacecraft – adventuring, coming, if you will receive it, even to this planet. They are the adventurers, as you are, and they undertook a mission that was more than just doing the certain shuttle for a number of days. They undertook a mission, as they have done in other lifetimes, to bring to the attention, in a certain dramatic way, the collective consciousness, so that the collective consciousness could look once again upon the meaning of life and to look beyond the physical.

For those who went so boldly, so joyously, on the mission are still, if you will receive it, in joy, for they know that they completed the mission – not only that which they were asked to do from the world standpoint, but the greater mission to allow the collective consciousness a moment to walk through the door into a place of expanded consciousness, a place that says there must be more to life than just a few years. There must be more. And with that questioning comes enlightenment. Out of despair is born hope.

It is a bit like the bungee jumping. You go down to the farthest point, but you do not stay there. There is the still small Voice of the divine Self that brings you back up again. The collective consciousness is very much in the throes of the bungee jump. In the months to come there will be many times when you will turn to a place of connecting with vibration of upliftment, many times when you will want to have certain tone of vibrations surrounding you and to immerse yourself in the tone, whether it be with a toning bowl, whether it be with the voice, whether it be with the recorded music that is of uplifting vibration. There will be times when you will want to know the beat of the drum and be in resonance with the drumbeat. You will want to feel yourself more than just the body. You will want to know the vibration of divine nature.

The temple of the living God

You are, if you will receive it, the temple of the living God. You are the temple of the living God come forth into this reality. You are the only temple that many may come in contact with. You are the temple of the living God. You are living, and you are the Father in expression. Live so that ones may know the glory of the Father, the enlightenment, the Light of the Father. Live your life as you are : holy, the sunshine upon this plane.

Allow yourselves the vibrational quality of upliftment. Long enough you have listened to the voice of the world. Long enough you have listened to the voices which have spoken of despair. This time around you are coming back up, as we have spoken of the bungee jump; you are coming back up to a place — a dimensional quality if you will, a reality if you want to call it that — which believes that there can be and is something beyond, some greater purpose, an expansion of self.

You have reached — you collectively and you individually — the lowest point of the bungee jump, the lowest density. And you are well on your way upward.

You are coming now to a most wonderous time of change, this year we have spoken of, this year of changes, where everything is going to come to light. That which has been hidden is going to come into its own glory, some of it being world glory for a moment or so. You have seen that already with some of the brothers and sisters. They have been arisen up onto what you would see as the highest level of world glory, and then the closet has opened and all of the dirty laundry has been shown, and they have crumbled.

There are ones who make decisions seemingly for mass groupings, who are going to come, have already come, to a place of having to question their own motivations and the motivations of the ones who are the "advisors." And there is much of turmoil that is going on in the inner reflections of many who are in positions of seeming power. They feel the tugging of the consciousness of many different groupings, and they have certain leanings because of past history, because of past patterning, and because of this lifetime patterning. They have a certain leaning to accept a pathway that they feel may be their only pathway, and yet there is a turmoil going on within that they do not show publicly.

So there is turmoil which is going on, although, because of previous patterning and previous beliefs in the need for armoring, they have put around themselves a persona of armor where they will have to, what you call in your world, save face.

However, that which looks to be in all probability at this point in time is still open to improv. That is the greatest message I can give unto you: that that which seems to be at this point in time set in probability is still open to improv. You are great masters of improv, and that which we have been speaking of in the previous months, and that which is seen as a probability at this point, is still open to improv.

Be ye the temples of the living God and believe in improv. Believe that there can be good — as this reality believes in the duality of good and not so good — believe that everything serves the atonement, because it does sooner or later, so believe in the sooner (well, it is your preference, whichever you want), but be ye the vibrational quality of Life itself. Be alive.

Now, Father, glorify me

Be ye in every moment the temple of the living God come truly alive in your own divine glory which was before the world was. Remember the prayer that I prayed that evening you were with me at the Last Supper. Remember that prayer; it is your prayer as well: "And now, Father, now — not some future time — now, Father, glorify me. Allow me to come into the Light, the enlightenment, the expanded vibrational quality of true life, so that ones may know that there is hope, reason, purpose, to even this reality which can seem so heavy at times."

If your heavy-minded world leaders would look at each other face to face and smile, would that not transform everything? Visualize that as you go throughout your daily activities. Visualize the world leaders face to face, smiling. Let the world leaders, if they are going to lead, let them be first to meet each other, and to lead from that point. Visualize that happening. It is a new thought, because you have, in the collective consciousness, a great lineage of history and warfare where the so-called leaders were at the back, directing everything and allowing the subordinates — who are actually their equals — to be in the front ranks, and if there was a retreat, the leaders would lead the retreat.

As we spoke recently, allow yourself the clarity of intention plus the expectation, and it will lead to manifestation. Visualize the world leaders one on one, face to face, meeting with a smile. It can happen, you know. Expect it to happen, and it will manifest.

Now there are many in your world, including the ego part of you, that would question "Where do we go from there? My God, that would change everything." Allow yourself to play with the ideas — not only to visualize the world leaders meeting each other and smiling, agreeing to be in harmony for the betterment of their own collective societies, but visualize also what happens from there. If you were to have, and you can
