

Jeshua: The Personal Christ Vol. 5 Chapter 20 - God's Will, Man's Will

March 20, 2019

Volume 5, Chapter 20

“It is not God’s will that you keep fighting each other. It is man’s will, because man is an extension of the Father, the Creative Principle. You are the ones who can spread the light, the love the joy, the truth of everyone’s being.”

Jeshua

Introduction

This chapter is the most clear and powerful explanation of the concept of “God’s Will”. And it is daunting to hear that God’s Will is Man’s Will, because “creative Energy known as God” allows the “will of man” to create all the drama and adventure that human-kind wants to experience. Because there is NO Separation!

It makes absolute sense and yet is a challenge to understand, having always heard that God’s will is something outside of us, something or someone who is responsible for the many things and situations that we don’t understand, like death, accidents and wars.

But Jeshua makes it clear that we are the ones who “choose”. He tells us that we have had harmonious lives on this and other planets, but some souls got bored with peace and wanted to spice things up. (I think we have gone overboard on this adventure and quest theme.)

God, as creative allowing energy gives us that Free Will and “some have found joy, purpose, fulfillment in the drama. The more drama they create, the more fulfilled they have felt.”

The redemption comes from “the desire in everyone to know truly Who they are, to know truly that they are loved; that they are respected; that they have worth, and they do not have to destroy other ones in order to prove their worth.” Once we can give this respect to everyone who has become lost inside their dramas of separation, we can experience At-One-ment once again.

Affirmation for the Week:

“Make peace not war. It is time for that again.”

Discussion Questions

- What passage in this chapter touches your heart? Your mind? Your imagination?
- What kinds of events or situations have you ever assigned to God’s Will? What things to man’s free will? How does this concept of “God’s will is man’s will” strike you?
- How do you feel about your power to choose, without blaming someone or something else for your actions, especially if the results are not peaceful?
- Have you ever been bored when your life has been harmonious? Can you imagine living your life without duality or high drama? Do you long for peace?

Assignments

1. Jeshua tells us that his message to “love one another” is the same today as it was two thousand years ago. But he elaborates further “Love one another. By that I mean, see the Christ, the divinity, the potential for harmony in each other. Celebrate the diversity that has brought you together.” Make it a point in the next week to “see the Christ” in everyone that shows up in your life. And if there is not harmony between you, think of ways that you can see past them and “celebrate the diversity”. Journal about your efforts in this direction.
2. Do you believe that the more you suffer in this lifetime, the greater your reward in heaven? If so, please examine this false teaching and check out areas of your life where you may be choosing to “suffer” for some future reward. Jeshua tells us that there is no reward, we just get a chance to “recycle and go back again”. Choose to “see things differently”.
3. Daily affirmation “Make peace, not war. It is time for that again”
