Chapter 16 - The Questions Basic to Your Reality Study Guide

October 7, 2020

Volume 7, Chapter 16

“The Oneness of you, when you touch that space, knows itself to be All and to be expansive and to be forever ongoing and creating .”

Jeshua

Introduction

This chapter was like a whirlwind as well as a review of the vital questions that we have as humanity. The questions Jeshua addresses are: Who Am I? Why am I? What is my purpose? Who are you? Why are you? Is there a God? Who is God? What is God? What else is there? Why is time built into this reality? That’s a lot of ground to cover in one chapter!

Jeshua has been giving us this information about our Oneness and purpose in many different chapters and in many beautiful ways. His style of repetition is pure poetry as he circles back around to the questions and answers them simply and profoundly, so they can land in our hearts and minds.

He even answers the question about why we don’t remember our divine nature and unlimited capabilities, so we can “experience things anew”. He even throws in another power “you can walk on water, I did, and you have.”

My favorite answer is “There is only One of us expressing as the many, so that we can play with each other, to be in joy together.” And then assuring us that “after the end of the world, there will come the knowingness of Oneness, of joy, of not having to overcome anything.” My hope is that we get to that true understanding, while we are in joy with each other, rather than at war with each other.

The power principles of “The Questions Basic to Your Reality?”:

- Who Am I? “The extension of the one divine Source, of the one creative Mind going forth in order to the experience Itself.”
- Why Am I? “For the purpose living in joy.”
- Who and Why are you? “The One expressing as many so that we can play with each other.”
- What is God? “Divine One Mind going forth to express and experience Itself. It does this in many different varieties. And it is all God.”
- Why is time in this reality? “So that you can then leave it, and say all time is Now.”
- “You are creating any and all limitations.”
- “You are creating your reality, and your questions help you realize your Reality.”
- “With the breath of Spirit, you are free.”

Affirmation for the Week:

“With the breath of Spirit
I am free.”

Discussion Questions

- What passage in this chapter touches your heart? Your mind? Your imagination? Changes how you understand yourself and your life?
- Jeshua tells us that our purpose is “to be alive, to be happy, to be joyful, to be the Light that you are, to be creative and to know that you are the one who is creating your reality moment by moment.” How would you say (without judgement) that you are fulfilling your purpose? Are you happy? If not, how can you be creative and reimagine your reality to be happy? The ball is in your court, let your life be full of the joy that our Source intended for us. Discuss being joyful with your partner and tell them a joke too.
- Jeshua tells us that the reality (hologram) that we create and in which we function is an “illusion” in which we see ourselves as limited by our bodies, personalities and time. Think about the limitations that you put on yourself and how you can overcome them. “What would Jeshua say and do?” What can you say to yourself about your own powers?
- Jeshua impresses on us in this chapter that “your questions help you realize your Reality”. What do you think that he means by that? What role have your questions played in your present reality? Explore how your questions are leading you to the Oneness Reality that he talks to us about. What’s the most important question that you have ever asked?

Assignments

- Jeshua suggests that “as you wake up in the morning visualize how you want your day to be. If you know the people that you are going to be interacting with that day, visualize meeting them and speak with them heart to heart, mind to mind, before you even put the feet on the floor. And you will find that truly the day will be different because you have decreed that it is going to be different.” And if your separated ego tries to bring in doom and gloom, thank it and lovingly tell it that its job is done for today, and be happy anyway. “I create this day in joy.” Try it for at least a week, until it becomes a daily habit, so that each day is full of your purpose of love and joy. “Everything you make for yourself is a gift.” Make each day a delightful one.
- “Why are you in my world? You are in my life because I have created you to be in my life.” Take a look at the important relationships in your life and honestly and lovingly examine how you are showing up in their lives. Are you a source of light and joy for them? Do you have a compassionate listening ear for their stories and challenges? Do you hold the best for them? Do you see the divine in them? Consider that this is your purpose.

Do you need to do something differently? If so write down your intentions and actions for change. Affirm that your purpose is to create JOY! You can then reverse the process and ask about how others are showing up in your life. What are the implications for your happiness?

- “Jeshua tells us “You energy expands farther than you can imagine and there will come a time when you will know that energy. You will know yourself to be unlimited energy, unlimited Love.” Practice visualizing yourself as expanded unlimited Love energy. In meditation, put on your favorite expressive music and then imagine your light expanding from where you are, gradually out into the universes. What could you do with expanded Love? Who or what would you heal? Envelope a loved one with this great expanded Love and feel it coming back to you. How does it feel to be at One with another energetically? Send love to Mother Earth from where you are standing and into the core and beyond. Play with this super power of unlimited creativity. “You will exist forever and forever and forever and beyond forever, because you are the creative Energy.” Write about how that feels.

- Jeshua suggests that we visualize a bowl of “one million marbles of all different colors. Reach in and pick any of them or all of them. There is no limit.” Consider what kind of marble you want to pick and have it symbolize the choice you are making about the kind of day that you are creating. If you feel like drawing the marble, do so and consider the colors you are putting in. Is it a beautiful mandala or a gray clouded one? If you are not happy with it, pick another color tomorrow. Be curious about what you are creating and enjoy the process of your creation. The point is become aware of your creative genius power, no matter what the result. Think of it as a muscle that you are building.

- Affirmations for the Week:
  - With the breath of Spirit, I am free.
  - I AM all-powerful.
  - I Am the creative One.
  - I Am the extension of the one Creator.
  - I create this day in joy. I’m going to enjoy it.
