Study Guide

October 10, 2018

Volume 5, Chapter 2

“There is a consciousness that is calling out for change.

You are going to see more of the crumbling of the old. Keep it all in perspective.”
Jeshua

Introduction

The journey into our collective past continues in the revelations that Jeshua makes to us about our spiritual heritage. You are “starseed, the seed energy, which has come from other planetary constellations. You are the one who has brought up great civilizations in other times, and you have been the one who has allowed those civilizations to pass.” This truly stretches the imagination about how ancient our souls are and how far we have traveled. He then gives intriguing information about the nature of both Atlantis and Lemuria and their respective characteristics and energies.

It is most interesting how this information is pertinent to us today even with similar scenarios happening in our world. “There is not a need for the physical wall.” And “Many of the brothers and sisters have been caught in the temptation of feeling that they are in power because of the Atlantean energy that they know so well. Atlantean energy is not going to release, change, modify without a struggle.” We can use these insights to understand what is going on in our politics, the cultural shifts and the divergent perspectives. We can own and support the changes that are part of the blending of these ancient energies into a new evolved reality, one that eventually leads to the At-one-ment.

Discussion Questions

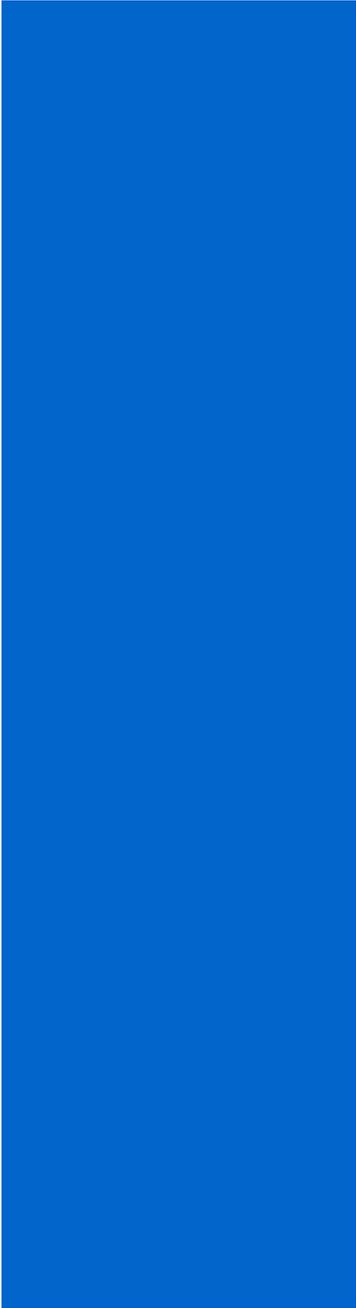

Affirmation for the Week:

“I keep a Light heart, smile often and know that all things lead to the Atonement.”

- What passage in this chapter touches your heart? Your mind? Your imagination?
- Jeshua’s descriptions of Atlantis and Lemuria sound almost like the characteristics of Yin and Yang or Eastern and Western philosophies. Do you feel that you have been blending or integrating these aspects in your lifetime? What do you do that is Atlantean? How do you act like a Lemurian, as defined by Jeshua?
- The Earth is a blending “project” with people from various cultures from other star systems put together as an experiment in human evolution. How do you feel about being in this experiment? Does it help with understanding why there is so much misunderstanding and conflict?

Assignments

1. Jeshua speaks of the beliefs and practices that the Essenes brought from their ancient homes that they tried to give away to the people of the earth. I was able to pick out the following from this and the previous chapter. Can you identify any others?
 - There is life beyond Holy Mother, the Earth.
 - Essenes knew themselves to be star seeds that have come from other planetary star systems, other constellations.
 - They valued harmony and knew that the “Father’s will is for life abundant and happiness”.
 - Essenes knew the practices that would allow them to live long lives in good health.
 - Essenes had many rituals about how to live their lives from the honoring on Nature to what kinds of foods to eat.

- Essenes valued wisdom and kept it alive through study and keeping of their ancient writings.
- Other?

2. There is interesting perspective in the book Power vs Force by Dr. David Hawkins that parallels what Jeshua is telling us in this chapter about how Atlantean energy relies on the use of its arrogant power. (Power is defined a bit differently by the author, but the concept is the same.) This makes for excellent reading material on the evolution of Consciousness as well. I highly recommend this book and YouTube videos of Dr. Hawkins and his Map of Consciousness. Write about the perspective you get from considering his ground-breaking research.
3. Write about which of the energies (Atlantean or Lemurian or perhaps others) you most identify with. How is that manifest in your life? What are the positive and challenging aspects of both energies?
4. Use this affirmation daily: “I keep a Light heart, smile often and know that all things lead to the Atonement.” Enjoy!
