Volume 7, Chapter 8

“The only Truth of your being is that you are energy, energy that I have called Love. The true power of you lies in your realization of the Christ of you that has never been lost. Furthermore, you have never sinned.”

Jeshua

Introduction

This is another high-powered chapter beginning with Jeshua admitting that he has been leading us to a greater understanding of “Who and What you are”, gradually giving us concepts to expand our minds and realities. The goal is for us to allow our “hearts to know and feel the peace and the joy of the Christ.”

Then comes the clincher “Each time you choose to acknowledge the Christ power of you, you change the vibratory rate of the collective consciousness and you allow it to ascend.” That is how powerful our choices for the higher consciousness are and why it is so very important for us to awaken to our responsibility “to Love, to Serve and to Remember.

Again he mentions that “everyone you meet you have invited to be in your consciousness” and he recommends that we “seek out the ones who are of like mind”. It is not because we can’t be with ones who are not, but that we can relax with supportive friends and we can grow in the experience of our Christhood. He also gives us reasons why there is no need for fear, so that it no longer has power over us. A unique reason that we created fear was “in order to adventure, to have the rush of adrenaline. There is nothing outside of you and there is nothing that you need defend yourself against.”

The power principles of “The Awakening Christ”:

- Claim the Christ power that we embody, and uplift the vibratory rate of the collective consciousness of this reality.
- Recognize the Christ of everyone that you meet, smile and welcome them.
- “That which is not of Light is showing itself and inviting the Light to shine upon it.” Shine the light of Love on all situations.
- “Seek out ones who are of like mind” so that in challenging times we can remind each other “This, too, shall evolve into the realization of the whole Christ.”
- “Fear is not a Truth and is all within the consciousness”, so we do not have to live defending ourselves against it. Once we realize that no one or no situation can “let us down” we are free.
- Remember that we do not have to identify with our creations to the point that we have forget that we created them in the first place.

- “Your consciousness knows that you are okay and will always be okay.”
- The purpose of life is to Love, to serve and remember.

Discussion Questions

- What passage in this chapter touches your heart? Your mind? Your imagination?
- “The cosmos, the constellations, all of what your scientists are now bringing to your awareness, is there only because of you.” This fact of a “participatory universe” is now being closely looked at by physicists and other scientists. The debate is about how consciousness plays a part in what is observed, even out into the multiverses. One example is that whenever scientists think that they have discovered the “edge of the universe” more appears. This also happens with the search for the smallest of particles of life. Human consciousness and where we put our attention, seems to create. There is an interesting series on Gaia TV called Missing Links with the scientist Gregg Braden and he explores this topic of the power of consciousness. I recommend watching this series, especially seasons 2 & 3. “Scientific Evidence of the Divine Matrix” is interesting. Also there is a new series Quantum Revolution with Nassim Hamein that is also fascinating in relation of Jeshua’s revelations. You can get a free trail for Gaia TV at <https://www.gaia.com/invite/join?rfd=QXIYLH> It is well worth getting the subscription for the duration of this Book Study.
- Jeshua says “I suggest that you collect unto yourself, as many as is possible, ones of like mind who support your belief system and the molding and shaping and changing of that belief system as they mold and shift and change their belief systems.” This statement suggest that being with like-mind brothers and sisters does not mean being locked into our beliefs, but be willing to change, question and expand as we gain wisdom and understanding. Discuss with your like-minded partner what does awakening Christ Consciousness feel or look like in your lives? How would you be or act differently if you truly could say, believe and embody: “I AM the Christ, and I celebrate the Christ of me and – because there is no separation – the Christ of everyone I meet.” Perhaps you do this already and just need to claim it?! Affirm the Christ in each other sometime during your discussion. I so appreciate each of you being in the book study!

Affirmation for the Week:

“I Am That Which I Am, that which I have always been. I Am the Christ, and I celebrate the Christ of me and the Christ of everyone I meet.”

Assignments

- What do you think about Jeshua’s explanations about Fear (pages 82-86) and its power over us and how we can be free once we let go of it? What influence has it had in your life and imagine what it would be like to live without it? Then practice for one day dismissing your fears as “not real” and notice how you feel. Is there any resistance to letting go of the fears? Notice what you are worrying about or projecting into your future? Replace fears with a deep breaths until you are in a place of peace. Then use an affirmation of safety and freedom to replace the fear.

- Jeshua assures us that “you will never be without. Always you will be taken care of, because you have ordained that you will be taken care of.” Think about how this has been true for you in the past. How have you been taken care of? Write down those instances for yourself to remember and refer to them when you have any doubts or fears about being taken care of in your present or future life circumstances. Breathe into your greater Christ Consciousness and practice stepping into the higher vibration of that state.
- Jeshua gives us a lifetime assignment “I need you to do my work. You are my hands, my feet, my smile, my words of comfort to ones who cannot see me, who maybe do not have yet the belief system that will allow them to know that they are not alone.” For the next few days assume that you are in the employee of Jeshua and Abba. As his ambassador you do as he asks in comforting others who need that comfort. Ask for clarity about what your daily assignment is and follow the guidance that you are given. Note down your experiences – who asked for help, how did you respond, where were you led to go, what happened unexpectedly. Discuss with your partner. You might want to keep this job permanently.
- Affirmation: “I Am That Which I Am, that which I have always been. I Am the Christ, and I celebrate the Christ of me and the Christ of everyone I meet.”
