

ETs, and DEMENTIA

2017 - 06 - 03

Beloved and holy and only Child of our heavenly Father, Child of the one Source, Child of Light, divine. That is who you are. Take it deeply within the consciousness and contemplate what that means. Child of Light. Child of the one Source, going forth as the radiant being that you are, to touch everyone, to turn on their lights, and allow them to know the beauty of living, of radiating, and of breathing in the radiant energy that you are.

Great joy of reunion. Great joy to be hold you in your new surroundings. Great joy of homecoming, coming home to this house, yes, but coming Home within to the house and Home within, know that truly you are the blessing. You are blessed, and you are the blessing.

This evening will be most wonderful. It is, as my beloved friend and teacher has said to you, a party. It is a celebration of old friends from centuries ago, outside of the measure of time, truly, coming together once again in the form of bodies and in the love of the heart.

It has been truly spoken that this is a vortex, and you have been called, yes, by your own calling from many, many centuries ago as yo u would measure linear time. You are coming together now to celebrate a homecoming, a coming to the Home within, the Home that is forever you.

Yes, there is a physical building here where you may celebrate a party this evening, a homecoming, which is symbolic of the Home which you feel you have left, and yet truly you cannot leave it. You carry it with you all of the time, the Home that is truly your Home: the peace, the love, the Allness that is you, and you carry it everywhere you go, because it is you.

But many times the world will call unto you and say, " Look at this. How do you feel about some of your leaders? How do you feel about what is going on with decisions that are being made? " You get drawn into a certain place of the energy of the world. Then when you get tired of that energy, you take a deep breath and laugh. You say, " Oh, but it is a wonderful drama. I am manifesting this drama right in front of my eyes so that I can feel myself to be partaking of it, participating in it, yet I know it to be a drama, a passing drama.

You can see that as you look back a year, several years. You can see the drama that has come be fore you that you could watch as it went passing by. Sometimes you got sucked into it and said, " But I believe so strongly, " whatever the issue would be. Then after a while it passes, and you find something else that you are drawn to.

In truth, you and many of the brothers and sisters are looking for peace, are looking for Home. You are looking for that place of Allness that says you are whole — w-h-o-l-e. I Am That Which I Am. I am whole. And yet sometimes the world will speak to you that there are pieces missing, that you have to go searching for them. You have to try a bit harder. You have to look, read, study. And yet as you read and study, it resonates with you because, in truth, you have written the books that you then draw to you to read , and you say, " Aha, I knew that. Oh, I knew that. It rings true to me. "

Well, of course, it rings true to you, because you have written it. You have experienced it. You have gone through it. It is some thing that you have known. You are creating now the vortex of Light energy, energy that can be measured. You have your scientists who are very crudely measuring auras. You have ones who have sensitive readings so that they can study the energy that the body emits, that the brain emits.

Always, even when you lay the body down to sleep and think that you have turned off most of the systems, not all of them, you are still emitting energy. You are still energizing the brain. It is still working. You may come back the next morning and remember where you have been – in a dream, you call it , and yet it is as real as what you are experiencing in the waking time. And the brain is still emitting energy, because you are that energy.

You are an extension, as I have said. Oftentimes it has been said , “ You are a child of God, a child of the universe, a child, ” but as you understand a child, a child, yes, comes forth from the mother/father, the amalgamation of two, but then into a separateness. So you are very much more than that, because you are the extension – not separate from that which has given you the energy to Be – to make for yourself whatever your life has to be or will be.

So you are not separate from any of that. That is why I have used your terminology, extension, rather than child. It is a fine point, and yet a very important point, to be able to know that as you sit here and listen to the words, there are ideas that come and flash through the mind; ideas from the word, yes, and ideas that then are attached to some of the ideas that have come before that, and you get a most wonderful living picture – in living color – of what you are seeing, beholding, and how you interpret it to be.

There are times when you have gone to see the big screen and have been caught up in the drama of it where you are just, “ Oh, is it going to work out? Is she going to find the love of her life? Ah, watch out for ” And you’re almost at the point, especially if you’re in one of the 3D movies, where you feel that you're right in the action ... you're almost ready to scream, “ Watch out, ” because you're caught up in it.

You are playing out a most wonderful drama. I have said to you at some times that if you do not like the drama that you're in, stop, breathe, choose anew, because you are the one who is choosing and then judging what you feel the reality – lower case “r” – is. And all of the time you are drawing the energy from the Reality – capital “R” – to make the drama that you live in.

Now, some of the drama that you live in is happy. It is creative. You enjoy doing the colors upon the canvas and making for yourself a new vision of something that you then can turn around and show to someone , and it becomes most beautiful – as with your biological sister with her painting, as with your painting that you do, and then you show it to someone and they catch the vision of what you have seen inwardly as you have put it out on the canvas.

You are making a most wonderful canvas of this life, and moment by moment you are putting together the various colors, the vibrations, the aura that is you . And as I have said, your scientists now can measure that aura. They can let you see the colors of those vibrations, and they can see what emotion you have been in when the picture was taken and then put it onto the film, the canvas of it.

Your scientists are coming to a place where they are beginning to understand the connection of All by the energy that is emitted by the brain waves and also the vibrations of the body. If you were to be placed up against a white wall and then moved away from it, you would leave your imprint on that wall. There is still an energy picture on that wall. It may be for some of you a flash, and then it is gone, or you may look at it even now and see an outline of an energy that has been there.

That is how strong you are, how powerful you are, how alive you are. If you were to place a deceased body up against it, it would not have the same effect. But you, because you are breathing, living, emitting energy, taking in energy all the time, giving off energy all the time, you leave an imprint that can be seen.

There are times when ones look at you, and then they look away and can still see you, even though they are not actually looking at you. You have done that, and then you look back very quickly to see, " Are they still there? " Yes, they are still there. So it is fun. It is fun to play with energies.

There is a vortex that is being created. It is being strengthened. You are calling other ones who have the same desires, same interests, to come and be with you so that you can play again, play in this dimension, as you call it, play hopefully in a happy way , and to be able to know the true joy of Being. That is the only thing that truly is worthwhile, is to know the joy of Being, to know that who you are, the energy that you are, was not made to suffer.

I did not suffer on the cross. I know that a lot has been made of my suffering. I did not suffer. And if I had suffered for you ... I cannot do it for you. That has been a story. Each one of you makes your own story. But I could not, even if I had suffered, I could not erase what would be your experience of life.

You each are making your experience as you go along, and the vortex that you are making, you see the result of it in this evening. You have called one more beloved soul to be with you, and many more are being called to come to be in joy with each other; not because you have to do a big task; not because you have to find each other, but because you want to know the joy of wholeness.

So you are asking other ones in your waking time as you do the emails. You are saying, " Hey, you know, I found a really nice place to live. The people are friendly, and the weather is not too bad. You might want to come for a visit. As many of you know, you come for a visit and you stay, because it is Home. Because you are making it Home for yourself and for others — to come, to enjoy, and that is to find once again your true nature.

Now I would speak with you about an expansive topic. You have been playing with the idea of life beyond holy Mother Earth. You have been asking yourself, " Could there be, can there be; well, why wouldn't there be, " you are saying. You think probably these ones that you don't yet think you know , " Why wouldn't they be? What I can see, is this all there is? "

Some of you have seen some of the language that they are leaving for you. All of you have looked at the pictures of what are known as circles, but they are not always circles, in the crops, and have wondered, " How do they get there? What is their message? "

The message truly is a mind to mind message. It is not something as concrete as your various languages that you have on holy Mother Earth. I know that many of you study the sounds that are in various languages, and you learn to speak other languages. You learn the sounds and equate them with meaning as to what the name for a table would be, what the name would be for a mirror, a tree, etc.

You learn the various languages, some of which are easier or more familiar to learn, and then the linguists among you say, " Well, let me see about some of the lesser known languages. " It is fun to do, and it is mind - expanding. It is moving to the next step where truly you do not need sound for the languages.

I have heard all of you searching for a word. " I've got it right here. It's on the tip of my tongue. I'm thinking of that word or somebody 's name. I've got it right here, what I want to say to you, but I can't quite find the word for it. "

Well, you are moving to a space where you do not need words. You do not need sounds. You are moving to the place of mind to mind interchange of ideas. I have seen many of you searching. " There 's a term for this. " When you get to the place where you are mind to mind, all you will do is think of whatever you want to say, and the other person will pick it up as a picture, perhaps, as a knowing, and you will not have to go through the laboriousness of trying to find the right word and the right nuance of word.

It will be something that you project. In truth, you are already doing that as you are standing there trying to think, " Now, what is her name? I know her name. It's umm, uh " And then maybe a day or two later ... " Oh, yes, it's Genevieve. Okay. " Or maybe it comes to you in the middle of the night.

You already are doing mind to mind communication. You are already sending the picture of what you're thinking, but you have not yet come to the place of trusting that the other person is always going to pick it up. But there are some times when it does happen, and you say, " Oh, wow, that's really great. Yes, you got the meaning. I couldn't quite get the words for it, but you know what I mean." Then the other person says, " Yes, I know what you mean, " and they do.

Your intergalactic Intelligence is a thing which you say to be of the future, as you understand linear time. Now, in truth, time is not linear. All time is contained within the concept of a sphere. What makes it seem to be linear is, you think from this point to this point within this huge sphere of understanding, what connects those two points is a line; therefore, time must be linear, but it is not.

You can sit here right now and remember a lifetime that you had with me two thousand years ago. You know that each and every one of you in this room and within the sound of my voice and reading the words have walked with me two thousand years ago; otherwise, you would not be called to be interested in this.

There are more than the ones whose bodies sit here in this room right now, and these are the ones who are being called into the vortex to find ancient – as you understand linear time – ancient friends. You want to find them. You want to know the wholeness and the happiness and the joy of reunion.

That is why I often say that to you as a greeting, that it is a reunion of remembrance of times when we walked together, times when we sat around the campfire discussing ideas. Many, many times we did this with the mental mind. Now you go to books and read ideas and think, “ Oh, this book is so good. It explains everything for me. ” Well, of course . It is your remembrance of meaning. You get all excited, which is great, and you say to someone, “ Look, it says right here. This is what we were talking about a couple days ago . See, right here it says ... ” such and such.

Know you that the page is blank before you put meaning to it? The mind says, “ Oh, that can't be. I know it was there. ” But in truth, it was not there before you put it there, but it happened so fast, and you have been taught by generational teaching that time is linear, one thing following another, that sure, it has to be there beforehand. I pick up a book, and it's there. Of course. You put it there.

Sometimes you pick up a book and say, “ This doesn't make any sense at all. This looks like hieroglyphics. ” And yet if you will sit in quietness with that book, it will tell you. You will receive what it is talking about. But oftentimes in what you call these modern times, you are in a hurry to get on to the next part. “ I want to know how this turns out. I want to get on to the rest of it right away. ”

So you turn the pages, or you do what I have seen some of you do . You start with the back of the book and read from the back to see whether it's really worth starting to read the rest of it.

You are most engaging to watch. Know you that every time you have a thought, it does not stay within what you would call the brain. It does not. It is emitted, the same as your vibrational energy. That thought goes out, and that is why quite often you know what someone else is thinking even before they say it. That is why you are in sync sometimes with ones more than with others. You are in the same ... well, you have called it the same wavelength. You are on the same wavelength with each other. Therefore, you don't really need the words.

Then, because of generational teaching, you've been taught as the small one to make sounds and to change the sounds a little bit perhaps to say the right sound that somebody else will interpret to mean whatever is the common shared meaning of it.

And yet, you have seen this with your four-footed ones , you don't have to say anything to them. In fact, they don't even hear what you're saying. That's just like a whole lot of vibrational whatever. They are mind to mind. You think of something, and if they are in the mood, they will understand it. They wonder sometimes why you are not a bit brighter to get the message that they are trying to give you. “ What takes you so long to pick up the picture I am sending you? ” Then they dance around and yip – yap and say, “ Pay attention. I'm sending you this picture. I want my food right now. I want to go out. I have to go out, ” and you'd better let them out at that point.

They are doing what is truly your next what - you - call advanced step. They're doing mind to mind, and they do wonder why sometimes you are so slow to get the picture, because they're sending it, and they have to send it over and over and over, and then finally she pays attention, or he pays attention, and they get what they're emitting, what they are sending.

You are evolving to that place. That is why there are times when you judge yourself and say, " Well, I used to be able to think of somebody's name really easily, and now I have to really search and search; it must be way back in there somewhere, and it takes me longer. " You are actually evolving to the place where you are not going to need the sounds, except the happy sounds of laughter - you ' ll keep that - and the happy sounds of mu sic; things that bring you joy and allow you to resonate with the vibration. That is why many of you are called to listen to the music that resonates with you.

Now, I know that there are things called music that are quite discordant. Every generation seems to go through a time of doing their own particular sounds. They groove to the certain sounds, and it is truly a groove. It's up here, but it's a groove, and they are evolving to the place where they are actually going to leave that behind as well. But meantime they are having fun with it.

As a whole, as a collective, you are moving to the place where you will not have to worry about and judge dementia. Know you that the ones who are experiencing dementia are actually evolving? They are the ones who have given up being so tied into sound, words, and the meaning of sounds. They are being judged by society as being not as bright as they were when they were small and they were very rapid with the sounds. But in truth, the ones who are into the place of dementia are not having to be so mental. They are out of de-mentia. They are out of being mental, and they are actually moving into a space that you will be moving into as the human race is evolving. The sounds will not be necessary. The various configuration of sounds will not be necessary, all of that complexity.

You see, what you are moving towards is the remembrance of Home, the remembrance of Allness, the remembrance of Oneness that doesn't need all the various steps in between to make sense. Yo u think now with the small ones that they have to learn the sounds, how the sounds go together, how there is an inflection if you're asking a question, or if there is a certain way of wanting to express something really strongly , etc.

They are learning all of the inflections, and it's quite a task. They are already at the place where they would be - if you were to call it this - they are already at the place of dementia, the small ones. They don't have to use words. When they are hungry, they let you know it. When they want company, they'll let you know it. When they want the wetness changed, they'll let you know it. How do you know it? You know it by the picture that is sent to you. Or you may look at the clock and say, "Well, it's probably time they might be hungry." Might be. Sure, they are. You've already gotten the message.

So then you go through quite a few years of the training, and you do it very well, especially if you have immigrated from another country and have had to learn a second language , and it doesn't really feel quite right to the ear. But you store the sounds in the memory, and if someone speaks to you in what was the former language, you can pick out words and see what the meaning is. But again, it is more mind to mind than even the sounds.

Most wonderful experiences that you make for yourself, even in something as seemingly basic as language and sounds. But to communicate with the intergalactic ETs and what they are trying to say to you, it is mind to mind. You look at the designs that they make and get a feeling. You sit with it and ask, "What is this about?" Ideas will come to you .

For the most part, the designs that are made in the crop circles are ways of saying, "We are here. We are here with you. You may not see us, " because they know how to manipulate energy. They know how to either bring it together in very dense form that you would take in with the sensory eyes – you would see the form – or not .

For the most part, they move about in amongst you, and you don't see form. You may feel something a little bit different, but then, for the most part, you are very busy attending to the world so that you don't ponder it too long. But they walk amongst you and, for the most part, you would judge them to be friendly – for the most part.

There are ones who like to play with drama, the same as ones who are activating the more solid bodies. So they may move certain objects that you have in the house, and you think, "I don't think I put it there. Well, I must have put it there, and then I forgot I put it there. " Well, maybe not. Maybe they know how to manipulate energy and put it somewhere else. And then you wonder what 's going on. You may say that, " Well, the cat did it. The dog did it. Of course, they moved it."

You are moving into a most wondrous time. There have been many messages of change, and all of you feel change. You witness the change that has happened in the few days in this experience, where you used to meet in another building. Now you're meeting in this building. You feel change in your life of moving from one area of the country to another that is different to experience, just for the fun of knowing what you can create, what you can experience.

You make for yourself the vista of looking out to the sea, looking to the mountain way far away. You make for yourself the most wondrous scenery to see, to enjoy: the small birds, the big birds, all the different sizes of birds that fly around. You do this moment by moment to enjoy.

Everything that you create, you create to enjoy, even if it is a pile of manure. You are creating it because you want to experience manure and not to judge it. Most of the time , you create the happy things. Most of the time , you look for the joy in life. That is truly Home, the joy of living, the joy of experiencing. That is when you find yourself feeling at Home.

It doesn't matter what the physical surroundings are, but when you are in joy, when you are happy, when you feel like you are whole and everything is coming together, that is Home, and you are creating it moment by moment as you walk through your reality – lower case " r " .

I commend you for the intricacies of the realities that you bring for yourself, because you are doing the most wondrous day by day advancement, as you see it, in your technology. Your technology is getting very small. You can carry it around in the pocket. When it dings a little bit, you say, " Oh, I have to look at it. " Or it may actually do a ring tone of some sort, and you know you are being called to attend to something. Even if it doesn't make any sound, you take it out quite often just to check.

Know you what a miracle that is, that you are creating? And it changes. From year to year you have to get the new model, right? You'd better get the new model. Okay, it changes. Your technology and your enterprise are very happy to give you the new model in exchange for some of your either paper or plastic, which has only the value that you place on it.

Have you ever thought – and I know that you have – why does a piece of paper that has a five on it mean more to you than the piece of paper that has a one on it? Or perhaps you can talk about the one hundred. Why does the piece of paper that says one hundred mean more than the one that says five?

So it is interesting , if you will think about the society that you are creating and the technology that you are creating, and how to use the technology that you are creating. I see this with my beloved friend and teacher, the one you know as Judith, when she is trying to use that most wonderful technology: " Well, I thought I did this last time and it worked. " Yes. So you are having fun with your inventions, your technology, and as a soon as you learn one system, what happens? They change it; it gets more advanced. Then you have to buy the new model, and then you have to start from square one to learn how it works. You do this in order to keep the mind happy, or not so happy sometimes.

We have spoken in other times of the ways that the mind wants to keep you involved, how every thing you see, you want to analyze and understand what the meaning is and take it to the mind. Then you remember after a while to take it to the heart and see what the deeper meaning is, what it has as feeling, what does it feel like.

You will do the same with the language of the circles. You will see what it feels like as you look at that. Yes, you have a question or comment?

Mark: I've heard it said, with respect to the crop circles and their structure, that they are expressing communications as opposed to messages, the distinction being that a message is a packet of information (Right) The oven is on. Turn it off (Right) That 's a packet of directive information; it's a message. But what's really happening with the crop circles is, they are communicating, which is much more general ; motively, emotionally based (Right) It's harder to pin down to describe what 's happening, but it's much more deep and not a confined, discrete piece of information.

Right. That is true. What they are trying to communicate to you is, we are here. You are not alone. We are here. We have intelligence. We are intelligent. You are , as well, and it is a communication that is very basic to the feeling nature; that we are not alone, you are not alone, we are all from the same Source.

Even the ones that you have said in preliminary judgment are of negative energy, this is not really true. The negativity is in the eye of the beholder. The basic message is, we are here; you are not alone. You think that you are encased in this body, and maybe there 's energy that goes out half a foot, twelve inches, whatever, front and back and around, etc., because ones can photograph that and see the aura and see that there 's energy. But you think that 's all there is.

That is not all there is, and that is what they are trying to say. We are here with you. They want to be recognized, although it doesn't really matter a whole lot to them, but they are trying to give you a message, that you are not alone.

You see, for humans, because there is a delineation of body; in other words, this is where the body ends, specifically, okay, you feel alone. From the time that you are birthed, there is an underlying message that you have understood and have grasped for yourself, that you are alone and you have to make your way in the world. You have to learn what is acceptable. You have to learn the language. You have to make decisions for yourself, and hopefully those decisions will be good. And there is a loneliness that all of you feel. It goes with the territory of human expression and experience.

So ones who are a bit beyond that are letting you know that you are not alone. And when you sit in the quietness ... I know that some have gone and actually sat in the crop circles and been able to feel that you are not alone.

Mark: Or have encountered a ball of light and have felt immense love and acceptance extremely deeply, and being frightened almost of that much love. And then there are those who manifest something else like a nine - foot tall person in the field, and it scares them and confuses them.

I always like that terminology. And as you have understood, the interpretation of the energy is to that one person who is interpreting it. If they have a certain inclination towards fear, they are going to see whatever energy there is in that way. If they have been, as you would put it, lucky enough to be raised with a circle of friends, they may be more open to having a wider circle of friends.

But they are here, and they are doing what you are evolving into, the place where you do not need the specificity of sound and language, where you can be as the four - footed ones and just hold that picture of the food dish and say, " This is what's important to me, " and hopefully the human is going to receive the message sooner or later.

It is an exciting time to be here as human. I know, because I had several lifetimes as human, and I know how it is to feel alone, to feel apart; not as a part, but to feel apart from others and to feel that you have to make your own way. In one way, that is true, because you are making your reality – lower case " r " – as you go along, but at the same time you are connected by the divine energy of wholeness with everyone you meet and ones that you don't even see, that you don't lay eyes upon, ones who ... well, your technology is allowing you to be in contact with ones that you may never see with the physical eyes, but you do see them heart to heart.

It is a time now when things are changing, and ones are not always happy with changes. Sometimes they can be changes that you welcome. Other times they can be changes that kind of push the reality to the place where you want to stay with what is comfortable.

But it is an exciting time now, to know that truly you are moving beyond words, beyond language, beyond the mental and the mind to the place of the heart, knowing that, truly, that which you are and that which everyone you see is an extension of the true Reality. It is exciting what you are bringing forth to prove that to yourself.

So, hang on, enjoy the ride . So be it.
